

Acadia Healthcare Partners With Cordico to Be a Featured Resource in First Responder Wellness App

July 30, 2020

Behavioral Healthcare Resource Provides Additional Support to First Responders

Franklin, Tenn., July 30, 2020 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- Acadia Healthcare, a leading provider of behavioral healthcare services, today announced that it has collaborated with Cordico, the industry leader in first responder wellness apps, to be a featured resource in the Cordico Wellness App, a confidential, easy to use, 24/7/365, in hand resource that helps every First Responder be proactive when it comes to their wellness. Through this strategic collaboration, first responders will now have access to educational and resource content produced by Acadia Healthcare and, with a single touch of a button, first responders will also have the ability to contact Acadia Healthcare's Treatment Placement Specialists team if they or a loved one are in need of non-emergent mental health or addiction treatment.

We are excited to provide this additional channel to reach first responders and are confident that this will continue to build on the effectiveness of our already strong service.
