The mailing address of the corporation's office shall be at 55 Basin Creek Road, Butte, Montana 59701. The corporation may have such other offices, either within or without the State of Montana, as the Board of Directors may designate or as the business of the corporation may require from time to time.

ARTICLE II SHAREHOLDERS

Section 1. Annual Meeting. The annual meeting of the shareholders shall be held on the first Wednesday in the month of January in each year, at the hour of 10:00 o'clock A.M., or at such other time on such other day within such month as shall be fixed by the Board of Directors, for the purpose of electing directors and for the transaction of such other business as may come before the meeting. If the day fixed for the annual meeting shall be a legal holiday in the State of Montana, such meeting shall be held on the next succeeding business day. If the election of directors shall not be held on the day designated herein for any annual meeting of the shareholders, or at any adjournment thereof, the Board of Directors shall cause the election to be held at a special meeting of the shareholders as soon thereafter as is convenient.

Section 2. Special Meetings. Special meetings of the shareholders, for any purpose or purposes, unless otherwise prescribed by statute, may be called by the president or by the Board of Directors, and shall be called by the president at the request of the holders of not less than one-tenth of all outstanding shares of the corporation entitled to vote at the meeting.

Section 3. Place of Meeting. The Board of Directors may designate any place, either within or without the State of Montana, as the place of meeting for any annual meeting or for any special meeting called by the Board of Directors. If no designation is made, or if a special meeting be otherwise called, the place of meeting shall be the registered office of the corporation.

Section 4. Notice of Meeting. Written notice of each meeting of the shareholders, whether annual or special, stating the place, day and hour of the meeting and, in case of a special meeting, the purpose or purposes for which the meeting is called, shall be delivered not less than ten nor more than seventy days before the date of the meeting, either personally or by mail, by or at the direction of the president, or the secretary, or the officer or persons calling the meeting, to each shareholder of record entitled to vote at the meeting. If mailed, the notice shall be deemed to be delivered when deposited in the United States mail addressed to the shareholder at the shareholder's address as it appears on the stock transfer books of the corporation, with postage thereon prepaid. Whenever any notice is required to be given to any shareholder or director of a corporation under the provisions of the articles of incorporation or bylaws or as required by statute, a wavier thereof in writing signed by the person or persons entitled to the notice, whether before or after the time stated therein, shall be equivalent to the giving of the notice. The attendance of a shareholder at a meeting shall constitute a waiver of notice of such meeting, except where a shareholder attends a meeting for the express purpose of objecting to the transaction of any business on the grounds that the meeting is not lawfully called or convened.

Section 5. Closing of Transfer Books or Fixing of Record Date. For the purpose of determining shareholders entitled to notice of or to vote at any meeting of shareholders or any adjournment thereof, or shareholders entitled to receive payment of any dividend, or in order to make a determination of shareholders for any other proper purpose, the Board of Directors of the corporation may provide that the stock transfer books shall be closed for a stated period but not to exceed, in any case, seventy days. If the stock transfer books shall be closed for the purpose of determining shareholders entitled to notice of or to vote at a meeting of shareholders, such books shall be closed for at least ten days immediately preceding such meeting. In lieu of closing the stock transfer books, the Board of Directors may fix in advance a date as the record date for any such determination of shareholders, such date in any case to be not more than seventy days and, in case of a meeting of shareholders, not less than ten days prior to the date on which the particular action, requiring such determination of shareholders, is to be taken. If the stock transfer books are not closed and no record date is fixed for the determination of shareholders entitled to notice of or to vote at a meeting of shareholders, or shareholders entitled to receive payment of a dividend, the date on which notice of the meeting is mailed or the date on which the resolution of the Board of Directors declaring such dividend is adopted, as the case may be, shall be the record date for such determination of shareholders. When a determination of shareholders entitled to vote at any meeting of shareholders has been made as provided in this section, such determination shall apply to any adjournment thereof.

Section 6. Voting Record. The officer or agent having charge of the stock transfer books for shares of the corporation shall make a complete record of the shareholders entitled to vote at each meeting of shareholders or any adjournment thereof, arranged in alphabetical order, with the address of and the number of shares held by each shareholder. The record shall be produced and kept open at the time and place of the meeting and shall be subject to the inspection of any shareholder during the whole time of the meeting for the purposes thereof. Failure to comply with the requirements of this section shall not affect the validity of any action taken at such meeting.

Section 7. Quorum of Shareholders. A majority of the outstanding shares of the corporation entitled to vote, represented in person or by proxy, shall constitute a quorum at a meeting of shareholders. If a quorum is present, the affirmative vote of the majority of the shares represented at the meeting and entitled to vote on the subject matter shall be the act of the shareholders, unless the vote of a greater number or voting by classes is required by law or the Articles of Incorporation or these Bylaws. If less than a quorum of the outstanding shares are represented at a meeting, a majority of the shares so represented may adjourn the meeting from time to time without further notice. At such adjourned meeting at which a quorum shall be present or represented, any business may be transacted which might have been transacted at the meeting as originally noticed. The shareholders present at a duly organized meeting may continue to transact business until adjournment, notwithstanding the withdrawal of enough shareholders to leave less than a quorum.

Section 8. Proxies. At all meetings of shareholders, a shareholder may vote in person or by proxy executed in writing by the shareholder or by his or her duly authorized attorney-in-fact. Such proxy shall be filed with the secretary of the corporation before or at the time of the meeting. No proxy shall be valid after eleven months from the date of its execution, unless otherwise provided in the proxy.

Section 9. Voting of Shares. Subject to the provisions of Section 12 of this Article II, each outstanding share, regardless of class, shall be entitled to one vote upon each matter submitted to a vote at a meeting of shareholders, except as may be otherwise provided in the Articles of Incorporation.

Section 10. Voting of Shares by Certain Holders. Shares held by another corporation, if a majority of the shares entitled to vote for the election of directors of the other corporation is held by the corporation, shall not be voted at any meeting or counted in determining the total number of outstanding shares at any given time.

Shares standing in the name of another corporation, domestic or foreign, may be voted by such officer, agent, or proxy as the Bylaws of the other corporation may prescribe, or, in the absence of any provision, as the Board of Directors of the other corporation may determine.

Shares held by a personal representative may be voted by that individual, either in person or by proxy, without a transfer of the shares into that individual's name. Shares standing in the name of a trustee may be voted by the trustee, either in person or by proxy, but no trustee shall be entitled to vote shares held without a transfer of the shares into the trustee's name.

Shares standing in the name of a receiver may be voted by the receiver, and shares held by or under the control of a receiver may be voted by the receiver without the transfer thereof into the receiver's name if authority to do so is contained in an appropriate order of the court by which the receiver was appointed.

A shareholder whose shares are pledged shall be entitled to vote the shares until the shares have been transferred into the name of the pledgee, and thereafter the pledgee shall be entitled to vote the shares so transferred.

On and after the date on which written notice of redemption of redeemable shares has been mailed to the holders thereof and a sum sufficient to redeem such shares has been deposited with a bank or trust company with irrevocable instruction and authority to pay the redemption price to the holders thereof upon surrender of certificates therefor, the shares shall not be entitled to vote on any matter and are not be deemed to be outstanding shares.

The Board of Directors may adopt a resolution or procedure whereby a shareholder may certify in writing to the corporation that all or a portion of the shares registered in the name of such shareholder are held for the account of a specified person(s). Upon receipt by the corporation of a certification complying with the procedure, the person(s) specified in the certification shall be deemed, for the purpose(s) set forth in the certification, to be the holder(s) of record of the number of shares specified in place of the certifying shareholder.

Section 11. Action by Shareholders without a meeting. Any action required by the Montana Code, or any successor statutes, to be taken at a meeting of the shareholders of a corporation, or any action which may be taken at a meeting of the shareholders, may be taken without a meeting if a consent in writing, setting forth the action so taken, shall be signed by all of the shareholders entitled to vote with respect to the subject matter thereof. Such consent shall have the same effect as a unanimous vote of shareholders.

Section 12. Cumulative Voting. If, not less than forty-eight (48) hours prior to the time fixed for any animal or special meeting, any shareholder or shareholders deliver to any officer of the corporation a request that the election of directors to be elected at the meeting be by cumulative voting, then the directors to be elected at the meeting shall be chosen as follows: each shareholder present in person or represented by proxy at the meeting shall have a number of votes equal to the number of shares of capital stock of the corporation owned by the shareholder multiplied by the number of directors to be elected at the meeting; each shareholder shall be entitled to cumulate the votes of said shareholder and give all thereof to one nominee or to distribute his votes of said shareholder in such manner as the shareholder determines among any or all of the nominees; and the nominees receiving the highest number of votes on the foregoing basis, up to the total number of directors to be elected at the meeting, shall be the successful nominees.

ARTICLE III BOARD OF DIRECTORS

Section 1. General Powers. The business and affairs of the corporation shall be managed by its Board of Directors.

Section 2. Number, Tenure and Qualifications. The number of directors of the corporation shall be fixed from time to time by the shareholders or Board of Directors provided that there shall be at least one director and no more than fifteen directors, provided, however, that if the corporation has two shareholders, it shall have at least two directors, and if it has three shareholders, it shall have at least three directors. The number of directors may be increased or decreased from time to time by amendment to the Bylaws or Articles of Incorporation or by a resolution passed by the Board of Directors, but no decrease shall have the effect of shortening the term of any incumbent director. Each director shall hold office until the next annual meeting of shareholders and until his or her successor shall have been elected and qualified. Directors need not be shareholders of the corporation.

Section 3. Resignation and Removal of Directors. A director may resign at any time by delivering written notice to the Board of Directors, its chairperson or to the corporation. A resignation is effective when the notice is delivered unless the notice specifies a later effective date. At a meeting of shareholders called expressly for that purpose, directors may be removed in the manner provided for in this section. Any director or the entire Board of Directors may be removed, with or without cause, by a vote of the holders of a majority of the shares then entitled to vote at an election of directors.

In the event the directors of the corporation were elected by cumulative voting, and if less than the entire board is to be removed, no one of the directors may be removed if the votes cast against his removal would be sufficient to elect him if then cumulatively voted at an election of the entire Board of Directors, or, if there are classes of directors, at an election of the class of directors of which the director is a part.

Whenever the holders of the shares of any class are entitled to elect one or more directors by the provisions of the articles of incorporation, the provisions of this section shall apply, in respect to the removal of a director or directors so elected, to the vote of the holders of the outstanding shares of that class and not to the vote of the outstanding shares as a whole.

Section 4. Regular Meetings. A regular meeting of the Board of Directors shall be held without other notice than this bylaw immediately after, and at the same place as, the annual meeting of shareholders. The Board of Directors may provide, by the written consent of all members of the board or by resolution, the time and place, either within or without the State of Montana, for the holding of additional regular meetings without other notice than such resolution.

Section 5. Special Meetings. Special meetings of the Board of Directors may be called by or at the request of the president or any two directors. The person or persons authorized to call special meetings of the Board of Directors may fix any place, either within or without the State of Montana, as the place for holding any special meeting of the Board of Directors called by them.

Section 6. Notice. Notice of any special meeting shall be given at least two days previously thereto to each director in person or by telephone, including a voice messaging system or other system or technology designed to record and communicate messages, facsimile, telegraph, or by electronic mail or other electronic means, during normal business hours, or by written notice mailed to his business or home address. If delivered by electronic means, notice shall be deemed to be delivered upon sending the notice electronically. If mailed, such notice shall be deemed to be delivered when deposited with a nationally recognized delivery service, so addressed, with postage thereon prepaid. If notice be given by telegram, such notice shall be deemed to be delivered when the telegram is delivered to the telegraph company. Any director may waive notice of any meeting. The attendance of a director at a meeting shall constitute a waiver of notice of such meeting, except where a director attends a meeting for the express purpose of objecting to the transaction of any business on the grounds that the meeting is not lawfully called or convened. Neither the business to be transacted at, nor the purpose of, any regular or special meeting of the board of directors need be specified in the notice or waiver of notice of such meeting.

Section 7. Quorum of Board of Directors. A majority of the number of directors fixed by Section 2 of this Article III shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business at any meeting of the Board of Directors, but if less than such majority is present at a meeting, a majority of the directors present may adjourn the meeting from time to time without further notice.

Section 8. Manner of Acting. The act of the majority of the directors present at a meeting at which a quorum is present shall be the act of the Board of Directors.

Section 9. Action without a Meeting. Any action required or permitted to be taken at any meeting of the Board of Directors or of a committee of the directors may be taken without a meeting if all of the directors or all of the members of the committee, as the case may be, sign a written consent setting forth the action taken or to be taken at any time before or after the intended effective date of such action. Such consent shall be filed with the minutes of the directors' meetings or committee meetings, as the case may be, and shall have the same effect as a unanimous vote.

Section 10. Meetings by Telephone. Members of the Board of Directors or any committee designated thereby may participate in a meeting of such board or committee by means of a conference telephone or similar communication equipment by means of which all persons participating in the meeting can hear each other at the same time, and participation by such means shall constitute presence in person at a meeting.

Section 11. Vacancies. Any vacancy occurring in the Board of Directors may be filled by the affirmative vote of a majority of the remaining directors though less than a quorum of the Board of Directors. A director elected to fill a vacancy shall be elected for the unexpired term of his or her predecessor in office. Any directorship to be filled by reason of an increase in the number of directors may be filled by election by the Board of Directors for a term of office continuing only until the next election of directors by the shareholders.

Section 12. Compensation. By resolution of the Board of Directors, each director may be paid his or her expenses, if any, of attendance at each meeting of the board of directors, and may be paid a stated salary as director or a fixed sum for attendance at each meeting of the Board of Directors or both. No such payment shall preclude any director from serving the corporation in any other capacity and receiving compensation therefor.

Section 13. Presumption of Assent. A director of the corporation who is present at a meeting of the Board of Directors at which action on any corporate matter is taken shall be presumed to have assented to the action taken unless his or her dissent shall be entered in the minutes of the meeting or unless he or she shall file his or her written dissent to such action with the person acting as the secretary of the meeting before the adjournment thereof or shall forward such dissent by registered mail to the secretary of the corporation immediately after the adjournment of the meeting. Such right to dissent shall not apply to a director who voted in favor of such action.

ARTICLE IV OFFICERS

Section 1. Number. The officers of the corporation shall be a chief executive officer, a president, one or more vice presidents (the number thereof to be determined by the Board of Directors), a secretary, and a treasurer, each of whom shall be elected or appointed by the Board of Directors. Such other officers and assistant officers and agents as may be deemed necessary may be elected or appointed by the Board of Directors. Any two or more offices may be held by the same individual; provided that every corporation which has two or more directors shall have not less than two individuals as officers.

Section 2. Election and Term of Office. The officers of the corporation to be elected by the Board of Directors shall be elected annually by the Board of Directors at the first meeting of the Board of Directors held after each annual meeting of the shareholders. If the election of officers shall not be held at such meeting, such election shall be held as soon thereafter as conveniently may be. Each officer shall hold office until his or her successor shall have been duly elected and shall have qualified or until his or her death or until he or she shall resign or shall have been removed in the manner hereinafter provided.

Section 3. Removal of Officers and Agents. Any officer or agent may be removed by the Board of Directors whenever in its judgment the best interests of the corporation will be served thereby, but such removal shall be without prejudice to the contract rights, if any, of the person so removed. Election or appointment of an officer or agent shall not of itself create contract rights.

Section 4. Vacancies. A vacancy in any office because of death, resignation, removal, disqualification or otherwise, may be filled by the Board of Directors for the unexpired portion of the term.

Section 5. The Chief Executive Officer. The chief executive officer shall be the principal executive officer of the corporation and, subject to the control of the Board of Directors, shall in general supervise and control all of the business and affairs of the corporation. He or she may sign, with the secretary or any other proper officer of the corporation thereunto authorized by the Board of Directors, deeds, mortgages, bonds, contracts, or other instruments which the Board of Directors has authorized to be executed, except in cases where the signing and execution thereof shall be expressly delegated by the Board of Directors or by these Bylaws to some other officer or agent of the corporation, or shall be required by law to be otherwise signed or executed; and in general shall perform all duties incident to the office of chief executive officer and such other duties as may be prescribed by the Board of Directors from time to time.

Section 6. The President. The president shall, when present, preside at all meetings of the shareholders and of the Board of Directors. He or she may sign, with the secretary or any other proper officer of the corporation thereunto authorized by the Board of Directors, certificates for shares of the corporation and deeds, mortgages, bonds, contracts, or other instruments which the Board of Directors has authorized to be executed, except in cases where the signing and execution thereof shall be expressly delegated by the Board of Directors or by these Bylaws to some other officer or agent of the corporation, or shall be required by law to be otherwise signed or executed; and in general shall perform all duties incident to the office of president and such other duties as may be prescribed by the Board of Directors from time to time. In the absence of the chief executive officer or in the event of his or her death, inability or refusal to act, the president shall perform the duties of the chief executive officer, and when so acting, shall have all the powers of and be subject to all the restrictions upon the chief executive officer.

Section 7. The Vice President(s). In the absence of the president or in the event of his or her death, inability or refusal to act, the vice president (or in the event there be more than one vice president, the vice presidents in the order designated at the time of their election, or in the absence of any designation, then in the order of their election) shall perform the duties of the president, and when so acting, shall have all the powers of and be subject to all the restrictions upon the president. Any vice president may sign, with the secretary or an assistant secretary, certificates for shares of the corporation; and shall perform such other duties as from time to time may be assigned to him or her by the president or by the Board of Directors.

Section 8. The Secretary. The secretary shall: (a) keep the minutes of the proceedings of the shareholders and of the Board of Directors in one or more books provided for that purpose; (b) see that all notices are duly given in accordance with the provisions of these Bylaws or as required by law; (c) be custodian of the corporate records and of the seal of the corporation and see that the seal of the corporation is affixed to all documents the execution of which on behalf of the corporation under its seal is duly authorized; (d) keep a register of the post office address of each shareholder which shall be furnished to the secretary by such shareholder; (e) sign with the president, or a vice president, certificates for shares of the corporation, the issuance of which shall have been authorized by resolution of the Board of Directors; (f) have general charge of the stock transfer books of the corporation; and (g) in general perform all duties incident to the office of secretary and such other duties as from time to time may be assigned to him or her by the president or by the Board of Directors.

Section 9. The Treasurer. The treasurer shall: (a) have charge and custody of and be responsible for all funds and securities of the corporation; (b) receive and give receipts for monies due and payable to the corporation from any source whatsoever, and deposit all such monies in the name of the corporation in such banks, trust companies or other depositaries as shall be selected in accordance with the provisions of Article V of these Bylaws; and (c) in general perform all of the duties incident to the office of treasurer and such other duties as from time to time may be assigned to him or her by the president or by the Board of Directors. If required by the Board of Directors, the treasurer shall give a bond for the faithful discharge of his or her duties in such sum and with such surety or sureties as the Board of Directors shall determine.

Section 10. The Assistant Secretaries and Assistant Treasurers. The assistant secretaries, when authorized by the Board of Directors, may sign with the president or a vice president certificates for shares of the corporation the issuance of which shall have been authorized by a resolution of the Board of Directors. The assistant treasurers shall respectively, if required by the Board of Directors, give bonds for the faithful discharge of their duties in such sums and with such sureties as the Board of Directors shall determine. The assistant secretaries and assistant treasurers, in general, shall perform such duties as shall be assigned to them by the secretary or the treasurer, respectively, or by the president or the Board of Directors.

Section 11. Salaries. The salaries of the officers shall be fixed from time to time by the Board of Directors and no officer shall be prevented from receiving such salary by reason of the fact that he or she is also a director of the corporation.

ARTICLE V CONTRACTS, LOANS, CHECKS AND DEPOSITS

Section 1. Contracts. The Board of Directors may authorize any officer or officers, agent or agents, to enter into any contract or execute and deliver any instrument in the name of and on behalf of the corporation, and such authority may be general or confined to specific instances.

Section 2. Loans. No loans shall be contracted on behalf of the corporation and no evidences of indebtedness shall be issued in its name unless authorized by a resolution of the Board of Directors. Such authority may be general or confined to specific instances.

Section 3. Checks, Drafts, etc. All checks, drafts or other orders for the payment of money, notes or other evidences of indebtedness issued in the name of the corporation shall be signed by such officer or officers, agent or agents of the corporation and in such manner as shall from time to time be determined by resolution of the Board of Directors.

Section 4. Deposits. All funds of the corporation not otherwise employed shall be deposited from time to time to the credit of the corporation in such banks, trust companies or other depositaries as the Board of Directors may select.

Section 5. Facsimile Signature. The Board of Directors may from time to time by resolution provide for the execution of any corporate instrument or document by a mechanical device or machine, or by use of facsimile signatures, under such terms as shall be set forth in the resolution of the Board of Directors.

ARTICLE VI CERTIFICATES FOR SHARES AND THEIR TRANSFER

Section 1. The shares of the corporation shall be represented by certificates. Certificates shall be signed by the chairman or vice chairman of the Board of Directors or the president or a vice president and by the treasurer or an assistant treasurer, or the secretary or an assistant secretary of the corporation, and may be sealed with the seal of the corporation or a facsimile thereof. Any or all of the signatures upon a certificate may be a facsimile. In case any officer, transfer agent, or registrar who has signed or whose facsimile signature has been placed upon the certificate has ceased to be an officer, transfer agent or registrar before the certificate is issued, it may be issued by the corporation with the same effect as if the officer, transfer agent or registrar were an officer, transfer agent, or registrar at the date of its issue.

If the corporation issues shares of more than one class, every certificate representing shares issued by the corporation shall set forth upon the face or back of the certificate, or shall state that the corporation will furnish to any shareholder upon request and without charge, a full statement of the designations, preferences, limitations, and relative rights of the shares of each class authorized to be issued, and if the corporation issues any preferred or special class in series, the variations in the relative rights and preferences between the shares of each such series so far as the same have been fixed and determined and the authority of the Board of Directors to fix and determine the relative rights and preferences of subsequent series.

Each certificate representing shares shall state upon the face thereof,

(a) that the corporation is organized under the laws of the State of Montana;

(b) the name of the person to whom the certificate is issued;

(c) the number and class of shares, and the designation of the series, if any, which the certificate represents; and

(d) the par value of each share represented by the certificate, or a statement that the shares are without par value.

No certificate shall be issued for any share until the consideration established for its issuance has been paid.

Each certificate for shares shall be consecutively numbered or otherwise identified. The name and address of the person to whom the shares represented thereby are issued, with the number of shares and date of issue, shall be entered on the stock transfer books of the corporation. All certificates surrendered to the corporation for transfer shall be cancelled and no new certificate shall be issued until the former certificate for a like number of shares shall have been surrendered and cancelled, except that in case of a lost, destroyed or mutilated certificate a new one may be issued therefor upon such terms and indemnity to the corporation as the Board of Directors may prescribe.

Section 2. Transfer of Shares. Transfer of shares of the corporation shall be made only on the stock transfer books of the corporation by the holder of record thereof or by his or her legal representative, who shall furnish proper evidence of authority to transfer, or by his or her attorney thereunto authorized by power of attorney duly executed and filed with the secretary of the corporation, and on surrender for cancellation of the certificate for such shares. The person in whose name shares stand on the books of the corporation shall be deemed by the corporation to be the owner thereof for all purposes.

ARTICLE VII FISCAL YEAR

The fiscal year of the corporation shall end on December 31.

ARTICLE VIII DISTRIBUTIONS TO SHAREHOLDERS

The Board of Directors may authorize and the corporation may make distributions, except that no distribution may be made if, after giving effect thereto, either,

(a) the corporation would be unable to pay its debts as they become due in the usual course of its business; or

(b) the corporation’s total assets would be less than the sum of its total liabilities and the maximum amount that then would be payable, in any liquidation, in respect of all outstanding shares having preferential rights in liquidation.

Determinations under subparagraph (b) above may be based upon (i) financial statements prepared on the basis of accounting practices and principles that are reasonable in the circumstances, or (ii) a fair valuation or other method that is reasonable in the circumstances.

In the case of a purchase, redemption, or other acquisition of a corporation’s shares, the effect of a distribution shall be measured as of the date money or other property is transferred or debt is incurred by the corporation, or as of the date the shareholder ceases to be a shareholder of the corporation with respect to the shares, whichever is earlier. In all other cases, the effect of a distribution shall be measured as of the date of its authorization if payment occurs one hundred twenty days or less following the date of authorization, or as of the date of payment if payment occurs more than on hundred twenty days following the date of authorization.

Indebtedness of the corporation incurred or issued to a shareholder in a distribution in accordance with this section shall be on a parity with the indebtedness of the corporation to its general unsecured creditors except to the extent subordinated by agreement.

ARTICLE IX CORPORATE SEAL

The Board of Directors may provide for a corporate seal which, if provided for, shall be circular in form and shall have inscribed thereon the name of this corporation, the state of incorporation (Montana) and the word “Incorporated” followed by the date of incorporation. The seal may be used by causing it, or a facsimile thereof, to be impressed or affixed or in any other manner reproduced.

ARTICLE X WAIVER OF NOTICE

Whenever any notice is required to be given to any shareholder or director of the corporation under the provisions of these Bylaws or under the provisions of the Articles of Incorporation, a waiver thereof in writing signed by the person or persons entitled to such notice, whether before or after the time stated therein, shall be deemed equivalent to the giving of such notice.

ARTICLE XI ADOPTION AND AMENDMENT OF BYLAWS

The initial Bylaws of the corporation shall be adopted by its Board of Directors. The power to alter, amend, or repeal the Bylaws or adopt new Bylaws, subject to repeal or change by action of the shareholders, shall be vested in the Board of Directors. The Bylaws may contain any provisions for the regulations and management of the affairs of the corporation not inconsistent with law or the Articles of Incorporation.

ARTICLE XII EXECUTIVE AND OTHER COMMITTEES

Section 1. Appointment. The Board of Directors by resolution adopted by a majority of the full board, may designate from among its members an executive committee and one or more other committees with such powers as are provided herein, or in the Articles of Incorporation subject to the restrictions in Section 2 of this Article. The designation of such committees and the delegation thereto of authority shall not operate to relieve the Board of Directors, or any member thereof, of any responsibility imposed by law.

Section 2. Authority. The Board of Directors may create and appoint an executive committee and define its authority and duties from time to time; provided, however, that the Board shall delegate to the executive committee only such powers as are permitted by law. Specifically without limitation, the Board shall not delegate to the executive committee and it shall not have authority to: (i) declare dividends or authorize distributions, (ii) approve or recommend to the shareholders actions or proposals required by law to be approved by the shareholders, (iii) designate candidates for the office of director, for purposes of proxy solicitation or otherwise, or fill vacancies on the Board of Directors or any committee thereof, (iv) amend the Bylaws, (v) approve a plan of merger not requiring shareholder approval, (vi) authorize or approve the reacquisition of shares unless pursuant to a general formula or method specified by the Board of Directors, (vii) authorize or approve the issuance or sale of, or any contract to issue or sell, shares or designate the terms of a series of a class of shares; provided that the Board of Directors having acted regarding general authorization for the issuance or sale of shares, or any contract therefor, and, in the case of a series, the designation thereof, may, pursuant to a general formula or method specified by the board by resolution or by adoption of a stock option or other plan, authorize a committee to fix the terms of any contract for the sale of the shares and to fix the terms upon which such shares may be issued or sold, including, without limitation, the price, the dividend rate, provisions for redemption, sinking fund, conversion, voting or preferential rights, and provisions for other features of a class of shares, or a series of a class of shares, with full power in such committee to adopt any final resolution setting forth all the terms thereof and to authorize the statement of the terms of a series for filing with the director.

Neither the designation of any such committee, the delegation thereto of authority, nor action by such committee pursuant to such authority shall alone constitute compliance by any member of the Board of Directors, not a member of the committee in question, with his responsibility to act in good faith, in a manner he reasonably believes to be in the best interests of the corporation, and with such care as an ordinarily prudent person in a like position would use under similar circumstances.

Section 3. Tenure and Qualifications. Each member of the executive committee shall hold office until the next regular annual meeting of the Board of Directors following his or her designation and until his or her successor is designated as a member of the executive committee and is elected and qualified.

Section 4. Meetings. Regular meetings of the executive committee may be held without notice at such times and places as the executive committee may fix from time to time by resolution. Special meetings of the executive committee may be called by any member thereof upon not less than one day’s notice stating the place, date and hour of the meeting, which notice may be written or oral, and if mailed, shall be deemed to be delivered when deposited in the United States mail addressed to the member of the executive committee at his or her business address. Any member of the executive committee may waive notice of any meeting and no notice of any meeting need be given to any member thereof who attends in person. The notice of a meeting of the executive committee need not state the business proposed to be transacted at the meeting.

Section 5. Quorum. A majority of the members of the executive committee shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business at any meeting thereof, and action of the executive committee must be authorized by the affirmative vote of a majority of the members present at a meeting at which a quorum is present.

Section 6. Action without a Meeting. Any action required or permitted to be taken by the executive committee at a meeting may be taken without a meeting if a consent in writing, setting forth the action taken, or to be taken, shall be signed by all of the members of the executive committee. Such consent shall have the same effect as a unanimous vote.

Section 7. Vacancies. Any vacancy in the executive committee may be filled by a resolution adopted by a majority of the full Board of Directors.

Section 8. Resignations and Removal. Any member of the executive committee may be removed at any time with or without cause by resolution adopted by a majority of the full Board of Directors. Any member of the executive committee may resign from the executive committee at any time by giving written notice to the president or secretary of the corporation, and unless otherwise specified therein, the acceptance of such resignation shall not be necessary to make it effective.

Section 9. Procedure. The executive committee shall elect a presiding officer from its members and may fix its own rules of procedure which shall not be inconsistent with these Bylaws. It shall keep regular minutes of its proceedings and report the same to the Board of Directors for its information at the meeting thereof held next after the proceedings shall have been taken.

ARTICLE XIII INDEMNIFICATION OF OFFICERS AND DIRECTORS

Section 1. Indemnification. The corporation shall indemnify each person who was or is a party or is threatened to be made a party to any threatened, pending or completed action, suit or proceeding, whether civil, criminal, administrative or investigative (other than an action by or in the right of the corporation) if that person is or was a director or officer of the corporation, against expenses (including attorneys' fees), judgments, fines, settlements and other amounts actually and reasonably incurred in connection with the proceeding if the person acted in good faith and in a manner the person reasonably believed to be in or not opposed to the best interests of the corporation, and, with respect to any criminal proceeding, had no reasonable cause to believe the conduct of the person was unlawful. The termination of any proceeding by judgment, order, settlement, conviction, or upon a plea of nolo contendere or its equivalent, shall not, of itself, create a presumption that the person did not act in good faith and in a manner which the person reasonably believed to be in or not opposed to the best interests of this corporation and, with respect to any criminal action or proceeding, had reasonable cause to believe that the person's conduct was unlawful.

Section 2. Expenses Incurred. To the extent that a director or officer of the corporation has been successful on the merits or otherwise in defending any proceeding referred to in Sections 1 or 2 of this Article, or in defense of any claim, issue or matter therein, such person shall be indemnified by this corporation against expenses (including attorneys' fees) actually and reasonably incurred by such person in connection therewith.

Section 3. Authorization. Any indemnification under Sections 1 and 2 of this Article (unless ordered by a court) shall be made by the corporation only if authorized in the specific case upon a determination that indemnification of the director or officer is proper in the circumstances because the director or officer has met the applicable standard of conduct set forth in Sections 1 or 2. The determination shall be made (a) by the Board of Directors by a majority vote of a quorum consisting of directors who were not parties to the proceeding, or (b) if a quorum is not obtainable, or, even if obtainable if a quorum of disinterested directors so directs, by independent legal counsel in a written opinion to the corporation, or (c) by a majority vote of the shareholders; or (d) by the court in which the proceeding is or was pending upon application made by the corporation or the director or officer or the attorney or other person rendering services in connection with the defense, whether or not the application by the director, officer, attorney, or other person is opposed by this corporation.

Section 4. Repayment of Expenses. Expenses incurred in defending any proceeding may be paid by the corporation in advance of the final disposition of the proceeding as authorized by the Board of Directors in a particular case upon receipt of an undertaking by or on behalf of the director or officer to repay such amount unless it shall ultimately be determined that the director or officer is entitled to be indemnified by the corporation as authorized in this Article.

Section 5. Rights. The indemnification provided by this Article shall not be deemed exclusive of any other rights to which those indemnified may be entitled and shall continue as to a person who has ceased to be a director or officer and shall inure to the benefit of the heirs and personal representatives of such a person.

Section 6. Insurance. The corporation shall have the power to purchase and maintain insurance on behalf of any director or officer of the corporation, against any liability asserted against or incurred by the director or officer in any such capacity or arising out of the director's or officer's status as such, whether or not the corporation would have the power to indemnify the director or officer against liability under this Article.

Section 7. Amendment. No amendment or repeal of this Article shall in any way abrogate or limit on the right to indemnification held or claimed by any officer or director of the corporation for any acts or omissions of such officer or director occurring prior to such amendment or repeal.

ADOPTION OF BYLAWS

We, the undersigned Directors of the corporation, on this 22 day of February, 2007, by unanimous written consent, do hereby adopt the foregoing provisions as the Bylaws of said corporation.

The mailing address of the initial principal office of the corporation is Twelve Piedmont Center, Suite 210, Atlanta, Georgia 30305.

ARTICLE SIX

Limitation of Director Liability

6.1 A director of the corporation shall not be liable to the corporation or its shareholders for monetary damages for any action taken, or any failure to take any action, as a director, except liability (i) for any appropriation, in violation of his duties, of any business opportunity of the corporation, (ii) for acts or omissions which involve intentional misconduct or a knowing violation of law, (iii) of the types set forth in Section 14-2-832 of the Georgia Business Corporation Code, or (iv) for any transaction from which the director received an improper personal benefit.

6.2 Any repeal or modification of the provisions of this Article by the shareholders of the corporation shall be prospective only, and shall not adversely affect any limitation on the liability of a director of the corporation with respect to any act or omission occurring prior to the effective date of such repeal or modification.

6.3 If the Georgia Business Corporation Code is hereafter amended to authorize the further elimination or limitation of the liability of directors, then the liability of a director of the corporation, in addition to the limitation on liability provided herein, shall be limited to the fullest extent permitted by the Georgia Business Corporation Code, as so amended.

6.4 In the event that any of the provisions of this Article (including any provision within a single sentence) is held by a court of competent jurisdiction to be invalid, void or otherwise unenforceable, the remaining provisions are severable and shall remain enforceable to the fullest extent permitted by law.

ARTICLE SEVEN

Constituency Considerations

In discharging the duties of their respective positions and in determining what is believed to be in the best interests of the corporation, the Board of Directors, committees of the Board of Directors, and individual directors, in addition to considering the effects of any action on the corporation or its shareholders, may consider the interests of the employees, customers, suppliers, and creditors of the corporation and its subsidiaries, the communities in which offices or other establishments of the corporation and its subsidiaries are located, and all other factors such directors consider pertinent; provided, however, that this article shall be deemed solely to grant discretionary authority to the directors and shall not be deemed to provide to any constituency any right to be considered.

LAKELAND HOSPITAL ACQUISITION CORPORATION

AMENDED AND RESTATED BYLAWS

Adopted as of January 22, 2001

Corporate Bylaws

Article I. Definitions

1.01 Code

The Code means the applicable titles, parts, chapters, sections, and other divisions of the state of incorporation's statutory scheme governing the formation and operation of corporations.

1.02 Record Date

Record Date means the date established under the Code on which the corporation determines the identity of its shareholders and their shareholdings. Such determination shall be made as of the close of business on the record date unless another time for doing so is specified when the record date is fixed.

1.03 Voting Group

Voting Group means all shares of one or more classes or series that under the articles of incorporation or the Code are entitled to vote and be counted together collectively on a matter at a meeting of the shareholders. All shares entitled by the articles of incorporation or the Code to vote generally on the matter are for that purpose a single voting group.

1.04 Corporation

Corporation includes any domestic or foreign predecessor entity of the corporation in a merger or other transaction in which the predecessor's existence ceased upon consummation of the transaction.

1.05 Director or Officer

Director or Officer means an individual who is or was (i) a member of the Board of Directors, (ii) an individual elected or appointed by the Board of Directors to serve as an officer, or (iii) a member of any duly constituted Committee of the Board of Directors. "Director" or "officer" includes, unless the context otherwise requires, the estate or personal representative of a director or officer.

1.06 Disinterested Director or Officer

"Disinterested Director" or "Disinterested Officer" means a director or officer who, with respect to a determination of the authorization or non-authorization of an expense advancement or of indemnification, is neither:

(i) the individual whose indemnification or expense advancement is the subject of the decision being made; nor

(ii) An individual having a familial, financial, professional, or employment relationship with the person whose indemnification or advance for expenses is the subject of the decision being made with respect to the proceeding, which relationship would, in the circumstances, reasonably be expected to exert an influence on the director's or officer's judgment when voting on the decision being made.

1.07 Liability

Liability means the obligation to pay a judgment, settlement, penalty, fine (including an excise tax assessed with respect to an employee benefit plan), or reasonable expenses incurred with respect to a proceeding.

1.08 Official Capacity

When used with respect to a director, Official Capacity means the office of director in the corporation. When used with respect to an officer, Official Capacity means the office in the corporation held by the officer. Official capacity does not include service for any other domestic or foreign corporation or any partnership, joint venture, trust, employee benefit plan, or other entity.

1.09 Party

Party includes an individual who was, is, or is threatened to be made a named defendant or respondent in a proceeding.

1.10 Proceeding

Proceeding means any threatened, pending, or completed action, suit, or proceeding, whether civil, criminal, administrative, arbitrative, or investigative and whether formal or informal.

Article II. Offices and Agents

2.01 Registered Office and Agent

The corporation shall maintain a registered office and have a registered agent, whose business office address is identical to that of the registered office, in its state of incorporation and in each state in which the corporation is qualified to do business.

2.02 Other Offices

In addition to its registered office, the corporation may have offices at any other place or places, within or without the state of incorporation, as the Board of Directors may from time to time select or as the business of the corporation may require or make desirable.

Article III. Meetings of the Shareholders

3.01 Annual Meetings

An annual meeting of the shareholders shall be held for the election of directors at such date, time, and place, either within or without the state of incorporation, as may be designated by resolution of the Board of Directors from time to time. Such resolution shall designate the date, time, and place of the meeting. Any other proper business may be transacted at the annual meeting. If an annual meeting is not held as provided in this bylaw, any business, including the election of directors, that might properly have been acted upon at that meeting may be acted upon at a special meeting in lieu of the annual meeting held pursuant to these bylaws or held pursuant to a court order.

3.02 Special Meetings

Special meetings of the shareholders may be called for any purpose or purposes at any time by the Board of Directors, or by the President of the corporation, or by a Committee of the Board of Directors that has been duly designated and authorized by resolution of the Board of Directors to call such meetings. In addition, the Board of Directors shall call such a meeting upon the written request of shareholders holding at least twenty percent (20%) of all the votes entitled to be cast on the issue or issues proposed to be considered at the requested special meeting.

3.03 Quorum

With respect to shares entitled to vote as a separate voting group on a matter at a meeting of shareholders, the presence, in person or by proxy, of a majority of the votes entitled to be cast on the matter by the voting group shall constitute a quorum of that voting group for action on that matter unless the articles of incorporation or the Code provide otherwise. Once a share is represented for any purpose at a meeting, other than solely to object to holding the meeting or to transacting business at the meeting, it is deemed present for quorum purposes for the remainder of the meeting and for any adjournment of the meeting unless a new record date is or must be set for the adjourned meeting pursuant to the bylaw governing the fixing of the record date with regard to shareholder action.

3.04 Adjournment and Reconversion

Whether or not a quorum is present to organize a meeting, any meeting of shareholders may be adjourned by the holders of a majority of the voting shares represented at the meeting to reconvene at a specific time and place, but no later than 120 days after the date fixed for the original meeting unless the requirements of the Code concerning the selection of a new record date have been met. At any reconvened meeting within that time period, any business may be transacted that could have been transacted at the meeting that was adjourned.

3.05 Presiding Officer

The Chief Executive Officer shall serve as the Presiding Officer of every meeting of shareholders unless another person is elected by the shareholders to serve as Presiding Officer at the meeting. The Presiding Officer shall appoint any persons he deems required to assist with the meeting.

3.06 Vote Required for Action

If a quorum exists, action on a matter (other than the election of directors) by a voting group is approved if the votes cast within the voting group favoring the action exceed the votes cast opposing the action, unless the articles of incorporation, provisions of these bylaws validly adopted by the shareholders, or the Code requires a greater number of affirmative votes. If the articles of incorporation or the Code provide for voting by two or more voting groups on a matter, action on that matter is taken only when voted upon by each of those voting groups counted separately. Action may be taken by one voting group on a matter even though no action is taken by another voting group entitled to vote on the matter. With regard to the election of directors, unless otherwise provided in the articles of incorporation, if a quorum exists, action on the election of directors is taken by a plurality of the votes cast by the shares entitled to vote in the election.

3.07 Shares Held by Another Corporation

Shares standing in the name of another corporation, domestic or foreign, may be voted by such officer, agent, or proxy as the by-laws of such other corporation may prescribe, or, in the absence of such a provision, as the board of directors of such other corporation may determine.

3.08 Method of Voting Shares

Unless the articles of incorporation or the Code provide otherwise, each outstanding share having voting rights shall be entitled to one vote on each matter submitted to a vote at a meeting of the shareholders. Voting on all matters shall be by voice vote or by show of hands unless any qualified voter, prior to the voting on any matter, demands vote by ballot, in which case each ballot shall state the name of the shareholder voting and the number of shares voted by him, and if the ballot be cast by proxy, it shall also state the name of the proxy.

3.09 Proxies

A shareholder entitled to vote on a matter may vote in person or by proxy pursuant to an appointment of proxy executed in writing by the shareholder or by his attorney-in-fact. An appointment of proxy shall be valid for only one meeting to be specified therein, and any adjournments of such meeting, but shall not be valid for more than eleven months unless expressly provided therein. Appointments of proxy shall be dated and filed with the records of the meeting to which they relate. If the validity of any appointment of proxy is questioned, it must be submitted to the secretary of the meeting of shareholders for examination or to a proxy officer or committee appointed by the meeting's presiding officer. The secretary of the meeting or, if appointed, the proxy officer or committee, shall determine the validity or invalidity of any appointment of proxy submitted for examination. Reference in the minutes of the meeting by the secretary or, if appointed, the proxy officer or committee, as to the regularity of an appointment of proxy shall be received as prima facie evidence of the facts stated for the purpose of establishing the presence of a quorum at the meeting and for all other purposes.

3.10 Action Without a Meeting

Any action required or permitted to be taken at a meeting of the shareholders, may be taken without a meeting if the action is taken by all shareholders entitled to vote on the action. Or, if allowed by the articles of incorporation, such action may be taken without a meeting by persons who would be entitled to vote shares having voting power to cast not less than the minimum number (or numbers, in the case of voting by groups) of votes that would be necessary to authorize or take the action at a meeting at which all shareholders entitled to vote were present and voted. The action without a meeting must be evidenced by one or more written consents describing the action taken, signed by shareholders entitled to take action without a meeting, and delivered to the corporation for inclusion in the minutes or filing with the corporate records. The corporation shall give written notice of actions so taken.

3.11 Notice

Unless waived as contemplated in these bylaws, a notice of each meeting of shareholders, stating the date, time, and place of the meeting shall be given not less than ten (10) days nor more than sixty (60) days before the date thereof, to each shareholder entitled to vote at that meeting. In the case of an annual meeting, the notice need not state the purpose or purposes of the meeting unless the articles of incorporation or the Code requires otherwise. In the case of a special meeting, including a special meeting in lieu of an annual meeting, the notice of meeting shall state the purpose or purposes for which the meeting is called.

4.01 Powers

All corporate powers, which are lawful and do not violate any legal agreement among shareholders and which are not prohibited by the articles of incorporation or these bylaws, shall be exercised by or under the authority of, and the business and affairs of the corporation shall be managed under, the direction of the Board of Directors. The Board of Directors may, by resolution, vote any shares of stock owned by the corporation. Also, the Board of Directors from time to time in its discretion may authorize or declare distributions or share dividends in accordance with the Code.

4.02 Number

The number and composition of the corporation's Board of Directors shall initially be that which is specified in the articles of incorporation. If the articles of incorporation do not specify the number and composition of the Board of Directors, then the Board of Director's shall consist of one member, the Chief Executive Officer of the corporation. Thereafter, the number and composition of the Board of Directors may be changed from time to time by an action of the shareholders.

4.03 Election

Except as provided for in the bylaw addressing vacancies in the Board of Directors, the Directors shall be elected by a vote of the shareholders at each annual meeting of shareholders or special meeting in lieu of the annual meeting.

4.04 Term of Office

Except in the case of death, written resignation, retirement, disqualification, or removal, each director shall serve until the next succeeding annual meeting or special meeting in lieu of an annual meeting and thereafter until his successor is elected and qualifies or until the number of directors is decreased.

4.05 Removal

One or more directors may be removed from office with or without cause by the shareholders by a majority of the votes entitled to be cast. If the director was elected by a voting group, only the shareholders of that voting group may participate in the vote to remove him. Removal action may be taken at any meeting of shareholders with respect to which the notice stated that the purpose, or one of the purposes, of the meeting is removal of the director, and a removed director's successor may be elected at the same meeting.

4.06 Vacancies

A vacancy occurring in the Board of Directors, other than by reason of an increase in the number of directors, shall be filled for the unexpired term by the first to take action of (a) the shareholders or (b) the Board of Directors, and if the directors remaining in office constitute fewer than a quorum of the Board of Directors, they may fill the vacancy by the affirmative vote of a majority of all the directors remaining in office. If the vacant office was held by a director elected by a voting group, only the holders of shares of that voting group or the remaining directors elected by that voting group are entitled to vote to fill the vacancy. A vacancy occurring in the Board of Directors by reason of an increase in the number of directors shall be filled in like manner as any other vacancy, but, if filled by action of the Board of Directors, shall only be for a term of office continuing until the next election of directors by the shareholders and until the election and qualification of a successor.

4.07 Committees

The Board of Directors, by resolution, may designate from among its members an executive committee and one or more other committees, each consisting of one or more directors all of whom serve at the pleasure of the Board of Directors. Except as limited by the Code, each committee shall have the authority set forth in the resolution establishing the committee. The provisions of these bylaws as to the Board of Directors and its deliberations shall be applicable to any committee of the Board of Directors. All decisions and actions of any committee created by these bylaws or resulting from the authority granted by these bylaws, shall be subject to the discretionary review and approval of the Board of Directors.

4.08 Compensation

Unless the articles of incorporation provide otherwise, the Board of Directors may determine from time to time the compensation, if any, directors may receive for their services as directors. A director may also serve the corporation in a capacity other than that of director and receive compensation, as determined by the Board of Directors, for services rendered in such other capacity.

Article V. Meetings of the Board of Directors

5.01 Regular Meetings

Regular meetings of the Board of Directors shall be held immediately after the annual meeting of shareholders or a special meeting in lieu of the annual meeting. In addition, the Board of Directors may schedule other meetings to occur at regular intervals throughout the year.

5.02 Special Meetings

Special meetings of the Board of Directors may be called by or at the request of the Chief Executive Officer of the corporation, by the sole director of the board or, if the board consists of more than one director, by any two directors in office at that time.

5.03 Quorums

Unless a greater number is required by the articles of incorporation, these bylaws, or the Code, a quorum of the Board of Directors consists of a majority of the total number of directors.

5.04 Adjournments

Whether or not a quorum is present to organize a meeting, any meeting of directors (including an adjourned meeting) may be adjourned by a majority of the directors present to reconvene at a specific time and place. At any reconvened meeting, any business may be transacted that could have been transacted at the meeting that was adjourned. It shall not be necessary to give any notice of the reconvened meeting or of the business to be transacted, if the date, time and place of the reconvened meeting are announced at the meeting that was adjourned.

5.05 Action Without a Meeting

Unless the Code, the articles of incorporation, or these bylaws provide otherwise, any action required or permitted to be taken at any meeting of the Board of Directors, or any action that may be taken at a meeting of an authorized committee of the Board of Directors, may be taken without a meeting if the action is taken by all the members of the Board of Directors (or of the committee, as the case may be). The action must be evidenced by one or more written consents describing the action taken, signed by each director (or each director serving on the committee, as the case may be), and delivered to the corporation for inclusion in the minutes or filing with the corporate records.

5.06 Meetings by Telephone

Any or all directors may participate in a meeting of the Board of Directors, and members of an authorized committee of the Board of Directors may participate in a meeting of the committee (as the case may be), through the use of any means of communication by which all directors participating may simultaneously hear each other during the meeting.

5.07 Place of Meetings

Directors may hold their meetings at any place within or without the state of incorporation, as the Board of Directors may from time to time establish for regular meetings or as set forth in the notice of special meetings or, in the event of a meeting held pursuant to waiver of notice, as set forth in the

waiver.

5.08 Notice of Meetings

No notice shall be required for any regularly scheduled meeting of the directors. Unless waived as contemplated in these bylaws, each director shall be given at least five day's notice of each special meeting stating the date, time, and place of the meeting. It is not required that the purpose of a Directors' meeting be stated in any notice of such a meeting, whether the meeting is a regular or a special meeting.

5.09 Vote Required for Action

If a quorum is present when a vote is taken, the affirmative vote of a majority of directors present is the act of the Board of Directors unless the Code, the articles of incorporation, or these bylaws require the vote of a greater number of directors.

A director who is present at a meeting of the Board of Directors, or an authorized committee of the Board of Directors, when corporate action is taken is deemed to have assented to the action taken unless:

(i) he objects at the beginning of the meeting (or promptly upon his arrival) to holding the meeting or to transacting business at the meeting,

(ii) his dissent or abstention from the action taken is entered in the minutes of the meeting, or

(iii) he delivers written notice of his dissent or abstention to the presiding officer of the meeting before its adjournment or to the corporation immediately after adjournment of the meeting.

The right of dissent or abstention is not available to a director who votes in favor of the action taken.

Article VI. Shareholder and Director Notices

6.1 Delivery of Notice

Whenever these bylaws require notice to be given to any shareholder or director, the notice shall be given in accordance with this bylaw. Notice under these bylaws shall be in writing unless oral notice is reasonable under the circumstances. Any notice to directors may be written or oral. Notice may be communicated in person, by telephone, telegraph, teletype, other form of wire or wireless communication, or by mail or private carrier. If these forms of personal notice are impracticable, notice may be communicated by a newspaper of general circulation in the area where published, or by radio, television, or other form of public broadcast communication. Written notice to the shareholders, if in a comprehensible form, is effective when mailed, if mailed with first-class postage prepaid and correctly addressed to the shareholder's address shown in the corporation's current record of shareholders.

6.2 When Effective

Except as otherwise provided in this bylaw, written notice, if in a comprehensible form, is effective at the earliest of the following:

(i) when received or when delivered, properly addressed, to the addressee's last known

principal place of business or residence;

(ii) five days after deposit in the mail, as evidenced by the postmark, if mailed with first-class postage prepaid and correctly addressed, or

(iii) on the date shown on the return receipt, if sent by registered or certified mail, return receipt requested, and the receipt is signed by or on behalf of the addressee.

Oral notice is effective when communicated if communicated in a comprehensible manner.

In calculating time periods for notice, when a period of time measured in days, weeks, months, years, or other measurement of time is prescribed for the exercise of any privilege or the discharge of any duty, the first day shall not be counted but the last day shall be counted.

6.3 Waiver

A shareholder or director may waive any notice before or after the date and time stated in the notice. Except as provided in this bylaw, the waiver must be in writing, be signed by the shareholder or director entitled to the notice, and be delivered to the corporation for inclusion in the minutes or filing with the corporate records.

A shareholder's attendance at a meeting (i) waives objection to lack of notice or defective notice of the meeting, unless the shareholder at the beginning of the meeting objects to holding the meeting or transacting business at the meeting; and (ii) waives objection to consideration of a particular matter at the meeting that is not within the purpose or purposes described in the meeting notice, unless the shareholder objects to considering the matter when it is presented.

A director's attendance at or participation in a meeting waives any required notice to him of the meeting unless the director at the beginning of the meeting (or promptly upon his arrival) objects to holding the meeting or transacting business at the meeting and does not thereafter vote for or assent to action taken at the meeting.

Unless required by the Code, neither the business transacted nor the purpose of the meeting need be specified in the waiver.

6.4 Notice Following Adjournment

If notice of an adjourned meeting of the shareholders or of the directors was properly given, it shall not be necessary to give any notice of the reconvened meeting or of the business to be transacted, if the date, time and place of the reconvened meeting are announced at the meeting that was adjourned and before adjournment; provided, however, that if a new record date of shares is or must be fixed, notice of the reconvened meeting must be given to persons who are shareholders as of the new record date.

7.01 Number

The officers of the corporation shall consist of a Board Chairman, a President, a Secretary, a Treasurer, and any other officers as may be appointed by the Board of Directors or by an other duly appointed officer pursuant to these bylaws. The Board of Directors shall from time to time create and establish the duties of the other officers. Any two or more offices may be held by the same person.

7.02 Chairman of Board

The Chairman of the Board of Directors shall preside at all meetings of the Board of Directors and shall have authority to execute bonds, mortgages, and other contracts requiring a seal, under the seal of the corporation; to endorse, when sold, assigned, transferred, or otherwise disposed of by the corporation, all certificates or shares of stock, bonds, or other securities issued by other corporations, associations, trusts, whether public or private, or by any government agency thereof, and owned or held by the corporation, and to make, execute, and deliver all instruments or assignments of transfer of any such stocks, bonds, or other securities. The Chairman of the Board may, with the approval of the Board of Directors, or shall, at the direction of the Board of Directors, delegate any or all of such duties to the President.

7.03 President

The President shall be the Chief Executive Officer of the corporation and shall have general supervision of the business of the corporation. The President shall see that all orders and resolutions of the Board of Directors are carried into effect. The President shall perform such other duties as may from time to time be delegated by the Board of Directors. In the absence of the Chairman of the Board, the President shall have authority to do any and all things delegated to the Chairman of the Board of Directors.

7.04 Vice President

In the absence or disability of the President, or at the direction of the President, the Vice President, if any, shall perform the duties and exercise the powers of the President. If the corporation has more than one Vice President, the one designated by the Board of Directors shall act in lieu of the President. Vice Presidents shall perform whatever duties and have whatever powers the Board of Directors may from time to time assign.

7.05 Secretary

The Secretary shall be responsible for preparing minutes of the acts and proceedings of all meetings of the shareholders, the Board of Directors, and any Committees thereof. The Secretary shall have authority to give all notices required by the Code or these bylaws. The Secretary shall be responsible for the custody of the corporate books, records, contracts, and other documents. The Secretary may affix the corporate seal to any lawfully executed documents and shall sign any instruments as may require his or her signature. The Secretary shall authenticate records of the corporation. The Secretary shall perform whatever additional duties and have whatever additional powers the Board of Directors may from time to time assign. In the absence or disability of the Secretary or at the direction of the President, any assistant secretary may perform the duties and exercise the powers of the Secretary.

7.06 Treasurer

The Treasurer shall be responsible for the custody of all funds and securities belonging to the corporation and for the receipt, deposit, or disbursement of funds and securities under the direction of the Board of Directors. The Treasurer shall cause to be maintained full and true accounts of all receipts and disbursements and shall make reports of the same to the Board of Directors and the President upon request. The Treasurer shall perform all duties as may be assigned to him from time to time by the Board of Directors.

7.07 Appointment, Term, and Removal

All officers shall be appointed by the Board of Directors or by a duly appointed officer pursuant to these bylaws and shall serve at the pleasure of the Board of Directors or the appointing officers, as the case may be. All officers, however appointed, may be removed with or without cause by the Board of Directors, and any officer appointed by another officer may also be removed by the appointing officer with or without cause.

7.08 Compensation

The compensation of all officers of the corporation appointed by the Board of Directors shall be fixed by the Board of Directors.

7.09 Bonds

The Board of Directors may, by resolution, require any or all of the officers, agents, or employees of the corporation to give bonds to the corporation, with sufficient surety or sureties, conditioned on the faithful performance of the duties of their respective offices or positions, and to comply with any other conditions as from time to time may be required by the Board of Directors.

Article VIII. Indemnification

8.01 Basic Indemnification Arrangement

Except as provided in these bylaws, the corporation shall indemnify an individual who is a party to a proceeding because he or she is or was a director or officer against liability incurred in the proceeding if:

(i) Such Director or Officer conducted himself in good faith and reasonably believed:

(a) In the case of conduct in his or her official capacity, that such conduct was in the best interests of the corporation;

(b) In all other cases, that such conduct was at least not opposed to the best interests of the corporation; and

(c) In the case of any criminal proceeding, that the individual had no reasonable cause to believe such conduct was unlawful, or

(ii) Such Director's or Officer's conduct with respect to an employee benefit plan, which is the subject of the proceeding, was for a purpose he believed in good faith to be in the interests of the participants in and beneficiaries of the plan.

The termination of a proceeding by judgment, order, settlement, or conviction, or upon a plea of nolo contendere or its equivalent is not, of itself, determinative that the director or officer did not meet the requisite standard of conduct described in this bylaw.

The corporation may not indemnify a director or officer under this Article:

(i) In connection with a proceeding by or in the right of the corporation, except for reasonable expenses incurred in connection with the proceeding if it is determined that the director or officer has met the requisite standard of conduct under this bylaw; or

(ii) In connection with any proceeding with respect to conduct for which he or she was adjudged liable on the basis that personal benefit was improperly received by him or her, whether or not involving action in his or her official capacity.

8.02 Advances for Expenses

The corporation may, before final disposition of a proceeding, advance funds to pay for or reimburse the reasonable expenses, including counsel fees, incurred by a director or officer who is a party to a proceeding because he or she is a director or officer if he or she delivers to the corporation:

(i) A written affirmation of his or her good faith belief that he or she has met the requisite standard of conduct described in the Basic Indemnification Arrangement bylaw or that the proceeding involves conduct for which such person's liability has been eliminated under the corporation's articles of incorporation; and

(ii) His or her written undertaking to repay any funds advanced if it is ultimately determined that the director or officer is not entitled to indemnification under this Article or the Code. This undertaking to repay must be an unlimited general obligation of the director or officer but need not be secured and may be accepted without reference to the financial ability of the director or officer to make repayment.

Authorizations for expense advancements shall be made:

(i) By the board of directors:

(a) by a majority vote of a quorum consisting of disinterested directors, or

(b) if such a quorum is not obtainable (or is obtainable and a majority vote of a quorum of disinterested directors so directs), by independent legal counsel in a written opinion; or

(ii) By a majority vote of the shareholders; however, shares owned or voted under the control of a director or officer who at the time does not qualify as a disinterested director or disinterested officer with respect to the proceeding may not be voted on the authorization.

8.03 Court-Ordered Indemnification and Advances for Expenses

A director or officer who is a party to a proceeding because he or she is a director or officer may apply for indemnification or advance for expenses to the court conducting the proceeding or to another court of competent jurisdiction. Pursuant to the Code, after receipt of an application and after giving any notice it considers necessary, the court shall:

(i) Order indemnification or advance for expenses if it determines that the director or officer is entitled to indemnification; or

(ii) Order indemnification or advance for expenses if it determines, in view of all the relevant circumstances, that it is fair and reasonable to indemnify the director or officer, or to advance expenses to the director or officer, even if the director or officer has not met the relevant standard of conduct, failed to comply with the requirements for advance of expenses, or was adjudged liable on the basis that personal benefit was improperly received by him or her, whether or not involving action in his or her official capacity. However, if the director or officer was adjudged so liable, the indemnification shall be limited to reasonable expenses incurred in connection with the proceeding.

If the court determines that the director or officer is entitled to indemnification or advance for expenses, it may also order the corporation to pay the director's or officer's reasonable expenses to obtain court-ordered indemnification or advance for expenses.

8.04 Determination and Authorization of Indemnification

The corporation acknowledges that indemnification of a director or officer according to these bylaws has been pre-authorized by the corporation as permitted by the Code. Nevertheless, the corporation shall not indemnify a director or officer under these bylaws unless a determination has been made for the specific proceeding that indemnification of the director or officer is permissible in the circumstances because he or she has met the relevant standard of conduct set forth in the Basic Indemnification Arrangement. However, regardless of the result or absence of any such determination, the corporation shall indemnify a director or officer who was wholly successful, on the merits or otherwise, in the defense of any proceeding to which he or she was a party because he or she was a director or officer of the corporation against reasonable expenses incurred by the director or officer in connection with the proceeding.

The determination of indemnification shall be made:

(i) by the board of directors:

  (a) by a majority vote of a quorum consisting of disinterested directors; or

  (b) if such a quorum is not obtainable or is obtainable and a majority vote of a quorum of disinterested directors so directs, by independent legal counsel in a written opinion; or

(ii) by a majority vote of the shareholders, but shares owned by or voted under the control of a director or officer who at the time does not qualify as a disinterested director or disinterested officer may not be voted on the determination.

As acknowledged above, the corporation has pre-authorized the indemnification of directors and officers hereunder, subject to a determination for a specific proceeding that the director or officer met the relevant standard of conduct under the Basic Indemnification Arrangement. Consequently, no further decision need or shall be made on a case-by-case basis as to the authorization of the corporation's indemnification of directors or officers hereunder. Nevertheless, evaluation as to reasonableness of expenses of a director or officer for a specific proceeding shall be made in the same manner as the determination that indemnification is permissible, except that if there are fewer than two disinterested directors or if the determination is made by special legal counsel, evaluation as to reasonableness of expenses shall be made by the Board of Directors, the members of which may or may not be disinterested.

8.05 Indemnification of Employees and Agents

The corporation may indemnify and advance expenses under these bylaws to an employee or agent of the corporation who is not a director or officer to the extent, consistent with public policy, that such indemnification and advances may be provided to a director or officer.

8.06 Shareholder Approved Indemnification

If authorized by the articles of incorporation, the bylaws, or by a a contract or resolution approved or ratified by the shareholders of the corporation by a majority of the votes entitled to be cast, the corporation may indemnify or obligate itself to indemnify a director or officer made a party to a proceeding, including a proceeding brought by or in the right of the corporation, without regard to the limitations in other sections of these bylaws, but shares owned or voted under the control of a director or officer who at the time of such authorization does not qualify as a disinterested director or disinterested officer with respect to any existing or threatened proceeding that would be covered by the authorization may not be voted on the authorization.

Nevertheless, the corporation shall not indemnify a director or officer under this bylaw for any liability incurred in a proceeding in which the director or officer is adjudged liable to the corporation or is subjected to injunctive relief in favor of the corporation:

(i) for any appropriation, in violation of his or her duties, of any business opportunity of the corporation,

(ii) for acts or omissions which involve intentional misconduct or a knowing violation of law,

(iii) for assenting to an unlawful distribution as defined in the Code, or

(iv) for any transaction from which he or she received an improper personal benefit.

Where approved or authorized according to this bylaw, the corporation may advance or reimburse expenses incurred in advance of final disposition of the proceeding only if

(i) The director or officer furnishes the corporation a written affirmation of his or her good faith belief that his or her conduct does not constitute behavior of the kind described in this bylaw which would prevent indemnification; and

(ii) The director or officer furnishes the corporation a written undertaking, executed personally or on his or her behalf, to repay any advances if it is ultimately determined that he or she is not entitled to indemnification under this bylaw.

8.07 Insurance

The corporation may purchase and maintain insurance on behalf of an individual

(i) who is a director, officer, employee, or agent of the corporation, or

(ii) who, while a director, officer, employee, or agent of the corporation, serves at the corporation's request as a director, officer, partner, trustee, employee or agent of another domestic or foreign corporation, partnership, joint venture, trust, employee benefit plan, or other entity

against liability asserted against or incurred by him or her in that capacity or arising from his or her status as a director, officer, employee, or agent, whether or not the corporation would have power to indemnify or advance expenses to him or her against the same liability under these bylaws or the Code.

8.09 Witness Fees

Nothing in these bylaws shall limit the corporation's power to pay or reimburse expenses incurred by a director or officer in connection with his or her appearance as a witness in a proceeding at a time when he or she is not a party.

8.10 Report to Shareholders

To the extent and in the manner required by the Code from time to time, if the corporation indemnifies or advances expenses to a director or officer in connection with a proceeding by or in the right of the corporation, the corporation shall report the indemnification or advance to the shareholders.

8.11 Effect of Amendments

No amendment, modification, or rescission of these bylaws, or any provision of the bylaws, the effect of which would diminish the rights to indemnification or advancement of expenses as set forth herein shall be effective as to any person with respect to any action taken or omitted by such person prior to such amendment, modification or rescission.

Article IX. Stock Certificates

9.01 Authorization and Issuance

In accordance with the Code, the Board of Directors may authorize shares of any class or series provided for in the corporation's Articles of Incorporation to be issued for any consideration valid under the provisions of the Code. To the extent provided in the Articles of Incorporation, the Board of Directors shall determine the preferences, limitations, and relative rights of the shares.

9.02 Form

The interest of each shareholder in the corporation shall be evidenced by a certificate or certificates representing shares of the corporation which shall be in such form as the Board of Directors from time to time may adopt. Share certificates shall be numbered consecutively, shall be in registered form, shall indicate the date of issuance, the name of the corporation, that it is organized under the laws of the state of incorporation, the name of the shareholder, the number and class of shares, and the designation of the series, if any, represented by the certificate. Each certificate shall be signed by any one of the President, a Vice President, the Secretary, or the Treasurer. The corporate seal need not be affixed.

9.03 Registered Shareholders

Prior to due presentation for transfer of registration of its shares, the corporation may treat the registered owner of the shares as the person exclusively entitled to vote the shares, to receive any share dividend or distribution with respect to the shares, and for all other purposes. The corporation shall not be bound to recognize any equitable or other claim to or interest in the shares on the part of any other person, whether or not it shall have express or other notice thereof, except as otherwise provided by law.

9.04 Transfer of Shares

Transfers of shares shall be made upon the transfer books of the corporation, kept at the principle office of the corporation (or at the office of the transfer agent designated to transfer the shares, if any) only upon direction of the person named in the certificate, or by his or her attorney lawfully constituted in writing. Before a new certificate is issued, the old certificate shall be surrendered for cancellation or, in the case of a certificate alleged to have been lost, stolen, or destroyed, the requirements of the bylaw governing lost, stolen, or destroyed certificates shall have been met.

For the purpose of determining shareholders entitled to notice of a shareholders' meeting, to

demand a special meeting, to vote, or to take any other action, the Board of Directors may fix a future date as the record date, which date shall be not more than seventy (70) days prior to the date on which the particular action requiring a determination of shareholders is to be taken. A determination of shareholders entitled to notice of or to vote at a shareholders' meeting is effective for any adjournment of the meeting unless the Board of Directors fixes a new record date, which it must do if the meeting is adjourned to a date more than 120 days after the date fixed for the original meeting. If no record date is fixed by the Board of Directors, the record date shall be determined in accordance with the provisions of the Code.

For the purpose of determining shareholders entitled to a distribution (other than one involving a purchase, redemption, or other reacquisition of the corporation's shares) or a share dividend, the Board of Directors may fix a date as the record date, if no record date is fixed by the Board of Directors, the record date shall be determined in accordance with the provisions of the Code.

9.06 Lost, Stolen, or Destroyed Certificates

Any person claiming a share certificate to be lost, stolen, or destroyed shall make an affidavit or affirmation of the fact in the manner required by the Board of Directors and, if the Board of Directors requires, shall give the corporation a bond of indemnity in form and amount, and with one or more sureties satisfactory to the Board of Directors, as the Board of Directors may require, whereupon an appropriate new certificate may be issued in lieu of the one alleged to have been lost, stolen or destroyed.

Article X. Miscellaneous

10.01 Fiscal Year

The fiscal year of the corporation shall be a twelve-month period, beginning January 1 and ending on December 31 each year, unless the Board of Directors, by resolution, fixes the fiscal year as an other time period.

10.02 Corporate Seal

If the Board of Directors determines that there should be a corporate seal for the corporation, it shall be in the form as the Board of Directors may from time to time determine.

10.03 Corporate Records

The Board of Directors shall have the power to determine which accounts, books, and records of the corporation shall be opened to the inspection of the shareholders, except those as may by law specifically be made open to inspection. The Board of Directors shall have the power to fix reasonable rules and regulations not in conflict with the applicable law for the inspection of accounts, books, and records which by law or by determination of the Board of Directors shall be open to inspection.

10.04 Annual Financial Statements

In accordance with the Code, the corporation shall prepare and provide to the shareholders such financial statements as may be required by the Code.

10.05 Amendments

The Board of Directors shall have the power to alter, amend, or repeal these bylaws or adopt new bylaws, but any bylaws adopted by the Board of Directors may be altered, amended, or repealed, and new bylaws adopted, by the shareholders. The shareholders may prescribe, by expressing in the action they take in adopting or amending any bylaw or bylaws, that the bylaw or bylaws so adopted or amended shall not be altered, amended or repealed by the Board of Directors.

10.06 Conflict with Articles of Incorporation or Law; Severability

In the event that any provision of these bylaws conflicts with any provision of the Articles of Incorporation, the Articles of Incorporation shall govern. In the event that any of the provisions of these bylaws (including any provision within a single section, subsection, division or sentence) is held by a court of competent jurisdiction to be invalid, void, or otherwise unenforceable, the remaining provisions of the bylaws shall remain enforceable to the fullest extent permitted by law.

Exhibit 3.42

LIMITED LIABILITY COMPANY AGREEMENT OF LAKEVIEW BEHAVIORAL HEALTH SYSTEM LLC

This LIMITED LIABILITY COMPANY AGREEMENT, dated effective as of the 15th day of July, 2010 (this "Agreement"), is adopted, executed and agreed to, for good and valuable consideration, by and between Acadia Healthcare Company, LLC (the "Member") and Lakeview Behavioral Health System LLC (the "LLC"). Certain terms used herein are defined in Section 1.6.

ARTICLE I

GENERAL PROVISIONS; CAPITAL CONTRIBUTIONS; DEFINITIONS

Section 1.1 Formation. The formation of the LLC, pursuant to and in accordance with the Delaware Limited Liability Company Act, 6 Del. C. §18-101, et seq., as amended from time to time (the "Act"), occurred on July 15, 2010. An authorized person, within the meaning of the Act, has executed, delivered and filed the certificate of formation of the LLC (the "Certificate"). The Member has been admitted to the LLC as its sole initial member.

Section 1.2 Name. The name of the LLC will be "Lakeview Behavioral Health System LLC," or such other name or names as the Member may from time to time designate.

Section 1.3 Purpose. The LLC's purpose shall be to carry on any activities which may lawfully be earned on by a limited liability company organized pursuant to the Act. Without limiting the foregoing, the LLC shall, as part of its mission and purpose:

(a) Establish and maintain an institution with permanent facilities in Atlanta, Georgia that includes patient beds and medical services to provide diagnosis and treatment for patients in need of psychiatric care (the "Hospital").

(b) Maintain, and equip the Hospital to provide psychiatric services for patients in the Atlanta, Georgia area and to provide services that enable qualified practitioners to practice in the Hospital and the community.

(c) Carry on any educational activities related to rendering care to the mentally ill and afflicted or to the promotion of health that, in the opinion of the LLC, may be justified subject to approval by the Board of Managers.

(d) Participate in activities designed and carried on to promote the general health of the community subject to the approval by the Board of Managers.

(e) Be an integral part of any health care plan offering the broadest scope of services appropriate.

(f) Provide coordination and integration among the Hospital's leaders to establish policies in general, including policies pertinent to conflicts among Hospital leaders; to maintain quality patient care; to provide for necessary resources; and to provide for organizational management, planning and operations.

(g) Ensure the Hospital's compliance with all applicable laws, regulations, certification standards and conditions of participation.

(h) Ensure collaboration of Hospital leaders, including leaders from the Medical Staff and nursing staff, in the development, review and revision of Hospital policies and procedures.

Section 1.4 Registered Office; Registered Agent; Place of Business. The registered office of the LLC required by the Act to be maintained in the State of Delaware shall be the office of the initial registered agent named in the Certificate or such other office (which need not be a place of business of the LLC) as the Member may designate from time to time in the manner provided by law. The registered agent of the LLC in the State of Delaware shall be the initial registered agent named in the Certificate or such other person or persons as the Member may designate from time to time in the manner provided by law. The LLC will maintain an office and principal place of business at such place or places inside or outside the State of Delaware as the Member may designate from time to time.

Section 1.5 Capital Contributions.

(a) The Member has contributed to the capital of the LLC the amount set forth on Schedule I. All future capital contributions made by the Member shall be reflected on the LLC's books and records. Persons hereafter admitted as members of the LLC shall make such contributions of cash (or promissory obligations), property or services to the LLC as shall be determined by the Member and such person making the contribution in their sole discretion at the time of each such admission. Upon admission, new members shall sign an amended version of this Agreement approved by the Member and containing provisions appropriate for a Delaware limited liability company with more than one member.

(b) The Member shall not have any responsibility to restore any negative balance in its Capital Account or to contribute to or in respect of liabilities or obligations of the LLC, whether arising in tort, contract or otherwise, or return distributions made by the LLC except as required by the Act or other applicable law. The failure of the LLC to observe any formalities or requirements relating to the exercise of its powers or management of its business or affairs under this Agreement or the Act shall not be grounds for imposing personal liability on the Member for liabilities of the LLC.

(c) No interest shall be paid by the LLC on capital contributions or on balances in the Member's Capital Account.

(d) The Member shall not be entitled to withdraw any part of its Capital Account or to receive any distributions from the LLC except as provided in Articles III and V. The Member may, at its discretion, make loans to the LLC, and any loan by the Member to the LLC shall not be considered to be a capital contribution for any purpose and shall not result in an increase in the amount of the Capital Account of the Member.

Section 1.6 Definitions. For purposes of this Agreement:

"Capital Account" has the meaning set forth in Section 2.1.

"Event of Withdrawal" means the dissolution of the Member.

"Manager" means any person appointed or acting as a Manager pursuant to Article IV hereof.

"Member" means Acadia Healthcare Company. LLC.

Section 1.7 Term. The LLC shall continue until dissolved and terminated in accordance with Article V of this Agreement.

Section 1.8 No State-Law Partnership. The Member intends that the LLC not be a partnership (including, without limitation, a limited partnership) or joint venture for any purposes.

ARTICLE II

CAPITAL ACCOUNTS

Section 2.1 Capital Accounts. The LLC may maintain a Capital Account for the Member. The Member's Capital Account shall be increased by capital contributions and by the Member's share of LLC profits and decreased by distributions to the Member and by the Member's share of LLC losses. No advance of money to the LLC by the Member shall be credited to its Capital Account.

ARTICLE III

DISTRIBUTIONS AND ALLOCATIONS

Section 3.1 Distributions. Distributions of cash or other assets of the LLC shall be made at such times and in such amounts as the Member may determine. Notwithstanding any provision to the contrary contained in this Agreement, the LLC shall not make a distribution to the Member on account of its membership interest in the LLC if such distribution would violate Section 18-607 of the Act or other applicable law.

Section 3.2 Allocations. Except as otherwise required by applicable provisions of tax law, solely for federal income tax purposes and for purposes of certain state tax laws, the LLC shall be disregarded as an entity separate from the Member. Each item of LLC income, gain, loss, deduction, and credit shall be treated as if realized directly by, and shall be allocated 100% to, the Member.

ARTICLE IV

MANAGEMENT AND MEMBER RIGHTS

Section 4.1 Management Authority. The Board of Managers shall constitute the governing board of the LLC and the Hospital, and this Agreement shall be deemed the "Governing Board Bylaws" of the LLC and the Hospital for purposes of accreditation and conditions of participation in applicable programs. The Managers shall devote such time to the affairs of the LLC as is reasonably necessary for performance by the Board of Managers of its duties. Except as otherwise provided for elsewhere in this Agreement, the Board of Managers shall have the right, discretion and power to manage, operate, and control the LLC and to do all things necessary or appropriate to carry on the business and purposes of the LLC, but only to the extent necessary to cause the LLC and the Hospital to comply with all applicable laws, regulations, accreditation standards and conditions of participation. All other operational, financial and managerial control of the LLC and the Hospital is vested in the Member as set forth in Section 4.11. The Board of Managers shall be responsible for the attainment and maintenance of accreditation by the identified accreditation or certifying organization, i.e. the Joint Commission and CARF (the Commission on Accreditation of Rehabilitation Facilities), and compliance with the conditions of participation for applicable reimbursement programs and shall direct the Hospital administration to take all necessary steps to achieve and maintain that accreditation and compliance.

Section 4.2 Appointment of Managers. The Board of Managers shall consist of at least three (3) and up to five (5) individual persons (each such individual referred to herein as a "Manager"). Two (2) of the Managers shall serve on an "ex officio" basis for so long as they hold the following offices: (i) the Chief Operating Officer of the Member; and (ii) the Vice President of Clinical Services of the Member; these two (2) ex officio Managers, in their discretion, may appoint an additional one (1) to three (3) Managers, including the Hospital Chief Executive Officer (it is expected but not required that one (1) of such additional Managers may be the Medical Director of the Hospital). Each Manager shall have one (1) vote on all matters considered by the Board of Managers and shall undergo a reasonable orientation during his or her first month as a Manager, including orientation with respect to at least the following: (i) this Agreement; (ii) the Hospital's Medical Staff Policies/Bylaws; (iii) a listing of all committee chairpersons and members; (iv) the Hospital's quality assurance plan; (v) the Hospital's organizational chart; (vi) the Hospital's Medical Staff roster; (vi) the Member's Corporate Compliance Plan; (vii) the Hospital's mission and vision; (viii) the Hospital's safety and quality goals; (ix) the Hospital's organizational structure and decision making process; (x) budget development and interpretation of financial statements; (xi) the Hospital's scope of services; (xii) leadership responsibilities; and (xiii) applicable law and regulations. Each ex officio Manager shall serve until he or she ceases to hold the office which qualifies him or her as an ex officio Manager or his or her earlier death, resignation or removal. Managers appointed by the ex officio Managers shall serve for three-year terms, unless they earlier die or resign or are removed by the majority vote of the ex officio Managers or the Member.

Section 4.3 Vacancies. The ex officio Managers in their discretion may fill any vacant non-ex officio Manager position.

Section 4.4 Meetings of Managers. The Board of Managers shall meet regularly, at least quarterly, and additional meetings may be called by any Manager. Times and places for meetings of the Board of Managers shall be determined by the Managers. At least twenty-four (24) hours' prior notice of a meeting shall be given to each Manager by letter, personal verbal notification, confirmed e-mail or confirmed facsimile. Notice of a meeting of the Board of Managers shall specify the place, date and time as well as the business to be transacted thereat. Such notice to a Manager may be waived by such Manager and shall be deemed waived by a Manager's presence at the meeting. A majority of the Managers present at a meeting at which a quorum is present may authorize the transaction of business not specified in the notice of the meeting. When a meeting is adjourned to another time or place, notice shall be given of the adjourned meeting to all Managers not present at the time of the adjournment. At the adjourned meeting any business may be transacted that might have been transacted at the meeting as originally called. Managers may participate in a meeting of the Board of Managers by means of conference telephone, video conferencing or similar communications equipment by means of which all Managers participating in the meeting can hear and communicate with one another and such participation in a meeting shall constitute presence in person at such meeting. The ex officio Manager holding office by virtue of his or her position as Chief Operating Officer of the Member shall act as Chairperson of the Board of Managers and shall determine in his or her discretion how each meeting shall be conducted.

Section 4.5 Quorum. A majority of the Managers shall constitute a quorum. Once a Manager is present for any purpose at the opening of any meeting, such Manager is deemed present for quorum purposes for the remainder of the meeting and any adjournment thereof. In the absence of a quorum at the opening of any meeting of the Board of Managers, such meeting may be adjourned from time to time by a vote of the Managers present.

Section 4.6 Voting of Managers. Subject to the rights of the Member set forth in Section 4.11, and except as otherwise specifically provided herein, any action required or permitted to be taken by the Managers shall be taken by affirmative vote of a majority of the Managers present at a meeting of the Board of Managers at which a quorum is present. A written record or minutes of all meetings and actions of the Board of Managers shall be made by a designee of the Board of Managers and copies of such record or minutes shall be provided to all Managers and shall be reviewed by the Board of Managers.

Section 4.7 Action Without Meeting. Any action which the Managers could take at a meeting may be taken without a meeting if one or more written consents, setting forth the action taken, shall be signed, before or after such action, by at least a majority of the Managers entitled to vote on such matter. The consent shall be delivered to the LLC for inclusion in the minutes or filing with the LLC's records.

Section 4.8 Committees. The Board of Managers may create one or more advisory committees, on either a standing or special purpose basis, and appoint such persons to serve on them as it deems desirable. The provisions of this Agreement that govern meetings, action without meetings, notice and waiver of notice, and quorum and voting requirements of the Board of Managers shall apply to committees and their members as well. To the extent specified by the Board of Managers, each committee shall provide advice to the Board of Managers, but shall have power to act only to the extent specifically conferred by the Board of Managers. Such committees may include a Medical Advisory Committee, a Clinical Credentialing Committee and such other committees which may participate in resolving patient complaints and such other functions advisory to the Board of Managers as it may determine. Additionally, the Board of Managers may delegate to the Hospital Chief Executive Officer responsibility for review and approval of facility specific policies and procedures.

Section 4.9 Appointment of Officers. The LLC may have officers. The officers of the LLC, if appointed, shall be appointed by the Member and shall have such titles and authority as determined by the Member. Additionally, Hospital officers may be appointed and may include a Chairperson, a Chief Executive Officer/Hospital Administrator who shall be responsible for the administration of the Hospital as set forth in Section 4.14, a Chief Operating Officer, a Medical Director, a Secretary and/or such other officers as shall be deemed appropriate; the Board of Managers may appoint such officers for the Hospital (but not the LLC) as it deems appropriate. The officers of the LLC, if appointed, shall have the authority to perform the duties customary to their offices or as from time to time may be prescribed by the Member; the officers of the Hospital, if appointed, shall have the authority as prescribed from time to time by the Board of Managers. Any two (2) or more offices may be held by the same individual, but no officer may act in more than one (1) capacity where action of two (2) or more officers is required. The officers of the LLC shall be appointed for two (2) year terms by the Member and shall serve in such capacities until the expiration of their terms, their removal (with or without cause) by the Member, resignation or death. The officers of the Hospital shall be appointed for two (2) year terms by the Board of Managers and shall serve in such capacities until the expiration of their terms, their removal (with or without cause) by the Board of Managers, resignation or death. Vacancies among the Hospital officers may be filled and new Hospital offices may be created and filled by the Board of Managers. Vacancies among the LLC officers may be filled and new LLC offices may be created and filled by the Member.

Section 4.10 Standards of Performance. The Managers shall not be required to devote all of their business time to the business of the LLC, but shall devote such time as the Managers, in their sole discretion, deem necessary for the discharge of their respective obligations and duties hereunder. In performing their responsibilities hereunder, the Managers shall exercise such skill and care as a reasonably prudent person would exercise. The obligation of the Managers to act hereunder shall be limited to such acts as may be reasonably taken with the funds available to the LLC, and the Managers shall not be obligated to expend their own funds in connection with the operation of the LLC hereunder.

Each Manager shall have continuing responsibility to receive the training necessary to perform his or her assigned tasks as well as to develop his or her skills for the future advancement of the Hospital. Detailed records of such training will be kept by the Hospital Chief Executive Officer or his or her designee showing the program content. These records will be kept current. Each Manager and the Chairperson of the Board of Managers (or his or her designee) share in the responsibility to keep these records current by submitting records of attendance. The Board of Managers shall conduct an annual performance appraisal of its activities.

Section 4.11 Actions Requiring Member Consent. All rights and powers not specifically delegated to the Board of Managers in this Article IV shall be reserved to the Member. Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, the Member shall have the exclusive right to:

(a) Manage the business and affairs of the LLC and the Hospital, other than with respect to actions which are mandated by any law, regulation or accreditation standard applicable to the Hospital (the Board of Managers having the right to cause the LLC and the Hospital to take such actions in such cases);

(b) Cause any amendment to be made to the Certificate or this Agreement, unless otherwise mandated by any law, regulation or accreditation standard applicable to the Hospital (the Board of Managers having the right to cause the LLC to take such actions in such cases);

(c) Authorize the merger, consolidation or similar combination of the LLC with any other entity, or authorize the sale of all or substantially all the assets of the LLC;

(d) Authorize the LLC to participate in an exchange of interests or other type of business combination with any other entity;

(e) Approve any additional capital contributions, unless otherwise mandated by any law, regulation or accreditation standard applicable to the Hospital (the Board of Managers having the right to cause the LLC to take such actions in such cases);

(f) Approve the LLC's annual capital budget and operating budget, unless otherwise mandated by any law, regulation or accreditation standard applicable to the Hospital (the Board of Managers having the right to cause the LLC to take such actions in such cases);

(g) Approve a Transfer of membership interests in the LLC;

(h) Approve admission of any new members and any related issuance of membership interests in the LLC;

(i) Except as provided in Section 5.1(b), effect the voluntary or involuntary dissolution, liquidation or winding-up of the LLC, unless otherwise mandated by any law, regulation or accreditation standard applicable to the Hospital (the Board of Managers having the right to cause the LLC to take such actions in such cases);

(j) File a voluntary bankruptcy by the LLC;

(k) Incur long-term indebtedness, unless otherwise mandated by any law, regulation or accreditation standard applicable to the Hospital (the Board of Managers having the right to cause the LLC to take such actions in such cases);

(1) Enter into contracts with a term greater than two (2) years, unless otherwise mandated by any law, regulation or accreditation standard applicable to the Hospital (the Board of Managers having the right to cause the LLC to take such actions in such cases);

(m) Approve any non-budgeted expenditure in excess of One Hundred Thousand Dollars ($100,000), unless otherwise mandated by any law, regulation or accreditation standard applicable to the Hospital (the Board of Managers having the right to cause the LLC to take such actions in such cases); and

(n) Approve an independent auditor for the LLC.

Section 4.12 Binding the LLC. Any action (if authorized and approved in accordance with the terms hereof) taken by a Manager as a Manager of the LLC shall bind the LLC and shall be deemed to be the action of the LLC; additionally, any action reserved to the Member hereby taken by the Member as the LLC's Member shall bind the LLC and shall be deemed to be the action of the LLC. The signature of a Manager or the Member on any agreement, contract, instrument or other document shall be sufficient to bind the LLC in respect thereof and conclusively evidence the authority of such Manager and the LLC with respect thereto, and no third party need look to any other evidence or require joinder or consent of any other party.

Section 4.13 Compensation of Managers. No payment shall be made by the LLC to any Person for such Person's services as a Manager; however, Managers shall be reimbursed by the LLC for their documented actual out-of-pocket expenses incurred in acting as Managers.

Section 4.14 Administration of the Hospital.

(a) The Chief Executive Officer/Hospital Administrator. The Board of Managers shall select and appoint a Chief Executive Officer/Hospital Administrator who shall be responsible for the management of the Hospital. The Chief Executive Officer/Hospital Administrator shall be given the necessary authority and responsibility to operate the Hospital, subject to such policies as may be issued by the Board of Managers. The Chief Executive Officer/Hospital Administrator shall act as the duly authorized representative of the Board of Managers in all matters in which it has not formally designated some other person to so act.

(i) The Chief Executive Officer/Hospital Administrator will have the following minimum educational and experiential qualifications:

(A) A baccalaureate degree in health care, hospital, business or an appropriately related discipline (to include a Juris Doctorate); or

(B) A minimum of three years experience in a responsible administrative position in the health care field.

(ii) The authority and responsibility of the Chief Executive Officer/Hospital Administrator shall include:

(A) Implementation, in the day-to-day operation of the Hospital, of all policies established by the Board of Managers, and advising the Board of Managers on the formulation of future policy.

(B) Organizing the administrative functions of the Hospital, delegating duties and establishing formal means of accountability on the part of subordinates through written reports and periodic meetings with department heads and through attendance, in person or through a duly authorized representative, at departmental and inter-departmental meetings, and developing and submitting for approval of the Board of Managers a plan of organization for the conduct of Hospital operations and for evaluation of the provision of and performance and quality in patient care, treatment and services and for fiscal accountability.

(C) Preparing for review each year an annual budget showing expected revenues and expenditures in conformity with fiscal programs and policies laid down by the Board of Managers, as well as a plan for long-term capital expenditures.

(D) Selecting, employing, controlling, promoting, disciplining, and discharging employees of the Hospital; recommending to the Board of Managers, for approval prior to implementation, wage and salary scales, in-grade pay raises and specific employee fringe benefits; developing and maintaining written personnel polices and practices relating to the above designed to provide optimal support for safe and good patient care and a professional workplace free of disruptive and inappropriate behavior and making such policies and practices available; orienting all new employees with respect to such polices and practices; reviewing such polices and practices at least annually; and establishing procedures for notifying employees of changes therein.

(E) Providing procedures for the maintenance of accurate, current, and complete personnel records, including adequate information as to prior training, experience, licensing, current and periodic work performance evaluations, pre-employment and annual health care screening as required, and delegating to a personnel officer responsibility for implementation of personnel policies and practices and maintenance of personnel records.

(F) Fostering the educational functions of the Hospital, preferably in cooperation with other health care facilities and educational institutions, through programs for the continuing education of the Medical Staff and orientation and in-service training programs designed to assist Hospital personnel in maintaining their skills and learning of new developments in the health care field.

(G) Reviewing and taking appropriate corrective action upon reports and recommendations of regulatory and inspecting agencies to assure that the Hospital is in conformity with their requirements.

(H) Formulating and submitting to the Board of Managers for approval: a written plan for the effective utilization of the physical and financial resources of the Hospital through a system of internal controls which shall segregate functional responsibilities; a system of authorization and record procedures for the accounting control of assets, revenues, expenses and liabilities; practices to be followed by each organizational department in performing its duties and functions; a plan for the employment of qualified personnel to discharge such responsibilities; written policies and procedures for the handling of cash, extension of credit, control and collection of accounts receivable; a written schedule of rates and charges for all Hospital services which shall be maintained, and revised, on a current basis and shall be available to all employees using the same, as well as to patients and admitters; and a grievance policy.

(I) Formulating for the approval of the Board of Managers written policies governing the control of purchasing procedures and control of inventories to the end that the prices paid for products and services be as economical as possible consistent with quality and use.

(J) Maintaining the physical properties of the Hospital in sound, safe and sanitary condition and in good repair and operating condition.

(K) Formulating (as requested) for approval of the Board of Managers an insurance program for the protection of the physical and financial resources of the Hospital, including coverage for damage or destruction of Hospital property, theft or mysterious disappearance, uncontrollable business interruption for key employee salaries, financial loss resulting from liability imposed by law for actions of Hospital personnel, as well as those serving on a voluntary basis, and covering, to the extent available, financial loss arising out of Hospital malpractice or error in rendering or failing to render medical, surgical, dental, or nursing treatment and the like, including the dispensing of food and medications by individuals for whose acts the Hospital may be legally responsible.

(L) Supervising the business affairs of the Hospital to insure that funds are collected and expended to the best possible advantage.

(M) Working continually with other health care professionals to the end that safe and high-quality care may be rendered to patients of the Hospital at all times.

(N) Presenting to the Member, the Board of Managers or its authorized committees periodic reports evaluating, on a comparative basis or otherwise, the professional services and financial activities of the Hospital and such special reports as may be required by the Board of Managers or the Member, including an annual report on sentinel events, system or process failures and responses.

(O) Attending all meetings of the Board of Managers and service on committees thereof.

(P) Serving as the liaison and channel of communications between the Board of Managers and any of its committees and the Medical Staff, and assisting the Medical Staff with its organization and medico-administrative problems and responsibilities.

(Q) Preparing plans for the achievement of the Hospital's specific objectives and periodically reviewing and evaluating those plans.

(R) Representing the Hospital in its relationships with other health care agencies and with the community.

(S) Designating, in writing, other Hospital personnel who are, in order of succession, authorized to act for the Chief Executive Officer/Hospital Administrator in the event of his or her absence or inability to act due to illness or otherwise only after written approval from the Board of Managers.

(T) Performing such other duties as may be necessary in the best interests of the Hospital and to carry out the duties heretofore set forth, as well as other duties, which may be specifically delegated to him or her by the Board of Managers.

(U) Appointing, as he or she deems necessary and appropriate, one or more deputies who shall be under the control of and report to the Chief Executive Officer/Hospital Administrator. Notwithstanding such appointment(s), the administration of the Hospital, including but not limited to control and surveillance over all administrative activities, shall be the responsibility of the Chief Executive Officer/Hospital Administrator only after written approval from the Board of Managers.

(b) Medical Staff.

(i) Organization. The Board of Managers shall direct all physicians and other appropriate persons granted clinical practice privileges in the Hospital to organize into a totally integrated medical staff (the "Medical Staff") under Medical Staff Bylaws approved by the Board of Managers as hereinafter provided.

(ii) Medical Staff Bylaws. The Medical Staff shall propose and adopt by vote bylaws, rules, and regulations for its self-governance, which shall be effective only when approved by the Board of Managers. The Medical Staff shall report directly to the Board of Managers. The Medical Staff Bylaws shall create an effective administrative unit for the organization and governance of the Medical Staff to regulate it in discharging its functions and responsibilities as assigned to it by the Board of Managers. The Medical Staff Bylaws shall, among other things, provide:

(I) A mechanism for review of decisions of the Medical Staff relating to its recommendations to the Board of Managers concerning Medical Staff appointments and reappointments and the granting, curtailment, suspension, or revocation of clinical privileges, so that the applicant will be afforded the right to be heard at each step of the process when requested by the applicant.

(II) A provision that no applicant shall be denied Medical Staff membership and/or clinical privileges on the basis of religion, sex, race, creed, color or national origin.

(III) That whenever the Board of Managers does not concur in a Medical Staff recommendation relative to clinical privileges, there may be, at the Board of Managers' discretion, provision for review of the recommendation by a joint committee of the Medical Staff and the Board of Managers before a final decision is reached by the Board of Managers.

(IV) Physicians and dentists employed by the LLC in a purely administrative capacity with no clinical duties shall be subject to the regular personnel policies of the LLC and their contracts or other terms of employment, but need not be members of the Medical Staff. Physicians and dentists employed by the LLC, either on a full-time or part-time basis, whose duties are medico-administrative and include clinical responsibilities or functions involving their professional capability as physicians or dentists must be members of the Medical Staff and achieve such status by the same procedures as other Medical Staff members. Any Hospital-based physician or dentist, whether employed by the LLC as an employee or working under contract, whose engagement by the LLC requires membership on the Hospital's Medical Staff shall not have his or her Medical Staff privileges terminated or curtailed without the same due process provision which is provided in the Medical Staff Bylaws for other Medical Staff members, unless the contract of employment otherwise provides.

(V) A procedure for the granting of privileges to Allied Health Professionals, as defined by the Medical Staff Bylaws, who shall not be considered members of the Medical Staff.

(VI) A policy with respect to conflicts of interest.

(iii) Medical Staff Membership and Privileges.

(I) Applications. All applications for appointment to the Medical Staff, or for a change in privileges, shall be in writing and addressed to the Chief Executive Officer/Hospital Administrator and shall contain, at a minimum, an agreement by the applicant to abide by this Agreement and the Medical Staff Bylaws, rules, and regulations. The applications shall contain full information concerning the applicant's education, licensure, practice, previous hospital experience, all other information deemed pertinent and any unfavorable history with regard to licensure, practice of applicant's profession and hospital privileges. This information shall be verified pursuant to the Medical Staff Bylaws, rules and regulations (by the Medical Staff or a credentials committee of the Medical Staff, if appointed).

(II) Medical Staff Recommendations. Subject to the final action of the Board of Managers as provided below and pursuant to procedures specified in the Medical Staff Bylaws, the Medical Staff shall transmit written reports to the Board of Managers concerning appointments, reappointments, modifications in staff status, curtailments or increases in clinical privileges and corrective action. The written reports and recommendations shall be supported and accompanied by reliable documents upon which the Board of Managers may take informed action.

(III) Action by the Board of Managers. The Board of Managers shall consider the recommendations of the Medical Staff so presented and appoint to the Medical Staff, in numbers and categories not exceeding the Hospital's needs, physicians and others who meet the qualifications for membership as set forth in the Medical Staff Bylaws, and shall assign to them appropriate staff status as well as clinical privileges commensurate with their qualifications, experience, and present capabilities. The final decision of the Board of Managers shall be rendered within a fixed period of time as prescribed in the Medical Staff Bylaws, and the Board of Managers shall inform the applicant, through the mechanisms of the Medical Staff Bylaws, of the disposition of his or her application for Medical Staff membership and/or clinical privileges within a reasonable period of time after submission of the application.

(IV) Reappointment Procedure. All appointments to the Medical Staff shall be for a maximum of two (2) years, but shall be renewable by the Board of Managers pursuant to formal reapplication. The Medical Staff Bylaws shall prescribe a procedure for continuing peer-review of the current qualifications and capabilities of all Medical Staff members. Whenever an appointment is not to be renewed, or when privileges have been, or are proposed to be, reduced, altered, suspended or terminated, the Medical Staff member adversely affected shall, under procedures prescribed by the Medical Staff Bylaws, be afforded the opportunity for a fair hearing at every stage of the procedure before appropriate committees of the Medical Staff charged with conducting such hearing, so as to insure due process to the Medical Staff member and to afford a full opportunity for the presentation of all pertinent information in front of a hearing committee, whose members include only those individuals who are not in direct economic competition with the affected Medical Staff member. Such proceedings shall be non-adversarial in nature, but shall entitle both the Medical Staff member and the Hospital to legal representation. The recommendations of such committees shall be submitted in writing, and be supported and accompanied by reliable documentation upon which the Board of Managers may take informed action. Prior to taking final action, the Board of Managers shall give due consideration to the recommendations of the Medical Staff and the documentation upon which they are based.

(V) Temporary Appointments and Suspensions. Pending meetings of the Board of Managers, the Chief Executive Officer/Hospital Administrator and such persons as designated by the Medical Staff Bylaws shall have temporary authority to act on behalf of the Board of Managers in connection with any temporary emergency or the granting of limited privileges to physicians and other medical professionals; or temporary restrictions upon and temporary suspensions of members of the Medical Staff, when necessary or appropriate for the well being of the Hospital, its patients or its staff.

(c) Quality of Professional Services.

(i) Board of Managers' Responsibility. After considering the recommendations of the Medical Staff and other professional staffs, the Board of Managers shall conduct a review and evaluation of activities on a continuing basis to assess, preserve, and improve the over-all quality and efficiency of patient care in the Hospital. The Board of Managers shall within the reasonable capabilities of the Hospital provide whatever administrative assistance is reasonably necessary to support and facilitate the implementation and the on-going operation of these review and evaluation activities, including utilization review and review of the quality of patient care.

(ii) Accountability of the Medical Staff and Other Professional Staffs. The Board of Managers looks to the Medical Staff and other professional staff for activities contributory to the preservation and improvement of the quality and efficiency of patient care provided by the Hospital, including the establishment and pursuit of the following policies, practices, and procedures:

(I) That all Medical Staff members shall observe the ethical principles of their profession.

(II) That, except in emergencies or grant of special privilege, only members of the Medical Staff shall admit patients to the Hospital.

(III) That only a member of the Medical Staff with clinical privileges should be directly responsible for the patient's diagnosis and treatment within the area of his or her privileges.

(IV) That each patient's medical condition should be the responsibility of a physician member of the Medical Staff, and that other direct medical care to the patient be provided only by a member of the Medical Staff or by other specified professional personnel, or by allied health personnel or paramedics acting under the supervision of a licensed physician member of the Medical Staff with clinical privileges.

(V) That the delineation of clinical privileges for members of the Medical Staff be commensurate with individual credentials and demonstrated ability, and that the assignments of patient care responsibilities to other professional staff persons be consistent with their individual professional qualifications and demonstrated ability.

(VI) That the Medical Staff should conduct an on-going review and appraisal of the quality of professional care rendered in the Hospital and periodically report such activities, and their results, to the Board of Managers.

(VII) That the Medical Staff conduct a continuous program of peer-review as to the qualifications and current capabilities of all Medical Staff members and make recommendations to the Board of Managers thereon including such specific matters relating to the quality and efficiency of patient care as may be referred to it by the Board of Managers.

(VIII) That continuous review of patient care practices is made through defined functions of the Medical Staff with the concurrence of the Hospital administration.

(IX) That at least one physician on the Hospital's Medical Staff shall be on-call 24 hours per day.

(iii) Documentation. The Board of Managers shall receive, consider, and where necessary, act upon documentation of the review and evaluation activities above described and the recommendations arising therefrom and shall give such review and evaluation activities due consideration.

(d) Hospital Rules and Regulations. The Board of Managers shall adopt such rules and regulations as are necessary for the efficient operation of the Hospital. Those rules and regulations shall be complied with by the Medical Staff of the Hospital.

(e) Policy on Discrimination. The Hospital shall be operated, in all respects, on a completely non-discriminatory basis, without regard to race, creed, color, religion, sex, or national origin. This policy shall relate to the admission and treatment of patients and use of the facilities of the Hospital by employees, the public and patients. Accommodation assignments of patients shall be made without regard to race, creed, sex, religion, color or national origin, and the Hospital shall not discriminate as to hiring, firing, compensation terms or conditions based on race, creed, color, religion, sex or national origin. The Hospital shall not knowingly conduct business with any referral agency which makes referrals on the basis of race, creed, color, religion, sex or national origin.

(f) Review of Documents. The Board of Managers shall review this Agreement and its policies annually, for the purpose of determining whether to recommend to the Member the amendment of any provisions which in the opinion of the Board of Managers require such alteration, clarification, repeal or replacement for the purposes of concurrence with law, conformity to the applicable accrediting organization, i.e., Joint Commission or CARF requirements, the needs of quality patient care and the changing needs of the community. All such amendments and revisions shall be reviewed and approved by the Board of Managers and the Member, and shall be dated to indicate the time of the last review.

(g) Conflict of Interest. It shall be the policy of the Board of Managers that, for the purpose of voting on a matter before the Board of Managers, any Manager who has or who within the preceding twelve (12) months has had a financial interest in a matter before the Board of Managers, including an interest as owner, shareholder, officer, board member, employee, Medical Staff, fiduciary relationship, creditor, consultant, person under contract, or the spouse, parent, child or dependent of the aforementioned, shall disclose this relationship prior to the Board of Managers vote on the matter.

Section 4.15 Indemnification. Except as limited by the Act and subject to the provisions of this Section 4.15, each person and entity shall be entitled to be indemnified and held harmless on an as incurred basis by the LLC (but only after first making a claim for indemnification available from any other source and only to the extent indemnification is not provided by that source) to the fullest extent permitted under the Act (including indemnification for negligence, gross negligence and breach of fiduciary duty to the extent so authorized) as amended from time to time (but, in the case of any such amendment, only to the extent that such amendment permits the LLC to provide broader indemnification rights than such law permitted the LLC to provide prior to such amendment) against all losses, liabilities and expenses, including attorneys' fees and expenses, arising from claims, actions and proceedings in which such person or entity may be involved, as a party or otherwise, by reason of his, her or its being or having been a Member, Manager, or officer of the LLC, or by reason of his, her or its serving at the request of the LLC as a director, officer, manager, member, partner, employee or agent of another limited liability company or of a corporation, partnership, joint venture, trust or other enterprise, including service with respect to an employee benefit plan whether or not such person or entity continues to be such at the time any such loss, liability or expense is paid or incurred. The rights of indemnification provided in this Section 4.15 will be in addition to any rights to which such person may otherwise be entitled by contract or as a matter of law and shall extend to his, her or its successors and assigns. In particular, and without limitation of the foregoing, such person or entity shall be entitled to indemnification by the LLC against expenses (as incurred), including attorneys' fees and expenses, incurred by such person or entity upon the delivery by such person or entity to the LLC of a written undertaking (reasonably acceptable to the Member) to repay the LLC if it is found that indemnification hereunder is not authorized. The LLC may, to the extent authorized from time to time by the Member, grant rights to indemnification and to advancement of expenses to any employee or agent of the LLC to the fullest extent of the provisions of this Section 4.15 with respect to the indemnification and advancement of expenses of the Member, Managers, and officers of the LLC.

Section 4.16 Transfer of LLC Interest.

(a) The Member shall have the sole and absolute discretion to sell, assign, transfer or otherwise dispose of, whether voluntarily or involuntarily or by operation of law (a "Transfer"), all or any portion of its membership interest in the LLC. The Member shall have sole and absolute discretion to pledge or otherwise encumber all or any portion of its membership interest in the LLC.

(b) If the Member transfers all of its membership interest in the LLC, this Agreement (including the Schedule hereto) shall be amended by the Board of Managers to reflect the Transfer of the membership interest in the LLC to the transferee and to reflect the elimination of the Member and (if and to the extent then required by the Act) a certificate of amendment to the Certificate reflecting such admission and elimination shall be filed in accordance with the Act.

(c) If and to the extent the Member transfers only a portion of its membership interest in the LLC, the new or substitute member shall sign an amended version of this Agreement approved by the Member and containing provisions appropriate for a Delaware limited liability company with more than one member and (if and to the extent then required by the Act) a certificate of amendment to the Certificate reflecting such admission shall be filed in accordance with the Act.

(d) The effectiveness of the Transfer of a membership interest in the LLC and the admission of any new or substitute member pursuant to this Section 4.16 shall be deemed effective immediately prior to the Transfer of a membership interest in the LLC to such new or substitute member or if later on the first date that the Board of Managers receives evidence of such Transfer, including the terms thereof. If the transferring Member has transferred all or any of its membership interest in the LLC pursuant to this Section 4.16, then, immediately following such transfer or if later on the first date that the Manager receives evidence of such Transfer, including the terms thereof, the transferring Member shall cease to be a Member with respect to such membership interest.

(e) Any person or entity who acquires in any manner whatsoever any membership interest in the LLC, irrespective of whether such person or entity has accepted and adopted in writing the terms and provisions of this Agreement or an amended version of this Agreement, shall be deemed by the acceptance of the benefits of the acquisition thereof to have (i) made all of the capital contributions made by, (ii) received all of the distributions received by, and (iii) agreed to be subject to and bound by all the terms and conditions of this Agreement or an amended version of this Agreement that, any predecessor in such membership interest in the LLC made, received and was subject to or bound by.

Section 4.17 Member Rights; Meetings.

(a) The Member shall have the rights, powers and duties, including the right to approve or vote on any matter, as required by the Act, other applicable law or Section 4.11 herein.

(b) The affirmative vote of the Member shall be required to approve any proposed action requiring the approval of the Member.

(c) Meetings of the Member for the transaction of such business as may properly come before such Member shall be held at such place, on such date and at such time as the Member shall determine. Special meetings of the Member for any proper purpose or purposes may be called at any time by the Board of Managers or the Member. The LLC shall deliver oral or written notice (written notice may be delivered by mail) stating the date, time, place and purposes of any meeting to the Member. At least 24 hours' notice shall be given of any such meeting, unless other notice is required by the Act.

(d) Any action required or permitted to be taken at an annual or special meeting of the Member may be taken without a meeting, without prior notice, and without a vote, provided that a written consent setting forth all proposed actions to be taken at such meeting is signed by the Member. Every written consent shall bear the date and signature of the Member.

Section 4.18 Additional Members. The Member shall have the sole right to admit additional members upon such terms and conditions, at such time or times as the Member shall in its sole discretion determine. Upon admission, the additional members shall sign an amended version of this Agreement approved by the Member and containing provisions appropriate for a Delaware limited liability company with more than one member.

Section 4.19 Outside Businesses. The Member may engage in or possess an interest in other business ventures of any nature or description, independently or with others, similar or dissimilar to the business of the LLC, and the LLC shall have no rights by virtue of this Agreement in and to such independent ventures or the income or gains derived therefrom, and the pursuit of any such venture, even if competitive with the business of the LLC, shall not be deemed wrongful or improper. The Member shall not be obligated to present any particular investment opportunity to the LLC even if such opportunity is of a character that, if presented to the LLC, could be taken by the LLC, and the Member shall have the right to take for its own account (individually or as a partner or fiduciary) or to recommend to others any such particular investment opportunity.

ARTICLE V

DURATION

Section 5.1 Duration. Subject to the provisions of Section 5.2 of this Agreement, the LLC shall be dissolved and its affairs wound up and terminated upon the first to occur of the following:

(a) The written consent of the Member; or

(b) The entry of a decree of judicial dissolution under Section 18-802 of the Act.

Except as otherwise set forth in this Article V, the Member intends for the LLC to have perpetual existence.

Section 5.2 Continuation of the LLC. The occurrence of an Event of Withdrawal shall not dissolve the LLC if within ninety (90) days after the occurrence of such Event of Withdrawal the business of the LLC is continued by the agreement of the successor to the Member.

Section 5.3 Winding Up. Upon dissolution of the LLC, the LLC shall be liquidated in an orderly manner. The Member shall be the liquidator pursuant to this Agreement and shall proceed diligently to wind up the affairs of the LLC and make final distributions as provided herein and in the Act. The costs of liquidation shall be borne as an LLC expense. The steps to be accomplished by the liquidator are as follows:

(a) First, the liquidator shall satisfy all of the LLC's debts and liabilities to creditors other than the Member (whether by payment or the reasonable provision for payment thereof);

(b) Second, the liquidator shall satisfy all of the LLC's debts and liabilities to the Member (whether by payment or the reasonable provision for payment thereof); and

(c) Third, all remaining assets shall be distributed to the Member.

Section 5.4 Termination. The LLC shall terminate when all of the assets of the LLC, after payment of or due provision for all debts, liabilities and obligations of the LLC, shall have been distributed to the Member in the manner provided for in this Article V, and the Certificate shall have been canceled in the manner required by the Act.

ARTICLE VI

VALUATION

Section 6.1 Valuation. For purposes of this Agreement, the value of any property contributed by or distributed to the Member shall be valued as determined by the Member.

ARTICLE VII

BOOKS OF ACCOUNT; MEETINGS

Section 7.1 Books. The Board of Managers will maintain, on behalf of the LLC, complete and accurate books of account of the LLC's affairs, which books will be open to inspection by any Member (or its authorized representative) at any time during ordinary business hours and shall be maintained in accordance with the Act.

Section 7.2 Fiscal Year. The fiscal year of the LLC shall end on December 31 of each year or such other year end as the Member may determine in its sole discretion.

Section 7.3 Accounting and Reports. The books of account shall be closed promptly after the end of each fiscal year. Promptly thereafter, the LLC shall make such written reports to the Member as it determines, which may include a balance sheet of the LLC as of the end of such year, a statement of income and expenses for such year, a statement of the Member's capital account as of the end of such year, and such other statements with respect to the status of the LLC and distribution of the profits and losses therefrom as are considered necessary by the Member to advise the Member properly about its investment in the LLC for federal and state income tax reporting purposes.

ARTICLE VIII

MISCELLANEOUS

Section 8.1 Amendments. This Agreement may be amended or modified and any provision hereof may be waived only by the Member; without limiting the foregoing, the Member shall consider and act to either approve or reject any proposed amendment to this Agreement made by the Board of Managers pursuant to Section 4.14(f).

Section 8.2 Successors. Except as otherwise provided herein, this Agreement will inure to the benefit of and be binding upon the Member and its successors and assigns.

Section 8.3 Governing Law; Severability. This Agreement will be construed in accordance with the laws of the State of Delaware and, to the maximum extent possible, in such manner as to comply with an the terms and conditions of the Act. If it is determined by a court of competent jurisdiction that any provision of this Agreement is invalid under applicable law, such provision will be ineffective only to the extent of such prohibition or invalidity, without invalidating the remainder of this Agreement.

Section 8.4 Notices. All notices, demands and other communications to be given and delivered under or by reason of provisions under this Agreement shall be in writing and shall be deemed to have been given when personally delivered, mailed by first class mail (postage prepaid and return receipt requested), sent by telecopy or sent by reputable overnight courier service (charges prepaid) to the addresses or telecopy numbers set forth in Schedule I hereto or to such other addresses or telecopy numbers as have been supplied in writing to the LLC.

Section 8.5 Complete Agreement; Headings, Counterparts. This Agreement terminates and supersedes all other agreements concerning the subject matter hereof previously entered into among any of the parties. Descriptive headings are for convenience only and will not control or affect the meaning or construction of any provision of this Agreement. Wherever from the context it appears appropriate, each term stated in either the singular or the plural shall include the singular and the plural, and pronouns stated in either the masculine, feminine or the neuter gender shall include the masculine, the feminine and the neuter. This Agreement may be executed in any number of counterparts, any one of which need not contain the signatures of more than one party, but all such counterparts together will constitute one agreement.

BYLAWS OF

MED PROPERTIES, INC.

(As Amended and Restated as of July 28, 2006)

ARTICLE I. OFFICES

The principal office of MED PROPERTIES, INC. (referred to herein as the "corporation") in the State of Arkansas shall be located in Craighead County. The corporation may have such other offices, either within or without the State of Arkansas, as the Board of Directors may designate or as the business of the corporation may require from time to time.

ARTICLE II. SHAREHOLDERS

SECTION 1. Annual Meeting. The annual meeting of the shareholders shall be held on the second Tuesday in the month of January at the hour of 10:00 a.m., for the purpose of electing directors and for the transaction of such other business as may properly come before the meeting. If the day fixed for the annual meeting shall be a legal holiday in the State of Arkansas, such meeting shall be held on the next succeeding business day. If the election of directors shall not be held on the day designated herein for any annual meeting of the shareholders, or at any adjournment thereof, the Board of Directors shall cause the election to be held at a special meeting of the shareholders as soon as reasonably practical.

SECTION 2. Special Meetings. Special meetings of the shareholders, for any purpose or purposes, may be called by the President, the Board of Directors, or by a committee of the Board of Directors that has been duly designated by the Board of Directors and whose power and authority, as expressly provided in these Bylaws or in a resolution of the Board of Directors, include the power to call such meetings, and a special meeting shall be called by the President at the request of the holders of at least ten percent (10%) of all the votes entitled to be cast on any issue proposed to be considered at such special meeting, if such holders have signed, dated, and delivered to the Secretary of the corporation one or more written demands for the meeting describing the purpose or purposes for which it is to be held.

SECTION 3. Place of Meeting. Unless otherwise prescribed by statute, the Board of Directors may designate any place, either within or without the State of Arkansas, as the place of meeting for any annual or special meeting of the shareholders. A waiver of notice signed by all shareholders entitled to vote at a meeting may designate any place, whether within or without the State of Arkansas, unless otherwise prescribed by statute, as the place for the holding of such meeting. If no designation is made, the place of meeting shall be the principal office of the corporation in the State of Arkansas.

SECTION 4. Notice of Meeting. Unless otherwise prescribed by applicable law, written notice stating the place, date and time of the meeting, and in case of a special meeting the purpose or purposes for which the meeting is called, shall be given either by mail or in person to each shareholder of record entitled to vote at such meeting, not less than sixty (60) days nor more than seventy-five (75) days before the date of the meeting if a proposal to increase the authorized capital stock or bond indebtedness of the corporation is to be submitted, and not less than ten (10) days nor more than sixty (60) days before the date of the meeting, in all other cases. If mailed, such notice shall be deemed to have been given and delivered when deposited in the United States Mail, postage prepaid, and addressed to the shareholder at the shareholder's address as it appears on the stock transfer books of the corporation.

SECTION 5. Date for Determination of Shareholders of Record. In order that the corporation may determine the shareholders (i) entitled to notice of or to vote at any meeting of shareholders or any adjournment thereof or to express consent to corporate action in writing without a meeting, (ii) entitled to receive payment of any dividend or other distribution or allotment of any rights, (iii) entitled to exercise any rights in respect of any change, conversion, or exchange of stock or (iv) for the purpose of any other lawful action, the Board of Directors may fix, in advance, a record date, which shall not be more than seventy (70) days before the date of any such meeting or other action. If no record date is fixed: (i) the record date for determining shareholders entitled to notice of or to vote at a meeting of shareholders shall be at the close of business on the day next preceding the day on which notice is given or, if notice is waived, at the close of business on the day next preceding the day on which the meeting is held; and (ii) the record date for determining shareholders for any other purpose shall be at the close of business on the date on which the Board of Directors adopts a resolution relating thereto. A determination of shareholders of record entitled to notice of or to vote at a meeting of shareholders shall apply to any adjournment of the meeting; provided, however, the Board of Directors may fix a new record date for the adjourned meeting, which it must do if the meeting is adjourned to a date more than one hundred twenty (120) days after the date fixed for the original meeting.

SECTION 6. List of Shareholders Entitled to Vote. After fixing the record date for a meeting, the Secretary shall prepare an alphabetical listing of the names of all of the shareholders of the corporation who are entitled to notice of the shareholders' meeting, which list must be arranged by voting group and must show the address of and number of shares held by each such shareholder. The shareholders list must be made available for inspection by any shareholder beginning two (2) business days after notice of the meeting is given for which the list was prepared and continuing through the meeting at the corporation's principal office or at a place identified in the meeting notice in the city where the meeting will be held. A shareholder, and the agents and attorneys of shareholders, shall be entitled on written demand to inspect and, subject to the requirements of Ark. Code Ann. §4-27-1602C, to copy the list, at the shareholder's expense, during regular business hours during the period the list is available for inspection. The corporation shall make the shareholders list available at the meeting, and any shareholder, and any agent or attorney of any shareholder, shall be entitled to inspect the list at any time during the meeting or any adjournment thereof.

SECTION 7. Quorum; Vote Required For Action. Unless otherwise provided by applicable law, a majority of the votes entitled to be cast on a matter by the shareholders of the corporation represented in person or by proxy shall constitute a quorum for purposes of such matter at any meeting of shareholders. A majority of the votes cast at any meeting at which a quorum is present shall decide every question or matter submitted to the shareholders at such meeting, unless otherwise provided by applicable law, the Articles of Incorporation, or these Bylaws.

SECTION 8. Proxies. Each shareholder entitled to vote at a meeting of shareholders may authorize another person or persons to act for such shareholder by proxy, but no such proxy shall be voted or acted upon after eleven (11) months from its effective date, unless the proxy expressly provides for a longer period. A duly executed proxy shall be revocable unless the appointment form conspicuously states that it is irrevocable and is coupled with an interest sufficient at law to support an irrevocable power. An irrevocable proxy is revoked when the interest with which it is coupled is extinguished. A shareholder may revoke any proxy which is not irrevocable by attending the meeting and voting in person or by filing with the Secretary of the corporation an instrument in writing revoking the proxy or another duly executed proxy bearing a later date. Proxies shall be dated and shall be filed with the records of the meeting.

SECTION 9. Adjournments. Any meeting of shareholders, annual or special, at which a quorum is present may adjourn from time to time to reconvene at the same or some other place, and notice need not be given of any such adjourned meeting if the time and place thereof are announced at the meeting at which the adjournment is taken. At the adjourned meeting the corporation may transact any business which might have been transacted at the original meeting. If the adjournment is for more than thirty (30) days, or if after the adjournment a new record date is fixed for the adjourned meeting, a notice of the adjourned meeting shall be given to each shareholder of record entitled to vote at the meeting in the manner provided in these Bylaws.

SECTION 10. Organization. Meetings of shareholders shall be presided over by the Chairman of the Board of Directors or the President, or in their absence by a Vice President, or in the absence of the foregoing persons by a presiding officer designated by the Board of Directors, or in the absence of such designation by a presiding officer chosen at the meeting. The Secretary shall act as secretary of the meeting, but in the absence of the Secretary the presiding officer of the meeting may appoint any person to act as secretary of the meeting.

SECTION 11. Voting of Shares. Subject to the provisions of these Bylaws, and particularly the following section hereof, each outstanding share entitled to vote with respect to a particular matter shall be entitled to one vote upon such matter when submitted to a vote of shareholders.

SECTION 12. Action by Shareholders. Any action required or permitted to be taken at a meeting of shareholders may be taken without a meeting if one or more written consents, setting forth the action so taken, shall be signed by all of the shareholders entitled to vote with respect to the subject matter thereof. All written consents executed by one or more shareholders shall be included in the minutes or filed with the corporate records. If it is required by law that notice of the proposed action be given to non-voting shareholders and the action is to be taken by written consent of the voting shareholders, the corporation shall give its non-voting shareholders written notice of the proposed action at least ten (10) days before the action is taken.

ARTICLE III. BOARD OF DIRECTORS

SECTION 1. General Powers. The business and affairs of the corporation shall be managed by its Board of Directors.

SECTION 2. Number, Tenure and Qualifications. The Board of Directors of the corporation shall consist of one (1) individual. The director shall hold office until the next annual meeting of shareholders and until his/her successor shall have been duly elected and qualified.

SECTION 3. Regular Meetings. A regular meeting of the Board of Directors shall be held without other notice than this bylaw immediately after, and at the same place as, the annual meeting of shareholders. The Board of Directors may provide, by resolution, the time and place for the holding of additional regular meetings without other notice than such resolution.

SECTION 4. Special Meetings. Special meetings of the Board of Directors may be called by or at the request of the President or any two directors, or if there shall be only one director, at that director's request. The person or persons authorized to call special meetings of the Board of Directors may fix the place for holding any special meeting of the Board of Directors called by them.

SECTION 5. Place of Meetings. Regular meetings of the Board of Directors which coincide with meetings of the shareholders shall be held at the same place as the shareholders' meeting. Other meetings of the Board of Directors shall be held at such place as is designated in the notice of the meeting, either within or without the State of Arkansas. A waiver of notice signed by all directors entitled to vote at a meeting may designate any place, either within or without the State of Arkansas, as the place for holding such meeting. If no designation is made, the Board of Directors' meeting shall be held at the principal office of the corporation in Arkansas.

SECTION 6. Notice. Notice of the date, time and place of any special meeting of the Board of Directors shall be given at least two (2) days prior to the meeting by written notice delivered personally or mailed to each director at his/her business address, or by telegram. If mailed, such notice shall be deemed to be delivered when deposited in the United States mail so addressed, with postage thereon prepaid, provided the same is so mailed at least five (5) days prior to the meeting. If notice be given by telegram, such notice shall be deemed to be delivered when the telegram is dispatched by the telegraph company. Any director may waive notice of any meeting. The attendance by a director at a meeting shall constitute a waiver of notice of such meeting, unless the director at the beginning of the meeting (or promptly upon his/her arrival) objects to holding the meeting or the transaction of business at the meeting and does not thereafter vote for or assent to action taken at the meeting.

SECTION 7. Quorum; Vote Required for Action. A majority of the directors shall constitute a quorum at any meeting, except when otherwise provided by applicable law. If less than a quorum, but at least one-third (1/3), of the directors is present at any meeting, then a majority of the directors present may vote to adjourn such meeting, from time to time, and the meeting may be held, as adjourned, without further notice. Except in cases in which the Articles of Incorporation or these Bylaws provide otherwise, the vote of a majority of the directors present at a meeting at which a quorum is present shall be the act of the Board of Directors.

SECTION 8. Organization. Meetings of the Board of Directors shall be presided over by the Chairman of the Board, if any, or in the absence of the Chairman, by a Vice Chairman of the Board, if any, or in the absence of the Vice Chairman by the President, or in the absence of all of the foregoing, by a chairman chosen at the meeting. The Secretary shall act as secretary of the meeting, but in the absence of the Secretary, the chairman of the meeting may appoint any person to act as secretary of the meeting.

SECTION 9. Vacancies. Any vacancy occurring on the Board of Directors may be filled by the affirmative vote of a majority of the remaining directors, though less than a quorum of the Board of Directors, unless otherwise provided by applicable law. A director elected to fill a vacancy shall be elected for the unexpired term of his or her predecessor in office. Any directorship to be filled by reason of an increase in the number of directors may be filled by election by the Board of Directors for a term of office continuing only until the next election of directors by the shareholders. No decrease in the number of directors constituting the Board of Directors shall shorten the term of any incumbent director.

SECTION 10. Compensation. By resolution of the Board of Directors, each director may be paid his or her expenses, if any, of attendance at each meeting of the Board of Directors and may be paid a stated salary as director or a fixed sum for attendance at each meeting of the Board of Directors or both. No such payment shall preclude any director from serving the corporation in any other capacity and receiving compensation therefor.

SECTION 11. Presumption of Assent. A director of the corporation who is present at a meeting of the Board of Directors at which action on any corporate matter is taken shall be presumed to have assented to the action taken unless the director's dissent or abstention shall be entered in the minutes of the meeting, or unless the director (i) objects at the beginning of the meeting (or promptly upon his or her arrival) to the holding of the meeting or to the transaction of business at the meeting, or (ii) delivers a written dissent or abstention to such action to the presiding officer of the meeting before the adjournment thereof or to the Secretary of the corporation immediately after the adjournment of the meeting. Such right to dissent or abstain shall not apply to a director who voted in favor of such action.

SECTION 12. Informal Action by Directors. Unless the Articles of Incorporation or these Bylaws otherwise expressly provide, any action required or permitted to be taken at any meeting of the Board of Directors, or any committee thereof, may be taken without a meeting if all members of the Board or such committee, as the case may be, consent thereto in writing, and the consents are filed with the minutes of the proceedings of the Board or such committee. Action taken under this Section is effective when the last director signs the consent, unless the consent specifies a different effective date.

SECTION 13. Telephonic Meetings Permitted. Members of the Board of Directors, or any committee designated by the Board, may participate in a meeting of such Board or committee by means of conference telephone or similar communications equipment by means of which all persons participating in the meeting can simultaneously hear each other, and participation in a meeting pursuant to this section shall constitute presence in person at such meeting.

ARTICLE IV. COMMITTEES OF THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS

SECTION 1. Committees. The Board of Directors shall have the authority to appoint such regular and special committees as it deems desirable, in addition to the regular committees required by this Article, and may appoint one or more rotating members of any committee at its discretion. The Board of Directors shall designate one member of each committee to serve as chairman. Each committee must have two or more members, each of whom shall serve at the pleasure of the Board of Directors, and only members of the Board of Directors may serve on a committee. The regular committees designated in this Article shall be appointed at the organizational meeting of the Board of Directors each year.

SECTION 2. Committee Rules. Unless the Board of Directors otherwise provides, each committee designated by the Board of Directors may make, alter and repeal rules for the conduct of its business. In the absence of such rules each committee shall conduct its business in the same manner as the Board of Directors conducts its business pursuant to Article III of these Bylaws.

ARTICLE V. OFFICERS

SECTION 1. Number. The officers of the corporation shall consist of a President, a Secretary and a Treasurer, as well as such other officers as may from time to time be designated by the Board of Directors. The President shall be the chief executive officer and chief administrator of the corporation, and in the President's absence, disability, or resignation or removal from office, the President shall be succeeded in office by the Vice-President, who shall administer the affairs of the corporation until a successor to the President is elected or until the President resumes his duties of office, whichever the case may be. The Secretary shall keep the records of the corporation and the shareholders, along with the minutes of the meetings of the stockholders and directors, and the Treasurer shall be responsible for the funds and general financial affairs of the corporation. Such officers as deemed necessary, but never less officers than President and Secretary, shall be elected by the Board of Directors and shall serve for a term of one year, or until their successors are duly elected and qualified. Any number of offices may be held by the same person.

SECTION 2. Election and Term of Office. The officers of the corporation shall be elected annually by the Board of Directors at the first meeting of the Board of Directors held after each annual meeting of the shareholders. If the election of officers is not held at such meeting, such election shall be held as soon thereafter as is reasonably practical. Each officer shall hold office until his or her successor is duly elected and qualified, or until death, resignation or removal from office in the manner provided herein.

SECTION 3. Removal. Any officer or agent of the corporation may be removed by the Board of Directors, with or without cause, whenever in its judgment the best interest of the corporation will be served thereby, but such removal shall be without prejudice to the contractual rights, if any, of the person so removed. Election or appointment of an officer or agent shall not of itself create any contractual rights whatsoever.

SECTION 4. Vacancies. A vacancy in any office because of death, resignation, removal, disqualification or otherwise may be filled by the Board of Directors for the unexpired portion of the term.

SECTION 5. President. The President shall be the chief executive officer of the corporation and, subject to the control of the Board of Directors, shall generally supervise and control all of the business and affairs of the corporation. The President shall, when present, preside at all meetings of the shareholders and the Board of Directors. The President shall be authorized to sign, with or without the Secretary or any other proper officer of the corporation thereunto authorized by the Board of Directors, certificates for shares of the corporation, and any deeds, mortgages, bonds, contracts, or other instruments which the Board of Directors has authorized to be executed, except in cases where the signing and execution thereof shall be expressly delegated by the Board of Directors or by these Bylaws to some other officer or agent of the corporation, or shall be required by applicable law to be otherwise signed or executed; and in general the President shall perform all duties normally performed by presidents of like companies, along with such other duties as may be prescribed from time to time by the Board of Directors.

SECTION 6. Vice-President. In the absence of the President or in event of the President's death, incapacity, resignation or other inability or refusal to act, the Vice President, if a Vice-President has been elected shall perform the duties of the President, and when so acting shall have all the powers of, and shall be subject to all the restrictions upon the President. The Vice President, if a Vice President has been elected, shall perform all duties normally performed by vice presidents of like companies, along with such other duties as from time to time may be assigned to the Vice President by the President or by the Board of Directors.

SECTION 7. Secretary. The Secretary shall: (a) keep the minutes of the proceedings of the shareholders and the Board of Directors in one or more books provided for that purpose; (b) see that all notices are duly given in accordance with the provisions of these Bylaws and as otherwise required by applicable law; (c) serve as custodian of the corporate records and of the seal the corporation, if any; (d) keep a register of the post office address of each shareholder which shall be furnished to the Secretary by such shareholder; (e) sign with the President certificates for shares of the corporation, the issuance of which shall have been authorized by resolution of the Board of Directors; (f) have general charge of the stock transfer books of the corporation; and (g) in general perform all duties incident to the office of Secretary and such other duties as from time to time may be assigned to the Secretary by the President or the Board of Directors.

SECTION 8. Treasurer. The Treasurer shall: (a) have charge and custody of and be responsible for all funds and securities of the corporation, as well as its general financial affairs; (b) receive and give receipts for moneys due and payable to the corporation from any source whatsoever, and deposit all such moneys in the name of the corporation in such banks, trust companies or other depositories as shall be selected in accordance with the provisions of these Bylaws; and (c) in general perform all of the duties incident to the office of Treasurer and such other duties as from time to time may be assigned to the Treasurer by the President or the Board of Directors. If required by the Board of Directors, the Treasurer shall give a bond for the faithful discharge of his or her duties in such sum and with such surety or sureties as the Board of Directors shall determine.

SECTION 9. Salaries. The salaries of the officers shall be fixed from time to time by the Board of Directors, and no officer shall be prevented from receiving such salary by reason of the fact that such officer is also a director of the corporation.

ARTICLE VI. CONTRACTS, LOANS, CHECKS AND DEPOSITS

SECTION 1. Contracts. The Board of Directors may authorize any officer or officers or agent or agents to enter into any contract or execute and deliver any instrument in the name of and on behalf of the corporation, and such authority may be general or confined to specific instances. The President or Vice President shall have the authority to enter into contracts in the ordinary and customary course of the corporation's business in the name of and on behalf of the corporation, but shall have no such authority with respect to any contract outside the ordinary and customary course of the corporation's business in the absence of due authorization by proper resolution of the Board of Directors.

SECTION 2. Loans. No loans shall be contracted on behalf of the corporation and no evidences of indebtedness shall be issued in its name unless authorized by a resolution of the Board of Directors. Such authority may be general or confined to specific instances.

SECTION 3. Checks, Drafts, etc. All checks, drafts or other orders for the payment of money, notes or other evidences of indebtedness issued in the name of the corporation shall be signed by such officer or officers or agent or agents of the corporation and in such manner as shall from time to time be determined by resolution of the Board of Directors.

SECTION 4. Deposits. All funds of the corporation shall be deposited from time to time to the credit of the corporation in such banks, trust companies or other depositories as the Board of Directors may select.

ARTICLE VII. CERTIFICATES FOR SHARES AND THE TRANSFER THEREOF

SECTION 1. Certificates for Shares. Certificates representing shares of stock in the corporation shall be in such form as shall be determined by the Board of Directors. Such certificates shall be signed by the President and by the Secretary or by such other officers authorized by applicable law and by the Board of Directors and sealed with the corporate seal, if any. All certificates for shares shall be consecutively numbered or otherwise identified. The name of the person to whom the shares represented thereby are issued, with the number of shares and date of issue, shall be entered on the stock transfer books of the corporation. All certificates surrendered to the corporation for transfer shall be cancelled and no new certificate shall be issued until the former certificate for a like number of shares shall have been surrendered and cancelled, except that in case of a lost, destroyed or mutilated certificate a new certificate may be issued therefor upon such terms and indemnity to the corporation as these Bylaws and the Board of Directors may prescribe.

SECTION 2. Transfer of Shares. Transfer of shares of stock in the corporation shall be made only on the stock transfer books of the corporation by the holder of record thereof or by his legal representative, who shall furnish proper evidence of authority to transfer, or by the holder's attorney thereunto authorized by power of attorney duly executed and filed with the Secretary of the corporation, and only upon the surrender for cancellation of the certificate for such shares. The person in whose name shares stand on the books of the corporation shall be deemed by the corporation to be the owner thereof for all purposes.

SECTION 3. Lost, Destroyed or Mutilated Stock Certificates; Issuance of New Certificates. The corporation may issue a new certificate of stock in the place of any certificate theretofore issued by it which is alleged to have been lost, destroyed or mutilated, and the corporation may require the owner thereof, or his or her legal representative, to give the corporation a bond sufficient to indemnify the corporation against any claim that may be made against the corporation on account of the alleged loss, destruction or mutilation of any such certificate or the issuance of such new certificate.

ARTICLE VIII. INDEMNIFICATION OF DIRECTORS, OFFICERS, EMPLOYEES AND AGENTS

SECTION 1. Right to Indemnification. (a) Each person (including here and hereinafter, the heirs, executors, administrators, and estate of such person) (1) who is or was a director or officer of the corporation, (2) who is or was an employee or agent of the corporation other than an officer and to whom the corporation has specifically and expressly agreed in writing to provide indemnification, (3) who is or was serving at the request of the corporation as a director, officer, or partner of another corporation, partnership, joint venture, trust or other enterprise or (4) who is or was serving at the request of the corporation as an employee, agent or representative of another corporation, partnership, joint venture, trust or other enterprise and to whom the corporation has specifically and expressly agreed in writing to provide indemnification shall be indemnified by the corporation as of right to the fullest extent permitted or authorized by the Arkansas Business corporation Act of 1987 (sometimes referred to herein as the "1987 Act") or subsequent legislation (but in the case of any such subsequent legislation, only to the extent that it permits the corporation to provide broader indemnification rights than permitted prior to such legislation), against any liability or expense awarded or assessed against such person or incurred by such person or paid or to be paid by such person in settlement thereof, in such person's capacity as such director, officer, employee or agent or arising out of his status as such director, officer, employee, or agent, including expenses and amounts paid by such person in settlement of any proceeding asserted or brought against such person by or in the right of any person, including the corporation, in any such capacity or arising out of his status as such. Each director, officer, employee, or agent of the corporation to whom indemnification rights under this Article have been or may be granted is referred to herein as an "Indemnified Person."

(b) The Board of Directors may, upon approval of such director, officer, employee, or agent of the corporation, authorize the corporation's counsel to represent such person in any proceeding, whether or not the corporation is a party to such proceeding.

(c) Notwithstanding the foregoing, except as specified in Section 3 of this Article, the corporation shall indemnify an Indemnified Person in connection with a proceeding (or part thereof) initiated by such Indemnified Person only if authorization for such proceeding (or part thereof) was not denied by the Board of Directors of the corporation prior to sixty (60) days after receipt by the corporation of written notice thereof from such person.

SECTION 2. Advancement of Expenses. Costs, charges and expenses incurred by an Indemnified Person described in clauses "1" and "3" of Section 1 of this Article in defending a proceeding shall be paid by the corporation to the fullest extent permitted or authorized by the 1987 Act or subsequent legislation (but in the case of any such subsequent legislation, only to the extent that it permits the corporation to provide broader rights to advance costs, charges and expenses than permitted prior to such legislation) in advance of the final disposition of such proceeding, within fourteen (14) days after the receipt by the corporation of a written statement from the person seeking such advance requesting such an advancement together with an undertaking, if required by law at the lime of such advance, by or on behalf of the person seeking such advance, to repay all amounts so advanced in the event that it shall ultimately be determined that such person is not entitled to be indemnified by the corporation as authorized in this Article. In the case of Indemnified Persons described in clauses "2" and "4" of Section 1 of this Article, advancements of costs, charges and expenses may be made upon such terms and conditions as the Board of Directors deems appropriate.

SECTION 3. Procedure for Indemnification and Obtaining Advancement of Expenses. Any indemnification for liabilities and expenses or advancement of expenses under this Article shall be made promptly, and, in the case of indemnification, in any event within sixty (60) days of receipt by the corporation of the written request of the Indemnified Person, or, in the case of advancement of expenses, as set forth in Section 2 of this Article. If the corporation denies such request in whole or in part or if no disposition thereof is made within the applicable time limit or if the corporation otherwise fails to provide indemnification or advancement as provided for in this Article, and despite any contrary determination by or on behalf of the corporation in the specific case, the Indemnified Person may enforce his or her right to indemnification or advancement, or both, in an appropriate proceeding brought in a court of competent jurisdiction and shall be entitled to such indemnification or advancement, or both, as the court by order shall direct. Such person's reasonable expenses in obtaining court-ordered indemnification or advancement shall be reimbursed by the corporation. No such contrary determination by or on behalf of the corporation shall be a defense to such proceeding or create a presumption that the claimant has not met the applicable standard of conduct, if any, for indemnification or for an advancement pursuant to Section 1 or Section 2 of this Article. It shall be a defense to any such action that the claimant has not met the applicable standard of conduct, if any, pursuant to Section 1 or Section 2 of this Article.

SECTION 4. Other Rights; Continuation of Right to Indemnification and Advancements. The rights to indemnification and rights to advancements provided by this Article shall not be deemed exclusive of any other or further rights to which a person seeking indemnification or advancements may be entitled under any law (common or statutory), agreement, vote of shareholders or disinterested directors or otherwise, either as to action taken or omitted to be taken in such person's official capacity or as to action taken or omitted to be taken in another capacity while holding office or while employed by or acting as agent for the corporation, and shall continue as to an Indemnified Person who has ceased to be a director, officer, employee or agent and shall inure to the benefit of the heirs, executors and administrators of such a person. All rights to indemnification and to advancements of expenses under this Article shall be deemed to be a contract between the corporation and all Indemnified Persons. Any repeal or modification of this Article or any repeal or modification of relevant provisions of the 1987 Act or any other applicable law shall not in any way diminish any right to indemnification or to advancement of expenses of an Indemnified Person or the obligations of the corporation arising hereunder for claims relating to matters occurring prior to such repeal or modification.

SECTION 5. Insurance and Other Arrangements. The corporation may maintain insurance, at its expense, to protect itself and/or any person who is or was or has agreed to become a director, officer, employee or agent of the corporation, or is or was serving at the request of the corporation as a director, officer, employee or agent of another company, partnership, joint venture, trust or other enterprise against any liability asserted against such person or incurred by such person or on his or her behalf in any such capacity, or arising out of such person's status as such, whether or not the corporation has the obligation or would have the legal power to directly indemnify such person against such liability. The corporation may also obtain a letter of credit, act as self-insurer, create a reserve, trust, escrow, cash collateral or other fund or account, enter into indemnification agreements, pledge or grant a security interest in any assets or properties of the corporation, or use any other mechanism or arrangement whatsoever in such amounts, at such costs, and upon such other terms and conditions as the Board of Directors shall deem appropriate for the protection of any or all such persons.

SECTION 6. Separability. If this Article or any portion hereof shall be invalidated on any ground by any court of competent jurisdiction, then the corporation shall nevertheless indemnify each Indemnified Person, as to liabilities and expenses, and amounts paid or to be paid in settlement with respect to any proceeding, including an action by or in the right of the corporation, to the fullest extent permitted by any applicable portion of this Article that shall not have been invalidated and to the fullest extent permitted by applicable law.

SECTION 7. Terms. For purposes of this Article and in each case without limiting the generality thereof, the term "other enterprises" includes employee benefit plans; the term "expenses" includes reasonable counsel fees; the term "liability" includes obligations to pay a judgment, settlement, penalty, fine (including an excise tax assessed on a person with respect to any employee benefit plan), and expenses actually and reasonably incurred with respect to a proceeding; and the term "proceeding" includes any threatened, pending, or completed action, suit, or other type of proceeding, whether civil, criminal, administrative, or investigative.

ARTICLE IX.
DIRECT REPORTING TO BOARD OF DIRECTORS

For so long as the corporation maintains one or more licenses for child care issued by the

State of Arkansas or any other governmental agency, the corporation shall maintain in place a policy that requires the employee, supervisor, administrator or director, whether directly employed by the corporation or serving as an independent contractor, designated or acting as the administrator or director of any child care facility operated by the corporation to directly report any incidents that give rise to a deficiency in meeting the applicable laws, rules or regulations regarding the operation of such facility to the members of the Board of Directors simultaneously with giving notice of the same to the officer or other supervisor or manager to whom they would otherwise be required to report such incident to.

ARTICLE X. MISCELLANEOUS PROVISIONS

SECTION 1. Fiscal Year. The fiscal year of the corporation shall be the same as the fiscal year utilized by the corporation for federal income tax reporting purposes.

SECTION 2. Dividends. The Board of Directors may from time to time declare, and the corporation may pay, dividends on its outstanding shares in the manner and upon the terms and conditions provided by applicable law and the Articles of Incorporation.

SECTION 3. Waiver of Notice. Any written waiver of notice, signed by the person entitled to notice, whether before or after the time stated therein, shall be deemed equivalent to notice. Attendance of a person at a meeting shall constitute a waiver of notice of such meeting, unless the person at the beginning of the meeting objects to holding the meeting or transacting business at the meeting. In addition, attendance of a person at a meeting shall constitute a waiver of objection to consideration of a particular matter at the meeting that is not within the purpose or purposes described in the meeting notice, unless the person objects to considering the matter when it is presented. All waivers of notice shall be filed with the minutes of the meeting.

SECTION 4. Inspection of Bylaws. A copy of these Bylaws, with all amendments thereto, shall at all times be kept in a convenient place at the principal office of the corporation, and shall be open for inspection to all shareholders during normal business hours.

SECTION 5. Interested Directors; Quorum. No contract or transaction between the corporation and one or more of its directors or officers, or between the corporation and any other corporation, partnership, association, or other organization in which one or more of its directors or officers are directors or officers, or have a financial interest, shall be void or voidable solely for this reason, or solely because the director or officer is present at or participates in the meeting of the Board of Directors or committee thereof which authorizes the contract or transaction, or solely because such person's votes are counted for such purposes, if: (1) the material facts regarding such person's relationship or interest in the contract or transaction are disclosed or known to the Board of Directors or the committee, and the Board or committee in good faith authorizes the contract or transaction by the affirmative vote of a majority of the disinterested directors, even though the number of disinterested directors constitute less than a quorum; provided, however, that the contract or transaction may not be authorized, approved, or ratified by a single director; or (2) the material facts as to such person's relationship or interest in the contract or transaction are disclosed or are known to the shareholders entitled to vote thereon, and the contract or transaction is specifically approved in good faith by a vote of the shareholders; or (3) the contract or transaction is fair to the corporation. If a majority of the disinterested directors vote to authorize, approve, or ratify the contract or transaction, a quorum shall be deemed present for purpose of taking action under this Section 6. If the contract or the transaction is approved by shareholders, the shares owned by or voted under the control of an interested director or an interested corporation, partnership, association, or other organization in which one or more of the corporation's directors or officers are directors or officers, or have a financial interest, shall not be counted in the vote of shareholders. The vote of such shares, however, shall be counted in determining whether the transaction or contract is approved under the Articles of Incorporation or the Arkansas Business Corporation Act of 1987. A majority of the shares that are entitled to be counted in a vote on the transaction or contract under this Section 6 constitutes a quorum for the purpose of taking action under this Section 6.

SECTION 6. Form of Records. Any records maintained by the corporation in the regular course of its business, including a stock ledger, books of account, and minute books, may be kept on, or be in the form of, punch cards, magnetic tape, photographs, microphotographs, or any other information storage device, provided that the records so kept can be converted into clearly legible form within a reasonable time. The corporation shall so convert any records so kept upon the request of any person entitled to inspect the same.

SECTION 7. Amendments of Bylaws. Subject to the laws of the State of Arkansas and the provisions of the Articles of Incorporation, these Bylaws may be altered, amended or repealed at any regular meeting of shareholders (or at any special meeting thereof duly called for that purpose) by a vote of the shareholders in accordance with Article II, provided that in the notice of such meeting, notice of such purpose shall be given. Subject to the laws of the State of Arkansas, the Articles of Incorporation and these Bylaws, the Board of Directors may by a majority vote of the entire Board of Directors amend these Bylaws, or waive any provisions hereof, or enact such other Bylaws as in their judgment may be advisable for the regulation of the conduct of the affairs of the corporation.

The foregoing bylaws were adopted by the Board of Directors of the corporation effective July 28, 2006.

OPERATING AGREEMENT
OF
MEDUCARE TRANSPORT, LLC

The undersigned, being the sole Member of MEDUCARE TRANSPORT, LLC, does hereby amend and restate the Operating Agreement pursuant to Paragraph 16.03 of Agreement to read hereinafter as follows:

"THIS OPERATING AGREEMENT of MEDUCARE TRANSPORT, LLC (the "Company"), a limited liability company organized pursuant to the laws of the State of Arkansas, and particularly Act 1003 of 1993 of the Arkansas General Assembly, formed on May 8, 2002 and first amended on July 19, 2006, is amended and restated effective as of November 1, 2006.

W I T N E S S E T H:

WHEREAS, the Company was formed on February 17, 1999 upon the filing of its original Articles of Organization with the Arkansas Secretary of State; and

WHEREAS, the Members executed the First Amendment to the Operating Agreement on June 14, 2006; and

WHEREAS, Jane B. Prince, Michael Prince and Danette Stewart conveyed their respective interests to Ascent Acquisition Corporation ("New Member") on July 19, 2006; and

WHEREAS, the New Member simultaneously executed the Second Amendment (inadvertently referred to as the First Amendment) to the Operating Agreement on July 19, 2006; and

WHEREAS, the Member desires to amend and entirely restate the Operating Agreement and to consolidate all of its provisions in one document.

NOW THEREFORE, in consideration of the mutual promises, covenants and agreements contained herein, and other good and valuable consideration, the receipt and adequacy of which are hereby acknowledged, the parties hereto agree as follows:

ARTICLE I
DEFINITIONS

For purposes of this Agreement, the capitalized terms used herein shall have the following meanings, unless the context otherwise specifically requires:

1.1. “Act” shall mean and refer to Act 1003 of 1993 of the Arkansas General Assembly (ARK. CODE ANN. § 4-32-101 et seq.), as amended.

1.2. “Agreement” shall mean and refer to this Operating Agreement, and all amendments hereto.

1.3. “Arkansas Code Annotated” and “ARK. CODE ANN.” shall mean and refer to the official compilation of the statutes, codes and session laws of the State of Arkansas of a public and general nature, as now existing and as amended hereafter, or any successor law. Likewise, any references to specific sections of the Arkansas Code Annotated shall include any subsequent amendments thereto or substitutions therefor.

1.4. “Articles of Organization” shall mean and refer to the Articles of Organization of the Company filed with the Arkansas Secretary of State, as properly amended from time to time by the Members.

1.5. “Assignee” shall mean and refer to a transferee of a Membership Interest who has not been admitted as a Member.

1.6. “Business Day” shall mean and refer to any day other than a Saturday, Sunday or legal holiday observed in the State of Arkansas.

1.7. “Code” shall mean and refer to the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended, or any successor federal laws, and shall also include the Treasury regulations promulgated thereunder. Likewise, any references to specific sections of the Code shall include any subsequent amendments thereto or substitutions therefor.

1.8. “Company” shall mean and refer to MEDUCARE TRANSPORT, LLC, the Arkansas limited liability company formed pursuant to the Articles of Organization and this Agreement.

1.9. “Disposition” (“Dispose”) shall mean and refer to any sale, exchange, assignment, gift, bequest, distribution, mortgage, pledge, grant, hypothecation or other transfer, either voluntarily or involuntarily, by judicial order, operation of law or otherwise.

1.10. “Dissociated Member” shall mean and refer to any Member who ceases to be a Member in the Company by reason of the occurrence of an Event of Dissociation with respect to such Member.

1.11. “Dissociation” or “Event of Dissociation” shall mean and refer to any event or other action that causes a Member to cease to be a Member as provided herein.

1.12. “Event of Dissolution” shall mean and refer to any event, the occurrence of which will result in the dissolution of the Company as provided in this Agreement, unless the Members agree to the contrary in the manner set forth herein.

1.13. “Effective Date” shall mean and refer to the later of (a) the date on which the Articles of Organization are filed with and accepted by the Arkansas Secretary of State, or (b) the effective date, if any, indicated in the Articles of Organization. This Agreement shall become effective as of such Effective Date.

1.14. “Fair Market Value” shall mean and refer to the price at which the property would change hands between a willing buyer and willing seller, neither under any compulsion to buy or sell, and both having reasonable knowledge of the relevant facts. The Fair Market Value of a Membership Interest shall be determined taking into account all factors relevant for determining under §§2031 and 2512 of the Code the fair market value of a closely-held interest having the rights and restrictions provided under this Agreement and applicable Arkansas law including, but not limited to, the restrictions upon withdrawal before the end of the term of the Company. In the event it becomes necessary to determine the Fair Market Value of any property (including an ownership interest in the Company) the Fair Market Value of the property shall be determined by agreement of the parties involved, or in the absence of such agreement, by an individual appraiser or appraisal firm mutually acceptable to such parties. In the event the parties involved are unable to agree on the individual appraiser or firm to perform the valuation, each party shall select an appraiser, and such appraisers shall first attempt to jointly determine the Fair Market Value of the property (including an ownership interest in the Company) by mutual agreement, but if they are unable to agree on such valuation, such appraisers shall select a third appraiser, and the Fair Market Value shall be determined by the average of the two (2) closest appraisals. Any valuation so determined shall be binding and conclusive on the parties absent manifest error. The cost of any such appraisal(s) shall be borne, in the case of a valuation of a Membership Interest, equally by the seller and the purchaser, and in the case of a valuation of any Company property, equally by each individual Member or group of Members having conflicting interests in such appraisal.

1.15. “Majority in Interest of the Members” shall mean and refer to any Member (or group of Members), whose Sharing Ratio(s) exceed(s) fifty percent (50%), individually or in the aggregate.

1.16. “Majority in Interest of the Remaining Members” shall mean and refer to any Remaining Member (or group of Remaining Members) whose Sharing Ratio(s) exceed(s) fifty percent (50%) of the Sharing Ratios of all Remaining Members, individually or in the aggregate.

1.17. “Manager or Managers” shall mean the person(s) or entity selected to manage the affairs of the Company under the Agreement.

1.18. “Members” shall mean and refer to the persons, trusts or entities listed as such on Exhibit A hereto, and such other persons, trusts or entities hereafter admitted to the Company as Members in accordance with the terms of this Agreement. The term “Member” shall mean and refer to any of the Members, individually.

1.19. “Membership Interest” shall mean and refer to a Member’s ownership interest and rights in the Company as a Member. Membership Interests may be represented by units which are evidenced by certificates of interest.

1.20. “Net Income” and “Net Loss” for any period shall mean and refer to the Company’s income or loss as determined for such period for federal income tax reporting purposes, plus any income exempt from federal income tax, and reduced by any expenditures that are neither deductible nor chargeable to a capital account for federal income tax purposes.

1.21. “Non-Fully Funding Member” shall mean and refer to any Member that fails to fully fund such Member’s pro rata share of any call for additional capital by the Company as set forth herein.

1.22. “Remaining Members” shall mean and refer to the Members who would be remaining after the occurrence of an Event of Dissociation with respect to another Member or Members. The term “Remaining Member” shall mean and refer to any of the Remaining Members, individually.

1.23. “Sharing Ratio” shall mean and refer to each respective Member’s ownership interest in the Company expressed as a percentage. If the Membership Interests are represented by units, the Sharing Ratio shall be determined by dividing (a) the number of units owned by the Member by (b) the total number of units issued and outstanding. The Sharing Ratio for each Member is set forth opposite such Member’s name on Exhibit A hereto.

ORGANIZATION

2.1. Formation. The Members hereby organize the Company as a limited liability company pursuant to the terms of this Agreement, the provisions of the Act, and other applicable laws of the State of Arkansas.

2.2. Articles of Organization. The Articles of Organization are hereby ratified and confirmed in all respects as the Articles of Organization of the Company.

2.3. Name. The name of the Company shall be MEDUCARE TRANSPORT, LLC, and all business of the Company shall be conducted under this name and/or such other names approved in writing by a Majority in Interest of the Members. The name of the Company may be changed from time to time by the affirmative vote of a Majority in Interest of the Members.

2.4. Purpose. The primary purpose of the Company is to provide for the delivery and transportation of persons and property to destinations within or outside the State of Arkansas. The Company may also engage in any other lawful business or activity incidental to its primary purpose or as approved by a Majority in Interest of the Members.

2.5. Powers. The Company shall have all the powers conferred by applicable law upon limited liability companies, including the power and authority to do all things necessary or convenient to accomplish its purposes and to operate its business in any lawful manner.

2.6. Registered Agent and Office. The registered agent shall be The Corporation Company as shall be as set forth in the Articles of Organization. The registered agent and/or registered office of the Company may be changed from time to time by the affirmative vote of a Majority in Interest of the Members, and any such change shall be promptly reflected in an appropriate filing with the Arkansas Secretary of State. In the event the registered agent becomes unable or unwilling to serve as registered agent, and/or the registered office of the Company changes, the Members shall promptly designate a successor registered agent and/or registered office, as the case may be, and shall promptly reflect such change of registered agent and/or office through an appropriate filing with the Arkansas Secretary of State.

2.7. Principal Office. The principal office of the Company shall be located at 425 West Capitol Avenue, Suite 1700, Little Rock, Arkansas 72201, or at such other place approved from time to time by a Majority in Interest of the Members.

2.8. Operating Agreement. The Members hereby adopt this Agreement, as it may from time to time be amended according to its terms, as the Operating Agreement of the Company. In the event any terms of this Agreement conflict with the provisions of the Act, the terms of this Agreement shall govern and control, to the extent permissible under the Act. To the extent any provision of this Agreement is prohibited or ineffective under the Act, this Agreement shall be considered amended to the smallest degree possible in order to make such provision effective under the Act.

TERM

The Company shall be dissolved and its affairs wound up in accordance with the Act and this Agreement on December 31, 2040, unless such term shall be extended by amendment to this Agreement, or unless the Company shall be sooner dissolved and its affairs wound up in accordance with the Act and this Agreement (hereinafter sometimes referred to herein as the “Term”).

RIGHTS, OBLIGATIONS AND DUTIES OF MEMBERS

4.1. Voting. All Members (not including Assignees and Dissociated Members) shall be entitled to vote on any matter submitted to a vote of the Members. Voting rights shall be in accordance with the respective Sharing Ratios of the Members entitled to vote (i.e., in the event units are issued, voting rights shall be based upon the number of units owned by each Member). If a trust is a Member, then unless otherwise provided in such trust agreement, the trustee of such trust shall be entitled to vote on behalf of such trust; provided, if such trust has more than one trustee, then such vote shall be determined by a majority of the trustees of such trust.

4.2. Majority Approval. Whenever any matter is required or allowed to be approved by the Members under the Act or this Agreement, except as otherwise provided herein, such matter shall be considered approved or consented to upon the receipt of the affirmative approval or consent, either in writing or at a meeting of the Members, of a Majority in Interest of the Members. Assignees shall not be entitled to vote on any matter relating to the Company unless and until admitted as a Member.

4.3. Unanimous Consent. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the following actions shall require the unanimous consent of the Members (or Remaining Members, as the case may be):

(a) Any amendment to this Agreement unless a lesser percentage of Sharing Ratios is provided for herein; and

(b) The admission of any Assignee as a Member or a new or additional Member (except as otherwise allowed with respect to a Permitted Transferee).

4.4. Liability of Members. No Member shall be liable as such for any liabilities or other obligations of the Company. The failure of the Company to observe any formalities or requirements relating to the exercise of its powers or management of its business or affairs under this Agreement or the Act shall not be grounds for imposing personal liability on any Member for any liabilities or other obligations of the Company.

4.5. Indemnification.

(a) Each Member (the “Indemnifying Member”) shall indemnify and hold harmless the Company and each of the other Members from and against any and all claims, liabilities, obligations, costs and expenses (including reasonable attorney’s fees) incurred by or asserted against the Company and/or any of the other Members to the extent resulting from the gross negligence or willful misconduct of the Indemnifying Member or any action taken by such Indemnifying Member in breach of this Agreement.

(b) To the extent permitted by applicable law, the Company shall indemnify and hold harmless each Member from and against all claims, liabilities, obligations, costs and expenses (including reasonable attorney's fees), to the extent resulting from the good faith performance by such Member of duties and services for and on behalf of the Company; provided, however, the foregoing indemnity shall not apply to the extent the claim, liability, obligation, cost or expense results from any breach of this Agreement by such Member or is otherwise attributable to such Member's gross negligence or willful misconduct.

4.6. Representations and Warranties. Each Member hereby represents and warrants to the Company and each other Member as follows:

(a) If the Member is an entity, it is duly organized, validly existing, and in good standing under the laws of the state of its organization and that it has full organizational power to execute this Agreement and to perform its obligations hereunder.

(b) The execution, delivery and performance of this Agreement by the Member has been duly authorized by all necessary action on the part of such Member.

(c) This Agreement has been duly executed and delivered by such Member, constitutes the legal, valid and binding obligation of such Member, and is enforceable against such Member in accordance with its terms, except to the extent that such enforceability may be limited by applicable bankruptcy, insolvency, reorganization, moratorium or other similar laws affecting the enforcement of creditors' rights, or by general principles of equity.

(d) The execution, delivery or performance of this Agreement by such Member does not constitute a breach or default under any agreement or other instrument to which the Member is a party or by which it or any of its properties are bound or subject, and does not violate any judgment ruling, order, writ, injunction or decree applicable to such Member or any of such Member's properties.

(e) The execution, delivery or performance of this Agreement by such Member does not require the consent or approval of any third party pursuant to any agreement or other instrument to which the Member is a party or by which it or any of its properties are bound or subject.

(f) The Member is acquiring the Member's Membership Interest for the Member's own account for investment purposes and without an intent to resell or otherwise distribute such interest.

(g) The Member acknowledges that its Membership Interest has not been registered under the Securities Act of 1933 or any state securities laws, and may not be resold or transferred by the Member without appropriate registration under applicable securities laws or the availability of an exemption from such registration requirements.

4.7. Conflicts of Interest.

(a) Unless otherwise approved by all of the Members, any transaction between the Company and any Member shall be effected in a manner consistent with the manner in which the transaction would be effected between the Company and an independent third party bargaining at ami's length. Prior to entering into any material transaction with a Member, the Company shall disclose the material terms of such transaction to all of the Members.

(b) Subject to the terms of any employment agreement or any other agreement between any Member and the Company, no Member shall, because of such Member's participation in the Company, (1) be prevented from engaging or participating in any other business or investment activity, whether or not the activity is competitive with the business of the Company or (2) be obligated or bound to offer or present to the Company, or any other Member, any business or investment opportunity as a prerequisite to the acquisition of, or an investment in, such activity.

(c) Notwithstanding the foregoing, no Member (or Dissociated Member) shall disclose to third parties, misappropriate or otherwise use to the detriment of the Company any trade secrets of the Company or other confidential nonpublic information concerning the Company.

4.8. Withdrawal. No Member shall have the right to withdraw from the Company by voluntary act without the consent of all the other Members.

ARTICLE V
MANAGEMENT

5.1. Business Affairs. The ordinary and usual decisions concerning the business affairs of the Company shall be made by the Officers. Management of the Company shall hereby be vestd in the following Officers of the Company:

Kevin Sheehan	President
J. Mack Nunn	Treasurer and Secretary

Such Officers shall have all requisite authority to bind the Company and each shall be considered an "authorized agent" for purposes of this Agreement.

5.2. Term of Office of the Officers. Each Officer shall be appointed by the Member(s) and shall serve at the pleasure of the Member(s) or the appointing Officers, as the case may be. All Officers, however appointed, may be removed with or without cause by the Member(s), and any Officer appointed by another Officer may also be removed by the appointing officer with or without cause.

5.3. Authority of Officers to Bind the Company. The Member(s) hereby agree that only an Officer or authorized agent of the Company shall have the authority to bind the Company. No Member other than an Officer shall take any action as a Member to bind the Company, and any Officer shall indemnify the Company for any costs or damages incurred by the Company as a result of the unauthorized action of such Officer. An Officer shall have the power, on behalf of the Company, to do all things necessary or convenient to carry out the business and affairs of the Company.

5.4. Actions of an Officer. An Officer shall have the power to bind the Company as provided herein. No act of an Officer in contravention of the power of an Officer shall bind the Company to persons having knowledge of such authority. With respect to the act of an Officer for the purpose of apparently carrying on the normal business or affairs of the Company, no person dealing with the Company shall have any obligation to inquire into the power or authority of an Officer acting on behalf of the Company.

5.5. Standard of Care. A Member shall not be liable, responsible or accountable in damages or otherwise to the Company or the other Members for any action taken, or any failure to act, on behalf of the Company, except to the extent such act or failure to act constitutes a breach of this Agreement or otherwise constitutes gross negligence, willful misconduct, or a knowing violation of law. In discharging their duties, the Members shall be entitled to rely in good faith upon the records maintained by the Company and upon the advice of independent legal counsel, accountants and other professional experts as to matters reasonably believed to be within such other person's professional expertise.

5.6. Removal of Officers. An Officer may be removed by the affirmative vote of a Majority in Interest of the Members.

5.7. Conflicts of Interest.

(a) Unless otherwise approved by all of the Members, any transaction between the Company and an Officer shall be effected in a manner consistent with the manner in which the transaction would be effected between the Company and an independent third party bargaining at arm's length. Prior to entering into any material transaction with an Officer, the Company shall disclose the material terms of such transaction to all of the Members.

(b) Subject to the terms of any employment agreement or any other agreement between any Officer and the Company, no Officer shall, because of such Officer's employment or engagement by the Company, (1) be prevented from engaging or participating in any other business or investment activity, whether or not the activity is competitive with the business of the Company or

(2) be obligated or bound to offer or present to the Company, or any Member, any business or investment opportunity as a prerequisite to the acquisition of, or an investment in, such activity.

(c) Notwithstanding the foregoing, no Officer shall disclose to third parties, misappropriate or otherwise use to the detriment of the Company any trade secrets of the Company or other confidential nonpublic information concerning the Company.

CONTRIBUTIONS AND CAPITAL ACCOUNTS

6.1. Initial Capital Contributions. Each Member shall make the capital contributions specified for that Member on Exhibit A, at the time and on the terms set forth on Exhibit A. Except as otherwise provided on Exhibit A, capital contributions shall be made in cash or by a check in a form mutually acceptable to the Members. If no specific time for a capital contribution is specified, the capital contributions shall be made upon the Effective Date, or at such other time mutually acceptable to the Members.

6.2. Additional Capital Contributions. In the event a Majority in Interest of the Members determines that additional capital is necessary to finance Company operations or is otherwise required to provide additional capitalization for the Company (over and above the capital contributions set forth on Exhibit A), each Member shall have the preemptive right to make such additional capital contributions in proportion to the Member's Sharing Ratio so as to enable each Member to maintain the same proportional ownership interest in the Company as existed immediately prior to such additional capital contributions. To the extent any Member (a "Non-Fully Funding Member") fails to make any such additional capital contribution within thirty (30) days after demand, the other Members shall be entitled to make the additional capital contribution in place of the Non-Fully Funding Member, to the extent of such shortfall, and in such event, the Membership Interests and Sharing Ratios of the Members shall be appropriately and equitably adjusted so as to reflect the actual aggregate capital contributions made to the Company by each Member. In the event more than one other Member desires to make such additional capital contribution in place of a Non-Fully Funding Member, such other Members shall be entitled to make such contributions on a pro rata basis in accordance with the ratio of each such Member's Sharing Ratio to the total Sharing Ratios of all Members making an additional capital contribution in the place of a Non-Fully Funding Member.

6.3. Interest on Capital Contributions. No Member shall be entitled to interest on capital contributions to the Company, or to withdraw any part of such Member's capital account, except as specifically provided herein.

6.4. Capital Accounts.

(a) Separate capital accounts shall be maintained for each Member in accordance with this Agreement and in a manner consistent with the applicable requirements of the Code and the regulations promulgated thereunder.

(b) Each Member's capital account shall be increased by:

(1) The amount of money and the Fair Market Value of property contributed by the Member to the Company, net of liabilities secured by such property, if any, and

(2) Allocations to the Member of income and gain as provided herein; and shall be decreased by:

(3) The amount of money and the Fair Market Value of property distributed to the Member, net of liabilities secured by such property, if any, and

(4) Allocations to the Member of loss and deduction as provided herein.

However, no Member's capital account shall be increased with respect to any gain, or decreased with respect to any loss, allocated to such Member with respect to the sale or exchange of any property of the Company to the extent such gain or loss was previously included in such capital account by reason of such capital account reflecting the Fair Market Value of the property at the time the property was contributed to the Company, or at the time the property was subject to a revaluation or capital account adjustment as provided herein.

(c) Upon the happening of any of the following events, the capital accounts of the Members shall be adjusted to reflect the gain or loss that would have been realized by the Company (and allocated to the Members in the manner provided herein) had the Company sold, immediately prior to the happening of such event, all of its assets for an amount equal to the Fair Market Value thereof:

(1) The acquisition from the Company of an additional Membership Interest by any new or existing Member in exchange for a capital contribution to the Company;

(2) The distribution of property of the Company as consideration for a Membership Interest; or

(3) The deemed termination of the Company for federal income tax purposes upon the sale or exchange of fifty percent (50%) or more of the total interest in Company capital and profits within a twelve (12) month period.

(d) Upon the distribution of any asset (other than cash) to a Member, the capital accounts of the Members shall be adjusted by the amount of gain or loss that would have been allocated to the Members if the Company had sold the asset at Fair Market Value.

(e) In the event of a sale or exchange of all or any part of a Member's Membership Interest in accordance with this Agreement, the capital account of the transferor shall become the capital account of the transferee to the extent relating to the portion of the Membership Interest so transferred.

6.5. Compliance with § 704(b) of the Code. The provisions of this Agreement regarding allocations and maintenance of capital accounts are intended to have substantial economic effect under § 704(b) of the Code and the regulations promulgated thereunder, and this Agreement shall be applied and construed in a manner consistent with such regulations, except that notwithstanding anything herein to the contrary, this Agreement shall not be applied or otherwise construed to create a capital account deficit restoration obligation or otherwise personally obligate any Member to make a capital contribution to the Company in excess of the capital contributions set forth on Exhibit A.

ARTICLE VII
ALLOCATIONS AND DISTRIBUTIONS

7.1. General Allocation. Except as otherwise provided herein, Net Income, Net Loss and other items of gain, loss, deduction and credit, for each taxable year of the Company, shall be allocated among the Members in accordance with their respective Sharing Ratios.

7.2. Other Allocation Rules.

(a) If the Sharing Ratios and/or Membership Interests change at any time during any taxable year, Net Income, Net Loss and other items of gain, loss, deduction and credit, shall be determined for each portion of that taxable year (1) beginning on the first day of such taxable year and ending on the date of the change and (2) beginning on the day immediately after the date of the change and ending on the last day of the taxable year, and such items shall be allocated among the Members for each such period based on the Sharing Ratios during that period.

(b) In the event any property is contributed to the Company in kind, any gain or loss recognized by the Company for income tax purposes that is required to be allocated among the Members in accordance with § 704(c) of the Code (so as to take into account the variation, if any, between the adjusted tax basis and the fair market value of the property at the time of its contribution to the Company) shall be allocated to the Members for income tax purposes in the manner required by § 704(c) of the Code and the regulations promulgated thereunder.

(c) Any gain or loss on the sale or exchange of any Company property which was previously subject to a revaluation or capital account adjustment as provided herein shall first be allocated to the Members consistent with the manner in which capital accounts were adjusted, and thereafter shall be allocated among the Members in accordance with their respective Sharing Ratios.

7.3. Section 754 Adjustments. To the extent an adjustment to the adjusted tax basis of any Company asset pursuant to § 734(b) or § 743(b) of the Code and the regulations promulgated thereunder is required to be taken into account in determining capital accounts, the amount of such adjustment to the capital accounts shall be treated as an item of gain (if the adjustment increases the basis of the asset) or loss (if the adjustment decreases such basis) and such gain or loss shall be specially allocated to the Members in a manner consistent with the manner in which their capital accounts are required to be adjusted pursuant to such regulations.

7.4. Distributions. Cash or other property of the Company (to the extent not reasonably required for future Company operations, debt service, capital expenditures, reserves for contingencies and the like) may be distributed to the Members at such times and in such amounts as determined from time to time by a Majority in Interest of the Members. Unless otherwise unanimously agreed by the Members, all distributions by the Company to the Members shall be made in accordance with the Members' respective Sharing Ratios. However, notwithstanding the foregoing, no distribution shall be declared and paid unless, after the distribution is made, the Fair Market Value of the assets of the Company is in excess of the liabilities of the Company.

DISPOSITION OF MEMBERSHIP INTERESTS

8.1. Pledge or Other Encumbrance and Permitted Transfers. No Member shall pledge, encumber, grant a security interest in, or otherwise cause or permit any lien to be placed against all or any portion of such Member's Membership Interest without first providing written notice thereof to each of the other Members; and provided further, as a condition thereto, such Member shall require the lender, secured party, or other lienholder to execute an estoppel agreement for the benefit of the Company and the other Members which provides that any Disposition of the Member's Interest so encumbered shall be subject to the terms and conditions of this Agreement.

Notwithstanding any provision of this Agreement to the contrary, a Member may sell, assign or transfer to one or more Permitted Transferees, during lifetime or by transfer upon death by legacy, devise, bequest, or other testamentary or nontestamentary transfer, all or part of his or her interest in the Company and thereby constitute his or her Permitted Transferee a Member without the consent of the Company or the other Members; provided, as a condition thereto, such Permitted Transferee shall execute a copy of this Agreement and agree to be bound thereby.

8.2. Transfer Restrictions. Except as provided in Section 8.1, no Member shall make a Disposition of all or any part of the Member's Membership Interest, or right to distributions thereon, or enter into any contract with respect to the foregoing:

(a) If such Disposition, alone or when combined with other transactions, would result in a termination of the Company within the meaning of § 708 of the Code;

(b) If requested by the Members, without an opinion of counsel satisfactoiy to the Members that such assignment is subject to an effective registration under, or exempt from the registration requirements of, applicable federal and state securities laws;

(c) Unless and until the Company receives from the Assignee such information and agreements that the Members may reasonably require; and

(d) Without either (i) obtaining the prior written consent of each of the other Members or (ii) complying with each of the following terms and conditions:

(1) A Member proposing to make a Disposition of all or any part of the Member's Membership Interest shall provide written notice thereof to each of the other Members (which notice shall include all of the terms of the proposed Disposition, including the price and payment terms for any sale, the name and address of the proposed transferee, the percentage of the Member's Membership Interest to be transferred, and the date on which the proposed Disposition is to occur).

(2) For a period of thirty (30) days after the date said notice has been delivered to all of the other Members, the Company shall have the first option, and each of the other Members shall have the second option, to purchase the Membership Interest proposed to be transferred, upon the same terms and conditions (including price and payment terms) as contained in any bona fide offer to purchase such Membership Interest received by the transferor. In the absence of any such bona fide offer, the purchase price for such Membership Interest shall be the Fair Market Value thereof. The determination of whether the Company exercises the first option shall be made without participation of the transferor, and such determination shall require the vote of a Majority in Interest of the other Members.

(3) In the event the foregoing right of first refusal option is not completely exercised by the Company, then each of the Members (other than the transferor) shall have the option to purchase the remaining said Membership Interest as provided herein, on a pro rata basis in accordance with the ratio of (A) the Sharing Ratio of the Member desiring to exercise such purchase option to (B) the aggregate of all Sharing Ratios of all such other Members desiring to exercise such purchase option. In the event a Member does not fully exercise such Member's option, the remainder of said Membership Interest shall be offered to the Members who did fully exercise their options and are willing to purchase all or any part of the remaining said Membership Interest based pro rata upon their Sharing Ratios (including said Membership Interest previously purchased herein) as determined only among such Members who previously purchased their full pro rata share. Any remaining said Membership Interest not so purchased thereafter shall continue to be proportionately divided in this manner among such Members who purchased their full pro rata share.

(4) In the event neither the Company nor any of the other Members exercise their respective options as provided herein, with regard to all of said Membership Interest, the transferor may make a bona fide Disposition to the prospective transferee of all of the said Membership Interest (or may retain all of the said Membership Interest), but only upon the same terms and conditions as provided in the notice provided hereinabove; provided, however, in the event the Disposition is not completed within ninety (90) days following the date said notice has been delivered to all of the other Members, no Disposition of said Membership Interest shall be made without first recomplying with the terms and conditions of this Agreement.

(5) As a condition to any such Disposition, the transferee shall be required to execute a counterpart to this Agreement agreeing to be bound by all the terms and conditions hereof, but no such transferee shall have any right to participate in the management of the business and affairs of the Company or to become a Member without the prior written consent of all other Members. Unless such transferee is admitted into the Company as a Member as provided herein, such transferee shall only be entitled to receive distributions and a return of capital, and to share in the profits and losses of the Company, attributable to the interest in the Company assigned to the transferee.

8.3. Assignments of Distributive Rights. A Member may, without first complying with Section 8.2, assign to any person, trust or entity all or any portion of the Member's right to receive distributions hereunder with the prior written consent of a Majority in Interest of the other Members. In addition, no such assignment shall be effective until the Company has first received a copy of the instrument of assignment, executed by both the assignor and the assignee of such distributive right. Once the assignment has been received by the Company, the Company may (but shall not be obligated to), without requesting further documentation from either the assignor or the assignee, remit directly to the named assignee all distributions to which the assignee may be entitled pursuant to the provisions of this Agreement and the assignment. So long as the party to whom such distributive share was remitted was either the assignor Member or the assignee named in the instrument of assignment, the Company shall be free from liability to any person, trust or entity if such distribution is received by a person, trust or entity not entitled thereto.

8.4. Option to Purchase Upon Event of Dissociation. Except as otherwise provided and allowed under this Agreement regarding transfers to Permitted Transferees, if any Event of Dissociation occurs with respect to any Member, then the Company, by vote of a Majority in Interest of the Remaining Members, or failing such vote, each of the Remaining Members, on a pro rata basis, in the manner described in Section 8.2(d)(3), shall have the option to purchase all of such Member's Membership Interest at Fair Market Value. Such option shall be exercisable for a period of one hundred twenty (120) days following the date of the Event of Dissociation. In the event neither the Company nor any of the other Members exercise their respective options as provided herein, with regard to all of said Membership interest, the transferor may make a bona fide Disposition to the prospective transferee of all or any part of the said Membership Interest within ninety (90) days following the expiration of such option period herein; otherwise, no Disposition of said Membership Interest shall be made without first complying with the terms and conditions of this Agreement.

8.5. Closing; Payment of Purchase Price. In the event any option described in this Article VIII is exercised: (a) the closing shall take place at the principal office of the Company within thirty (30) days following the date on which the option is exercised, except with regard to a deceased Member's Membership Interest that is subject to probate, then such closing shall occur as soon as allowed pursuant to the administration of such deceased Member's estate, and (b) the purchase price shall be paid in accordance with the same terms and conditions as any bona fide third party offer received by the transferor (including, as near as possible, security terms), or, in the absence of any such bona fide third party offer, the purchase price shall be the Fair Market Value to be paid, as decided by the purchaser, in cash or by delivery of a promissory note in ordinary and customary form, payable with monthly interest at the prime rate of interest, as published in the Wall Street Journal, on the then outstanding principal balance, and in sixty (60) equal monthly installments of principal. Such interest and principal payments shall be made on the first business day of each month following closing. Such interest rate shall be adjusted on the first business day of each calendar quarter during the calendar year with the initial interest rate being the prime rate in effect for the calendar quarter of the closing. Such promissory note may be prepaid at any time without consent or penalty and shall be secured by the Membership Interest so acquired. The holder of any such promissory note shall have all of the rights and remedies of a secured creditor under the Arkansas Uniform Commercial Code. At the closing, the purchaser shall execute and deliver said promissory note, a security agreement in customary form, appropriate UCC financing statements and such other documents and instruments reasonably necessary in order to properly document the purchase of said Membership Interest upon the terms contained herein, and the seller shall execute and deliver a general warranty bill of sale and assignment and such other documents and instruments reasonably necessary in order to properly convey and transfer to the purchaser the Membership Interest to be transferred, free and clear of all liens, claims and encumbrances. In the event there are any governmental approvals or other third party consents required in connection with any such sale and transfer, the parties shall use commercially reasonable efforts to obtain such consents and approvals prior to the scheduled closing date, but if such consents and approvals have not been obtained by the scheduled closing date, either party may extend the closing date for a period not in excess of ninety (90) days in order to continue to attempt to obtain all such required consents and approvals.

8.6. Restriction on Transfer of Assignee's and Dissociated Member's Interests. The foregoing restriction on transfer shall also apply to any interest in the Company held by any Assignee or Dissociated Member, and any Assignee or Dissociated Member shall comply with all of the terms and provisions set forth above prior to making any Disposition of any interest in the Company.

8.7. Dispositions not in Compliance with this Article Void. Any attempted Disposition of a Membership Interest, or any part thereof, not in compliance with this Agreement shall be null and void ab initio.

ARTICLE IX
DISSOCIATION OF A MEMBER

9.1. Events of Dissociation. A person, trust or entity shall cease to be a Member upon the happening of any of the following Events of Dissociation:

(a) The withdrawal of a Member by voluntary act with the consent of all the other Members;

(b) The removal of a Member (by a vote of a Majority in Interest of the Remaining Members) following such Member's Disposition of all of the Member's Membership Interest;

(c) Any Member (1) making an assignment for the benefit of creditors, (2) filing a voluntary petition in bankruptcy, (3) being adjudicated a bankrupt or insolvent, (4) filing a petition or answer seeking for the Member any reorganization, arrangement, composition, readjustment, liquidation, dissolution or similar relief under any statute, law or regulation (or filing any answer or other pleading admitting or failing to contest the material allegations of a petition filed against the Member in any such proceeding), or (5) seeking, consenting to or acquiescing in the appointment of a receiver or liquidator of the Member or of all or any substantial part of the Member's properties;

(d) The occurrence of any event described in Ark. Code Ann. § 4-32-802(a)(5);

(e) In the case of a Member who is a natural person:

(1) the death of the Member;

(2) the entry of an order by a court of competent jurisdiction adjudicating the Member incompetent to manage the Member's person or estate, unless a duly appointed guardian or an attorney-in-fact fully authorized under a valid durable power of attorney is legally empowered to exercise the incompetent Member's rights under this Agreement.

(f) In the case of a Member who is a trust or is acting as a Member by virtue of being a trustee of a trust, the termination of the trust (but not merely the substitution of a new trustee);

(g) In the case of a Member that is a separate partnership, limited partnership, limited liability company or other organization other than a corporation, the dissolution and commencement of winding up of the separate entity or organization;

(h) In the case of a Member that is a corporation, the filing of a certificate of dissolution, or its equivalent, for the corporation or the revocation of its charter and the lapse of ninety (90) days after notice to the corporation without reinstatement of its charter; or

(i) In the case of an estate, the distribution by the fiduciary of the estate's entire interest in the Company.

9.2. Rights of Dissociating Member. In the event any Member dissociates prior to the expiration of the Term:

(a) If the Dissociation causes a dissolution and winding up of the Company pursuant to the terms of this Agreement, the Member shall be entitled to participate in the winding up of the Company to the same extent as any other Member, except that any distributions to which the Member would have been entitled shall be reduced by any damages sustained by the Company as a result of the dissolution and winding up; and

(b) If the Dissociation does not cause a dissolution and winding up of the Company under this Agreement, the Member shall become a Dissociated Member, shall no longer have any right to participate in the management or affairs of the Company, and shall be entitled only to receive distributions from the Company in accordance with the Dissociated Member's Sharing Ratio, when and if distributions are made by the Remaining Members in the manner set forth herein.

ARTICLE X
ADMISSION OF ASSIGNEES AND ADDITIONAL MEMBERS

10.1. Admission of Additional Members. Except as provided in Section 8.1 regarding transfers to Permitted Transferees, no new or additional Members shall be admitted to the Company as Members except upon the unanimous written consent of each Member; provided however, if any Member fails to make a capital contribution to the Company upon a capital call as provided herein, the Company may admit a new Member or Members without the consent of such Non-Fully Funding Member. In the event any new or additional person, trust or entity is admitted to the Company as a Member, the parties shall execute and deliver an amendment to this Agreement in mutually acceptable form setting forth: (a) the terms and conditions of the admission of the new Member to the Company; (b) the amount of the capital accounts, Sharing Ratios and Membership Interests of each Member; and (c) the agreement of all the Members to be bound by this Agreement, as amended by said amendment thereto.

10.2. Rights of Assignees. An Assignee has no right to participate in the management of the business and affairs of the Company or to become a Member. An Assignee is only entitled to receive the distributions and return of capital, and to be allocated the Net Profits and Net Losses attributable to the assigned Membership Interest, in accordance with the manner set forth herein.

10.3. Admission of Substitute Members. An Assignee shall be admitted as a substitute Member and succeed to all the rights of the Member who initially assigned the Membership Interest only with the approval of all of the Members. The Members may grant or withhold the approval of such admission for any reason, in their sole and absolute discretion. If so admitted, the substitute Member has all the rights and powers and is subject to all the restrictions and liabilities of the Member originally assigning the Membership Interest. The admission of a substitute Member, without more, shall not release the Member originally assigning the Membership Interest from any liability to the Company that existed prior to the assignment.

ARTICLE XI
DISSOLUTION AND WINDING UP

11.1. Dissolution. The Company shall be dissolved and its affairs wound up, upon the first to occur of the following events (which, unless the Members agree to continue the business, shall constitute Events of Dissolution):

(a) The expiration of the Term, unless the business of the Company is continued with the consent of a Majority in Interest of the Members; or

(b) The unanimous written consent of all of the Members.

11.2. Effect of Dissolution. Upon dissolution, the Company shall cease carrying on, as distinguished from the winding up of, the Company business, but the Company is not terminated, and the Company shall continue until the winding up of the affairs of the Company is completed and a certificate of dissolution has been filed with and accepted by the Arkansas Secretary of State, as required by the Act.

11.3. Liquidation. In the event of any such dissolution, the following procedure for liquidation shall apply:

(a) The Members shall proceed to wind up the affairs of the Company as promptly as practical and to liquidate its assets in a commercially reasonable, orderly and businesslike manner. The manner of the sale, liquidation or distribution of any property of the Company shall be determined by a Majority in Interest of the Members, provided such determination is made on a fair and equitable basis in accordance with their reasonable business judgment. In the event a Majority in Interest of the Members is unable to agree on the method of the liquidation of any property of the Company, the Company shall engage an independent investment banking firm or independent auctioneer to market or auction the property of the Company either individually or as a going concern, and any Member shall be free to bid on Company property in connection with any such sale.

(b) Any gain or loss realized by the Company upon the sale of any of its assets shall be allocated to the Members in the manner set forth herein. To the extent that property is to be distributed in kind, (except as otherwise required by Subchapter K of the Internal Revenue Code and the Regulations thereunder) for purposes of allocating the basis of such property among the Members, such property shall be deemed to have been sold at Fair Market Value on the date of distribution, the gain or loss being recognized upon such deemed sale shall be allocated among the Members in the manner set forth herein, and the amount of the distribution shall be considered to be the Fair Market Value of the property.

(c) The proceeds of liquidation and all other property of the Company shall be applied and distributed as follows:

(1) First, to pay all bona fide liabilities, debts, and other obligations of the Company (unless any debt which encumbers property is to be distributed along with that property), including any expenses incurred in winding up the affairs of the Company, and to fund any reserve reasonably necessary in order to provide for the payment of any contingent liability.

(2) Second, to the Members in proportion to the positive balances, if any, in their respective capital accounts, until the capital accounts of all Members have been reduced to zero.

(3) Third, to the Members in accordance with their Sharing Ratios.

(d) The Members shall designate one or more Members to make, execute, assign, acknowledge and file, on behalf of the Company, all documents necessary or desirable to effect the dissolution, liquidation and winding up of the Company. Each Member, upon request, shall promptly execute, acknowledge and deliver all such documents, certificates and other instruments as shall be reasonably requested to effect the proper termination and dissolution of the Company.

11.4. Winding Up and Certificate of Dissolution. The winding up of the Company shall be completed when all debts, liabilities, and obligations of the Company have been paid and discharged (or transferred with the asset it encumbers) or reasonably adequate provision has been made therefor, and all of the remaining property and assets of the Company shall have been distributed to the Members. Upon completion of the winding up of the Company, a certificate of dissolution, containing the information required by the Act, shall be filed with the Arkansas Secretary of State as required by the Act.

ARTICLE XII
MEETINGS

Any Member may call a Company meeting by giving written notice thereof to each of the other Members at least five (5) Business Days prior to the date of such meeting. Notice of Company meetings shall be given in the manner provided herein and shall indicate the time, place, and general subject matter of the meeting. Attendance at any such meeting shall constitute a waiver of notice. Unless a different percentage is specifically provided herein, Company action shall require the affirmative vote (in person or by proxy) of a Majority in Interest of the Members. Any action which may be taken by the Company at a meeting may also be taken without a meeting if a consent in writing, setting forth the action so taken, shall be signed by a Majority in Interest of the Members (or by such Members owning a different percentage interest in the Company as otherwise specifically provided in this Agreement). Members may participate in Company meetings by telephone.

TAXES

13.1. Tax Matters Member. The Members shall designate KEVIN SHEEHAN to be the tax matters partner of the Company pursuant to § 6231(a)(7) of the Code. Any Member who is designated tax matters partner may not take any action material to the Company or its Members and which is contemplated by §§ 6222 through 6233 of the Code without the consent of a Majority in Interest of the Members.

13.2. Tax and Fiscal Year. The tax and fiscal year of the Company shall be the calendar year, unless another year is required by the Code or the regulations thereunder.

13.3. Elections. Tax elections for and on behalf of the Company shall be subject to the approval of a Majority in Interest of the Members.

13.4. Method of Accounting. The Company shall utilize such permissible methods of accounting for tax and financial reporting purposes as determined by a Majority in Interest of the Members.

13.5. Out of State Taxes. To the extent that the laws of any state or other jurisdiction require, each Member will submit any and all necessary agreements accepting jurisdiction to such state and confirming the Member's agreement to make timely income tax payments to such state or other jurisdiction as required by applicable law.

ARTICLE XIV
ACCOUNTING AND RECORDS

14.1. Bank Accounts. All moneys and other funds of the Company shall be deposited in the name of the Company in an account or accounts at a bank or other financial institution acceptable to a Majority in Interest of the Members. The authorized signatories to such accounts shall include only such individuals authorized from time to time in writing by the Company. Company moneys and other funds shall be kept separated and segregated from the funds of each Member.

14.2. Records to be Maintained. The Company shall maintain the following records at its principal office:

(a) A current list of the full name and last known business address of each Member of the Company;

(b) A copy of the Articles of Organization and all amendments thereto, together with executed copies of any powers of attorney pursuant to which any such Articles of Organization or amendments have been executed;

(c) Copies of the Company's federal and state income tax returns and reports, if any, for the three most recent years;

(d) Copies of this Agreement, including all amendments thereto; and

(e) Any financial statements of the Company for the three most recent years.

14.3. Inspection. Upon reasonable request, a Member may, at the Member's own expense, inspect and copy during ordinary business hours any books or records of the Company, wherever located.

14.4. Reports to Members.

(a) The Company shall provide customary financial statements to the Members at least annually.

(b) The Company shall prepare and provide to the Members by the fifteenth (15th) day of the third (3rd) month following the end of the Company's taxable year all income tax informational returns required by the Code and the laws of any state.

14.5. Capital Accounts. The Company shall maintain a record of the capital account for each Member determined in accordance with this Agreement.

ARTICLE XV
ARBITRATION

Any dispute or controversy between the Members arising out of or otherwise relating to the Company or this Agreement shall be settled by arbitration to be held in Little Rock, Arkansas in accordance with the rules then in effect of the American Arbitration Association or its successor. The arbitrator may grant injunctions or other relief in such dispute or controversy, and the decision of the arbitrator shall be final, conclusive, and binding on the parties to the arbitration. Judgment may be entered on the arbitrator's decision in any court having jurisdiction, and the parties irrevocably consent to the jurisdiction of the state courts of Arkansas for this purpose.

ARTICLE XVI
MISCELLANEOUS PROVISIONS

16.1. Assignment. This Agreement and the rights, obligations and duties of the parties hereunder shall not be assignable or otherwise transferable except as specifically provided herein.

16.2. Fees of Legal Counsel. In the event any party to this Agreement shall employ legal counsel to protect its rights hereunder or to enforce any term or provision hereof, the party prevailing in any such action shall have the right to recover from the other party all of its reasonable attorneys' fees and expenses incurred in relation to such claims.

16.3. Modification. No term or provision contained herein may be modified, amended or waived except by written agreement or consent signed by the required number of Members as provided hereunder.

16.4. Binding Effect and Benefit. This Agreement shall inure to the benefit of, and shall be binding upon, the parties hereto, and. their respective heirs, executors, administrators, personal representatives, successors and permitted assigns. Otherwise, this Agreement shall not create any rights for the benefit of any third party.

16.5. Headings and Captions. Subject headings and captions are included for convenience purposes only and shall not affect the interpretation of this Agreement.

16.6. Notice. All notices, requests, demands and other communications permitted or required hereunder shall be in writing, and either (a) delivered in person, (b) sent by express mail or other overnight delivery service providing receipt of delivery, (c) mailed by certified or registered mail, postage prepaid, return receipt requested or (d) sent by telex, telegraph or other facsimile transmission to the Members at the addresses set forth on Exhibit A hereto or to such other address as a party may designate by notice. Any such notice or communication shall be effective upon receipt by the addressee.

16.7. Severability. If any portion of this Agreement is held invalid, illegal or unenforceable, such determination shall not impair the enforceability of the remaining terms and provisions contained herein, provided the purposes, intent and objects of this Agreement may be attained and achieved through the enforcement of such remaining terms and provisions.

16.8. Waiver. No waiver of a breach or violation of any provision of this Agreement shall operate or be construed as a waiver of any subsequent breach or limit or restrict any right or remedy otherwise available. Any waiver must be in writing.

16.9. Rights and Remedies Cumulative. The rights and remedies expressed herein are cumulative and not exclusive of any rights and remedies otherwise available.

16.10. Gender and Number. Throughout this Agreement, the masculine shall include the feminine and neuter and vice versa, and the singular shall include the plural and vice versa, as the context requires.

16.11. Entire Agreement. This document, together with the exhibits hereto, constitutes the entire agreement of the parties and supersedes any and all other prior agreements, oral or written, with respect to the subject matter contained herein. There are no representations, warranties, covenants or other agreements, oral or written, between the parties in connection with this transaction, other than those expressly set forth herein.

16.12. Governing Law. This Agreement shall be subject to and governed by the laws of the State of Arkansas.

16.13. Counterparts. This Agreement may be executed in two or more counterparts, each of which shall be deemed an original, but all of which together shall constitute one and the same instrument. It shall not be necessary in making proof of this Agreement to produce or account for more than one counterpart.

16.14. Authority. Each individual signing this Agreement in a representative capacity acknowledges and represents that he/she is duly authorized to execute this Agreement in such capacity in the name of, and on behalf of, the designated corporation, partnership, trust, or other entity.

16.15. No Partnership Intended for Nontax Purposes. The Members have formed the Company as a limited liability company under the Act and expressly do not intend hereby to form a partnership under either the Arkansas Uniform Partnership Act, the Arkansas Revised Limited Partnership Act or any similar law. The Members do not intend to be partners one to another, or partners to any third party. To the extent any Member, by word or action, represents to another person, trust or entity that any other Member is a partner or that the Company is a partnership, the Member making such wrongful representation shall be liable to any other Member who incurs personal liability by reason of such wrongful representation. The Company shall, however, be treated as a partnership for federal and state income tax purposes.

16.16. Rights of Third Parties. This Agreement is entered into among the Company and the Members for the exclusive benefit of the Company, its Members, and their permitted successors and assigns. This Agreement is expressly not intended for the benefit of any creditor of the Company or any other person, trust or entity. Except to the extent expressly required by applicable law, no such creditor or third party shall have any rights under this Agreement or any agreement between the Company and any Member with respect to any capital contribution or otherwise.

16.17. No Partition. Each of the Members, and any other person, trust or entity who shall become a Member, irrevocably waives any and all right that the Member may have to maintain any action for a partition with respect to his or her undivided interest in the property of the Company or to compel any sale thereof under any laws now existing or hereinafter enacted.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the undersigned Member has executed this Agreement effective as of the Effective Date.

MEDUCARE TRANSPORT, LLC

First Amendment to Operating Agreement

This First Amendment (the "Amendment") to the Operating Agreement of MEDUCARE TRANSPORT, LLC, an Arkansas limited liability company (the "Company"), is made as of July 19, 2006, by Ascent Acquisition Corporation, an Arkansas corporation (the "Ascent Corporation").

WHEREAS, the Company was formed as a limited liability company under the Act 1003 of 1993 of the Arkansas General Assembly (Ark. Code Ann. § 4-32-101 et seq.), as amended;

WHEREAS, Danette Stewart and Michael Prince, a Virginia corporation (the "Former Members"), were the members of the Company at the time of formation of the Company;

WHEREAS, on the date hereof, the Former Members transferred and assigned to the Ascent Corporation all of their membership interests in the Company; and

WHEREAS, in connection with such transfer, the Ascent Corporation desires to amend the Operating Agreement of the Company, dated as of February 17, 1999 (the "Agreement"), as hereinafter set forth.

NOW, THEREFORE, in consideration of the foregoing, the Ascent Corporation hereby amends the Agreement as follows:

1. Amendments.

(a) Section 4.04(b) of the Agreement is hereby amended by deleting such section and replacing it with the following:

"To the extent permitted by applicable law, the Company shall indemnify and hold harmless each Member or authorized agent from and against all claims, liabilities, obligations, costs and expenses (including reasonable attorney's fees), to the extent resulting from the good faith performance by such Member or authorized agent of duties and services for and on behalf of the Company; provided, however, the foregoing shall not apply to the extent such claim, liability, obligation, cost or expense results from any breach of this Agreement by such Member or authorized agent or is otherwise attributable to the gross negligence or willful misconduct of such Member or authorized agent."

(b) Section 5.01 of the Agreement is hereby amended by deleting such section and replacing it with the following:

"5.01 Management Authority.

Management of the Company shall hereby be vested in the following officers of the Company:

Kevin Sheehan	President
J. Mack Nunn	Treasurer and Secretary

Such officers shall have all requisite authority to bind the Company and each shall be considered an "authorized agent" for purposes of this Agreement."

(c) Section 5.03 of the Agreement is hereby amended by deleting such section and replacing it with the following:

"5.03 Standard of Care.

A Member or authorized agent shall not be liable, responsible or accountable in damages or otherwise to the Company or the other Participants for any action taken, or any failure to act, on behalf of the Company, except to the extent such act or failure to act constitutes a breach of this Agreement or otherwise constitutes gross negligence, willful misconduct, or a knowing violation of law. In discharging any duties, a Member or authorized agent shall be entitle to rely in good faith upon the records maintained by the Company and upon the advice of independent legal counsel, accountants and other professional experts as to matters reasonably believed to be within such other person's professional expertise."

(d) Section 5.04 of the Agreement is hereby amended by deleting the words "[t]he Members agree among themselves that no Member shall, without first obtaining the prior written approval of a Majority in Interest of the Members:" and replacing such words with the following:

"The authorized agents agree that they or any one of them shall not, without first obtaining the approval of a Majority in Interest of the Members:"

(e) Exhibit A to the Agreement is hereby amended as set forth in Exhibit A attached hereto.

2. No Other Changes. Except as amended by this Amendment, the Agreement remains in full force and effect.

3. Effectiveness. This Amendment shall become effective as of the date first set forth above, upon execution hereof by the Ascent Corporation.

4. Governing Law. This Amendment is governed by and shall be construed in accordance with the laws of the state of Arkansas, exclusive of its conflict-of-laws principles.

MEMORIAL HOSPITAL ACQUISITION CORPORATION

BYLAWS

Adopted as of April 24, 2002

Corporate Bylaws

Article I. Definitions

1.01 Code

The Code means the applicable titles, parts, chapters, sections, and other divisions of the state of incorporation's statutory scheme governing the formation and operation of corporations.

1.02 Record Date

Record Date means the date established under the Code on which the corporation determines the identity of its shareholders and their shareholdings. Such determination shall be made as of the close of business on the record date unless another time for doing so is specified when the record date is fixed.

1.03 Voting Group

Voting Group means all shares of one or more classes or series that under the articles of incorporation or the Code are entitled to vote and be counted together collectively on a matter at a meeting of the shareholders. All shares entitled by the articles of incorporation or the Code to vote generally on the matter are for that purpose a single voting group.

1.04 Corporation

Corporation includes any domestic or foreign predecessor entity of the corporation in a merger or other transaction in which the predecessor's existence ceased upon consummation of the transaction.

1.05 Director or Officer

Director or Officer means an individual who is or was (i) a member of the Board of Directors, (ii) an individual elected or appointed by the Board of Directors to serve as an officer, or (iii) a member of any duly constituted Committee of the Board of Directors. "Director" or "officer" includes, unless the context otherwise requires, the estate or personal representative of a director or officer.

1.06 Disinterested Director or Officer

"Disinterested Director" or "Disinterested Officer" means a director or officer who, with respect to a determination of the authorization or non-authorization of an expense advancement or of indemnification, is neither:

(i) the individual whose indemnification or expense advancement is the subject of the decision being made; nor

(ii) An individual having a familial, financial, professional, or employment relationship with the person whose indemnification or advance for expenses is the subject of the decision being made with respect to the proceeding, which relationship would, in the circumstances, reasonably be expected to exert an influence on the director's or officer's judgment when voting on the decision being made.

1.07 Liability

Liability means the obligation to pay a judgment, settlement, penalty, fine (including an excise tax assessed with respect to an employee benefit plan), or reasonable expenses incurred with respect to a

proceeding.

1.08 Official Capacity

When used with respect to a director, Official Capacity means the office of director in the corporation. When used with respect to an officer, Official Capacity means the office in the corporation held by the officer. Official capacity does not Include service for any other domestic or foreign corporation or any partnership, joint venture, trust, employee benefit plan, or other entity.

1.09 Party

Party includes an individual who was, is, or is threatened to be made a named defendant or respondent in a proceeding.

1.10 Proceeding

Proceeding means any threatened, pending, or completed action, suit, or proceeding, whether civil, criminal, administrative, arbitrative, or investigative and whether formal or informal.

Article II. Offices and Agents

2.01 Registered Office and Agent

The corporation shall maintain a registered office and have a registered agent, whose business office address is identical to that of the registered office, in its state of incorporation and in each state in which the corporation is qualified to do business.

2.02 Other Offices

In addition to its registered office, the corporation may have offices at any other place or places, within or without the state of incorporation, as the Board of Directors may from time to time select or as the business of the corporation may require or make desirable.

Article III. Meetings of the Shareholders

3.01 Annual Meetings

An annual meeting of the shareholders shall be held for the election of directors at such date, time, and place, either within or without the state of incorporation, as may be designated by resolution of the Board of Directors from time to time. Such resolution shall designate the date, time, and place of the meeting. Any other proper business may be transacted at the annual meeting. If an annual meeting is not held as provided in this bylaw, any business, including the election of directors, that might properly have been acted upon at that meeting may be acted upon at a special meeting in lieu of the annual meeting held pursuant to these bylaws or held pursuant to a court order.

3.02 Special Meetings

Special meetings of the shareholders may be called for any purpose or purposes at any time by the Board of Directors, or by the President of the corporation, or by a Committee of the Board of Directors that has been duly designated and authorized by resolution of the Board of Directors to call such meetings. In addition, the Board of Directors shall call such a meeting upon the written request of shareholders holding at least twenty percent (20%) of all the votes entitled to be cast on the issue or issues proposed to be considered at the requested special meeting.

3.03 Quorum

With respect to shares entitled to vote as a separate voting group on a matter at a meeting of shareholders, the presence, in person or by proxy, of a majority of the votes entitled to be cast on the matter by the voting group shall constitute a quorum of that voting group for action on that matter unless the articles of incorporation or the Code provide otherwise. Once a share is represented for any purpose at a meeting, other than solely to object to holding the meeting or to transacting business at the meeting, it is deemed present for quorum purposes for the remainder of the meeting and for any adjournment of the meeting unless a new record date is or must be set for the adjourned meeting pursuant to the bylaw governing the fixing of the record date with regard to shareholder action.

3.04 Adjournment and Reconvention

3.05 Presiding Officer

The Chief Executive Officer shall serve as the Presiding Officer of every meeting of shareholders unless another person is elected by the shareholders to serve as Presiding Officer at the meeting. The Presiding Officer shall appoint any persons he deems required to assist with the meeting.

3.06 Vote Required for Action

If a quorum exists, action on a matter (other than the election of directors) by a voting group is approved if the votes cast within the voting group favoring the action exceed the votes cast opposing the action, unless the articles of incorporation, provisions of these bylaws validly adopted by the shareholders, or the Code requires a greater number of affirmative votes. If the articles of incorporation or the Code provide for voting by two or more voting groups on a matter, action on that matter is taken only when voted upon by each of those voting groups counted separately. Action may be taken by one voting group on a matter even though no action is taken by another voting group entitled to vote on the matter. With regard to the election of directors, unless otherwise provided in the articles of incorporation, if a quorum exists, action on the election of directors is taken by a plurality of the votes cast by the shares entitled to vote in the election.

3.07 Shares Held by Another Corporation

Shares standing in the name of another corporation, domestic or foreign, may be voted by such officer, agent, or proxy as the by-laws of such other corporation may prescribe, or, in the absence of such a provision, as the board of directors of such other corporation may determine.

3.08 Method of Voting Shares

Unless the articles of incorporation or the Code provide otherwise, each outstanding share having voting rights shall be entitled to one vote on each matter submitted to a vote at a meeting of the shareholders. Voting on all matters shall be by voice vote or by show of hands unless any qualified voter, prior to the voting on any matter, demands vote by ballot, in which case each ballot shall state the name of the shareholder voting and the number of shares voted by him, and if the ballot be cast by proxy, it shall also state the name of the proxy.

3.09 Proxies

A shareholder entitled to vote on a matter may vote in person or by proxy pursuant to an appointment of proxy executed in writing by the shareholder or by his attorney-in-fact. An appointment of proxy shall be valid for only one meeting to be specified therein, and any adjournments of such meeting, but shall not be valid for more than eleven months unless expressly provided therein. Appointments of proxy shall be dated and filed with the records of the meeting to which they relate. If the validity of any appointment of proxy is questioned, it must be submitted to the secretary of the meeting of shareholders for examination or to a proxy officer or committee appointed by the meeting's presiding officer. The secretary of the meeting or, if appointed, the proxy officer or committee, shall determine the validity or invalidity of any appointment of proxy submitted for examination. Reference in the minutes of the meeting by the secretary or, if appointed, the proxy officer or committee, as to the regularity of an appointment of proxy shall be received as prima facie evidence of the facts stated for the purpose of establishing the presence of a quorum at the meeting and for all other purposes.

3.10 Action Without a Meeting

Any action required or permitted to be taken at a meeting of the shareholders, may be taken without a meeting if the action is taken by all shareholders entitled to vote on the action. Or, if allowed by the articles of incorporation, such action may be taken without a meeting by persons who would be entitled to vote shares having voting power to cast not less than the minimum number (or numbers, in the case of voting by groups) of votes that would be necessary to authorize or take the action at a meeting at which all shareholders entitled to vote were present and voted. The action without a meeting must be evidenced by one or more written consents describing the action taken, signed by shareholders entitled to take action without a meeting, and delivered to the corporation for inclusion in the minutes or filing with the corporate records. The corporation shall give written notice of actions so taken.

3.11 Notice

Unless waived as contemplated in these bylaws, a notice of each meeting of shareholders, stating the date, time, and place of the meeting shall be given not less than ten (10) days nor more than sixty (60) days before the date thereof, to each shareholder entitled to vote at that meeting. In the case of an annual meeting, the notice need not state the purpose or purposes of the meeting unless the articles of incorporation or the Code requires otherwise. In the case of a special meeting, including a special meeting in lieu of an annual meeting, the notice of meeting shall state the purpose or purposes for which the meeting is called.

All corporate powers, which are lawful and do not violate any legal agreement among shareholders and which are not prohibited by the articles of incorporation or these bylaws, shall be exercised by or under the authority of, and the business and affairs of the corporation shall be managed under, the direction of the Board of Directors. The Board of Directors may, by resolution, vote any shares of stock owned by the corporation. Also, the Board of Directors from time to time in its discretion may authorize or declare distributions or share dividends in accordance with the Code.

4.02 Number

The number and composition of the corporation's Board of Directors shall initially be that which is specified in the articles of incorporation. If the articles of incorporation do not specify the number and composition of the Board of Directors, then the Board of Director's shall consist of one member, the Chief Executive Officer of the corporation. Thereafter, the number and composition of the Board of Directors may be changed from time to time by an action of the shareholders.

4.03 Election

Except as provided for in the bylaw addressing vacancies in the Board of Directors, the Directors shall be elected by a vote of the shareholders at each annual meeting of shareholders or special meeting in lieu of the annual meeting.

4.04 Term of Office

Except in the case of death, written resignation, retirement, disqualification, or removal, each director shall serve until the next succeeding annual meeting or special meeting in lieu of an annual meeting and thereafter until his successor is elected and qualifies or until the number of directors is decreased.

4.05 Removal

One or more directors may be removed from office with or without cause by the shareholders by a majority of the votes entitled to be cast. If the director was elected by a voting group, only the shareholders of that voting group may participate in the vote to remove him. Removal action may be taken at any meeting of shareholders with respect to which the notice stated that the purpose, or one of the purposes, of the meeting is removal of the director, and a removed director's successor may be elected at the same meeting.

4.06 Vacancies

A vacancy occurring in the Board of Directors, other than by reason of an increase in the number of directors, shall be filled for the unexpired term by the first to take action of (a) the shareholders or (b) the Board of Directors, and if the directors remaining in office constitute fewer than a quorum of the Board of Directors, they may fill the vacancy by the affirmative vote of a majority of all the directors remaining in office. If the vacant office was held by a director elected by a voting group, only the holders of shares of that voting group or the remaining directors elected by that voting group are entitled to vote to fill the vacancy. A vacancy occurring in the Board of Directors by reason of an increase in the number of directors shall be filled in like manner as any other vacancy, but, if filled by action of the Board of Directors, shall only be for a term of office continuing until the next election of directors by the shareholders and until the election and qualification of a successor.

4.07 Committees

The Board of Directors, by resolution, may designate from among its members an executive committee and one or more other committees, each consisting of one or more directors all of whom serve at the pleasure of the Board of Directors. Except as limited by the Code, each committee shall have the authority set forth in the resolution establishing the committee. The provisions of these bylaws as to the Board of Directors and its deliberations shall be applicable to any committee of the Board of Directors. All decisions and actions of any committee created by these bylaws or resulting from the authority granted by these bylaws, shall be subject to the discretionary review and approval of the Board of Directors.

4.08 Compensation

Unless the articles of incorporation provide otherwise, the Board of Directors may determine from time to time the compensation, if any, directors may receive for their services as directors. A director may also serve the corporation in a capacity other than that of director and receive compensation, as determined by the Board of Directors, for services rendered in such other capacity.

Article V. Meetings of the Board of Directors

5.01 Regular Meetings

Regular meetings of the Board of Directors shall be held immediately after the annual meeting of shareholders or a special meeting in lieu of the annual meeting. In addition, the Board of Directors may schedule other meetings to occur at regular intervals throughout the year.

5.02 Special Meetings

Special meetings of the Board of Directors may be called by or at the request of the Chief Executive Officer of the corporation, by the sole director of the board or, if the board consists of more than one director, by any two directors in office at that time.

5.03 Quorums

Unless a greater number is required by the articles of incorporation, these bylaws, or the Code, a quorum of the Board of Directors consists of a majority of the total number of directors.

5.04 Adjournments

Whether or not a quorum is present to organize a meeting, any meeting of directors (including an adjourned meeting) may be adjourned by a majority of the directors present to reconvene at a specific time and place. At any reconvened meeting, any business may be transacted that could have been transacted at the meeting that was adjourned. It shall not be necessary to give any notice of the reconvened meeting or of the business to be transacted, if the date, time and place of the reconvened meeting are announced at the meeting that was adjourned.

5.05 Action Without a Meeting

Unless the Code, the articles of incorporation, or these bylaws provide otherwise, any action required or permitted to be taken at any meeting of the Board of Directors, or any action that may be taken at a meeting of an authorized committee of the Board of Directors, may be taken without a meeting if the action is taken by all the members of the Board of Directors (or of the committee, as the case may be). The action must be evidenced by one or more written consents describing the action taken, signed by each director (or each director serving on the committee, as the case may be), and delivered to the corporation for inclusion in the minutes or filing with the corporate records.

5.06 Meetings by Telephone

Any or all directors may participate in a meeting of the Board of Directors, and members of an authorized committee of the Board of Directors may participate in a meeting of the committee (as the case may be), through the use of any means of communication by which all directors participating may simultaneously hear each other during the meeting.

5.07 Place of Meetings

Directors may hold their meetings at any place within or without the state of incorporation, as the Board of Directors may from time to time establish for regular meetings or as set forth in the notice of special meetings or, in the event of a meeting held pursuant to waiver of notice, as set forth in the waiver.

5.08 Notice of Meetings

No notice shall be required for any regularly scheduled meeting of the directors. Unless waived as contemplated in these bylaws, each director shall be given at least five day's notice of each special meeting stating the date, time, and place of the meeting. It is not required that the purpose of a Directors' meeting be stated in any notice of such a meeting, whether the meeting is a regular or a special meeting.

5.09 Vote Required for Action

If a quorum is present when a vote is taken, the affirmative vote of a majority of directors present is the act of the Board of Directors unless the Code, the articles of incorporation, or these bylaws require the vote of a greater number of directors.

A director who is present at a meeting of the Board of Directors, or an authorized committee of the Board of Directors, when corporate action is taken is deemed to have assented to the action taken unless:

(i) he objects at the beginning of the meeting (or promptly upon his arrival) to holding the meeting or to transacting business at the meeting,

(ii) his dissent or abstention from the action taken is entered in the minutes of the meeting, or

(iii) he delivers written notice of his dissent or abstention to the presiding officer of the meeting before its adjournment or to the corporation immediately after adjournment of the meeting.

The right of dissent or abstention is not available to a director who votes in favor of the action taken.

Article VI. Shareholder and Director Notices

6.1 Delivery of Notice

Whenever these bylaws require notice to be given to any shareholder or director, the notice shall be given in accordance with this bylaw. Notice under these bylaws shall be in writing unless oral notice is reasonable under the circumstances. Any notice to directors may be written or oral. Notice may be communicated in person, by telephone, telegraph, teletype, other form of wire or wireless communication, or by mail or private carrier. If these forms of personal notice are impracticable, notice may be communicated by a newspaper of general circulation In the area where published, or by radio, television, or other form of public broadcast communication. Written notice to the shareholders, if in a comprehensible form, is effective when mailed, if mailed with first-class postage prepaid and correctly addressed to the shareholder's address shown in the corporation's current record of shareholders.

6.2 When Effective

Except as otherwise provided in this bylaw, written notice, if in a comprehensible form, is effective at the earliest of the following:

(i) when received or when delivered, properly addressed, to the addressee's last known principal place of business or residence;

(ii) five days after deposit in the mail, as evidenced by the postmark, if mailed with first-class postage prepaid and correctly addressed, or

(iii) on the date shown on the return receipt, if sent by registered or certified mail, return receipt requested, and the receipt is signed by or on behalf of the addressee.

Oral notice is effective when communicated if communicated in a comprehensible manner.

In calculating time periods for notice, when a period of time measured in days, weeks, months, years, or other measurement of time is prescribed for the exercise of any privilege or the discharge of any duty, the first day shall not be counted but the last day shall be counted.

6.3 Waiver

A shareholder or director may waive any notice before or after the date and time stated in the notice. Except as provided in this bylaw, the waiver must be in writing, be signed by the shareholder or director entitled to the notice, and be delivered to the corporation for inclusion in the minutes or filing with the corporate records.

A shareholder's attendance at a meeting (i) waives objection to lack of notice or defective notice of the meeting, unless the shareholder at the beginning of the meeting objects to holding the meeting or transacting business at the meeting; and (ii) waives objection to consideration of a particular matter at the meeting that is not within the purpose or purposes described in the meeting notice, unless the shareholder objects to considering the matter when it is presented.

A director's attendance at or participation in a meeting waives any required notice to him of the meeting unless the director at the beginning of the meeting (or promptly upon his arrival) objects to holding the meeting or transacting business at the meeting and does not thereafter vote for or assent to action taken at the meeting.

6.4 Notice Following Adjournment

If notice of an adjourned meeting of the shareholders or of the directors was properly given, it shall not be necessary to give any notice of the reconvened meeting or of the business to be transacted, if the date, time and place of the reconvened meeting are announced at the meeting that was adjourned and before adjournment; provided, however, that if a new record date of shares is or must be fixed, notice of the reconvened meeting must be given to persons who are shareholders as of the new record date.

7.01 Number

The officers of the corporation shall consist of a Board Chairman, a President, a Secretary, a Treasurer, and any other officers as may be appointed by the Board of Directors or by an other duly appointed officer pursuant to these bylaws. The Board of Directors shall from time to time create and establish the duties of the other officers. Any two or more offices may be held by the same person.

7.02 Chairman of Board

The Chairman of the Board of Directors shall preside at all meetings of the Board of Directors and shall have authority to execute bonds, mortgages, and other contracts requiring a seal, under the seal of the corporation; to endorse, when sold, assigned, transferred, or otherwise disposed of by the corporation, all certificates or shares of stock, bonds, or other securities issued by other corporations, associations, trusts, whether public or private, or by any government agency thereof, and owned or held by the corporation, and to make, execute, and deliver all instruments or assignments of transfer of any such stocks, bonds, or other securities. The Chairman of the Board may, with the approval of the Board of Directors, or shall, at the direction of the Board of Directors, delegate any or all of such duties to the President.

7.03 President

The President shall be the Chief Executive Officer of the corporation and shall have general supervision of the business of the corporation. The President shall see that all orders and resolutions of the Board of Directors are carried into effect. The President shall perform such other duties as may from time to time be delegated by the Board of Directors. In the absence of the Chairman of the Board, the President shall have authority to do any and all things delegated to the Chairman of the Board of Directors.

7.04 Vice President

7.05 Secretary

The Secretary shall be responsible for preparing minutes of the acts and proceedings of all meetings of the shareholders, the Board of Directors, and any Committees thereof. The Secretary shall have authority to give all notices required by the Code or these bylaws. The Secretary shall be responsible for the custody of the corporate books, records, contracts, and other documents. The Secretary may affix the corporate seal to any lawfully executed documents and shall sign any instruments as may require his or her signature. The Secretary shall authenticate records of the corporation. The Secretary shall perform whatever additional duties and have whatever additional powers the Board of Directors may from time to time assign. In the absence or disability of the Secretary or at the direction of the President, any assistant secretary may perform the duties and exercise the powers of the Secretary.

7.06 Treasurer

The Treasurer shall be responsible for the custody of all funds and securities belonging to the corporation and for the receipt, deposit, or disbursement of funds and securities under the direction of the Board of Directors. The Treasurer shall cause to be maintained full and true accounts of all receipts and disbursements and shall make reports of the same to the Board of Directors and the President upon request. The Treasurer shall perform all duties as may be assigned to him from time to time by the Board of Directors.

7.07 Appointment, Term, and Removal

All officers shall be appointed by the Board of Directors or by a duly appointed officer pursuant to these bylaws and shall serve at the pleasure of the Board of Directors or the appointing officers, as the case may be. All officers, however appointed, may be removed with or without cause by the Board of Directors, and any officer appointed by another officer may also be removed by the appointing officer with or without cause.

7.08 Compensation

The compensation of all officers of the corporation appointed by the Board of Directors shall be fixed by the Board of Directors.

7.09 Bonds

The Board of Directors may, by resolution, require any or all of the officers, agents, or employees of the corporation to give bonds to the corporation, with sufficient surety or sureties, conditioned on the faithful performance of the duties of their respective offices or positions, and to comply with any other conditions as from time to time may be required by the Board of Directors.

8.01 Basic Indemnification Arrangement

Except as provided in these bylaws, the corporation shall indemnify an individual who is a party to a proceeding because he or she is or was a director or officer against liability incurred in the proceeding if:

(i) Such Director or Officer conducted himself in good faith and reasonably believed:

(a) In the case of conduct in his or her official capacity, that such conduct was in the best interests of the corporation;

(b) In all other cases, that such conduct was at least not opposed to the best interests of the corporation; and

(c) In the case of any criminal proceeding, that the individual had no reasonable cause to believe such conduct was unlawful, or

(ii) Such Director's or Officer's conduct with respect to an employee benefit plan, which is the subject of the proceeding, was for a purpose he believed in good faith to be in the interests of the participants in and beneficiaries of the plan.

The termination of a proceeding by judgment, order, settlement, or conviction, or upon a plea of nolo contendere or its equivalent is not, of itself, determinative that the director or officer did not meet the requisite standard of conduct described in this bylaw.

The corporation may not Indemnify a director or officer under this Article:

(i) In connection with a proceeding by or in the right of the corporation, except for reasonable expenses incurred in connection with the proceeding if it is determined that the director or officer has met the requisite standard of conduct under this bylaw; or

(ii) In connection with any proceeding with respect to conduct for which he or she was adjudged liable on the basis that personal benefit was improperly received by him or her, whether or not involving action in his or her official capacity.

8.02 Advances for Expenses

The corporation may, before final disposition of a proceeding, advance funds to pay for or reimburse the reasonable expenses, including counsel fees, incurred by a director or officer who is a party to a proceeding because he or she is a director or officer if he or she delivers to the corporation:

(i) A written affirmation of his or her good faith belief that he or she has met the requisite standard of conduct described in the Basic Indemnification Arrangement bylaw or that the proceeding involves conduct for which such person's liability has been eliminated under the corporation's articles of incorporation; and

(ii) His or her written undertaking to repay any funds advanced if it is ultimately determined that the director or officer is not entitled to indemnification under this Article or the Code. This undertaking to repay must be an unlimited general obligation of the director or officer but need not be secured and may be accepted without reference to the financial ability of the director or officer to make repayment.

Authorizations for expense advancements shall be made:

(i) By the board of directors:

(a) by a majority vote of a quorum consisting of disinterested directors, or

(b) if such a quorum is not obtainable (or is obtainable and a majority vote of a quorum of disinterested directors so directs), by independent legal counsel in a written opinion; or

(ii) By a majority vote of the shareholders; however, shares owned or voted under the control of a director or officer who at the time does not qualify as a disinterested director or disinterested officer with respect to the proceeding may not be voted on the authorization.

8.03 Court-Ordered Indemnification and Advances for Expenses

A director or officer who is a party to a proceeding because he or she is a director or officer may apply for indemnification or advance for expenses to the court conducting the proceeding or to another court of competent jurisdiction. Pursuant to the Code, after receipt of an application and after giving any notice it considers necessary, the court shall:

(i) Order indemnification or advance for expenses if it determines that the director or officer is entitled to indemnification; or

(ii) Order indemnification or advance for expenses if it determines, in view of all the relevant circumstances, that it is fair and reasonable to indemnify the director or officer, or to advance expenses to the director or officer, even if the director or officer has not met the relevant standard of conduct, failed to comply with the requirements for advance of expenses, or was adjudged liable on the basis that personal benefit was improperly received by him or her, whether or not Involving action In his or her official capacity.

However, if the director or officer was adjudged so liable, the indemnification shall be limited to reasonable expenses incurred in connection with the proceeding.

If the court determines that the director or officer is entitled to indemnification or advance for expenses, it may also order the corporation to pay the director's or officer's reasonable expenses to obtain court-ordered indemnification or advance for expenses.

8.04 Determination and Authorization of Indemnification

The corporation acknowledges that indemnification of a director or officer according to these bylaws has been pre-authorized by the corporation as permitted by the Code. Nevertheless, the corporation shall not indemnify a director or officer under these bylaws unless a determination has been made for the specific proceeding that indemnification of the director or officer is permissible in the circumstances because he or she has met the relevant standard of conduct set forth in the Basic Indemnification Arrangement. However, regardless of the result or absence of any such determination, the corporation shall indemnify a director or officer who was wholly successful, on the merits or otherwise, in the defense of any proceeding to which he or she was a party because he or she was a director or officer of the corporation against reasonable expenses incurred by the director or officer in connection with the proceeding.

The determination of indemnification shall be made:

(i) by the board of directors:

  (a) by a majority vote of a quorum consisting of disinterested directors; or

  (b) if such a quorum is not obtainable or is obtainable and a majority vote of a quorum of disinterested directors so directs, by independent legal counsel in a written opinion; or

(ii) by a majority vote of the shareholders, but shares owned by or voted under the control of a director or officer who at the time does not qualify as a disinterested director or disinterested officer may not be voted on the determination.

As acknowledged above, the corporation has pre-authorized the indemnification of directors and officers hereunder, subject to a determination for a specific proceeding that the director or officer met the relevant standard of conduct under the Basic Indemnification Arrangement. Consequently, no further decision need or shall be made on a case-by-case basis as to the authorization of the corporation's indemnification of directors or officers hereunder. Nevertheless, evaluation as to reasonableness of expenses of a director or officer for a specific proceeding shall be made in the same manner as the determination that indemnification is permissible, except that if there are fewer than two disinterested directors or If the determination is made by special legal counsel, evaluation as to reasonableness of expenses shall be made by the Board of Directors, the members of which may or may not be disinterested.

8.05 Indemnification of Employees and Agents

The corporation may indemnify and advance expenses under these bylaws to an employee or agent of the corporation who is not a director or officer to the extent, consistent with public policy, that such indemnification and advances may be provided to a director or officer.

8.06 Shareholder Approved Indemnification

If authorized by the articles of incorporation, the bylaws, or by a contract or resolution approved or ratified by the shareholders of the corporation by a majority of the votes entitled to be cast, the corporation may indemnify or obligate itself to indemnify a director or officer made a party to a proceeding, including a proceeding brought by or in the right of the corporation, without regard to the limitations in other sections of these bylaws, but shares owned or voted under the control of a director or officer who at the time of such authorization does not qualify as a disinterested director or disinterested officer with respect to any existing or threatened proceeding that would be covered by the authorization may not be voted on the authorization.

Nevertheless, the corporation shall not indemnify a director or officer under this bylaw for any liability incurred in a proceeding in which the director or officer is adjudged liable to the corporation or is subjected to injunctive relief in favor of the corporation:

(i) for any appropriation, in violation of his or her duties, of any business opportunity of the corporation,

(ii) for acts or omissions which involve intentional misconduct or a knowing violation of law,

(iii) for assenting to an unlawful distribution as defined in the Code, or

(iv) for any transaction from which he or she received an improper personal benefit.

Where approved or authorized according to this bylaw, the corporation may advance or reimburse expenses incurred in advance of final disposition of the proceeding only if

(i) The director or officer furnishes the corporation a written affirmation of his or her good faith belief that his or her conduct does not constitute behavior of the kind described in this bylaw which would prevent Indemnification; and

(ii) The director or officer furnishes the corporation a written undertaking, executed personally or on his or her behalf, to repay any advances if it is ultimately determined that he or she is not entitled to indemnification under this bylaw.

8.07 insurance

The corporation may purchase and maintain insurance on behalf of an individual

(i) who is a director, officer, employee, or agent of the corporation, or

against liability asserted against or incurred by him or her in that capacity or arising from his or her status as a director, officer, employee, or agent, whether or not the corporation would have power to indemnify or advance expenses to him or her against the same liability under these bylaws or the Code.

8.09 Witness Fees

Nothing in these bylaws shall limit the corporation’s power to pay or reimburse expenses incurred by a director or officer in connection with his or her appearance as a witness in a proceeding at a time when he or she is not a party.

8.10 Report to Shareholders

To the extent and in the manner required by the Code from time to time, if the corporation indemnifies or advances expenses to a director or officer in connection with a proceeding by or in the right of the corporation, the corporation shall report the indemnification or advance to the shareholders.

8.11 Effect of Amendments

No amendment, modification, or rescission of these bylaws, or any provision of the bylaws, the effect of which would diminish the rights to indemnification or advancement of expenses as set forth herein shall be effective as to any person with respect to any action taken or omitted by such person prior to such amendment, modification or rescission.

9.01 Authorization and Issuance

In accordance with the Code, the Board of Directors may authorize shares of any class or series provided for in the corporation's Articles of Incorporation to be issued for any consideration valid under the provisions of the Code. To the extent provided in the Articles of Incorporation, the Board of Directors shall determine the preferences, limitations, and relative rights of the shares.

9.02 Form

The interest of each shareholder in the corporation shall be evidenced by a certificate or certificates representing shares of the corporation which shall be in such form as the Board of Directors from time to time may adopt. Share certificates shall be numbered consecutively, shall be in registered form, shall indicate the date of issuance, the name of the corporation, that it is organized under the laws of the state of incorporation, the name of the shareholder, the number and class of shares, and the designation of the series, if any, represented by the certificate. Each certificate shall be signed by any one of the President, a Vice President, the Secretary, or the Treasurer. The corporate seal need not be affixed.

9.03 Registered Shareholders

Prior to due presentation for transfer of registration of its shares, the corporation may treat the registered owner of the shares as the person exclusively entitled to vote the shares, to receive any share dividend or distribution with respect to the shares, and for all other purposes. The corporation shall not be bound to recognize any equitable or other claim to or interest in the shares on the part of any other person, whether or not it shall have express or other notice thereof, except as otherwise provided by law.

9.04 Transfer of Shares

Transfers of shares shall be made upon the transfer books of the corporation, kept at the principle office of the corporation (or at the office of the transfer agent designated to transfer the shares, if any) only upon direction of the person named in the certificate, or by his or her attorney lawfully constituted in writing. Before a new certificate is issued, the old certificate shall be surrendered for cancellation or, in the case of a certificate alleged to have been lost, stolen, or destroyed, the requirements of the bylaw governing lost, stolen, or destroyed certificates shall have been met.

For the purpose of determining shareholders entitled to notice of a shareholders' meeting, to demand a special meeting, to vote, or to take any other action, the Board of Directors may fix a future date as the record date, which date shall be not more than seventy (70) days prior to the date on which the particular action requiring a determination of shareholders is to be taken. A determination of shareholders entitled to notice of or to vote at a shareholders' meeting is effective for any adjournment of the meeting unless the Board of Directors fixes a new record date, which it must do if the meeting is adjourned to a date more than 120 days after the date fixed for the original meeting. If no record date is fixed by the Board of Directors, the record date shall be determined in accordance with the provisions of the Code.

For the purpose of determining shareholders entitled to a distribution (other than one involving a purchase, redemption, or other reacquisition of the corporation's shares) or a share dividend, the Board of Directors may fix a date as the record date. if no record date is fixed by the Board of Directors, the record date shall be determined in accordance with the provisions of the Code.

9.06 Lost, Stolen, or Destroyed Certificates

Any person claiming a share certificate to be lost, stolen, or destroyed shall make an affidavit or affirmation of the fact in the manner required by the Board of Directors and, if the Board of Directors requires, shall give the corporation a bond of indemnity in form and amount, and with one or more sureties satisfactory to the Board of Directors, as the Board of Directors may require, whereupon an appropriate new certificate may be issued in lieu of the one alleged to have been lost, stolen or destroyed.

The fiscal year of the corporation shall be a twelve-month period, beginning January 1 and ending on December 31 each year, unless the Board of Directors, by resolution, fixes the fiscal year as an other time period.

10.02 Corporate Seal

If the Board of Directors determines that there should be a corporate seal for the corporation, it shall be in the form as the Board of Directors may from time to time determine.

10.03 Corporate Records

The Board of Directors shall have the power to determine which accounts, books, and records of the corporation shall be opened to the inspection of the shareholders, except those as may by law specifically be made open to inspection. The Board of Directors shall have the power to fix reasonable rules and regulations not in conflict with the applicable law for the inspection of accounts, books, and records which by law or by determination of the Board of Directors shall be open to inspection.

10.04 Annual Financial Statements

In accordance with the Code, the corporation shall prepare and provide to the shareholders such financial statements as may be required by the Code.

10.05 Amendments

The Board of Directors shall have the power to alter, amend, or repeal these bylaws or adopt new bylaws, but any bylaws adopted by the Board of Directors may be altered, amended, or repealed, and new bylaws adopted, by the shareholders. The shareholders may prescribe, by expressing in the action they take in adopting or amending any bylaw or bylaws, that the bylaw or bylaws so adopted or amended shall not be altered, amended or repealed by the Board of Directors.

10.06 Conflict with Articles of Incorporation or Law; Severability

In the event that any provision of these bylaws conflicts with any provision of the Articles of Incorporation, the Articles of Incorporation shall govern. In the event that any of the provisions of these bylaws (including any provision within a single section, subsection, division or sentence) is held by a court of competent jurisdiction to be invalid, void, or otherwise unenforceable, the remaining provisions of the bylaws shall remain enforceable to the fullest extent permitted by law.

Corporate Bylaws

Article I. Definitions

1.01 Code

The Code means the applicable titles, parts, chapters, sections, and other divisions of the state of incorporation's statutory scheme governing the formation and operation of corporations.

1.02 Record Date

Record Date means the date established under the Code on which the corporation determines the identity of its shareholders and their shareholdings. Such determination shall be made as of the close of business on the record date unless another time for doing so is specified when the record date is fixed.

1.03 Voting Group

Voting Group means all shares of one or more classes or series that under the articles of incorporation or the Code are entitled to vote and be counted together collectively on a matter at a meeting of the shareholders. All shares entitled by the articles of incorporation or the Code to vote generally on the matter are for that purpose a single voting group.

1.04 Corporation

Corporation includes any domestic or foreign predecessor entity of the corporation in a merger or other transaction in which the predecessor's existence ceased upon consummation of the transaction.

1.05 Director or Officer

Director or Officer means an individual who is or was (i) a member of the Board of Directors, (ii) an individual elected or appointed by the Board of Directors to serve as an officer, or (iii) a member of any duly constituted Committee of the Board of Directors. "Director" or "officer" includes, unless the context otherwise requires, the estate or personal representative of a director or officer.

1.06 Disinterested Director or Officer

"Disinterested Director" or "Disinterested Officer" means a director or officer who, with respect to a determination of the authorization or non-authorization of an expense advancement or of indemnification, is neither:

(i) the individual whose indemnification or expense advancement is the subject of the decision being made; nor

(ii) An individual having a familial, financial, professional, or employment relationship with the person whose indemnification or advance for expenses is the subject of the decision being made with respect to the proceeding, which relationship would, in the circumstances, reasonably be expected to exert an influence on the director's or officer's judgment when voting on the decision being made.

1.07 Liability

Liability means the obligation to pay a judgment, settlement, penalty, fine (including an excise tax assessed with respect to an employee benefit plan), or reasonable expenses incurred with respect to a proceeding.

1.08 Official Capacity

When used with respect to a director, Official Capacity means the office of director in the corporation. When used with respect to an officer, Official Capacity means the office in the corporation held by the officer. Official capacity does not include service for any other domestic or foreign corporation or any partnership, joint venture, trust, employee benefit plan, or other entity.

1.09 Party

Party Includes an individual who was, is, or is threatened to be made a named defendant or respondent in a proceeding.

1.10 Proceeding

Proceeding means any threatened, pending, or completed action, suit, or proceeding, whether civil, criminal, administrative, arbitrative, or investigative and whether formal or informal.

Article II. Offices and Agents

2.01 Registered Office and Agent

The corporation shall maintain a registered office and have a registered agent, whose business office address is identical to that of the registered office, in its state of incorporation and in each state in which the corporation is qualified to do business.

2.02 Other Offices

In addition to its registered office, the corporation may have offices at any other place or places, within or without the state of incorporation, as the Board of Directors may from time to time select or as the business of the corporation may require or make desirable.

Article III. Meetings of the Shareholders

3.01 Annual Meetings

An annual meeting of the shareholders shall be held for the election of directors at such date, time, and place, either within or without the state of incorporation, as may be designated by resolution of the Board of Directors from time to time. Such resolution shall designate the date, time, and place of the meeting. Any other proper business may be transacted at the annual meeting. If an annual meeting is not held as provided in this bylaw, any business, including the election of directors, that might properly have been acted upon at that meeting may be acted upon at a special meeting in lieu of the annual meeting held pursuant to these bylaws or held pursuant to a court order.

3.02 Special Meetings

Special meetings of the shareholders may be called for any purpose or purposes at any time by the Board of Directors, or by the President of the corporation, or by a Committee of the Board of Directors that has been duly designated and authorized by resolution of the Board of Directors to call such meetings. In addition, the Board of Directors shall call such a meeting upon the written request of shareholders holding at least twenty percent (20%) of all the votes entitled to be cast on the issue or issues proposed to be considered at the requested special meeting.

3.03 Quorum

With respect to shares entitled to vote as a separate voting group on a matter at a meeting of shareholders, the presence, in person or by proxy, of a majority of the votes entitled to be cast on the matter by the voting group shall constitute a quorum of that voting group for action on that matter unless the articles of incorporation or the Code provide otherwise. Once a share is represented for any purpose at a meeting, other than solely to object to holding the meeting or to transacting business at the meeting, it is deemed present for quorum purposes for the remainder of the meeting and for any adjournment of the meeting unless a new record date is or must be set for the adjourned meeting pursuant to the bylaw governing the fixing of the record date with regard to shareholder action.

3.04 Adjournment and Reconvention

3.05 Presiding Officer

The Chief Executive Officer shall serve as the Presiding Officer of every meeting of shareholders unless another person is elected by the shareholders to serve as Presiding Officer at the meeting. The Presiding Officer shall appoint any persons he deems required to assist with the meeting.

3.06 Vote Required for Action

If a quorum exists, action on a matter (other than the election of directors) by a voting group is approved if the votes cast within the voting group favoring the action exceed the votes cast opposing the action, unless the articles of incorporation, provisions of these bylaws validly adopted by the shareholders, or the Code requires a greater number of affirmative votes. If the articles of incorporation or the Code provide for voting by two or more voting groups on a matter, action on that matter is taken only when voted upon by each of those voting groups counted separately. Action may be taken by one voting group on a matter even though no action is taken by another voting group entitled to vote on the matter. With regard to the election of directors, unless otherwise provided in the articles of incorporation, if a quorum exists, action on the election of directors is taken by a plurality of the votes cast by the shares entitled to vote in the election.

3.07 Shares Held by Another Corporation

Shares standing in the name of another corporation, domestic or foreign, may be voted by such officer, agent, or proxy as the by-laws of such other corporation may prescribe, or, in the absence of such a provision, as the board of directors of such other corporation may determine.

3.08 Method of Voting Shares

Unless the articles of incorporation or the Code provide otherwise, each outstanding share having voting rights shall be entitled to one vote on each matter submitted to a vote at a meeting of the shareholders. Voting on all matters shall be by voice vote or by show of hands unless any qualified voter, prior to the voting on any matter, demands vote by ballot, in which case each ballot shall state the name of the shareholder voting and the number of shares voted by him, and if the ballot be cast by proxy, it shall also state the name of the proxy.

3.09 Proxies

A shareholder entitled to vote on a matter may vote in person or by proxy pursuant to an appointment of proxy executed in writing by the shareholder or by his attorney-in-fact. An appointment of proxy shall be valid for only one meeting to be specified therein, and any adjournments of such meeting, but shall not be valid for more than eleven months unless expressly provided therein. Appointments of proxy shall be dated and filed with the records of the meeting to which they relate. If the validity of any appointment of proxy is questioned, it must be submitted to the secretary of the meeting of shareholders for examination or to a proxy officer or committee appointed by the meeting's presiding officer. The secretary of the meeting or, if appointed, the proxy officer or committee, shall determine the validity or invalidity of any appointment of proxy submitted for examination. Reference in the minutes of the meeting by the secretary or, if appointed, the proxy officer or committee, as to the regularity of an appointment of proxy shall be received as prima facie evidence of the facts stated for the purpose of establishing the presence of a quorum at the meeting and for all other purposes.

3.10 Action Without a Meeting

Any action required or permitted to be taken at a meeting of the shareholders, may be taken without a meeting if the action is taken by all shareholders entitled to vote on the action. Or, if allowed by the articles of incorporation, such action may be taken without a meeting by persons who would be entitled to vote shares having voting power to cast not less than the minimum number (or numbers, in the case of voting by groups) of votes that would be necessary to authorize or take the action at a meeting at which all shareholders entitled to vote were present and voted. The action without a meeting must be evidenced by one or more written consents describing the action taken, signed by shareholders entitled to take action without a meeting, and delivered to the corporation for inclusion in the minutes or filing with the corporate records. The corporation shall give written notice of actions so taken.

3.11 Notice

Unless waived as contemplated in these bylaws, a notice of each meeting of shareholders, stating the date, time, and place of the meeting shall be given not less than ten (10) days nor more than sixty (60) days before the date thereof, to each shareholder entitled to vote at that meeting. In the case of an annual meeting, the notice need not state the purpose or purposes of the meeting unless the articles of incorporation or the Code requires otherwise. In the case of a special meeting, including a special meeting in lieu of an annual meeting, the notice of meeting shall state the purpose or purposes for which the meeting is called.

All corporate powers, which are lawful and do not violate any legal agreement among shareholders and which are not prohibited by the articles of incorporation or these bylaws, shall be exercised by or under the authority of, and the business and affairs of the corporation shall be managed under, the direction of the Board of Directors. The Board of Directors may, by resolution, vote any shares of stock owned by the corporation. Also, the Board of Directors from time to time in its discretion may authorize or declare distributions or share dividends in accordance with the Code.

4.02 Number

The number and composition of the corporation's Board of Directors shall initially be that which is specified in the articles of incorporation. If the articles of incorporation do not specify the number and composition of the Board of Directors, then the Board of Director's shall consist of one member, the

Chief Executive Officer of the corporation. Thereafter, the number and composition of the Board of Directors may be changed from time to time by an action of the shareholders.

4.03 Election

Except as provided for in the bylaw addressing vacancies in the Board of Directors, the Directors shall be elected by a vote of the shareholders at each annual meeting of shareholders or special meeting in lieu of the annual meeting.

4.04 Term of Office

Except in the case of death, written resignation, retirement, disqualification, or removal, each director shall serve until the next succeeding annual meeting or special meeting in lieu of an annual meeting and thereafter until his successor is elected and qualifies or until the number of directors is decreased.

4.05 Removal

One or more directors may be removed from office with or without cause by the shareholders by a majority of the votes entitled to be cast. If the director was elected by a voting group, only the shareholders of that voting group may participate in the vote to remove him. Removal action may be taken at any meeting of shareholders with respect to which the notice stated that the purpose, or one of the purposes, of the meeting is removal of the director, and a removed director's successor may be elected at the same meeting.

4.06 Vacancies

A vacancy occurring in the Board of Directors, other than by reason of an increase in the number of directors, shall be filled for the unexpired term by the first to take action of (a) the shareholders or (b) the Board of Directors, and if the directors remaining in office constitute fewer than a quorum of the Board of Directors, they may fill the vacancy by the affirmative vote of a majority of all the directors remaining in office. If the vacant office was held by a director elected by a voting group, only the holders of shares of that voting group or the remaining directors elected by that voting group are entitled to vote to fill the vacancy. A vacancy occurring in the Board of Directors by reason of an increase in the number of directors shall be filled in like manner as any other vacancy, but, if filled by action of the Board of Directors, shall only be for a term of office continuing until the next election of directors by the shareholders and until the election and qualification of a successor.

4.07 Committees

The Board of Directors, by resolution, may designate from among its members an executive committee and one or more other committees, each consisting of one or more directors all of whom serve at the pleasure of the Board of Directors. Except as limited by the Code, each committee shall have the authority set forth in the resolution establishing the committee. The provisions of these bylaws as to the Board of Directors and its deliberations shall be applicable to any committee of the Board of Directors. All decisions and actions of any committee created by these bylaws or resulting from the authority granted by these bylaws, shall be subject to the discretionary review and approval of the Board of Directors.

4.08 Compensation

Unless the articles of incorporation provide otherwise, the Board of Directors may determine from time to time the compensation, if any, directors may receive for their services as directors. A director may also serve the corporation in a capacity other than that of director and receive compensation, as determined by the Board of Directors, for services rendered in such other capacity.

Article V. Meetings of the Board of Directors

5.01 Regular Meetings

Regular meetings of the Board of Directors shall be held immediately after the annual meeting of shareholders or a special meeting in lieu of the annual meeting. In addition, the Board of Directors may schedule other meetings to occur at regular intervals throughout the year.

5.02 Special Meetings

Special meetings of the Board of Directors may be called by or at the request of the Chief Executive Officer of the corporation, by the sole director of the board or, if the board consists of more than one director, by any two directors in office at that time.

5.03 Quorums

Unless a greater number is required by the articles of incorporation, these bylaws, or the Code, a quorum of the Board of Directors consists of a majority of the total number of directors.

5.04 Adjournments

Whether or not a quorum is present to organize a meeting, any meeting of directors (including an adjourned meeting) may be adjourned by a majority of the directors present to reconvene at a specific time and place. At any reconvened meeting, any business may be transacted that could have been transacted at the meeting that was adjourned. It shall not be necessary to give any notice of the reconvened meeting or of the business to be transacted, if the date, time and place of the reconvened meeting are announced at the meeting that was adjourned.

5.05 Action Without a Meeting

Unless the Code, the articles of incorporation, or these bylaws provide otherwise, any action required or permitted to be taken at any meeting of the Board of Directors, or any action that may be taken at a meeting of an authorized committee of the Board of Directors, may be taken without a meeting if the action is taken by all the members of the Board of Directors (or of the committee, as the case may be). The action must be evidenced by one or more written consents describing the action taken, signed by each director (or each director serving on the committee, as the case may be), and delivered to the corporation for inclusion in the minutes or filing with the corporate records.

5.06 Meetings by Telephone

Any or all directors may participate in a meeting of the Board of Directors, and members of an authorized committee of the Board of Directors may participate in a meeting of the committee (as the case may be), through the use of any means of communication by which all directors participating may simultaneously hear each other during the meeting.

5.07 Place of Meetings

Directors may hold their meetings at any place within or without the state of incorporation, as the Board of Directors may from time to time establish for regular meetings or as set forth in the notice of special meetings or, in the event of a meeting held pursuant to waiver of notice, as set forth in the

waiver.

5.08 Notice of Meetings

No notice shall be required for any regularly scheduled meeting of the directors. Unless waived as contemplated in these bylaws, each director shall be given at least five day's notice of each special meeting stating the date, time, and place of the meeting. It is not required that the purpose of a Directors' meeting be stated in any notice of such a meeting, whether the meeting is a regular or a special meeting.

5.09 Vote Required for Action

If a quorum is present when a vote is taken, the affirmative vote of a majority of directors present is the act of the Board of Directors unless the Code, the articles of incorporation, or these bylaws require the vote of a greater number of directors.

A director who is present at a meeting of the Board of Directors, or an authorized committee of the Board of Directors, when corporate action is taken is deemed to have assented to the action taken unless;

(i) he objects at the beginning of the meeting (or promptly upon his arrival) to holding the meeting or to transacting business at the meeting,

(ii) his dissent or abstention from the action taken is entered in the minutes of the meeting, or

(iii) he delivers written notice of his dissent or abstention to the presiding officer of the meeting before its adjournment or to the corporation immediately after adjournment of the meeting.

The right of dissent or abstention is not available to a director who votes in favor of the action taken.

Article VI. Shareholder and Director Notices

6.1 Delivery of Notice

Whenever these bylaws require notice to be given to any shareholder or director, the notice shall be given in accordance with this bylaw. Notice under these bylaws shall be in writing unless oral notice is reasonable under the circumstances. Any notice to directors may be written or oral. Notice may be communicated in person, by telephone, telegraph, teletype, other form of wire or wireless communication, or by mail or private carrier. If these forms of personal notice are impracticable, notice may be communicated by a newspaper of general circulation in the area where published, or by radio, television, or other form of public broadcast communication. Written notice to the shareholders, if in a comprehensible form, is effective when mailed, if mailed with first-class postage prepaid and correctly addressed to the shareholder's address shown in the corporation's current record of shareholders.

6.2 When Effective

Except as otherwise provided in this bylaw, written notice, if in a comprehensible form, is effective at the earliest of the following:

(i) when received or when delivered, properly addressed, to the addressee's last known

principal place of business or residence;

(ii) five days after deposit in the mail, as evidenced by the postmark, if mailed with first-class postage prepaid and correctly addressed, or

(iii) on the date shown on the return receipt, if sent by registered or certified mail, return receipt requested, and the receipt is signed by or on behalf of the addressee.

Oral notice is effective when communicated if communicated in a comprehensible manner.

In calculating time periods for notice, when a period of time measured in days, weeks, months, years, or other measurement of time is prescribed for the exercise of any privilege or the discharge of any duty, the first day shall not be counted but the last day shall be counted.

6.3 Waiver

A shareholder or director may waive any notice before or after the date and time stated in the notice. Except as provided in this bylaw, the waiver must be in writing, be signed by the shareholder or director entitled to the notice, and be delivered to the corporation for inclusion in the minutes or filing with the corporate records.

A shareholder's attendance at a meeting (i) waives objection to lack of notice or defective notice of the meeting, unless the shareholder at the beginning of the meeting objects to holding the meeting or transacting business at the meeting; and (ii) waives objection to consideration of a particular matter at the meeting that is not within the purpose or purposes described in the meeting notice, unless the shareholder objects to considering the matter when it is presented.

A director's attendance at or participation in a meeting waives any required notice to him of the meeting unless the director at the beginning of the meeting (or promptly upon his arrival) objects to holding the meeting or transacting business at the meeting and does not thereafter vote for or assent to action taken at the meeting.

6.4 Notice Following Adjournment

If notice of an adjourned meeting of the shareholders or of the directors was properly given, it shall not be necessary to give any notice of the reconvened meeting or of the business to be transacted, if the date, time and place of the reconvened meeting are announced at the meeting that was adjourned and before adjournment; provided, however, that if a new record date of shares is or must be fixed, notice of the reconvened meeting must be given to persons who are shareholders as of the new record date.

7.01 Number

The officers of the corporation shall consist of a Board Chairman, a President, a Secretary, a Treasurer, and any other officers as may be appointed by the Board of Directors or by an other duly appointed officer pursuant to these bylaws. The Board of Directors shall from time to time create and establish the duties of the other officers. Any two or more offices may be held by the same person.

7.02 Chairman of Board

The Chairman of the Board of Directors shall preside at all meetings of the Board of Directors and shall have authority to execute bonds, mortgages, and other contracts requiring a seal, under the seal of the corporation; to endorse, when sold, assigned, transferred, or otherwise disposed of by the corporation, all certificates or shares of stock, bonds, or other securities issued by other corporations, associations, trusts, whether public or private, or by any government agency thereof, and owned or held by the corporation, and to make, execute, and deliver all instruments or assignments of transfer of any such stocks, bonds, or other securities. The Chairman of the Board may, with the approval of the Board of Directors, or shall, at the direction of the Board of Directors, delegate any or all of such duties to the President.

7.03 President

The President shall be the Chief Executive Officer of the corporation and shall have general supervision of the business of the corporation. The President shall see that all orders and resolutions of the Board of Directors are carried into effect. The President shall perform such other duties as may from time to time be delegated by the Board of Directors. In the absence of the Chairman of the Board, the President shall have authority to do any and all things delegated to the Chairman of the Board of Directors.

7.04 Vice President

7.05 Secretary

The Secretary shall be responsible for preparing minutes of the acts and proceedings of all meetings of the shareholders, the Board of Directors, and any Committees thereof. The Secretary shall have authority to give all notices required by the Code or these bylaws. The Secretary shall be responsible for the custody of the corporate books, records, contracts, and other documents. The Secretary may affix the corporate seal to any lawfully executed documents and shall sign any instruments as may require his or her signature. The Secretary shall authenticate records of the corporation. The Secretary shall perform whatever additional duties and have whatever additional powers the Board of Directors may from time to time assign. In the absence or disability of the Secretary or at the direction of the President, any assistant secretary may perform the duties and exercise the powers of the Secretary.

7.06 Treasurer

The Treasurer shall be responsible for the custody of all funds and securities belonging to the corporation and for the receipt, deposit, or disbursement of funds and securities under the direction of the Board of Directors. The Treasurer shall cause to be maintained full and true accounts of all receipts and disbursements and shall make reports of the same to the Board of Directors and the President upon request. The Treasurer shall perform all duties as may be assigned to him from time to time by the Board of Directors.

7.07 Appointment, Term, and Removal

All officers shall be appointed by the Board of Directors or by a duly appointed officer pursuant to these bylaws and shall serve at the pleasure of the Board of Directors or the appointing officers, as the case may be. All officers, however appointed, may be removed with or without cause by the Board of Directors, and any officer appointed by another officer may also be removed by the appointing officer with or without cause.

7.08 Compensation

The compensation of all officers of the corporation appointed by the Board of Directors shall be fixed by the Board of Directors.

7.09 Bonds

The Board of Directors may, by resolution, require any or all of the officers, agents, or employees of the corporation to give bonds to the corporation, with sufficient surety or sureties, conditioned on the faithful performance of the duties of their respective offices or positions, and to comply with any other conditions as from time to time may be required by the Board of Directors.

Article VIII. Indemnification

8.01 Basic Indemnification Arrangement

Except as provided in these bylaws, the corporation shall indemnify an individual who is a party to a proceeding because he or she is or was a director or officer against liability incurred in the proceeding if:

(i) Such Director or Officer conducted himself in good faith and reasonably believed:

(a) in the case of conduct in his or her official capacity, that such conduct was in the best interests of the corporation;

(b) In all other cases, that such conduct was at least not opposed to the best interests of the corporation; and

(c) In the case of any criminal proceeding, that the individual had no reasonable cause to believe such conduct was unlawful, or

(ii) Such Director's or Officer's conduct with respect to an employee benefit plan, which is the subject of the proceeding, was for a purpose he believed in good faith to be in the interests of the participants in and beneficiaries of the plan.

The termination of a proceeding by judgment, order, settlement, or conviction, or upon a plea of nolo contendere or its equivalent is not, of itself, determinative that the director or officer did not meet the requisite standard of conduct described in this bylaw.

The corporation may not indemnify a director or officer under this Article:

(i) In connection with a proceeding by or in the right of the corporation, except for reasonable expenses incurred in connection with the proceeding if it is determined that the director or officer has met the requisite standard of conduct under this bylaw; or

(ii) In connection with any proceeding with respect to conduct for which he or she was adjudged liable on the basis that personal benefit was improperly received by him or her, whether or not involving action in his or her official capacity.

8.02 Advances for Expenses

The corporation may, before final disposition of a proceeding, advance funds to pay for or reimburse the reasonable expenses, including counsel fees, incurred by a director or officer who is a party to a proceeding because he or she is a director or officer if he or she delivers to the corporation:

(i) A written affirmation of his or her good faith belief that he or she has met the requisite standard of conduct described in the Basic Indemnification Arrangement bylaw or that the proceeding involves conduct for which such person's liability has been eliminated under the corporation's articles of incorporation; and

(ii) His or her written undertaking to repay any funds advanced if it is ultimately determined that the director or officer is not entitled to indemnification under this Article or the Code. This undertaking to repay must be an unlimited general obligation of the director or officer but need not be secured and may be accepted without reference to the financial ability of the director or officer to make repayment.

Authorizations for expense advancements shall be made:

(i) By the board of directors:

(a) by a majority vote of a quorum consisting of disinterested directors, or

(b) if such a quorum is not obtainable (or is obtainable and a majority vote of a quorum of disinterested directors so directs), by independent legal counsel in a written opinion; or

(ii) By a majority vote of the shareholders; however, shares owned or voted under the control of a director or officer who at the time does not qualify as a disinterested director or disinterested officer with respect to the proceeding may not be voted on the authorization.

8.03 Court-Ordered Indemnification and Advances for Expenses

A director or officer who is a party to a proceeding because he or she is a director or officer may apply for indemnification or advance for expenses to the court conducting the proceeding or to another court of competent jurisdiction. Pursuant to the Code, after receipt of an application and after giving any notice it considers necessary, the court shall:

(i) Order indemnification or advance for expenses if it determines that the director or officer is entitled to indemnification; or

(ii) Order indemnification or advance for expenses if it determines, in view of all the relevant circumstances, that it is fair and reasonable to indemnify the director or officer, or to advance expenses to the director or officer, even if the director or officer has not met the relevant standard of conduct, failed to comply with the requirements for advance of expenses, or was adjudged liable on the basis that personal benefit was improperly received by him or her, whether or not involving action in his or her official capacity. However, if the director or officer was adjudged so liable, the indemnification shall be limited to reasonable expenses incurred in connection with the proceeding.

If the court determines that the director or officer is entitled to indemnification or advance for expenses, it may also order the corporation to pay the director's or officer's reasonable expenses to obtain court-ordered indemnification or advance for expenses.

8.04 Determination and Authorization of Indemnification

The corporation acknowledges that indemnification of a director or officer according to these bylaws has been pre-authorized by the corporation as permitted by the Code. Nevertheless, the corporation shall not indemnify a director or officer under these bylaws unless a determination has been made for the specific proceeding that indemnification of the director or officer is permissible in the circumstances because he or she has met the relevant standard of conduct set forth in the Basic Indemnification Arrangement. However, regardless of the result or absence of any such determination, the corporation shall indemnify a director or officer who was wholly successful, on the merits or otherwise, in the defense of any proceeding to which he or she was a party because he or she was a director or officer of the corporation against reasonable expenses incurred by the director or officer in connection with the proceeding.

The determination of indemnification shall be made:

(i) by the board of directors:

  (a) by a majority vote of a quorum consisting of disinterested directors; or

  (b) if such a quorum is not obtainable or is obtainable and a majority vote of a quorum of disinterested directors so directs, by independent legal counsel in a written opinion; or

(ii) by a majority vote of the shareholders, but shares owned by or voted under the control of a director or officer who at the time does not qualify as a disinterested director or disinterested officer may not be voted on the determination.

As acknowledged above, the corporation has pre-authorized the indemnification of directors and officers hereunder, subject to a determination for a specific proceeding that the director or officer met the relevant standard of conduct under the Basic Indemnification Arrangement. Consequently, no further decision need or shall be made on a case-by-case basis as to the authorization of the corporation's indemnification of directors or officers hereunder. Nevertheless, evaluation as to reasonableness of expenses of a director or officer for a specific proceeding shall be made in the same manner as the determination that indemnification is permissible, except that if there are fewer than two disinterested directors or if the determination is made by special legal counsel, evaluation as to reasonableness of expenses shall be made by the Board of Directors, the members of which may or may not be disinterested.

8.05 Indemnification of Employees and Agents

The corporation may indemnify and advance expenses under these bylaws to an employee or agent of the corporation who is not a director or officer to the extent, consistent with public policy, that such indemnification and advances may be provided to a director or officer.

8.06 Shareholder Approved Indemnification

If authorized by the articles of incorporation, the bylaws, or by a a contract or resolution

approved or ratified by the shareholders of the corporation by a majority of the votes entitled to be cast, the corporation may indemnify or obligate itself to indemnify a director or officer made a party to a proceeding, including a proceeding brought by or in the right of the corporation, without regard to the limitations in other sections of these bylaws, but shares owned or voted under the control of a director or officer who at the time of such authorization does not qualify as a disinterested director or disinterested officer with respect to any existing or threatened proceeding that would be covered by the authorization may not be voted on the authorization.

Nevertheless, the corporation shall not indemnify a director or officer under this bylaw for any liability incurred in a proceeding in which the director or officer is adjudged liable to the corporation or is subjected to injunctive relief in favor of the corporation:

(i) for any appropriation, in violation of his or her duties, of any business opportunity of the corporation,

(ii) for acts or omissions which involve intentional misconduct or a knowing violation of law,

(iii) for assenting to an unlawful distribution as defined in the Code, or

(iv) for any transaction from which he or she received an improper personal benefit.

Where approved or authorized according to this bylaw, the corporation may advance or reimburse expenses incurred in advance of final disposition of the proceeding only if

(i) The director or officer furnishes the corporation a written affirmation of his or her good faith belief that his or her conduct does not constitute behavior of the kind described in this bylaw which would prevent indemnification; and

(ii) The director or officer furnishes the corporation a written undertaking, executed personally or on his or her behalf, to repay any advances if it is ultimately determined that he or she is not entitled to indemnification under this bylaw.

8.07 Insurance

The corporation may purchase and maintain insurance on behalf of an individual

(i) who is a director, officer, employee, or agent of the corporation, or

against liability asserted against or incurred by him or her in that capacity or arising from his or her status as a director, officer, employee, or agent, whether or not the corporation would have power to indemnify or advance expenses to him or her against the same liability under these bylaws or the Code.

8.09 Witness Fees

Nothing in these bylaws shall limit the corporation's power to pay or reimburse expenses incurred by a director or officer in connection with his or her appearance as a witness in a proceeding at a time when he or she is not a party.

8.10 Report to Shareholders

To the extent and in the manner required by the Code from time to time, if the corporation indemnifies or advances expenses to a director or officer in connection with a proceeding by or in the right of the corporation, the corporation shall report the indemnification or advance to the shareholders.

8.11 Effect of Amendments

No amendment, modification, or rescission of these bylaws, or any provision of the bylaws, the effect of which would diminish the rights to indemnification or advancement of expenses as set forth herein shall be effective as to any person with respect to any action taken or omitted by such person prior to such amendment, modification or rescission.

9.01 Authorization and Issuance

In accordance with the Code, the Board of Directors may authorize shares of any class or series provided for in the corporation's Articles of incorporation to be issued for any consideration valid under the provisions of the Code. To the extent provided in the Articles of Incorporation, the Board of Directors shall determine the preferences, limitations, and relative rights of the shares.

9.02 Form

The interest of each shareholder in the corporation shall be evidenced by a certificate or certificates representing shares of the corporation which shall be in such form as the Board of Directors from time to time may adopt. Share certificates shall be numbered consecutively, shall be in registered form, shall indicate the date of issuance, the name of the corporation, that it is organized under the laws of the state of incorporation, the name of the shareholder, the number and class of shares, and the designation of the series, if any, represented by the certificate. Each certificate shall be signed by any one of the President, a Vice President, the Secretary, or the Treasurer. The corporate seal need not be affixed.

9.03 Registered Shareholders

Prior to due presentation for transfer of registration of its shares, the corporation may treat the registered owner of the shares as the person exclusively entitled to vote the shares, to receive any share dividend or distribution with respect to the shares, and for all other purposes. The corporation shall not be bound to recognize any equitable or other claim to or interest in the shares on the part of any other person, whether or not it shall have express or other notice thereof, except as otherwise provided by law.

9.04 Transfer of Shares

Transfers of shares shall be made upon the transfer books of the corporation, kept at the principle office of the corporation (or at the office of the transfer agent designated to transfer the shares, if any) only upon direction of the person named in the certificate, or by his or her attorney lawfully constituted in writing. Before a new certificate is issued, the old certificate shall be surrendered for cancellation or, in the case of a certificate alleged to have been lost, stolen, or destroyed, the requirements of the bylaw governing lost, stolen, or destroyed certificates shall have been met.

9.05 Record Date

demand a special meeting, to vote, or to take any other action, the Board of Directors may fix a future date as the record date, which date shall be not more than seventy (70) days prior to the date on which the particular action requiring a determination of shareholders is to be taken. A determination of shareholders entitled to notice of or to vote at a shareholders' meeting is effective for any adjournment of the meeting unless the Board of Directors fixes a new record date, which it must do if the meeting is adjourned to a date more than 120 days after the date fixed for the original meeting. If no record date is fixed by the Board of Directors, the record date shall be determined in accordance with the provisions of the Code.

For the purpose of determining shareholders entitled to a distribution (other than one involving a purchase, redemption, or other reacquisition of the corporation's shares) or a share dividend, the Board of Directors may fix a date as the record date, if no record date is fixed by the Board of Directors, the record date shall be determined in accordance with the provisions of the Code.

9.06 Lost, Stolen, or Destroyed Certificates

Any person claiming a share certificate to be lost, stolen, or destroyed shall make an affidavit or affirmation of the fact in the manner required by the Board of Directors and, if the Board of Directors requires, shall give the corporation a bond of indemnity in form and amount, and with one or more sureties satisfactory to the Board of Directors, as the Board of Directors may require, whereupon an appropriate new certificate may be issued in lieu of the one alleged to have been lost, stolen or destroyed.

Article X. Miscellaneous

The fiscal year of the corporation shall be a twelve-month period, beginning January 1 and ending on December 31 each year, unless the Board of Directors, by resolution, fixes the fiscal year as an other time period.

10.02 Corporate Seal

If the Board of Directors determines that there should be a corporate seal for the corporation, it shall be in the form as the Board of Directors may from time to time determine.

10.03 Corporate Records

The Board of Directors shall have the power to determine which accounts, books, and records of the corporation shall be opened to the inspection of the shareholders, except those as may by law specifically be made open to inspection. The Board of Directors shall have the power to fix reasonable rules and regulations not in conflict with the applicable law for the inspection of accounts, books, and records which by law or by determination of the Board of Directors shall be open to inspection.

10.04 Annual Financial Statements

In accordance with the Code, the corporation shall prepare and provide to the shareholders such financial statements as may be required by the Code.

10.05 Amendments

The Board of Directors shall have the power to alter, amend, or repeal these bylaws or adopt new bylaws, but any bylaws adopted by the Board of Directors may be altered, amended, or repealed, and new bylaws adopted, by the shareholders. The shareholders may prescribe, by expressing in the action they take in adopting or amending any bylaw or bylaws, that the bylaw or bylaws so adopted or amended shall not be altered, amended or repealed by the Board of Directors.

10.06 Conflict with Articles of Incorporation or Law; Severability

In the event that any provision of these bylaws conflicts with any provision of the Articles of Incorporation, the Articles of Incorporation shall govern. In the event that any of the provisions of these bylaws (including any provision within a single section, subsection, division or sentence) is held by a court of competent jurisdiction to be invalid, void, or otherwise unenforceable, the remaining provisions of the bylaws shall remain enforceable to the fullest extent permitted by law.

ARTICLES OF INCORPORATION

MILLCREEK SCHOOL OF ARKANSAS, INC.

The undersigned, a natural person of the age of twenty-one years or more, acting as incorporator of a corporation under the Arkansas Business Corporation Act (Act 576 of 1965), adopts the following articles of incorporation of such corporation:

FIRST: The name of the corporation is MILLCREEK SCHOOL OF ARKANSAS, INC.

SECOND: The period of duration is perpetual.

THIRD: The nature of the business of the corporation and the objects or purposes proposed to be transacted, promoted and carried on by it are as follows:

A] To operate a special education school and to perform all services and acts of business related to this.

B] To do everything necessary, suitable or proper for the accomplishment of the purposes, the attainment of the objects or the furtherance of the powers in these articles of incorporation, or any amendment thereof, as necessary or incidental to the protection and benefit of the corporation; and in general to carry on any lawful business necessary or incidental to the attainment of the objects of the corporation, whether or not such business is similar in nature to the objects set forth in these articles of incorporation or any amendment thereto.

C] The above powers are in addition to those granted by statute and they do not limit the powers so granted in any manner.

FOURTH: The aggregate number of shares which the corporation shall have the authority to issue is three hundred (300) shares. The shares shall be of common class only and will be without par value.

FIFTH: The amount of capital with which this corporation shall begin business is $300.00, and this corporation will not transact any business until there has been paid in for the issuance of shares consideration of the value of at least $300.00.

SIXTH: The provisions for the regulation of the internal affairs of the corporation are:

CERTIFIED COPY

The initial code of by-laws of the corporation shall be adopted by the Board of Directors. The power to amend or repeal the by-laws or to adopt a new code of by-laws shall be in the directors, but the affirmative vote of a majority of the directors shall be necessary to exercise that power. The code of by-laws may contain any provisions for the regulation and management of this corporation which are consistent with the Act and with these articles of incorporation.

SEVENTH: The address of the initial registered office of this corporation is:

Millcreek School of Arkansas, Inc.
308 Main Street
Fordyce, Arkansas 71742

The name of the initial registered agent at such address is:

Robin F. Wynne.

EIGHTH: The number of directors constituting the initial board of directors is two (2). The number of directors to be elected at the annual meeting (or special meeting called for that purpose) of the shareholders next following the time when shares of the corporation become owned of record by more than two shareholders shall be four (4).

NINTH: The name and address of the incorporator is:

Robin F. Wynne
Wynne Law Firm
P.O. Box 231

MILLCREEK SCHOOLS OF ARKANSAS, INC.

AMENDED AND RESTATED BYLAWS

Adopted as of January 22, 2001

Corporate Bylaws

Article I. Definitions

1.01 Code

The Code means the applicable titles, parts, chapters, sections, and other divisions of the state of incorporation's statutory scheme governing the formation and operation of corporations.

1.02 Record Date

Record Date means the date established under the Code on which the corporation determines the identity of its shareholders and their shareholdings. Such determination shall be made as of the close of business on the record date unless another time for doing so is specified when the record date is fixed.

1.03 Voting Group

Voting Group means all shares of one or more classes or series that under the articles of incorporation or the Code are entitled to vote and be counted together collectively on a matter at a meeting of the shareholders. All shares entitled by the articles of incorporation or the Code to vote generally on the matter are for that purpose a single voting group.

1.04 Corporation

Corporation includes any domestic or foreign predecessor entity of the corporation in a merger or other transaction in which the predecessor's existence ceased upon consummation of the transaction.

1.05 Director or Officer

Director or Officer means an individual who is or was (i) a member of the Board of Directors, (ii) an individual elected or appointed by the Board of Directors to serve as an officer, or (iii) a member of any duly constituted Committee of the Board of Directors. "Director" or "officer" includes, unless the context otherwise requires, the estate or personal representative of a director or officer.

1.06 Disinterested Director or Officer

"Disinterested Director" or "Disinterested Officer" means a director or officer who, with respect to a determination of the authorization or non-authorization of an expense advancement or of indemnification, is neither:

(i) the individual whose indemnification or expense advancement is the subject of the decision being made; nor

(ii) An individual having a familial, financial, professional, or employment relationship with the person whose indemnification or advance for expenses is the subject of the decision being made with respect to the proceeding, which relationship would, in the circumstances, reasonably be expected to exert an influence on the director's or officer's judgment when voting on the decision being made.

1.07 Liability

Liability means the obligation to pay a judgment, settlement, penalty, fine (including an excise tax assessed with respect to an employee benefit plan), or reasonable expenses incurred with respect to a proceeding.

1.08 Official Capacity

When used with respect to a director, Official Capacity means the office of director in the corporation. When used with respect to an officer, Official Capacity means the office in the corporation held by the officer. Official capacity does not include service for any other domestic or foreign corporation or any partnership, joint venture, trust, employee benefit plan, or other entity.

1.09 Party

Party includes an individual who was, is, or is threatened to be made a named defendant or respondent in a proceeding.

1.10 Proceeding

Proceeding means any threatened, pending, or completed action, suit, or proceeding, whether civil, criminal, administrative, arbitrative, or investigative and whether formal or informal.

Article II. Offices and Agents

2.01 Registered Office and Agent

The corporation shall maintain a registered office and have a registered agent, whose business office address is identical to that of the registered office, in its state of incorporation and in each state in which the corporation is qualified to do business.

2.02 Other Offices

In addition to its registered office, the corporation may have offices at any other place or places, within or without the state of incorporation, as the Board of Directors may from time to time select or as the business of the corporation may require or make desirable.

Article III. Meetings of the Shareholders

3.01 Annual Meetings

An annual meeting of the shareholders shall be held for the election of directors at such date, time, and place, either within or without the state of incorporation, as may be designated by resolution of the Board of Directors from time to time. Such resolution shall designate the date, time, and place of the meeting. Any other proper business may be transacted at the annual meeting. If an annual meeting is not held as provided in this bylaw, any business, including the election of directors, that might properly have been acted upon at that meeting may be acted upon at a special meeting in lieu of the annual meeting held pursuant to these bylaws or held pursuant to a court order.

3.02 Special Meetings

Special meetings of the shareholders may be called for any purpose or purposes at any time by the Board of Directors, or by the President of the corporation, or by a Committee of the Board of Directors that has been duly designated and authorized by resolution of the Board of Directors to call such meetings. In addition, the Board of Directors shall call such a meeting upon the written request of shareholders holding at least twenty percent (20%) of all the votes entitled to be cast on the issue or issues proposed to be considered at the requested special meeting.

3.03 Quorum

With respect to shares entitled to vote as a separate voting group on a matter at a meeting of shareholders, the presence, in person or by proxy, of a majority of the votes entitled to be cast on the matter by the voting group shall constitute a quorum of that voting group for action on that matter unless the articles of incorporation or the Code provide otherwise. Once a share is represented for any purpose at a meeting, other than solely to object to holding the meeting or to transacting business at the meeting, it is deemed present for quorum purposes for the remainder of the meeting and for any adjournment of the meeting unless a new record date is or must be set for the adjourned meeting pursuant to the bylaw governing the fixing of the record date with regard to shareholder action.

3.04 Adjournment and Reconvention

3.05 Presiding Officer

The Chief Executive Officer shall serve as the Presiding Officer of every meeting of shareholders unless another person is elected by the shareholders to serve as Presiding Officer at the meeting. The Presiding Officer shall appoint any persons he deems required to assist with the meeting.

3.06 Vote Required for Action

If a quorum exists, action on a matter (other than the election of directors) by a voting group is approved if the votes cast within the voting group favoring the action exceed the votes cast opposing the action, unless the articles of incorporation, provisions of these bylaws validly adopted by the shareholders, or the Code requires a greater number of affirmative votes. If the articles of incorporation or the Code provide for voting by two or more voting groups on a matter, action on that matter is taken only when voted upon by each of those voting groups counted separately. Action may be taken by one voting group on a matter even though no action is taken by another voting group entitled to vote on the matter. With regard to the election of directors, unless otherwise provided in the articles of incorporation, if a quorum exists, action on the election of directors is taken by a plurality of the votes cast by the shares entitled to vote in the election.

3.07 Shares Held by Another Corporation

Shares standing in the name of another corporation, domestic or foreign, may be voted by such officer, agent, or proxy as the by-laws of such other corporation may prescribe, or, in the absence of such a provision, as the board of directors of such other corporation may determine.

3.08 Method of Voting Shares

Unless the articles of incorporation or the Code provide otherwise, each outstanding share having voting rights shall be entitled to one vote on each matter submitted to a vote at a meeting of the shareholders. Voting on all matters shall be by voice vote or by show of hands unless any qualified voter, prior to the voting on any matter, demands vote by ballot, in which case each ballot shall state the name of the shareholder voting and the number of shares voted by him, and if the ballot be cast by proxy, it shall also state the name of the proxy.

3.09 Proxies

A shareholder entitled to vote on a matter may vote in person or by proxy pursuant to an appointment of proxy executed in writing by the shareholder or by his attorney-in-fact. An appointment of proxy shall be valid for only one meeting to be specified therein, and any adjournments of such meeting, but shall not be valid for more than eleven months unless expressly provided therein. Appointments of proxy shall be dated and filed with the records of the meeting to which they relate. If the validity of any appointment of proxy is questioned, it must be submitted to the secretary of the meeting of shareholders for examination or to a proxy officer or committee appointed by the meeting's presiding officer. The secretary of the meeting or, if appointed, the proxy officer or committee, shall determine the validity or invalidity of any appointment of proxy submitted for examination. Reference in the minutes of the meeting by the secretary or, if appointed, the proxy officer or committee, as to the regularity of an appointment of proxy shall be received as prima facie evidence of the facts stated for the purpose of establishing the presence of a quorum at the meeting and for all other purposes.

3.10 Action Without a Meeting

Any action required or permitted to be taken at a meeting of the shareholders, may be taken without a meeting if the action is taken by all shareholders entitled to vote on the action. Or, if allowed by the articles of incorporation, such action may be taken without a meeting by persons who would be entitled to vote shares having voting power to cast not less than the minimum number (or numbers, in the case of voting by groups) of votes that would be necessary to authorize or take the action at a meeting at which all shareholders entitled to vote were present and voted. The action without a meeting must be evidenced by one or more written consents describing the action taken, signed by shareholders entitled to take action without a meeting, and delivered to the corporation for inclusion in the minutes or filing with the corporate records. The corporation shall give written notice of actions so taken.

3.11 Notice

Unless waived as contemplated in these bylaws, a notice of each meeting of shareholders, stating the date, time, and place of the meeting shall be given not less than ten (10) days nor more than sixty (60) days before the date thereof, to each shareholder entitled to vote at that meeting. In the case of an annual meeting, the notice need not state the purpose or purposes of the meeting unless the articles of incorporation or the Code requires otherwise. In the case of a special meeting, including a special meeting in lieu of an annual meeting, the notice of meeting shall state the purpose or purposes for which the meeting is called.

All corporate powers, which are lawful and do not violate any legal agreement among shareholders and which are not prohibited by the articles of incorporation or these bylaws, shall be exercised by or under the authority of, and the business and affairs of the corporation shall be managed under, the direction of the Board of Directors. The Board of Directors may, by resolution, vote any shares of stock owned by the corporation. Also, the Board of Directors from time to time in its discretion may authorize or declare distributions or share dividends in accordance with the Code.

4.02 Number

The number and composition of the corporation's Board of Directors shall initially be that which is specified in the articles of incorporation. If the articles of incorporation do not specify the number and composition of the Board of Directors, then the Board of Director's shall consist of one member, the

Chief Executive Officer of the corporation. Thereafter, the number and composition of the Board of Directors may be changed from time to time by an action of the shareholders.

4.03 Election

Except as provided for in the bylaw addressing vacancies in the Board of Directors, the Directors shall be elected by a vote of the shareholders at each annual meeting of shareholders or special meeting in lieu of the annual meeting.

4.04 Term of Office

Except in the case of death, written resignation, retirement, disqualification, or removal, each director shall serve until the next succeeding annual meeting or special meeting in lieu of an annual meeting and thereafter until his successor is elected and qualifies or until the number of directors is decreased.

4.05 Removal

One or more directors may be removed from office with or without cause by the shareholders by a majority of the votes entitled to be cast. If the director was elected by a voting group, only the shareholders of that voting group may participate in the vote to remove him. Removal action may be taken at any meeting of shareholders with respect to which the notice stated that the purpose, or one of the purposes, of the meeting is removal of the director, and a removed director's successor may be elected at the same meeting.

4.06 Vacancies

A vacancy occurring in the Board of Directors, other than by reason of an increase in the number of directors, shall be filled for the unexpired term by the first to take action of (a) the shareholders or (b) the Board of Directors, and if the directors remaining in office constitute fewer than a quorum of the Board of Directors, they may fill the vacancy by the affirmative vote of a majority of all the directors remaining in office. If the vacant office was held by a director elected by a voting group, only the holders of shares of that voting group or the remaining directors elected by that voting group are entitled to vote to fill the vacancy. A vacancy occurring in the Board of Directors by reason of an increase in the number of directors shall be filled in like manner as any other vacancy, but, if filled by action of the Board of Directors, shall only be for a term of office continuing until the next election of directors by the shareholders and until the election and qualification of a successor.

4.07 Committees

The Board of Directors, by resolution, may designate from among its members an executive committee and one or more other committees, each consisting of one or more directors all of whom serve at the pleasure of the Board of Directors. Except as limited by the Code, each committee shall have the authority set forth in the resolution establishing the committee. The provisions of these bylaws as to the Board of Directors and its deliberations shall be applicable to any committee of the Board of Directors. All decisions and actions of any committee created by these bylaws or resulting from the authority granted by these bylaws, shall be subject to the discretionary review and approval of the Board of Directors.

4.08 Compensation

Unless the articles of incorporation provide otherwise, the Board of Directors may determine from time to time the compensation, if any, directors may receive for their services as directors. A director may also serve the corporation in a capacity other than that of director and receive compensation, as determined by the Board of Directors, for services rendered in such other capacity.

Article V. Meetings of the Board of Directors

5.01 Regular Meetings

Regular meetings of the Board of Directors shall be held immediately after the annual meeting of shareholders or a special meeting in lieu of the annual meeting. In addition, the Board of Directors may schedule other meetings to occur at regular intervals throughout the year.

5.02 Special Meetings

Special meetings of the Board of Directors may be called by or at the request of the Chief Executive Officer of the corporation, by the sole director of the board or, if the board consists of more than one director, by any two directors in office at that time.

5.03 Quorums

Unless a greater number is required by the articles of incorporation, these bylaws, or the Code, a quorum of the Board of Directors consists of a majority of the total number of directors.

5.04 Adjournments

Whether or not a quorum is present to organize a meeting, any meeting of directors (including an adjourned meeting) may be adjourned by a majority of the directors present to reconvene at a specific time and place. At any reconvened meeting, any business may be transacted that could have been transacted at the meeting that was adjourned. It shall not be necessary to give any notice of the reconvened meeting or of the business to be transacted, if the date, time and place of the reconvened meeting are announced at the meeting that was adjourned.

5.05 Action Without a Meeting

Unless the Code, the articles of incorporation, or these bylaws provide otherwise, any action required or permitted to be taken at any meeting of the Board of Directors, or any action that may be taken at a meeting of an authorized committee of the Board of Directors, may be taken without a meeting if the action is taken by all the members of the Board of Directors (or of the committee, as the case may be). The action must be evidenced by one or more written consents describing the action taken, signed by each director (or each director serving on the committee, as the case may be), and delivered to the corporation for inclusion in the minutes or filing with the corporate records.

5.06 Meetings by Telephone

Any or all directors may participate in a meeting of the Board of Directors, and members of an authorized committee of the Board of Directors may participate in a meeting of the committee (as the case may be), through the use of any means of communication by which all directors participating may simultaneously hear each other during the meeting.

5.07 Place of Meetings

Directors may hold their meetings at any place within or without the state of incorporation, as the Board of Directors may from time to time establish for regular meetings or as set forth in the notice of special meetings or, in the event of a meeting held pursuant to waiver of notice, as set forth in the

waiver.

5.08 Notice of Meetings

No notice shall be required for any regularly scheduled meeting of the directors. Unless waived as contemplated in these bylaws, each director shall be given at least five day's notice of each special meeting stating the date, time, and place of the meeting. It is not required that the purpose of a Directors' meeting be stated in any notice of such a meeting, whether the meeting is a regular or a special meeting.

5.09 Vote Required for Action

If a quorum is present when a vote is taken, the affirmative vote of a majority of directors present is the act of the Board of Directors unless the Code, the articles of incorporation, or these bylaws require the vote of a greater number of directors.

A director who is present at a meeting of the Board of Directors, or an authorized committee of the Board of Directors, when corporate action is taken is deemed to have assented to the action taken unless:

(i) he objects at the beginning of the meeting (or promptly upon his arrival) to holding the meeting or to transacting business at the meeting,

(ii) his dissent or abstention from the action taken is entered in the minutes of the meeting, or

(iii) he delivers written notice of his dissent or abstention to the presiding officer of the meeting before its adjournment or to the corporation immediately after adjournment of the meeting.

The right of dissent or abstention is not available to a director who votes in favor of the action taken.

Article VI. Shareholder and Director Notices

6.1 Delivery of Notice

Whenever these bylaws require notice to be given to any shareholder or director, the notice shall be given in accordance with this bylaw. Notice under these bylaws shall be in writing unless oral notice is reasonable under the circumstances. Any notice to directors may be written or oral. Notice may be communicated in person, by telephone, telegraph, teletype, other form of wire or wireless communication, or by mail or private carrier. If these forms of personal notice are impracticable, notice may be communicated by a newspaper of general circulation in the area where published, or by radio, television, or other form of public broadcast communication. Written notice to the shareholders, if in a comprehensible form, is effective when mailed, if mailed with first-class postage prepaid and correctly addressed to the shareholder's address shown in the corporation's current record of shareholders.

6.2 When Effective

Except as otherwise provided in this bylaw, written notice, if in a comprehensible form, is effective at the earliest of the following:

(i) when received or when delivered, properly addressed, to the addressee's last known

principal place of business or residence;

(ii) five days after deposit in the mail, as evidenced by the postmark, if mailed with first-class postage prepaid and correctly addressed, or

(iii) on the date shown on the return receipt, if sent by registered or certified mail, return receipt requested, and the receipt is signed by or on behalf of the addressee.

Oral notice is effective when communicated if communicated in a comprehensible manner.

In calculating time periods for notice, when a period of time measured in days, weeks, months, years, or other measurement of time is prescribed for the exercise of any privilege or the discharge of any duty, the first day shall not be counted but the last day shall be counted.

6.3 Waiver

A shareholder or director may waive any notice before or after the date and time stated in the notice. Except as provided in this bylaw, the waiver must be in writing, be signed by the shareholder or director entitled to the notice, and be delivered to the corporation for inclusion in the minutes or filing with the corporate records.

A shareholder's attendance at a meeting (i) waives objection to lack of notice or defective notice of the meeting, unless the shareholder at the beginning of the meeting objects to holding the meeting or transacting business at the meeting; and (ii) waives objection to consideration of a particular matter at the meeting that is not within the purpose or purposes described in the meeting notice, unless the shareholder objects to considering the matter when it is presented.

A director's attendance at or participation in a meeting waives any required notice to him of the meeting unless the director at the beginning of the meeting (or promptly upon his arrival) objects to holding the meeting or transacting business at the meeting and does not thereafter vote for or assent to action taken at the meeting.

Unless required by the Code, neither the business transacted nor the purpose of the meeting need be specified in the waiver.

6.4 Notice Following Adjournment

If notice of an adjourned meeting of the shareholders or of the directors was properly given, it shall not be necessary to give any notice of the reconvened meeting or of the business to be transacted, if the date, time and place of the reconvened meeting are announced at the meeting that was adjourned and before adjournment; provided, however, that if a new record date of shares is or must be fixed, notice of the reconvened meeting must be given to persons who are shareholders as of the new record date.

7.01 Number

The officers of the corporation shall consist of a Board Chairman, a President, a Secretary, a Treasurer, and any other officers as may be appointed by the Board of Directors or by an other duly appointed officer pursuant to these bylaws. The Board of Directors shall from time to time create and establish the duties of the other officers. Any two or more offices may be held by the same person.

7.02 Chairman of Board

The Chairman of the Board of Directors shall preside at all meetings of the Board of Directors and shall have authority to execute bonds, mortgages, and other contracts requiring a seal, under the seal of the corporation; to endorse, when sold, assigned, transferred, or otherwise disposed of by the corporation, all certificates or shares of stock, bonds, or other securities issued by other corporations, associations, trusts, whether public or private, or by any government agency thereof, and owned or held by the corporation, and to make, execute, and deliver all instruments or assignments of transfer of any such stocks, bonds, or other securities. The Chairman of the Board may, with the approval of the Board of Directors, or shall, at the direction of the Board of Directors, delegate any or all of such duties to the President.

7.03 President

The President shall be the Chief Executive Officer of the corporation and shall have general supervision of the business of the corporation. The President shall see that all orders and resolutions of the Board of Directors are carried into effect. The President shall perform such other duties as may from time to time be delegated by the Board of Directors. In the absence of the Chairman of the Board, the President shall have authority to do any and all things delegated to the Chairman of the Board of Directors.

7.04 Vice President

7.05 Secretary

The Secretary shall be responsible for preparing minutes of the acts and proceedings of all meetings of the shareholders, the Board of Directors, and any Committees thereof. The Secretary shall have authority to give all notices required by the Code or these bylaws. The Secretary shall be responsible for the custody of the corporate books, records, contracts, and other documents. The Secretary may affix the corporate seal to any lawfully executed documents and shall sign any instruments as may require his or her signature. The Secretary shall authenticate records of the corporation. The Secretary shall perform whatever additional duties and have whatever additional powers the Board of Directors may from time to time assign. In the absence or disability of the Secretary or at the direction of the President, any assistant secretary may perform the duties and exercise the powers of the Secretary.

7.06 Treasurer

The Treasurer shall be responsible for the custody of all funds and securities belonging to the corporation and for the receipt, deposit, or disbursement of funds and securities under the direction of the Board of Directors. The Treasurer shall cause to be maintained full and true accounts of all receipts and disbursements and shall make reports of the same to the Board of Directors and the President upon request. The Treasurer shall perform all duties as may be assigned to him from time to time by the Board of Directors.

7.07 Appointment, Term, and Removal

All officers shall be appointed by the Board of Directors or by a duly appointed officer pursuant to these bylaws and shall serve at the pleasure of the Board of Directors or the appointing officers, as the case may be. All officers, however appointed, may be removed with or without cause by the Board of Directors, and any officer appointed by another officer may also be removed by the appointing officer with or without cause.

7.08 Compensation

The compensation of all officers of the corporation appointed by the Board of Directors shall be fixed by the Board of Directors.

7.09 Bonds

The Board of Directors may, by resolution, require any or all of the officers, agents, or employees of the corporation to give bonds to the corporation, with sufficient surety or sureties, conditioned on the faithful performance of the duties of their respective offices or positions, and to comply with any other conditions as from time to time may be required by the Board of Directors.

Article VIII. Indemnification

8.01 Basic Indemnification Arrangement

Except as provided in these bylaws, the corporation shall indemnify an individual who is a party to a proceeding because he or she is or was a director or officer against liability incurred in the proceeding if:

(i) Such Director or Officer conducted himself in good faith and reasonably believed:

(a) in the case of conduct in his or her official capacity, that such conduct was in the best interests of the corporation;

(b) In all other cases, that such conduct was at least not opposed to the best interests of the corporation; and

(c) In the case of any criminal proceeding, that the individual had no reasonable cause to believe such conduct was unlawful, or

(ii) Such Director's or Officer's conduct with respect to an employee benefit plan, which is the subject of the proceeding, was for a purpose he believed in good faith to be in the interests of the participants in and beneficiaries of the plan.

The termination of a proceeding by judgment, order, settlement, or conviction, or upon a plea of nolo contendere or its equivalent is not, of itself, determinative that the director or officer did not meet the requisite standard of conduct described in this bylaw.

The corporation may not indemnify a director or officer under this Article:

(i) In connection with a proceeding by or in the right of the corporation, except for reasonable expenses incurred in connection with the proceeding if it is determined that the director or officer has met the requisite standard of conduct under this bylaw; or

(ii) In connection with any proceeding with respect to conduct for which he or she was adjudged liable on the basis that personal benefit was improperly received by him or her, whether or not involving action in his or her official capacity.

8.02 Advances for Expenses

The corporation may, before final disposition of a proceeding, advance funds to pay for or reimburse the reasonable expenses, including counsel fees, incurred by a director or officer who is a party to a proceeding because he or she is a director or officer if he or she delivers to the corporation:

(i) A written affirmation of his or her good faith belief that he or she has met the requisite standard of conduct described in the Basic Indemnification Arrangement bylaw or that the proceeding involves conduct for which such person's liability has been eliminated under the corporation's articles of incorporation; and

(ii) His or her written undertaking to repay any funds advanced if it is ultimately determined that the director or officer is not entitled to indemnification under this Article or the Code. This undertaking to repay must be an unlimited general obligation of the director or officer but need not be secured and may be accepted without reference to the financial ability of the director or officer to make repayment.

Authorizations for expense advancements shall be made:

(i) By the board of directors:

(a) by a majority vote of a quorum consisting of disinterested directors, or

(b) if such a quorum is not obtainable (or is obtainable and a majority vote of a quorum of disinterested directors so directs), by independent legal counsel in a written opinion; or

(ii) By a majority vote of the shareholders; however, shares owned or voted under the control of a director or officer who at the time does not qualify as a disinterested director or disinterested officer with respect to the proceeding may not be voted on the authorization.

8.03 Court-Ordered Indemnification and Advances for Expenses

A director or officer who is a party to a proceeding because he or she is a director or officer may apply for indemnification or advance for expenses to the court conducting the proceeding or to another court of competent jurisdiction. Pursuant to the Code, after receipt of an application and after giving any notice it considers necessary, the court shall:

(i) Order indemnification or advance for expenses if it determines that the director or officer is entitled to indemnification; or

(ii) Order indemnification or advance for expenses if it determines, in view of all the relevant circumstances, that it is fair and reasonable to indemnify the director or officer, or to advance expenses to the director or officer, even if the director or officer has not met the relevant standard of conduct, failed to comply with the requirements for advance of expenses, or was adjudged liable on the basis that personal benefit was improperly received by him or her, whether or not involving action in his or her official capacity. However, if the director or officer was adjudged so liable, the indemnification shall be limited to reasonable expenses incurred in connection with the proceeding.

If the court determines that the director or officer is entitled to indemnification or advance for expenses, it may also order the corporation to pay the director's or officer's reasonable expenses to obtain court-ordered indemnification or advance for expenses.

8.04 Determination and Authorization of Indemnification

The corporation acknowledges that indemnification of a director or officer according to these bylaws has been pre-authorized by the corporation as permitted by the Code. Nevertheless, the corporation shall not indemnify a director or officer under these bylaws unless a determination has been made for the specific proceeding that indemnification of the director or officer is permissible in the circumstances because he or she has met the relevant standard of conduct set forth in the Basic Indemnification Arrangement. However, regardless of the result or absence of any such determination, the corporation shall indemnify a director or officer who was wholly successful, on the merits or otherwise, in the defense of any proceeding to which he or she was a party because he or she was a director or officer of the corporation against reasonable expenses incurred by the director or officer in connection with the proceeding.

The determination of indemnification shall be made:

(i) by the board of directors:

  (a) by a majority vote of a quorum consisting of disinterested directors; or

  (b) if such a quorum is not obtainable or is obtainable and a majority vote of a quorum of disinterested directors so directs, by independent legal counsel in a written opinion; or

(ii) by a majority vote of the shareholders, but shares owned by or voted under the control of a director or officer who at the time does not qualify as a disinterested director or disinterested officer may not be voted on the determination.

As acknowledged above, the corporation has pre-authorized the indemnification of directors and officers hereunder, subject to a determination for a specific proceeding that the director or officer met the relevant standard of conduct under the Basic Indemnification Arrangement. Consequently, no further decision need or shall be made on a case-by-case basis as to the authorization of the corporation's indemnification of directors or officers hereunder. Nevertheless, evaluation as to reasonableness of expenses of a director or officer for a specific proceeding shall be made in the same manner as the determination that indemnification is permissible, except that if there are fewer than two disinterested directors or if the determination is made by special legal counsel, evaluation as to reasonableness of expenses shall be made by the Board of Directors, the members of which may or may not be disinterested.

8.05 Indemnification of Employees and Agents

The corporation may indemnify and advance expenses under these bylaws to an employee or agent of the corporation who is not a director or officer to the extent, consistent with public policy, that such indemnification and advances may be provided to a director or officer.

8.06 Shareholder Approved Indemnification

If authorized by the articles of incorporation, the bylaws, or by a contract or resolution

approved or ratified by the shareholders of the corporation by a majority of the votes entitled to be cast, the corporation may indemnify or obligate itself to indemnify a director or officer made a party to a proceeding, including a proceeding brought by or in the right of the corporation, without regard to the limitations in other sections of these bylaws, but shares owned or voted under the control of a director or officer who at the time of such authorization does not qualify as a disinterested director or disinterested officer with respect to any existing or threatened proceeding that would be covered by the authorization may not be voted on the authorization.

Nevertheless, the corporation shall not indemnify a director or officer under this bylaw for any liability incurred in a proceeding in which the director or officer is adjudged liable to the corporation or is subjected to injunctive relief in favor of the corporation:

(i) for any appropriation, in violation of his or her duties, of any business opportunity of the corporation,

(ii) for acts or omissions which involve intentional misconduct or a knowing violation of law,

(iii) for assenting to an unlawful distribution as defined in the Code, or

(iv) for any transaction from which he or she received an improper personal benefit.

Where approved or authorized according to this bylaw, the corporation may advance or reimburse expenses incurred in advance of final disposition of the proceeding only if

(i) The director or officer furnishes the corporation a written affirmation of his or her good faith belief that his or her conduct does not constitute behavior of the kind described in this bylaw which would prevent indemnification; and

(ii) The director or officer furnishes the corporation a written undertaking, executed personally or on his or her behalf, to repay any advances if it is ultimately determined that he or she is not entitled to indemnification under this bylaw.

8.07 Insurance

The corporation may purchase and maintain insurance on behalf of an individual

(i) who is a director, officer, employee, or agent of the corporation, or

against liability asserted against or incurred by him or her in that capacity or arising from his or her status as a director, officer, employee, or agent, whether or not the corporation would have power to indemnify or advance expenses to him or her against the same liability under these bylaws or the Code.

8.09 Witness Fees

Nothing in these bylaws shall limit the corporation's power to pay or reimburse expenses incurred by a director or officer in connection with his or her appearance as a witness in a proceeding at a time when he or she is not a party.

8.10 Report to Shareholders

To the extent and in the manner required by the Code from time to time, if the corporation indemnifies or advances expenses to a director or officer in connection with a proceeding by or in the right of the corporation, the corporation shall report the indemnification or advance to the shareholders.

8.11 Effect of Amendments

No amendment, modification, or rescission of these bylaws, or any provision of the bylaws, the effect of which would diminish the rights to indemnification or advancement of expenses as set forth herein shall be effective as to any person with respect to any action taken or omitted by such person prior to such amendment, modification or rescission.

9.01 Authorization and Issuance

In accordance with the Code, the Board of Directors may authorize shares of any class or series provided for in the corporation's Articles of Incorporation to be issued for any consideration valid under the provisions of the Code. To the extent provided in the Articles of Incorporation, the Board of Directors shall determine the preferences, limitations, and relative rights of the shares.

9.02 Form

The interest of each shareholder in the corporation shall be evidenced by a certificate or certificates representing shares of the corporation which shall be in such form as the Board of Directors from time to time may adopt. Share certificates shall be numbered consecutively, shall be in registered form, shall indicate the date of issuance, the name of the corporation, that it is organized under the laws of the state of incorporation, the name of the shareholder, the number and class of shares, and the designation of the series, if any, represented by the certificate. Each certificate shall be signed by any one of the President, a Vice President, the Secretary, or the Treasurer. The corporate seal need not be affixed.

9.03 Registered Shareholders

Prior to due presentation for transfer of registration of its shares, the corporation may treat the registered owner of the shares as the person exclusively entitled to vote the shares, to receive any share dividend or distribution with respect to the shares, and for all other purposes. The corporation shall not be bound to recognize any equitable or other claim to or interest in the shares on the part of any other person, whether or not it shall have express or other notice thereof, except as otherwise provided by law.

9.04 Transfer of Shares

Transfers of shares shall be made upon the transfer books of the corporation, kept at the principle office of the corporation (or at the office of the transfer agent designated to transfer the shares, if any) only upon direction of the person named in the certificate, or by his or her attorney lawfully constituted in writing. Before a new certificate is issued, the old certificate shall be surrendered for cancellation or, in the case of a certificate alleged to have been lost, stolen, or destroyed, the requirements of the bylaw governing lost, stolen, or destroyed certificates shall have been met.

9.05 Record Date

demand a special meeting, to vote, or to take any other action, the Board of Directors may fix a future date as the record date, which date shall be not more than seventy (70) days prior to the date on which the particular action requiring a determination of shareholders is to be taken. A determination of shareholders entitled to notice of or to vote at a shareholders' meeting is effective for any adjournment of the meeting unless the Board of Directors fixes a new record date, which it must do if the meeting is adjourned to a date more than 120 days after the date fixed for the original meeting. If no record date is fixed by the Board of Directors, the record date shall be determined in accordance with the provisions of the Code.

For the purpose of determining shareholders entitled to a distribution (other than one involving a purchase, redemption, or other reacquisition of the corporation's shares) or a share dividend, the Board of Directors may fix a date as the record date, if no record date is fixed by the Board of Directors, the record date shall be determined in accordance with the provisions of the Code.

9.06 Lost, Stolen, or Destroyed Certificates

Any person claiming a share certificate to be lost, stolen, or destroyed shall make an affidavit or affirmation of the fact in the manner required by the Board of Directors and, if the Board of Directors requires, shall give the corporation a bond of indemnity in form and amount, and with one or more sureties satisfactory to the Board of Directors, as the Board of Directors may require, whereupon an appropriate new certificate may be issued in lieu of the one alleged to have been lost, stolen or destroyed.

Article X. Miscellaneous

10.01 Fiscal Year

The fiscal year of the corporation shall be a twelve-month period, beginning January 1 and ending on December 31 each year, unless the Board of Directors, by resolution, fixes the fiscal year as an other time period.

10.02 Corporate Seal

If the Board of Directors determines that there should be a corporate seal for the corporation, it shall be in the form as the Board of Directors may from time to time determine.

10.03 Corporate Records

The Board of Directors shall have the power to determine which accounts, books, and records of the corporation shall be opened to the inspection of the shareholders, except those as may by law specifically be made open to inspection. The Board of Directors shall have the power to fix reasonable rules and regulations not in conflict with the applicable law for the inspection of accounts, books, and records which by law or by determination of the Board of Directors shall be open to inspection.

10.04 Annual Financial Statements

In accordance with the Code, the corporation shall prepare and provide to the shareholders such financial statements as may be required by the Code.

10.05 Amendments

The Board of Directors shall have the power to alter, amend, or repeal these bylaws or adopt new bylaws, but any bylaws adopted by the Board of Directors may be altered, amended, or repealed, and new bylaws adopted, by the shareholders. The shareholders may prescribe, by expressing in the action they take in adopting or amending any bylaw or bylaws, that the bylaw or bylaws so adopted or amended shall not be altered, amended or repealed by the Board of Directors.

10.06 Conflict with Articles of Incorporation or Law; Severability

In the event that any provision of these bylaws conflicts with any provision of the Articles of Incorporation, the Articles of Incorporation shall govern. In the event that any of the provisions of these bylaws (including any provision within a single section, subsection, division or sentence) is held by a court of competent jurisdiction to be invalid, void, or otherwise unenforceable, the remaining provisions of the bylaws shall remain enforceable to the fullest extent permitted by law.

ARTICLES OF AMENDMENT TO
MILLCREEK SCHOOLS, INC.

In accordance with the provisions of the Mississippi Business Corporation Act (the "Act"), Millcreek Schools, Inc. (the "Corporation"), organized and existing under and by virtue of the provisions of the Act and all amendments thereto, does hereby submit this Amendment to its Certificate of Incorporation:

1. The name of the corporation is Millcreek Schools, Inc.
2. Section 8 of the Certificate of Incorporation is hereby amended and restated in its entirety to read as follows:

   "EIGHTH: The number of directors of the Corporation shall be one or more, who will be elected at the annual shareholder meeting or such other time as the shareholder may determine. Each director shall hold office until director's successor is elected and qualified or until such director's earlier resignation or removal."
3. This amendment is duly authorized and adopted by the sole shareholder by written consent action taken effective as of September 30, 2011.
4. The corporation has 1,000 shares of common stock outstanding and entitled to vote on this amendment, all of which were voted in favor of the amendment.
5. This Amendment, which will constitute an amendment to the Certificate of Incorporation, is to be effective when filing with the Commission.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the undersigned has executed these Articles of Amendment this the 10th day of November, 2011.

Exhibit 3.54

MILLCREEK SCHOOLS, INC.

AMENDED AND RESTATED BYLAWS

Adopted as of January 22, 2001

Corporate Bylaws

Article I. Definitions

1.01 Code

The Code means the applicable titles, parts, chapters, sections, and other divisions of the state of incorporation's statutory scheme governing the formation and operation of corporations.

1.02 Record Date

Record Date means the date established under the Code on which the corporation determines the identity of its shareholders and their shareholdings. Such determination shall be made as of the close of business on the record date unless another time for doing so is specified when the record date is fixed.

1.03 Voting Group

Voting Group means all shares of one or more classes or series that under the articles of incorporation or the Code are entitled to vote and be counted together collectively on a matter at a meeting of the shareholders. All shares entitled by the articles of incorporation or the Code to vote generally on the matter are for that purpose a single voting group.

1.04 Corporation

Corporation includes any domestic or foreign predecessor entity of the corporation in a merger or other transaction in which the predecessor's existence ceased upon consummation of the transaction.

1.05 Director or Officer

Director or Officer means an individual who is or was (i) a member of the Board of Directors, (ii) an individual elected or appointed by the Board of Directors to serve as an officer, or (iii) a member of any duly constituted Committee of the Board of Directors. "Director" or "officer" includes, unless the context otherwise requires, the estate or personal representative of a director or officer.

1.06 Disinterested Director or Officer

"Disinterested Director" or "Disinterested Officer" means a director or officer who, with respect to a determination of the authorization or non-authorization of an expense advancement or of indemnification, is neither:

(i) the individual whose indemnification or expense advancement is the subject of the decision being made; nor

(ii) An individual having a familial, financial, professional, or employment relationship with the person whose indemnification or advance for expenses is the subject of the decision being made with respect to the proceeding, which relationship would, in the circumstances, reasonably be expected to exert an influence on the director's or officer's judgment when voting on the decision being made.

1.07 Liability

Liability means the obligation to pay a judgment, settlement, penalty, fine (including an excise tax assessed with respect to an employee benefit plan), or reasonable expenses incurred with respect to a proceeding.

1.08 Official Capacity

When used with respect to a director, Official Capacity means the office of director in the corporation. When used with respect to an officer, Official Capacity means the office in the corporation held by the officer. Official capacity does not include service for any other domestic or foreign corporation or any partnership, joint venture, trust, employee benefit plan, or other entity.

1.09 Party

Party includes an individual who was, is, or is threatened to be made a named defendant or respondent in a proceeding.

1.10 Proceeding

Proceeding means any threatened, pending, or completed action, suit, or proceeding, whether civil, criminal, administrative, arbitrative, or investigative and whether formal or informal.

Article II. Offices and Agents

2.01 Registered Office and Agent

The corporation shall maintain a registered office and have a registered agent, whose business office address is identical to that of the registered office, in its state of incorporation and in each state in which the corporation is qualified to do business.

2.02 Other Offices

In addition to its registered office, the corporation may have offices at any other place or places, within or without the state of incorporation, as the Board of Directors may from time to time select or as the business of the corporation may require or make desirable.

Article III. Meetings of the Shareholders

3.01 Annual Meetings

An annual meeting of the shareholders shall be held for the election of directors at such date, time, and place, either within or without the state of incorporation, as may be designated by resolution of the Board of Directors from time to time. Such resolution shall designate the date, time, and place of the meeting. Any other proper business may be transacted at the annual meeting. If an annual meeting is not held as provided in this bylaw, any business, including the election of directors, that might properly have been acted upon at that meeting may be acted upon at a special meeting in lieu of the annual meeting held pursuant to these bylaws or held pursuant to a court order.

3.02 Special Meetings

Special meetings of the shareholders may be called for any purpose or purposes at any time by the Board of Directors, or by the President of the corporation, or by a Committee of the Board of Directors that has been duly designated and authorized by resolution of the Board of Directors to call such meetings. In addition, the Board of Directors shall call such a meeting upon the written request of shareholders holding at least twenty percent (20%) of all the votes entitled to be cast on the issue or issues proposed to be considered at the requested special meeting.

3.03 Quorum

With respect to shares entitled to vote as a separate voting group on a matter at a meeting of shareholders, the presence, in person or by proxy, of a majority of the votes entitled to be cast on the matter by the voting group shall constitute a quorum of that voting group for action on that matter unless the articles of incorporation or the Code provide otherwise. Once a share is represented for any purpose at a meeting, other than solely to object to holding the meeting or to transacting business at the meeting, it is deemed present for quorum purposes for the remainder of the meeting and for any adjournment of the meeting unless a new record date is or must be set for the adjourned meeting pursuant to the bylaw governing the fixing of the record date with regard to shareholder action.

3.04 Adjournment and Reconvention

3.05 Presiding Officer

The Chief Executive Officer shall serve as the Presiding Officer of every meeting of shareholders unless another person is elected by the shareholders to serve as Presiding Officer at the meeting. The Presiding Officer shall appoint any persons he deems required to assist with the meeting.

3.06 Vote Required for Action

If a quorum exists, action on a matter (other than the election of directors) by a voting group is approved if the votes cast within the voting group favoring the action exceed the votes cast opposing the action, unless the articles of incorporation, provisions of these bylaws validly adopted by the shareholders, or the Code requires a greater number of affirmative votes. If the articles of incorporation or the Code provide for voting by two or more voting groups on a matter, action on that matter is taken only when voted upon by each of those voting groups counted separately. Action may be taken by one voting group on a matter even though no action is taken by another voting group entitled to vote on the matter. With regard to the election of directors, unless otherwise provided in the articles of incorporation, if a quorum exists, action on the election of directors is taken by a plurality of the votes cast by the shares entitled to vote in the election.

3.07 Shares Held by Another Corporation

Shares standing in the name of another corporation, domestic or foreign, may be voted by such officer, agent, or proxy as the by-laws of such other corporation may prescribe, or, in the absence of such a provision, as the board of directors of such other corporation may determine.

3.08 Method of Voting Shares

Unless the articles of incorporation or the Code provide otherwise, each outstanding share having voting rights shall be entitled to one vote on each matter submitted to a vote at a meeting of the shareholders. Voting on all matters shall be by voice vote or by show of hands unless any qualified voter, prior to the voting on any matter, demands vote by ballot, in which case each ballot shall state the name of the shareholder voting and the number of shares voted by him, and if the ballot be cast by proxy, it shall also state the name of the proxy.

3.09 Proxies

A shareholder entitled to vote on a matter may vote in person or by proxy pursuant to an appointment of proxy executed in writing by the shareholder or by his attorney-in-fact. An appointment of proxy shall be valid for only one meeting to be specified therein, and any adjournments of such meeting, but shall not be valid for more than eleven months unless expressly provided therein. Appointments of proxy shall be dated and filed with the records of the meeting to which they relate. If the validity of any appointment of proxy is questioned, it must be submitted to the secretary of the meeting of shareholders for examination or to a proxy officer or committee appointed by the meeting's presiding officer. The secretary of the meeting or, if appointed, the proxy officer or committee, shall determine the validity or invalidity of any appointment of proxy submitted for examination. Reference in the minutes of the meeting by the secretary or, if appointed, the proxy officer or committee, as to the regularity of an appointment of proxy shall be received as prima facie evidence of the facts stated for the purpose of establishing the presence of a quorum at the meeting and for all other purposes.

3.10 Action Without a Meeting

Any action required or permitted to be taken at a meeting of the shareholders, may be taken without a meeting if the action is taken by all shareholders entitled to vote on the action. Or, if allowed by the articles of incorporation, such action may be taken without a meeting by persons who would be entitled to vote shares having voting power to cast not less than the minimum number (or numbers, in the case of voting by groups) of votes that would be necessary to authorize or take the action at a meeting at which all shareholders entitled to vote were present and voted. The action without a meeting must be evidenced by one or more written consents describing the action taken, signed by shareholders entitled to take action without a meeting, and delivered to the corporation for inclusion in the minutes or filing with the corporate records. The corporation shall give written notice of actions so taken.

3.11 Notice

Unless waived as contemplated in these bylaws, a notice of each meeting of shareholders, stating the date, time, and place of the meeting shall be given not less than ten (10) days nor more than sixty (60) days before the date thereof, to each shareholder entitled to vote at that meeting. In the case of an annual meeting, the notice need not state the purpose or purposes of the meeting unless the articles of incorporation or the Code requires otherwise. In the case of a special meeting, including a special meeting in lieu of an annual meeting, the notice of meeting shall state the purpose or purposes for which the meeting is called.

All corporate powers, which are lawful and do not violate any legal agreement among shareholders and which are not prohibited by the articles of incorporation or these bylaws, shall be exercised by or under the authority of, and the business and affairs of the corporation shall be managed under, the direction of the Board of Directors. The Board of Directors may, by resolution, vote any shares of stock owned by the corporation. Also, the Board of Directors from time to time in its discretion may authorize or declare distributions or share dividends in accordance with the Code.

4.02 Number

The number and composition of the corporation's Board of Directors shall initially be that which is specified in the articles of incorporation. If the articles of incorporation do not specify the number and composition of the Board of Directors, then the Board of Director's shall consist of one member, the

Chief Executive Officer of the corporation. Thereafter, the number and composition of the Board of Directors may be changed from time to time by an action of the shareholders.

4.03 Election

Except as provided for in the bylaw addressing vacancies in the Board of Directors, the Directors shall be elected by a vote of the shareholders at each annual meeting of shareholders or special meeting in lieu of the annual meeting.

4.04 Term of Office

Except in the case of death, written resignation, retirement, disqualification, or removal, each director shall serve until the next succeeding annual meeting or special meeting in lieu of an annual meeting and thereafter until his successor is elected and qualifies or until the number of directors is decreased.

4.05 Removal

One or more directors may be removed from office with or without cause by the shareholders by a majority of the votes entitled to be cast. If the director was elected by a voting group, only the shareholders of that voting group may participate in the vote to remove him. Removal action may be taken at any meeting of shareholders with respect to which the notice stated that the purpose, or one of the purposes, of the meeting is removal of the director, and a removed director's successor may be elected at the same meeting.

4.06 Vacancies

A vacancy occurring in the Board of Directors, other than by reason of an increase in the number of directors, shall be filled for the unexpired term by the first to take action of (a) the shareholders or (b) the Board of Directors, and if the directors remaining in office constitute fewer than a quorum of the Board of Directors, they may fill the vacancy by the affirmative vote of a majority of all the directors remaining in office. If the vacant office was held by a director elected by a voting group, only the holders of shares of that voting group or the remaining directors elected by that voting group are entitled to vote to fill the vacancy. A vacancy occurring in the Board of Directors by reason of an increase in the number of directors shall be filled in like manner as any other vacancy, but, if filled by action of the Board of Directors, shall only be for a term of office continuing until the next election of directors by the shareholders and until the election and qualification of a successor.

4.07 Committees

The Board of Directors, by resolution, may designate from among its members an executive committee and one or more other committees, each consisting of one or more directors all of whom serve at the pleasure of the Board of Directors. Except as limited by the Code, each committee shall have the authority set forth in the resolution establishing the committee. The provisions of these bylaws as to the Board of Directors and its deliberations shall be applicable to any committee of the Board of Directors. All decisions and actions of any committee created by these bylaws or resulting from the authority granted by these bylaws, shall be subject to the discretionary review and approval of the Board of Directors.

4.08 Compensation

Unless the articles of incorporation provide otherwise, the Board of Directors may determine from time to time the compensation, if any, directors may receive for their services as directors. A director may also serve the corporation in a capacity other than that of director and receive compensation, as determined by the Board of Directors, for services rendered in such other capacity.

Article V. Meetings of the Board of Directors

5.01 Regular Meetings

Regular meetings of the Board of Directors shall be held immediately after the annual meeting of shareholders or a special meeting in lieu of the annual meeting. In addition, the Board of Directors may schedule other meetings to occur at regular intervals throughout the year.

5.02 Special Meetings

Special meetings of the Board of Directors may be called by or at the request of the Chief Executive Officer of the corporation, by the sole director of the board or, if the board consists of more than one director, by any two directors in office at that time.

5.03 Quorums

Unless a greater number is required by the articles of incorporation, these bylaws, or the Code, a quorum of the Board of Directors consists of a majority of the total number of directors.

5.04 Adjournments

Whether or not a quorum is present to organize a meeting, any meeting of directors (including an adjourned meeting) may be adjourned by a majority of the directors present to reconvene at a specific time and place. At any reconvened meeting, any business may be transacted that could have been transacted at the meeting that was adjourned. It shall not be necessary to give any notice of the reconvened meeting or of the business to be transacted, if the date, time and place of the reconvened meeting are announced at the meeting that was adjourned.

5.05 Action Without a Meeting

Unless the Code, the articles of incorporation, or these bylaws provide otherwise, any action required or permitted to be taken at any meeting of the Board of Directors, or any action that may be taken at a meeting of an authorized committee of the Board of Directors, may be taken without a meeting if the action is taken by all the members of the Board of Directors (or of the committee, as the case may be). The action must be evidenced by one or more written consents describing the action taken, signed by each director (or each director serving on the committee, as the case may be), and delivered to the corporation for inclusion in the minutes or filing with the corporate records.

5.06 Meetings by Telephone

Any or all directors may participate in a meeting of the Board of Directors, and members of an authorized committee of the Board of Directors may participate in a meeting of the committee (as the case may be), through the use of any means of communication by which all directors participating may simultaneously hear each other during the meeting.

5.07 Place of Meetings

Directors may hold their meetings at any place within or without the state of incorporation, as the Board of Directors may from time to time establish for regular meetings or as set forth in the notice of special meetings or, in the event of a meeting held pursuant to waiver of notice, as set forth in the waiver.

5.08 Notice of Meetings

No notice shall be required for any regularly scheduled meeting of the directors. Unless waived as contemplated in these bylaws, each director shall be given at least five day's notice of each special meeting stating the date, time, and place of the meeting. It is not required that the purpose of a Directors' meeting be stated in any notice of such a meeting, whether the meeting is a regular or a special meeting.

5.09 Vote Required for Action

If a quorum is present when a vote is taken, the affirmative vote of a majority of directors present is the act of the Board of Directors unless the Code, the articles of incorporation, or these bylaws require the vote of a greater number of directors.

A director who is present at a meeting of the Board of Directors, or an authorized committee of the Board of Directors, when corporate action is taken is deemed to have assented to the action taken unless:

(i) he objects at the beginning of the meeting (or promptly upon his arrival) to holding the meeting or to transacting business at the meeting,

(ii) his dissent or abstention from the action taken is entered in the minutes of the meeting, or

(iii) he delivers written notice of his dissent or abstention to the presiding officer of the meeting before its adjournment or to the corporation immediately after adjournment of the meeting.

The right of dissent or abstention is not available to a director who votes in favor of the action taken.

Article VI. Shareholder and Director Notices

6.1 Delivery of Notice

Whenever these bylaws require notice to be given to any shareholder or director, the notice shall be given in accordance with this bylaw. Notice under these bylaws shall be in writing unless oral notice is reasonable under the circumstances. Any notice to directors may be written or oral. Notice may be communicated in person, by telephone, telegraph, teletype, other form of wire or wireless communication, or by mail or private carrier. If these forms of personal notice are impracticable, notice may be communicated by a newspaper of general circulation in the area where published, or by radio, television, or other form of public broadcast communication. Written notice to the shareholders, if in a comprehensible form, is effective when mailed, if mailed with first-class postage prepaid and correctly addressed to the shareholder's address shown in the corporation's current record of shareholders.

6.2 When Effective

Except as otherwise provided in this bylaw, written notice, if in a comprehensible form, is effective at the earliest of the following:

(i) when received or when delivered, properly addressed, to the addressee's last known

principal place of business or residence;

(ii) five days after deposit in the mail, as evidenced by the postmark, if mailed with first-class postage prepaid and correctly addressed, or

(iii) on the date shown on the return receipt, if sent by registered or certified mail, return receipt requested, and the receipt is signed by or on behalf of the addressee.

Oral notice is effective when communicated if communicated in a comprehensible manner.

In calculating time periods for notice, when a period of time measured in days, weeks, months, years, or other measurement of time is prescribed for the exercise of any privilege or the discharge of any duty, the first day shall not be counted but the last day shall be counted.

6.3 Waiver

A shareholder or director may waive any notice before or after the date and time stated in the notice. Except as provided in this bylaw, the waiver must be in writing, be signed by the shareholder or director entitled to the notice, and be delivered to the corporation for inclusion in the minutes or filing with the corporate records.

A shareholder's attendance at a meeting (i) waives objection to lack of notice or defective notice of the meeting, unless the shareholder at the beginning of the meeting objects to holding the meeting or transacting business at the meeting; and (ii) waives objection to consideration of a particular matter at the meeting that is not within the purpose or purposes described in the meeting notice, unless the shareholder objects to considering the matter when it is presented.

A director's attendance at or participation in a meeting waives any required notice to him of the meeting unless the director at the beginning of the meeting (or promptly upon his arrival) objects to holding the meeting or transacting business at the meeting and does not thereafter vote for or assent to action taken at the meeting.

Unless required by the Code, neither the business transacted nor the purpose of the meeting need be specified in the waiver.

6.4 Notice Following Adjournment

If notice of an adjourned meeting of the shareholders or of the directors was properly given, it shall not be necessary to give any notice of the reconvened meeting or of the business to be transacted, if the date, time and place of the reconvened meeting are announced at the meeting that was adjourned and before adjournment; provided, however, that if a new record date of shares is or must be fixed, notice of the reconvened meeting must be given to persons who are shareholders as of the new record date.

7.01 Number

The officers of the corporation shall consist of a Board Chairman, a President, a Secretary, a Treasurer, and any other officers as may be appointed by the Board of Directors or by an other duly appointed officer pursuant to these bylaws. The Board of Directors shall from time to time create and establish the duties of the other officers. Any two or more offices may be held by the same person.

7.02 Chairman of Board

The Chairman of the Board of Directors shall preside at all meetings of the Board of Directors and shall have authority to execute bonds, mortgages, and other contracts requiring a seal, under the seal of the corporation; to endorse, when sold, assigned, transferred, or otherwise disposed of by the corporation, all certificates or shares of stock, bonds, or other securities issued by other corporations, associations, trusts, whether public or private, or by any government agency thereof, and owned or held by the corporation, and to make, execute, and deliver all instruments or assignments of transfer of any such stocks, bonds, or other securities. The Chairman of the Board may, with the approval of the Board of Directors, or shall, at the direction of the Board of Directors, delegate any or all of such duties to the President.

7.03 President

The President shall be the Chief Executive Officer of the corporation and shall have general supervision of the business of the corporation. The President shall see that all orders and resolutions of the Board of Directors are carried into effect. The President shall perform such other duties as may from time to time be delegated by the Board of Directors. In the absence of the Chairman of the Board, the President shall have authority to do any and all things delegated to the Chairman of the Board of Directors.

7.04 Vice President

7.05 Secretary

The Secretary shall be responsible for preparing minutes of the acts and proceedings of all meetings of the shareholders, the Board of Directors, and any Committees thereof. The Secretary shall have authority to give all notices required by the Code or these bylaws. The Secretary shall be responsible for the custody of the corporate books, records, contracts, and other documents. The Secretary may affix the corporate seal to any lawfully executed documents and shall sign any instruments as may require his or her signature. The Secretary shall authenticate records of the corporation. The Secretary shall perform whatever additional duties and have whatever additional powers the Board of Directors may from time to time assign. In the absence or disability of the Secretary or at the direction of the President, any assistant secretary may perform the duties and exercise the powers of the Secretary.

7.06 Treasurer

The Treasurer shall be responsible for the custody of all funds and securities belonging to the corporation and for the receipt, deposit, or disbursement of funds and securities under the direction of the Board of Directors. The Treasurer shall cause to be maintained full and true accounts of all receipts and disbursements and shall make reports of the same to the Board of Directors and the President upon request. The Treasurer shall perform all duties as may be assigned to him from time to time by the Board of Directors.

7.07 Appointment, Term, and Removal

All officers shall be appointed by the Board of Directors or by a duly appointed officer pursuant to these bylaws and shall serve at the pleasure of the Board of Directors or the appointing officers, as the case may be. All officers, however appointed, may be removed with or without cause by the Board of Directors, and any officer appointed by another officer may also be removed by the appointing officer with or without cause.

7.08 Compensation

The compensation of all officers of the corporation appointed by the Board of Directors shall be fixed by the Board of Directors.

7.09 Bonds

The Board of Directors may, by resolution, require any or all of the officers, agents, or employees of the corporation to give bonds to the corporation, with sufficient surety or sureties, conditioned on the faithful performance of the duties of their respective offices or positions, and to comply with any other conditions as from time to time may be required by the Board of Directors.

Article VIII. Indemnification

8.01 Basic Indemnification Arrangement

Except as provided in these bylaws, the corporation shall indemnify an individual who is a party to a proceeding because he or she is or was a director or officer against liability incurred in the proceeding if:

(i) Such Director or Officer conducted himself in good faith and reasonably believed:

(a) In the case of conduct in his or her official capacity, that such conduct was in the best interests of the corporation;

(b) In all other cases, that such conduct was at least not opposed to the best interests of the corporation; and

(c) In the case of any criminal proceeding, that the individual had no reasonable cause to believe such conduct was unlawful, or

(ii) Such Director's or Officer's conduct with respect to an employee benefit plan, which is the subject of the proceeding, was for a purpose he believed in good faith to be in the interests of the participants in and beneficiaries of the plan.

The termination of a proceeding by judgment, order, settlement, or conviction, or upon a plea of nolo contendere or its equivalent is not, of itself, determinative that the director or officer did not meet the requisite standard of conduct described in this bylaw.

The corporation may not indemnify a director or officer under this Article:

(i) In connection with a proceeding by or in the right of the corporation, except for reasonable expenses incurred in connection with the proceeding if it is determined that the director or officer has met the requisite standard of conduct under this bylaw; or

(ii) In connection with any proceeding with respect to conduct for which he or she was adjudged liable on the basis that personal benefit was improperly received by him or her, whether or not involving action in his or her official capacity.

8.02 Advances for Expenses

The corporation may, before final disposition of a proceeding, advance funds to pay for or reimburse the reasonable expenses, including counsel fees, incurred by a director or officer who is a party to a proceeding because he or she is a director or officer if he or she delivers to the corporation:

(i) A written affirmation of his or her good faith belief that he or she has met the requisite standard of conduct described in the Basic Indemnification Arrangement bylaw or that the proceeding involves conduct for which such person's liability has been eliminated under the corporation's articles of incorporation; and

(ii) His or her written undertaking to repay any funds advanced if it is ultimately determined that the director or officer is not entitled to indemnification under this Article or the Code. This undertaking to repay must be an unlimited general obligation of the director or officer but need not be secured and may be accepted without reference to the financial ability of the director or officer to make repayment.

Authorizations for expense advancements shall be made:

(i) By the board of directors:

(a) by a majority vote of a quorum consisting of disinterested directors, or

(b) if such a quorum is not obtainable (or is obtainable and a majority vote of a quorum of disinterested directors so directs), by independent legal counsel in a written opinion; or

(ii) By a majority vote of the shareholders; however, shares owned or voted under the control of a director or officer who at the time does not qualify as a disinterested director or disinterested officer with respect to the proceeding may not be voted on the authorization.

8.03 Court-Ordered Indemnification and Advances for Expenses

A director or officer who is a party to a proceeding because he or she is a director or officer may apply for indemnification or advance for expenses to the court conducting the proceeding or to another court of competent jurisdiction. Pursuant to the Code, after receipt of an application and after giving any notice it considers necessary, the court shall:

(i) Order indemnification or advance for expenses if it determines that the director or officer is entitled to indemnification; or

(ii) Order indemnification or advance for expenses if it determines, in view of all the relevant circumstances, that it is fair and reasonable to indemnify the director or officer, or to advance expenses to the director or officer, even if the director or officer has not met the relevant standard of conduct, failed to comply with the requirements for advance of expenses, or was adjudged liable on the basis that personal benefit was improperly received by him or her, whether or not involving action in his or her official capacity. However, if the director or officer was adjudged so liable, the indemnification shall be limited to reasonable expenses incurred in connection with the proceeding.

If the court determines that the director or officer is entitled to indemnification or advance for expenses, it may also order the corporation to pay the director's or officer's reasonable expenses to obtain court-ordered indemnification or advance for expenses.

8.04 Determination and Authorization of Indemnification

The corporation acknowledges that indemnification of a director or officer according to these bylaws has been pre-authorized by the corporation as permitted by the Code. Nevertheless, the corporation shall not indemnify a director or officer under these bylaws unless a determination has been made for the specific proceeding that indemnification of the director or officer is permissible in the circumstances because he or she has met the relevant standard of conduct set forth in the Basic Indemnification Arrangement. However, regardless of the result or absence of any such determination, the corporation shall indemnify a director or officer who was wholly successful, on the merits or otherwise, in the defense of any proceeding to which he or she was a party because he or she was a director or officer of the corporation against reasonable expenses incurred by the director or officer in connection with the proceeding.

The determination of indemnification shall be made:

(i) by the board of directors:

  (a) by a majority vote of a quorum consisting of disinterested directors; or

  (b) if such a quorum is not obtainable or is obtainable and a majority vote of a quorum of disinterested directors so directs, by independent legal counsel in a written opinion; or

(ii) by a majority vote of the shareholders, but shares owned by or voted under the control of a director or officer who at the time does not qualify as a disinterested director or disinterested officer may not be voted on the determination.

As acknowledged above, the corporation has pre-authorized the indemnification of directors and officers hereunder, subject to a determination for a specific proceeding that the director or officer met the relevant standard of conduct under the Basic Indemnification Arrangement. Consequently, no further decision need or shall be made on a case-by-case basis as to the authorization of the corporation's indemnification of directors or officers hereunder. Nevertheless, evaluation as to reasonableness of expenses of a director or officer for a specific proceeding shall be made in the same manner as the determination that indemnification is permissible, except that if there are fewer than two disinterested directors or if the determination is made by special legal counsel, evaluation as to reasonableness of expenses shall be made by the Board of Directors, the members of which may or may not be disinterested.

8.05 Indemnification of Employees and Agents

The corporation may indemnify and advance expenses under these bylaws to an employee or agent of the corporation who is not a director or officer to the extent, consistent with public policy, that such indemnification and advances may be provided to a director or officer.

8.06 Shareholder Approved indemnification

If authorized by the articles of incorporation, the bylaws, or by a contract or resolution

approved or ratified by the shareholders of the corporation by a majority of the votes entitled to be cast, the corporation may indemnify or obligate itself to indemnify a director or officer made a party to a proceeding, including a proceeding brought by or in the right of the corporation, without regard to the limitations in other sections of these bylaws, but shares owned or voted under the control of a director or officer who at the time of such authorization does not qualify as a disinterested director or disinterested officer with respect to any existing or threatened proceeding that would be covered by the authorization may not be voted on the authorization.

Nevertheless, the corporation shall not indemnify a director or officer under this bylaw for any liability incurred in a proceeding in which the director or officer is adjudged liable to the corporation or is subjected to injunctive relief in favor of the corporation:

(i) for any appropriation, in violation of his or her duties, of any business opportunity of the corporation,

(ii) for acts or omissions which involve intentional misconduct or a knowing violation of law,

(iii) for assenting to an unlawful distribution as defined in the Code, or

(iv) for any transaction from which he or she received an improper personal benefit.

Where approved or authorized according to this bylaw, the corporation may advance or reimburse expenses incurred in advance of final disposition of the proceeding only if

(i) The director or officer furnishes the corporation a written affirmation of his or her good faith belief that his or her conduct does not constitute behavior of the kind described in this bylaw which would prevent indemnification; and

(ii) The director or officer furnishes the corporation a written undertaking, executed personally or on his or her behalf, to repay any advances if it is ultimately determined that he or she is not entitled to indemnification under this bylaw.

8.07 Insurance

The corporation may purchase and maintain insurance on behalf of an individual

(i) who is a director, officer, employee, or agent of the corporation, or

against liability asserted against or incurred by him or her in that capacity or arising from his or her status as a director, officer, employee, or agent, whether or not the corporation would have power to indemnify or advance expenses to him or her against the same liability under these bylaws or the Code.

8.09 Witness Fees

Nothing in these bylaws shall limit the corporation's power to pay or reimburse expenses incurred by a director or officer in connection with his or her appearance as a witness in a proceeding at a time when he or she is not a party.

8.10 Report to Shareholders

To the extent and in the manner required by the Code from time to time, if the corporation indemnifies or advances expenses to a director or officer in connection with a proceeding by or in the right of the corporation, the corporation shall report the indemnification or advance to the shareholders.

8.11 Effect of Amendments

No amendment, modification, or rescission of these bylaws, or any provision of the bylaws, the effect of which would diminish the rights to indemnification or advancement of expenses as set forth herein shall be effective as to any person with respect to any action taken or omitted by such person prior to such amendment, modification or rescission.

9.01 Authorization and Issuance

In accordance with the Code, the Board of Directors may authorize shares of any class or series provided for in the corporation's Articles of Incorporation to be issued for any consideration valid under the provisions of the Code. To the extent provided in the Articles of Incorporation, the Board of Directors shall determine the preferences, limitations, and relative rights of the shares.

9.02 Form

The interest of each shareholder in the corporation shall be evidenced by a certificate or certificates representing shares of the corporation which shall be in such form as the Board of Directors from time to time may adopt. Share certificates shall be numbered consecutively, shall be in registered form, shall indicate the date of issuance, the name of the corporation, that it is organized under the laws of the state of incorporation, the name of the shareholder, the number and class of shares, and the designation of the series, if any, represented by the certificate. Each certificate shall be signed by any one of the President, a Vice President, the Secretary, or the Treasurer. The corporate seal need not be affixed.

9.03 Registered Shareholders

Prior to due presentation for transfer of registration of its shares, the corporation may treat the registered owner of the shares as the person exclusively entitled to vote the shares, to receive any share dividend or distribution with respect to the shares, and for all other purposes. The corporation shall not be bound to recognize any equitable or other claim to or interest in the shares on the part of any other person, whether or not it shall have express or other notice thereof, except as otherwise provided by law.

9.04 Transfer of Shares

Transfers of shares shall be made upon the transfer books of the corporation, kept at the principle office of the corporation (or at the office of the transfer agent designated to transfer the shares, if any) only upon direction of the person named in the certificate, or by his or her attorney lawfully constituted in writing. Before a new certificate is issued, the old certificate shall be surrendered for cancellation or, in the case of a certificate alleged to have been lost, stolen, or destroyed, the requirements of the bylaw governing lost, stolen, or destroyed certificates shall have been met.

9.05 Record Date

demand a special meeting, to vote, or to take any other action, the Board of Directors may fix a future date as the record date, which date shall be not more than seventy (70) days prior to the date on which the particular action requiring a determination of shareholders is to be taken. A determination of shareholders entitled to notice of or to vote at a shareholders' meeting is effective for any adjournment of the meeting unless the Board of Directors fixes a new record date, which it must do if the meeting is adjourned to a date more than 120 days after the date fixed for the original meeting. If no record date is fixed by the Board of Directors, the record date shall be determined in accordance with the provisions of the Code.

For the purpose of determining shareholders entitled to a distribution (other than one involving a purchase, redemption, or other reacquisition of the corporation's shares) or a share dividend, the Board of Directors may fix a date as the record date, if no record date is fixed by the Board of Directors, the record date shall be determined in accordance with the provisions of the Code.

9.06 Lost, Stolen, or Destroyed Certificates

Any person claiming a share certificate to be lost, stolen, or destroyed shall make an affidavit or affirmation of the fact in the manner required by the Board of Directors and, if the Board of Directors requires, shall give the corporation a bond of indemnity in form and amount, and with one or more sureties satisfactory to the Board of Directors, as the Board of Directors may require, whereupon an appropriate new certificate may be issued in lieu of the one alleged to have been lost, stolen or destroyed.

Article X. Miscellaneous

10.01 Fiscal Year

The fiscal year of the corporation shall be a twelve-month period, beginning January 1 and ending on December 31 each year, unless the Board of Directors, by resolution, fixes the fiscal year as an other time period.

10.02 Corporate Seal

If the Board of Directors determines that there should be a corporate seal for the corporation, it shall be in the form as the Board of Directors may from time to time determine.

10.03 Corporate Records

The Board of Directors shall have the power to determine which accounts, books, and records of the corporation shall be opened to the inspection of the shareholders, except those as may by law specifically be made open to inspection. The Board of Directors shall have the power to fix reasonable rules and regulations not in conflict with the applicable law for the inspection of accounts, books, and records which by law or by determination of the Board of Directors shall be open to inspection.

10.04 Annual Financial Statements

In accordance with the Code, the corporation shall prepare and provide to the shareholders such financial statements as may be required by the Code.

10.05 Amendments

The Board of Directors shall have the power to alter, amend, or repeal these bylaws or adopt new bylaws, but any bylaws adopted by the Board of Directors may be altered, amended, or repealed, and new bylaws adopted, by the shareholders. The shareholders may prescribe, by expressing in the action they take in adopting or amending any bylaw or bylaws, that the bylaw or bylaws so adopted or amended shall not be altered, amended or repealed by the Board of Directors.

10.06 Conflict with Articles of Incorporation or Law; Severability

In the event that any provision of these bylaws conflicts with any provision of the Articles of Incorporation, the Articles of Incorporation shall govern. In the event that any of the provisions of these bylaws (including any provision within a single section, subsection, division or sentence) is held by a court of competent jurisdiction to be invalid, void, or otherwise unenforceable, the remaining provisions of the bylaws shall remain enforceable to the fullest extent permitted by law.

By-Laws

The board of directors is authorized to make, amend or repeal the by-laws of the corporation in whole or in part, except with respect to any provision thereof which by law, by these articles of organization, or by the by-laws requires action by the stockholders.

Place of Meetings of the Stockholders

Meetings of the stockholders may be held anywhere in the United States.

Partnership

The corporation may be a partner in any business enterprise which the corporation would have power to conduct by itself.

Indemnification of Directors, Officers and Others

The corporation shall indemnify each person who is or was a director, officer, employee or other agent of the corporation, and each person who is or was serving at the request of the corporation as a director, trustee, officer, employee or other agent of another organization in which it directly or indirectly owns shares or of which it is directly or indirectly a creditor, against all liabilities, costs and expenses, including but not limited to amounts paid in satisfaction of judgments, in settlement or as fines and penalties, and counsel fees and disbursements, reasonably incurred by him in connection with the defense or disposition of or otherwise in connection with or resulting from any action, suit or other proceeding, whether civil, criminal, administrative or investigative, before any court or administrative or legislative or investigative body, in which he may be or may have been involved as a party or otherwise or with which he may be or may have been threatened, while in office or thereafter, by reason of his being or having been such a director, officer, employee, agent or trustee, or by reason of any action taken or not taken in any such capacity, except with respect to any matter as to which he shall have been finally adjudicated by a court of competent jurisdiction not to have acted in good faith in the reasonable belief that his action was in the best interests of the corporation. Expenses, including but not limited to counsel fees and disbursements, so incurred by any such person in defending any such action, suit or proceeding may be paid from time to time by the corporation in advance of the final disposition of such action, suit or proceeding upon receipt of an undertaking by or on behalf of the person indemnified to repay the amounts so paid if it shall ultimately be determined that indemnification of such expenses is not authorized hereunder.

CONTINUATION SHEET 6B
to the Articles of Organization of
North Point - Pioneer, Inc.

As to any matter disposed of by settlement by any such person, pursuant to a consent decree or otherwise, no such indemnification either for the amount of such settlement or for any other expenses shall be provided unless such settlement shall be approved as in the best interests of the corporation, after notice that it involves such indemnification, (a) by a vote of a majority of the disinterested directors then in office (even though the disinterested directors be less than a quorum), or (b) by any disinterested person or persons to whom the question may be referred by vote of a majority of such disinterested directors, or (c) by vote of the holders of a majority of the outstanding stock at the time entitled to vote for directors, voting as a single class, exclusive of any stock owned by any interested persons, or (d) by any disinterested person or persons to whom the question may be referred by vote of the holders of a majority of such stock. No such approval shall prevent the recovery from any such officer, director, employee, agent or trustee of any amounts paid to him or on his behalf as indemnification in accordance with the preceding sentence if such person is subsequently adjudicated by a court of competent jurisdiction not to have acted in good faith in the reasonable belief that his action was in the best interests of the corporation.

The right of indemnification hereby provided shall not be exclusive of or affect any other rights to which any director, officer, employee, agent, or trustee may be entitled or which may lawfully be granted to him. As used herein, the terms “director,” “officer,” “employee,” “agent” and “trustee” include their respective executors, administrators and other legal representatives, and “interested” person is one against whom the action, suit or other proceeding in question or another action, suit or other proceeding on the same or similar grounds is then or had been pending or threatened, and a “disinterested” person is a person against whom no such action, suit or other proceeding is then or had been pending or threatened.

CONTINUATION SHEET 6C
to the Articles of Organization of
North Point - Pioneer, Inc.

By action of the board of directors, notwithstanding any interest of the directors in such action, the corporation may purchase and maintain insurance, in such amounts as the board of directors may from time to time deem appropriate, on behalf of any person who is or was a director, officer, employee or other agent of the corporation, or is or was serving at the request of the corporation as a director, trustee, officer, employee or other agent of another organization in which it directly or indirectly owns shares or of which it is directly or indirectly a creditor, against any liability incurred by him in any such capacity, or arising out of his status as such, whether or not the corporation would have the power to indemnify him against such liability.

Intercompany Transactions

No contract or transaction between the corporation and one or more of its directors or officers, or between the corporation and any other organization of which one or more of its directors or officers are directors, trustees or officers, or in which any of them has any financial or other interest, shall be void or voidable, or in any way affected, solely for this reason, or solely because the director or officer is present at or participates in the meeting of the board of directors or committee thereof which authorizes, approves or ratifies the contract or transaction, or solely because his or their votes are counted for such purposes, if:

a) The material facts as to his relationship or interest and as to the contract or transaction are disclosed or are known to the board of directors or the committee which authorizes, approves or ratifies the contract or transaction, and the board or committee in good faith authorizes, approves or ratifies the contract or transaction by the affirmative vote of a majority of the disinterested directors, even though the disinterested directors be less than a quorum; or

b) The material facts as to his relationship or interest and as to the contract or transaction are disclosed or are known to the stockholders entitled to vote thereon, and the contract or transaction is specifically authorized, approved or ratified in good faith by vote of the stockholders; or

to the Articles of Organization of
North Point - Pioneer, Inc.

c) The contract or transaction is fair as to the corporation as of the time it is authorized, approved or ratified by the board of directors, a committee thereof, or the stockholders.

Common or interested directors may be counted in determining the presence of a quorum at a meeting of the board of directors or of a committee thereof which authorizes, approves or ratifies the contract or transaction. No director or officer of the corporation shall be liable or accountable to the corporation or to any of its stockholders or creditors or to any other person, either for any loss to the corporation or to any other person or for any gains or profits realized by such director or officer, clauses (a), (b) or (c) above are applicable.

Limitations on Director Liability

No director of the corporation shall be liable to the corporation or its stockholders for monetary damages for breach of fiduciary duty as a director, except for liability (i) for any breach of the director's duty of loyalty to the corporation or its stockholders, (ii) for acts or omissions not in good faith or which involve intentional misconduct or a knowing violation of law, (iii) under Section 61 or 62 of Chapter 156B of the General Laws of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, or (iv) for any transaction in which the director derived an improper personal benefit. No amendment to or repeal of any provision of this paragraph, directly or by adoption of an inconsistent provision of these Articles of Organization, shall apply to or have any effect on any liability or alleged liability of any director of the corporation for or with respect to any acts or omissions of such director occurring prior to such amendment or repeal.

ARTICLE VII

The effective date of organization of the corporation shall be the date approved and filed by the Secretary of the Commonwealth. If a later effective date is desired, specify such date which shall not be more than thirty days after the date of filing.

The information contained in ARTICLE VIII is NOT a PERMANENT part of the Articles of Organization and may be changed ONLY by filing the appropriate form provided therefor.

OF

NORTH POINT - PIONEER, INC.

(as of November 30, 2011)

ARTICLE I

Stockholders

Section 1. Annual Meeting. The annual meeting of the stockholders shall be held within six months of the end of the corporation's fiscal year as fixed by the board of directors for the purpose of electing directors and for such other purposes as may be determined as hereinafter provided. The hour and place of such meeting and the purposes for which such meeting is to be held in addition to that specified above shall be determined in each year by the board of directors or, in the absence of action by the board, by the president. If no annual meeting has been held in the period fixed above, a special meeting may be held in lieu thereof with all the force and effect of an annual meeting.

Section 2. Special Meetings. Special meetings of the stockholders may be called at any time by the president or by the board of directors and shall be called by the clerk, or in case of the death, absence, incapacity or refusal of the clerk, by any other officer, upon written application of one or more stockholders who hold at least one-tenth part in interest of the capital stock entitled to vote thereat. Such application shall specify the purposes for which the meeting is to be called and may designate the date, hour and place of such meeting, provided, however, that no such application shall designate a date not a full business day or an hour not within normal business hours as the date or hour of such meeting without the approval of the president or the board of directors.

Section 3. Place of Meetings. Meetings of the stockholders may be held anywhere within, but not without, the United States.

Section 4. Notice. Except as hereinafter provided, a written or printed notice of every meeting of stockholders stating the place, date, hour and purposes thereof shall be given by the clerk or an assistant clerk (or by any other officer in the case of an annual meeting or by the person or persons calling the meeting in the case of a special meeting) at least ten (10) days before the meeting to each stockholder entitled to vote thereat and to each stockholder who, by law, by the articles of organization or by these by-laws, is entitled to such notice, by leaving such notice with him or at his residence or usual place of business or by mailing it, postage prepaid, addressed to him at his address as it appears upon the records of the corporation. No notice of the place, date, hour or purposes of any annual or special meeting of stockholders need be given to a stockholder if a written waiver of such notice, executed before or after the meeting by such stockholder or his attorney thereunto authorized, is filed with the records of the meeting.

Section 5. Action at a Meeting. Except as otherwise provided in the articles of organization, the presence of a quorum shall be separately determined with respect to each matter to be acted on at any meeting of stockholders, and shall consist of the holders of shares having the right to cast a majority of the votes which may be cast with respect to such matter. Though less than a quorum be present, any meeting may without further notice be adjourned to a subsequent date or until a quorum be had, and at any such adjourned meeting any business may be transacted which might have been transacted at the original meeting.

When a quorum is present at any meeting, the affirmative vote of a majority of the shares of stock present or represented and voting shall be necessary and sufficient to the determination of any questions brought before the meeting, unless a larger vote is required by law, by the articles of organization or by these by-laws, provided, however, that any election by stockholders shall be determined by a plurality of the votes cast by the stockholders entitled to vote in such election.

Except as otherwise provided by law or by the articles or organization or by these by-laws, each holder of record of shares of stock entitled to vote on any matter shall have one vote for each such share held of record by him and a proportionate vote for any fractional shares so held by him. Stockholders may vote either in person or by proxy. No proxy dated more than six months before the meeting named therein shall be valid and no proxy shall be valid after the final adjournment of such meeting. A proxy with respect to stock held in the name of two or more persons shall be valid if executed by anyone of them unless at or prior to the exercise of the proxy the corporation receives a specific written notice to the contrary from anyone of them. A proxy purporting to be executed by or on behalf of a stockholder shall be deemed valid unless challenged at or prior to its exercise and the burden of proving its invalidity shall rest on the challenger.

Any election by stockholders and the determination of any other questions to come before a meeting of the stockholders shall be by ballot if so requested by any stockholder entitled to vote thereon but need not be otherwise.

Section 6. Stockholder Proposals. Written notification of any stockholder proposal to be acted upon at an annual meeting of stockholders of the corporation must be provided to the corporation at least 120 calendar days in advance of the date of the corporation’s proxy statement released to stockholders in connection with the previous year’s annual meeting of stockholders. Written notification of any stockholder proposal to be acted upon at any meeting of the stockholders of the corporation other than an annual meeting must be provided to the corporation at least 180 calendar days before the meeting at which such proposal is to be acted upon.

Section 7. Action by Written Consent. Any action required to be taken at any annual or special meeting of stockholders of the corporation, or any action which may be taken at any annual or special meeting of such stockholders, may be taken without a meeting, without prior notice and without a vote, if a consent or consents in writing, setting forth the action so taken and bearing the dates of signature of the stockholders who signed the consent or consents, shall be signed by the holders of outstanding stock having not less than the minimum number of votes that would be necessary to authorize or take such action at a meeting at which all shares entitled to vote thereon were present and voted and shall be delivered to the corporation by delivery to the corporation's principal place of business, or an officer or agent of the corporation having custody of the book or books in which proceedings of meetings of the stockholders are recorded.

Directors

Section 1. Number and Election. Except as otherwise provided by law or by the articles of organization, the number of directors for the ensuing year shall be determined by the board of directors. The number of directors so determined shall be elected at the annual meeting of the stockholders by such stockholders as have the right to vote thereon. The stockholders may, at any special meeting held for the purpose, increase or decrease the number of directors as thus determined and elect new directors to complete the number so determined or remove directors to reduce the number of directors to the number so determined. Except as otherwise provided by law or by the articles of organization, the board of directors may, by vote of a majority of the directors then in office, increase the number of directors determined by the stockholders and elect new directors to complete the number so determined. No director need be a stockholder.

Section 2. Term. Except as otherwise provided by law, by the articles of organization or by these by-laws, the directors shall hold office until the next annual meeting of stockholders and until their successors are chosen and qualified.

Section 3. Resignations. Any director may resign by delivering his written resignation to the corporation at its principal office or to the president or clerk or if there be one, to the secretary. Such resignation shall become effective at the time or upon the happening of the condition, if any, specified therein or, if no such time or condition is specified, upon its receipt.

Section 4. Removal. At any meeting of the stockholders called: for the purpose any director may be removed from office with or without cause by the vote of a majority of the class of shares issued, outstanding and entitled to vote in the election of said director. At any meeting of the board of directors any director may be removed from office for cause by vote of a majority of the directors then in office. A director may be removed for cause only after a reasonable notice and opportunity to be heard before the body proposing to remove him.

Section 5. Vacancies. Vacancies in the board of directors may be filled by vote of a majority of the remaining directors elected by that class of stockholders which elected the director whose office has been vacated or, if not yet so filled, by majority vote of the class of stockholders which elected the director whose office has been vacated.

Section 6. Regular Meetings. Regular meetings of the board of directors may be held at such times and places within or without the Commonwealth of Massachusetts as the board of directors may fix from time to time and, when so fixed, no notice thereof need be given. The first meeting of the board of directors following the annual meeting of the stockholders shall be held without notice immediately after and at the same place as the annual meeting of the stockholders or the special meeting held in lieu thereof. If in any year a meeting of the board of directors is not held at such time and place, any elections to be held or business to be transacted at such meeting may be held or transacted at any later meeting of the board of directors with the same force and effect as if held or transacted at such meeting.

Section 7. Special Meetings. Special meetings of the board of directors may be called at any time by the president or secretary (or, if there be no secretary, the clerk) or by any director. Such special meetings may be held anywhere within or without the Commonwealth of Massachusetts. A written, printed or telegraphic notice stating the place, date and hour (but not necessarily the purposes) of the meeting shall be given by the secretary or an assistant secretary (or, if there be no secretary or assistant secretary, the clerk or an assistant clerk) or by the officer or director calling the meeting at least forty-eight (48) hours before such meeting to each director by leaving such notice with him or at his residence or usual place of business or by mailing it, postage prepaid, or sending it by prepaid telegram, addressed to him at his last known address. No notice of the place, date or hour of any meeting of the board of directors need be given to any director if a written waiver of such notice, executed by him before or after the meeting, is filed with the records of the meeting, or to any director who attends the meeting without protesting prior thereto or at its commencement the lack of notice to him.

Section 8. Action at a Meeting. At any meeting of the board of directors, a majority of the directors then in office shall constitute a quorum. Though less than a quorum be present, any meeting may without further notice be adjourned to a subsequent date or until a quorum be had. When a quorum is present at any meeting a majority of the directors present may take any action on behalf of the board except to the extent that a larger number is required by law, by the articles or organization or by these by-laws.

Section 9. Action Without a Meeting. Any action required or permitted to be taken at any meeting of the directors may be taken without a meeting if all the directors consent to the action in writing and the written consents are filed with the records of the meetings of the directors. Such consents shall be treated for all purposes as a vote at a meeting.

Section 10. Powers. The board of directors shall have and may exercise all the powers of the corporation, except such as by law, by the articles of organization or by these by-laws are conferred upon or reserved to the stockholders. In the event of any vacancy in the board of directors, the remaining directors then in office, except as otherwise provided by law, shall have and may exercise all of the powers of the board of directors until the vacancy is filled.

Section 11. Committees. The board of directors may elect from the board an executive committee or one or more other committees and may delegate to any such committee or committees any or all of the powers of the board except those which by law, by the articles of organization or by these by-laws may not be so delegated. Such committees shall serve at the pleasure of the board of directors. Except as the board of directors may otherwise determine, each such committee may make rules for the conduct of its business, but, unless otherwise determined by the board or in such rules, its business shall be conducted as nearly as may be as is provided in these by-laws for the conduct of the business of the board of directors.

Section 12. Meeting by Telecommunications. Members of the board of directors or any committee elected thereby may participate in a meeting of such board of committee by means of a conference telephone or similar communications equipment by means of which all persons participating in a meeting can hear each other at the same time and participation by such means shall constitute presence in person at the meeting.

Officers

Section 1. Enumeration. The officers of the corporation shall consist of a president, a treasurer and a clerk and such other officers, including without limitation a chairman of the board of directors, a secretary and one or more vice presidents, assistant treasurers, assistant clerks and assistant secretaries, as the board of directors may from time to time determine.

Section 2. Qualifications. No officer need be a stockholder or a director. The same person may hold at the same time one or more offices unless otherwise provided by law. The clerk shall be a resident of Massachusetts unless the corporation shall have a resident agent. Any officer may be required by the board of directors to give a bond for the faithful performance of his duties in such form and with such sureties as the board may determine.

Section 3. Elections. The president, treasurer and clerk shall be elected annually by the board of directors at its first meeting following the annual meeting of the stockholders. All other officers shall be chosen or appointed by the board of directors.

Section 4. Term. Except as otherwise provided by law, by the articles of organization or by these by-laws, the president, treasurer and clerk shall hold office until the first meeting of the board of directors following the next annual meeting of the stockholders and until their respective successors are chosen and qualified. All other officers shall hold office until the first meeting of the board of directors following the next annual meeting of the stockholders, unless a shorter time is specified in the vote choosing or appointing such officer or officers.

Section 5. Resignations. Any officer may resign by delivering his written resignation to the corporation at its principal office or to the president or clerk, or, if there be one, to the secretary. Such resignation shall be effective at the time or upon the happening of the condition, if any, specified therein or, if no such time or condition is specified, upon its receipt.

Section 6. Removal. Any officer may be removed from office with or without cause by vote of a majority of the directors then in office. An officer may be removed for cause only after a reasonable notice and opportunity to be heard before the board of directors.

Section 7. Vacancies. Vacancies in any office may be filled by the board of directors.

Section 8. Certain Duties and Powers. The officers designated below, subject at all times to these by-laws and to the direction and control of the board of directors, shall have and may exercise the respective duties and powers set forth below:

The Chairman of the Board of Directors. The chairman of the board of directors, if there be one, shall, when present, preside at all meetings of the board of directors.

The President. The president shall be the chief executive officer of the corporation and shall have general operating charge of its business. Unless otherwise prescribed by the board of directors, he shall, when present, preside at all meetings of the stockholders, and, if a director, at all meetings of the board of directors unless there be a chairman of the board of directors who is present at the meeting.

The Treasurer. The treasurer shall be the chief financial officer of the corporation and shall cause to be kept accurate books of account.

The Clerk. The clerk shall keep a record of all proceedings of the stockholders and, if there be no secretary, shall also keep a record of all proceedings of the board of directors. In the absence of the clerk from any meeting of the stockholders or, if there be no secretary, from any meeting of the board of directors, an assistant clerk, if there be one, otherwise a clerk pro tempore designated by the person presiding at the meeting, shall perform the duties of the clerk at such meeting.

The Secretary. The secretary, if there be one, shall keep a record of all proceedings of the board of directors. In the absence of the secretary, if there be one, from any meeting of the board of directors, an assistant secretary, if there be one, otherwise a secretary pro tempore designated by the person presiding at the meeting, shall perform the duties of the secretary at such meeting.

Section 9. Other Duties and Powers. Each officer, subject at all times to these by-laws and to the direction and control of the board of directors, shall have and may exercise, in addition to the duties and powers specifically set forth in these by-laws, such duties and powers as are prescribed by law, such duties and powers as are commonly incident to his office and such duties and powers as the board of directors may from time to time prescribe.

ARTICLE IV

Capital Stock

Section 1. Amount and Issuance. The total number of shares and the par value, if any, of each class of stock which the corporation is authorized to issue shall be stated in the articles of organization. The directors may at any time issue all or from time to time any part of the unissued capital stock of the corporation from time to time authorized under the articles of organization, and may determine, subject to any requirements of law, the consideration for which stock is to be issued and the manner of allocating such consideration between capital and surplus.

Section 2. Certificates. Each stockholder shall be entitled to a certificate or certificates stating the number and the class and the designation of the series, if any, of the shares held by him, and otherwise in form approved by the board of directors. Such certificate or certificates shall be signed by the president or a vice president and by the treasurer or an assistant treasurer. Such signatures may be facsimiles if the certificate is signed by a transfer agent, or by a registrar, other than a director, officer or employee of the corporation. In case any officer who has signed or whose facsimile signature has been placed on such certificate shall have ceased to be such officer before such certificate is issued, it may be issued by the corporation with the same effect as if he were such officer at the time of its issue.

Every certificate issued for shares of stock at a time when such shares are subject to any restriction on transfer pursuant to the articles of organization, these by-laws or any agreement to which the corporation is a party shall have the restriction noted conspicuously on the certificate and shall also set forth on the face or back of the certificate either (i) the full text of the restriction or (ii) a statement of the existence of such restriction and a statement that the corporation will furnish a copy thereof to the holder of such certificate upon written request and without charge.

Every certificate issued for shares of stock at a time when the corporation is authorized to issue more than one class or series of stock shall set forth on the face or back of the certificate either (i) the full text of the preferences, voting powers, qualifications and special and relative rights of the shares of each class and series, if any, authorized to be issued, as set forth in the articles of organization or (ii) a statement of the existence of such preferences, powers, qualifications and rights and a statement that the corporation will furnish a copy thereof to the holder of such certificate upon written request and without charge.

Section 3. Transfers. The board of directors may make such rules and regulations not inconsistent with the law, with the articles of organization or with these by-laws as it deems expedient relative to the issue, transfer and registration of stock certificates. The board of directors may appoint a transfer agent and a registrar of transfers or either and require all stock certificates to bear their signatures. Except as otherwise provided by law, by the articles of organization or by these by-laws, the corporation shall be entitled to treat the record holder of any shares of stock as shown on the books of the corporation as the holder of such shares for all purposes, including the right to receive notice of and to vote at any meeting of stockholders and the right to receive any dividend or other distribution in respect of such shares.

Section 4. Record Date. The board of directors may fix in advance a time, which shall be not more than sixty (60) days before the date of any meeting of stockholders or the date for the payment of any dividend or the making of any distribution to stockholders or the last day on which the consent or dissent of stockholders may be effectively expressed for any purpose, as the record date for determining the stockholders having the right to notice of and to vote at such meeting and any adjournment thereof or the right to receive such dividend or distribution or the right to give such consent or dissent, and in such case only stockholders of record on such record date shall have such right, notwithstanding any transfer of stock on the books of the corporation after the record date.

Section 5. Lost Certificates. The board of directors may, except as otherwise provided by law, determine the conditions upon which a new certificate of stock may be issued in place of any certificate alleged to have been lost, mutilated or destroyed.

ARTICLE V

Miscellaneous provisions

Section 1. Fiscal Year. The fiscal year of the corporation shall begin on the first day of January in each year and end on the last day of December next following.

Section 2. Corporate Seal. The seal of the corporation shall be in such form as shall be determined from time to time by the board of directors.

Section 3. Corporation Records. The original, or attested copies, of the articles of organization, by-laws and records of all meetings of the incorporators and stockholders, and the stock and transfer records, which shall contain the names of all stockholders and the record address and the amount of stock held by each, shall be kept in the Commonwealth of Massachusetts at the principal office of the corporation in said Commonwealth or at an office of the transfer agent or of its clerk or of its resident agent, if any. Said copies and records need not all be kept in the same office. They shall be available at all reasonable times to inspection by any stockholder for any proper purpose but not if the purpose for which such inspection is sought is to secure a list of stockholders or other information for the purpose of selling said list or information or copies thereof or of using the same for a purpose other than the interest of the applicant, as a stockholder, relative to the affairs of the corporation.

Section 4. Voting of Securities. Except as the board of directors may otherwise prescribe, the president or the treasurer shall have full power and authority in the name and on behalf of the corporation, subject to the instructions of the board of directors, to waive notice of, to attend, act and vote at, and to appoint any person or persons to act as proxy or attorney in fact for this corporation (with or without power of substitution) at any meeting of stockholders or shareholders of any other corporation or organization, the securities of which may be held by this corporation.

Amendments

These by-laws may be amended or repealed at any annual or special meeting of the stockholders by the affirmative vote of a majority of the shares of capital stock then issued, outstanding and entitled to vote provided notice of the proposed amendment or repeal is given in the notice of the meeting. No change in the date fixed in these by-laws for the annual meeting of the stockholders shall be made within sixty (60) days before such date, and notice of any change in such date shall be given to all stockholders at least twenty (20) days before the new date fixed for such meeting.

If authorized by the articles of incorporation, these by-laws may also be amended or repealed in whole or in part, or new by-laws made, by the board of directors except with respect to any provision hereof which by-law, the articles of organization or these by-laws requires action by the stockholders. Not later than the time of giving notice of the meeting of stockholders next following the making, amendment or repeal by the directors of any by-laws, notice thereof stating the substance of such change shall be given to all stockholders entitled to vote on amending the by-laws. Any by-law to be made, amended or repealed by the directors may be amended or repealed by the stockholders.

Indemnification

Section 7.1. Definitions. Terms defined in Chapter 37 of the Indiana Business Corporation Law (Ind. Code §§ 23-1-37-1, et seq.) which are used in this Article 7 as they have in such Chapter of the Indiana Business Corporation Law.

Section 7.2. Indemnification of Directors and Officers. The Corporation shall indemnify any person made or threatened to be made a party to any action, suit, or proceeding, whether civil or criminal, administrative or investigative, and whether formal or informal, by reason of the fact that he or she, his or her testator, or his or her intestate is or was a director or officer of the Corporation or of any corporation, limited liability company, partnership, joint venture, trust, employee benefit plan or other enterprise, whether or not for profit, which he or she served as such at the request of the Corporation (any such person made or threatened to be made such a party is hereinafter termed a "Qualifying Person"), against liability and the reasonable expenses, including attorneys' fees, actually incurred by him or her in connection with such action, suit, or proceeding, or in connection with any appeal therein, if: (i) his or her conduct was in good faith; (ii) he or she reasonably believed (a) in the case of conduct in his or her official capacity with the Corporation, that his or her conduct was in the Corporation's best interests, and (b) in all other cases, that his or her conduct was at least not opposed to the Corporation's best interests; and (iii) in the case of any criminal proceeding, he or she (a) had reasonable cause to believe his or her conduct was lawful, or (b) had no reasonable cause to believe his or her conduct was unlawful.

Section 7.3. Other Employees Or Agents of the Corporation. The Corporation may, in the discretion of the Board of Directors, fully or partially provide the same rights of indemnification and reimbursement as hereinabove provided for directors and officers of the Corporation to other individuals who are or were employees or agents of the Corporation or who are or were serving at the request of the Corporation as employees or agents of another corporation, limited liability company, partnership, joint venture, trust, employee benefit plan or other entity whether or not for profit.

Section 7.4. Non-Exclusive Provision. The indemnification authorized under this Article 7 is in addition to all rights to indemnification granted by Chapter 37 of the Indiana Business Corporation Law (Ind. Code. §§ 23-1-37-1, et seq.) and in no way limits the indemnification provisions of such Chapter.

Section 7.5. Insurance. The Corporation may purchase and maintain insurance on behalf of an individual

(a) who is a director, officer, employee, or agent of the Corporation, or

(b) who, while a director, officer, employee, or agent of the Corporation, serves at the Corporation's request as a director, officer, partner, trustee, employee or agent of another domestic or foreign corporation, partnership, joint venture, trust, employee benefit plan, or other entity

against liability asserted against or incurred by him or her in that capacity or arising from his or her status as a director, officer, employee, or agent, whether or not the Corporation would have power to indemnify or advance expenses to him or her against the same liability under these Articles or the Code.

Section 7.6. Witness Fees. Nothing in these Articles shall limit the Corporation's power to pay or reimburse expenses incurred by a director or officer in connection with his or her appearance as a witness in a proceeding at a time when he or she is not a party.

Section 7.7. Report to Shareholders. To the extent and in the manner required by the Code from time to time, if the Corporation indemnifies or advances expenses to a director or officer in connection with a proceeding by or in the right of the Corporation, the Corporation shall report the indemnification or advance to the shareholders.

Section 7.8. Effect of Amendments. No amendment, modification, or rescission of these Articles, or any provision of the Articles, the effect of which would diminish the rights to indemnification or advancement of expenses as set forth herein shall be effective as to any person with respect to any action taken or omitted by such person prior to such amendment, modification or rescission.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the undersigned incorporator designated in Article 5 executes these Articles of Incorporation and hereby verifies subject to penalties of perjury that the facts contained herein are true.

Dated this 11th day of July, 2007.

OPTIONS COMMUNITY BASED SERVICES, INC.

ARTICLE I

Records Pertaining to Share Ownership

Section 1.1. Recognition of Shareholders. Options Community Based Services, Inc. (the "Corporation") is entitled to recognize a person registered on its books as the owner of shares of the Corporation as having the exclusive right to receive dividends and to vote those shares, notwithstanding any other person's equitable or other claim to, or interest in, those shares.

Section 1.2. Transfer of Shares. Shares are transferable only on the books of the Corporation, subject to any transfer restrictions imposed by the Articles of Incorporation, these Bylaws, or an agreement among shareholders and the Corporation. Shares may be so transferred upon presentation of the certificate representing the shares, endorsed by the appropriate person or persons, and accompanied by (a) reasonable assurance that those endorsements are genuine and effective, and (b) a request to register the transfer. Transfers of shares are otherwise subject to the provisions of the Indiana Business Corporation Law (the "Act") and Article 8.1 of the Indiana Uniform Commercial Code.

Section 1.3. Certificates. Each shareholder is entitled to a certificate signed (manually or in facsimile) by at least two officers of the Corporation, setting forth (a) the name of the Corporation and that it was organized under Indiana law, (b) the name of the person to whom issued, and (c) the number of shares represented. The Board of Directors shall prescribe the form of the certificate.

Section 1.4. Lost or Destroyed Certificates. A new certificate may be issued to replace a lost or destroyed certificate. Unless waived by the Board of Directors, the shareholder in whose name the certificate was issued shall make an affidavit or affirmation of the fact that his certificate is lost or destroyed, shall advertise the loss or destruction in such manner as the Board of Directors may require, and shall give the Corporation a bond of indemnity in the amount and form which the Board of Directors may prescribe.

Meetings of the Shareholders

Section 2.1. Annual Meetings. Annual meetings of the shareholders shall be held on the 2nd Friday in May of each year, or on such other date as may be designated by the Board of Directors.

Section 2.2. Special Meetings. Special meetings of the shareholders may be called from time to time by the Board of Directors. Special meetings of the shareholders shall be called upon delivery to the Secretary of the Corporation of one or more written demands for a special meeting of the shareholders describing the purposes of that meeting and signed and dated by the holders of at least twenty-five percent (25%) of all the votes entitled to be cast on any issue proposed to be considered at that meeting.

Section 2.3. Notice of Meetings. The Corporation shall deliver or mail written notice stating the date, time, and place of any shareholders' meeting and, in the case of a special shareholders' meeting or when otherwise required by law, a description of the purposes for which the meeting is called, to each shareholder of record entitled to vote at the meeting, at such address as appears in the records of the Corporation and at least ten (10), but no more than sixty (60), days before the date of the meeting. A shareholders' meeting shall be held at such place, either in or out of the State of Indiana, as may be specified by the Board of Directors in the respective notice for such meeting.

Section 2.4. Waiver of Notice. A shareholder may waive notice of any meeting, before or after the date and time of the meeting as stated in the notice, by delivering a signed waiver to the Corporation for inclusion in the minutes. A shareholder's attendance at any meeting, in person or by proxy (a) waives objection to lack of notice or defective notice of the meeting, unless the shareholder at the beginning of the meeting objects to holding the meeting or transacting business at the meeting, and (b) waives objection to consideration of a particular matter at the meeting that is not within the purposes described in the meeting notice, unless the shareholder objects to considering the matter when it is presented.

Section 2.5. Record Date. The Board of Directors may fix a record date, which may be a future date, for the purpose of determining the shareholders entitled to notice of a shareholders' meeting, to demand a special meeting, to vote, or to take any other action. A record date may not exceed seventy (70) days before the meeting or action requiring a determination of shareholders. If the Board of Directors does not fix a record date, the record date shall be the 10th day prior to the date of the meeting or other action.

Section 2.6. Voting by Proxy. A shareholder may appoint a proxy to vote or otherwise act for the shareholder pursuant to a written appointment form executed by the shareholder or the shareholder's duly authorized attorney-in-fact. An appointment of a proxy is effective when received by the Secretary or other officer or agent of the Corporation authorized to tabulate votes. The general proxy of a fiduciary is given the same effect as the general proxy of any other shareholder. A proxy appointment is valid for eleven (11) months unless otherwise expressly stated in the appointment form.

Section 2.7. Voting Lists. After a record date for a shareholders' meeting has been fixed, the Secretary shall prepare an alphabetical list of all shareholders entitled to notice of the meeting showing the address and number of shares held by each shareholder. The list shall be kept on file at the principal office of the Corporation or at a place identified in the meeting notice in the city where the meeting will be held. The list shall be available for inspection and copying by any shareholder entitled to vote at the meeting, or by the shareholder's agent or attorney authorized in writing, at any time during regular business hours, beginning five (5) business days before the date of the meeting through the meeting. The list shall also be made available to any shareholder, or to the shareholder's agent or attorney authorized in writing, at the meeting and any adjournment thereof. Failure to prepare or make available a voting list with respect to any shareholders' meeting shall not affect the validity of any action taken at such meeting.

Section 2.8. Quorum; Approval. At any meeting of shareholders, a majority of the votes entitled to be cast on a matter at the meeting constitutes a quorum. If a quorum is present when a vote is taken, action on a matter is approved if the action receives the affirmative vote of a majority of the votes entitled to be cast on the action, unless a greater number is required by law, the Articles of Incorporation, or these Bylaws.

Section 2.9. Action by Consent. Any action required or permitted to be taken at a shareholders' meeting may be taken without a meeting if the action is taken by all the shareholders entitled to vote on the action. The action must be evidenced by one or more written consents describing the action taken, signed by all shareholders entitled to vote on the action, and delivered to the Corporation for inclusion in the minutes. If not otherwise determined pursuant to Section 2.5, the record date for determining shareholders entitled to take action without a meeting is the date the first shareholder signs the consent to such action.

Section 2.10. Presence. Any or all shareholders may participate in any annual or special shareholders' meeting by, or through the use of, any means of communication by which all shareholders participating may simultaneously hear each other during the meeting. A shareholder so participating is deemed to be present in person at the meeting.

Section 2.11. Place of Meetings. Meetings of the shareholders of the Corporation shall be held at such place, either in or out of the State of Indiana, as may be specified by the Board of Directors.

ARTICLE III

Board of Directors

Section 3.1. Powers and Duties. All corporate powers are exercised by or under the authority of, and the business and affairs of the Corporation are managed under the direction of, the Board of Directors, unless otherwise provided in the Articles of Incorporation.

Section 3.2. Number and Terms of Office; Qualifications. The Corporation shall have one (1) director. Directors are elected at each annual shareholders' meeting and serve for a term expiring at the following annual shareholders' meeting. A director who has been removed pursuant to Section 3.3 ceases to serve immediately upon removal; otherwise, a director whose term has expired continues to serve until a successor is elected and qualifies or until there is a decrease in the number of directors. A person need not be a shareholder or an Indiana resident to qualify to be a director.

Section 3.3. Removal. Unless the Articles of Incorporation state otherwise, any director may be removed with or without cause either by action of the directors, or by action of the shareholders taken at a meeting that was called for the purpose of removing the director and the notice of which states that one of the purposes of the meeting is removal of the director.

Section 3.4. Vacancies. If a vacancy occurs on the Board of Directors, including a vacancy resulting from an increase in the number of directors, the Board of Directors may fill the vacancy. If the directors remaining in office constitute fewer than a quorum of the Board, the directors remaining in office may fill the vacancy by the affirmative vote of a majority of those directors. Any director elected to fill a vacancy holds office until the next annual meeting of the shareholders and until a successor is elected and qualifies.

Section 3.5. Annual Meetings. Unless otherwise agreed by the Board of Directors, the annual meeting of the Board of Directors shall be held immediately following the annual meeting of the shareholders, at the place where the meeting of shareholders was held, for the purpose of electing officers and considering any other business which may be brought before the meeting. Notice is not necessary for any annual meeting.

Section 3.6. Regular and Special Meetings. Regular meetings of the Board of Directors may be held pursuant to a resolution of the Board of Directors establishing a method for determining the date, time, and place of those meetings. Notice is not necessary for any regular meeting. Special meetings of the Board of Directors may be held upon the call of the President or of any director and upon forty-eight (48) hours' written or oral notice specifying the date, time, and place of the meeting. Notice of a special meeting may be waived in writing before or after the time of the meeting. The waiver must be signed by the director entitled to the notice and filed with the minutes of the meeting. Attendance at or participation in a meeting waives any required notice of the meeting, unless at the beginning of the meeting (or promptly upon the director's arrival) the director objects to holding the meeting or transacting business at the meeting and does not thereafter vote for or assent to action taken at the meeting.

Section 3.7. Quorum. A quorum for the transaction of business at any meeting of the Board of Directors consists of a majority of the number of directors specified in Section 3.2. If a quorum is present when a vote is taken, action on a matter is approved if the action receives the affirmative vote of a majority of the directors present.

Section 3.8. Action by Consent. Any action required or permitted to be taken at any meeting of the Board of Directors may be taken without a meeting if the action is taken by all directors then in office. The action must be evidenced by one or more written consents describing the action taken, signed by each director, and included in the minutes. Action of the Board of Directors taken by consent is effective when the last director signs the consent, unless the consent specifies a prior or subsequent effective date.

Section 3.9. Committees. The Board of Directors may create one or more committees and appoint members of the Board of Directors to serve on them. Each committee may have one or more members, who serve at the pleasure of the Board of Directors. The creation of a committee and appointment of members to it must be approved by the greater of (i) a majority of all the directors in office when the action is taken, or (ii) the number of directors required under Section 3.7 to take action. All rules applicable to action by the Board of Directors apply to committees and their members. The Board of Directors may specify the authority that a committee may exercise; however, a committee may not (a) authorize distributions, except a committee may authorize or approve a reacquisition of shares if done according to a formula or method prescribed by the Board of Directors, (b) approve or propose to shareholders action that must be approved by shareholders, (c) fill vacancies on the Board of Directors or on any of its committees, (d) amend the Articles of Incorporation, (e) adopt, amend, or repeal these Bylaws, (f) approve a plan of merger not requiring shareholder approval, or (g) authorize or approve the issuance or sale or a contract for the sale of shares, or determine the designation and relative rights, preferences, and limitations of a class or series of shares, except the Board of Directors may authorize a committee to so act within limits prescribed by the Board of Directors.

Section 3.10. Presence. The Board of Directors may permit any or all directors to participate in any annual, regular, or special meeting by any means of communication by which all directors participating may simultaneously hear each other during the meeting. A director so participating is deemed to be present in person at the meeting.

Section 3.11. Compensation. Each director shall receive such compensation for service as a director as may be fixed by the Board of Directors.

ARTICLE IV

Officers

Section 4.1. Officers. The Corporation shall have a President, a Secretary, a Treasurer, and such assistant officers as the Board of Directors or the President designates. The same individual may simultaneously hold more than one office.

Section 4.2. Terms of Office. Officers are elected at each annual meeting of the Board of Directors and serve for a term expiring at the following annual meeting of the Board of Directors. An officer who has been removed pursuant to Section 4 ceases to serve as an officer immediately upon removal; otherwise, an officer whose term has expired continues to serve until a successor is elected and qualifies.

Section 4.3. Vacancies. If a vacancy occurs among the officers, the Board of Directors may fill the vacancy. Any officer elected to fill a vacancy holds office until the next annual meeting of the Board of Directors and until a successor is elected and qualifies.

Section 4.4. Removal. Any officer may be removed by the Board of Directors at any time with or without cause.

Section 4.5. Compensation. Each officer shall receive such compensation for service in office as may be fixed by the Board of Directors.

Section 4.6. President. The President is responsible for managing and supervising the affairs and personnel of the Corporation, subject to the general control of the Board of Directors. The President presides at all meetings of shareholders and directors. The President, or proxies appointed by the President, may vote shares of other corporations owned by the Corporation. The President has authority to execute powers of attorney appointing other corporations, partnerships, or individuals as the agents of the Corporation, subject to law, the Articles of Incorporation, and these Bylaws. The President has such other powers and duties as the Board of Directors may from time to time prescribe.

Section 4.7. Secretary. The Secretary is responsible for (a) attending all meetings of the shareholders and the Board of Directors, (b) preparing true and complete minutes of the proceedings of all meetings of the shareholders, the Board of Directors, and all committees of the Board of Directors, (c) maintaining and safeguarding the books (except books of account) and records of the Corporation, and (d) authenticating the records of the Corporation. If required, the Secretary attests the execution of deeds, leases, agreements, powers of attorney, certificates representing shares of the Corporation, and other official documents by the Corporation. The Secretary serves all notices of the Corporation required by law, the Board of Directors, or these Bylaws. The Secretary has such other duties as the Board of Directors may from time to time prescribe.

Section 4.8. Treasurer. The Treasurer is responsible for (a) keeping correct and complete books of account which show accurately at all times the financial condition of the Corporation, (b) safeguarding all funds, notes, securities, and other valuables which may from time to time come into the possession of the Corporation, and (c) depositing all funds of the Corporation with such depositories as the Board of Directors shall designate. The Treasurer shall furnish at meetings of the Board of Directors, or when otherwise requested, a statement of the financial condition of the Corporation. The Treasurer has such other duties as the Board of Directors may from time to time prescribe.

Section 4.9. Assistant Officers. The Board of Directors or the President may from time to time designate and elect assistant officers who shall have such powers and duties as the officers whom they are elected to assist specify and delegate to them, and such other powers and duties as the Board of Directors or the President may from time to time prescribe. An Assistant Secretary may, during the absence or disability of the Secretary, discharge all responsibilities imposed upon the Secretary of the Corporation, including, without limitation, attest the execution of all documents by the Corporation.

Indemnification

Section 5.1. Definitions. Terms defined in chapter 37 of the Indiana Business Corporation Law (Ind. Code §§ 23-1-37-1, et seq.) which are used in this Article V as they have in such Chapter of the Indiana Business Corporation Law.

Section 5.2. Indemnification of Directors and Officers. The Corporation shall indemnify any person made or threatened to be made a party to any action, suit, or proceeding, whether civil or criminal, administrative or investigative, and whether formal or informal, by reason of the fact that he or she, his or her testator, or his or her intestate is or was a director or officer of the Corporation or of any corporation, limited liability company, partnership, joint venture, trust, employee benefit plan or other enterprise, whether or not for profit, which he or she served as such at the request of the Corporation (any such person made or threatened to be made such a party is hereinafter termed a “Qualifying Person”), against liability and the reasonable expenses, including attorneys’ fees, actually incurred by him or her in connection with such action, suit, or proceeding, or in connection with any appeal therein, if: (i) his or her conduct was in good faith; (ii) he or she reasonably believed (a) in the case of conduct in his or her official capacity with the Corporation, that his or her conduct was in the Corporation's best interests, and (b) in all other cases, that his or her conduct was at least not opposed to the Corporation's best interests; and (iii) in the case of any criminal proceeding, he or she (a) had reasonable cause to believe his or her conduct was lawful, or (b) had no reasonable cause to believe his or her conduct was unlawful.

Section 5.3. Other Employees Or Agents of the Corporation. The Corporation may, in the discretion of the Board of Directors, fully or partially provide the same rights of indemnification and reimbursement as hereinabove provided for directors and officers of the Corporation to other individuals who are or were employees or agents of the Corporation or who are or were serving at the request of the Corporation as employees or agents of another corporation, limited liability company, partnership, joint venture, trust, employee benefit plan or other entity whether or not for profit.

Section 5.4. Non-Exclusive Provision. The indemnification authorized under this Article V is in addition to all rights to indemnification granted by Chapter 37 of the Indiana Business Corporation Law (Ind. Code. §§ 23-1-37-1, et seq.) and in no way limits the indemnification provisions of such Chapter.

Section 5.5. Insurance. The Corporation may purchase and maintain insurance on behalf of an individual:

(a) who is a director, officer, employee, or agent of the Corporation, or

(b) who, while a director, officer, employee, or agent of the Corporation, serves at the Corporation's request as a director, officer, partner, trustee, employee or agent of another domestic or foreign corporation, partnership, joint venture, trust, employee benefit plan, or other entity

against liability asserted against or incurred by him or her in that capacity or arising from his or her status as a director, officer, employee, or agent, whether or not the Corporation would have power to indemnify or advance expenses to him or her against the same liability under these Bylaws or the Code.

Section 5.6. Witness Fees. Nothing in these Bylaws shall limit the Corporation's power to pay or reimburse expenses incurred by a director or officer in connection with his or her appearance as a witness in a proceeding at a time when he or she is not a party.

Section 5.7. Report to Shareholders. To the extent and in the manner required by the Code from time to time, if the Corporation indemnifies or advances expenses to a director or officer in connection with a proceeding by or in the right of the Corporation, the Corporation shall report the indemnification or advance to the shareholders.

Section 5.8. Effect of Amendments. No amendment, modification, or rescission of these Bylaws, or any provision of the Bylaws, the effect of which would diminish the rights to indemnification or advancement of expenses as set forth herein shall be effective as to any person with respect to any action taken or omitted by such person prior to such amendment, modification or rescission.

Miscellaneous

Section 6.1. Records. The Corporation shall keep as permanent records minutes of all meetings of the shareholders, the Board of Directors, and all committees of the Board of Directors, and a record of all actions taken without a meeting by the shareholders, the Board of Directors, and all committees of the Board of Directors. The Corporation or its agent shall maintain a record of the shareholders in a form that permits preparation of a list of the names and addresses of all shareholders, in alphabetical order showing the number of shares held by each. The Corporation shall maintain its records in written form or in a form capable of conversion into written form within a reasonable time. The Corporation shall keep a copy of the following records: (a) the Articles of Incorporation then currently in effect, including all amendments, (b) the Bylaws then currently in effect, including all amendments, (c) all resolutions adopted by the Board of Directors, (d) minutes of all shareholders' meetings, and records of all actions taken by shareholders without a meeting, for the past three (3) years, (e) all written communications to shareholders generally during the past three (3) years, including annual financial statements furnished upon request of the shareholders, (f) a list of the names and business addresses of the current directors and officers, and (g) the most recent annual report filed with the Indiana Secretary of State.

Section 6.2. Execution of Contracts and Other Documents. Unless otherwise authorized or directed by the Board of Directors, all written contracts and other documents entered into by the Corporation shall be executed on behalf of the Corporation by the Secretary or President.

Section 6.3. Accounting Year. The accounting year of the Corporation begins on January 1st of each year and ends on the December 31st immediately following.

Section 6.4. Corporate Seal. The Corporation has no seal.

ARTICLE VII

Amendment

These Bylaws may be amended or repealed only by the Board of Directors. The affirmative vote of a majority of all the directors is necessary to amend or repeal these Bylaws.

OF
OPTIONS TREATMENT CENTER ACQUISITION CORPORATION

ARTICLE ONE
Name, Duration, and Character of Business

The name of the corporation is Options Treatment Center Acquisition Corporation (hereinafter referred to as the "Corporation"). The duration of the Corporation shall be perpetual. The purpose for which the Corporation is organized is to provide behavioral healthcare and educational services and to transact any and all lawful business for which corporations may be incorporated under the laws of the State of Indiana, as may be amended from time to time.

ARTICLE TWO
Authorized Shares

The Corporation shall have authority to be exercised by the Board of Directors to issue not more than five hundred thousand (500,000) shares of capital stock, with no par value, all of which shall be designated "Common Stock." The Common Stock shall have unlimited voting rights and shall be entitled to receive the net assets of the Corporation upon dissolution.

ARTICLE THREE
Registered Office and Agent

The registered office of the Corporation, at the time of this filing, is located at 36 South Pennsylvania Street, Indianapolis, Indiana 46204. The registered agent of the Corporation at its registered office, at the time of this filing, is CT Corporation System.

ARTICLE FOUR
Incorporator

The name and address of the incorporator is as follows: John Little, 1705 Capital of Texas Highway South, Fifth Floor, Austin, Texas 78746.

ARTICLE FIVE
Principal Office

The mailing address of the principal office of the Corporation, at the time of this filing, is 5602 Caito Drive, Indianapolis, Indiana 46226.

ARTICLE SIX
Limitation of Liability

6.1 Limitation of Liability. No person shall be liable to the Corporation for any loss or damage suffered by the Corporation because of any action taken or not taken by such person in his or her capacity as a member of the Board of Directors of the Corporation in good faith and in reliance upon (1) financial statements of the Corporation represented to such person to be correct by the chief executive officer or the chief financial officer of the Corporation. (2) financial statements of the Corporation certified by independent public accountants or independent certified public accountants fairly to present the financial condition of the Corporation in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles, (3) opinions of legal counsel to the Corporation, or (4) opinions of any engineers, appraisers or other experts whose professions give authority to the opinions so expressed by them. This section shall not be construed to subject any such person to liability to the Corporation for loss or damage suffered by the Corporation because of any other action taken or not taken by such person for which such person would not otherwise be liable to the Corporation under applicable common and statutory law.

6.2 Future Modification. Any repeal or modification of the provisions of this Article by the shareholders of the Corporation shall be prospective only, and shall not adversely affect any limitation on the liability of a director of the Corporation with respect to any act or omission prior to the effective date of such repeal or modification.

Indemnification

7.1 Definitions. Terms defined in Chapter 37 of the Indiana Business Corporation Law (Ind. Code §§ 23-1-37-1, et seq.) which are used in this Article 7 shall have the same definitions for purposes of this Article 7 as they have in such chapter of the Indiana Business Corporation Law.

7.2 Indemnification of Directors and Officers. The Corporation shall indemnify any person made or threatened to be made a party to any action, suit, or proceeding, whether civil or criminal, administrative or investigative, and whether formal or informal, by reason of the fact that he or she, his or her testator, or his or her intestate is or was a director or officer of the Corporation or of any corporation, limited liability company, partnership, joint venture, trust, employee benefit plan or other enterprise, whether or not for profit, which he or she served as such at the request of the Corporation (any such person made or threatened to be made such a party is hereinafter termed a "Qualifying Person"), against liability and the reasonable expenses, including attorneys' fees, actually incurred by him or her in connection with such action, suit, or proceeding, or in connection with any appeal therein, if: (i) his or her conduct was in good faith; (ii) he or she reasonably believed (a) in the case of conduct in his or her official capacity with the Corporation, that his or her conduct was in the Corporation's best interests, and (b) in all other cases, that his or her conduct was at least not opposed to the Corporation's best interests; and (iii) in the case of any criminal proceeding, he or she (a) had reasonable cause to believe his or her conduct was lawful, or (b) had no reasonable cause to believe his or her conduct was unlawful.

The Corporation shall pay for or reimburse the reasonable expenses incurred by a Qualifying Person in advance of final disposition of any such action, suit, or proceeding if the following occur: (i) the Qualifying Person furnishes to the Corporation a written affirmation of his or her good faith belief that he or she has met the standard of conduct necessary for indemnification described in this Section 7.2 (the "Standard"); (ii) he or she furnishes the Corporation a written undertaking executed by him or her to repay any such advance if it is ultimately determined that he or she did not meet the Standard; and (iii) a determination is made that the facts then known to those making the determination would not preclude indemnification under this Section 7.2.

7.3 Other Employees or Agents of the Corporation. The Corporation may, in the discretion of the Board of Directors, fully or partially provide the same rights of indemnification and reimbursement as hereinabove provided for directors and officers of the Corporation to other individuals who are or were employees or agents of the Corporation or who are or were serving at the request of the Corporation as employees or agents of another corporation, limited liability company, partnership, joint venture, trust, employee benefit plan or other entity whether or not for profit.

7.4 Non-Exclusive Provision. The indemnification authorized under this Article 7 is in addition to all rights to indemnification granted by Chapter 37 of the Indiana Business Corporation Law (Ind. Code §§ 23-1-37-1, et seq.) and in no way limits the indemnification provisions of such Chapter.

ARTICLE EIGHT
Constituency Considerations

In discharging the duties of their respective positions and in determining what is believed to be in the best interests of the Corporation, the Board of Directors, committees of the Board of Directors, and individual directors, in addition to considering the effects of any action on the Corporation or its shareholders, may consider the interests of the employees, customers, suppliers, and creditors of the Corporation and its subsidiaries, the communities in which offices or other establishments of the Corporation and its subsidiaries are located, and all other factors such directors consider pertinent; provided, however, that this Article shall be deemed solely to grant discretionary authority to the directors and shall not be deemed to provide to any constituency any right to be considered.

ARTICLE NINE
Board of Directors

The Board of Directors, at the time of this filing, consists of one member whose name and address is as follows: Kevin P. Sheehan, 1705 Capital of Texas Highway South, Fifth Floor, Austin, Texas 78746, who shall serve until a successor is duly elected and qualified.

ARTICLE TEN
Shareholder Action

Meetings of the shareholders of the Corporation shall be held at such place within or without the State of Indiana, as may be specified in the respective notices of such meeting. Any action which may be taken at a meeting of the shareholders may be taken without a meeting if, prior to such action, a consent in writing setting forth the action so taken shall be signed by all of the shareholders entitled to vote with respect to the subject matter thereof, in accordance with Indiana Code § 23-1-29-4, as amended, and such written consent is filed with the minutes of the proceedings of the shareholders.

The Indiana Secretary of State filing office certifies that this copy is on file in this office.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the undersigned, being the incorporator of the Corporation executes these Articles of Incorporation and verifies, subject to penalties for perjury, that the statements contained herein are true, this 13th day of February, 2003.

BYLAWS

Adopted as of March 31, 2003

Corporate Bylaws

Article I. Definitions

1.01 Code

The Code means the applicable titles, parts, chapters, sections, and other divisions of the Indiana Business Corporation Law, Indiana Code § 23-1-17-1 et seq., governing the formation and operation of corporations in the State of Indiana.

1.02 Record Date

Record Date means the date established under the Code on which the Corporation determines the identity of its shareholders and their shareholdings. Such determination shall be made as of the close of business on the Record Date unless another time for doing so is specified when the Record Date is fixed.

1.03 Voting Group

Voting Group means all shares of one or more classes or series that under the articles of incorporation or the Code are entitled to vote and be counted together collectively on a matter at a meeting of the shareholders. All shares entitled by the articles of incorporation or the Code to vote generally on the matter are for that purpose a single Voting Group.

1.04 Corporation

Corporation means Options Treatment Center Acquisition Corporation, and includes any domestic or foreign predecessor entity of the Corporation in a merger or other transaction in which the predecessor’s existence ceased upon consummation of the transaction.

Article II. Offices and Agents

2.01 Registered Office and Agent

The Corporation shall maintain a registered office and have a registered agent, whose business office address is identical to that of the registered office, in the State of Indiana and in each state in which the Corporation is qualified to do business.

2.02 Other Offices

In addition to its registered office, the Corporation may have offices at any other place or places, within or without the State of Indiana, as the Board of Directors may from time to time select or as the business of the Corporation may require or make desirable.

Article III. Meetings of the Shareholders

3.01 Annual Meetings

An annual meeting of the shareholders shall be held for the election of directors at such date, time, and place, either within or without the State of Indiana, as may be designated by resolution of the Board of Directors from time to time. Such resolution shall designate the date, time, and place of the meeting. Any other proper business may be transacted at the annual meeting. If an annual meeting is not held as provided in this Section 3.01, any business, including the election of directors, that might properly have been acted upon at that meeting may be acted upon at a special meeting in lieu of the annual meeting held pursuant to these bylaws or held pursuant to a court order.

3.02 Special Meetings

Special meetings of the shareholders may be called for any purpose or purposes at any time by the Board of Directors, or by the President of the Corporation, or by a Committee of the Board of Directors that has been duly designated and authorized by resolution of the Board of Directors to call such meetings. In addition, the Board of Directors shall call such a meeting upon the written request of shareholders holding at least twenty percent (20%) of all the votes entitled to be cast on the issue or issues proposed to be considered at the requested special meeting.

3.03 Quorum

With respect to shares entitled to vote as a separate Voting Group on a matter at a meeting of shareholders, the presence, in person or by proxy, of a majority of the votes entitled to be cast on the matter by the Voting Group shall constitute a quorum of that Voting Group for action on that matter unless the articles of incorporation or the Code provide otherwise. Once a share is represented for any purpose at a meeting, other than solely to object to holding the meeting or to transacting business at the meeting, it is deemed present for quorum purposes for the remainder of the meeting and for any adjournment of the meeting unless a new Record Date is or must be set for the adjourned meeting pursuant to Section 1.02, governing the fixing of the Record Date with regard to shareholder action.

3.04 Adjournment and Reconvention

Whether or not a quorum is present to organize a meeting, any meeting of shareholders may be adjourned by the holders of a majority of the voting shares represented at the meeting to reconvene at a specific time and place, but no later than 120 days after the date fixed for the original meeting unless the requirements of the Code concerning the selection of a new Record Date have been met. At any reconvened meeting within that time period, any business may be transacted that could have been transacted at the meeting that was adjourned.

3.05 Presiding Officer

The President shall serve as the Presiding Officer of every meeting of shareholders unless another person is elected by the shareholders to serve as Presiding Officer at the meeting. The Presiding Officer shall appoint any persons he deems required to assist with the meeting.

3.06 Vote Required for Action

If a quorum exists, action on a matter (other than the election of directors) by a voting group is approved if the votes cast within the voting group favoring the action exceed the votes cast opposing the action, unless the articles of incorporation, provisions of these bylaws validly adopted by the shareholders, or the Code requires a greater number of affirmative votes. If the articles of incorporation or the Code provide for voting by two or more Voting Groups on a matter, action on that matter is taken only when voted upon by each of those Voting Groups counted separately. Action may be taken by one Voting Group on a matter even though no action is taken by another Voting Group entitled to vote on the matter. With regard to the election of directors, unless otherwise provided in the articles of incorporation, if a quorum exists, action on the election of directors is taken by a plurality of the votes cast by the shares entitled to vote in the election.

3.07 Shares Held by Another Corporation

Shares standing in the name of another corporation, domestic or foreign, may be voted by such officer, agent, or proxy as the bylaws of such other corporation may prescribe, or, in the absence of such a provision, as the board of directors of such other corporation may determine.

3.08 Method of Voting Shares

Unless the articles of incorporation or the Code provide otherwise, each outstanding share having voting rights shall be entitled to one vote on each matter submitted to a vote at a meeting of the shareholders. Voting on all matters shall be by voice vote or by show of hands unless any qualified voter, prior to the voting on any matter, demands vote by ballot, in which case each ballot shall state the name of the shareholder voting and the number of shares voted by him, and if the ballot be cast by proxy, it shall also state the name of the proxy.

3.09 Proxies

A shareholder entitled to vote on a matter may vote in person or by proxy pursuant to an appointment of proxy executed in writing by the shareholder or by his duly authorized attorney-in-fact. An appointment of proxy shall be valid for only one meeting to be specified therein, and any adjournments of such meeting, but shall not be valid for more than eleven months unless expressly provided therein. Appointments of proxy shall be dated and filed with the records of the meeting to which they relate. If the validity of any appointment of proxy is questioned, it must be submitted to the secretary of the meeting of shareholders for examination or to a proxy officer or committee appointed by the meeting's presiding officer. The secretary of the meeting or, if appointed, the proxy officer or committee, shall determine the validity or invalidity of any appointment of proxy submitted for examination. Reference in the minutes of the meeting by the secretary or, if appointed, the proxy officer or committee, as to the regularity of an appointment of proxy shall be received as prima facie evidence of the facts stated for the purpose of establishing the presence of a quorum at the meeting and for all other purposes.

3.10 Action Without a Meeting

Any action required or permitted to be taken at a meeting of the shareholders, may be taken without a meeting if the action is taken by all shareholders entitled to vote on the action. The action without a meeting must be evidenced by one or more written consents describing the action taken, signed by all the shareholders entitled to take action without a meeting, and delivered to the Corporation for inclusion in the minutes or filing with the records of the Corporation. The Corporation shall give written notice of actions so taken.

3.11 Notice

Unless waived as contemplated in these bylaws, a notice of each meeting of shareholders, stating the date, time, and place of the meeting shall be given not less than ten (10) days nor more than sixty (60) days before the date thereof, to each shareholder entitled to vote at that meeting. In the case of an annual meeting, the notice need not state the purpose or purposes of the meeting unless the articles of incorporation or the Code require otherwise. In the case of a special meeting, including a special meeting in lieu of an annual meeting, the notice of meeting shall state the purpose or purposes for which the meeting is called.

All corporate powers, which are lawful and do not violate any legal agreement among shareholders and which are not prohibited by the articles of incorporation or these bylaws, shall be exercised by or under the authority of, and the business and affairs of the Corporation shall be managed under, the direction of the Board of Directors. The Board of Directors may, by resolution, vote any shares of stock owned by the Corporation. Also, the Board of Directors from time to time in its discretion may authorize or declare distributions or share dividends in accordance with the Code.

4.02 Number

4.03 Election

Except as provided for in Section 4.06, addressing vacancies in the Board of Directors, the directors shall be elected by a vote of the shareholders at each annual meeting of shareholders or special meeting in lieu of the annual meeting.

4.04 Term of Office

Except in the case of death, written resignation, retirement, disqualification, or removal, each director shall serve until the next succeeding annual meeting or special meeting in lieu of an annual meeting and thereafter until his successor is elected and qualifies or until the number of directors is decreased.

4.05 Removal

One or more directors may be removed from office with or without cause by the shareholders by a majority of the votes entitled to be cast. If the director was elected by a Voting Group, only the shareholders of that Voting Group may participate in the vote to remove him. Removal action may be taken at any meeting of shareholders with respect to which the notice stated that the purpose, or one of the purposes, of the meeting is removal of the director, and a removed director's successor may be elected at the same meeting.

4.06 Vacancies

A vacancy occurring in the Board of Directors, other than by reason of an increase in the number of directors, shall be filled for the unexpired term by the first to take action of (a) the shareholders or (b) the Board of Directors, and if the directors remaining in office constitute fewer than a quorum of the Board of Directors, they may fill the vacancy by the affirmative vote of a majority of all the directors remaining in office. If the vacant office was held by a director elected by a Voting Group, only the holders of shares of that Voting Group or the remaining directors elected by that Voting Group are entitled to vote to fill the vacancy. A vacancy occurring in the Board of Directors by reason of an increase in the number of directors shall be filled in like manner as any other vacancy, but, if filled by action of the Board of Directors, shall only be for a term of office continuing until the next election of directors by the shareholders and until the election and qualification of a successor.

4.07 Committees

The Board of Directors, by resolution, may designate from among its members an executive committee and one or more other committees, each consisting of one or more directors all of whom serve at the pleasure of the Board of Directors. Except as limited by the Code, each committee shall have the authority set forth in the resolution establishing the committee. The provisions of these bylaws as to the Board of Directors and its deliberations shall be applicable to any committee of the Board of Directors. All decisions and actions of any committee created by these bylaws or resulting from the authority granted by these bylaws, shall be subject to the discretionary review and approval of the Board of Directors.

4.08 Compensation

Unless the articles of incorporation provide otherwise, the Board of Directors may determine from time to time the compensation, if any, directors may receive for their services as directors. A director may also serve the Corporation in a capacity other than that of director and receive compensation, as determined by the Board of Directors, for services rendered in such other capacity.

Article V. Meetings of the Board of Directors

5.01 Regular Meetings

Regular meetings of the Board of Directors shall be held immediately after the annual meeting of shareholders or a special meeting in lieu of the annual meeting. In addition, the Board of Directors may schedule other meetings to occur at regular intervals throughout the year.

5.02 Special Meetings

Special meetings of the Board of Directors may be called by or at the request of the President of the Corporation, by the sole director of the Board of Directors or, if the Board consists of more than one director, by any two directors in office at that time.

5.03 Quorums

Unless a greater number is required by the articles of incorporation, these bylaws, or the Code, a quorum of the Board of Directors consists of a majority of the total number of directors.

5.04 Adjournments

Whether or not a quorum is present to organize a meeting, any meeting of directors (including an adjourned meeting) may be adjourned by a majority of the directors present to reconvene at a specific time and place. At any reconvened meeting, any business may be transacted that could have been transacted at the meeting that was adjourned. It shall not be necessary to give any notice of the reconvened meeting or of the business to be transacted, if the date, time and place of the reconvened meeting are announced at the meeting that was adjourned.

5.05 Action Without a Meeting

Unless the Code, the articles of incorporation, or these bylaws provide otherwise, any action required or permitted to be taken at any meeting of the Board of Directors, or any action that may be taken at a meeting of an authorized committee of the Board of Directors, may be taken without a meeting if the action is taken by all the members of the Board of Directors (or of the committee, as the case may be). The action must be evidenced by one or more written consents describing the action taken, signed by each director (or each director serving on the committee, as the case may be), and delivered to the Corporation for inclusion in the minutes or filing with the records of the Corporation.

5.06 Meetings by Telephone

Any or all directors may participate in a meeting of the Board of Directors, and members of an authorized committee of the Board of Directors may participate in a meeting of the committee (as the case may be), through the use of any means of communication by which all directors participating may simultaneously hear each other during the meeting.

5.07 Place of Meetings

Directors may hold their meetings at any place within or without the State of Indiana, as the Board of Directors may from time to time establish for regular meetings or as set forth in the notice of special meetings or, in the event of a meeting held pursuant to waiver of notice, as set forth in the waiver.

5.08 Notice of Meetings

No notice shall be required for any regularly scheduled meeting of the directors. Unless waived as contemplated in these bylaws, each director shall be given at least five day's notice of each special meeting stating the date, time, and place of the meeting. It is not required that the purpose of a directors' meeting be stated in any notice of such a meeting, whether the meeting is a regular or a special meeting.

5.09 Vote Required for Action

If a quorum is present when a vote is taken, the affirmative vote of a majority of directors present is the act of the Board of Directors unless the Code, the articles of incorporation, or these bylaws require the vote of a greater number of directors.

A director who is present at a meeting of the Board of Directors, or an authorized committee of the Board of Directors, when corporate action is taken is deemed to have assented to the action taken unless:

(i) he objects at the beginning of the meeting (or promptly upon his arrival) to holding the meeting or to transacting business at the meeting,

(ii) his dissent or abstention from the action taken is entered in the minutes of the meeting, or

(iii) he delivers written notice of his dissent or abstention to the presiding officer of the meeting before its adjournment or to the Corporation immediately after adjournment of the meeting.

The right of dissent or abstention is not available to a director who votes in favor of the action taken.

Article VI. Shareholder and Director Notices

6.1 Delivery of Notice

Whenever these bylaws require notice to be given to any shareholder or director, the notice shall be given in accordance with this Section 6.1. Notice under these bylaws shall be in writing unless oral notice is reasonable under the circumstances. Any notice to directors may be written or oral. Notice may be communicated in person, by telephone, telegraph, teletype, other form of wire or wireless communication, or by mail or private carrier. If these forms of personal notice are impracticable, notice may be communicated by a newspaper of general circulation in the area where published, or by radio, television, or other form of public broadcast communication. Written notice to the shareholders, if in a comprehensible form, is effective when mailed, if mailed with first-class postage prepaid and correctly addressed to the shareholder's address shown in the Corporation's current record of shareholders.

6.2 When Effective

Except as otherwise provided in this Section 6.2, written notice, if in a comprehensible form, is effective at the earliest of the following:

(i) when received or when delivered, properly addressed, to the addressee's last known principal place of business or residence;

(ii) five days after deposit in the mail, as evidenced by the postmark, if mailed with first-class postage prepaid and correctly addressed, or

(iii) on the date shown on the return receipt, if sent by registered or certified mail, return receipt requested, and the receipt is signed by or on behalf of the addressee.

Oral notice is effective when communicated if communicated in a comprehensible manner.

In calculating time periods for notice, when a period of time measured in days, weeks, months, years, or other measurement of time is prescribed for the exercise of any privilege or the discharge of any duty, the first day shall not be counted but the last day shall be counted.

6.3 Waiver

A shareholder or director may waive any notice before or after the date and time stated in the notice. Except as provided in this Section 6.3, the waiver must be in writing, be signed by the shareholder or director entitled to the notice, and be delivered to the Corporation for inclusion in the minutes or filing with the records of the Corporation.

A shareholder's attendance at a meeting (i) waives objection to lack of notice or defective notice of the meeting, unless the shareholder at the beginning of the meeting objects to holding the meeting or transacting business at the meeting; and (ii) waives objection to consideration of a particular matter at the meeting that is not within the purpose or purposes described in the meeting notice, unless the shareholder objects to considering the matter when it is presented.

A director's attendance at or participation in a meeting waives any required notice to him of the meeting unless the director at the beginning of the meeting (or promptly upon his arrival) objects to holding the meeting or transacting business at the meeting and does not thereafter vote for or assent to action taken at the meeting.

Unless required by the Code, neither the business transacted nor the purpose of the meeting need be specified in the waiver.

6.4 Notice Following Adjournment

If notice of an adjourned meeting of the shareholders or of the directors was properly given, it shall not be necessary to give any notice of the reconvened meeting or of the business to be transacted, if the date, time and place of the reconvened meeting are announced at the meeting that was adjourned and before adjournment; provided, however, that if a new record date of shares is or must be fixed, notice of the reconvened meeting must be given to persons who are shareholders as of the new record date.

7.01 Number

The officers of the Corporation shall consist of a Board Chairman, a President, a Secretary, a Treasurer, and any other officers as may be appointed by the Board of Directors or by another duly appointed officer pursuant to these bylaws. The Board of Directors shall from time to time create and establish the duties of the other officers. Any two or more offices may be held by the same person.

7.02 Board Chairman

The Board Chairman shall preside at all meetings of the Board of Directors and shall have authority to execute bonds, mortgages, and other contracts requiring a seal, under the seal of the Corporation; to endorse, when sold, assigned, transferred, or otherwise disposed of by the Corporation, all certificates or shares of stock, bonds, or other securities issued by other corporations, associations, trusts, whether public or private, or by any government agency thereof, and owned or held by the Corporation, and to make, execute, and deliver all instruments or assignments of transfer of any such stocks, bonds, or other securities. The Board Chairman may, with the approval of the Board of Directors, or shall, at the direction of the Board of Directors, delegate any or all of such duties to the President.

7.03 President

The President shall be the Chief Executive Officer of the Corporation and shall have general supervision of the business of the Corporation. The President shall see that all orders and resolutions of the Board of Directors are carried into effect. The President shall perform such other duties as may from time to time be delegated by the Board of Directors. In the absence of the Board Chairman, the President shall have authority to do any and all things delegated to the Board Chairman.

7.04 Vice President

7.05 Secretary

The Secretary shall be responsible for preparing minutes of the acts and proceedings of all meetings of the shareholders, the Board of Directors, and any Committees thereof. The Secretary shall have authority to give all notices required by the Code or these bylaws. The Secretary shall be responsible for the custody of the corporate books, records, contracts, and other documents. The Secretary may affix the corporate seal to any lawfully executed documents and shall sign any instruments as may require his or her signature. The Secretary shall authenticate records of the Corporation. The Secretary shall perform whatever additional duties and have whatever additional powers the Board of Directors may from time to time assign. In the absence or disability of the Secretary or at the direction of the President, any assistant secretary may perform the duties and exercise the powers of the Secretary.

7.06 Treasurer

The Treasurer shall be responsible for the custody of all funds and securities belonging to the Corporation and for the receipt, deposit, or disbursement of funds and securities under the direction of the Board of Directors. The Treasurer shall cause to be maintained full and true accounts of all receipts and disbursements and shall make reports of the same to the Board of Directors and the President upon request. The Treasurer shall perform all duties as may be assigned to him from time to time by the Board of Directors.

7.07 Appointment, Term, and Removal

All officers shall be appointed by the Board of Directors or by a duly appointed officer pursuant to these bylaws and shall serve at the pleasure of the Board of Directors or the appointing officers, as the case may be. All officers, however appointed, may be removed with or without cause by the Board of Directors, and any officer appointed by another officer may also be removed by the appointing officer with or without cause.

7.08 Compensation

The compensation of all officers of the Corporation appointed by the Board of Directors shall be fixed by the Board of Directors.

7.09 Bonds

The Board of Directors may, by resolution, require any or all of the officers, agents, or employees of the Corporation to give bonds to the Corporation, with sufficient surety or sureties, conditioned on the faithful performance of the duties of their respective offices or positions, and to comply with any other conditions as from time to time may be required by the Board of Directors.

8.01 Definitions

Terms defined in Chapter 37 of the Indiana Business Corporation Law (Ind. Code §§ 23-1-37-1, et seq.) which are used in this Article 8 shall have the same definitions for purposes of this Article 8 as they have in such chapter of the Indiana Business Corporation Law.

8.02 Indemnification of Directors and Officers

The Corporation shall indemnify any person made or threatened to be made a party to any action, suit, or proceeding, whether civil or criminal, administrative or investigative, and whether formal or informal, by reason of the fact that he or she, his or her testator, or his or her intestate is or was a director or officer of the Corporation or of any corporation, limited liability company, partnership, joint venture, trust, employee benefit plan or other enterprise, whether or not for profit, which he or she served as such at the request of the Corporation (any such person made or threatened to be made such a party is hereinafter termed a “Qualifying Person”), against liability and the reasonable expenses, including attorneys’ fees, actually incurred by him or her in connection with such action, suit, or proceeding, or in connection with any appeal therein, if: (i) his or her conduct was in good faith; (ii) he or she reasonably believed (a) in the case of conduct in his or her official capacity with the Corporation, that his or her conduct was in the Corporation’s best interests, and (b) in all other cases, that his or her conduct was at least not opposed to the Corporation’s best interests; and (iii) in the case of any criminal proceeding, he or she (a) had reasonable cause to believe his or her conduct was lawful, or (b) had no reasonable cause to believe his or her conduct was unlawful.

The Corporation shall pay for or reimburse the reasonable expenses incurred by a Qualifying Person in advance of final disposition of any such action, suit, or proceeding if the following occur: (i) the Qualifying Person furnishes to the Corporation a written affirmation of his or her good faith belief that he or she has met the standard of conduct necessary for indemnification described in this Section 8.02 (the “Standard”); (ii) he or she furnishes the Corporation a written undertaking executed by him or her to repay any such advance if it is ultimately determined that he or she did not meet the Standard; and (iii) a determination is made that the facts then known to those making the determination would not preclude indemnification under this Section 8.02.

8.03 Other Employees or Agents of the Corporation

The Corporation may, in the discretion of the Board of Directors, fully or partially provide the same rights of indemnification and reimbursement as hereinabove provided for directors and officers of the Corporation to other individuals who are or were employees or agents of the Corporation or who are or were serving at the request of the Corporation as employees or agents of another corporation, limited liability company, partnership, joint venture, trust, employee benefit plan or other entity whether or not for profit.

8.04 Non-Exclusive Provision

The indemnification authorized under this Article VIII is in addition to all rights to indemnification granted by Chapter 37 of the Indiana Business Corporation Law (Ind. Code §§ 23-1-37-1, et seq.) and in no way limits the indemnification provisions of such Chapter.

8.05 Insurance

The Corporation may purchase and maintain insurance on behalf of an individual

(i) who is a director, officer, employee, or agent of the Corporation, or

against liability asserted against or incurred by him or her in that capacity or arising from his or her status as a director, officer, employee, or agent, whether or not the Corporation would have power to indemnify or advance expenses to him or her against the same liability under these bylaws or the Code.

8.06 Witness Fees

Nothing in these bylaws shall limit the Corporation's power to pay or reimburse expenses incurred by a director or officer in connection with his or her appearance as a witness in a proceeding at a time when he or she is not a party.

8.07 Report to Shareholders

To the extent and in the manner required by the Code from time to time, if the Corporation indemnifies or advances expenses to a director or officer in connection with a proceeding by or in the right of the Corporation, the Corporation shall report the indemnification or advance to the shareholders.

8.08 Effect of Amendments

No amendment, modification, or rescission of these bylaws, or any provision of the bylaws, the effect of which would diminish the rights to indemnification or advancement of expenses as set forth herein shall be effective as to any person with respect to any action taken or omitted by such person prior to such amendment, modification or rescission.

9.01 Authorization and Issuance

In accordance with the Code, the Board of Directors may authorize shares of any class or series provided for in the Corporation's Articles of Incorporation to be issued for any consideration valid under the provisions of the Code. To the extent provided in the Articles of Incorporation, the Board of Directors shall determine the preferences, limitations, and relative rights of the shares.

9.02 Form

The interest of each shareholder in the Corporation shall be evidenced by a certificate or certificates representing shares of the Corporation which shall be in such form as the Board of Directors from time to time may adopt. Share certificates shall be numbered consecutively, shall be in registered form, shall indicate the date of issuance, the name of the Corporation, that it is organized under the laws of the State of Indiana, the name of the shareholder, the number and class of shares, and the designation of the series, if any, represented by the certificate. Each certificate shall be signed by any one of the President, a Vice President, the Secretary, or the Treasurer. The corporate seal need not be affixed.

9.03 Registered Shareholders

Prior to due presentation for transfer of registration of its shares, the Corporation may treat the registered owner of the shares as the person exclusively entitled to vote the shares, to receive any share dividend or distribution with respect to the shares, and for all other purposes. The Corporation shall not be bound to recognize any equitable or other claim to or interest in the shares on the part of any other person, whether or not it shall have express or other notice thereof, except as otherwise provided by law.

9.04 Transfer of Shares

Transfers of shares shall be made upon the transfer books of the Corporation, kept at the principle office of the Corporation (or at the office of the transfer agent designated to transfer the shares, if any) only upon direction of the person named in the certificate, or by his or her attorney lawfully constituted in writing. Before a new certificate is issued, the old certificate shall be surrendered for cancellation or, in the case of a certificate alleged to have been lost, stolen, or destroyed, the requirements of the bylaw governing lost, stolen, or destroyed certificates shall have been met.

For the purpose of determining shareholders entitled to notice of a shareholders' meeting, to demand a special meeting, to vote, or to take any other action, the Board of Directors may fix a future date as the Record Date, which date shall be not more than seventy (70) days prior to the date on which the particular action requiring a determination of shareholders is to be taken. A determination of shareholders entitled to notice of or to vote at a shareholders' meeting is effective for any adjournment of the meeting unless the Board of Directors fixes a new Record Date, which it must do if the meeting is adjourned to a date more than 120 days after the date fixed for the original meeting. If no Record Date is fixed by the Board of Directors, the Record Date shall be determined in accordance with the provisions of the Code.

For the purpose of determining shareholders entitled to a distribution (other than one involving a purchase, redemption, or other reacquisition of the Corporation's shares) or a share dividend, the Board of Directors may fix a date as the Record Date. If no Record Date is fixed by the Board of Directors, the Record Date shall be determined in accordance with the provisions of the Code.

9.06 Lost, Stolen, or Destroyed Certificates

Any person claiming a share certificate to be lost, stolen, or destroyed shall make an affidavit or affirmation of the fact in the manner required by the Board of Directors and, if the Board of Directors requires, shall give the Corporation a bond of indemnity in form and amount, and with one or more sureties satisfactory to the Board of Directors, as the Board of Directors may require, whereupon an appropriate new certificate may be issued in lieu of the one alleged to have been lost, stolen or destroyed.

Article X. Miscellaneous

10.01 Fiscal Year

The fiscal year of the Corporation shall be a twelve-month period, beginning January 1 and ending on December 31 each year, unless the Board of Directors, by resolution, fixes the fiscal year as another time period.

10.02 Corporate Seal

If the Board of Directors determines that there should be a corporate seal for the Corporation, it shall be in the form as the Board of Directors may from time to time determine.

10.03 Corporate Records

The Board of Directors shall have the power to determine which accounts, books, and records of the Corporation shall be opened to the inspection of the shareholders, except those as may by law specifically be made open to inspection. The Board of Directors shall have the power to fix reasonable rules and regulations not in conflict with the applicable law for the inspection of accounts, books, and records which by law or by determination of the Board of Directors shall be open to inspection.

10.04 Annual Financial Statements

In accordance with the Code, the Corporation shall prepare and provide to the shareholders such financial statements as may be required by the Code.

10.05 Contracts

The Board of Directors may authorize any officer or agent to enter into any contract or execute and deliver any instrument in the name of and on behalf of the Corporation and such authority may be general or confined to a specific instance; and unless so authorized by the Board of Directors, no officer, agent or employee shall have any power or authority to bind the Corporation by any contract or engagement or to pledge its credit or render it liable pecuniarily for any purposes or to any amount. However, all contracts and agreements into which the Corporation enters in the ordinary course of business operations may be executed by any officer of the Corporation or by any other employee of the Corporation designated by the President to execute such contracts and agreements. Notwithstanding any other provision of these bylaws, however, the President is hereby given authority to execute all written documents or instruments on behalf of the Corporation.

10.06 Checks and Other Instruments

All checks, drafts, notes, bonds, bills of exchange, and orders for the payment of money shall, unless otherwise directed by the Board of Directors or required by law, be signed by either the President or the Secretary. The Board of Directors may, however, designate one or more officers or employees of the Corporation, other than those named above, who may, in the name of the Corporation, execute drafts, checks, and orders for the payment of money in its behalf.

10.07 Amendments

The Board of Directors shall have the power to alter, amend, or repeal these bylaws or adopt new bylaws, but any bylaws adopted by the Board of Directors may be altered, amended, or repealed, and new bylaws adopted, by the shareholders. The shareholders may prescribe, by expressing in the action they take in adopting or amending any bylaw or bylaws, that the bylaw or bylaws so adopted or amended shall not be altered, amended or repealed by the Board of Directors.

10.08 Conflict with Articles of Incorporation or Law; Severability

In the event that any provision of these bylaws conflicts with any provision of the articles of incorporation, the articles of incorporation shall govern. In the event that any of the provisions of these bylaws (including any provision within a single section, subsection, division or sentence) is held by a court of competent jurisdiction to be invalid, void, or otherwise unenforceable, the remaining provisions of the bylaws shall remain enforceable to the fullest extent permitted by law.

AMENDED AND RESTATED
OF
PEDIATRIC SPECIALTY CARE PROPERTIES, LLC

The undersigned, being the sole Member of PEDIATRIC SPECIALTY CARE PROPERTIES, LLC, does hereby amend and restate the Operating Agreement pursuant to Paragraph 16.03 of Agreement to read hereinafter as follows:

"THIS OPERATING AGREEMENT of PEDIATRIC SPECIALTY CARE PROPERTIES, LLC (the "Company"), a limited liability company organized pursuant to the laws of the State of Arkansas, and particularly Act 1003 of 1993 of the Arkansas General Assembly, formed on May 8, 2002 and first amended on July 19, 2006, is amended and restated effective as of November 1, 2006.

W I T N E S S E T H:

WHEREAS, the Company was formed on October 6, 1999 upon the filing of its original Articles of Organization with the Arkansas Secretary of State; and

WHEREAS, the Members executed the First Amendment to the Operating Agreement on June 19, 2006; and

WHEREAS, Michael T. Prince, Jane B. Prince and R. Danette Stewart conveyed their respective interests to Ascent Acquisition Corporation ("New Member") on July 19, 2006; and

WHEREAS, the New Member desires to amend and entirely restate the Operating Agreement and to consolidate all of its provisions in one document.

NOW THEREFORE, in consideration of the mutual promises, covenants and agreements contained herein, and other good and valuable consideration, the receipt and adequacy of which are hereby acknowledged, the parties hereto agree as follows:

ARTICLE I
DEFINITIONS

For purposes of this Agreement, the capitalized terms used herein shall have the following meanings, unless the context otherwise specifically requires:

1.1. "Act" shall mean and refer to Act 1003 of 1993 of the Arkansas General Assembly (ARK. CODE ANN. § 4-32-101 et seq.), as amended.

1.2. "Agreement" shall mean and refer to this Operating Agreement, and all amendments hereto.

1.3. "Arkansas Code Annotated" and "ARK, CODE ANN." shall mean and refer to the official compilation of the statutes, codes and session laws of the State of Arkansas of a public and general nature, as now existing and as amended hereafter, or any successor law. Likewise, any references to specific sections of the Arkansas Code Annotated shall include any subsequent amendments thereto or substitutions therefor.

1.4. "Articles of Organization" shall mean and refer to the Articles of Organization of the Company filed with the Arkansas Secretary of State, as properly amended from time to time by the Members.

1.5. "Assignee" shall mean and refer to a transferee of a Membership Interest who has not been admitted as a Member.

1.6. "Business Day" shall mean and refer to any day other than a Saturday, Sunday or legal holiday observed in the State of Arkansas.

1.7. "Code" shall mean and refer to the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended, or any successor federal laws, and shall also include the Treasury regulations promulgated thereunder. Likewise, any references to specific sections of the Code shall include any subsequent amendments thereto or substitutions therefor.

1.8. "Company" shall mean and refer to PEDIATRIC SPECIALTY CARE PROPERTIES, LLC, the Arkansas limited liability company formed pursuant to the Articles of Organization and this Agreement.

1.9. "Disposition" ("Dispose") shall mean and refer to any sale, exchange, assignment, gift, bequest, distribution, mortgage, pledge, grant, hypothecation or other transfer, either voluntarily or involuntarily, by judicial order, operation of law or otherwise.

1.10. "Dissociated Member" shall mean and refer to any Member who ceases to be a Member in the Company by reason of the occurrence of an Event of Dissociation with respect to such Member.

1.11. "Dissociation" or "Event of Dissociation" shall mean and refer to any event or other action that causes a Member to cease to be a Member as provided herein.

1.12. "Event of Dissolution" shall mean and refer to any event, the occurrence of which will result in the dissolution of the Company as provided in this Agreement, unless the Members agree to the contrary in the manner set forth herein.

1.13. “Effective Date” shall mean and refer to the later of (a) the date on which the Articles of Organization are filed with and accepted by the Arkansas Secretary of State, or (b) the effective date, if any, indicated in the Articles of Organization. This Agreement shall become effective as of such Effective Date.

1.14. “Fair Market Value” shall mean and refer to the price at which the property would change hands between a willing buyer and willing seller, neither under any compulsion to buy or sell, and both having reasonable knowledge of the relevant facts. The Fair Market Value of a Membership Interest shall be determined taking into account all factors relevant for determining under §§2031 and 2512 of the Code the fair market value of a closely-held interest having the rights and restrictions provided under this Agreement and applicable Arkansas law including, but not limited to, the restrictions upon withdrawal before the end of the term of the Company. In the event it becomes necessary to determine the Fair Market Value of any property (including an ownership interest in the Company) the Fair Market Value of the property shall be determined by agreement of the parties involved, or in the absence of such agreement, by an individual appraiser or appraisal firm mutually acceptable to such parties. In the event the parties involved are unable to agree on the individual appraiser or firm to perform the valuation, each party shall select an appraiser, and such appraisers shall first attempt to jointly determine the Fair Market Value of the property (including an ownership interest in the Company) by mutual agreement, but if they are unable to agree on such valuation, such appraisers shall select a third appraiser, and the Fair Market Value shall be determined by the average of the two (2) closest appraisals. Any valuation so determined shall be binding and conclusive on the parties absent manifest error. The cost of any such appraisal(s) shall be borne, in the case of a valuation of a Membership Interest, equally by the seller and the purchaser, and in the case of a valuation of any Company property, equally by each individual Member or group of Members having conflicting interests in such appraisal.

1.15. “Majority in Interest of the Members” shall mean and refer to any Member (or group of Members), whose Sharing Ratio(s) exceed(s) fifty percent (50%), individually or in the aggregate.

1.16. “Majority in Interest of the Remaining Members” shall mean and refer to any Remaining Member (or group of Remaining Members) whose Sharing Ratio(s) exceed(s) fifty percent (50%) of the Sharing Ratios of all Remaining Members, individually or in the aggregate.

1.17. “Manager or Managers” shall mean the person(s) or entity selected to manage the affairs of the Company under the Agreement.

1.18. “Members” shall mean and refer to the persons, trusts or entities listed as such on Exhibit A hereto, and such other persons, trusts or entities hereafter admitted to the Company as Members in accordance with the terms of this Agreement. The term “Member” shall mean and refer to any of the Members, individually.

1.19. "Membership Interest" shall mean and refer to a Member's ownership interest and rights in the Company as a Member. Membership Interests may be represented by units which are evidenced by certificates of interest.

1.20. "Net Income" and "Net Loss" for any period shall mean and refer to the Company's income or loss as determined for such period for federal income tax reporting purposes, plus any income exempt from federal income tax, and reduced by any expenditures that are neither deductible nor chargeable to a capital account for federal income tax purposes.

1.21. "Non-Fully Funding Member" shall mean and refer to any Member that fails to fully fund such Member's pro rata share of any call for additional capital by the Company as set forth herein.

1.22. "Remaining Members" shall mean and refer to the Members who would be remaining after the occurrence of an Event of Dissociation with respect to another Member or Members. The term "Remaining Member" shall mean and refer to any of the Remaining Members, individually.

1.23. "Sharing Ratio" shall mean and refer to each respective Member's ownership interest in the Company expressed as a percentage. If the Membership Interests are represented by units, the Sharing Ratio shall be determined by dividing (a) the number of units owned by the Member by (b) the total number of units issued and outstanding. The Sharing Ratio for each Member is set forth opposite such Member's name on Exhibit A hereto.

ORGANIZATION

2.1. Formation. The Members hereby organize the Company as a limited liability company pursuant to the terms of this Agreement, the provisions of the Act, and other applicable laws of the State of Arkansas.

2.2. Articles of Organization. The Articles of Organization are hereby ratified and confirmed in all respects as the Articles of Organization of the Company.

2.3. Name. The name of the Company shall be PEDIATRIC SPECIALTY CARE PROPERTIES, LLC, and all business of the Company shall be conducted under this name and/or such other names approved in writing by a Majority in Interest of the Members. The name of the Company may be changed from time to time by the affirmative vote of a Majority in Interest of the Members.

2.4. Purpose. The primary purpose of the Company is to acquire develop, own, hold, invest in, lease, sell and otherwise deal in real property and all activities related thereto. The Company may also engage in any other lawful business or activity incidental to its primary purpose or as approved by a Majority in Interest of the Members.

2.5. Powers. The Company shall have all the powers conferred by applicable law upon limited liability companies, including the power and authority to do all things necessary or convenient to accomplish its purposes and to operate its business in any lawful manner.

2.6. Registered Agent and Office. The registered agent shall be The Corporation Company as shall be as set forth in the Articles of Organization. The registered agent and/or registered office of the Company may be changed from time to time by the affirmative vote of a Majority in Interest of the Members, and any such change shall be promptly reflected in an appropriate filing with the Arkansas Secretary of State. In the event the registered agent becomes unable or unwilling to serve as registered agent, and/or the registered office of the Company changes, the Members shall promptly designate a successor registered agent and/or registered office, as the case may be, and shall promptly reflect such change of registered agent and/or office through an appropriate filing with the Arkansas Secretary of State.

2.7. Principal Office. The principal office of the Company shall be located at 425 West Capitol Avenue, Suite 1700, Little Rock, Arkansas 72201, or at such other place approved from time to time by a Majority in Interest of the Members.

2.8. Operating Agreement. The Members hereby adopt this Agreement, as it may from time to time be amended according to its terms, as the Operating Agreement of the Company. In the event any terms of this Agreement conflict with the provisions of the Act, the terms of this Agreement shall govern and control, to the extent permissible under the Act. To the extent any provision of this Agreement is prohibited or ineffective under the Act, this Agreement shall be considered amended to the smallest degree possible in order to make such provision effective under the Act.

TERM

The Company shall be dissolved and its affairs wound up in accordance with the Act and this Agreement on December 31, 2040, unless such term shall be extended by amendment to this Agreement, or unless the Company shall be sooner dissolved and its affairs wound up in accordance with the Act and this Agreement (hereinafter sometimes referred to herein as the “Term”).

RIGHTS, OBLIGATIONS AND DUTIES OF MEMBERS

4.1. Voting. All Members (not including Assignees and Dissociated Members) shall be entitled to vote on any matter submitted to a vote of the Members. Voting rights shall be in accordance with the respective Sharing Ratios of the Members entitled to vote (i.e., in the event units are issued, voting rights shall be based upon the number of units owned by each Member). If a trust is a Member, then unless otherwise provided in such trust agreement, the trustee of such trust shall be entitled to vote on behalf of such trust; provided, if such trust has more than one trustee, then such vote shall be determined by a majority of the trustees of such trust.

4.2. Majority Approval. Whenever any matter is required or allowed to be approved by the Members under the Act or this Agreement, except as otherwise provided herein, such matter shall be considered approved or consented to upon the receipt of the affirmative approval or consent, either in writing or at a meeting of the Members, of a Majority in Interest of the Members. Assignees shall not be entitled to vote on any matter relating to the Company unless and until admitted as a Member.

4.3. Unanimous Consent. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the following actions shall require the unanimous consent of the Members (or Remaining Members, as the case may be):

(a) Any amendment to this Agreement unless a lesser percentage of Sharing Ratios is provided for herein; and

(b) The admission of any Assignee as a Member or a new or additional Member (except as otherwise allowed with respect to a Permitted Transferee).

4.4. Liability of Members. No Member shall be liable as such for any liabilities or other obligations of the Company. The failure of the Company to observe any formalities or requirements relating to the exercise of its powers or management of its business or affairs under this Agreement or the Act shall not be grounds for imposing personal liability on any Member for any liabilities or other obligations of the Company.

4.5. Indemnification.

(a) Each Member (the “Indemnifying Member”) shall indemnify and hold harmless the Company and each of the other Members from and against any and all claims, liabilities, obligations, costs and expenses (including reasonable attorney’s fees) incurred by or asserted against the Company and/or any of the other Members to the extent resulting from the gross negligence or willful misconduct of the Indemnifying Member or any action taken by such Indemnifying Member in breach of this Agreement.

(b) To the extent permitted by applicable law, the Company shall indemnify and hold harmless each Member from and against all claims, liabilities, obligations, costs and expenses (including reasonable attorney’s fees), to the extent resulting from the good faith performance by such Member of duties and services for and on behalf of the Company; provided, however, the foregoing indemnity shall not apply to the extent the claim, liability, obligation, cost or expense results from any breach of this Agreement by such Member or is otherwise attributable to such Member's gross negligence or willful misconduct.

4.6. Representations and Warranties. Each Member hereby represents and warrants to the Company and each other Member as follows:

(a) If the Member is an entity, it is duly organized, validly existing, and in good standing under the laws of the state of its organization and that it has full organizational power to execute this Agreement and to perform its obligations hereunder.

(b) The execution, delivery and performance of this Agreement by the Member has been duly authorized by all necessary action on the part of such Member.

(c) This Agreement has been duly executed and delivered by such Member, constitutes the legal, valid and binding obligation of such Member, and is enforceable against such Member in accordance with its terms, except to the extent that such enforceability may be limited by applicable bankruptcy, insolvency, reorganization, moratorium or other similar laws affecting the enforcement of creditors' rights, or by general principles of equity.

(d) The execution, delivery or performance of this Agreement by such Member does not constitute a breach or default under any agreement or other instrument to which the Member is a party or by which it or any of its properties are bound or subject, and does not violate any judgment ruling, order, writ, injunction or decree applicable to such Member or any of such Member's properties.

(e) The execution, delivery or performance of this Agreement by such Member does not require the consent or approval of any third party pursuant to any agreement or other instrument to which the Member is a party or by which it or any of its properties are bound or subject.

(f) The Member is acquiring the Member's Membership Interest for the Member's own account for investment purposes and without an intent to resell or otherwise distribute such interest.

(g) The Member acknowledges that its Membership Interest has not been registered under the Securities Act of 1933 or any state securities laws, and may not be resold or transferred by the Member without appropriate registration under applicable securities laws or the availability of an exemption from such registration requirements.

4.7. Conflicts of Interest.

(a) Unless otherwise approved by all of the Members, any transaction between the Company and any Member shall be effected in a manner consistent with the manner in which the transaction would be effected between the Company and an independent third party bargaining at arm's length. Prior to entering into any material transaction with a Member, the Company shall disclose the material terms of such transaction to all of the Members.

(b) Subject to the terms of any employment agreement or any other agreement between any Member and the Company, no Member shall, because of such Member's participation in the Company, (1) be prevented from engaging or participating in any other business or investment activity, whether or not the activity is competitive with the business of the Company or (2) be obligated or bound to offer or present to the Company, or any other Member, any business or investment opportunity as a prerequisite to the acquisition of, or an investment in, such activity.

(c) Notwithstanding the foregoing, no Member (or Dissociated Member) shall disclose to third parties, misappropriate or otherwise use to the detriment of the Company any trade secrets of the Company or other confidential nonpublic information concerning the Company.

4.8. Withdrawal. No Member shall have the right to withdraw from the Company by voluntary act without the consent of all the other Members.

ARTICLE V
MANAGEMENT

5.1. Business Affairs. The ordinary and usual decisions concerning the business affairs of the Company shall be made by the Officers. Management of the Company shall hereby be vested in the following Officers of the Company:

Kevin Sheehan	President
J. Mack Nunn	Treasurer and Secretary

Such Officers shall have all requisite authority to bind the Company and each shall be considered an "authorized agent" for purposes of this Agreement.

5.2. Term of Office of the Officers. Each Officer shall be appointed by the Member(s) and shall serve at the pleasure of the Member(s) or the appointing Officers, as the case may be. All Officers, however appointed, may be removed with or without cause by the Member(s), and any Officer appointed by another Officer may also be removed by the appointing Officer with or without cause.

5.3 Authority of Officers to Bind the Company. The Member(s) hereby agree that only an Officer or authorized agent of the Company shall have the authority to bind the Company. No Member other than an Officer shall take any action as a Member to bind the Company, and any Officer shall indemnify the Company for any costs or damages incurred by the Company as a result of the unauthorized action of such Officer. An Officer shall have the power, on behalf of the Company, to do all things necessary or convenient to carry out the business and affairs of the Company.

5.4. Actions of an Officer. An Officer shall have the power to bind the Company as provided herein. No act of an Officer in contravention of the power of an Officer shall bind the Company to persons having knowledge of such authority. With respect to the act of an Officer for the purpose of apparently carrying on the normal business or affairs of the Company, no person dealing with the Company shall have any obligation to inquire into the power or authority of an Officer acting on behalf of the Company.

5.5. Standard of Care. A Member shall not be liable, responsible or accountable in damages or otherwise to the Company or the other Members for any action taken, or any failure to act, on behalf of the Company, except to the extent such act or failure to act constitutes a breach of this Agreement or otherwise constitutes gross negligence, willful misconduct, or a knowing violation of law. In discharging their duties, the Members shall be entitled to rely in good faith upon the records maintained by the Company and upon the advice of independent legal counsel, accountants and other professional experts as to matters reasonably believed to be within such other person's professional expertise.

5.6. Removal of Officers. An Officer may be removed by the affirmative vote of a Majority in Interest of the Members.

5.7. Conflicts of lnterest.

(a) Unless otherwise approved by all of the Members, any transaction between the Company and an Officer shall be effected in a manner consistent with the manner in which the transaction would be effected between the Company and an independent third party bargaining at arm's length. Prior to entering into any material transaction with an Officer, the Company shall disclose the material terms of such transaction to all of the Members.

(b) Subject to the terms of any employment agreement or any other agreement between any Officer and the Company, no Officer shall, because of such Officer's employment or engagement by the Company, (1) be prevented from engaging or participating in any other business or investment activity, whether or not the activity is competitive with the business of the Company or (2) be obligated or bound to offer or present to the Company, or any Member, any business or investment opportunity as a prerequisite to the acquisition of, or an investment in, such activity.

(c) Notwithstanding the foregoing, no Officer shall disclose to third parties, misappropriate or otherwise use to the detriment of the Company any trade secrets of the Company or other confidential nonpublic information concerning the Company.

CONTRIBUTIONS AND CAPITAL ACCOUNTS

6.1. Initial Capital Contributions. Each Member shall make the capital contributions specified for that Member on Exhibit A, at the time and on the terms set forth on Exhibit A. Except as otherwise provided on Exhibit A, capital contributions shall be made in cash or by a check in a form mutually acceptable to the Members. If no specific time for a capital contribution is specified, the capital contributions shall be made upon the Effective Date, or at such other time mutually acceptable to the Members.

6.2. Additional Capital Contributions. In the event a Majority in Interest of the Members determines that additional capital is necessary to finance Company operations or is otherwise required to provide additional capitalization for the Company (over and above the capital contributions set forth on Exhibit A), each Member shall have the preemptive right to make such additional capital contributions in proportion to the Member's Sharing Ratio so as to enable each Member to maintain the same proportional ownership interest in the Company as existed immediately prior to such additional capital contributions. To the extent any Member (a "Non-Fully Funding Member") fails to make any such additional capital contribution within thirty (30) days after demand, the other Members shall be entitled to make the additional capital contribution in place of the Non-Fully Funding Member, to the extent of such shortfall, and in such event, the Membership Interests and Sharing Ratios of the Members shall be appropriately and equitably adjusted so as to reflect the actual aggregate capital contributions made to the Company by each Member. In the event more than one other Member desires to make such additional capital contribution in place of a Non-Fully Funding Member, such other Members shall be entitled to make such contributions on a pro rata basis in accordance with the ratio of each such Member's Sharing Ratio to the total Sharing Ratios of all Members making an additional capital contribution in the place of a Non-Fully Funding Member.

6.3. Interest on Capital Contributions. No Member shall be entitled to interest on capital contributions to the Company, or to withdraw any part of such Member's capital account, except as specifically provided herein.

6.4. Capital Accounts.

(a) Separate capital accounts shall be maintained for each Member in accordance with this Agreement and in a manner consistent with the applicable requirements of the Code and the regulations promulgated thereunder.

(b) Each Member's capital account shall be increased by:

(1) The amount of money and the Fair Market Value of property contributed by the Member to the Company, net of liabilities secured by such property, if any, and

(2) Allocations to the Member of income and gain as provided herein; and shall be decreased by:

(3) The amount of money and the Fair Market Value of property distributed to the Member, net of liabilities secured by such property, if any, and

(4) Allocations to the Member of loss and deduction as provided herein.

However, no Member's capital account shall be increased with respect to any gain, or decreased with respect to any loss, allocated to such Member with respect to the sale or exchange of any property of the Company to the extent such gain or loss was previously included in such capital account by reason of such capital account reflecting the Fair Market Value of the property at the time the property was contributed to the Company, or at the time the property was subject to a revaluation or capital account adjustment as provided herein.

(c) Upon the happening of any of the following events, the capital accounts of the Members shall be adjusted to reflect the gain or loss that would have been realized by the Company (and allocated to the Members in the manner provided herein) had the Company sold, immediately prior to the happening of such event, all of its assets for an amount equal to the Fair Market Value thereof:

(1) The acquisition from the Company of an additional Membership Interest by any new or existing Member in exchange for a capital contribution to the Company;

(2) The distribution of property of the Company as consideration for a Membership Interest; or

(3) The deemed termination of the Company for federal income tax purposes upon the sale or exchange of fifty percent (50%) or more of the total interest in Company capital and profits within a twelve (12) month period.

(d) Upon the distribution of any asset (other than cash) to a Member, the capital accounts of the Members shall be adjusted by the amount of gain or loss that would have been allocated to the Members if the Company had sold the asset at Fair Market Value.

(e) In the event of a sale or exchange of all or any part of a Member's Membership Interest in accordance with this Agreement, the capital account of the transferor shall become the capital account of the transferee to the extent relating to the portion of the Membership Interest so transferred.

6.5. Compliance with § 704(b) of the Code. The provisions of this Agreement regarding allocations and maintenance of capital accounts are intended to have substantial economic effect under § 704(b) of the Code and the regulations promulgated thereunder, and this Agreement shall be applied and construed, in a manner consistent with such regulations, except that notwithstanding anything herein to the contrary, this Agreement shall not be applied or otherwise construed to create a capital account deficit restoration obligation or otherwise personally obligate any Member to make a capital contribution to the Company in excess of the capital contributions set forth on Exhibit A.

ARTICLE VII
ALLOCATIONS AND DISTRIBUTIONS

7.1. General Allocation. Except as otherwise provided herein, Net Income, Net Loss and other items of gain, loss, deduction and credit, for each taxable year of the Company, shall be allocated among the Members in accordance with their respective Sharing Ratios.

7.2. Other Allocation Rules.

(a) If the Sharing Ratios and/or Membership Interests change at any time during any taxable year, Net Income, Net Loss and other items of gain, loss, deduction and credit, shall be determined for each portion of that taxable year (1) beginning on the first day of such taxable year and ending on the date of the change and (2) beginning on the day immediately after the date of the change and ending on the last day of the taxable year, and such items shall be allocated among the Members for each such period based on the Sharing Ratios during that period.

(b) In the event any property is contributed to the Company in kind, any gain or loss recognized by the Company for income tax purposes that is required to be allocated among the Members in accordance with § 704(c) of the Code (so as to take into account the variation, if any, between the adjusted tax basis and the fair market value of the property at the time of its contribution to the Company) shall be allocated to the Members for income tax purposes in the manner required by § 704(c) of the Code and the regulations promulgated thereunder.

(c) Any gain or loss on the sale or exchange of any Company property which was previously subject to a revaluation or capital account adjustment as provided herein shall first be allocated to the Members consistent with the manner in which capital accounts were adjusted, and thereafter shall be allocated among the Members in accordance with their respective Sharing Ratios.

7.3. Section 754 Adjustments. To the extent an adjustment to the adjusted tax basis of any Company asset pursuant to § 734(b) or § 743(b) of the Code and the regulations promulgated thereunder is required to be taken into account in determining capital accounts, the amount of such adjustment to the capital accounts shall be treated as an item of gain (if the adjustment increases the basis of the asset) or loss (if the adjustment decreases such basis) and such gain or loss shall be specially allocated to the Members in a manner consistent with the manner in which their capital accounts are required to be adjusted pursuant to such regulations.

7.4. Distributions. Cash or other property of the Company (to the extent not reasonably required for future Company operations, debt service, capital expenditures, reserves for contingencies and the like) may be distributed to the Members at such times and in such amounts as determined from time to time by a Majority in Interest of the Members. Unless otherwise unanimously agreed by the Members, all distributions by the Company to the Members shall be made in accordance with the Members' respective Sharing Ratios. However, notwithstanding the foregoing, no distribution shall be declared and paid unless, after the distribution is made, the Fair Market Value of the assets of the Company is in excess of the liabilities of the Company.

8.1. Pledge or Other Encumbrance and Permitted Transfers. No Member shall pledge, encumber, grant a security interest in, or otherwise cause or permit any lien to be placed against all or any portion of such Member's Membership Interest without first providing written notice thereof to each of the other Members; and provided further, as a condition thereto, such Member shall require the lender, secured party, or other lienholder to execute an estoppel agreement for the benefit of the Company and the other Members which provides that any Disposition of the Member's Interest so encumbered shall be subject to the terms and conditions of this Agreement.

Notwithstanding any provision of this Agreement to the contrary, a Member may sell, assign or transfer to one or more Permitted Transferees, during lifetime or by transfer upon death by legacy, devise, bequest, or other testamentary or nontestamentary transfer, all or part of his or her interest in the Company and thereby constitute his or her Permitted Transferee a Member without the consent of the Company or the other Members; provided, as a condition thereto, such Permitted Transferee shall execute a copy of this Agreement and agree to be bound thereby.

8.2. Transfer Restrictions. Except as provided in Section 8.1, no Member shall make a Disposition of all or any part of the Member's Membership Interest, or right to distributions thereon, or enter into any contract with respect to the foregoing:

(a) If such Disposition, alone or when combined with other transactions, would result in a termination of the Company within the meaning of § 708 of the Code;

(b) If requested by the Members, without an opinion of counsel satisfactory to the Members that such assignment is subject to an effective registration under, or exempt from the registration requirements of, applicable federal and state securities laws;

(c) Unless and until the Company receives from the Assignee such information and agreements that the Members may reasonably require; and

(d) Without either (i) obtaining the prior written consent of each of the other Members or (ii) complying with each of the following terms and conditions:

(1) A Member proposing to make a Disposition of all or any part of the Member's Membership Interest shall provide written notice thereof to each of the other Members (which notice shall include all of the terms of the proposed Disposition, including the price and payment terms for any sale, the name and address of the proposed transferee, the percentage of the Member's Membership Interest to be transferred, and the date on which the proposed Disposition is to occur).

(2) For a period of thirty (30) days after the date said notice has been delivered to all of the other Members, the Company shall have the first option, and each of the other Members shall have the second option, to purchase the Membership Interest proposed to be transferred, upon the same terms and conditions (including price and payment terms) as contained in any bona fide offer to purchase such Membership Interest received by the transferor. In the absence of any such bona fide offer, the purchase price for such Membership Interest shall be the Fair Market Value thereof. The determination of whether the Company exercises the first option shall be made without participation of the transferor, and such determination shall require the vote of a Majority in Interest of the other Members.

(3) In the event the foregoing right of first refusal option is not completely exercised by the Company, then each of the Members (other than the transferor) shall have the option to purchase the remaining said Membership Interest as provided herein, on a pro rata basis in accordance with the ratio of (A) the Sharing Ratio of the Member desiring to exercise such purchase option to (B) the aggregate of all Sharing Ratios of all such other Members desiring to exercise such purchase option. In the event a Member does not fully exercise such Member's option, the remainder of said Membership Interest shall be offered to the Members who did fully exercise their options and are willing to purchase all or any part of the remaining said Membership Interest based pro rata upon their Sharing Ratios (including said Membership Interest previously purchased herein) as determined only among such Members who previously purchased their full pro rata share. Any remaining said Membership Interest not so purchased thereafter shall continue to be proportionately divided in this manner among such Members who purchased their full pro rata share.

(4) In the event neither the Company nor any of the other Members exercise their respective options as provided herein, with regard to all of said Membership Interest, the transferor may make a bona fide Disposition to the prospective transferee of all of the said Membership Interest (or may retain all of the said Membership Interest), but only upon the same terms and conditions as provided in the notice provided hereinabove; provided, however, in the event the Disposition is not completed within ninety (90) days following the date said notice has been delivered to all of the other Members, no Disposition of said Membership Interest shall be made without first recomplying with the terms and conditions of this Agreement.

(5) As a condition to any such Disposition, the transferee shall be required to execute a counterpart to this Agreement agreeing to be bound by all the terms and conditions hereof, but no such transferee shall have any right to participate in the management of the business and affairs of the Company or to become a Member without the prior written consent of all other Members. Unless such transferee is admitted into the Company as a Member as provided herein, such transferee shall only be entitled to receive distributions and a return of capital, and to share in the profits and losses of the Company, attributable to the interest in the Company assigned to the transferee.

8.3. Assignments of Distributive Rights. A Member may, without first complying with Section 8.2, assign to any person, trust or entity all or any portion of the Member's right to receive distributions hereunder with the prior written consent of a Majority in Interest of the other Members. In addition, no such assignment shall be effective until the Company has first received a copy of the instrument of assignment, executed by both the assignor and the assignee of such distributive right. Once the assignment has been received by the Company, the Company may (but shall not be obligated to), without requesting further documentation from either the assignor or the assignee, remit directly to the named assignee all distributions to which the assignee may be entitled pursuant to the provisions of this Agreement and the assignment. So long as the party to whom such distributive share was remitted was either the assignor Member or the assignee named in the instrument of assignment, the Company shall be free from liability to any person, trust or entity if such distribution is received by a person, trust or entity not entitled thereto.

8.4. Option to Purchase Upon Event of Dissociation. Except as otherwise provided and allowed under this Agreement regarding transfers to Permitted Transferees, if any Event of Dissociation occurs with respect to any Member, then the Company, by vote of a Majority in Interest of the Remaining Members, or failing such vote, each of the Remaining Members, on a pro rata basis, in the manner described in Section 8.2(d)(3), shall have the option to purchase all of such Member's Membership Interest at Fair Market Value. Such option shall be exercisable for a period of one hundred twenty (120) days following the date of the Event of Dissociation. In the event neither the Company nor any of the other Members exercise their respective options as provided herein, with regard to all of said Membership Interest, the transferor may make a bona fide Disposition to the prospective transferee of all or any part of the said Membership Interest within ninety (90) days following the expiration of such option period herein; otherwise, no Disposition of said Membership Interest shall be made without first complying with the terms and conditions of this Agreement.

8.5. Closing; Payment of Purchase Price. In the event any option described in this Article VIII is exercised: (a) the closing shall take place at the principal office of the Company within thirty (30) days following the date on which the option is exercised, except with regard to a deceased Member's Membership Interest that is subject to probate, then such closing shall occur as soon as allowed pursuant to the administration of such deceased Member's estate, and (b) the purchase price shall be paid in accordance with the same terms and conditions as any bona fide third party offer received by the transferor (including, as near as possible, security terms), or, in the absence of any such bona fide third party offer, the purchase price shall be the Fair Market Value to be paid, as decided by the purchaser, in cash or by delivery of a promissory note in ordinary and customary form, payable with monthly interest at the prime rate of interest, as published in the Wall Street Journal, on the then outstanding principal balance, and in sixty (60) equal monthly installments of principal. Such interest and principal payments shall be made on the first business day of each month following closing. Such interest rate shall be adjusted on the first business day of each calendar quarter during the calendar year with the initial interest rate being the prime rate in effect for the calendar quarter of the closing. Such promissory note may be prepaid at any time without consent or penalty and shall be secured by the Membership Interest so acquired. The holder of any such promissory note shall have all of the rights and remedies of a secured creditor under the Arkansas Uniform Commercial Code. At the closing, the purchaser shall execute and deliver said promissory note, a security agreement in customary form, appropriate UCC financing statements and such other documents and instruments reasonably necessary in order to properly document the purchase of said Membership Interest upon the terms contained herein, and the seller shall execute and deliver a general warranty bill of sale and assignment and such other documents and instruments reasonably necessary in order to properly convey and transfer to the purchaser the Membership Interest to be transferred, free and clear of all liens, claims and encumbrances. In the event there are any governmental approvals or other third party consents required in connection with any such sale and transfer, the parties shall use commercially reasonable efforts to obtain such consents and approvals prior to the scheduled closing date, but if such consents and approvals have not been obtained by the scheduled closing date, either party may extend the closing date for a period not in excess of ninety (90) days in order to continue to attempt to obtain all such required consents and approvals.

8.6. Restriction on Transfer of Assignee's and Dissociated Member's Interests. The foregoing restriction on transfer shall also apply to any interest in the Company held by any Assignee or Dissociated Member, and any Assignee or Dissociated Member shall comply with all of the terms and provisions set forth above prior to making any Disposition of any interest in the Company.

8.7. Dispositions not in Compliance with this Article Void. Any attempted Disposition of a Membership Interest, or any part thereof, not in compliance with this Agreement shall be null and void ab initio.

ARTICLE IX
DISSOCIATION OF A MEMBER

9.1. Events of Dissociation. A person, trust or entity shall cease to be a Member upon the happening of any of the following Events of Dissociation:

(a) The withdrawal of a Member by voluntary act with the consent of all the other Members;

(b) The removal of a Member (by a vote of a Majority in Interest of the Remaining Members) following such Member's Disposition of all of the Member's Membership Interest;

(c) Any Member (1) making an assignment for the benefit of creditors, (2) filing a voluntary petition in bankruptcy, (3) being adjudicated a bankrupt or insolvent, (4) filing a petition or answer seeking for the Member any reorganization, arrangement, composition, readjustment, liquidation, dissolution or similar relief under any statute, law or regulation (or filing any answer or other pleading admitting or failing to contest the material allegations of a petition filed against the Member in any such proceeding), or (5) seeking, consenting to or acquiescing in the appointment of a receiver or liquidator of the Member or of all or any substantial part of the Member's properties;

(d) The occurrence of any event described in Ark. Code Ann. § 4-32-802(a)(5);

(e) In the case of a Member who is a natural person:

(1) the death of the Member;

(2) the entry of an order by a court of competent jurisdiction adjudicating the Member incompetent to manage the Member's person or estate, unless a duly appointed guardian or an attorney-in-fact fully authorized under a valid durable power of attorney is legally empowered to exercise the incompetent Member's rights under this Agreement.

(f) In the case of a Member who is a trust or is acting as a Member by virtue of being a trustee of a trust, the termination of the trust (but not merely the substitution of a new trustee);

(g) In the case of a Member that is a separate partnership, limited partnership, limited liability company or other organization other than a corporation, the dissolution and commencement of winding up of the separate entity or organization;

(h) In the case of a Member that is a corporation, the filing of a certificate of dissolution, or its equivalent, for the corporation or the revocation of its charter and the lapse of ninety (90) days after notice to the corporation without reinstatement of its charter; or

(i) In the case of an estate, the distribution by the fiduciary of the estate's entire interest in the Company.

9.2. Rights of Dissociating Member. In the event any Member dissociates prior to the expiration of the Term:

(a) If the Dissociation causes a dissolution and winding up of the Company pursuant to the terms of this Agreement, the Member shall be entitled to participate in the winding up of the Company to the same extent as any other Member, except that any distributions to which the Member would have been entitled shall be reduced by any damages sustained by the Company as a result of the dissolution and winding up; and

(b) If the Dissociation does not cause a dissolution and winding up of the Company under this Agreement, the Member shall become a Dissociated Member, shall no longer have any right to participate in the management or affairs of the Company, and shall be entitled only to receive distributions from the Company in accordance with the Dissociated Member's Sharing Ratio, when and if distributions are made by the Remaining Members in the manner set forth herein.

10.1. Admission of Additional Members. Except as provided in Section 8.1 regarding transfers to Permitted Transferees, no new or additional Members shall be admitted to the Company as Members except upon the unanimous written consent of each Member; provided however, if any Member fails to make a capital contribution to the Company upon a capital call as provided herein, the Company may admit a new Member or Members without the consent of such Non-Fully Funding Member. In the event any new or additional person, trust or entity is admitted to the Company as a Member, the parties shall execute and deliver an amendment to this Agreement in mutually acceptable form setting forth: (a) the terms and conditions of the admission of the new Member to the Company; (b) the amount of the capital accounts, Sharing Ratios and Membership Interests of each Member; and (c) the agreement of all the Members to be bound by this Agreement, as amended by said amendment thereto.

10.2. Rights of Assignees. An Assignee has no right to participate in the management of the business and affairs of the Company or to become a Member. An Assignee is only entitled to receive the distributions and return of capital, and to be allocated the Net Profits and Net Losses attributable to the assigned Membership Interest, in accordance with the manner set forth herein.

10.3. Admission of Substitute Members. An Assignee shall be admitted as a substitute Member and succeed to all the rights of the Member who initially assigned the Membership Interest only with the approval of all of the Members. The Members may grant or withhold the approval of such admission for any reason, in their sole and absolute discretion. If so admitted, the substitute Member has all the rights and powers and is subject to all the restrictions and liabilities of the Member originally assigning the Membership Interest. The admission of a substitute Member, without more, shall not release the Member originally assigning the Membership Interest from any liability to the Company that existed prior to the assignment.

11.1. Dissolution. The Company shall be dissolved and its affairs wound up, upon the first to occur of the following events (which, unless the Members agree to continue the business, shall constitute Events of Dissolution):

(a) The expiration of the Term, unless the business of the Company is continued with the consent of a Majority in Interest of the Members; or

(b) The unanimous written consent of all of the Members.

11.2. Effect of Dissolution. Upon dissolution, the Company shall cease carrying on, as distinguished from the winding up of, the Company business, but the Company is not terminated, and the Company shall continue until the winding up of the affairs of the Company is completed and a certificate of dissolution has been filed with and accepted by the Arkansas Secretary of State, as required by the Act.

11.3. Liquidation. In the event of any such dissolution, the following procedure for liquidation shall apply:

(a) The Members shall proceed to wind up the affairs of the Company as promptly as practical and to liquidate its assets in a commercially reasonable, orderly and businesslike manner. The manner of the sale, liquidation or distribution of any property of the Company shall be determined by a Majority in Interest of the Members, provided such determination is made on a fair and equitable basis in accordance with their reasonable business judgment. In the event a Majority in Interest of the Members is unable to agree on the method of the liquidation of any property of the Company, the Company shall engage an independent investment banking firm or independent auctioneer to market or auction the property of the Company either individually or as a going concern, and any Member shall be free to bid on Company property in connection with any such sale.

(b) Any gain or loss realized by the Company upon the sale of any of its assets shall be allocated to the Members in the manner set forth herein. To the extent that property is to be distributed in kind, (except as otherwise required by Subchapter K of the Internal Revenue Code and the Regulations thereunder) for purposes of allocating the basis of such property among the Members, such property shall be deemed to have been sold at Fair Market Value on the date of distribution, the gain or loss being recognized upon such deemed sale shall be allocated among the Members in the manner set forth herein, and the amount of the distribution shall be considered to be the Fair Market Value of the property.

(c) The proceeds of liquidation and all other property of the Company shall be applied and distributed as follows:

(1) First, to pay all bona fide liabilities, debts, and other obligations of the Company (unless any debt which encumbers property is to be distributed along with that property), including any expenses incurred in winding up the affairs of the Company, and to fund any reserve reasonably necessary in order to provide for the payment of any contingent liability.

(2) Second, to the Members in proportion to the positive balances, if any, in their respective capital accounts, until the capital accounts of all Members have been reduced to zero.

(3) Third, to the Members in accordance with their Sharing Ratios.

(d) The Members shall designate one or more Members to make, execute, assign, acknowledge and file, on behalf of the Company, all documents necessary or desirable to effect the dissolution, liquidation and winding up of the Company. Each Member, upon request, shall promptly execute, acknowledge and deliver all such documents, certificates and other instruments as shall be reasonably requested to effect the proper termination and dissolution of the Company.

11.4. Winding Up and Certificate of Dissolution. The winding up of the Company shall be completed when all debts, liabilities, and obligations of the Company have been paid and discharged (or transferred with the asset it encumbers) or reasonably adequate provision has been made therefor, and all of the remaining property and assets of the Company shall have been distributed to the Members. Upon completion of the winding up of the Company, a certificate of dissolution, containing the information required by the Act, shall be filed with the Arkansas Secretary of State as required by the Act.

MEETINGS

Any Member may call a Company meeting by giving written notice thereof to each of the other Members at least five (5) Business Days prior to the date of such meeting. Notice of Company meetings shall be given in the manner provided herein and shall indicate the time, place, and general subject matter of the meeting. Attendance at any such meeting shall constitute a waiver of notice. Unless a different percentage is specifically provided herein, Company action shall require the affirmative vote (in person or by proxy) of a Majority in Interest of the Members. Any action which may be taken by the Company at a meeting may also be taken without a meeting if a consent in writing, setting forth the action so taken, shall be signed by a Majority in Interest of the Members (or by such Members owning a different percentage interest in the Company as otherwise specifically provided in this Agreement). Members may participate in Company meetings by telephone.

TAXES

13.1. Tax Matters Member. The Members shall designate KEVIN SHEEHAN to be the tax matters partner of the Company pursuant to § 6231(a)(7) of the Code. Any Member who is designated tax matters partner may not take any action material to the Company or its Members and which is contemplated by §§ 6222 through 6233 of the Code without the consent of a Majority in Interest of the Members.

13.2. Tax and Fiscal Year. The tax and fiscal year of the Company shall be the calendar year, unless another year is required by the Code or the regulations thereunder.

13.3. Elections. Tax elections for and on behalf of the Company shall be subject to the approval of a Majority in Interest of the Members.

13.4. Method of Accounting. The Company shall utilize such permissible methods of accounting for tax and financial reporting purposes as determined by a Majority in Interest of the Members.

13.5. Out of State Taxes. To the extent that the laws of any state or other jurisdiction require, each Member will submit any and all necessary agreements accepting jurisdiction to such state and confirming the Member's agreement to make timely income tax payments to such state or other jurisdiction as required by applicable law.

ACCOUNTING AND RECORDS

14.1. Bank Accounts. All moneys and other funds of the Company shall be deposited in the name of the Company in an account or accounts at a bank or other financial institution acceptable to a Majority in Interest of the Members. The authorized signatories to such accounts shall include only such individuals authorized from time to time in writing by the Company. Company moneys and other funds shall be kept separated and segregated from the funds of each Member.

14.2. Records to be Maintained. The Company shall maintain the following records at its principal office:

(a) A current list of the full name and last known business address of each Member of the Company;

(b) A copy of the Articles of Organization and all amendments thereto, together with executed copies of any powers of attorney pursuant to which any such Articles of Organization or amendments have been executed;

(c) Copies of the Company's federal and state income tax returns and reports, if any, for the three most recent years;

(d) Copies of this Agreement, including all amendments thereto; and

(e) Any financial statements of the Company for the three most recent years.

14.3. Inspection. Upon reasonable request, a Member may, at the Member's own expense, inspect and copy during ordinary business hours any books or records of the Company, wherever located.

14.4. Reports to Members.

(a) The Company shall provide customary financial statements to the Members at least annually.

(b) The Company shall prepare and provide to the Members by the fifteenth (15th) day of the third (3rd) month following the end of the Company's taxable year all income tax informational returns required by the Code and the laws of any state.

14.5. Capital Accounts. The Company shall maintain a record of the capital account for each Member determined in accordance with this Agreement.

ARBITRATION

Any dispute or controversy between the Members arising out of or otherwise relating to the Company or this Agreement shall be settled by arbitration to be held in Little Rock, Arkansas in accordance with the rules then in effect of the American Arbitration Association or its successor. The arbitrator may grant injunctions or other relief in such dispute or controversy, and the decision of the arbitrator shall be final, conclusive, and binding on the parties to the arbitration. Judgment may be entered on the arbitrator's decision in any court having jurisdiction, and the parties irrevocably consent to the jurisdiction of the state courts of Arkansas for this purpose.

16.1. Assignment. This Agreement and the rights, obligations and duties of the parties hereunder shall not be assignable or otherwise transferable except as specifically provided herein.

16.2. Fees of Legal Counsel. In the event any party to this Agreement shall employ legal counsel to protect its rights hereunder or to enforce any term or provision hereof, the party prevailing in any such action shall have the right to recover from the other party all of its reasonable attorneys' fees and expenses incurred in relation to such claims.

16.3. Modification. No term or provision contained herein may be modified, amended or waived except by written agreement or consent signed by the required number of Members as provided hereunder.

16.4. Binding Effect and Benefit. This Agreement shall inure to the benefit of, and shall be binding upon, the parties hereto, and their respective heirs, executors, administrators, personal representatives, successors and permitted assigns. Otherwise, this Agreement shall not create any rights for the benefit of any third party.

16.5. Headings and Captions. Subject headings and captions are included for convenience purposes only and shall not affect the interpretation of this Agreement.

16.6. Notice. All notices, requests, demands and other communications permitted or required hereunder shall be in writing, and either (a) delivered in person, (b) sent by express mail or other overnight delivery service providing receipt of delivery, (c) mailed by certified or registered mail, postage prepaid, return receipt requested or (d) sent by telex, telegraph or other facsimile transmission to the Members at the addresses set forth on Exhibit A hereto or to such other address as a party may designate by notice. Any such notice or communication shall be effective upon receipt by the addressee.

16.7. Severability. If any portion of this Agreement is held invalid, illegal or unenforceable, such determination shall not impair the enforceability of the remaining terms and provisions contained herein, provided the purposes, intent and objects of this Agreement may be attained and achieved through the enforcement of such remaining terms and provisions.

16.8. Waiver. No waiver of a breach or violation of any provision of this Agreement shall operate or be construed as a waiver of any subsequent breach or limit or restrict any right or remedy otherwise available. Any waiver must be in writing.

16.9. Rights and Remedies Cumulative. The rights and remedies expressed herein are cumulative and not exclusive of any rights and remedies otherwise available.

16.10. Gender and Number. Throughout this Agreement, the masculine shall include the feminine and neuter and vice versa, and the singular shall include the plural and vice versa, as the context requires.

16.11. Entire Agreement. This document, together with the exhibits hereto, constitutes the entire agreement of the parties and supersedes any and all other prior agreements, oral or written, with respect to the subject matter contained herein. There are no representations, warranties, covenants or other agreements, oral or written, between the parties in connection with this transaction, other than those expressly set forth herein.

16.12. Governing Law. This Agreement shall be subject to and governed by the laws of the State of Arkansas.

16.13. Counterparts. This Agreement may be executed in two or more counterparts, each of which shall be deemed an original, but all of which together shall constitute one and the same instrument. It shall not be necessary in making proof of this Agreement to produce or account for more than one counterpart.

16.14. Authority. Each individual signing this Agreement in a representative capacity acknowledges and represents that he/she is duly authorized to execute this Agreement in such capacity in the name of, and on behalf of, the designated corporation, partnership, trust, or other entity.

16.15. No Partnership Intended for Nontax Purposes. The Members have formed the Company as a limited liability company under the Act and expressly do not intend hereby to form a partnership under either the Arkansas Uniform Partnership Act, the Arkansas Revised Limited Partnership Act or any similar law. The Members do not intend to be partners one to another, or partners to any third party. To the extent any Member, by word or action, represents to another person, trust or entity that any other Member is a partner or that the Company is a partnership, the Member making such wrongful representation shall be liable to any other Member who incurs personal liability by reason of such wrongful representation. The Company shall, however, be treated as a partnership for federal and state income tax purposes.

16.16. Rights of Third Parties. This Agreement is entered into among the Company and the Members for the exclusive benefit of the Company, its Members, and their permitted successors and assigns. This Agreement is expressly not intended for the benefit of any creditor of the Company or any other person, trust or entity. Except to the extent expressly required by applicable law, no such creditor or third party shall have any rights under this Agreement or any agreement between the Company and any Member with respect to any capital contribution or otherwise,

16.17. No Partition. Each of the Members, and any other person, trust or entity who shall become a Member, irrevocably waives any and all right that the Member may have to maintain any action for a partition with respect to his or her undivided interest in the property of the Company or to compel any sale thereof under any laws now existing or hereinafter enacted.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the undersigned Member has executed this Agreement effective as of the Effective Date.

First Amendment to Operating Agreement

This First Amendment (the "Amendment") to the Operating Agreement of PEDIATRIC SPECIALTY CARE PROPERTIES, LLC, an Arkansas limited liability company (the "Company"), is made as of July 19, 2006, by Ascent Acquisition Corporation, an Arkansas corporation (the "Ascent Corporation").

WHEREAS, the Company was formed as a limited liability company under the Act 1003 of 1993 of the Arkansas General Assembly (Ark. Code Ann. § 4-32-101 et seq.), as amended;

WHEREAS, Danette Stewart, Jane Prince and Michael Prince, a Virginia corporation (the "Former Members"), were the members of the Company at the time of formation of the Company;

WHEREAS, on the date hereof, the Former Members transferred and assigned to the Ascent Corporation all of their membership interests in the Company; and

WHEREAS, in connection with such transfer, the Ascent Corporation desires to amend the Operating Agreement of the Company, dated as of October 20, 1999 (the "Agreement"), as hereinafter set forth.

NOW, THEREFORE, in consideration of the foregoing, the Ascent Corporation hereby amends the Agreement as follows:

1. Amendments.

(a) Section 4.04(b) of the Agreement is hereby amended by deleting such section and replacing it with the following:

"To the extent permitted by applicable law, the Company shall indemnify and hold harmless each Member or authorized agent from and against all claims, liabilities, obligations, costs and expenses (including reasonable attorney's fees), to the extent resulting from the good faith performance by such Member or authorized agent of duties and services for and on behalf of the Company; provided, however, the foregoing shall not apply to the extent such claim, liability, obligation, cost or expense results from any breach of this Agreement by such Member or authorized agent or is otherwise attributable to the gross negligence or willful misconduct of such Member or authorized agent."

(b) Section 5.01 of the Agreement is hereby amended by deleting such section and replacing it with the following:

"5.01 Management Authority.

Management of the Company shall hereby be vested in the following officers of the Company:

Kevin Sheehan	President
J. Mack Nunn	Treasurer and Secretary

Such officers shall have all requisite authority to bind the Company and each shall be considered an "authorized agent" for purposes of this Agreement."

(c) Section 5.03 of the Agreement is hereby amended by deleting such section and replacing it with the following:

"5.03 Standard of Care.

A Member or authorized agent shall not be liable, responsible or accountable in damages or otherwise to the Company or the other Participants for any action taken, or any failure to act, on behalf of the Company, except to the extent such act or failure to act constitutes a breach of this Agreement or otherwise constitutes gross negligence, willful misconduct, or a knowing violation of law. In discharging any duties, a Member or authorized agent shall be entitle to rely in good faith upon the records maintained by the Company and upon the advice of independent legal counsel, accountants and other professional experts as to matters reasonably believed to be within such other person's professional expertise."

(d) Section 5.04 of the Agreement is hereby amended by deleting the words "[t]he Members agree among themselves that no Member shall, without first obtaining the prior written approval of a Majority in Interest of the Members:" and replacing such words with the following:

"The authorized agents agree that they or any one of them shall not, without first obtaining the approval of a Majority in Interest of the Members:"

(e) Exhibit A to the Agreement is hereby amended as set forth in Exhibit A attached hereto.

2. No Other Changes. Except as amended by this Amendment, the Agreement remains in full force and effect.

3. Effectiveness. This Amendment shall become effective as of the date first set forth above, upon execution hereof by the Ascent Corporation.

4. Governing Law. This Amendment is governed by and shall be construed in accordance with the laws of the state of Arkansas, exclusive of its conflict-of-laws principles.

BYLAWS OF

PEDIATRIC SPECIALTY CARE, INC.

(As Amended and Restated as of July 28, 2006)

ARTICLE I. OFFICES

The principal office of PEDIATRIC SPECIALTY CARE, INC. (referred to herein as the "corporation") in the State of Arkansas shall be located in Craighead County. The corporation may have such other offices, either within or without the State of Arkansas, as the Board of Directors may designate or as the business of the corporation may require from time to time.

ARTICLE II. SHAREHOLDERS

SECTION 1. Annual Meeting. The annual meeting of the shareholders shall be held on the second Tuesday in the month of January at the hour of 10:00 a.m., for the purpose of electing directors and for the transaction of such other business as may properly come before the meeting. If the day fixed for the annual meeting shall be a legal holiday in the State of Arkansas, such meeting shall be held on the next succeeding business day. If the election of directors shall not be held on the day designated herein for any annual meeting of the shareholders, or at any adjournment thereof, the Board of Directors shall cause the election to be held at a special meeting of the shareholders as soon as reasonably practical.

SECTION 2. Special Meetings. Special meetings of the shareholders, for any purpose or purposes, may be called by the President, the Board of Directors, or by a committee of the Board of Directors that has been duly designated by the Board of Directors and whose power and authority, as expressly provided in these Bylaws or in a resolution of the Board of Directors, include the power to call such meetings, and a special meeting shall be called by the President at the request of the holders of at least ten percent (10%) of all the votes entitled to be cast on any issue proposed to be considered at such special meeting, if such holders have signed, dated, and delivered to the Secretary of the corporation one or more written demands for the meeting describing the purpose or purposes for which it is to be held.

SECTION 3. Place of Meeting. Unless otherwise prescribed by statute, the Board of Directors may designate any place, either within or without the State of Arkansas, as the place of meeting for any annual or special meeting of the shareholders. A waiver of notice signed by all shareholders entitled to vote at a meeting may designate any place, whether within or without the State of Arkansas, unless otherwise prescribed by statute, as the place for the holding of such meeting. If no designation is made, the place of meeting shall be the principal office of the corporation in the State of Arkansas.

SECTION 4. Notice of Meeting. Unless otherwise prescribed by applicable law, written notice stating the place, date and time of the meeting, and in case of a special meeting the purpose or purposes for which the meeting is called, shall be given either by mail or in person to each shareholder of record entitled to vote at such meeting, not less than sixty (60) days nor more than seventy-five (75) days before the date of the meeting if a proposal to increase the authorized capital stock or bond indebtedness of the corporation is to be submitted, and not less than ten (10) days nor more than sixty (60) days before the date of the meeting, in all other cases. If mailed, such notice shall be deemed to have been given and delivered when deposited in the United States Mail, postage prepaid, and addressed to the shareholder at the shareholder's address as it appears on the stock transfer books of the corporation.

SECTION 5. Date for Determination of Shareholders of Record. In order that the corporation may determine the shareholders (i) entitled to notice of or to vote at any meeting of shareholders or any adjournment thereof or to express consent to corporate action in writing without a meeting, (ii) entitled to receive payment of any dividend or other distribution or allotment of any rights, (iii) entitled to exercise any rights in respect of any change, conversion, or exchange of stock or (iv) for the purpose of any other lawful action, the Board of Directors may fix, in advance, a record date, which shall not be more than seventy (70) days before the date of any such meeting or other action. If no record date is fixed: (i) the record date for determining shareholders entitled to notice of or to vote at a meeting of shareholders shall be at the close of business on the day next preceding the day on which notice is given or, if notice is waived, at the close of business on the day next preceding the day on which the meeting is held; and (ii) the record date for determining shareholders for any other purpose shall be at the close of business on the date on which the Board of Directors adopts a resolution relating thereto. A determination of shareholders of record entitled to notice of or to vote at a meeting of shareholders shall apply to any adjournment of the meeting; provided, however, the Board of Directors may fix a new record date for the adjourned meeting, which it must do if the meeting is adjourned to a date more than one hundred twenty (120) days after the date fixed for the original meeting.

SECTION 6. List of Shareholders Entitled to Vote. After fixing the record date for a meeting, the Secretary shall prepare an alphabetical listing of the names of all of the shareholders of the corporation who are entitled to notice of the shareholders' meeting, which list must be arranged by voting group and must show the address of and number of shares held by each such shareholder. The shareholders list must be made available for inspection by any shareholder beginning two (2) business days after notice of the meeting is given for which the list was prepared and continuing through the meeting at the corporation's principal office or at a place identified in the meeting notice in the city where the meeting will be held. A shareholder, and the agents and attorneys of shareholders, shall be entitled on written demand to inspect and, subject to the requirements of Ark. Code Ann. §4-27-1602C, to copy the list, at the shareholder's expense, during regular business hours during the period the list is available for inspection. The corporation shall make the shareholders list available at the meeting, and any shareholder, and any agent or attorney of any shareholder, shall be entitled to inspect the list at any time during the meeting or any adjournment thereof.

SECTION 7. Quorum: Vote Required For Action. Unless otherwise provided by applicable law, a majority of the votes entitled to be cast on a matter by the shareholders of the corporation represented in person or by proxy shall constitute a quorum for purposes of such matter at any meeting of shareholders. A majority of the votes cast at any meeting at which a quorum is present shall decide every question or matter submitted to the shareholders at such

SECTION 8. Proxies. Each shareholder entitled to vote at a meeting of shareholders may authorize another person or persons to act for such shareholder by proxy, but no such proxy shall be voted or acted upon after eleven (11) months from its effective date, unless the proxy expressly provides for a longer period. A duly executed proxy shall be revocable unless the appointment form conspicuously states that it is irrevocable and is coupled with an interest sufficient at law to support an irrevocable power. An irrevocable proxy is revoked when the interest with which it is coupled is extinguished. A shareholder may revoke any proxy which is not irrevocable by attending the meeting and voting in person or by filing with the Secretary of the corporation an instrument in writing revoking the proxy or another duly executed proxy bearing a later date. Proxies shall be dated and shall be filed with the records of the meeting.

SECTION 9. Adjournments. Any meeting of shareholders, annual or special, at which a quorum is present may adjourn from time to time to reconvene at the same or some other place, and notice need not be given of any such adjourned meeting if the time and place thereof are announced at the meeting at which the adjournment is taken. At the adjourned meeting the corporation may transact any business which might have been transacted at the original meeting. If the adjournment is for more than thirty (30) days, or if after the adjournment a new record date is fixed for the adjourned meeting, a notice of the adjourned meeting shall be given to each shareholder of record entitled to vote at the meeting in the manner provided in these Bylaws.

SECTION 10. Organization. Meetings of shareholders shall be presided over by the Chairman of the Board of Directors or the President, or in their absence by a Vice President, or in the absence of the foregoing persons by a presiding officer designated by the Board of Directors, or in the absence of such designation by a presiding officer chosen at the meeting. The Secretary shall act as secretary of the meeting, but in the absence of the Secretary the presiding officer of the meeting may appoint any person to act as secretary of the meeting.

SECTION 11. Voting of Shares. Subject to the provisions of these Bylaws, and particularly the following section hereof, each outstanding share entitled to vote with respect to a particular matter shall be entitled to one vote upon such matter when submitted to a vote of shareholders.

SECTION 12. Action by Shareholders. Any action required or permitted to be taken at a meeting of shareholders may be taken without a meeting if one or more written consents, setting forth the action so taken, shall be signed by all of the shareholders entitled to vote with respect to the subject matter thereof. All written consents executed by one or more shareholders shall be included in the minutes or filed with the corporate records. If it is required by law that notice of the proposed action be given to non-voting shareholders and the action is to be taken by written consent of the voting shareholders, the corporation shall give its non-voting shareholders written notice of the proposed action at least ten (10) days before the action is taken.

SECTION 2. Number, Tenure and Qualifications. The Board of Directors of the corporation shall consist of one (1) individual. The director shall hold office until the next annual meeting of shareholders and until his/her successor shall have been duly elected and qualified.

SECTION 3. Regular Meetings. A regular meeting of the Board of Directors shall be held without other notice than this bylaw immediately after, and at the same place as, the annual meeting of shareholders. The Board of Directors may provide, by resolution, the time and place for the holding of additional regular meetings without other notice than such resolution.

SECTION 4. Special Meetings. Special meetings of the Board of Directors may be called by or at the request of the President or any two directors, or if there shall be only one director, at that director's request. The person or persons authorized to call special meetings of the Board of Directors may fix the place for holding any special meeting of the Board of Directors called by them.

SECTION 5. Place of Meetings. Regular meetings of the Board of Directors which coincide with meetings of the shareholders shall be held at the same place as the shareholders' meeting. Other meetings of the Board of Directors shall be held at such place as is designated in the notice of the meeting, either within or without the State of Arkansas. A waiver of notice signed by all directors entitled to vote at a meeting may designate any place, either within or without the State of Arkansas, as the place for holding such meeting. If no designation is made, the Board of Directors' meeting shall be held at the principal office of the corporation in Arkansas.

SECTION 6. Notice. Notice of the date, time and place of any special meeting of the Board of Directors shall be given at least two (2) days prior to the meeting by written notice delivered personally or mailed to each director at his/her business address, or by telegram. If mailed, such notice shall be deemed to be delivered when deposited in the United States mail so addressed, with postage thereon prepaid, provided the same is so mailed at least five (5) days prior to the meeting. If notice be given by telegram, such notice shall be deemed to be delivered when the telegram is dispatched by the telegraph company. Any director may waive notice of any meeting. The attendance by a director at a meeting shall constitute a waiver of notice of such meeting, unless the director at the beginning of the meeting (or promptly upon his/her arrival) objects to holding the meeting or the transaction of business at the meeting and does not thereafter vote for or assent to action taken at the meeting.

SECTION 7. Quorum; Vote Required for Action. A majority of the directors shall constitute a quorum at any meeting, except when otherwise provided by applicable law. If less than a quorum, but at least one-third (1/3), of the directors is present at any meeting, then a majority of the directors present may vote to adjourn such meeting, from time to time, and the meeting may be held, as adjourned, without further notice. Except in cases in which the Articles of Incorporation or these Bylaws provide otherwise, the vote of a majority of the directors present at a meeting at which a quorum is present shall be the act of the Board of Directors.

SECTION 8. Organization. Meetings of the Board of Directors shall be presided over by the Chairman of the Board, if any, or in the absence of the Chairman, by a Vice Chairman of the Board, if any, or in the absence of the Vice Chairman by the President, or in the absence of all of the foregoing, by a chairman chosen at the meeting. The Secretary shall act as secretary of the meeting, but in the absence of the Secretary, the chairman of the meeting may appoint any person to act as secretary of the meeting.

SECTION 9. Vacancies. Any vacancy occurring on the Board of Directors may be filled by the affirmative vote of a majority of the remaining directors, though less than a quorum of the Board of Directors, unless otherwise provided by applicable law. A director elected to fill a vacancy shall be elected for the unexpired term of his or her predecessor in office. Any directorship to be filled by reason of an increase in the number of directors may be filled by election by the Board of Directors for a term of office continuing only until the next election of directors by the shareholders. No decrease in the number of directors constituting the Board of Directors shall shorten the term of any incumbent director.

SECTION 10. Compensation. By resolution of the Board of Directors, each director may be paid his or her expenses, if any, of attendance at each meeting of the Board of Directors and may be paid a stated salary as director or a fixed sum for attendance at each meeting of the Board of Directors or both. No such payment shall preclude any director from serving the corporation in any other capacity and receiving compensation therefor.

SECTION 11. Presumption of Assent. A director of the corporation who is present at a meeting of the Board of Directors at which action on any corporate matter is taken shall be presumed to have assented to the action taken unless the director's dissent or abstention shall be entered in the minutes of the meeting, or unless the director (i) objects at the beginning of the meeting (or promptly upon his or her arrival) to the holding of the meeting or to the transaction of business at the meeting, or (ii) delivers a written dissent or abstention to such action to the presiding officer of the meeting before the adjournment thereof or to the Secretary of the corporation immediately after the adjournment of the meeting. Such right to dissent or abstain shall not apply to a director who voted in favor of such action.

SECTION 12. Informal Action by Directors. Unless the Articles of Incorporation or these Bylaws otherwise expressly provide, any action required or permitted to be taken at any meeting of the Board of Directors, or any committee thereof, may be taken without a meeting if all members of the Board or such committee, as the case may be, consent thereto in writing, and the consents are filed with the minutes of the proceedings of the Board or such committee. Action taken under this Section is effective when the last director signs the consent, unless the consent specifies a different effective date.

SECTION 13. Telephonic Meetings Permitted. Members of the Board of Directors, or any committee designated by the Board, may participate in a meeting of such Board or committee by means of conference telephone or similar communications equipment by means of which all persons participating in the meeting can simultaneously hear each other, and participation in a meeting pursuant to this section shall constitute presence in person at such meeting.

ARTICLE IV. COMMITTEES OF THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS

SECTION 1. Committees. The Board of Directors shall have the authority to appoint such regular and special committees as it deems desirable, in addition to the regular committees required by this Article, and may appoint one or more rotating members of any committee at its discretion. The Board of Directors shall designate one member of each committee to serve as chairman. Each committee must have two or more members, each of whom shall serve at the pleasure of the Board of Directors, and only members of the Board of Directors may serve on a committee. The regular committees designated in this Article shall be appointed at the organizational meeting of the Board of Directors each year.

SECTION 2. Committee Rules. Unless the Board of Directors otherwise provides, each committee designated by the Board of Directors may make, alter and repeal rules for the conduct of its business. In the absence of such rules each committee shall conduct its business in the same manner as the Board of Directors conducts its business pursuant to Article III of these Bylaws.

ARTICLE V. OFFICERS

SECTION 1. Number. The officers of the corporation shall consist of a President, a Secretary and a Treasurer, as well as such other officers as may from time to time be designated by the Board of Directors. The President shall be the chief executive officer and chief administrator of the corporation, and in the President's absence, disability, or resignation or removal from office, the President shall be succeeded in office by the Vice-President, who shall administer the affairs of the corporation until a successor to the President is elected or until the President resumes his duties of office, whichever the case may be. The Secretary shall keep the records of the corporation and the shareholders, along with the minutes of the meetings of the stockholders and directors, and the Treasurer shall be responsible for the funds and general financial affairs of the corporation. Such officers as deemed necessary, but never less officers than President and Secretary, shall be elected by the Board of Directors and shall serve for a term of one year, or until their successors are duly elected and qualified. Any number of offices may be held by the same person.

SECTION 2. Election and Term of Office. The officers of the corporation shall be elected annually by the Board of Directors at the first meeting of the Board of Directors held after each annual meeting of the shareholders. If the election of officers is not held at such meeting, such election shall be held as soon thereafter as is reasonably practical. Each officer shall hold office until his or her successor is duly elected and qualified, or until death, resignation or removal from office in the manner provided herein.

SECTION 3. Removal. Any officer or agent of the corporation may be removed by the Board of Directors, with or without cause, whenever in its judgment the best interest of the corporation will be served thereby, but such removal shall be without prejudice to the contractual rights, if any, of the person so removed. Election or appointment of an officer or agent shall not of itself create any contractual rights whatsoever.

SECTION 4. Vacancies. A vacancy in any office because of death, resignation, removal, disqualification or otherwise may be filled by the Board of Directors for the unexpired portion of the term.

SECTION 5. President. The President shall be the chief executive officer of the corporation and, subject to the control of the Board of Directors, shall generally supervise and control all of the business and affairs of the corporation. The President shall, when present, preside at all meetings of the shareholders and the Board of Directors. The President shall be authorized to sign, with or without the Secretary or any other proper officer of the corporation thereunto authorized by the Board of Directors, certificates for shares of the corporation, arid any deeds, mortgages, bonds, contracts, or other instruments which the Board of Directors has authorized to be executed, except in cases where the signing and execution thereof shall be expressly delegated by the Board of Directors or by these Bylaws to some other officer or agent of the corporation, or shall be required by applicable law to be otherwise signed or executed; and in general the President shall perform all duties normally performed by presidents of like companies, along with such other duties as may be prescribed from time to time by the Board of Directors.

SECTION 6. Vice-President. In the absence of the President or in event of the President's death, incapacity, resignation or other inability or refusal to act, the Vice President, if a Vice-President has been elected shall perform the duties of the President, and when so acting shall have all the powers of, and shall be subject to all the restrictions upon the President. The Vice President, if a Vice President has been elected, shall perform all duties normally performed by vice presidents of like companies, along with such other duties as from time to time may be assigned to the Vice President by the President or by the Board of Directors.

SECTION 7. Secretary. The Secretary shall: (a) keep the minutes of the proceedings of the shareholders and the Board of Directors in one or more books provided for that purpose; (b) see that all notices are duly given in accordance with the provisions of these Bylaws and as otherwise required by applicable law; (c) serve as custodian of the corporate records and of the seal the corporation, if any; (d) keep a register of the post office address of each shareholder which shall be furnished to the Secretary by such shareholder; (e) sign with the President certificates for shares of the corporation, the issuance of which shall have been authorized by resolution of the Board of Directors; (f) have general charge of the stock transfer books of the corporation; and (g) in general perform all duties incident to the office of Secretary and such other duties as from time to time may be assigned to the Secretary by the President or the Board of Directors.

SECTION 8. Treasurer. The Treasurer shall: (a) have charge and custody of and be responsible for all funds and securities of the corporation, as well as its general financial affairs; (b) receive and give receipts for moneys due and payable to the corporation from any source whatsoever, and deposit all such moneys in the name of the corporation in such banks, trust companies or other depositories as shall be selected in accordance with the provisions of these Bylaws; and (c) in general perform all of the duties incident to the office of Treasurer and such other duties as from time to time may be assigned to the Treasurer by the President or the Board of Directors. If required by the Board of Directors, the Treasurer shall give a bond for the faithful discharge of his or her duties in such sum and with such surety or sureties as the board of Directors shall determine.

SECTION 9. Salaries. The salaries of the officers shall be fixed from time to time by the Board of Directors, and no officer shall be prevented from receiving such salary by reason of the fact that such officer is also a director of the corporation.

ARTICLE VI. CONTRACTS, LOANS, CHECKS AND DEPOSITS

SECTION 1. Contracts. The Board of Directors may authorize any officer or officers or agent or agents to enter into any contract or execute and deliver any instrument in the name of and on behalf of the corporation, and such authority may be general or confined to specific instances. The President or Vice President shall have the authority to enter into contracts in the ordinary and customary course of the corporation's business in the name of and on behalf of the corporation, but shall have no such authority with respect to any contract outside the ordinary and customary course of the corporation's business in the absence of due authorization by proper resolution of the Board of Directors.

SECTION 2. Loans. No loans shall be contracted on behalf of the corporation and no evidences of indebtedness shall be issued in its name unless authorized by a resolution of the Board of Directors. Such authority may be general or confined to specific instances.

SECTION 3. Checks, Drafts, etc. All checks, drafts or other orders for the payment of money, notes or other evidences of indebtedness issued in the name of the corporation shall be signed by such officer or officers or agent or agents of the corporation and in such manner as shall from time to time be determined by resolution of the Board of Directors.

SECTION 4. Deposits. All funds of the corporation shall be deposited from time to time to the credit of the corporation in such banks, trust companies or other depositories as the Board of Directors may select.

ARTICLE VII. CERTIFICATES FOR SHARES AND THE TRANSFER THEREOF

SECTION 1. Certificates for Shares. Certificates representing shares of stock in the corporation shall be in such form as shall be determined by the Board of Directors. Such certificates shall be signed by the President and by the Secretary or by such other officers authorized by applicable law and by the Board of Directors and sealed with the corporate seal, if any. All certificates for shares shall be consecutively numbered or otherwise identified. The name of the person to whom the shares represented thereby are issued, with the number of shares and date of issue, shall be entered on the stock transfer books of the corporation. All certificates surrendered to the corporation for transfer shall be cancelled and no new certificate shall be issued until the former certificate for a like number of shares shall have been surrendered and cancelled, except that in case of a lost, destroyed or mutilated certificate a new certificate may be issued therefor upon such terms and indemnity to the corporation as these Bylaws and the Board of Directors may prescribe.

SECTION 2. Transfer of Shares. Transfer of shares of stock in the corporation shall be made only on the stock transfer books of the corporation by the holder of record thereof or by his legal representative, who shall furnish proper evidence of authority to transfer, or by the holder's attorney thereunto authorized by power of attorney duly executed and filed with the Secretary of the corporation, and only upon the surrender for cancellation of the certificate for such shares. The person in whose name shares stand on the books of the corporation shall be deemed by the corporation to be the owner thereof for all purposes.

SECTION 3. Lost, Destroyed or Mutilated Stock Certificates; Issuance of New Certificates. The corporation may issue a new certificate of stock in the place of any certificate theretofore issued by it which is alleged to have been lost, destroyed or mutilated, and the corporation may require the owner thereof, or his or her legal representative, to give the corporation a bond sufficient to indemnify the corporation against any claim that may be made against the corporation on account of the alleged loss, destruction or mutilation of any such certificate or the issuance of such new certificate.

SECTION 1. Right to Indemnification. (a) Each person (including here and hereinafter, the heirs, executors, administrators, and estate of such person) (1) who is or was a director or officer of the corporation, (2) who is or was an employee or agent of the corporation other than an officer and to whom the corporation has specifically and expressly agreed in writing to provide indemnification, (3) who is or was serving at the request of the corporation as a director, officer, or partner of another corporation, partnership, joint venture, trust or other enterprise or (4) who is or was serving at the request of the corporation as an employee, agent or representative of another corporation, partnership, joint venture, trust or other enterprise and to whom the corporation has specifically and expressly agreed in writing to provide indemnification shall be indemnified by the corporation as of right to the fullest extent permitted or authorized by the Arkansas Business corporation Act of 1987 (sometimes referred to herein as the "1987 Act") or subsequent legislation (but in the case of any such subsequent legislation, only to the extent that it permits the corporation to provide broader indemnification rights than permitted prior to such legislation), against any liability or expense awarded or assessed against such person or incurred by such person or paid or to be paid by such person in settlement thereof, in such person's capacity as such director, officer, employee or agent or arising out of his status as such director, officer, employee, or agent, including expenses and amounts paid by such person in settlement of any proceeding asserted or brought against such person by or in the right of any person, including the corporation, in any such capacity or arising out of his status as such. Each director, officer, employee, or agent of the corporation to whom indemnification rights under this Article have been or may be granted is referred to herein as an "Indemnified Person."

(b) The Board of Directors may, upon approval of such director, officer, employee, or agent of the corporation, authorize the corporation's counsel to represent such person in any proceeding, whether or not the corporation is a party to such proceeding.

(c) Notwithstanding the foregoing, except as specified in Section 3 of this Article, the corporation shall indemnify an Indemnified Person in connection with a proceeding (or part thereof) initiated by such Indemnified Person only if authorization for such proceeding (or part thereof) was not denied by the Board of Directors of the corporation prior to sixty (60) days after receipt by the corporation of written notice thereof from such person.

SECTION 2. Advancement of Expenses. Costs, charges and expenses incurred by an Indemnified Person described in clause's "1" and "3" of Section 1 of this Article in defending a proceeding shall be paid by the corporation to the fullest extent permitted or authorized by the 1987 Act or subsequent legislation (but in the case of any such subsequent legislation, only to the extent that it permits the corporation to provide broader rights to advance costs, charges and expenses than permitted prior to such legislation) in advance of the final disposition of such proceeding, within fourteen (14) days after the receipt by the corporation of a written statement from the person seeking such advance requesting such an advancement together with an undertaking, if required by law at the time of such advance, by or on behalf of the person seeking such advance, to repay all amounts so advanced in the event that it shall ultimately be determined that such person is not entitled to be indemnified by the corporation as authorized in this Article. In the case of Indemnified Persons described in clauses "2" and "4" of Section 1 of this Article, advancements of costs, charges and expenses may be made upon such terms and conditions as the Board of Directors deems appropriate.

SECTION 3. Procedure for Indemnification and Obtaining Advancement of Expenses. Any indemnification for liabilities and expenses or advancement of expenses under this Article shall be made promptly, and, in the case of indemnification, in any event within sixty (60) days of receipt by the corporation of the written request of the Indemnified Person, or, in the case of advancement of expenses, as set forth in Section 2 of this Article. If the corporation denies such request in whole or in part or if no disposition thereof is made within the applicable time limit or if the corporation otherwise fails to provide indemnification or advancement as provided for in this Article, and despite any contrary determination by or on behalf of the corporation in the specific case, the Indemnified Person may enforce his or her right to indemnification or advancement, or both, in an appropriate proceeding brought in a court of competent jurisdiction and shall be entitled to such indemnification or advancement, or both, as the court by order shall direct. Such person's reasonable expenses in obtaining court-ordered indemnification or advancement shall be reimbursed by the corporation. No such contrary determination by or on behalf of the corporation shall be a defense to such proceeding or create a presumption that the claimant has not met the applicable standard of conduct, if any, for indemnification or for an advancement pursuant to Section I or Section 2 of this Article. It shall be a defense to any such action that the claimant has not met the applicable standard of conduct, if any, pursuant to Section 1 or Section 2 of this Article.

SECTION 4. Other Rights; Continuation of Right to Indemnification and Advancements. The rights to indemnification and rights to advancements provided by this Article shall not be deemed exclusive of any other or further rights to which a person seeking indemnification or advancements may be entitled under any law (common or statutory), agreement, vote of shareholders or disinterested directors or otherwise, either as to action taken or omitted to be taken in such person's official capacity or as to action taken or omitted to be taken in another capacity while holding office or while employed by or acting as agent for the corporation, and shall continue as to an Indemnified Person who has ceased to be a director, officer, employee or agent and shall inure to the benefit of the heirs, executors and administrators of such a person. All rights to indemnification and to advancements of expenses under this Article shall be deemed to be a contract between the corporation and all Indemnified Persons. Any repeal or modification of this Article or any repeal or modification of relevant provisions of the 1987 Act or any other applicable law shall not in any way diminish any right to indemnification or to advancement of expenses of an Indemnified Person or the obligations of the corporation arising hereunder for claims relating to matters occurring prior to such repeal or modification.

SECTION 5. Insurance and Other Arrangements. The corporation may maintain insurance, at its expense, to protect itself and/or any person who is or was or has agreed to become a director, officer, employee or agent of the corporation, or is or was serving at the request of the corporation as a director, officer, employee or agent of another company, partnership, joint venture, trust or other enterprise against any liability asserted against such person or incurred by such person or oh his or her behalf in any such capacity, or arising out of such person's status as such, whether or not the corporation has the obligation or would have the legal power to directly indemnify such person against such liability. The corporation may also obtain a letter of credit, act as self-insurer, create a reserve, trust, escrow, cash collateral or! other fund or account, enter into indemnification agreements, pledge or grant a security interest in any assets or properties of the corporation, or use any other mechanism or arrangement whatsoever in such amounts, at such costs, and upon such other terms and conditions as the Board of Directors shall deem appropriate for the protection of any or all such persons.

SECTION 6. Separability. If this Article or any portion hereof shall be invalidated on any ground by any court of competent jurisdiction, then the corporation shall nevertheless indemnify each Indemnified Person, as to liabilities and expenses, and amounts paid or to be paid in settlement with respect to any proceeding, including an action by or in the right of the corporation, to the fullest extent permitted by any applicable portion of this Article that shall not have been invalidated and to the fullest extent permitted by applicable law.

SECTION 7. Terms. For purposes of this Article and in each case without limiting the generality thereof, the term "other enterprises" includes employee benefit plans; the term "expenses" includes reasonable counsel fees; the term "liability" includes obligations to pay a judgment, settlement, penalty, fine (including an excise tax assessed on a person with respect to any employee benefit plan), and expenses actually and reasonably incurred with respect to a proceeding; and the term "proceeding" includes any threatened, pending, or completed action, suit, or other type of proceeding, whether civil, criminal, administrative, or investigative.

ARTICLE IX.
DIRECT REPORTING TO BOARD OF DIRECTORS

For so long as the corporation maintains one or more licenses for child care issued by the

State of Arkansas or any other governmental agency, the corporation shall maintain in place a policy that requires the employee, supervisor, administrator or director, whether directly employed by the corporation or serving as an independent contractor, designated or acting as the administrator or director of any child care facility operated by the corporation to directly report any incidents that give rise to a deficiency in meeting the applicable laws, rules or regulations regarding the operation of such facility to the members of the Board of Directors simultaneously with giving notice of the same to the officer or other supervisor or manager to whom they would otherwise be required to report such incident to.

ARTICLE X. MISCELLANEOUS PROVISIONS

SECTION 1. Fiscal Year. The fiscal year of the corporation shall be the same as the fiscal year utilized by the corporation for federal income tax reporting purposes.

SECTION 2. Dividends. The Board of Directors may from time to time declare, and the corporation may pay, dividends on its outstanding shares in the manner and upon the terms and conditions provided by applicable law and the Articles of Incorporation.

SECTION 3. Waiver of Notice. Any written waiver of notice, signed by the person entitled to notice, whether before or after the time stated therein, shall be deemed equivalent to notice. Attendance of a person at a meeting shall constitute a waiver of notice of such meeting, unless the person at the beginning of the meeting objects to holding the meeting or transacting business at the meeting. In addition, attendance of a person at a meeting shall constitute a waiver of objection to consideration of a particular matter at the meeting that is not within the purpose or purposes described in the meeting notice, unless the person objects to considering the matter when it is presented. All waivers of notice shall be filed with the minutes of the meeting.

SECTION 4. Inspection of Bylaws. A copy of these Bylaws, with all amendments thereto, shall at all times be kept in a convenient place at the principal office of the corporation, and shall be open for inspection to all shareholders during normal business hours.

SECTION 5. Interested Directors; Quorum. No contract or transaction between the corporation and one or more of its directors or officers, or between the corporation and any] other corporation, partnership, association, or other organization in which one or more of its directors or officers are directors or officers, or have a financial interest, shall be void or voidable solely for this reason, or solely because the director or officer is present at or participates in the meeting of the Board of Directors or committee thereof which authorizes the contract or transaction, or solely because such person’s votes are counted for such purposes, if: (1) the material facts regarding such person’s relationship or interest in the contract or transaction are disclosed or known to the Board of Directors or the committee, and the Board or committee in good faith authorizes the contract or transaction by the affirmative vote of a majority of the disinterested directors, even though the number of disinterested directors constitute less than a quorum; provided, however, that the contract or transaction may not be authorized, approved, or ratified by a single director; or (2) the material facts as to such person’s relationship or interest in the contract or transaction are disclosed or are known to the shareholders entitled to vote thereon, and the contract or transaction is specifically approved in good faith by a vote of the shareholders; or (3) the contract or transaction is fair to the corporation. If a majority of the disinterested directors vote to authorize, approve, or ratify the contract or transaction, a quorum shall be deemed present for purpose of taking action under this Section 6. If the contract or the transaction is approved by shareholders, the shares owned by or voted under the control of an interested director or an interested corporation, partnership, association, or other organization in which one or more of the corporation's directors or officers are directors or officers, or have a financial interest, shall not be counted in the vote of shareholders. The vote of such shares, however, shall be counted in determining whether the transaction or contract is approved under the Articles of Incorporation or the Arkansas Business Corporation Act of 1987. A majority of the shares that are entitled to be counted in a vote on the transaction or contract under this Section 6 constitutes a quorum for the purpose of taking action under this Section 6.

SECTION 6. Form of Records. Any records maintained by the corporation in the regular course of its business, including a stock ledger, books of account, and minute books, may be kept on, or be in the form of, punch cards, magnetic tape, photographs, microphotographs, or any other information storage device, provided that the records so kept can be converted into clearly legible form within a reasonable time. The corporation shall so convert any records so kept upon the request of any person entitled to inspect the same.

SECTION 7. Amendments of Bylaws. Subject to the laws of the State of Arkansas and the provisions of the Articles of Incorporation, these Bylaws may be altered, amended or repealed at any regular meeting of shareholders (or at any special meeting thereof duly called for that purpose) by a vote of the shareholders in accordance with Article II, provided that in the notice of such meeting, notice of such purpose shall be given. Subject to the laws of the State of Arkansas, the Articles of Incorporation and these Bylaws, the Board of Directors may by a majority vote of the entire Board of Directors amend these Bylaws, or waive any provisions hereof, or enact such other Bylaws as in their judgment may be advisable for the regulation of the conduct of the affairs of the corporation.

The foregoing bylaws were adopted by the Board of Directors of the corporation effective July 28, 2006.

OF

PHC MEADOWWOOD, INC.

(as of November 30, 2011)

ARTICLE I

Stockholders

Section 1. Annual Meeting. The annual meeting of the stockholders shall be held within six months of the end of the corporation's fiscal year as fixed by the board of directors for the purpose of electing directors and for such other purposes as may be determined as hereinafter provided. The hour and place of such meeting and the purposes for which such meeting is to be held in addition to that specified above shall be determined in each year by the board of directors or, in the absence of action by the board, by the president. If no annual meeting has been held in the period fixed above, a special meeting may be held in lieu thereof with all the force and effect of an annual meeting.

Section 2. Special Meetings. Special meetings of the stockholders may be called at any time by the president or by the board of directors and shall be called by the clerk, or in case of the death, absence, incapacity or refusal of the clerk, by any other officer, upon written application of one or more stockholders who hold at least one-tenth part in interest of the capital stock entitled to vote thereat. Such application shall specify the purposes for which the meeting is to be called and may designate the date, hour and place of such meeting, provided, however, that no such application shall designate a date not a full business day or an hour not within normal business hours as the date or hour of such meeting without the approval of the president or the board of directors.

Section 3. Place of Meetings. Meetings of the stockholders may be held anywhere within, but not without, the United States.

Section 4. Notice. Except as hereinafter provided, a written or printed notice of every meeting of stockholders stating the place, date, hour and purposes thereof shall be given by the clerk or an assistant clerk (or by any other officer in the case of an annual meeting or by the person or persons calling the meeting in the case of a special meeting) at least ten (10) days before the meeting to each stockholder entitled to vote thereat and to each stockholder who, by law, by the articles of organization or by these by-laws, is entitled to such notice, by leaving such notice with him or at his residence or usual place of business or by mailing it, postage prepaid, addressed to him at his address as it appears upon the records of the corporation. No notice of the place, date, hour or purposes of any annual or special meeting of stockholders need be given to a stockholder if a written waiver of such notice, executed before or after the meeting by such stockholder or his attorney thereunto authorized, is filed with the records of the meeting.

Section 5. Action at a Meeting. Except as otherwise provided in the articles of organization, the presence of a quorum shall be separately determined with respect to each matter to be acted on at any meeting of stockholders, and shall consist of the holders of shares having the right to cast a majority of the votes which may be cast with respect to such matter. Though less than a quorum be present, any meeting may without further notice be adjourned to a subsequent date or until a quorum be had, and at any such adjourned meeting any business may be transacted which might have been transacted at the original meeting.

When a quorum is present at any meeting, the affirmative vote of a majority of the shares of stock present or represented and voting shall be necessary and sufficient to the determination of any questions brought before the meeting, unless a larger vote is required by law, by the articles of organization or by these by-laws, provided, however, that any election by stockholders shall be determined by a plurality of the votes cast by the stockholders entitled to vote in such election.

Except as otherwise provided by law or by the articles or organization or by these by-laws, each holder of record of shares of stock entitled to vote on any matter shall have one vote for each such share held of record by him and a proportionate vote for any fractional shares so held by him. Stockholders may vote either in person or by proxy. No proxy dated more than six months before the meeting named therein shall be valid and no proxy shall be valid after the final adjournment of such meeting. A proxy with respect to stock held in the name of two or more persons shall be valid if executed by anyone of them unless at or prior to the exercise of the proxy the corporation receives a specific written notice to the contrary from anyone of them. A proxy purporting to be executed by or on behalf of a stockholder shall be deemed valid unless challenged at or prior to its exercise and the burden of proving its invalidity shall rest on the challenger.

Any election by stockholders and the determination of any other questions to come before a meeting of the stockholders shall be by ballot if so requested by any stockholder entitled to vote thereon but need not be otherwise.

Section 6. Stockholder Proposals. Written notification of any stockholder proposal to be acted upon at an annual meeting of stockholders of the corporation must be provided to the corporation at least 120 calendar days in advance of the date of the corporation’s proxy statement released to stockholders in connection with the previous year’s annual meeting of stockholders. Written notification of any stockholder proposal to be acted upon at any meeting of the stockholders of the corporation other than an annual meeting must be provided to the corporation at least 180 calendar days before the meeting at which such proposal is to be acted upon.

Section 7. Action by Written Consent. Any action required to be taken at any annual or special meeting of stockholders of the corporation, or any action which may be taken at any annual or special meeting of such stockholders, may be taken without a meeting, without prior notice and without a vote, if a consent or consents in writing, setting forth the action so taken and bearing the dates of signature of the stockholders who signed the consent or consents, shall be signed by the holders of outstanding stock having not less than the minimum number of votes that would be necessary to authorize or take such action at a meeting at which all shares entitled to vote thereon were present and voted and shall be delivered to the corporation by delivery to the corporation's principal place of business, or an officer or agent of the corporation having custody of the book or books in which proceedings of meetings of the stockholders are recorded.

ARTICLE II

Directors

Section 1. Number and Election. Except as otherwise provided by law or by the articles of organization, the number of directors for the ensuing year shall be determined by the board of directors. The number of directors so determined shall be elected at the annual meeting of the stockholders by such stockholders as have the right to vote thereon. The stockholders may, at any special meeting held for the purpose, increase or decrease the number of directors as thus determined and elect new directors to complete the number so determined or remove directors to reduce the number of directors to the number so determined. Except as otherwise provided by law or by the articles of organization, the board of directors may, by vote of a majority of the directors then in office, increase the number of directors determined by the stockholders and elect new directors to complete the number so determined. No director need be a stockholder.

Section 2. Term. Except as otherwise provided by law, by the articles of organization or by these by-laws, the directors shall hold office until the next annual meeting of stockholders and until their successors are chosen and qualified.

Section 3. Resignations. Any director may resign by delivering his written resignation to the corporation at its principal office or to the president or clerk or if there be one, to the secretary. Such resignation shall become effective at the time or upon the happening of the condition, if any, specified therein or, if no such time or condition is specified, upon its receipt.

Section 4. Removal. At any meeting of the stockholders called: for the purpose any director may be removed from office with or without cause by the vote of a majority of the class of shares issued, outstanding and entitled to vote in the election of said director. At any meeting of the board of directors any director may be removed from office for cause by vote of a majority of the directors then in office. A director may be removed for cause only after a reasonable notice and opportunity to be heard before the body proposing to remove him.

Section 5. Vacancies. Vacancies in the board of directors may be filled by vote of a majority of the remaining directors elected by that class of stockholders which elected the director whose office has been vacated or, if not yet so filled, by majority vote of the class of stockholders which elected the director whose office has been vacated.

Section 6. Regular Meetings. Regular meetings of the board of directors may be held at such times and places within or without the State of Delaware as the board of directors may fix from time to time and, when so fixed, no notice thereof need be given. The first meeting of the board of directors following the annual meeting of the stockholders shall be held without notice immediately after and at the same place as the annual meeting of the stockholders or the special meeting held in lieu thereof. If in any year a meeting of the board of directors is not held at such time and place, any elections to be held or business to be transacted at such meeting may be held or transacted at any later meeting of the board of directors with the same force and effect as if held or transacted at such meeting.

Section 7. Special Meetings. Special meetings of the board of directors may be called at any time by the president or secretary (or, if there be no secretary, the clerk) or by any director. Such special meetings may be held anywhere within or without the State of Delaware. A written, printed or telegraphic notice stating the place, date and hour (but not necessarily the purposes) of the meeting shall be given by the secretary or an assistant secretary (or, if there be no secretary or assistant secretary, the clerk or an assistant clerk) or by the officer or director calling the meeting at least forty-eight (48) hours before such meeting to each director by leaving such notice with him or at his residence or usual place of business or by mailing it, postage prepaid, or sending it by prepaid telegram, addressed to him at his last known address. No notice of the place, date or hour of any meeting of the board of directors need be given to any director if a written waiver of such notice, executed by him before or after the meeting, is filed with the records of the meeting, or to any director who attends the meeting without protesting prior thereto or at its commencement the lack of notice to him.

Section 8. Action at a Meeting. At any meeting of the board of directors, a majority of the directors then in office shall constitute a quorum. Though less than a quorum be present, any meeting may without further notice be adjourned to a subsequent date or until a quorum be had. When a quorum is present at any meeting a majority of the directors present may take any action on behalf of the board except to the extent that a larger number is required by law, by the articles or organization or by these by-laws.

Section 9. Action Without a Meeting. Any action required or permitted to be taken at any meeting of the directors may be taken without a meeting if all the directors consent to the action in writing and the written consents are filed with the records of the meetings of the directors. Such consents shall be treated for all purposes as a vote at a meeting.

Section 10. Powers. The board of directors shall have and may exercise all the powers of the corporation, except such as by law, by the articles of organization or by these by-laws are conferred upon or reserved to the stockholders. In the event of any vacancy in the board of directors, the remaining directors then in office, except as otherwise provided by law, shall have and may exercise all of the powers of the board of directors until the vacancy is filled.

Section 11. Committees. The board of directors may elect from the board an executive committee or one or more other committees and may delegate to any such committee or committees any or all of the powers of the board except those which by law, by the articles of organization or by these by-laws may not be so delegated. Such committees shall serve at the pleasure of the board of directors. Except as the board of directors may otherwise determine, each such committee may make rules for the conduct of its business, but, unless otherwise determined by the board or in such rules, its business shall be conducted as nearly as may be as is provided in these by-laws for the conduct of the business of the board of directors.

Section 12. Meeting by Telecommunications. Members of the board of directors or any committee elected thereby may participate in a meeting of such board of committee by means of a conference telephone or similar communications equipment by means of which all persons participating in a meeting can hear each other at the same time and participation by such means shall constitute presence in person at the meeting.

Officers

Section 1. Enumeration. The officers of the corporation shall consist of a president, a treasurer and a clerk and such other officers, including without limitation a chairman of the board of directors, a secretary and one or more vice presidents, assistant treasurers, assistant clerks and assistant secretaries, as the board of directors may from time to time determine.

Section 2. Qualifications. No officer need be a stockholder or a director. The same person may hold at the same time one or more offices unless otherwise provided by law. The clerk shall be a resident of Delaware unless the corporation shall have a resident agent. Any officer may be required by the board of directors to give a bond for the faithful performance of his duties in such form and with such sureties as the board may determine.

Section 3. Elections. The president, treasurer and clerk shall be elected annually by the board of directors at its first meeting following the annual meeting of the stockholders. All other officers shall be chosen or appointed by the board of directors.

Section 4. Term. Except as otherwise provided by law, by the articles of organization or by these by-laws, the president, treasurer and clerk shall hold office until the first meeting of the board of directors following the next annual meeting of the stockholders and until their respective successors are chosen and qualified. All other officers shall hold office until the first meeting of the board of directors following the next annual meeting of the stockholders, unless a shorter time is specified in the vote choosing or appointing such officer or officers.

Section 5. Resignations. Any officer may resign by delivering his written resignation to the corporation at its principal office or to the president or clerk, or, if there be one, to the secretary. Such resignation shall be effective at the time or upon the happening of the condition, if any, specified therein or, if no such time or condition is specified, upon its receipt.

Section 6. Removal. Any officer may be removed from office with or without cause by vote of a majority of the directors then in office. An officer may be removed for cause only after a reasonable notice and opportunity to be heard before the board of directors.

Section 7. Vacancies. Vacancies in any office may be filled by the board of directors.

Section 8. Certain Duties and Powers. The officers designated below, subject at all times to these by-laws and to the direction and control of the board of directors, shall have and may exercise the respective duties and powers set forth below:

The Chairman of the Board of Directors. The chairman of the board of directors, if there be one, shall, when present, preside at all meetings of the board of directors.

The President. The president shall be the chief executive officer of the corporation and shall have general operating charge of its business. Unless otherwise prescribed by the board of directors, he shall, when present, preside at all meetings of the stockholders, and, if a director, at all meetings of the board of directors unless there be a chairman of the board of directors who is present at the meeting.

The Treasurer. The treasurer shall be the chief financial officer of the corporation and shall cause to be kept accurate books of account.

The Clerk. The clerk shall keep a record of all proceedings of the stockholders and, if there be no secretary, shall also keep a record of all proceedings of the board of directors. In the absence of the clerk from any meeting of the stockholders or, if there be no secretary, from any meeting of the board of directors, an assistant clerk, if there be one, otherwise a clerk pro tempore designated by the person presiding at the meeting, shall perform the duties of the clerk at such meeting.

The Secretary. The secretary, if there be one, shall keep a record of all proceedings of the board of directors. In the absence of the secretary, if there be one, from any meeting of the board of directors, an assistant secretary, if there be one, otherwise a secretary pro tempore designated by the person presiding at the meeting, shall perform the duties of the secretary at such meeting.

Section 9. Other Duties and Powers. Each officer, subject at all times to these by-laws and to the direction and control of the board of directors, shall have and may exercise, in addition to the duties and powers specifically set forth in these by-laws, such duties and powers as are prescribed by law, such duties and powers as are commonly incident to his office and such duties and powers as the board of directors may from time to time prescribe.

Capital Stock

Section 1. Amount and Issuance. The total number of shares and the par value, if any, of each class of stock which the corporation is authorized to issue shall be stated in the articles of organization. The directors may at any time issue all or from time to time any part of the unissued capital stock of the corporation from time to time authorized under the articles of organization, and may determine, subject to any requirements of law, the consideration for which stock is to be issued and the manner of allocating such consideration between capital and surplus.

Section 2. Certificates. Each stockholder shall be entitled to a certificate or certificates stating the number and the class and the designation of the series, if any, of the shares held by him, and otherwise in form approved by the board of directors. Such certificate or certificates shall be signed by the president or a vice president and by the treasurer or an assistant treasurer. Such signatures may be facsimiles if the certificate is signed by a transfer agent, or by a registrar, other than a director, officer or employee of the corporation. In case any officer who has signed or whose facsimile signature has been placed on such certificate shall have ceased to be such officer before such certificate is issued, it may be issued by the corporation with the same effect as if he were such officer at the time of its issue.

Every certificate issued for shares of stock at a time when such shares are subject to any restriction on transfer pursuant to the articles of organization, these by-laws or any agreement to which the corporation is a party shall have the restriction noted conspicuously on the certificate and shall also set forth on the face or back of the certificate either (i) the full text of the restriction or (ii) a statement of the existence of such restriction and a statement that the corporation will furnish a copy thereof to the holder of such certificate upon written request and without charge.

Every certificate issued for shares of stock at a time when the corporation is authorized to issue more than one class or series of stock shall set forth on the face or back of the certificate either (i) the full text of the preferences, voting powers, qualifications and special and relative rights of the shares of each class and series, if any, authorized to be issued, as set forth in the articles of organization or (ii) a statement of the existence of such preferences, powers, qualifications and rights and a statement that the corporation will furnish a copy thereof to the holder of such certificate upon written request and without charge.

Section 3. Transfers. The board of directors may make such rules and regulations not inconsistent with the law, with the articles of organization or with these by-laws as it deems expedient relative to the issue, transfer and registration of stock certificates. The board of directors may appoint a transfer agent and a registrar of transfers or either and require all stock certificates to bear their signatures. Except as otherwise provided by law, by the articles of organization or by these by-laws, the corporation shall be entitled to treat the record holder of any shares of stock as shown on the books of the corporation as the holder of such shares for all purposes, including the right to receive notice of and to vote at any meeting of stockholders and the right to receive any dividend or other distribution in respect of such shares.

Section 4. Record Date. The board of directors may fix in advance a time, which shall be not more than sixty (60) days before the date of any meeting of stockholders or the date for the payment of any dividend or the making of any distribution to stockholders or the last day on which the consent or dissent of stockholders may be effectively expressed for any purpose, as the record date for determining the stockholders having the right to notice of and to vote at such meeting and any adjournment thereof or the right to receive such dividend or distribution or the right to give such consent or dissent, and in such case only stockholders of record on such record date shall have such right, notwithstanding any transfer of stock on the books of the corporation after the record date.

Section 5. Lost Certificates. The board of directors may, except as otherwise provided by law, determine the conditions upon which a new certificate of stock may be issued in place of any certificate alleged to have been lost, mutilated or destroyed.

ARTICLE V

Miscellaneous provisions

Section 1. Fiscal Year. The fiscal year of the corporation shall begin on the first day of January in each year and end on the last day of December next following.

Section 2. Corporate Seal. The seal of the corporation shall be in such form as shall be determined from time to time by the board of directors.

Section 3. Corporation Records. The original, or attested copies, of the articles of organization, by-laws and records of all meetings of the incorporators and stockholders, and the stock and transfer records, which shall contain the names of all stockholders and the record address and the amount of stock held by each, shall be kept in the State of Delaware at the principal office of the corporation in said State or at an office of the transfer agent or of its clerk or of its resident agent, if any. Said copies and records need not all be kept in the same office. They shall be available at all reasonable times to inspection by any stockholder for any proper purpose but not if the purpose for which such inspection is sought is to secure a list of stockholders or other information for the purpose of selling said list or information or copies thereof or of using the same for a purpose other than the interest of the applicant, as a stockholder, relative to the affairs of the corporation.

Section 4. Voting of Securities. Except as the board of directors may otherwise prescribe, the president or the treasurer shall have full power and authority in the name and on behalf of the corporation, subject to the instructions of the board of directors, to waive notice of, to attend, act and vote at, and to appoint any person or persons to act as proxy or attorney in fact for this corporation (with or without power of substitution) at any meeting of stockholders or shareholders of any other corporation or organization, the securities of which may be held by this corporation.

Amendments

These by-laws may be amended or repealed at any annual or special meeting of the stockholders by the affirmative vote of a majority of the shares of capital stock then issued, outstanding and entitled to vote provided notice of the proposed amendment or repeal is given in the notice of the meeting. No change in the date fixed in these by-laws for the annual meeting of the stockholders shall be made within sixty (60) days before such date, and notice of any change in such date shall be given to all stockholders at least twenty (20) days before the new date fixed for such meeting.

If authorized by the articles of incorporation, these by-laws may also be amended or repealed in whole or in part, or new by-laws made, by the board of directors except with respect to any provision hereof which by-law, the articles of organization or these by-laws requires action by the stockholders. Not later than the time of giving notice of the meeting of stockholders next following the making, amendment or repeal by the directors of any by-laws, notice thereof stating the substance of such change shall be given to all stockholders entitled to vote on amending the by-laws. Any by-law to be made, amended or repealed by the directors may be amended or repealed by the stockholders.

By-Laws

The board of directors is authorized to make, amend or repeal the by-laws of the corporation in whole or in part, except with respect to any provision thereof which by law, by these articles of organization, or by the by-laws requires action by the stockholders.

Place of Meetings of The Stockholders

Meetings of the stockholders may be held anywhere in the United States.

Partnership

The corporation may be a partner in any business enterprise which the corporation would have power to conduct by itself.

Indemnification of Directors, Officers and Others

The corporation shall indemnify each person who is or was a director, officer, employee or other agent of the corporation, and each person who is or was serving at the request of the corporation, as a director, trustee, officer, employee or other agent of another organization in which it directly or indirectly owns shares or of which it is directly or indirectly a creditor, against all liabilities, costs and expenses, including but not limited to amounts paid in satisfaction of judgments, in settlement or as fines and penalties, and counsel fees and disbursements, reasonably incurred by him in connection with the defense or disposition of or otherwise in connection with or resulting from any action, suit or other proceeding, whether civil, criminal, administrative or investigative, before any court or administrative or legislative or investigative body, in which he may be or may have been involved as a party or otherwise or with which he may be or may have been threatened, while in office or thereafter, by reason of his being or having been such a director, officer, employee, agent or trustee, or by reason of any action taken or not taken in any such capacity, except with respect to any matter as to which he shall have been finally adjudicated by a court of competent jurisdiction not to have acted in good faith in the reasonable belief that his action was in the best interests of the corporation. Expenses, including but not limited to counsel fees and disbursements, so incurred by any such person in defending any such action, suit or proceeding may be paid from time to time by the corporation in advance of the final disposition of such action, suit or proceeding upon receipt of an undertaking by or on behalf of the person indemnified to repay the amounts so paid if it shall ultimately be determined that indemnification of such expenses is not authorized hereunder.

As to any matter disposed of by settlement by any such person, pursuant to a consent decree or otherwise, no such indemnification either for the amount of such settlement or for any other expenses shall be provided unless such settlement shall be approved as in the best interests of the corporation, after notice that it involves such indemnification, (a) by a vote of a majority of the disinterested directors then in office (even though the disinterested directors be less than a quorum), or (b) by any disinterested person or persons to whom the question may be referred by vote of a majority of such disinterested directors, or (c) by vote of the holders of a majority of the outstanding stock at the time entitled to vote for directors, voting as a single class, exclusive of any stock owned by any interested persons, or (d) by any disinterested person or persons to whom the question may be referred by vote of the holders of a majority of such stock. No such approval shall prevent the recovery from any such officer, director, employee, agent or trustee of any amounts paid to him or on his behalf as indemnification in accordance with the preceding sentence if such person is subsequently adjudicated by a court of competent jurisdiction not to have acted in good faith in the reasonable belief that his action was in the best interests of the corporation.

The right of indemnification hereby provided shall not be exclusive of or affect any other rights to which any director, officer, employee, agent, or trustee may be entitled or which may lawfully be granted to him. As used herein, the terms “director,” “officer,” “employee,” “agent” and “trustee” include their respective executors, administrators and other legal representatives, and “interested” person is one against whom the action, suit or other proceeding in question or another action, suit or other proceeding on the same or similar grounds is then or had been pending or threatened, and a “disinterested” person is a person against whom no such action, suit or other proceeding is then or had been pending or threatened.

to the Articles of Organization of
PHC of Michigan, Inc.

By action of the board of directors, notwithstanding any interest of the directors in such action, the corporation may purchase and maintain insurance, in such amounts as the board of directors may from time to time deem appropriate, on behalf of any person who is or was a director, officer, employee or other agent of the corporation, or is or was serving at the request of the corporation as a director, trustee, officer, employee or other agent of another organization in which it directly or indirectly owns shares or of which it is directly or indirectly a creditor, against any liability incurred by him in any such capacity, or arising out of his status as such, whether or not the corporation would have the power to indemnify him against such liability.

Intercompany Transactions

No contract or transaction between the corporation and one or more of its directors or officers, or between the corporation and any other organization of which one or more of its directors or officers are directors, trustees or officers, or in which any of them has any financial or other interest, shall be void or voidable, or in any way affected, solely for this reason, or solely because the director or officer is present at or participates in the meeting of the board of directors or committee thereof which authorizes, approves or ratifies the contract or transaction, or solely because his or their votes are counted for such purposes, if:

(a) The material facts as to his relationship or interest and as to the contract or transaction are disclosed or are known to the board of directors or the committee which authorizes, approves or ratifies the contract or transaction, and the board or committee in good faith authorizes, approves or ratifies the contract of transaction by the affirmative vote of a majority of the disinterested directors, even though the disinterested directors be less than a quorum; or

(b) The material facts as to his relationship or interest and as to the contract or transaction are disclosed or are known to the stockholders entitled to vote thereon, and the contract or transaction is specifically authorized, approved or ratified in good faith by vote of the stockholders; or

to the Articles of Organization of
PHC of Michigan, Inc.

(c) The contract or transaction is fair as to the corporation as of the time it is authorized, approved or ratified by the board of directors, a committee thereof, or the stockholders.

Common or interested directors may be counted in determining the presence of a quorum at a meeting of the board of directors or of a committee thereof which authorizes, approves or ratifies the contract or transaction. No director or officer of the corporation shall be liable or accountable to the corporation or to any of its stockholders or creditors or to any other person, either for any loss to the corporation or to any other person or for any gains or profits realized by such director or officer, by reason of any contract or transaction as to which clauses (a), (b) or (c) above are applicable.

Limitations on Director Liability

No director of the corporation shall be liable to the corporation or its stockholders for monetary damages for breach of fiduciary duty as a director, except for liability (i) for any breach of the director's duty of loyalty to the corporation or its stockholders, (ii) for acts or omissions not in good faith or which involve intentional misconduct or a knowing violation of law, (iii) under Section 61 or 62 of Chapter 156B of the General Laws of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, or (iv) for any transaction in which the director derived an improper personal benefit. No amendment to or repeal of any provision of this paragraph, directly or by adoption of an inconsistent provision of these Articles of Organization, shall apply to or have any effect on any liability or alleged liability of any director of the corporation for or with respect to any acts or omissions of such director occurring prior to such amendment or repeal.

OF

PHC OF MICHIGAN, INC.

(as of November 30, 2011)

ARTICLE I

Stockholders

Section 1. Annual Meeting. The annual meeting of the stockholders shall be held within six months of the end of the corporation's fiscal year as fixed by the board of directors for the purpose of electing directors and for such other purposes as may be determined as hereinafter provided. The hour and place of such meeting and the purposes for which such meeting is to be held in addition to that specified above shall be determined in each year by the board of directors or, in the absence of action by the board, by the president. If no annual meeting has been held in the period fixed above, a special meeting may be held in lieu thereof with all the force and effect of an annual meeting.

Section 2. Special Meetings. Special meetings of the stockholders may be called at any time by the president or by the board of directors and shall be called by the clerk, or in case of the death, absence, incapacity or refusal of the clerk, by any other officer, upon written application of one or more stockholders who hold at least one-tenth part in interest of the capital stock entitled to vote thereat. Such application shall specify the purposes for which the meeting is to be called and may designate the date, hour and place of such meeting, provided, however, that no such application shall designate a date not a full business day or an hour not within normal business hours as the date or hour of such meeting without the approval of the president or the board of directors.

Section 3. Place of Meetings. Meetings of the stockholders may be held anywhere within, but not without, the United States.

Section 4. Notice. Except as hereinafter provided, a written or printed notice of every meeting of stockholders stating the place, date, hour and purposes thereof shall be given by the clerk or an assistant clerk (or by any other officer in the case of an annual meeting or by the person or persons calling the meeting in the case of a special meeting) at least ten (10) days before the meeting to each stockholder entitled to vote thereat and to each stockholder who, by law, by the articles of organization or by these by-laws, is entitled to such notice, by leaving such notice with him or at his residence or usual place of business or by mailing it, postage prepaid, addressed to him at his address as it appears upon the records of the corporation. No notice of the place, date, hour or purposes of any annual or special meeting of stockholders need be given to a stockholder if a written waiver of such notice, executed before or after the meeting by such stockholder or his attorney thereunto authorized, is filed with the records of the meeting.

Section 5. Action at a Meeting. Except as otherwise provided in the articles of organization, the presence of a quorum shall be separately determined with respect to each matter to be acted on at any meeting of stockholders, and shall consist of the holders of shares having the right to cast a majority of the votes which may be cast with respect to such matter. Though less than a quorum be present, any meeting may without further notice be adjourned to a subsequent date or until a quorum be had, and at any such adjourned meeting any business may be transacted which might have been transacted at the original meeting.

When a quorum is present at any meeting, the affirmative vote of a majority of the shares of stock present or represented and voting shall be necessary and sufficient to the determination of any questions brought before the meeting, unless a larger vote is required by law, by the articles of organization or by these by-laws, provided, however, that any election by stockholders shall be determined by a plurality of the votes cast by the stockholders entitled to vote in such election.

Except as otherwise provided by law or by the articles or organization or by these by-laws, each holder of record of shares of stock entitled to vote on any matter shall have one vote for each such share held of record by him and a proportionate vote for any fractional shares so held by him. Stockholders may vote either in person or by proxy. No proxy dated more than six months before the meeting named therein shall be valid and no proxy shall be valid after the final adjournment of such meeting. A proxy with respect to stock held in the name of two or more persons shall be valid if executed by anyone of them unless at or prior to the exercise of the proxy the corporation receives a specific written notice to the contrary from anyone of them. A proxy purporting to be executed by or on behalf of a stockholder shall be deemed valid unless challenged at or prior to its exercise and the burden of proving its invalidity shall rest on the challenger.

Any election by stockholders and the determination of any other questions to come before a meeting of the stockholders shall be by ballot if so requested by any stockholder entitled to vote thereon but need not be otherwise.

Section 6. Stockholder Proposals. Written notification of any stockholder proposal to be acted upon at an annual meeting of stockholders of the corporation must be provided to the corporation at least 120 calendar days in advance of the date of the corporation’s proxy statement released to stockholders in connection with the previous year’s annual meeting of stockholders. Written notification of any stockholder proposal to be acted upon at any meeting of the stockholders of the corporation other than an annual meeting must be provided to the corporation at least 180 calendar days before the meeting at which such proposal is to be acted upon.

Section 7. Action by Written Consent. Any action required to be taken at any annual or special meeting of stockholders of the corporation, or any action which may be taken at any annual or special meeting of such stockholders, may be taken without a meeting, without prior notice and without a vote, if a consent or consents in writing, setting forth the action so taken and bearing the dates of signature of the stockholders who signed the consent or consents, shall be signed by the holders of outstanding stock having not less than the minimum number of votes that would be necessary to authorize or take such action at a meeting at which all shares entitled to vote thereon were present and voted and shall be delivered to the corporation by delivery to the corporation's principal place of business, or an officer or agent of the corporation having custody of the book or books in which proceedings of meetings of the stockholders are recorded.

ARTICLE II

Directors

Section 1. Number and Election. Except as otherwise provided by law or by the articles of organization, the number of directors for the ensuing year shall be determined by the board of directors. The number of directors so determined shall be elected at the annual meeting of the stockholders by such stockholders as have the right to vote thereon. The stockholders may, at any special meeting held for the purpose, increase or decrease the number of directors as thus determined and elect new directors to complete the number so determined or remove directors to reduce the number of directors to the number so determined. Except as otherwise provided by law or by the articles of organization, the board of directors may, by vote of a majority of the directors then in office, increase the number of directors determined by the stockholders and elect new directors to complete the number so determined. No director need be a stockholder.

Section 2. Term. Except as otherwise provided by law, by the articles of organization or by these by-laws, the directors shall hold office until the next annual meeting of stockholders and until their successors are chosen and qualified.

Section 3. Resignations. Any director may resign by delivering his written resignation to the corporation at its principal office or to the president or clerk or if there be one, to the secretary. Such resignation shall become effective at the time or upon the happening of the condition, if any, specified therein or, if no such time or condition is specified, upon its receipt.

Section 4. Removal. At any meeting of the stockholders called: for the purpose any director may be removed from office with or without cause by the vote of a majority of the class of shares issued, outstanding and entitled to vote in the election of said director. At any meeting of the board of directors any director may be removed from office for cause by vote of a majority of the directors then in office. A director may be removed for cause only after a reasonable notice and opportunity to be heard before the body proposing to remove him.

Section 5. Vacancies. Vacancies in the board of directors may be filled by vote of a majority of the remaining directors elected by that class of stockholders which elected the director whose office has been vacated or, if not yet so filled, by majority vote of the class of stockholders which elected the director whose office has been vacated.

Section 6. Regular Meetings. Regular meetings of the board of directors may be held at such times and places within or without the Commonwealth of Massachusetts as the board of directors may fix from time to time and, when so fixed, no notice thereof need be given. The first meeting of the board of directors following the annual meeting of the stockholders shall be held without notice immediately after and at the same place as the annual meeting of the stockholders or the special meeting held in lieu thereof. If in any year a meeting of the board of directors is not held at such time and place, any elections to be held or business to be transacted at such meeting may be held or transacted at any later meeting of the board of directors with the same force and effect as if held or transacted at such meeting.

Section 7. Special Meetings. Special meetings of the board of directors may be called at any time by the president or secretary (or, if there be no secretary, the clerk) or by any director. Such special meetings may be held anywhere within or without the Commonwealth of Massachusetts. A written, printed or telegraphic notice stating the place, date and hour (but not necessarily the purposes) of the meeting shall be given by the secretary or an assistant secretary (or, if there be no secretary or assistant secretary, the clerk or an assistant clerk) or by the officer or director calling the meeting at least forty-eight (48) hours before such meeting to each director by leaving such notice with him or at his residence or usual place of business or by mailing it, postage prepaid, or sending it by prepaid telegram, addressed to him at his last known address. No notice of the place, date or hour of any meeting of the board of directors need be given to any director if a written waiver of such notice, executed by him before or after the meeting, is filed with the records of the meeting, or to any director who attends the meeting without protesting prior thereto or at its commencement the lack of notice to him.

Section 8. Action at a Meeting. At any meeting of the board of directors, a majority of the directors then in office shall constitute a quorum. Though less than a quorum be present, any meeting may without further notice be adjourned to a subsequent date or until a quorum be had. When a quorum is present at any meeting a majority of the directors present may take any action on behalf of the board except to the extent that a larger number is required by law, by the articles or organization or by these by-laws.

Section 9. Action Without a Meeting. Any action required or permitted to be taken at any meeting of the directors may be taken without a meeting if all the directors consent to the action in writing and the written consents are filed with the records of the meetings of the directors. Such consents shall be treated for all purposes as a vote at a meeting.

Section 10. Powers. The board of directors shall have and may exercise all the powers of the corporation, except such as by law, by the articles of organization or by these by-laws are conferred upon or reserved to the stockholders. In the event of any vacancy in the board of directors, the remaining directors then in office, except as otherwise provided by law, shall have and may exercise all of the powers of the board of directors until the vacancy is filled.

Section 11. Committees. The board of directors may elect from the board an executive committee or one or more other committees and may delegate to any such committee or committees any or all of the powers of the board except those which by law, by the articles of organization or by these by-laws may not be so delegated. Such committees shall serve at the pleasure of the board of directors. Except as the board of directors may otherwise determine, each such committee may make rules for the conduct of its business, but, unless otherwise determined by the board or in such rules, its business shall be conducted as nearly as may be as is provided in these by-laws for the conduct of the business of the board of directors.

Section 12. Meeting by Telecommunications. Members of the board of directors or any committee elected thereby may participate in a meeting of such board of committee by means of a conference telephone or similar communications equipment by means of which all persons participating in a meeting can hear each other at the same time and participation by such means shall constitute presence in person at the meeting.

Officers

Section 1. Enumeration. The officers of the corporation shall consist of a president, a treasurer and a clerk and such other officers, including without limitation a chairman of the board of directors, a secretary and one or more vice presidents, assistant treasurers, assistant clerks and assistant secretaries, as the board of directors may from time to time determine.

Section 2. Qualifications. No officer need be a stockholder or a director. The same person may hold at the same time one or more offices unless otherwise provided by law. The clerk shall be a resident of Massachusetts unless the corporation shall have a resident agent. Any officer may be required by the board of directors to give a bond for the faithful performance of his duties in such form and with such sureties as the board may determine.

Section 3. Elections. The president, treasurer and clerk shall be elected annually by the board of directors at its first meeting following the annual meeting of the stockholders. All other officers shall be chosen or appointed by the board of directors.

Section 4. Term. Except as otherwise provided by law, by the articles of organization or by these by-laws, the president, treasurer and clerk shall hold office until the first meeting of the board of directors following the next annual meeting of the stockholders and until their respective successors are chosen and qualified. All other officers shall hold office until the first meeting of the board of directors following the next annual meeting of the stockholders, unless a shorter time is specified in the vote choosing or appointing such officer or officers.

Section 5. Resignations. Any officer may resign by delivering his written resignation to the corporation at its principal office or to the president or clerk, or, if there be one, to the secretary. Such resignation shall be effective at the time or upon the happening of the condition, if any, specified therein or, if no such time or condition is specified, upon its receipt.

Section 6. Removal. Any officer may be removed from office with or without cause by vote of a majority of the directors then in office. An officer may be removed for cause only after a reasonable notice and opportunity to be heard before the board of directors.

Section 7. Vacancies. Vacancies in any office may be filled by the board of directors.

Section 8. Certain Duties and Powers. The officers designated below, subject at all times to these by-laws and to the direction and control of the board of directors, shall have and may exercise the respective duties and powers set forth below:

The Chairman of the Board of Directors. The chairman of the board of directors, if there be one, shall, when present, preside at all meetings of the board of directors.

The President. The president shall be the chief executive officer of the corporation and shall have general operating charge of its business. Unless otherwise prescribed by the board of directors, he shall, when present, preside at all meetings of the stockholders, and, if a director, at all meetings of the board of directors unless there be a chairman of the board of directors who is present at the meeting.

The Treasurer. The treasurer shall be the chief financial officer of the corporation and shall cause to be kept accurate books of account.

The Clerk. The clerk shall keep a record of all proceedings of the stockholders and, if there be no secretary, shall also keep a record of all proceedings of the board of directors. In the absence of the clerk from any meeting of the stockholders or, if there be no secretary, from any meeting of the board of directors, an assistant clerk, if there be one, otherwise a clerk pro tempore designated by the person presiding at the meeting, shall perform the duties of the clerk at such meeting.

The Secretary. The secretary, if there be one, shall keep a record of all proceedings of the board of directors. In the absence of the secretary, if there be one, from any meeting of the board of directors, an assistant secretary, if there be one, otherwise a secretary pro tempore designated by the person presiding at the meeting, shall perform the duties of the secretary at such meeting.

Section 9. Other Duties and Powers. Each officer, subject at all times to these by-laws and to the direction and control of the board of directors, shall have and may exercise, in addition to the duties and powers specifically set forth in these by-laws, such duties and powers as are prescribed by law, such duties and powers as are commonly incident to his office and such duties and powers as the board of directors may from time to time prescribe.

ARTICLE IV

Capital Stock

Section 1. Amount and Issuance. The total number of shares and the par value, if any, of each class of stock which the corporation is authorized to issue shall be stated in the articles of organization. The directors may at any time issue all or from time to time any part of the unissued capital stock of the corporation from time to time authorized under the articles of organization, and may determine, subject to any requirements of law, the consideration for which stock is to be issued and the manner of allocating such consideration between capital and surplus.

Section 2. Certificates. Each stockholder shall be entitled to a certificate or certificates stating the number and the class and the designation of the series, if any, of the shares held by him, and otherwise in form approved by the board of directors. Such certificate or certificates shall be signed by the president or a vice president and by the treasurer or an assistant treasurer. Such signatures may be facsimiles if the certificate is signed by a transfer agent, or by a registrar, other than a director, officer or employee of the corporation. In case any officer who has signed or whose facsimile signature has been placed on such certificate shall have ceased to be such officer before such certificate is issued, it may be issued by the corporation with the same effect as if he were such officer at the time of its issue.

Every certificate issued for shares of stock at a time when such shares are subject to any restriction on transfer pursuant to the articles of organization, these by-laws or any agreement to which the corporation is a party shall have the restriction noted conspicuously on the certificate and shall also set forth on the face or back of the certificate either (i) the full text of the restriction or (ii) a statement of the existence of such restriction and a statement that the corporation will furnish a copy thereof to the holder of such certificate upon written request and without charge.

Every certificate issued for shares of stock at a time when the corporation is authorized to issue more than one class or series of stock shall set forth on the face or back of the certificate either (i) the full text of the preferences, voting powers, qualifications and special and relative rights of the shares of each class and series, if any, authorized to be issued, as set forth in the articles of organization or (ii) a statement of the existence of such preferences, powers, qualifications and rights and a statement that the corporation will furnish a copy thereof to the holder of such certificate upon written request and without charge.

Section 3. Transfers. The board of directors may make such rules and regulations not inconsistent with the law, with the articles of organization or with these by-laws as it deems expedient relative to the issue, transfer and registration of stock certificates. The board of directors may appoint a transfer agent and a registrar of transfers or either and require all stock certificates to bear their signatures. Except as otherwise provided by law, by the articles of organization or by these by-laws, the corporation shall be entitled to treat the record holder of any shares of stock as shown on the books of the corporation as the holder of such shares for all purposes, including the right to receive notice of and to vote at any meeting of stockholders and the right to receive any dividend or other distribution in respect of such shares.

Section 4. Record Date. The board of directors may fix in advance a time, which shall be not more than sixty (60) days before the date of any meeting of stockholders or the date for the payment of any dividend or the making of any distribution to stockholders or the last day on which the consent or dissent of stockholders may be effectively expressed for any purpose, as the record date for determining the stockholders having the right to notice of and to vote at such meeting and any adjournment thereof or the right to receive such dividend or distribution or the right to give such consent or dissent, and in such case only stockholders of record on such record date shall have such right, notwithstanding any transfer of stock on the books of the corporation after the record date.

Section 5. Lost Certificates. The board of directors may, except as otherwise provided by law, determine the conditions upon which a new certificate of stock may be issued in place of any certificate alleged to have been lost, mutilated or destroyed.

ARTICLE V

Miscellaneous provisions

Section 1. Fiscal Year. The fiscal year of the corporation shall begin on the first day of January in each year and end on the last day of December next following.

Section 2. Corporate Seal. The seal of the corporation shall be in such form as shall be determined from time to time by the board of directors.

Section 3. Corporation Records. The original, or attested copies, of the articles of organization, by-laws and records of all meetings of the incorporators and stockholders, and the stock and transfer records, which shall contain the names of all stockholders and the record address and the amount of stock held by each, shall be kept in the Commonwealth of Massachusetts at the principal office of the corporation in said Commonwealth or at an office of the transfer agent or of its clerk or of its resident agent, if any. Said copies and records need not all be kept in the same office. They shall be available at all reasonable times to inspection by any stockholder for any proper purpose but not if the purpose for which such inspection is sought is to secure a list of stockholders or other information for the purpose of selling said list or information or copies thereof or of using the same for a purpose other than the interest of the applicant, as a stockholder, relative to the affairs of the corporation.

Section 4. Voting of Securities. Except as the board of directors may otherwise prescribe, the president or the treasurer shall have full power and authority in the name and on behalf of the corporation, subject to the instructions of the board of directors, to waive notice of, to attend, act and vote at, and to appoint any person or persons to act as proxy or attorney in fact for this corporation (with or without power of substitution) at any meeting of stockholders or shareholders of any other corporation or organization, the securities of which may be held by this corporation.

Amendments

These by-laws may be amended or repealed at any annual or special meeting of the stockholders by the affirmative vote of a majority of the shares of capital stock then issued, outstanding and entitled to vote provided notice of the proposed amendment or repeal is given in the notice of the meeting. No change in the date fixed in these by-laws for the annual meeting of the stockholders shall be made within sixty (60) days before such date, and notice of any change in such date shall be given to all stockholders at least twenty (20) days before the new date fixed for such meeting.

If authorized by the articles of incorporation, these by-laws may also be amended or repealed in whole or in part, or new by-laws made, by the board of directors except with respect to any provision hereof which by-law, the articles of organization or these by-laws requires action by the stockholders. Not later than the time of giving notice of the meeting of stockholders next following the making, amendment or repeal by the directors of any by-laws, notice thereof stating the substance of such change shall be given to all stockholders entitled to vote on amending the by-laws. Any by-law to be made, amended or repealed by the directors may be amended or repealed by the stockholders.

CONTINUATION SHEET 6A
to the Articles of Organization of
PHC of Nevada, Inc.

By-Laws

The board of directors is authorized to make, amend or repeal the by-laws of the corporation in whole or in part, except with respect to any provision thereof which by law, by these articles of organization, or by the by-laws requires action by the stockholders.

Place of Meetings of the Stockholders

Meetings of the stockholders may be held anywhere in the United States.

Partnership

The corporation may be a partner in any business enterprise which the corporation would have power to conduct by itself.

Indemnification of Directors, Officers and Others

The corporation shall indemnify each person who is or was a director, officer, employee or other agent of the corporation, and each person who is or was serving at the request of the corporation as a director, trustee, officer, employee or other agent of another organization in which it directly or indirectly owns shares or of which it is directly or indirectly a creditor, against all liabilities, costs and expenses, including but not limited to amounts paid in satisfaction of judgments, in settlement or as fines and penalties, and counsel fees and disbursements, reasonably incurred by him in connection with the defense or disposition of or otherwise in connection with or resulting from any action, suit or other proceeding, whether civil, criminal, administrative or investigative, before any court or administrative or legislative or investigative body, in which he may be or may have been involved as a party or otherwise or with which he may be or may have been threatened, while in office or thereafter, by reason of his being or having been such a director, officer, employee, agent or trustee, or by reason of any action taken or not taken in any such capacity, except with respect to any matter as to which he shall have been finally adjudicated by a court of competent jurisdiction not to have acted in good faith in the reasonable belief that his action was in the best interests of the corporation. Expenses, including but not limited to counsel fees and disbursements, so incurred by any such person in defending any such action, suit or proceeding may be paid from time to time by the corporation in advance of the final disposition of such action, suit or proceeding upon receipt of an undertaking by or on behalf of the person indemnified to repay the amounts so paid if it shall ultimately be determined that indemnification of such expenses is not authorized hereunder.

As to any matter disposed of by settlement by any such person, pursuant to a consent decree or otherwise, no such indemnification either for the amount of such settlement or for any other expenses shall be provided unless such settlement shall be approved as in the best interests of the corporation, after notice that it involves such indemnification, (a) by a vote of a majority of the disinterested directors then in office (even though the disinterested directors be less than a quorum), or (b) by any disinterested person or persons to whom the question may be referred by vote of a majority of such disinterested directors, or (c) by vote of the holders of a majority of the outstanding stock at the time entitled to vote for directors, voting as a single class, exclusive of any stock owned by any interested persons, or (d) by any disinterested person or persons to whom the question may be referred by vote of the holders of a majority of such stock. No such approval shall prevent the recovery from any such officer, director, employee, agent or trustee of any amounts paid to him or on his behalf as indemnification in accordance with the preceding sentence if such person is subsequently adjudicated by a court of competent jurisdiction not to have acted in good faith in the reasonable belief that his action was in the best interests of the corporation.

The right of indemnification hereby provided shall not be exclusive of or affect any other rights to which any director, officer, employee, agent, or trustee may be entitled or which may lawfully be granted to him. As used herein, the terms “director,” “officer,” “employee,” “agent” and “trustee” include their respective executors, administrators and other legal representatives, and “interested” person is one against whom the action, suit or other proceeding in question or another action, suit or other proceeding on the same or similar grounds is then or had been pending or threatened, and a “disinterested” person is a person against whom no such action, suit or other proceeding is then or had been pending or threatened.

CONTINUATION SHEET 6C
to the Articles of Organization of
PHC of Nevada, Inc..

By action of the board of directors, notwithstanding any interest of the directors in such action, the corporation may purchase and maintain insurance, in such amounts as the board of directors may from time to time deem appropriate, on behalf of any person who is or was a director, officer, employee or other agent of the corporation, or is or was serving at the request of the corporation as a director, trustee, officer, employee or other agent of another organization in which it directly or indirectly owns shares or of which it is directly or indirectly a creditor, against any liability incurred by him in any such capacity, or arising out of his status as such, whether or not the corporation would have the power to indemnify him against such liability.

Intercompany Transactions

No contract or transaction between the corporation and one or more of its directors or officers, or between the corporation and any other organization of which one or more of its directors or officers are directors, trustees or officers, or in which any of them has any financial or other interest, shall be void or voidable, or in any way affected, solely for this reason, or solely because the director or officer is present at or participates in the meeting of the board of directors or committee thereof which authorizes, approves or ratifies the contract or transaction, or solely because his or their votes are counted for such purposes, if:

a) The material facts as to his relationship or interest and as to the contract or transaction are disclosed or are known to the board of directors or the committee which authorizes, approves or ratifies the contract or transaction, and the board or committee in good faith authorizes, approves or ratifies the contract or transaction by the affirmative vote of a majority of the disinterested directors, even though the disinterested directors be less than a quorum; or

b) The material facts to his relationship or interest and as to the contract or transaction are disclosed or are known to the stockholders entitled to vote thereon, and the contract or transaction is specifically authorized, approved or ratified in good faith by vote of the stockholders; or

to the Articles of Organization of
PHC of Nevada, Inc.

c) The contract or transaction is fair as to the corporation as of the time it is authorized, approved or ratified by the board of directors, a committee thereof, or the stockholders.

Common or interested directors may be counted in determining the presence of a quorum at a meeting of the board of directors or of a committee thereof which authorizes, approves or ratifies the contract or transaction. No director or officer of the corporation shall be liable or accountable to the corporation or to any of its stockholders or creditors or to any other person, either for any loss to the corporation or to any other person or for any gains or profits realized by such director or officer, clauses (a), (b) or (c) above are applicable.

Limitations on Director Liability

No director of the corporation shall be liable to the corporation or its stockholders for monetary damages for breach of fiduciary duty as a director, except for liability (i) for any breach of the director's duty of loyalty to the corporation or its stockholders, (ii) for acts or omissions not in good faith or which involve intentional misconduct or a knowing violation of law, (iii) under Section 61 or 62 of Chapter 156B of the General Laws of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, or (iv) for any transaction in which the director derived an improper personal benefit. No amendment to or repeal of any provision of this paragraph, directly or by adoption of an inconsistent provision of these Articles of Organization, shall apply to or have any effect on any liability or alleged liability of any director of the corporation for or with respect to any acts or omissions of such director occurring prior to such amendment or repeal.

ARTICLE VII

The effective date of organization of the corporation shall be the date approved and filed by the Secretary of the Commonwealth. If a later effective date is desired, specify such date which shall not be more than thirty days after the date of filing.

OF

PHC OF NEVADA, INC.

(as of November 30, 2011)

ARTICLE I

Stockholders

Section 1. Annual Meeting. The annual meeting of the stockholders shall be held within six months of the end of the corporation's fiscal year as fixed by the board of directors for the purpose of electing directors and for such other purposes as may be determined as hereinafter provided. The hour and place of such meeting and the purposes for which such meeting is to be held in addition to that specified above shall be determined in each year by the board of directors or, in the absence of action by the board, by the president. If no annual meeting has been held in the period fixed above, a special meeting may be held in lieu thereof with all the force and effect of an annual meeting.

Section 2. Special Meetings. Special meetings of the stockholders may be called at any time by the president or by the board of directors and shall be called by the clerk, or in case of the death, absence, incapacity or refusal of the clerk, by any other officer, upon written application of one or more stockholders who hold at least one-tenth part in interest of the capital stock entitled to vote thereat. Such application shall specify the purposes for which the meeting is to be called and may designate the date, hour and place of such meeting, provided, however, that no such application shall designate a date not a full business day or an hour not within normal business hours as the date or hour of such meeting without the approval of the president or the board of directors.

Section 3. Place of Meetings. Meetings of the stockholders may be held anywhere within, but not without, the United States.

Section 4. Notice. Except as hereinafter provided, a written or printed notice of every meeting of stockholders stating the place, date, hour and purposes thereof shall be given by the clerk or an assistant clerk (or by any other officer in the case of an annual meeting or by the person or persons calling the meeting in the case of a special meeting) at least ten (10) days before the meeting to each stockholder entitled to vote thereat and to each stockholder who, by law, by the articles of organization or by these by-laws, is entitled to such notice, by leaving such notice with him or at his residence or usual place of business or by mailing it, postage prepaid, addressed to him at his address as it appears upon the records of the corporation. No notice of the place, date, hour or purposes of any annual or special meeting of stockholders need be given to a stockholder if a written waiver of such notice, executed before or after the meeting by such stockholder or his attorney thereunto authorized, is filed with the records of the meeting.

Section 5. Action at a Meeting. Except as otherwise provided in the articles of organization, the presence of a quorum shall be separately determined with respect to each matter to be acted on at any meeting of stockholders, and shall consist of the holders of shares having the right to cast a majority of the votes which may be cast with respect to such matter. Though less than a quorum be present, any meeting may without further notice be adjourned to a subsequent date or until a quorum be had, and at any such adjourned meeting any business may be transacted which might have been transacted at the original meeting.

When a quorum is present at any meeting, the affirmative vote of a majority of the shares of stock present or represented and voting shall be necessary and sufficient to the determination of any questions brought before the meeting, unless a larger vote is required by law, by the articles of organization or by these by-laws, provided, however, that any election by stockholders shall be determined by a plurality of the votes cast by the stockholders entitled to vote in such election.

Except as otherwise provided by law or by the articles or organization or by these by-laws, each holder of record of shares of stock entitled to vote on any matter shall have one vote for each such share held of record by him and a proportionate vote for any fractional shares so held by him. Stockholders may vote either in person or by proxy. No proxy dated more than six months before the meeting named therein shall be valid and no proxy shall be valid after the final adjournment of such meeting. A proxy with respect to stock held in the name of two or more persons shall be valid if executed by anyone of them unless at or prior to the exercise of the proxy the corporation receives a specific written notice to the contrary from anyone of them. A proxy purporting to be executed by or on behalf of a stockholder shall be deemed valid unless challenged at or prior to its exercise and the burden of proving its invalidity shall rest on the challenger.

Any election by stockholders and the determination of any other questions to come before a meeting of the stockholders shall be by ballot if so requested by any stockholder entitled to vote thereon but need not be otherwise.

Section 6. Stockholder Proposals. Written notification of any stockholder proposal to be acted upon at an annual meeting of stockholders of the corporation must be provided to the corporation at least 120 calendar days in advance of the date of the corporation’s proxy statement released to stockholders in connection with the previous year’s annual meeting of stockholders. Written notification of any stockholder proposal to be acted upon at any meeting of the stockholders of the corporation other than an annual meeting must be provided to the corporation at least 180 calendar days before the meeting at which such proposal is to be acted upon.

Section 7. Action by Written Consent. Any action required to be taken at any annual or special meeting of stockholders of the corporation, or any action which may be taken at any annual or special meeting of such stockholders, may be taken without a meeting, without prior notice and without a vote, if a consent or consents in writing, setting forth the action so taken and bearing the dates of signature of the stockholders who signed the consent or consents, shall be signed by the holders of outstanding stock having not less than the minimum number of votes that would be necessary to authorize or take such action at a meeting at which all shares entitled to vote thereon were present and voted and shall be delivered to the corporation by delivery to the corporation's principal place of business, or an officer or agent of the corporation having custody of the book or books in which proceedings of meetings of the stockholders are recorded.

ARTICLE II

Directors

Section 1. Number and Election. Except as otherwise provided by law or by the articles of organization, the number of directors for the ensuing year shall be determined by the board of directors. The number of directors so determined shall be elected at the annual meeting of the stockholders by such stockholders as have the right to vote thereon. The stockholders may, at any special meeting held for the purpose, increase or decrease the number of directors as thus determined and elect new directors to complete the number so determined or remove directors to reduce the number of directors to the number so determined. Except as otherwise provided by law or by the articles of organization, the board of directors may, by vote of a majority of the directors then in office, increase the number of directors determined by the stockholders and elect new directors to complete the number so determined. No director need be a stockholder.

Section 2. Term. Except as otherwise provided by law, by the articles of organization or by these by-laws, the directors shall hold office until the next annual meeting of stockholders and until their successors are chosen and qualified.

Section 3. Resignations. Any director may resign by delivering his written resignation to the corporation at its principal office or to the president or clerk or if there be one, to the secretary. Such resignation shall become effective at the time or upon the happening of the condition, if any, specified therein or, if no such time or condition is specified, upon its receipt.

Section 4. Removal. At any meeting of the stockholders called: for the purpose any director may be removed from office with or without cause by the vote of a majority of the class of shares issued, outstanding and entitled to vote in the election of said director. At any meeting of the board of directors any director may be removed from office for cause by vote of a majority of the directors then in office. A director may be removed for cause only after a reasonable notice and opportunity to be heard before the body proposing to remove him.

Section 5. Vacancies. Vacancies in the board of directors may be filled by vote of a majority of the remaining directors elected by that class of stockholders which elected the director whose office has been vacated or, if not yet so filled, by majority vote of the class of stockholders which elected the director whose office has been vacated.

Section 6. Regular Meetings. Regular meetings of the board of directors may be held at such times and places within or without the Commonwealth of Massachusetts as the board of directors may fix from time to time and, when so fixed, no notice thereof need be given. The first meeting of the board of directors following the annual meeting of the stockholders shall be held without notice immediately after and at the same place as the annual meeting of the stockholders or the special meeting held in lieu thereof. If in any year a meeting of the board of directors is not held at such time and place, any elections to be held or business to be transacted at such meeting may be held or transacted at any later meeting of the board of directors with the same force and effect as if held or transacted at such meeting.

Section 7. Special Meetings. Special meetings of the board of directors may be called at any time by the president or secretary (or, if there be no secretary, the clerk) or by any director. Such special meetings may be held anywhere within or without the Commonwealth of Massachusetts. A written, printed or telegraphic notice stating the place, date and hour (but not necessarily the purposes) of the meeting shall be given by the secretary or an assistant secretary (or, if there be no secretary or assistant secretary, the clerk or an assistant clerk) or by the officer or director calling the meeting at least forty-eight (48) hours before such meeting to each director by leaving such notice with him or at his residence or usual place of business or by mailing it, postage prepaid, or sending it by prepaid telegram, addressed to him at his last known address. No notice of the place, date or hour of any meeting of the board of directors need be given to any director if a written waiver of such notice, executed by him before or after the meeting, is filed with the records of the meeting, or to any director who attends the meeting without protesting prior thereto or at its commencement the lack of notice to him.

Section 8. Action at a Meeting. At any meeting of the board of directors, a majority of the directors then in office shall constitute a quorum. Though less than a quorum be present, any meeting may without further notice be adjourned to a subsequent date or until a quorum be had. When a quorum is present at any meeting a majority of the directors present may take any action on behalf of the board except to the extent that a larger number is required by law, by the articles or organization or by these by-laws.

Section 9. Action Without a Meeting. Any action required or permitted to be taken at any meeting of the directors may be taken without a meeting if all the directors consent to the action in writing and the written consents are filed with the records of the meetings of the directors. Such consents shall be treated for all purposes as a vote at a meeting.

Section 10. Powers. The board of directors shall have and may exercise all the powers of the corporation, except such as by law, by the articles of organization or by these by-laws are conferred upon or reserved to the stockholders. In the event of any vacancy in the board of directors, the remaining directors then in office, except as otherwise provided by law, shall have and may exercise all of the powers of the board of directors until the vacancy is filled.

Section 11. Committees. The board of directors may elect from the board an executive committee or one or more other committees and may delegate to any such committee or committees any or all of the powers of the board except those which by law, by the articles of organization or by these by-laws may not be so delegated. Such committees shall serve at the pleasure of the board of directors. Except as the board of directors may otherwise determine, each such committee may make rules for the conduct of its business, but, unless otherwise determined by the board or in such rules, its business shall be conducted as nearly as may be as is provided in these by-laws for the conduct of the business of the board of directors.

Section 12. Meeting by Telecommunications. Members of the board of directors or any committee elected thereby may participate in a meeting of such board of committee by means of a conference telephone or similar communications equipment by means of which all persons participating in a meeting can hear each other at the same time and participation by such means shall constitute presence in person at the meeting.

Officers

Section 1. Enumeration. The officers of the corporation shall consist of a president, a treasurer and a clerk and such other officers, including without limitation a chairman of the board of directors, a secretary and one or more vice presidents, assistant treasurers, assistant clerks and assistant secretaries, as the board of directors may from time to time determine.

Section 2. Qualifications. No officer need be a stockholder or a director. The same person may hold at the same time one or more offices unless otherwise provided by law. The clerk shall be a resident of Massachusetts unless the corporation shall have a resident agent. Any officer may be required by the board of directors to give a bond for the faithful performance of his duties in such form and with such sureties as the board may determine.

Section 3. Elections. The president, treasurer and clerk shall be elected annually by the board of directors at its first meeting following the annual meeting of the stockholders. All other officers shall be chosen or appointed by the board of directors.

Section 4. Term. Except as otherwise provided by law, by the articles of organization or by these by-laws, the president, treasurer and clerk shall hold office until the first meeting of the board of directors following the next annual meeting of the stockholders and until their respective successors are chosen and qualified. All other officers shall hold office until the first meeting of the board of directors following the next annual meeting of the stockholders, unless a shorter time is specified in the vote choosing or appointing such officer or officers.

Section 5. Resignations. Any officer may resign by delivering his written resignation to the corporation at its principal office or to the president or clerk, or, if there be one, to the secretary. Such resignation shall be effective at the time or upon the happening of the condition, if any, specified therein or, if no such time or condition is specified, upon its receipt.

Section 6. Removal. Any officer may be removed from office with or without cause by vote of a majority of the directors then in office. An officer may be removed for cause only after a reasonable notice and opportunity to be heard before the board of directors.

Section 7. Vacancies. Vacancies in any office may be filled by the board of directors.

Section 8. Certain Duties and Powers. The officers designated below, subject at all times to these by-laws and to the direction and control of the board of directors, shall have and may exercise the respective duties and powers set forth below:

The Chairman of the Board of Directors. The chairman of the board of directors, if there be one, shall, when present, preside at all meetings of the board of directors.

The President. The president shall be the chief executive officer of the corporation and shall have general operating charge of its business. Unless otherwise prescribed by the board of directors, he shall, when present, preside at all meetings of the stockholders, and, if a director, at all meetings of the board of directors unless there be a chairman of the board of directors who is present at the meeting.

The Treasurer. The treasurer shall be the chief financial officer of the corporation and shall cause to be kept accurate books of account.

The Clerk. The clerk shall keep a record of all proceedings of the stockholders and, if there be no secretary, shall also keep a record of all proceedings of the board of directors. In the absence of the clerk from any meeting of the stockholders or, if there be no secretary, from any meeting of the board of directors, an assistant clerk, if there be one, otherwise a clerk pro tempore designated by the person presiding at the meeting, shall perform the duties of the clerk at such meeting.

The Secretary. The secretary, if there be one, shall keep a record of all proceedings of the board of directors. In the absence of the secretary, if there be one, from any meeting of the board of directors, an assistant secretary, if there be one, otherwise a secretary pro tempore designated by the person presiding at the meeting, shall perform the duties of the secretary at such meeting.

Section 9. Other Duties and Powers. Each officer, subject at all times to these by-laws and to the direction and control of the board of directors, shall have and may exercise, in addition to the duties and powers specifically set forth in these by-laws, such duties and powers as are prescribed by law, such duties and powers as are commonly incident to his office and such duties and powers as the board of directors may from time to time prescribe.

ARTICLE IV

Capital Stock

Section 1. Amount and Issuance. The total number of shares and the par value, if any, of each class of stock which the corporation is authorized to issue shall be stated in the articles of organization. The directors may at any time issue all or from time to time any part of the unissued capital stock of the corporation from time to time authorized under the articles of organization, and may determine, subject to any requirements of law, the consideration for which stock is to be issued and the manner of allocating such consideration between capital and surplus.

Section 2. Certificates. Each stockholder shall be entitled to a certificate or certificates stating the number and the class and the designation of the series, if any, of the shares held by him, and otherwise in form approved by the board of directors. Such certificate or certificates shall be signed by the president or a vice president and by the treasurer or an assistant treasurer. Such signatures may be facsimiles if the certificate is signed by a transfer agent, or by a registrar, other than a director, officer or employee of the corporation. In case any officer who has signed or whose facsimile signature has been placed on such certificate shall have ceased to be such officer before such certificate is issued, it may be issued by the corporation with the same effect as if he were such officer at the time of its issue.

Every certificate issued for shares of stock at a time when such shares are subject to any restriction on transfer pursuant to the articles of organization, these by-laws or any agreement to which the corporation is a party shall have the restriction noted conspicuously on the certificate and shall also set forth on the face or back of the certificate either (i) the full text of the restriction or (ii) a statement of the existence of such restriction and a statement that the corporation will furnish a copy thereof to the holder of such certificate upon written request and without charge.

Every certificate issued for shares of stock at a time when the corporation is authorized to issue more than one class or series of stock shall set forth on the face or back of the certificate either (i) the full text of the preferences, voting powers, qualifications and special and relative rights of the shares of each class and series, if any, authorized to be issued, as set forth in the articles of organization or (ii) a statement of the existence of such preferences, powers, qualifications and rights and a statement that the corporation will furnish a copy thereof to the holder of such certificate upon written request and without charge.

Section 3. Transfers. The board of directors may make such rules and regulations not inconsistent with the law, with the articles of organization or with these by-laws as it deems expedient relative to the issue, transfer and registration of stock certificates. The board of directors may appoint a transfer agent and a registrar of transfers or either and require all stock certificates to bear their signatures. Except as otherwise provided by law, by the articles of organization or by these by-laws, the corporation shall be entitled to treat the record holder of any shares of stock as shown on the books of the corporation as the holder of such shares for all purposes, including the right to receive notice of and to vote at any meeting of stockholders and the right to receive any dividend or other distribution in respect of such shares.

Section 4. Record Date. The board of directors may fix in advance a time, which shall be not more than sixty (60) days before the date of any meeting of stockholders or the date for the payment of any dividend or the making of any distribution to stockholders or the last day on which the consent or dissent of stockholders may be effectively expressed for any purpose, as the record date for determining the stockholders having the right to notice of and to vote at such meeting and any adjournment thereof or the right to receive such dividend or distribution or the right to give such consent or dissent, and in such case only stockholders of record on such record date shall have such right, notwithstanding any transfer of stock on the books of the corporation after the record date.

Section 5. Lost Certificates. The board of directors may, except as otherwise provided by law, determine the conditions upon which a new certificate of stock may be issued in place of any certificate alleged to have been lost, mutilated or destroyed.

ARTICLE V

Miscellaneous provisions

Section 1. Fiscal Year. The fiscal year of the corporation shall begin on the first day of January in each year and end on the last day of December next following.

Section 2. Corporate Seal. The seal of the corporation shall be in such form as shall be determined from time to time by the board of directors.

Section 3. Corporation Records. The original, or attested copies, of the articles of organization, by-laws and records of all meetings of the incorporators and stockholders, and the stock and transfer records, which shall contain the names of all stockholders and the record address and the amount of stock held by each, shall be kept in the Commonwealth of Massachusetts at the principal office of the corporation in said Commonwealth or at an office of the transfer agent or of its clerk or of its resident agent, if any. Said copies and records need not all be kept in the same office. They shall be available at all reasonable times to inspection by any stockholder for any proper purpose but not if the purpose for which such inspection is sought is to secure a list of stockholders or other information for the purpose of selling said list or information or copies thereof or of using the same for a purpose other than the interest of the applicant, as a stockholder, relative to the affairs of the corporation.

Section 4. Voting of Securities. Except as the board of directors may otherwise prescribe, the president or the treasurer shall have full power and authority in the name and on behalf of the corporation, subject to the instructions of the board of directors, to waive notice of, to attend, act and vote at, and to appoint any person or persons to act as proxy or attorney in fact for this corporation (with or without power of substitution) at any meeting of stockholders or shareholders of any other corporation or organization, the securities of which may be held by this corporation.

Amendments

These by-laws may be amended or repealed at any annual or special meeting of the stockholders by the affirmative vote of a majority of the shares of capital stock then issued, outstanding and entitled to vote provided notice of the proposed amendment or repeal is given in the notice of the meeting. No change in the date fixed in these by-laws for the annual meeting of the stockholders shall be made within sixty (60) days before such date, and notice of any change in such date shall be given to all stockholders at least twenty (20) days before the new date fixed for such meeting.

If authorized by the articles of incorporation, these by-laws may also be amended or repealed in whole or in part, or new by-laws made, by the board of directors except with respect to any provision hereof which by-law, the articles of organization or these by-laws requires action by the stockholders. Not later than the time of giving notice of the meeting of stockholders next following the making, amendment or repeal by the directors of any by-laws, notice thereof stating the substance of such change shall be given to all stockholders entitled to vote on amending the by-laws. Any by-law to be made, amended or repealed by the directors may be amended or repealed by the stockholders.

* If there are no provisions state “None”.

CONTINUATION SHEET 6A

By-Laws

The board of directors is authorized to make, amend or repeal the by-laws of the corporation in whole or in part, except with respect to any provision thereof which by law, by these articles of organization, or by the by-laws requires action by the stockholders.

Amendments, Sale of Assets, Mergers, Consolidations, and Dissolution

Whenever an amendment to or restatement of these Articles of Organization or a sale, lease or exchange by the corporation of any of its assets, or a merger or consolidation involving the corporation, or the dissolution of the corporation is required by law to be approved by the stockholders, such action shall be properly authorized if approved by a majority of the shares outstanding and entitled to vote thereon.

Place of Meetings of The Stockholders

Meetings of the stockholders may be held anywhere in the United States.

Partnership

The corporation may be a partner in any business enterprise which the corporation would have power to conduct by itself.

Indemnification of Directors, Officers and Others

The corporation shall indemnify each person who is or was a director, officer, employee or other agent of the corporation, and each person who is or was serving at the request of the corporation as a director, trustee, officer, employee or other agent of another organization in which it directly or indirectly owns shares or of which it is directly or indirectly a creditor, against all liabilities, costs and expenses, including but not limited to amounts paid in satisfaction of judgments, in settlement or as fines and penalties, and counsel fees and disbursements, reasonably incurred by him in connection with the defense or disposition of or otherwise in connection with or resulting from any action, suit or other proceeding, whether civil, criminal, administrative or investigative, before any court or administrative or legislative or investigative body, in which he may be or may have been involved as a party or otherwise or with which he may be or may have been threatened, while in office or thereafter, by reason of his being or having been such a director, officer, employee, agent or trustee, or by reason of any action taken or not taken in any such capacity, except with respect to any matter as to which he shall have been finally adjudicated by a court of competent jurisdiction not to have acted in good faith in the reasonable belief that his action was in the best interests of the corporation. Expenses, including but not limited to counsel fees and disbursements, so incurred by any such person in defending any such action, suit or proceeding may be paid from time to time by the corporation in advance of the final disposition of such action, suit or proceeding upon receipt of an undertaking by or on behalf of the person indemnified to repay the amounts so paid if it shall ultimately be determined that indemnification of such expenses is not authorized hereunder.

As to any matter disposed of by settlement by any such person, pursuant to a consent decree or otherwise, no such indemnification either for the amount of such settlement or for any other expenses shall be provided unless such settlement shall be approved as in the best interests of the corporation, after notice that it involves such indemnification, (a) by a vote of a majority of the disinterested directors then in office (even though the disinterested directors be less than a quorum), or (b) by any disinterested person or persons to whom the question may be referred by vote of a majority of such disinterested directors, or (c) by vote of the holders of a majority of the outstanding stock at the time entitled to vote for directors, voting as a single class, exclusive of any stock owned by any interested persons, or (d) by any disinterested person or persons to whom the question may be referred by vote of the holders of a majority of such stock. No such approval shall prevent the recovery from any such officer, director, employee, agent or trustee of any amounts paid to him or on his behalf as indemnification in accordance with the preceding sentence if such person is subsequently adjudicated by a court of competent jurisdiction not to have acted in good faith in the reasonable belief that his action was in the best interests of the corporation.

The right of indemnification hereby provided shall not be exclusive of or affect any other rights to which any director, officer, employee, agent, or trustee may be entitled or which may lawfully be granted to him. As used herein, the terms “director,” “officer,” “employee,” “agent” and “trustee” include their respective executors, administrators and other legal representatives, and “interested” person is one against whom the action, suit or other proceeding in question or another action, suit or other proceeding on the same or similar grounds is then or had been pending or threatened, and a “disinterested” person is a person against whom no such action, suit or other proceeding is then or had been pending or threatened.

By action of the board of directors, notwithstanding any interest of the directors in such action, the corporation may purchase and maintain insurance, in such amounts as the board of directors may from time to time deem appropriate, on behalf of any person who is or was a director, officer, employee or other agent of the corporation, or is or was serving at the request of the corporation as a director, trustee, officer, employee or other agent of another organization in which it directly or indirectly owns shares or of which it is directly or indirectly a creditor, against any liability incurred by him in any such capacity, or arising out of his status as such, whether or not the corporation would have the power to indemnify him against such liability.

No contract or transaction between the corporation and one or more of its directors or officers, or between the corporation and any other organization of which one or more of its directors or officers are directors, trustees or officers, or in which any of them has any financial or other interest, shall be void or voidable, or in any way affected, solely for this reason, or solely because the director or officer is present at or participates in the meeting of the board of directors or committee thereof which authorizes, approves or ratifies the contract or transaction, or solely because his or their votes are counted for such purposes, if:

(a) The material facts as to his relationship or interest and as to the contract or transaction are disclosed or are known to the board of directors or the committee which authorizes, approves or ratifies the contract or transaction, and the board or committee in good faith authorizes, approves or ratifies the contract or transaction by the affirmative vote of a majority of the disinterested directors, even though the disinterested directors be less than a quorum; or

(b) The material facts as to his relationship or interest and as to the contract or transaction are disclosed or are known to the stockholders entitled to vote thereon,

and the contract or transaction is specifically authorized, approved or ratified in good faith by vote of the stockholders; or

(c) The contract or transaction is fair as to the corporation as of the time it is authorized, approved or ratified by the board of directors, a committee thereof, or the stockholders.

Common or interested directors may be counted in determining the presence of a quorum at a meeting of the board of directors or of a committee thereof which authorizes, approves or ratifies the contract or transaction. No director or officer of the corporation shall be liable or accountable to the corporation or to any of its stockholders or creditors or to any other person, either for any loss to the corporation or to any other person or for any gains or profits realized by such director or officer, by reason of any contract or transaction as to which clauses (a), (b) or (c) above are applicable.

7. By-laws of the corporation have been duly adopted and the initial directors, president, treasurer and clerk, whose names are set out below, have been duly elected.

8. The effective date of organization of the corporation shall be the date of filing with the Secretary of the Commonwealth or if later date is desired, specify date, (not more than 30 days after the date of filing.)

9. The following information shall not for any purpose be treated as a permanent part of the Articles of Organization of the corporation.

a. The post office address of the initial principal office of the corporation of Massachusetts is:

101 North Common Street, Lynn, MA 01902

OF

PHC OF UTAH, INC.

(as of November 30, 2011)

ARTICLE I

Stockholders

Section 1. Annual Meeting. The annual meeting of the stockholders shall be held within six months of the end of the corporation's fiscal year as fixed by the board of directors for the purpose of electing directors and for such other purposes as may be determined as hereinafter provided. The hour and place of such meeting and the purposes for which such meeting is to be held in addition to that specified above shall be determined in each year by the board of directors or, in the absence of action by the board, by the president. If no annual meeting has been held in the period fixed above, a special meeting may be held in lieu thereof with all the force and effect of an annual meeting.

Section 2. Special Meetings. Special meetings of the stockholders may be called at any time by the president or by the board of directors and shall be called by the clerk, or in case of the death, absence, incapacity or refusal of the clerk, by any other officer, upon written application of one or more stockholders who hold at least one-tenth part in interest of the capital stock entitled to vote thereat. Such application shall specify the purposes for which the meeting is to be called and may designate the date, hour and place of such meeting, provided, however, that no such application shall designate a date not a full business day or an hour not within normal business hours as the date or hour of such meeting without the approval of the president or the board of directors.

Section 3. Place of Meetings. Meetings of the stockholders may be held anywhere within, but not without, the United States.

Section 4. Notice. Except as hereinafter provided, a written or printed notice of every meeting of stockholders stating the place, date, hour and purposes thereof shall be given by the clerk or an assistant clerk (or by any other officer in the case of an annual meeting or by the person or persons calling the meeting in the case of a special meeting) at least ten (10) days before the meeting to each stockholder entitled to vote thereat and to each stockholder who, by law, by the articles of organization or by these by-laws, is entitled to such notice, by leaving such notice with him or at his residence or usual place of business or by mailing it, postage prepaid, addressed to him at his address as it appears upon the records of the corporation. No notice of the place, date, hour or purposes of any annual or special meeting of stockholders need be given to a stockholder if a written waiver of such notice, executed before or after the meeting by such stockholder or his attorney thereunto authorized, is filed with the records of the meeting.

Section 5. Action at a Meeting. Except as otherwise provided in the articles of organization, the presence of a quorum shall be separately determined with respect to each matter to be acted on at any meeting of stockholders, and shall consist of the holders of shares having the right to cast a majority of the votes which may be cast with respect to such matter. Though less than a quorum be present, any meeting may without further notice be adjourned to a subsequent date or until a quorum be had, and at any such adjourned meeting any business may be transacted which might have been transacted at the original meeting.

When a quorum is present at any meeting, the affirmative vote of a majority of the shares of stock present or represented and voting shall be necessary and sufficient to the determination of any questions brought before the meeting, unless a larger vote is required by law, by the articles of organization or by these by-laws, provided, however, that any election by stockholders shall be determined by a plurality of the votes cast by the stockholders entitled to vote in such election.

Except as otherwise provided by law or by the articles or organization or by these by-laws, each holder of record of shares of stock entitled to vote on any matter shall have one vote for each such share held of record by him and a proportionate vote for any fractional shares so held by him. Stockholders may vote either in person or by proxy. No proxy dated more than six months before the meeting named therein shall be valid and no proxy shall be valid after the final adjournment of such meeting. A proxy with respect to stock held in the name of two or more persons shall be valid if executed by anyone of them unless at or prior to the exercise of the proxy the corporation receives a specific written notice to the contrary from anyone of them. A proxy purporting to be executed by or on behalf of a stockholder shall be deemed valid unless challenged at or prior to its exercise and the burden of proving its invalidity shall rest on the challenger.

Any election by stockholders and the determination of any other questions to come before a meeting of the stockholders shall be by ballot if so requested by any stockholder entitled to vote thereon but need not be otherwise.

Section 6. Stockholder Proposals. Written notification of any stockholder proposal to be acted upon at an annual meeting of stockholders of the corporation must be provided to the corporation at least 120 calendar days in advance of the date of the corporation’s proxy statement released to stockholders in connection with the previous year’s annual meeting of stockholders. Written notification of any stockholder proposal to be acted upon at any meeting of the stockholders of the corporation other than an annual meeting must be provided to the corporation at least 180 calendar days before the meeting at which such proposal is to be acted upon.

Section 7. Action by Written Consent. Any action required to be taken at any annual or special meeting of stockholders of the corporation, or any action which may be taken at any annual or special meeting of such stockholders, may be taken without a meeting, without prior notice and without a vote, if a consent or consents in writing, setting forth the action so taken and bearing the dates of signature of the stockholders who signed the consent or consents, shall be signed by the holders of outstanding stock having not less than the minimum number of votes that would be necessary to authorize or take such action at a meeting at which all shares entitled to vote thereon were present and voted and shall be delivered to the corporation by delivery to the corporation's principal place of business, or an officer or agent of the corporation having custody of the book or books in which proceedings of meetings of the stockholders are recorded.

ARTICLE II

Directors

Section 1. Number and Election. Except as otherwise provided by law or by the articles of organization, the number of directors for the ensuing year shall be determined by the board of directors. The number of directors so determined shall be elected at the annual meeting of the stockholders by such stockholders as have the right to vote thereon. The stockholders may, at any special meeting held for the purpose, increase or decrease the number of directors as thus determined and elect new directors to complete the number so determined or remove directors to reduce the number of directors to the number so determined. Except as otherwise provided by law or by the articles of organization, the board of directors may, by vote of a majority of the directors then in office, increase the number of directors determined by the stockholders and elect new directors to complete the number so determined. No director need be a stockholder.

Section 2. Term. Except as otherwise provided by law, by the articles of organization or by these by-laws, the directors shall hold office until the next annual meeting of stockholders and until their successors are chosen and qualified.

Section 3. Resignations. Any director may resign by delivering his written resignation to the corporation at its principal office or to the president or clerk or if there be one, to the secretary. Such resignation shall become effective at the time or upon the happening of the condition, if any, specified therein or, if no such time or condition is specified, upon its receipt.

Section 4. Removal. At any meeting of the stockholders called: for the purpose any director may be removed from office with or without cause by the vote of a majority of the class of shares issued, outstanding and entitled to vote in the election of said director. At any meeting of the board of directors any director may be removed from office for cause by vote of a majority of the directors then in office. A director may be removed for cause only after a reasonable notice and opportunity to be heard before the body proposing to remove him.

Section 5. Vacancies. Vacancies in the board of directors may be filled by vote of a majority of the remaining directors elected by that class of stockholders which elected the director whose office has been vacated or, if not yet so filled, by majority vote of the class of stockholders which elected the director whose office has been vacated.

Section 6. Regular Meetings. Regular meetings of the board of directors may be held at such times and places within or without the Commonwealth of Massachusetts as the board of directors may fix from time to time and, when so fixed, no notice thereof need be given. The first meeting of the board of directors following the annual meeting of the stockholders shall be held without notice immediately after and at the same place as the annual meeting of the stockholders or the special meeting held in lieu thereof. If in any year a meeting of the board of directors is not held at such time and place, any elections to be held or business to be transacted at such meeting may be held or transacted at any later meeting of the board of directors with the same force and effect as if held or transacted at such meeting.

Section 7. Special Meetings. Special meetings of the board of directors may be called at any time by the president or secretary (or, if there be no secretary, the clerk) or by any director. Such special meetings may be held anywhere within or without the Commonwealth of Massachusetts. A written, printed or telegraphic notice stating the place, date and hour (but not necessarily the purposes) of the meeting shall be given by the secretary or an assistant secretary (or, if there be no secretary or assistant secretary, the clerk or an assistant clerk) or by the officer or director calling the meeting at least forty-eight (48) hours before such meeting to each director by leaving such notice with him or at his residence or usual place of business or by mailing it, postage prepaid, or sending it by prepaid telegram, addressed to him at his last known address. No notice of the place, date or hour of any meeting of the board of directors need be given to any director if a written waiver of such notice, executed by him before or after the meeting, is filed with the records of the meeting, or to any director who attends the meeting without protesting prior thereto or at its commencement the lack of notice to him.

Section 8. Action at a Meeting. At any meeting of the board of directors, a majority of the directors then in office shall constitute a quorum. Though less than a quorum be present, any meeting may without further notice be adjourned to a subsequent date or until a quorum be had. When a quorum is present at any meeting a majority of the directors present may take any action on behalf of the board except to the extent that a larger number is required by law, by the articles or organization or by these by-laws.

Section 9. Action Without a Meeting. Any action required or permitted to be taken at any meeting of the directors may be taken without a meeting if all the directors consent to the action in writing and the written consents are filed with the records of the meetings of the directors. Such consents shall be treated for all purposes as a vote at a meeting.

Section 10. Powers. The board of directors shall have and may exercise all the powers of the corporation, except such as by law, by the articles of organization or by these by-laws are conferred upon or reserved to the stockholders. In the event of any vacancy in the board of directors, the remaining directors then in office, except as otherwise provided by law, shall have and may exercise all of the powers of the board of directors until the vacancy is filled.

Section 11. Committees. The board of directors may elect from the board an executive committee or one or more other committees and may delegate to any such committee or committees any or all of the powers of the board except those which by law, by the articles of organization or by these by-laws may not be so delegated. Such committees shall serve at the pleasure of the board of directors. Except as the board of directors may otherwise determine, each such committee may make rules for the conduct of its business, but, unless otherwise determined by the board or in such rules, its business shall be conducted as nearly as may be as is provided in these by-laws for the conduct of the business of the board of directors.

Section 12. Meeting by Telecommunications. Members of the board of directors or any committee elected thereby may participate in a meeting of such board of committee by means of a conference telephone or similar communications equipment by means of which all persons participating in a meeting can hear each other at the same time and participation by such means shall constitute presence in person at the meeting.

Officers

Section 1. Enumeration. The officers of the corporation shall consist of a president, a treasurer and a clerk and such other officers, including without limitation a chairman of the board of directors, a secretary and one or more vice presidents, assistant treasurers, assistant clerks and assistant secretaries, as the board of directors may from time to time determine.

Section 2. Qualifications. No officer need be a stockholder or a director. The same person may hold at the same time one or more offices unless otherwise provided by law. The clerk shall be a resident of Massachusetts unless the corporation shall have a resident agent. Any officer may be required by the board of directors to give a bond for the faithful performance of his duties in such form and with such sureties as the board may determine.

Section 3. Elections. The president, treasurer and clerk shall be elected annually by the board of directors at its first meeting following the annual meeting of the stockholders. All other officers shall be chosen or appointed by the board of directors.

Section 4. Term. Except as otherwise provided by law, by the articles of organization or by these by-laws, the president, treasurer and clerk shall hold office until the first meeting of the board of directors following the next annual meeting of the stockholders and until their respective successors are chosen and qualified. All other officers shall hold office until the first meeting of the board of directors following the next annual meeting of the stockholders, unless a shorter time is specified in the vote choosing or appointing such officer or officers.

Section 5. Resignations. Any officer may resign by delivering his written resignation to the corporation at its principal office or to the president or clerk, or, if there be one, to the secretary. Such resignation shall be effective at the time or upon the happening of the condition, if any, specified therein or, if no such time or condition is specified, upon its receipt.

Section 6. Removal. Any officer may be removed from office with or without cause by vote of a majority of the directors then in office. An officer may be removed for cause only after a reasonable notice and opportunity to be heard before the board of directors.

Section 7. Vacancies. Vacancies in any office may be filled by the board of directors.

Section 8. Certain Duties and Powers. The officers designated below, subject at all times to these by-laws and to the direction and control of the board of directors, shall have and may exercise the respective duties and powers set forth below:

The Chairman of the Board of Directors. The chairman of the board of directors, if there be one, shall, when present, preside at all meetings of the board of directors.

The President. The president shall be the chief executive officer of the corporation and shall have general operating charge of its business. Unless otherwise prescribed by the board of directors, he shall, when present, preside at all meetings of the stockholders, and, if a director, at all meetings of the board of directors unless there be a chairman of the board of directors who is present at the meeting.

The Treasurer. The treasurer shall be the chief financial officer of the corporation and shall cause to be kept accurate books of account.

The Clerk. The clerk shall keep a record of all proceedings of the stockholders and, if there be no secretary, shall also keep a record of all proceedings of the board of directors. In the absence of the clerk from any meeting of the stockholders or, if there be no secretary, from any meeting of the board of directors, an assistant clerk, if there be one, otherwise a clerk pro tempore designated by the person presiding at the meeting, shall perform the duties of the clerk at such meeting.

The Secretary. The secretary, if there be one, shall keep a record of all proceedings of the board of directors. In the absence of the secretary, if there be one, from any meeting of the board of directors, an assistant secretary, if there be one, otherwise a secretary pro tempore designated by the person presiding at the meeting, shall perform the duties of the secretary at such meeting.

Section 9. Other Duties and Powers. Each officer, subject at all times to these by-laws and to the direction and control of the board of directors, shall have and may exercise, in addition to the duties and powers specifically set forth in these by-laws, such duties and powers as are prescribed by law, such duties and powers as are commonly incident to his office and such duties and powers as the board of directors may from time to time prescribe.

ARTICLE IV

Capital Stock

Section 1. Amount and Issuance. The total number of shares and the par value, if any, of each class of stock which the corporation is authorized to issue shall be stated in the articles of organization. The directors may at any time issue all or from time to time any part of the unissued capital stock of the corporation from time to time authorized under the articles of organization, and may determine, subject to any requirements of law, the consideration for which stock is to be issued and the manner of allocating such consideration between capital and surplus.

Section 2. Certificates. Each stockholder shall be entitled to a certificate or certificates stating the number and the class and the designation of the series, if any, of the shares held by him, and otherwise in form approved by the board of directors. Such certificate or certificates shall be signed by the president or a vice president and by the treasurer or an assistant treasurer. Such signatures may be facsimiles if the certificate is signed by a transfer agent, or by a registrar, other than a director, officer or employee of the corporation. In case any officer who has signed or whose facsimile signature has been placed on such certificate shall have ceased to be such officer before such certificate is issued, it may be issued by the corporation with the same effect as if he were such officer at the time of its issue.

Every certificate issued for shares of stock at a time when such shares are subject to any restriction on transfer pursuant to the articles of organization, these by-laws or any agreement to which the corporation is a party shall have the restriction noted conspicuously on the certificate and shall also set forth on the face or back of the certificate either (i) the full text of the restriction or (ii) a statement of the existence of such restriction and a statement that the corporation will furnish a copy thereof to the holder of such certificate upon written request and without charge.

Every certificate issued for shares of stock at a time when the corporation is authorized to issue more than one class or series of stock shall set forth on the face or back of the certificate either (i) the full text of the preferences, voting powers, qualifications and special and relative rights of the shares of each class and series, if any, authorized to be issued, as set forth in the articles of organization or (ii) a statement of the existence of such preferences, powers, qualifications and rights and a statement that the corporation will furnish a copy thereof to the holder of such certificate upon written request and without charge.

Section 3. Transfers. The board of directors may make such rules and regulations not inconsistent with the law, with the articles of organization or with these by-laws as it deems expedient relative to the issue, transfer and registration of stock certificates. The board of directors may appoint a transfer agent and a registrar of transfers or either and require all stock certificates to bear their signatures. Except as otherwise provided by law, by the articles of organization or by these by-laws, the corporation shall be entitled to treat the record holder of any shares of stock as shown on the books of the corporation as the holder of such shares for all purposes, including the right to receive notice of and to vote at any meeting of stockholders and the right to receive any dividend or other distribution in respect of such shares.

Section 4. Record Date. The board of directors may fix in advance a time, which shall be not more than sixty (60) days before the date of any meeting of stockholders or the date for the payment of any dividend or the making of any distribution to stockholders or the last day on which the consent or dissent of stockholders may be effectively expressed for any purpose, as the record date for determining the stockholders having the right to notice of and to vote at such meeting and any adjournment thereof or the right to receive such dividend or distribution or the right to give such consent or dissent, and in such case only stockholders of record on such record date shall have such right, notwithstanding any transfer of stock on the books of the corporation after the record date.

Section 5. Lost Certificates. The board of directors may, except as otherwise provided by law, determine the conditions upon which a new certificate of stock may be issued in place of any certificate alleged to have been lost, mutilated or destroyed.

ARTICLE V

Miscellaneous provisions

Section 1. Fiscal Year. The fiscal year of the corporation shall begin on the first day of January in each year and end on the last day of December next following.

Section 2. Corporate Seal. The seal of the corporation shall be in such form as shall be determined from time to time by the board of directors.

Section 3. Corporation Records. The original, or attested copies, of the articles of organization, by-laws and records of all meetings of the incorporators and stockholders, and the stock and transfer records, which shall contain the names of all stockholders and the record address and the amount of stock held by each, shall be kept in the Commonwealth of Massachusetts at the principal office of the corporation in said Commonwealth or at an office of the transfer agent or of its clerk or of its resident agent, if any. Said copies and records need not all be kept in the same office. They shall be available at all reasonable times to inspection by any stockholder for any proper purpose but not if the purpose for which such inspection is sought is to secure a list of stockholders or other information for the purpose of selling said list or information or copies thereof or of using the same for a purpose other than the interest of the applicant, as a stockholder, relative to the affairs of the corporation.

Section 4. Voting of Securities. Except as the board of directors may otherwise prescribe, the president or the treasurer shall have full power and authority in the name and on behalf of the corporation, subject to the instructions of the board of directors, to waive notice of, to attend, act and vote at, and to appoint any person or persons to act as proxy or attorney in fact for this corporation (with or without power of substitution) at any meeting of stockholders or shareholders of any other corporation or organization, the securities of which may be held by this corporation.

Amendments

These by-laws may be amended or repealed at any annual or special meeting of the stockholders by the affirmative vote of a majority of the shares of capital stock then issued, outstanding and entitled to vote provided notice of the proposed amendment or repeal is given in the notice of the meeting. No change in the date fixed in these by-laws for the annual meeting of the stockholders shall be made within sixty (60) days before such date, and notice of any change in such date shall be given to all stockholders at least twenty (20) days before the new date fixed for such meeting.

If authorized by the articles of incorporation, these by-laws may also be amended or repealed in whole or in part, or new by-laws made, by the board of directors except with respect to any provision hereof which by-law, the articles of organization or these by-laws requires action by the stockholders. Not later than the time of giving notice of the meeting of stockholders next following the making, amendment or repeal by the directors of any by-laws, notice thereof stating the substance of such change shall be given to all stockholders entitled to vote on amending the by-laws. Any by-law to be made, amended or repealed by the directors may be amended or repealed by the stockholders.

*5. The restrictions, if any, imposed by the Articles of Organization upon the transfer of shares of stock of any class are as follows:

None.

*6. Other lawful provisions, if any, for the conduct and regulation of business and affairs of the corporation, for its voluntary dissolution, or for limiting, defining, or regulating the powers of the corporation, or of its directors or stockholders, or of any class of stockholders:

See Continuation Sheets 6A through 6D attached hereto and incorporated herein.

* If there are no provisions state “None”

CONTINUATION SHEET 6A

By-Laws

The board of directors is authorized to make, amend or repeal the by-laws of the corporation in whole or in part, except with respect to any provision thereof which by law, by these articles of organization, or by the by-laws requires action by the stockholders.

Amendments, Sale of Assets, Mergers, Consolidations, and Dissolution

Whenever an amendment to or restatement of these Articles of Organization or a sale, lease or exchange by the corporation of any of its assets, or a merger or consolidation involving the corporation, or the dissolution of the corporation is required by law to be approved by the stockholders, such action shall be properly authorized if approved by a majority of the shares outstanding and entitled to vote thereon.

Place of Meetings of The Stockholders

Meetings of the stockholders may be held anywhere in the United States.

Partnership

The corporation may be a partner in any business enterprise which the corporation would have power to conduct by itself.

Indemnification of Directors, Officers and Others

The corporation shall indemnify each person who is or was a director, officer, employee or other agent of the corporation, and each person who is or was serving at the request of the corporation as a director, trustee, officer, employee or other agent of another organization in which it directly or indirectly owns shares or of which it is directly or indirectly a credit, against all liabilities, costs and expenses, including but not limited to amounts paid in satisfaction of judgments, in settlement or as fines and penalties, and counsel fees and disbursements, reasonably incurred by him in connection with the defense or disposition of or otherwise in connection with or resulting from any action, suit or other proceeding, whether civil, criminal, administrative or investigative, before any court or administrative or legislative or investigative body, in which he may be or may have been involved as a party or otherwise or with which he may be or may have been threatened, while in office or thereafter, by reason of his being or having been such a director, officer, employee, agent or trustee, or by reason of any action taken or not taken in any such capacity, except with respect to any matter as to which he shall have been finally adjudicated by a court of competent jurisdiction not to have acted in good faith in the reasonable belief that his action was in the best interests of the corporation. Expenses, including but not limited to counsel fees and disbursements, so incurred by any such person in defending any such action, suit or proceeding may be paid from time to time by the corporation in advance of the final disposition of such action, suit or proceeding upon receipt of an undertaking by or on behalf of the person indemnified to repay the amounts so paid if it shall ultimately be determined that indemnification of such expenses is not authorized hereunder.

As to any matter disposed of by settlement by any such person, pursuant to a consent decree or otherwise, no such indemnification either for the amount of such settlement or for any other expenses shall be provided unless such settlement shall be approved as in the best interests of the corporation, after notice that it involves such indemnification, (a) by a vote of a majority of the disinterested directors then in office (even though the disinterested directors be less than a quorum), or (b) by any disinterested person or persons to whom the question may be referred by vote of a majority of such disinterested directors, or (c) by vote of the holders of a majority of the outstanding stock at the time entitled to vote for directors, voting as a single class, exclusive of any stock owned by any interested persons, or (d) by any disinterested person or persons to whom the question may be referred by vote of the holders of a majority of such stock. No such approval shall prevent the recovery from any such officer, director, employee, agent or trustee of any amounts paid to him or on his behalf as indemnification in accordance with the preceding sentence if such person is subsequently adjudicated by a court of competent jurisdiction not to have acted in good faith in the reasonable belief that his action was in the best interests of the corporation.

The right of indemnification hereby provided shall not be exclusive of or affect any other rights to which any director, officer, employee, agent, or trustee may be entitled or which may lawfully be granted to him. As used herein, the terms “director,” “officer,” “employee,” “agent” and “trustee” include their respective executors, administrators and other legal representatives, and “interested” person is one against whom the action, suit or other proceeding in question or another action, suit or other proceeding on the same or similar grounds is then or had been pending or threatened, and a “disinterested” person is a person against whom no such action, suit or other proceeding is then or had been pending or threatened.

By action of the board of directors, notwithstanding any interest of the directors in such action, the corporation may purchase and maintain insurance, in such amounts as the board of directors may from time to time deem appropriate, on behalf of any person who is or was a director, officer, employee or other agent of the corporation, or is or was serving at the request of the corporation as a director, trustee, officer, employee or other agent of another organization in which it directly or indirectly owns shares or of which it is directly or indirectly a creditor, against any liability incurred by him in any such capacity, or arising out of his status as such, whether or not the corporation would have the power to indemnify him against such liability.

No contract or transaction between the corporation and one or more of its directors or officers, or between the corporation and any other organization of which one or more of its directors or officers are directors, trustees or officers, or in which any of them has any financial or other interest, shall be void or voidable, or in any way affected, solely for this reason, or solely because the director or officer is present at or participates in the meeting of the board of directors or committee thereof which authorizes, approves or ratifies the contract or transaction, or solely because his or their votes are counted for such purposes, if:

(a) The material facts as to his relationship or interest and as to the contract or transaction are disclosed or are known to the board of directors or the committee which authorizes, approves or ratifies the contract or transaction, and the board or committee in good faith authorizes, approves or ratifies the contract or transaction by the affirmative vote of a majority of the disinterested directors, even though the disinterested directors be less than a quorum; or

(b) The material facts as to his relationship or interest and as to the contract or transaction are disclosed or are known to the stockholders entitled to vote thereon,

and the contract or transaction is specifically authorized, approved or ratified in good faith by vote of the stockholders; or

(c) The contract or transaction is fair as to the corporation as of the time it is authorized, approved or ratified by the board of directors, a committee thereof, or the stockholders.

Common or interested directors may be counted in determining the presence of a quorum at a meeting of the board of directors or of a committee thereof which authorizes, approves or ratifies the contract or transaction. No director or officer of the corporation shall be liable or accountable to the corporation or to any of its stockholders or creditors or to any other person, either for any loss to the corporation or to any other person or for any gains or profits realized by such director or officer, by reason of any contract or transaction as to which clauses (a), (b) or (c) above are applicable.

OF

PHC OF VIRGINIA, INC.

(as of November 30, 2011)

ARTICLE I

Stockholders

Section 1. Annual Meeting. The annual meeting of the stockholders shall be held within six months of the end of the corporation's fiscal year as fixed by the board of directors for the purpose of electing directors and for such other purposes as may be determined as hereinafter provided. The hour and place of such meeting and the purposes for which such meeting is to be held in addition to that specified above shall be determined in each year by the board of directors or, in the absence of action by the board, by the president. If no annual meeting has been held in the period fixed above, a special meeting may be held in lieu thereof with all the force and effect of an annual meeting.

Section 2. Special Meetings. Special meetings of the stockholders may be called at any time by the president or by the board of directors and shall be called by the clerk, or in case of the death, absence, incapacity or refusal of the clerk, by any other officer, upon written application of one or more stockholders who hold at least one-tenth part in interest of the capital stock entitled to vote thereat. Such application shall specify the purposes for which the meeting is to be called and may designate the date, hour and place of such meeting, provided, however, that no such application shall designate a date not a full business day or an hour not within normal business hours as the date or hour of such meeting without the approval of the president or the board of directors.

Section 3. Place of Meetings. Meetings of the stockholders may be held anywhere within, but not without, the United States.

Section 4. Notice. Except as hereinafter provided, a written or printed notice of every meeting of stockholders stating the place, date, hour and purposes thereof shall be given by the clerk or an assistant clerk (or by any other officer in the case of an annual meeting or by the person or persons calling the meeting in the case of a special meeting) at least ten (10) days before the meeting to each stockholder entitled to vote thereat and to each stockholder who, by law, by the articles of organization or by these by-laws, is entitled to such notice, by leaving such notice with him or at his residence or usual place of business or by mailing it, postage prepaid, addressed to him at his address as it appears upon the records of the corporation. No notice of the place, date, hour or purposes of any annual or special meeting of stockholders need be given to a stockholder if a written waiver of such notice, executed before or after the meeting by such stockholder or his attorney thereunto authorized, is filed with the records of the meeting.

Section 5. Action at a Meeting. Except as otherwise provided in the articles of organization, the presence of a quorum shall be separately determined with respect to each matter to be acted on at any meeting of stockholders, and shall consist of the holders of shares having the right to cast a majority of the votes which may be cast with respect to such matter. Though less than a quorum be present, any meeting may without further notice be adjourned to a subsequent date or until a quorum be had, and at any such adjourned meeting any business may be transacted which might have been transacted at the original meeting.

When a quorum is present at any meeting, the affirmative vote of a majority of the shares of stock present or represented and voting shall be necessary and sufficient to the determination of any questions brought before the meeting, unless a larger vote is required by law, by the articles of organization or by these by-laws, provided, however, that any election by stockholders shall be determined by a plurality of the votes cast by the stockholders entitled to vote in such election.

Except as otherwise provided by law or by the articles or organization or by these by-laws, each holder of record of shares of stock entitled to vote on any matter shall have one vote for each such share held of record by him and a proportionate vote for any fractional shares so held by him. Stockholders may vote either in person or by proxy. No proxy dated more than six months before the meeting named therein shall be valid and no proxy shall be valid after the final adjournment of such meeting. A proxy with respect to stock held in the name of two or more persons shall be valid if executed by anyone of them unless at or prior to the exercise of the proxy the corporation receives a specific written notice to the contrary from anyone of them. A proxy purporting to be executed by or on behalf of a stockholder shall be deemed valid unless challenged at or prior to its exercise and the burden of proving its invalidity shall rest on the challenger.

Any election by stockholders and the determination of any other questions to come before a meeting of the stockholders shall be by ballot if so requested by any stockholder entitled to vote thereon but need not be otherwise.

Section 6. Stockholder Proposals. Written notification of any stockholder proposal to be acted upon at an annual meeting of stockholders of the corporation must be provided to the corporation at least 120 calendar days in advance of the date of the corporation’s proxy statement released to stockholders in connection with the previous year’s annual meeting of stockholders. Written notification of any stockholder proposal to be acted upon at any meeting of the stockholders of the corporation other than an annual meeting must be provided to the corporation at least 180 calendar days before the meeting at which such proposal is to be acted upon.

Section 7. Action by Written Consent. Any action required to be taken at any annual or special meeting of stockholders of the corporation, or any action which may be taken at any annual or special meeting of such stockholders, may be taken without a meeting, without prior notice and without a vote, if a consent or consents in writing, setting forth the action so taken and bearing the dates of signature of the stockholders who signed the consent or consents, shall be signed by the holders of outstanding stock having not less than the minimum number of votes that would be necessary to authorize or take such action at a meeting at which all shares entitled to vote thereon were present and voted and shall be delivered to the corporation by delivery to the corporation's principal place of business, or an officer or agent of the corporation having custody of the book or books in which proceedings of meetings of the stockholders are recorded.

ARTICLE II

Directors

Section 1. Number and Election. Except as otherwise provided by law or by the articles of organization, the number of directors for the ensuing year shall be determined by the board of directors. The number of directors so determined shall be elected at the annual meeting of the stockholders by such stockholders as have the right to vote thereon. The stockholders may, at any special meeting held for the purpose, increase or decrease the number of directors as thus determined and elect new directors to complete the number so determined or remove directors to reduce the number of directors to the number so determined. Except as otherwise provided by law or by the articles of organization, the board of directors may, by vote of a majority of the directors then in office, increase the number of directors determined by the stockholders and elect new directors to complete the number so determined. No director need be a stockholder.

Section 2. Term. Except as otherwise provided by law, by the articles of organization or by these by-laws, the directors shall hold office until the next annual meeting of stockholders and until their successors are chosen and qualified.

Section 3. Resignations. Any director may resign by delivering his written resignation to the corporation at its principal office or to the president or clerk or if there be one, to the secretary. Such resignation shall become effective at the time or upon the happening of the condition, if any, specified therein or, if no such time or condition is specified, upon its receipt.

Section 4. Removal. At any meeting of the stockholders called: for the purpose any director may be removed from office with or without cause by the vote of a majority of the class of shares issued, outstanding and entitled to vote in the election of said director. At any meeting of the board of directors any director may be removed from office for cause by vote of a majority of the directors then in office. A director may be removed for cause only after a reasonable notice and opportunity to be heard before the body proposing to remove him.

Section 5. Vacancies. Vacancies in the board of directors may be filled by vote of a majority of the remaining directors elected by that class of stockholders which elected the director whose office has been vacated or, if not yet so filled, by majority vote of the class of stockholders which elected the director whose office has been vacated.

Section 6. Regular Meetings. Regular meetings of the board of directors may be held at such times and places within or without the Commonwealth of Massachusetts as the board of directors may fix from time to time and, when so fixed, no notice thereof need be given. The first meeting of the board of directors following the annual meeting of the stockholders shall be held without notice immediately after and at the same place as the annual meeting of the stockholders or the special meeting held in lieu thereof. If in any year a meeting of the board of directors is not held at such time and place, any elections to be held or business to be transacted at such meeting may be held or transacted at any later meeting of the board of directors with the same force and effect as if held or transacted at such meeting.

Section 7. Special Meetings. Special meetings of the board of directors may be called at any time by the president or secretary (or, if there be no secretary, the clerk) or by any director. Such special meetings may be held anywhere within or without the Commonwealth of Massachusetts. A written, printed or telegraphic notice stating the place, date and hour (but not necessarily the purposes) of the meeting shall be given by the secretary or an assistant secretary (or, if there be no secretary or assistant secretary, the clerk or an assistant clerk) or by the officer or director calling the meeting at least forty-eight (48) hours before such meeting to each director by leaving such notice with him or at his residence or usual place of business or by mailing it, postage prepaid, or sending it by prepaid telegram, addressed to him at his last known address. No notice of the place, date or hour of any meeting of the board of directors need be given to any director if a written waiver of such notice, executed by him before or after the meeting, is filed with the records of the meeting, or to any director who attends the meeting without protesting prior thereto or at its commencement the lack of notice to him.

Section 8. Action at a Meeting. At any meeting of the board of directors, a majority of the directors then in office shall constitute a quorum. Though less than a quorum be present, any meeting may without further notice be adjourned to a subsequent date or until a quorum be had. When a quorum is present at any meeting a majority of the directors present may take any action on behalf of the board except to the extent that a larger number is required by law, by the articles or organization or by these by-laws.

Section 9. Action Without a Meeting. Any action required or permitted to be taken at any meeting of the directors may be taken without a meeting if all the directors consent to the action in writing and the written consents are filed with the records of the meetings of the directors. Such consents shall be treated for all purposes as a vote at a meeting.

Section 10. Powers. The board of directors shall have and may exercise all the powers of the corporation, except such as by law, by the articles of organization or by these by-laws are conferred upon or reserved to the stockholders. In the event of any vacancy in the board of directors, the remaining directors then in office, except as otherwise provided by law, shall have and may exercise all of the powers of the board of directors until the vacancy is filled.

Section 11. Committees. The board of directors may elect from the board an executive committee or one or more other committees and may delegate to any such committee or committees any or all of the powers of the board except those which by law, by the articles of organization or by these by-laws may not be so delegated. Such committees shall serve at the pleasure of the board of directors. Except as the board of directors may otherwise determine, each such committee may make rules for the conduct of its business, but, unless otherwise determined by the board or in such rules, its business shall be conducted as nearly as may be as is provided in these by-laws for the conduct of the business of the board of directors.

Section 12. Meeting by Telecommunications. Members of the board of directors or any committee elected thereby may participate in a meeting of such board of committee by means of a conference telephone or similar communications equipment by means of which all persons participating in a meeting can hear each other at the same time and participation by such means shall constitute presence in person at the meeting.

ARTICLE III

Officers

Section 1. Enumeration. The officers of the corporation shall consist of a president, a treasurer and a clerk and such other officers, including without limitation a chairman of the board of directors, a secretary and one or more vice presidents, assistant treasurers, assistant clerks and assistant secretaries, as the board of directors may from time to time determine.

Section 2. Qualifications. No officer need be a stockholder or a director. The same person may hold at the same time one or more offices unless otherwise provided by law. The clerk shall be a resident of Massachusetts unless the corporation shall have a resident agent. Any officer may be required by the board of directors to give a bond for the faithful performance of his duties in such form and with such sureties as the board may determine.

Section 3. Elections. The president, treasurer and clerk shall be elected annually by the board of directors at its first meeting following the annual meeting of the stockholders. All other officers shall be chosen or appointed by the board of directors.

Section 4. Term. Except as otherwise provided by law, by the articles of organization or by these by-laws, the president, treasurer and clerk shall hold office until the first meeting of the board of directors following the next annual meeting of the stockholders and until their respective successors are chosen and qualified. All other officers shall hold office until the first meeting of the board of directors following the next annual meeting of the stockholders, unless a shorter time is specified in the vote choosing or appointing such officer or officers.

Section 5. Resignations. Any officer may resign by delivering his written resignation to the corporation at its principal office or to the president or clerk, or, if there be one, to the secretary. Such resignation shall be effective at the time or upon the happening of the condition, if any, specified therein or, if no such time or condition is specified, upon its receipt.

Section 6. Removal. Any officer may be removed from office with or without cause by vote of a majority of the directors then in office. An officer may be removed for cause only after a reasonable notice and opportunity to be heard before the board of directors.

Section 7. Vacancies. Vacancies in any office may be filled by the board of directors.

Section 8. Certain Duties and Powers. The officers designated below, subject at all times to these by-laws and to the direction and control of the board of directors, shall have and may exercise the respective duties and powers set forth below:

The Chairman of the Board of Directors. The chairman of the board of directors, if there be one, shall, when present, preside at all meetings of the board of directors.

The President. The president shall be the chief executive officer of the corporation and shall have general operating charge of its business. Unless otherwise prescribed by the board of directors, he shall, when present, preside at all meetings of the stockholders, and, if a director, at all meetings of the board of directors unless there be a chairman of the board of directors who is present at the meeting.

The Treasurer. The treasurer shall be the chief financial officer of the corporation and shall cause to be kept accurate books of account.

The Clerk. The clerk shall keep a record of all proceedings of the stockholders and, if there be no secretary, shall also keep a record of all proceedings of the board of directors. In the absence of the clerk from any meeting of the stockholders or, if there be no secretary, from any meeting of the board of directors, an assistant clerk, if there be one, otherwise a clerk pro tempore designated by the person presiding at the meeting, shall perform the duties of the clerk at such meeting.

The Secretary. The secretary, if there be one, shall keep a record of all proceedings of the board of directors. In the absence of the secretary, if there be one, from any meeting of the board of directors, an assistant secretary, if there be one, otherwise a secretary pro tempore designated by the person presiding at the meeting, shall perform the duties of the secretary at such meeting.

Section 9. Other Duties and Powers. Each officer, subject at all times to these by-laws and to the direction and control of the board of directors, shall have and may exercise, in addition to the duties and powers specifically set forth in these by-laws, such duties and powers as are prescribed by law, such duties and powers as are commonly incident to his office and such duties and powers as the board of directors may from time to time prescribe.

ARTICLE IV

Capital Stock

Section 1. Amount and Issuance. The total number of shares and the par value, if any, of each class of stock which the corporation is authorized to issue shall be stated in the articles of organization. The directors may at any time issue all or from time to time any part of the unissued capital stock of the corporation from time to time authorized under the articles of organization, and may determine, subject to any requirements of law, the consideration for which stock is to be issued and the manner of allocating such consideration between capital and surplus.

Section 2. Certificates. Each stockholder shall be entitled to a certificate or certificates stating the number and the class and the designation of the series, if any, of the shares held by him, and otherwise in form approved by the board of directors. Such certificate or certificates shall be signed by the president or a vice president and by the treasurer or an assistant treasurer. Such signatures may be facsimiles if the certificate is signed by a transfer agent, or by a registrar, other than a director, officer or employee of the corporation. In case any officer who has signed or whose facsimile signature has been placed on such certificate shall have ceased to be such officer before such certificate is issued, it may be issued by the corporation with the same effect as if he were such officer at the time of its issue.

Every certificate issued for shares of stock at a time when such shares are subject to any restriction on transfer pursuant to the articles of organization, these by-laws or any agreement to which the corporation is a party shall have the restriction noted conspicuously on the certificate and shall also set forth on the face or back of the certificate either (i) the full text of the restriction or (ii) a statement of the existence of such restriction and a statement that the corporation will furnish a copy thereof to the holder of such certificate upon written request and without charge.

Every certificate issued for shares of stock at a time when the corporation is authorized to issue more than one class or series of stock shall set forth on the face or back of the certificate either (i) the full text of the preferences, voting powers, qualifications and special and relative rights of the shares of each class and series, if any, authorized to be issued, as set forth in the articles of organization or (ii) a statement of the existence of such preferences, powers, qualifications and rights and a statement that the corporation will furnish a copy thereof to the holder of such certificate upon written request and without charge.

Section 3. Transfers. The board of directors may make such rules and regulations not inconsistent with the law, with the articles of organization or with these by-laws as it deems expedient relative to the issue, transfer and registration of stock certificates. The board of directors may appoint a transfer agent and a registrar of transfers or either and require all stock certificates to bear their signatures. Except as otherwise provided by law, by the articles of organization or by these by-laws, the corporation shall be entitled to treat the record holder of any shares of stock as shown on the books of the corporation as the holder of such shares for all purposes, including the right to receive notice of and to vote at any meeting of stockholders and the right to receive any dividend or other distribution in respect of such shares.

Section 4. Record Date. The board of directors may fix in advance a time, which shall be not more than sixty (60) days before the date of any meeting of stockholders or the date for the payment of any dividend or the making of any distribution to stockholders or the last day on which the consent or dissent of stockholders may be effectively expressed for any purpose, as the record date for determining the stockholders having the right to notice of and to vote at such meeting and any adjournment thereof or the right to receive such dividend or distribution or the right to give such consent or dissent, and in such case only stockholders of record on such record date shall have such right, notwithstanding any transfer of stock on the books of the corporation after the record date.

Section 5. Lost Certificates. The board of directors may, except as otherwise provided by law, determine the conditions upon which a new certificate of stock may be issued in place of any certificate alleged to have been lost, mutilated or destroyed.

ARTICLE V

Miscellaneous provisions

Section 1. Fiscal Year. The fiscal year of the corporation shall begin on the first day of January in each year and end on the last day of December next following.

Section 2. Corporate Seal. The seal of the corporation shall be in such form as shall be determined from time to time by the board of directors.

Section 3. Corporation Records. The original, or attested copies, of the articles of organization, by-laws and records of all meetings of the incorporators and stockholders, and the stock and transfer records, which shall contain the names of all stockholders and the record address and the amount of stock held by each, shall be kept in the Commonwealth of Massachusetts at the principal office of the corporation in said Commonwealth or at an office of the transfer agent or of its clerk or of its resident agent, if any. Said copies and records need not all be kept in the same office. They shall be available at all reasonable times to inspection by any stockholder for any proper purpose but not if the purpose for which such inspection is sought is to secure a list of stockholders or other information for the purpose of selling said list or information or copies thereof or of using the same for a purpose other than the interest of the applicant, as a stockholder, relative to the affairs of the corporation.

Section 4. Voting of Securities. Except as the board of directors may otherwise prescribe, the president or the treasurer shall have full power and authority in the name and on behalf of the corporation, subject to the instructions of the board of directors, to waive notice of, to attend, act and vote at, and to appoint any person or persons to act as proxy or attorney in fact for this corporation (with or without power of substitution) at any meeting of stockholders or shareholders of any other corporation or organization, the securities of which may be held by this corporation.

ARTICLE VI

Amendments

These by-laws may be amended or repealed at any annual or special meeting of the stockholders by the affirmative vote of a majority of the shares of capital stock then issued, outstanding and entitled to vote provided notice of the proposed amendment or repeal is given in the notice of the meeting. No change in the date fixed in these by-laws for the annual meeting of the stockholders shall be made within sixty (60) days before such date, and notice of any change in such date shall be given to all stockholders at least twenty (20) days before the new date fixed for such meeting.

If authorized by the articles of incorporation, these by-laws may also be amended or repealed in whole or in part, or new by-laws made, by the board of directors except with respect to any provision hereof which by-law, the articles of organization or these by-laws requires action by the stockholders. Not later than the time of giving notice of the meeting of stockholders next following the making, amendment or repeal by the directors of any by-laws, notice thereof stating the substance of such change shall be given to all stockholders entitled to vote on amending the by-laws. Any by-law to be made, amended or repealed by the directors may be amended or repealed by the stockholders.

NAME

The name of the corporation is Psychiatric Resource Partners, Inc. (the "Corporation").

ARTICLE II

REGISTERED OFFICE AND AGENT

The address of the registered office of the Corporation in the State of Delaware is 1209 Orange Street, Wilmington, Delaware 19801, in the County of New Castle. The name of the registered agent of the Corporation at such address is The Corporation Trust Company.

ARTICLE III

PURPOSES

The nature of the business or purposes to be conducted or promoted by the Company is to engage in any and all lawful acts or activities for which corporations may be organized under the Delaware General Corporation Law as now or hereafter in force.

ARTICLE IV

CAPITALIZATION

The Company shall have authority, acting by its board of directors, to issue 1,000 shares of common stock, no par value per share, such shares being entitled to one vote per share on any matter on which stockholders of the Company are entitled to vote and such shares being entitled to participate in dividends and to receive the net assets of the Company upon dissolution.

ARTICLE V

INCORPORATOR

The name of the incorporator of the Company is E. Brent Hill, and his address is 511 Union Street, Suite 2700, Nashville, Tennessee 37219.

BOARD OF DIRECTORS

The board of directors of the Company shall consist of one (1) or more directors, the exact number to be fixed and determined from time to time by resolution of the board of directors. Vacancies in the board of directors, whether resulting from an increase in the number of directors, the removal of directors for cause, or otherwise, may be filled by a vote of a majority of the directors then in office, although less than a quorum. Election of directors at an annual or special meeting of stockholders need not be by written ballot unless the bylaws of the Company shall so provide.

ARTICLE VII

LIMITATION ON PERSONAL LIABILITY OF DIRECTORS

A director of the Company shall not be personally liable to the Company or its stockholders for monetary damages for breach of fiduciary duty as a director except for liability: (a) for any breach of the director's duty of loyalty to the Company or its stockholders; (b) for acts or omissions not in good faith or which involve intentional misconduct or a knowing violation of law; (c) under Section 174 of the Delaware General Corporation Law (or the corresponding provision of any successor act or law); and (d) for any transaction from which the director derived an improper personal benefit. If the Delaware General Corporation Law is amended to authorize corporate action further eliminating or limiting the personal liability of directors or officers, then the liability of directors and officers of the Company shall be eliminated or limited to the fullest extent permitted by the Delaware General Corporation Law, as so amended. Any repeal or modification of the provisions of this Article VII by the stockholders shall not adversely affect any right or protection of a director of the Company existing at the time of such repeal or modification.

INDEMNIFICATION

The Company shall indemnify, and upon request shall advance expenses to, in the manner and to the full extent permitted by taw, any officer or director (or the estate of any such person) who was or is a party to, or is threatened to be made a party to, any threatened, pending or complete action, suit or proceeding, whether civil, criminal, administrative, investigative or otherwise, by reason of the fact that such person is or was a director or officer of the Company, or is or was serving at the request of the Company as a director, officer, manager, partner, trustee or employee of another corporation, limited liability company, partnership, joint venture, trust or other enterprise (an "indemnitee"). The Company may, to the full extent permitted by law, purchase and maintain insurance on behalf of any such person against any liability which may be asserted against him or her. To the full extent permitted by law, the indemnification and advances provided for herein shall include expenses (including attorneys' fees), judgments, fines and amounts paid in settlement. The indemnification provided herein shall not be deemed to limit the right of the Company to indemnify any other person for any such expenses (including attorneys' fees), judgments, fines and amounts paid in settlement to the full extent permitted by law, nor shall it be deemed exclusive of any other rights to which any person seeking indemnification from the Company may be entitled under any agreement, vote of stockholders or disinterested directors or otherwise, both as to action in his official capacity and as to action in another capacity while holding such office.

AMENDMENTS

Notwithstanding any of the provisions of this Certificate or the bylaws of the Company (and notwithstanding the fact that a lesser percentage may be specified by law, this Certificate or the bylaws of the Company) the affirmative vote of the holders of shares of capital stock having at least two-thirds of the voting power of the Company shall be required to repeal or amend this Article IX or to repeal, amend or adopt any provision inconsistent with Articles VII or VIII.

PREEMPTIVE RIGHTS

The stockholders of the Company shall have no preemptive or preferential right to subscribe for or purchase any stock or securities of the Company.

OF
PSYCHIATRIC RESOURCE PARTNERS, INC.

1. Annual Meeting of the Stockholders. The annual meeting of stockholders for the election of directors and such other purposes as may be set forth in the notice of meeting shall be held at the time and place, within or outside the State of Delaware, fixed by the board of directors.

2. Special Meetings of the Stockholders. Special meetings of the stockholders may be held at any place within or outside the State of Delaware upon call of the board of directors, the chairman of the board of directors, if any, the president, or the holders of at least ten percent of the issued and outstanding shares of capital stock entitled to vote.

3. Directors. The business of the Company shall be managed by a board of directors. The number of directors of the Corporation shall be one or more as determined from time to time by the Board. Each director shall hold office until such director's successor is elected and qualified or until such director's earlier resignation or removal. Any director may resign at any time upon written notice to the Corporation. Vacancies in the board of directors, whether resulting from an increase in the number of directors, the removal of directors for or without cause, or otherwise, may be filled by a vote of a majority of the directors then in office, although less than a quorum. Directors may be removed for or without cause by the stockholders.

4. Meetings of the Board of Directors. Regular meetings of the board of directors may be held without notice of the date, time, place or purpose of the meeting (a) at the location of the annual meeting of stockholders immediately after the annual meeting in each year and (b) at such times and at such places within or outside the State of Delaware as shall be fixed by the board of directors. Special meetings of the board of directors may be held at any place within or outside the State of Delaware upon call of the chairman of the board of directors, if any, the president or a majority of the directors then in office, which call shall set forth the date, time and place of meeting and, if required by law, the purpose of the meeting. Written, oral, or any other mode of notice of the date, time and place of meeting shall be given for special meetings in sufficient time, which need not exceed two days in advance, for the convenient assembly of the directors. A majority of the number of directors of the Company then in office, but in no event less than one-third of the number of directors the Company would have if there were no vacancies in the board of directors, shall constitute a quorum, and the vote of a majority of the directors present at the time of the vote, if a quorum is present, shall be the act of the board of directors.

5. Committees. By resolution adopted by the greater of (i) a majority of the directors of the Company then in office when the action is taken or (ii) the number of directors required by the Certificate of Incorporation or bylaws to take action, the directors may designate from among their number one or more directors to constitute an executive committee and other committees, each of which, to the extent permitted by law, shall have the authority granted it by the board of directors.

6. Waiver of Notice. A stockholder or director may waive any notice required to be given by the Delaware General Corporation Law (the "DGCL"), the certificate of incorporation or these bylaws before or after the date and time stated in the notice. The waiver must be in writing, signed by the stockholder or director entitled to the notice and delivered to the Company and filed in the Company's minutes or corporate records, except that a stockholder's or director's attendance at or participation in a meeting may constitute a waiver of notice under the DGCL. Neither the business to be transacted at, nor the purpose of, any meeting of the stockholders or directors need be specified in any waiver of notice.

7. Transfer of Stock. The capital stock of the Company shall be transferred on the books of the Company by surrender of properly endorsed certificates therefor by the holders thereof or their duly authorized attorneys-in-fact. In case of transfer by attorney, the power of attorney, duly executed and acknowledged, shall be deposited with the secretary. The person in whose name stock stands on the books of the Company shall be deemed by the Company to be the owner thereof for all purposes.

8. Officers. The board of directors shall elect a president, a vice president, a treasurer, and a secretary, and such other officers as it may deem appropriate. The president, secretary, and any other officer so appointed by the board of directors are authorized to execute certificates representing shares of the Company's capital stock. Persons may hold more than one office except that no person may serve as both president and secretary. Officers shall have the authority and responsibilities given them by the board of directors, and each officer shall hold office until his successor is elected and qualified, unless a different term is specified by the board of directors.

9. Director and Officer Indemnification. To the maximum extent permitted by law, the Company shall indemnify an individual who is a party to a proceedings because such individual is or was a director or officer of the Company against any liability incurred in the proceeding and, prior to the disposition thereof, advance the reasonable expenses incurred by such individual to the extent permitted under Section 145 of the DGCL. The determination of entitlement to indemnification and advancement of expenses shall be made in accordance with Section 145 of the DGCL.

10. Fiscal Year. The fiscal year of the Company for financial statement and federal income tax purposes will end on December 31st unless otherwise determined by the Board of Directors.

11. Amendment of Bylaws. The board of directors may amend or repeal these bylaws, unless (i) the certificate of incorporation or the DGCL reserves this power exclusively to stockholders or (ii) the stockholders, in amending or repealing a particular bylaw, provide expressly that the board of directors may not amend or repeal that bylaw. Stockholders may amend or repeal any bylaw, even though the bylaws may also be amended or repealed by the board of directors.

BYLAWS OF
PsychSolutions Acquisition Corporation

ARTICLE I
Offices

SECTION 1. Principal Office. The principal office of PsychSolutions Acquisition Corporation (the "Corporation") may be located either within or without the State of Florida as the board of directors may designate or as the business of the Corporation may require from time to time.

SECTION 2. Registered Office. The registered office of the Corporation, required by the Florida Business Corporation Act to be maintained in the State of Florida, may be, but need not be, identical to the principal office in the State of Florida, and the address of the registered office may be changed from time to time by the board of directors.

ARTICLE II
Shareholders

SECTION 1. Annual Meeting. The annual meeting of the shareholders shall be held on the first Tuesday in the month of May in each year at such hour as may be specified in a notice of meeting or in a duly executed waiver of notice, for the purpose of electing directors and for the transaction of such other business as may come before the meeting. If the day fixed for the annual meeting shall be a legal holiday in the State of Florida, the meeting shall be held on the next succeeding business day. If the election of directors is not held on the day designated in these bylaws for any annual meeting of the shareholders, or at any adjournment of the annual meeting, the board of directors shall cause the election to be held at a special meeting of the shareholders as soon thereafter as may be convenient.

SECTION 2. Special Meetings. Special meetings of the shareholders, for any purpose, may be called by the board of directors, by the holders of not less than twenty five percent (25%) of all the votes entitled to be cast on any issue to be considered at the meeting, or by the president of the Corporation.

SECTION 3. Place of Meeting. The board of directors may designate any place, either within or without the State of Florida, unless otherwise prescribed by statute, as the place of meeting for any annual meeting of shareholders. The person calling a special meeting of the shareholders may designate any place, either within or without the State of Florida, unless otherwise prescribed by statute, as the place of the meeting. If no designation is made, the place of meeting shall be the principal office of the Corporation in the State of Florida. Notwithstanding the preceding three sentences of this section, a waiver of notice signed by all shareholders entitled to vote at a meeting, whether an annual or special meeting, may designate any place, either within or without the State of Florida, unless otherwise prescribed by statute, as the place of the holding of such meeting.

SECTION 4. Notice of Meeting. Written notice stating the place, date, and hour of the meeting and, in the case of a special meeting, the purpose or purposes for which the meeting is called, shall be delivered to each shareholder of record entitled to vote at such meeting not less than ten (10) nor more than sixty (60) days before the date of the meeting, either personally, by telegraph, teletype, or other form of electronic communication, or by mail, by or at the direction of the president, the secretary, or the person or persons calling the meeting. If mailed, such notice shall be deemed to be delivered when deposited in the United States mail, with the postage thereon prepaid, addressed to the shareholder at his or her address as it appears on the stock transfer books of the Corporation.

SECTION 5. Fixing of Record Date. The board of directors may fix a date not more than sixty (60) nor less than ten (10) days prior to the date set for any meeting of the shareholders as the record date as of when the shareholders of record entitled to notice of and to vote at such meeting and any adjournment thereof shall be determined.

SECTION 6. Shareholders' List for Meeting. After fixing the record date for a meeting, an alphabetical list of the names of all shareholders entitled to notice of the meeting, arranged by voting group, with the address of and the number, class, and series, if any, of shares held by each, shall be prepared. The list shall be available during regular business hours for inspection by any shareholder upon written demand and at his or her expense for a period of ten (10) days prior to the meeting date, or such shorter time as may exist between the record date and the meeting, and continuing through the meeting, at the Corporation's principal office, at a place set forth in the meeting notice in the city where the meeting will be held, or at the office of the Corporation's transfer agent or registrar. The Corporation shall also make the list available at the meeting.

SECTION 7. Quorum. A majority of the outstanding shares of the Corporation entitled to vote, represented in person or by proxy, shall constitute a quorum at a meeting of the shareholders. When a meeting is adjourned, it shall not be necessary to give any notice of the adjourned meeting if the time, date, and place of the reconvened meeting are announced at the meeting at which the adjournment is taken, and any business may be transacted at the reconvened meeting that might have been transacted at the original meeting. If, however, following the adjournment, the board fixes a new record date for the reconvened meeting, a notice of the reconvened meeting shall be given, in compliance with Section 4 of this Article II, to each shareholder of record on the new record date entitled to vote at such meeting. After a quorum has been established at a shareholders' meeting, the subsequent withdrawal of shareholders, so as to reduce the number of shares entitled to vote at the meeting below the number required for a quorum, shall not affect the validity of any action taken at the meeting or any adjournment thereof.

SECTION 8. Proxies. Every shareholder entitled to vote at a meeting of shareholders, or to express consent or dissent without a meeting, or his or her duly authorized attorney-in-fact, may authorize another person or persons to act for him or her by proxy. The proxy must be executed in writing by the shareholder or his or her duly authorized attorney-in-fact. Such proxy shall be filed with the secretary of the Corporation before or at the time of such meeting or at the time of expressing such consent or dissent without a meeting. No proxy shall be valid after eleven (11) months from the date of its execution, unless otherwise provided in the proxy.

SECTION 9. Voting of Shares. Each outstanding share of stock entitled to vote shall be entitled to one (1) vote upon each matter submitted to a vote at a meeting of the shareholders.

Shares of stock held by an administrator, executor, guardian, personal representative, or conservator may be voted by him or her, either in person or by proxy, without a transfer of such shares into his or her name.

Shares of stock standing in the name of a trustee may be voted by him or her, either in person or by proxy, but no trustee shall be entitled to vote shares held by him or her without a transfer of such shares into his or her name or the name of his or her nominee.

Shares of stock standing in the name of a receiver, a trustee in bankruptcy proceedings, or an assignee for the benefit of creditors may be voted by him or her without the transfer thereof into his or her name.

A shareholder whose shares of stock are pledged shall be entitled to vote such shares until the shares have been transferred into the name of the pledgee, and thereafter the pledgee or his or her nominee shall be entitled to vote the shares so transferred.

ARTICLE III
Board of Directors

SECTION 1. General Powers. All corporate powers shall be exercised by or under the authority of, and the business and affairs of the Corporation shall be managed under the direction of, the board of directors.

SECTION 2. Number, Tenure, and Qualification. The number of Directors of the Corporation shall be one (1). The number of directors may be increased or decreased from time to time by amendment of these bylaws; provided, however, that the Corporation shall always have at least one (1) director. Any increase in the number of directors shall be effective immediately. Any decrease in the number of directors shall be effective at the time of the next succeeding annual meeting of the shareholders unless there shall be vacancies on the board, in which case such decrease may become effective at any time prior to the next succeeding annual meeting to the extent of the number of vacancies.

Except as otherwise provided by statute, the directors shall be elected at the annual meeting of shareholders and, at each meeting of Shareholders for the election of directors at which a quorum is present, the persons receiving a plurality of the votes cast at such election shall be elected as directors.

Each director shall hold office until the next annual meeting of shareholders and until his or her successor is elected and qualified or until his or her earlier resignation, or removal from office, or death.

SECTION 3. Board Chair. The Board of Directors of the Corporation may elect a chairman or chairwoman who, if so elected, shall preside at all meetings of the board of directors. The chair shall have such other powers and shall perform all duties as from time to time may be granted or assigned by the board of directors and as provided by law.

SECTION 4. Annual and Regular Meetings. The annual meeting of the board of directors shall be held without other notice than this bylaw, immediately after and at the same place as the annual meeting of shareholders. The board of directors may provide, by resolution, the time, date, and place for the holding of regular meetings without other notice than such resolution.

SECTION 5. Special Meetings. Special meetings of the board of directors may be called by the chairman of the board, by the president, or by any director. The board chair, if one is elected, or the president shall fix the place for holding such special meeting; provided, however, that if the person or persons calling the meeting fails to designate the place for holding such special meeting, the meeting shall be held at the Corporation's principal office in Florida.

SECTION 6. Notice. Notice of any special meeting shall be given at least two (2) days before the meeting by written notice delivered personally, or by mail, telecopy, telegram, cablegram, or other form of electronic communication to each director at his or her business address. In case of emergency, the board chair, if any, or the president shall prescribe a shorter notice to be given personally or by telegraph, telecopy, cablegram, or other electronic communication to each director at his or her residence or business address. If a notice of meeting is mailed, such notice shall be deemed to be delivered when deposited in the United States mail so addressed, with postage thereon prepaid.

Any director may waive notice of any meeting before or after the meeting. The attendance of a director at a meeting shall constitute a waiver of notice of such meeting and a waiver of any and all objections to the place of the meeting, the time or date of the meeting, or the manner in which it has been called or convened, except when a director states, at the beginning of the meeting, any objection to the transaction of business because the meeting is not lawfully called or convened.

SECTION 7. Quorum. A majority of the number of directors fixed pursuant to Section 2 of this Article III shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business at any meeting of the board of directors. A majority of the directors present, whether or not a quorum exists, may adjourn any meeting of the board of directors to another time and place. Notice of any such adjourned meeting shall be given to the directors who were not present at the time of the adjournment and, unless the time and place of the adjourned meeting are announced at the time of the adjournment, to the other directors.

SECTION 8. Manner of Acting. The act of the majority of the directors present at a meeting at which a quorum is present shall be the act of the board of directors.

SECTION 9. Vacancies. Any vacancy occurring in the board of directors, including any vacancy created by reason of an increase in the number of directors, may be filled by the affirmative vote of a majority of the remaining directors though less than a quorum of the board of directors. A director elected to fill a vacancy shall hold office only until the next annual meeting of shareholders and until his successor shall have been elected and qualified or until his or her earlier resignation, removal from office, or death.

SECTION 10. Compensation. By resolution of the board of directors, the directors may be paid their expenses, if any, for attendance at each meeting of the board of directors, and may be paid a fixed sum for attendance at each meeting of the board of directors or may be paid a stated salary as director. No such payment shall preclude any director from serving the Corporation in any other capacity and receiving compensation therefor.

SECTION 11. Presumption of Assent. A director of the Corporation who is present at a meeting of the board of directors at which action on any corporate matter is taken shall be presumed to have assented to the action taken, unless he or she objects at the beginning of the meeting to holding it or transacting specified business at the meeting or he or she votes against or abstains from the action taken.

SECTION 12. Constructive Presence at a Meeting. A member of the board of directors may participate in a meeting of such board by any means of communication by which all persons participating in the meeting may simultaneously hear each other during the meeting. Participating by such means shall constitute presence in person at a meeting.

SECTION 13. Action Without a Meeting. Any action required or permitted by law to be taken at any meeting of the board of directors or a committee thereof, may be taken without a meeting if the action is taken by all members of the board of directors or of the committee. The action must be evidenced by one or more written consents describing the action taken and signed by each director or committee member. The action so taken is effective when the last director signs the consent, unless the consent specifies a different effective date. A consent so signed has the effect of a meeting vote and may be described as such in any document.

SECTION 14. Removal. The shareholders may remove one or more directors with or without cause, but a removal of a director without cause must be accomplished by a unanimous vote of the shareholders.

SECTION 15. Resignation. Any director of the Corporation may resign by delivering written notice to the board of directors or its chair or to the president of the Corporation.

ARTICLE IV
Officers

SECTION 1. Number. The officers of the Corporation shall be a president, a secretary, and a treasurer, each of whom shall be elected by the board of directors. One or more vice presidents and such other officers and assistant officers and agents as may be deemed necessary may be elected or appointed by the board of directors.

SECTION 2. Election and Term of Office. The officers of the Corporation to be elected by the board of directors shall be elected annually by the board of directors at the regular meeting of the board of directors held after each annual meeting of the shareholders. If the election of officers shall not be held at such meeting, such election shall be held as soon thereafter as may be convenient. Each officer shall hold office until his or her successor shall have been elected and qualified or until his or her earlier resignation, removal from office, or death.

SECTION 3. Removal. Any officer or agent elected or appointed by the board of directors may be removed at any time, with or without cause, but such removal shall be without prejudice to the contract rights, if any, of the person so removed. Election or appointment of an officer or agent shall not of itself create contract rights.

SECTION 4. Resignation. Any officer of the Corporation may resign at any time by giving written notice to the Corporation. Such resignation shall take effect when delivered unless the notice specifies a later effective date.

SECTION 5. Vacancies. A vacancy, however occurring, in any office may be filled by the board of directors for the unexpired portion of the term.

SECTION 6. President. The president shall be the chief executive officer of the Corporation and, subject to the control of the board of directors, shall in general supervise and control all of the business affairs of the Corporation. He or she shall, when present, preside at all meetings of the shareholders. The president shall also preside at each meeting of the board of directors, unless the board of directors has elected a chair and the chair is present at such meetings. The president may sign any deeds, mortgages, bonds, contracts, or other instruments which the board of directors has authorized to be executed, except in cases where the signing and execution thereof shall be expressly delegated by the board of directors or by these bylaws to some other officer or agent of the Corporation, or shall be required by law to be otherwise signed or executed. The president shall in general perform all duties as from time to time may be assigned by the board of directors.

SECTION 7. Vice President. In the absence of the president or in the event of his or her death or inability or refusal to act, the vice president, if one is elected, shall have the duties of the president, and when so acting, shall have all the powers of, and be subject to all the restrictions upon, the president. If more than one vice president is elected, the board of directors shall designate which vice president shall serve until the election of a successor president. Each vice president shall perform such other duties as from time to time may be assigned by the president or board of directors.

SECTION 8. Secretary. The Secretary shall: (a) keep the minutes of all the meetings of the shareholders and the board of directors in one or more books provided for that purpose; (b) see that all notices are duly given in accordance with the provisions of these bylaws or as required by law; (c) be custodian of the corporate records and of the seal of the Corporation and see that the seal of the Corporation is affixed to all documents the execution of which on behalf of the Corporation under its seal is duly authorized; (d) keep a register of the mailing address of each shareholder which shall be furnished to the Secretary by such shareholder; (e) have general charge of the stock transfer books of the Corporation; and (f) in general, perform all duties incident to the office of secretary and such other duties as from time to time may be assigned by the president or by the board of directors.

SECTION 9. Treasurer. The Treasurer shall: (a) have charge and custody of and be responsible for all funds and securities of the Corporation; receive and give receipts for monies due and payable to the Corporation from any source whatsoever, and deposit all such monies in the name of the Corporation in such banks, trust companies, or other depositories as shall be selected in accordance with the provisions of Article V of these bylaws; and (b) in general, perform all of the duties incident to the office of treasurer and such other duties as from time to time may be assigned by the president or by the board of directors. If required by the board of directors, the treasurer shall give a bond for the faithful discharge of his or her duties in such sum and with such surety or sureties as the board of directors shall determine.

SECTION 10. Compensation. The compensation of the officers shall be fixed from time to time by the board of directors and no officer shall be prevented from receiving such compensation by reason of the fact that he or she is also a director of the Corporation.

ARTICLE V
Contracts, Loans, Checks, and Deposits

SECTION 1. Contracts. The board of directors may authorize any officer or officers, or agent or agents to enter into any contract or execute and deliver any instrument in the name of and on behalf of the Corporation, unless otherwise restricted by law. Such authority may be general or confined to specific instances.

SECTION 2. Loans. No loans shall be contracted on behalf of the Corporation and no evidence of indebtedness shall be issued in its name unless authorized by a resolution of the board of directors. Such authority may be general or confined to specific instances.

SECTION 3. Checks, Drafts, Etc. All checks, drafts, or other orders for the payment of money, notes, or other evidences of indebtedness issued in the name of the Corporation, shall be signed by such officer or officers, or agent or agents of the Corporation in such manner as shall from time to time be determined by resolution of the board of directors.

SECTION 4. Deposits. All funds of the Corporation not otherwise employed shall be deposited from time to time to the credit of the Corporation in such banks, trust companies, or other depositories as the board of directors may select.

ARTICLE VI
Certificates for Shares and Their Transfer

SECTION 1. Certificates for Shares. Certificates representing shares of the Corporation shall be in such form as shall be determined by the board of directors. Certificates shall be signed by the president or by such other officers as authorized by law. All certificates for shares shall be consecutively numbered or otherwise identified. The name and address of the person to whom the shares represented thereby are issued, with the number of shares and date of issue, shall be entered on the stock transfer books of the Corporation. All certificates surrendered to the Corporation for transfer shall be canceled, and no new certificate shall be issued until the former certificate for a like number of shares shall have been surrendered and canceled, except that in case of a lost, destroyed, or mutilated certificate, a new one may be issued therefor upon such terms and indemnity, to the Corporation as the board of directors may prescribe.

SECTION 2. Transfer of Shares. Subject to Section 3 of this Article VI, transfer of shares of the Corporation shall be made on the stock transfer books of the Corporation only when the holder of record thereof, or his or her legal representative, or his or her attorney thereunto authorized by power of attorney duly executed and filed with the secretary of the Corporation, shall furnish proper evidence of authority to transfer, and when there is surrendered for cancellation the certificate for such shares, properly endorsed. The person in whose name shares stand on the books of the Corporation shall be deemed by the Corporation to be the owner thereof for all purposes.

SECTION 3. Restriction as to Transfer Due to S Corporation Status. No transfer of shares of stock of the Corporation may be made, whether voluntarily or involuntarily, to any person or entity who is not qualified to hold shares of stock in a S corporation, for federal income tax purposes, and any transfer or attempted to such a person or entity shall be deemed null and void. A shareholder who has made a transfer or attempted to make a transfer in violation of this Section shall hold the Corporation and each of the other shareholders harmless from all damages, costs, and expenses caused by the loss or termination of the Corporation's S status and in connection with any efforts to regain such status.

ARTICLE VII
Fiscal Year

The fiscal year of the Corporation shall begin on January 1 of each year and end on December 31 of each year, except for the Corporation's first fiscal year, which shall begin on the date of incorporation.

ARTICLE VIII
Dividends

The board of directors may from time to time declare, and the Corporation may pay, dividends on its outstanding shares in the manner and upon the terms and conditions provided by law.

ARTICLE IX
Indemnification

The Corporation shall indemnify any director or officer or any former director or officer to the fullest extent permitted by law as is currently in effect or as is hereinafter enacted.

ARTICLE X
Seal

The board of directors shall provide a corporate seal which shall be circular in form and shall have inscribed thereon the name of the Corporation, the state of incorporation, and the words, "Corporate Seal."

ARTICLE XI
Waiver of Notice

Unless otherwise provided by law, whenever any notice is required to be given to any shareholder or director of the Corporation under the provisions of these bylaws or under the provisions of its articles of incorporation, a waiver thereof in writing, signed by the person or persons entitled to such notice, whether before or after the time stated therein, shall be deemed equivalent to the giving of such notice.

ARTICLE XII
Amendments

These bylaws may be altered, amended, or repealed and new bylaws may be adopted by a unanimous vote of the board of directors and the shareholders.

AMENDED AND RESTATED BY-LAWS

Of

PSYCHSOLUTIONS, INC.
(the "Corporation")

Article I - Shareholders

1. Annual Meeting. The annual meeting of shareholders shall be held for the election of directors each year at such place, date and time as shall be designated by the Board of Directors. Any other proper business may be transacted at the annual meeting. If no date for the annual meeting is established or said meeting is not held on the date established as provided above, a special meeting in lieu thereof may be held or there may be action by written consent of the stockholders on matters to be voted on at the annual meeting, and such special meeting shall have for the purposes of these By-laws or otherwise all the force and effect of an annual meeting.

2. Special Meetings. Special meetings of shareholders may be called by the Chief Executive Officer, if one is elected, or, if there is no Chief Executive Officer, the President, or by the Board of Directors, but such special meetings may not be called by any other person or persons. The call for the meeting shall state the place, date, hour and purposes of the meeting. Only the purposes specified in the notice of special meeting shall be considered or dealt with at such special meeting.

3. Notice of Meetings. Whenever shareholders are required or permitted to take any action at a meeting, a notice stating the place, if any, date and hour of the meeting, the means of remote communications, if any, by which shareholders and proxyholders may be deemed to be present and vote at such meeting, and, in the case of a special meeting, the purpose or purposes of the meeting, shall be given by the Secretary (or other person authorized by these By-laws or by law) not less than ten (10) nor more than sixty (60) days before the meeting to each shareholder entitled to vote thereat and to each shareholder who, under the Articles of Incorporation or under these By-laws is entitled to such notice. If mailed, notice is given when deposited in the mail, first-class postage prepaid, directed to such shareholder at such shareholder's address as it appears in the records of the Corporation.

If a meeting is adjourned to another time or place, notice need not be given of the adjourned meeting if the time and place, if any, and the means of remote communications, if any, by which shareholders and proxyholders may be deemed to be present in person and vote at such adjourned meeting are announced at the meeting at which the adjournment is taken, and at the adjourned meeting only such business is transacted as might have been transacted at the original meeting, except that if the adjournment is for more than thirty (30) days, or if after the adjournment a new record date is fixed for the adjourned meeting, notice of the adjourned meeting shall be given to each shareholder of record on the new record date entitled to notice under Fla. Stat. § 607.0705.

4. Quorum. The holders of shares entitled to cast a majority of the votes in the applicable class of stock at a meeting, present in person or represented by proxy, shall constitute a quorum for such class of stock. Any meeting may be adjourned from time to time by a majority of the votes properly cast upon the question, whether or not a quorum is present. The shareholders present at a duly constituted meeting may continue to transact business until adjournment notwithstanding the withdrawal of enough shareholders to reduce the voting shares below a quorum.

5. Voting and Proxies. Each shareholder entitled to vote at any meeting of shareholders shall be entitled to the voting rights for each share of stock held by such shareholder as set forth in the Articles of Incorporation or as required by law. Each shareholder entitled to vote at a meeting of shareholders or to express consent or dissent to corporate action in writing without a meeting may authorize another person or persons to act for such shareholder by either written proxy or by a transmission permitted by Fla. Stat. § 607.0722, but no proxy shall be valid for more than 11 months, unless the proxy expressly provides for a longer period. Proxies shall be filed with the Secretary of the meeting, or of any adjournment thereof. Except as otherwise limited therein, proxies shall entitle the persons authorized thereby to vote at any adjournment of such meeting.

6. Action at Meeting. When a quorum is present, any matter before the meeting shall be decided by vote of the holders of a majority of the shares of stock in the applicable class voting on such matter except where a larger vote is required by law, by the Articles of Incorporation or by these By-laws. Any election of directors by shareholders shall be determined by a plurality of the votes cast, except where a larger vote is required by law, by the Articles of Incorporation or by these By-laws. The Corporation shall not directly or indirectly vote any share of its own stock; provided, however, that the Corporation may vote shares which it holds in a fiduciary capacity to the extent permitted by law.

7. Presiding Officer. Meetings of shareholders shall be presided over by the Chairman of the Board, if one is elected, or in his or her absence, the Vice Chairman of the Board, if one is elected, or if neither is elected or in their absence, the President. The Board of Directors shall have the authority to appoint a temporary presiding officer to serve at any meeting of the shareholders if the Chairman of the Board, the Vice Chairman of the Board or the President is unable to do so for any reason.

8. Conduct of Meetings. The Board of Directors may adopt by resolution such rules and regulations for the conduct of the meeting of shareholders as it shall deem appropriate. Except to the extent inconsistent with such rules and regulations as adopted by the Board of Directors, the presiding officer of any meeting of shareholders shall have the right and authority to prescribe such rules, regulations and procedures and to do all such acts as, in the judgment of such chairman, are appropriate for the proper conduct of the meeting. Such rules, regulations or procedures, whether adopted by the Board of Directors or prescribed by the presiding officer of the meeting, may include, without limitation, the following: (i) the establishment of an agenda or order of business for the meeting; (ii) rules and procedures for maintaining order at the meeting and the safety of those present; (iii) limitations on attendance at or participation in the meeting to shareholders of record of the Corporation, their duly authorized and constituted proxies or such other persons as the chairman of the meeting shall determine; (iv) restrictions on entry to the meeting after the time fixed for the commencement thereof; and (v) limitations on the time allotted to questions or comments by participants. Unless and to the extent determined by the Board of Directors or the presiding officer of the meeting, meetings of shareholders shall not be required to be held in accordance with the rules of parliamentary procedure.

9. Action without a Meeting. The annual election of directors may be taken without a meeting as provided in the Articles of Incorporation.

10. Shareholder Lists. The officer who has charge of the stock ledger of the Corporation shall prepare and make, before every meeting of shareholders, a complete list of the shareholders entitled to vote at the meeting, arranged in alphabetical order, and showing the address of each shareholder and the number of shares registered in the name of each shareholder. The list must be arranged by voting group (and within each voting group by class or series of shares). Nothing contained in this Section 10 shall require the Corporation to include electronic mail addresses or other electronic contact information on such list. Such list shall be open to the examination of any shareholder at the time and place of the meeting in the manner provided by law. The list shall also be open to the examination of any shareholder during the whole time of the meeting as provided by law.

Article II - Directors

1. Powers. The business of the Corporation shall be managed by or under the direction of a Board of Directors who may exercise all the powers of the Corporation except as otherwise provided by law, by the Articles of Incorporation or by these By-laws. In the event of a vacancy in the Board of Directors, the remaining directors, except as otherwise provided by law, may exercise the powers of the full Board until the vacancy is filled and during such time the Board of Directors shall be deemed to be duly constituted notwithstanding such vacancy.

2. Number and Qualification. Unless otherwise provided in the Articles of Incorporation or in these By-laws, the number of directors which shall constitute the whole board shall be determined from time to time by resolution of the Board of Directors or the shareholders entitled to vote thereon. Directors need not be shareholders. If at any time fewer than the number of Directors designated by the shareholders or Directors have been elected, the Board of Directors shall nonetheless be deemed duly constituted.

3. Vacancies; Reduction of Board. Except as provided herein or in the Articles of Incorporation, a majority of the directors then in office, although less than a quorum, or a sole remaining Director, may fill vacancies in the Board of Directors, including vacancies arising from newly created directorships resulting from any increase in the authorized number of directors. However, if the vacant office was held by a director elected by a voting group of shareholders, only the holders of shares of that voting group or the remaining directors elected by that voting group are entitled to vote to fill the vacancy. In lieu of filling any vacancy, the Board of Directors may reduce the number of directors. If at any time fewer than the number of Directors designated by the shareholders or Directors have been elected, the Board of Directors shall nonetheless be deemed duly constituted.

4. Tenure. Except as otherwise provided by law, by the Articles of Incorporation or by these By-laws, directors shall hold office until their successors are elected and qualified or until their earlier resignation or removal. Any director may resign at any time upon notice given in writing or by electronic transmission to the Corporation. Such resignation shall be effective upon receipt unless it is specified to be effective at some other time or upon the happening of some other event.

5. Removal. To the extent permitted by law, a director may be removed from office with or without cause by vote of the holders of a majority of the shares of stock entitled to vote in the election of directors.

6. Meetings. Regular meetings of the Board of Directors may be held without notice at such time, date and place as the Board of Directors may from time to time determine. Special meetings of the Board of Directors may be called, orally or in writing, by the Chief Executive Officer, if one is elected, or, if there is no Chief Executive Officer, the President, or by two or more Directors, designating the time, date and place thereof. Directors may participate in meetings of the Board of Directors by means of conference telephone or other communications equipment by means of which all directors participating in the meeting can hear each other, and participation in a meeting in accordance herewith shall constitute presence in person at such meeting.

7. Notice of Meetings. Notice of the time, date and place of all special meetings of the Board of Directors shall be given to each director by the Secretary, or Assistant Secretary, or in case of the death, absence, incapacity or refusal of such persons, by the officer or one of the directors calling the meeting. Notice shall be given to each director in person, by telephone, or by facsimile, electronic mail or other form of electronic communications, sent to such director's business or home address at least twenty-four (24) hours in advance of the meeting, or by written notice mailed to such director's business or home address at least forty-eight (48) hours in advance of the meeting.

8. Quorum. At any meeting of the Board of Directors, a majority of the total number of directors shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business. Less than a quorum may adjourn any meeting from time to time and the meeting may be held as adjourned without further notice.

9. Action at Meeting. At any meeting of the Board of Directors at which a quorum is present, a majority of the directors present may take any action on behalf of the Board of Directors, unless a larger number is required by law, by the Articles of Incorporation or by these By-laws.

10. Action by Consent. Any action required or permitted to be taken at any meeting of the Board of Directors may be taken without a meeting if all members of the Board of Directors consent thereto in writing or by electronic transmission, and the writing or writings or electronic transmission or transmissions are filed with the records of the meetings of the Board of Directors. Such filing shall be in paper form if the minutes are maintained in paper form and shall be in electronic form if the minutes are maintained in electronic form.

11. Committees. The Board of Directors may, by resolution passed by a majority of the whole Board of Directors, establish one or more committees, each committee to consist of one or more directors. The Board of Directors may designate one or more directors as alternate members of any committee, who may replace any absent or disqualified member at any meeting of the committee. In the absence or disqualification of a member of a committee, the member or members thereof present at any meeting and not disqualified from voting, whether or not such member or members constitute a quorum, may unanimously appoint another member of the Board of Directors to act at the meeting in the place of any such absent or disqualified member.

Any such committee, to the extent permitted by law and to the extent provided in the resolution of the Board of Directors, shall have and may exercise all the powers and authority of the Board of Directors in the management of the business and affairs of the Corporation, and may authorize the seal of the Corporation to be affixed to all papers which may require it; but no such committee shall have the power or authority in reference to the following: (i) approving or proposing to shareholders action that requires shareholder approval; (ii) filling vacancies on the board of directors or on any of its committees; (iii) adopting, amending or repealing any provision of these By-laws; (iv) approving a plan of merger not requiring shareholder approval, (v) electing or appointing any director, or removing any officer or director; or (vii) amending or repealing any resolution adopted by the board which by its terms is amendable or repealable only by the board.

Except as the Board of Directors may otherwise determine, any such committee may make rules for the conduct of its business, but in the absence of such rules its business shall be conducted so far as possible in the same manner as is provided in these By-laws for the Board of Directors. All members of such committees shall hold their committee offices at the pleasure of the Board of Directors, and the Board may abolish any committee at any time.

Article III - Officers

1. Enumeration. The officers of the Corporation shall consist of a President, a Treasurer, a Secretary, and such other officers, including, without limitation, a Chief Executive Officer and one or more Vice Presidents (including Executive Vice Presidents or Senior Vice Presidents), Assistant Vice Presidents, Assistant Treasurers and Assistant Secretaries, as the Board of Directors may determine. The Board of Directors may elect from among its members a Chairman of the Board and a Vice Chairman of the Board.

2. Election. The President, Treasurer and Secretary shall be elected annually by the Board of Directors at their first meeting following the annual meeting of shareholders. Other officers may be chosen by the Board of Directors at such meeting or at any other meeting.

3. Qualification. No officer need be a shareholder or Director. Any two or more offices may be held by the same person. Any officer may be required by the Board of Directors to give bond for the faithful performance of such officer's duties in such amount and with such sureties as the Board of Directors may determine.

4. Tenure. Except as otherwise provided by the Articles of Incorporation or by these By-laws, each of the officers of the Corporation shall hold office until the first meeting of the Board of Directors following the next annual meeting of shareholders and until such officer's successor is elected and qualified or until such officer's earlier resignation or removal. Any officer may resign by delivering his or her written resignation to the Corporation, and such resignation shall be effective upon receipt unless it is specified to be effective at some other time or upon the happening of some other event.

5. Removal. The Board of Directors may remove any officer with or without cause by a vote of a majority of the directors then in office.

6. Vacancies. Any vacancy in any office may be filled for the unexpired portion of the term by the Board of Directors.

7. Chairman of the Board and Vice Chairman. Unless otherwise provided by the Board of Directors, the Chairman of the Board of Directors, if one is elected, shall preside, when present, at all meetings of the shareholders and the Board of Directors. The Chairman of the Board shall have such other powers and shall perform such duties as the Board of Directors may from time to time designate.

Unless otherwise provided by the Board of Directors, in the absence of the Chairman of the Board, the Vice Chairman of the Board, if one is elected, shall preside, when present, at all meetings of the shareholders and the Board of Directors. The Vice Chairman of the Board shall have such other powers and shall perform such duties as the Board of Directors may from time to time designate.

8. Chief Executive Officer. The Chief Executive Officer, if one is elected, shall have such powers and shall perform such duties as the Board of Directors may from time to time designate.

9. President. The President shall, subject to the direction of the Board of Directors, have general supervision and control of the Corporation's business. If there is no Chairman of the Board or Vice Chairman of the Board, the President shall preside, when present, at all meetings of shareholders and the Board of Directors. The President shall have such other powers and shall perform such duties as the Board of Directors may from time to time designate.

10. Vice Presidents and Assistant Vice Presidents. Any Vice President (including any Executive Vice President or Senior Vice President) and any Assistant Vice President shall have such powers and shall perform such duties as the Board of Directors may from time to time designate.

11. Treasurer and Assistant Treasurers. The Treasurer shall, subject to the direction of the Board of Directors, have general charge of the financial affairs of the Corporation and shall cause to be kept accurate books of account. The Treasurer shall have custody of all funds, securities, and valuable documents of the Corporation, except as the Board of Directors may otherwise provide. The Treasurer shall have such other powers and shall perform such duties as the Board of Directors may from time to time designate.

Any Assistant Treasurer shall have such powers and perform such duties as the Board of Directors may from time to time designate.

12. Secretary and Assistant Secretaries. The Secretary shall record the proceedings of all meetings of the shareholders and the Board of Directors (including committees of the Board) in books kept for that purpose. In the absence of the Secretary from any such meeting an Assistant Secretary, or if such person is absent, a temporary secretary chosen at the meeting, shall record the proceedings thereof. The Secretary shall have charge of the stock ledger (which may, however, be kept by any transfer or other agent of the Corporation) and shall have such other duties and powers as may be designated from time to time by the Board of Directors.

Any Assistant Secretary shall have such powers and perform such duties as the Board of Directors may from time to time designate.

13. Other Powers and Duties. Subject to these By-laws, each officer of the Corporation shall have in addition to the duties and powers specifically set forth in these By-laws, such duties and powers as are customarily incident to such officer's office, and such duties and powers as may be designated from time to time by the Board of Directors.

Article IV - Capital Stock

1. Certificates of Stock. Each shareholder shall be entitled to a certificate of the capital stock of the Corporation in such form as may from time to time be prescribed by the Board of Directors. Such certificate shall be signed by the Chairman or Vice Chairman of the Board of Directors, if any, or the President or a Vice President, or by the Treasurer or an Assistant Treasurer, or the Secretary or an Assistant Secretary. Such signatures may be a facsimile. If the certificate is signed in facsimile, then it must be countersigned by a transfer agent or registered by a registrar other than the corporation itself or an employee of the corporation. The transfer agent or registrar may sign either manually or by facsimile. In case any officer, transfer agent or registrar who has signed or whose facsimile signature has been placed on such certificate shall have ceased to be such officer, transfer agent or registrar before such certificate is issued, it may be issued by the Corporation with the same effect as if such person were such officer, transfer agent or registrar at the time of its issue. Every certificate for shares of stock which are subject to any restriction on transfer and every certificate issued when the Corporation is authorized to issue more than one class or series of stock shall contain such legend with respect thereto as is required by law. The Corporation shall be permitted to issue fractional shares.

2. Transfers. Subject to any restrictions on transfer, shares of stock may be transferred on the books of the Corporation by the surrender to the Corporation or its transfer agent of the certificate therefor properly endorsed or accompanied by a written assignment or power of attorney properly executed, with transfer stamps (if necessary) affixed, and with such proof of the authenticity of signature as the Corporation or its transfer agent may reasonably require.

3. Record Holders. Except as may otherwise be required by law, by the Articles of Incorporation or by these By-laws, the Corporation shall be entitled to treat the record holder of stock as shown on its books as the owner of such stock for all purposes, including the payment of dividends and the right to vote with respect thereto, regardless of any transfer, pledge or other disposition of such stock, until the shares have been transferred on the books of the Corporation in accordance with the requirements of these By-laws.

It shall be the duty of each shareholder to notify the Corporation of such shareholder's post office address.

4. Record Date. In order that the Corporation may determine the shareholders entitled to notice of or to vote at any meeting of shareholders or any adjournment thereof, or to consent to corporate action in writing without a meeting, or entitled to receive payment of any dividend or other distribution or allotment of any rights, or entitled to exercise any rights in respect of any change, conversion or exchange of stock or for the purpose of any other lawful action, the Board of Directors may fix, in advance, a record date, which shall not precede the date on which it is established, and which shall not be more than sixty (60) nor less than ten (10) days before the date of such meeting, more than ten (10) days after the date on which the record date for shareholder consent without a meeting is established, nor more than sixty (60) days prior to any other action. In such case only shareholders of record on such record date shall be so entitled notwithstanding any transfer of stock on the books of the Corporation after the record date.

If no record date is fixed, (a) the record date for determining shareholders entitled to notice of or to vote at a meeting of shareholders shall be at the close of business on the day next preceding the day on which notice is given, or, if notice is waived, at the close of business on the day next preceding the day on which the meeting is held, (b) the record date for determining shareholders entitled to consent to corporate action in writing without a meeting, when no prior action by the Board of Directors is necessary, shall be the first date on which a signed written consent setting forth the action taken or proposed to be taken is delivered to the Corporation by delivery to its registered office in this state, to its principal place of business, or to an officer or agent of the Corporation having custody of the book in which proceedings of meetings of shareholders are recorded, and (c) the record date for determining shareholders for any other purpose shall be at the close of business on the day on which the Board of Directors adopts the resolution relating thereto.

5. Lost Certificates. The Corporation may issue a new certificate of stock in the place of any certificate theretofore issued by it, alleged to have been lost, stolen or destroyed, and the Corporation may require the owner of the lost, stolen or destroyed certificate, or his legal representative, to give the Corporation a bond sufficient to indemnify it against any claim that may be made against it on account of the alleged loss, theft or destruction of any such certificate or the issuance of such new certificate.

Article V - Indemnification

1. Definitions. For purposes of this Article V:

(a) "Corporate Status" describes the status of a person who is serving or has served (i) as a Director of the Corporation, (ii) as an Officer of the Corporation, or (iii) as a director, partner, trustee, officer, employee or agent of any other corporation, partnership, joint venture, trust, employee benefit plan or other enterprise which such person is or was serving at the request of the Corporation. For purposes of this Section l(a), an Officer or Director of the Corporation who is serving or has served as a director, partner, trustee, officer, employee or agent of a Subsidiary shall be deemed to be serving at the request of the Corporation. Notwithstanding the foregoing, "Corporate Status" shall not include the status of a person who is serving or has served as a director, officer, employee or agent of a constituent corporation absorbed in a merger or consolidation transaction with the Corporation with respect to such person's activities prior to said transaction, unless specifically authorized by the Board of Directors or the shareholders of the Corporation;

(b) "Director" means any person who serves or has served the Corporation as a director on the Board of Directors of the Corporation;

(c) "Disinterested Director" means, with respect to each Proceeding in respect of which indemnification is sought hereunder, a Director of the Corporation who is not and was not a party to such Proceeding;

(d) "Expenses" means all reasonable attorneys' fees, retainers, court costs, transcript costs, fees of expert witnesses, private investigators and professional advisors (including, without limitation, accountants and investment bankers), travel expenses, duplicating costs, printing and binding costs, costs of preparation of demonstrative evidence and other courtroom presentation aids and devices, costs incurred in connection with document review, organization, imaging and computerization, telephone charges, postage, delivery service fees, and all other disbursements, costs or expenses of the type customarily incurred in connection with prosecuting, defending, preparing to prosecute or defend, investigating, being or preparing to be a witness in, settling or otherwise participating in, a Proceeding;

(e) “Non-Director Employee” means any person who serves or has served as an employee or agent of the Corporation, including without limitation an Officer, but who is not or was not a Director;

(f) “Officer” means any person who serves or has served the Corporation as an officer appointed by the Board of Directors of the Corporation;

(g) “Proceeding” means any threatened, pending or completed action, suit, arbitration, alternate dispute resolution mechanism, inquiry, investigation, administrative hearing or other proceeding, whether civil, criminal, administrative, arbitrative or investigative; and

(h) “Subsidiary” shall mean any corporation, partnership, limited liability company, joint venture, trust or other entity of which the Corporation owns (either directly or through or together with another Subsidiary of the Corporation) either (i) a general partner, managing member or other similar interest or (ii) (A) 50% or more of the voting power of the voting capital equity interests of such corporation, partnership, limited liability company, joint venture or other entity, or (B) 50% or more of the outstanding voting capital stock or other voting equity interests of such corporation, partnership, limited liability company, joint venture or other entity.

2. Indemnification of Directors and Officers. Subject to the operation of Section 4 of this Article V of these By-laws, each Director shall be indemnified and held harmless by the Corporation to the fullest extent authorized by the Florida Business Corporation Act, as the same exists or may hereafter be amended (but, in the case of any such amendment, only to the extent that such amendment permits the Corporation to provide broader indemnification rights than such law permitted the Corporation to provide prior to such amendment) against any and all expenses, judgments, penalties, fines and amounts reasonably paid in settlement that are incurred by such Director or on such Director’s behalf in connection with any threatened, pending or completed Proceeding or any claim, issue or matter therein, which such Director is, or is threatened to be made, a party to or participant in by reason of such Director’s Corporate Status, if such Director acted in good faith and in a manner such Director reasonably believed to be in or not opposed to the best interests of the Corporation and, with respect to any criminal proceeding, had no reasonable cause to believe his or her conduct was unlawful. The rights of indemnification provided by this Section 2 shall continue as to a Director after he or she has ceased to be a Director and shall inure to the benefit of his or her heirs, executors, administrators and personal representatives. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the Corporation shall indemnify any Director seeking indemnification in connection with a Proceeding initiated by such Director only if such Proceeding was authorized by the Board of Directors of the Corporation, unless such Proceeding was brought to enforce a Director’s rights to indemnification or advancement of Expenses under these By-laws in accordance with the provisions set forth herein.

3. Indemnification of Non-Director Employees. Subject to the operation of Section 4 of this Article V of these By-laws, each Non-Director Employee may, in the discretion of the Board of Directors of the Corporation, be indemnified by the Corporation to the fullest extent authorized by the Florida Business Corporation Act, as the same exists or may hereafter be amended, against any or all expenses, judgments, penalties, fines and amounts reasonably paid in settlement that are incurred by such Non-Director Employee or on such Non-Director Employee's behalf in connection with any threatened, pending or completed Proceeding, or any claim, issue or matter therein, which such Non-Director Employee is, or is threatened to be made, a party to or participant in by reason of such Non-Director Employee's Corporate Status, if such Non-Director Employee acted in good faith and in a manner such Non-Director Employee reasonably believed to be in or not opposed to the best interests of the Corporation and, with respect to any criminal proceeding, had no reasonable cause to believe his or her conduct was unlawful. The rights of indemnification provided by this Section 3 shall exist as to a Non-Director Employee after he or she has ceased to be a Non-Director Employee and shall inure to the benefit of his or her heirs, personal representatives, executors and administrators. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the Corporation may indemnify any Non-Director Employee seeking indemnification in connection with a Proceeding initiated by such Non-Director Employee only if such Proceeding was authorized by the Board of Directors of the Corporation.

4. Good Faith. Unless ordered by a court, no indemnification shall be provided pursuant to this Article V to a Director or to a Non-Director Employee unless a determination shall have been made that such person acted in good faith and in a manner such person reasonably believed to be in or not opposed to the best interests of the Corporation and, with respect to any criminal Proceeding, such person had no reasonable cause to believe his or her conduct was unlawful. Such determination shall be made by (a) a majority vote of the Disinterested Directors, even though less than a quorum of the Board of Directors, (b) a committee comprised of Disinterested Directors, such committee having been designated by a majority vote of the Disinterested Directors (even though less than a quorum), (c) if there are no such Disinterested Directors, or if a majority of Disinterested Directors so directs, by independent legal counsel in a written opinion, or (d) by the shareholders of the Corporation.

5. Advancement of Expenses to Directors Prior to Final Disposition.

(a) The Corporation shall advance all Expenses incurred by or on behalf of any Director in connection with any Proceeding in which such Director is involved by reason of such Director's Corporate Status within ten (10) days after the receipt by the Corporation of a written statement from such Director reaffirming his or her good faith belief that he or she has met the relevant standard of conduct described in Fla. Stat.§ 607.0850 or that the proceeding involves conduct for which liability has been eliminated under a provision of the Articles of Incorporation and requesting such advance or advances from time to time, whether prior to or after final disposition of such Proceeding. Such statement or statements shall reasonably evidence the Expenses incurred by such Director and shall be preceded or accompanied by an undertaking by or on behalf of such Director to repay any Expenses so advanced if it shall ultimately be determined that such Director is not entitled to be indemnified against such Expenses.

(b) If a claim for advancement of Expenses hereunder by a Director is not paid in full by the Corporation within 10 days after receipt by the Corporation of documentation of Expenses and the required undertaking, such Director may at any time thereafter bring suit against the Corporation to recover the unpaid amount of the claim and if successful in whole or in part, such Director shall also be entitled to be paid the expenses of prosecuting such claim. The failure of the Corporation (including its Board of Directors or any committee thereof, independent legal counsel, or shareholders) to make a determination concerning the permissibility of such advancement of Expenses under this Article V shall not be a defense to the action and shall not create a presumption that such advancement is not permissible. The burden of proving that a Director is not entitled to an advancement of expenses shall be on the Corporation.

(c) In any suit brought by the Corporation to recover an advancement of expenses pursuant to the terms of an undertaking, the Corporation shall be entitled to recover such expenses upon a final adjudication that the Director has not met any applicable standard for indemnification set forth in the Florida Business Corporation Act.

6. Advancement of Expenses to Non-Director Employees Prior to Final Disposition.

(a) The Corporation may, at the discretion of the Board of Directors of the Corporation, advance any or all Expenses incurred by or on behalf of any Non-Director Employee in connection with any Proceeding in which such is involved by reason of the Corporate Status of such Non-Director Employee upon the receipt by the Corporation of a statement or statements from such Non-Director Employee requesting such advance or advances from time to time, whether prior to or after final disposition of such Proceeding. Such statement or statements shall reasonably evidence the Expenses incurred by such Non-Director Employee and shall be preceded or accompanied by an undertaking by or on behalf of such to repay any Expenses so advanced if it shall ultimately be determined that such Non-Director Employee is not entitled to be indemnified against such Expenses.

(b) In any suit brought by the Corporation to recover an advancement of expenses pursuant to the terms of an undertaking, the Corporation shall be entitled to recover such expenses upon a final adjudication that the Non-Director Employee has not met any applicable standard for indemnification set forth in the Florida Business Corporation Act.

7. Contractual Nature of Rights.

(a) The foregoing provisions of this Article V shall be deemed to be a contract between the Corporation and each Director entitled to the benefits hereof at any time while this Article V is in effect, and any repeal or modification thereof shall not affect any rights or obligations then existing with respect to any state of facts then or theretofore existing or any Proceeding theretofore or thereafter brought based in whole or in part upon any such state of facts.

3. Execution of Instruments. All deeds, leases, transfers, contracts, bonds, notes and other obligations to be entered into by the Corporation in the ordinary course of its business without director action may be executed on behalf of the Corporation by the Chief Executive Officer, if one is elected, the President, any Vice President or the Treasurer, or by any other officer, employee or agent of the Corporation as the Board of Directors may authorize.

4. Voting of Securities. Unless the Board of Directors otherwise provides, the Chief Executive Officer, if one is elected, the President, any Vice President or the Treasurer may waive notice of and act on behalf of this Corporation, or appoint another person or persons to act as proxy or attorney in fact for this Corporation with or without discretionary power and/or power of substitution, at any meeting of shareholders or shareholders of any other corporation or organization, any of whose securities are held by this Corporation.

5. Resident Agent. The Board of Directors may appoint a resident agent upon whom legal process may be served in any action or proceeding against the Corporation.

6. Corporate Records. The original or attested copies of the Articles of Incorporation, By-laws and records of all meetings of the incorporators, shareholders and the Board of Directors and the stock and transfer records, which shall contain the names of all shareholders, their record addresses and the amount of stock held by each, shall be kept at the principal office of the Corporation, at the office of its counsel, or at an office of its transfer agent.

7. Articles of Incorporation. All references in these By-laws to the Articles of Incorporation shall be deemed to refer to the Articles of Incorporation of the Corporation, as amended and in effect from time to time.

8. Amendments. These By-laws may be altered, amended or repealed, and new By-laws may be adopted, by the shareholders or by the Board of Directors; provided, that (a) the Board of Directors may not alter, amend or repeal any provision of these By-laws which by law, by the Articles of Incorporation or by these By-laws requires action by the shareholders and (b) any alteration, amendment or repeal of these By-laws by the Board of Directors and any new By-law adopted by the Board of Directors may be altered, amended or repealed by the shareholders.

9. Waiver of Notice. Whenever notice is required to be given under any provision of these By-laws, a written waiver, signed by the person entitled to notice, or a waiver by electronic transmission by the person entitled to notice, whether before or after the time of the event for which notice is to be given, shall be deemed equivalent to notice. Attendance of a person at a meeting shall constitute a waiver of notice of such meeting, except when the person attends a meeting for the express purpose of objecting at the beginning of the meeting to the transaction of any business because the meeting is not lawfully called or convened. Neither the business to be transacted at, nor the purpose of, any meeting needs to be specified in any written waiver or any waiver by electronic transmission.

REBOUND BEHAVIORAL HEALTH, LLC

This Operating Agreement (the "Agreement") of Rebound Behavioral Health, LLC, a South Carolina limited liability company (the "Company"), is entered into by and between Acadia Healthcare Company, Inc., a South Carolina corporation (the "Member") and the persons admitted to the Company as members who shall be identified on Schedule A, as amended from time to time, effective as of July 20, 2011.

WHEREAS, the Member desires to form the Company as a limited liability company in accordance with the South Carolina Limited Liability Company Act (as amended, the "Act");

NOW, THEREFORE, in consideration of the mutual covenants and promises contained herein and for other good and valuable consideration, the receipt and adequacy of which are hereby acknowledged, the parties hereto agree as follows:

Section 1. Organization. Effective July 20, 2011, the Company was formed as a South Carolina limited liability company by the filing of a certificate of formation in the office of the Secretary of State of South Carolina (the "Certificate").

Section 2. Registered Office; Registered Agent. The registered office of the Company in the State of South Carolina will be the initial registered office designated in the Certificate or such other office (which need not be a place of business of the Company) as the Member may designate from time to time in the manner provided by law. The registered agent of the Company in the State of South Carolina will be the initial registered agent designated in the Certificate, or such other person as the Member may designate from time to time in the manner provided by law. The principal office of the Company will be at such location as the Member may designate from time to time, which need not be in the State of South Carolina.

Section 3. Powers. The Company will have all powers permitted to be exercised by a limited liability company organized in the State of South Carolina.

Section 4. Term. The Company commenced on the date the Certificate was filed with the Secretary of State of South Carolina, and will continue in existence until terminated pursuant to this Agreement.

Section 5. Fiscal Year. The fiscal year of the Company for financial statement and federal income tax purposes will end on December 31 unless otherwise determined by the Member.

Section 6. Member. The Member owns 100% of the limited liability company interests in the Company.

Section 7. Address. The address of the Member is set forth below:

Franklin, TN 37067

Section 8. New Members. No person may be admitted as a member of the Company without the approval of the Member.

Section 9. Liability to Third Parties. The Member will not have any personal liability for any obligations or liabilities of the Company, whether such liabilities arise in contract, tort or otherwise.

Section 10. Capital Contributions. On or before the date hereof, the Member has made a capital contribution in cash to the Company in the amount of $100.00. The Member will not be required to make any additional capital contributions to the Company except as may otherwise be agreed to by the Member.

Section 11. Participation in Profits and Losses. All profits and losses of the Company will be allocated to the Member.

Section 12. Distributions. Distributions will be made by the Company to the Member at such times as may be determined by the Member.

Section 13. Management. The power and authority to manage, direct and control the Company will be vested solely in the Member.

Section 14. Officers. The Member may, from time to time, designate one or more individuals to be officers of the Company, with such titles as the Member may assign to such individuals. The initial officers of the Company will be a President, a Secretary and two Vice Presidents as more specifically provided below. Officers so designated will have such authority and perform such duties as the Member may from time to time delegate to them. Any number of officer positions may be held by the same individual. Any officer may resign as such at any time by providing written notice to the Company. Any officer may be removed as such, either with or without cause, by the Member, in its sole discretion. Any vacancy occurring in any officer position of the Company may be filled by the Member. The officers of the Company, if and when designated by the Member, will have the authority, acting individually, to bind the Company.

Section 15. President. The President will, subject to the control of the Member, have general supervision, direction and control of the business and affairs of the Company. Subject to the control of the Member, the President will have the general powers and duties of management usually vested in the office of president and chief executive officer of corporations, and will have such other powers and duties as may be prescribed by the Member.

Section 16. Secretary. The Secretary will, subject to the control of the Member, prepare and keep the minutes of the proceedings of the Company in books provided for that purpose, see that all notices are duly given in accordance with the provisions of the Act, be custodian of the Company records, and will have the general powers and duties usually vested in the office of secretary of corporations, and will have such other powers and duties as may be prescribed by the Member.

Section 17. Vice Presidents. The Vice Presidents will, subject to the control of the Member, perform such duties as may be assigned to them by the President and will have the general powers and duties usually vested in the office of vice president of corporations, and will have such other powers and duties as may be prescribed by the Member. In the case of the death, disability or absence of the President, a Vice President shall perform and be vested with all the duties and powers of the President until the Member appoints a new President.

Section 18. Indemnification. The Company shall indemnify any individual who is or was a party or is or was threatened to be made a party to any action, suit, or proceeding, whether civil, criminal, administrative or investigative, by reason of the fact that he is or was an officer of the Company against expenses (including reasonable attorneys' fees and expenses), judgments, fines and amounts paid in settlement actually and reasonably incurred by such individual in connection with such action, suit or proceeding, to the extent permitted by applicable law. The right to indemnification conferred in this Section 18 includes the right of such individual to be paid by the Company the expenses incurred in defending any such action in advance of its final disposition (an "Advancement of Expenses"); provided, however, that the Company will only make an Advancement of Expenses upon delivery to the Company of an undertaking, by or on behalf of such Indemnitee, to repay all amounts so advanced if it is ultimately determined that such Indemnitee is not entitled to be indemnified under this Section 18 or otherwise.

Section 19. Dissolution. The Company will dissolve and its affairs will be wound up as may be determined by the Member, or upon the earlier occurrence of any other event causing dissolution of the Company under the Act. In such event, the Member will proceed diligently to wind up the affairs of the Company and make final distributions, and will cause the existence of the Company to be terminated.

Section 20. Amendment or Modification. This Agreement may be amended or modified from time to time only by a written instrument that is executed by the Member.

Section 21. Binding Effect. This Agreement will be binding on and inure to the benefit of the Member and its successors and assigns.

Section 22. Governing Law. This Agreement is governed by and will be construed in accordance with the law of the State of South Carolina without regard to the conflicts of law principles thereof.

IN WITNESS THEREOF, the parties hereto have executed this Agreement effective as of the date set forth above.

PLAN OF MERGER

1. Pursuant to the Mississippi Business Corporation Act, Rehabilitation Centers, Inc. ("RCI"), a Mississippi corporation, and the YFCS Merger Corp. ("Merger Corp."), a Mississippi corporation and a wholly-owned subsidiary of Youth and Family Centered Services, Inc., a Georgia corporation ("YFCS"), shall merge into a single corporation. The separate corporate existence of Merger Corp. shall thereupon cease (the "Merger"). RCI shall be the surviving corporation resulting from the merger.

2. The Merger shall be consummated pursuant to the terms of the Agreement and Plan of Merger (the "Agreement"). The respective Board of Directors and shareholders of RCI, Merger Corp., and YFCS have approved and adopted the Merger pursuant to the terms of the Agreement. The Articles of Incorporation of RCI, as amended and restated in a manner satisfactory to YFCS, shall be the Articles of Incorporation of the surviving corporation. The ByLaws of RCI shall remain in effect after the Merger.

3. Each share of stock of RCI shall be converted into and become the right to receive the consideration stated in the Agreement. All shares of Merger Corp. common stock shall be automatically converted into 10 (ten) shares of common stock of RCI after the Merger.

REHABILITATION CENTERS, INC.

In accordance with the provisions of the Mississippi Business Corporation Act (the "Act"), Rehabilitation Centers, Inc. (the "Corporation"), organized and existing under and by virtue of the provisions of the Act and all amendments thereto, does hereby submit this Amendment to its Certificate of Incorporation:

1. The name of the corporation is Rehabilitation Centers, Inc.

2. Section 7 of the Certificate of Incorporation is hereby amended and restated in its entirety to read as follows:

   "SEVENTH: The number of directors of the Corporation shall be one or more, who will be elected at the annual shareholder meeting or such other time as the shareholder may determine. Each director shall hold office until director's successor is elected and qualified or until such director's earlier resignation or removal."

3. This amendment is duly authorized and adopted by the sole shareholder by written consent action taken effective as of September 30, 2011.

4. The corporation has 1,000 shares of common stock outstanding and entitled to vote on this amendment, all of which were voted in favor of the amendment.

5. This Amendment, which will constitute an amendment to the Certificate of Incorporation, is to be effective when filing with the Commission.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the undersigned has executed these Articles of Amendment this the 10th day of November, 2011.

Exhibit 3.84

REHABILITATION CENTERS, INC.

AMENDED AND RESTATED BYLAWS

Adopted as of January 22, 2001

Corporate Bylaws

Article I. Definitions

1.01 Code

The Code means the applicable titles, parts, chapters, sections, and other divisions of the state of incorporation's statutory scheme governing the formation and operation of corporations.

1.02 Record Date

Record Date means the date established under the Code on which the corporation determines the identity of its shareholders and their shareholdings. Such determination shall be made as of the close of business on the record date unless another time for doing so is specified when the record date is fixed.

1.03 Voting Group

Voting Group means all shares of one or more classes or series that under the articles of incorporation or the Code are entitled to vote and be counted together collectively on a matter at a meeting of the shareholders. All shares entitled by the articles of incorporation or the Code to vote generally on the matter are for that purpose a single voting group.

1.04 Corporation

Corporation includes any domestic or foreign predecessor entity of the corporation in a merger or other transaction in which the predecessor's existence ceased upon consummation of the transaction.

1.05 Director or Officer

Director or Officer means an individual who is or was (i) a member of the Board of Directors, (ii) an individual elected or appointed by the Board of Directors to serve as an officer, or (iii) a member of any duly constituted Committee of the Board of Directors. "Director" or "officer" includes, unless the context otherwise requires, the estate or personal representative of a director or officer.

1.06 Disinterested Director or Officer

"Disinterested Director" or "Disinterested Officer" means a director or officer who, with respect to a determination of the authorization or non-authorization of an expense advancement or of indemnification, is neither:

(i) the individual whose indemnification or expense advancement is the subject of the decision being made; nor

(ii) An individual having a familial, financial, professional, or employment relationship with the person whose indemnification or advance for expenses is the subject of the decision being made with respect to the proceeding, which relationship would, in the circumstances, reasonably be expected to exert an influence on the director's or officer's judgment when voting on the decision being made.

1.07 Liability

Liability means the obligation to pay a judgment, settlement, penalty, fine (including an excise tax assessed with respect to an employee benefit plan), or reasonable expenses incurred with respect to a proceeding.

1.08 Official Capacity

When used with respect to a director, Official Capacity means the office of director in the corporation. When used with respect to an officer, Official Capacity means the office in the corporation held by the officer. Official capacity does not include service for any other domestic or foreign corporation or any partnership, joint venture, trust, employee benefit plan, or other entity.

1.09 Party

Party includes an individual who was, is, or is threatened to be made a named defendant or respondent in a proceeding.

1.10 Proceeding

Proceeding means any threatened, pending, or completed action, suit, or proceeding, whether civil, criminal, administrative, arbitrative, or investigative and whether formal or informal.

Article II. Offices and Agents

2.01 Registered Office and Agent

The corporation shall maintain a registered office and have a registered agent, whose business office address is identical to that of the registered office, in its state of incorporation and in each state in which the corporation is qualified to do business.

2.02 Other Offices

In addition to its registered office, the corporation may have offices at any other place or places, within or without the state of incorporation, as the Board of Directors may from time to time select or as the business of the corporation may require or make desirable.

Article III. Meetings of the Shareholders

3.01 Annual Meetings

An annual meeting of the shareholders shall be held for the election of directors at such date, time, and place, either within or without the state of incorporation, as may be designated by resolution of the Board of Directors from time to time. Such resolution shall designate the date, time, and place of the meeting. Any other proper business may be transacted at the annual meeting. If an annual meeting is not held as provided in this bylaw, any business, including the election of directors, that might properly have been acted upon at that meeting may be acted upon at a special meeting in lieu of the annual meeting held pursuant to these bylaws or held pursuant to a court order.

3.02 Special Meetings

Special meetings of the shareholders may be called for any purpose or purposes at any time by the Board of Directors, or by the President of the corporation, or by a Committee of the Board of Directors that has been duly designated and authorized by resolution of the Board of Directors to call such meetings. In addition, the Board of Directors shall call such a meeting upon the written request of shareholders holding at least twenty percent (20%) of all the votes entitled to be cast on the issue or issues proposed to be considered at the requested special meeting.

3.03 Quorum

With respect to shares entitled to vote as a separate voting group on a matter at a meeting of shareholders, the presence, in person or by proxy, of a majority of the votes entitled to be cast on the matter by the voting group shall constitute a quorum of that voting group for action on that matter unless the articles of incorporation or the Code provide otherwise. Once a share is represented for any purpose at a meeting, other than solely to object to holding the meeting or to transacting business at the meeting, it is deemed present for quorum purposes for the remainder of the meeting and for any adjournment of the meeting unless a new record date is or must be set for the adjourned meeting pursuant to the bylaw governing the fixing of the record date with regard to shareholder action.

3.04 Adjournment and Reconvention

Whether or not a quorum is present to organize a meeting, any meeting of shareholders may be adjourned by the holders of a majority of the voting shares represented at the meeting to reconvene at a specific time and place, but no later than 120 days after the date fixed for the original meeting unless the requirements of the Code concerning the selection of a new record date have been met. At any reconvened meeting within that time period, any business may be transacted that could have been transacted at the meeting that was adjourned.

3.05 Presiding Officer

The Chief Executive Officer shall serve as the Presiding Officer of every meeting of shareholders unless another person is elected by the shareholders to serve as Presiding Officer at the meeting. The Presiding Officer shall appoint any persons he deems required to assist with the meeting.

3.06 Vote Required for Action

If a quorum exists, action on a matter (other than the election of directors) by a voting group is approved if the votes cast within the voting group favoring the action exceed the votes cast opposing the action, unless the articles of incorporation, provisions of these bylaws validly adopted by the shareholders, or the Code requires a greater number of affirmative votes. If the articles of incorporation or the Code provide for voting by two or more voting groups on a matter, action on that matter is taken only when voted upon by each of those voting groups counted separately. Action may be taken by one voting group on a matter even though no action is taken by another voting group entitled to vote on the matter. With regard to the election of directors, unless otherwise provided in the articles of incorporation, if a quorum exists, action on the election of directors is taken by a plurality of the votes cast by the shares entitled to vote in the election.

3.07 Shares Held by Another Corporation

Shares standing in the name of another corporation, domestic or foreign, may be voted by such officer, agent, or proxy as the by-laws of such other corporation may prescribe, or, in the absence of such a provision, as the board of directors of such other corporation may determine.

3.08 Method of Voting Shares

Unless the articles of incorporation or the Code provide otherwise, each outstanding share having voting rights shall be entitled to one vote on each matter submitted to a vote at a meeting of the shareholders. Voting on all matters shall be by voice vote or by show of hands unless any qualified voter, prior to the voting on any matter, demands vote by ballot, in which case each ballot shall state the name of the shareholder voting and the number of shares voted by him, and if the ballot be cast by proxy, it shall also state the name of the proxy.

3.09 Proxies

A shareholder entitled to vote on a matter may vote in person or by proxy pursuant to an appointment of proxy executed in writing by the shareholder or by his attorney-in-fact. An appointment of proxy shall be valid for only one meeting to be specified therein, and any adjournments of such meeting, but shall not be valid for more than eleven months unless expressly provided therein. Appointments of proxy shall be dated and filed with the records of the meeting to which they relate. If the validity of any appointment of proxy is questioned, it must be submitted to the secretary of the meeting of shareholders for examination or to a proxy officer or committee appointed by the meeting's presiding officer. The secretary of the meeting or, if appointed, the proxy officer or committee, shall determine the validity or invalidity of any appointment of proxy submitted for examination. Reference in the minutes of the meeting by the secretary or, if appointed, the proxy officer or committee, as to the regularity of an appointment of proxy shall be received as prima facie evidence of the facts stated for the purpose of establishing the presence of a quorum at the meeting and for all other purposes.

3.10 Action Without a Meeting

Any action required or permitted to be taken at a meeting of the shareholders, may be taken without a meeting if the action is taken by all shareholders entitled to vote on the action. Or, if allowed by the articles of incorporation, such action may be taken without a meeting by persons who would be entitled to vote shares having voting power to cast not less than the minimum number (or numbers, in the case of voting by groups) of votes that would be necessary to authorize or take the action at a meeting at which all shareholders entitled to vote were present and voted. The action without a meeting must be evidenced by one or more written consents describing the action taken, signed by shareholders entitled to take action without a meeting, and delivered to the corporation for inclusion in the minutes or filing with the corporate records. The corporation shall give written notice of actions so taken.

3.11 Notice

Unless waived as contemplated in these bylaws, a notice of each meeting of shareholders, stating the date, time, and place of the meeting shall be given not less than ten (10) days nor more than sixty (60) days before the date thereof, to each shareholder entitled to vote at that meeting. In the case of an annual meeting, the notice need not state the purpose or purposes of the meeting unless the articles of incorporation or the Code requires otherwise. In the case of a special meeting, including a special meeting in lieu of an annual meeting, the notice of meeting shall state the purpose or purposes for which the meeting is called.

Article IV. Board of Directors

4.01 Powers

All corporate powers, which are lawful and do not violate any legal agreement among shareholders and which are not prohibited by the articles of incorporation or these bylaws, shall be exercised by or under the authority of, and the business and affairs of the corporation shall be managed under, the direction of the Board of Directors. The Board of Directors may, by resolution, vote any shares of stock owned by the corporation. Also, the Board of Directors from time to time in its discretion may authorize or declare distributions or share dividends in accordance with the Code.

4.02 Number

The number and composition of the corporation's Board of Directors shall initially be that which is specified in the articles of incorporation. If the articles of incorporation do not specify the number and composition of the Board of Directors, then the Board of Director's shall consist of one member, the

Chief Executive Officer of the corporation. Thereafter, the number and composition of the Board of Directors may be changed from time to time by an action of the shareholders.

4.03 Election

Except as provided for in the bylaw addressing vacancies in the Board of Directors, the Directors shall be elected by a vote of the shareholders at each annual meeting of shareholders or special meeting in lieu of the annual meeting.

4.04 Term of Office

Except in the case of death, written resignation, retirement, disqualification, or removal, each director shall serve until the next succeeding annual meeting or special meeting in lieu of an annual meeting and thereafter until his successor is elected and qualifies or until the number of directors is decreased.

4.05 Removal

One or more directors may be removed from office with or without cause by the shareholders by a majority of the votes entitled to be cast. If the director was elected by a voting group, only the shareholders of that voting group may participate in the vote to remove him. Removal action may be taken at any meeting of shareholders with respect to which the notice stated that the purpose, or one of the purposes, of the meeting is removal of the director, and a removed director's successor may be elected at the same meeting.

4.06 Vacancies

A vacancy occurring in the Board of Directors, other than by reason of an increase in the number of directors, shall be filled for the unexpired term by the first to take action of (a) the shareholders or (b) the Board of Directors, and if the directors remaining in office constitute fewer than a quorum of the Board of Directors, they may fill the vacancy by the affirmative vote of a majority of all the directors remaining in office. If the vacant office was held by a director elected by a voting group, only the holders of shares of that voting group or the remaining directors elected by that voting group are entitled to vote to fill the vacancy. A vacancy occurring in the Board of Directors by reason of an increase in the number of directors shall be filled in like manner as any other vacancy, but, if filled by action of the Board of Directors, shall only be for a term of office continuing until the next election of directors by the shareholders and until the election and qualification of a successor.

4.07 Committees

The Board of Directors, by resolution, may designate from among its members an executive committee and one or more other committees, each consisting of one or more directors all of whom serve at the pleasure of the Board of Directors. Except as limited by the Code, each committee shall have the authority set forth in the resolution establishing the committee. The provisions of these bylaws as to the Board of Directors and its deliberations shall be applicable to any committee of the Board of Directors. All decisions and actions of any committee created by these bylaws or resulting from the authority granted by these bylaws, shall be subject to the discretionary review and approval of the Board of Directors.

4.08 Compensation

Unless the articles of incorporation provide otherwise, the Board of Directors may determine from time to time the compensation, if any, directors may receive for their services as directors. A director may also serve the corporation in a capacity other than that of director and receive compensation, as determined by the Board of Directors, for services rendered in such other capacity.

Article V. Meetings of the Board of Directors

5.01 Regular Meetings

Regular meetings of the Board of Directors shall be held immediately after the annual meeting of shareholders or a special meeting in lieu of the annual meeting. In addition, the Board of Directors may schedule other meetings to occur at regular intervals throughout the year.

5.02 Special Meetings

Special meetings of the Board of Directors may be called by or at the request of the Chief Executive Officer of the corporation, by the sole director of the board or, if the board consists of more than one director, by any two directors in office at that time.

5.03 Quorums

Unless a greater number is required by the articles of incorporation, these bylaws, or the Code, a quorum of the Board of Directors consists of a majority of the total number of directors.

5.04 Adjournments

Whether or not a quorum is present to organize a meeting, any meeting of directors (including an adjourned meeting) may be adjourned by a majority of the directors present to reconvene at a specific time and place. At any reconvened meeting, any business may be transacted that could have been transacted at the meeting that was adjourned. It shall not be necessary to give any notice of the reconvened meeting or of the business to be transacted, if the date, time and place of the reconvened meeting are announced at the meeting that was adjourned.

5.05 Action Without a Meeting

Unless the Code, the articles of incorporation, or these bylaws provide otherwise, any action required or permitted to be taken at any meeting of the Board of Directors, or any action that may be taken at a meeting of an authorized committee of the Board of Directors, may be taken without a meeting if the action is taken by all the members of the Board of Directors (or of the committee, as the case may be). The action must be evidenced by one or more written consents describing the action taken, signed by each director (or each director serving on the committee, as the case may be), and delivered to the corporation for inclusion in the minutes or filing with the corporate records.

5.06 Meetings by Telephone

Any or all directors may participate in a meeting of the Board of Directors, and members of an authorized committee of the Board of Directors may participate in a meeting of the committee (as the case may be), through the use of any means of communication by which all directors participating may simultaneously hear each other during the meeting.

5.07 Place of Meetings

Directors may hold their meetings at any place within or without the state of incorporation, as the Board of Directors may from time to time establish for regular meetings or as set forth in the notice of special meetings or, in the event of a meeting held pursuant to waiver of notice, as set forth in the

waiver.

5.08 Notice of Meetings

No notice shall be required for any regularly scheduled meeting of the directors. Unless waived as contemplated in these bylaws, each director shall be given at least five day's notice of each special meeting stating the date, time, and place of the meeting. It is not required that the purpose of a Directors' meeting be stated in any notice of such a meeting, whether the meeting is a regular or a special meeting.

5.09 Vote Required for Action

If a quorum is present when a vote is taken, the affirmative vote of a majority of directors present is the act of the Board of Directors unless the Code, the articles of incorporation, or these bylaws require the vote of a greater number of directors.

A director who is present at a meeting of the Board of Directors, or an authorized committee of the Board of Directors, when corporate action is taken is deemed to have assented to the action taken unless:

(i) he objects at the beginning of the meeting (or promptly upon his arrival) to holding the meeting or to transacting business at the meeting,

(ii) his dissent or abstention from the action taken is entered in the minutes of the meeting, or

(iii) he delivers written notice of his dissent or abstention to the presiding officer of the meeting before its adjournment or to the corporation immediately after adjournment of the meeting.

The right of dissent or abstention is not available to a director who votes in favor of the action taken.

Article VI. Shareholder and Director Notices

6.1 Delivery of Notice

Whenever these bylaws require notice to be given to any shareholder or director, the notice shall be given in accordance with this bylaw. Notice under these bylaws shall be in writing unless oral notice is reasonable under the circumstances. Any notice to directors may be written or oral. Notice may be communicated in person, by telephone, telegraph, teletype, other form of wire or wireless communication, or by mail or private carrier. If these forms of personal notice are impracticable, notice may be communicated by a newspaper of general circulation in the area where published, or by radio, television, or other form of public broadcast communication. Written notice to the shareholders, if in a comprehensible form, is effective when mailed, if mailed with first-class postage prepaid and correctly addressed to the shareholder's address shown in the corporation's current record of shareholders.

6.2 When Effective

Except as otherwise provided in this bylaw, written notice, if in a comprehensible form, is effective at the earliest of the following:

(i) when received or when delivered, properly addressed, to the addressee's last known

principal place of business or residence;

(ii) five days after deposit in the mail, as evidenced by the postmark, if mailed with first-class postage prepaid and correctly addressed, or

(iii) on the date shown on the return receipt, if sent by registered or certified mail, return receipt requested, and the receipt is signed by or on behalf of the addressee.

Oral notice is effective when communicated if communicated in a comprehensible manner.

In calculating time periods for notice, when a period of time measured in days, weeks, months, years, or other measurement of time is prescribed for the exercise of any privilege or the discharge of any duty, the first day shall not be counted but the last day shall be counted.

6.3 Waiver

A shareholder or director may waive any notice before or after the date and time stated in the notice. Except as provided in this bylaw, the waiver must be in writing, be signed by the shareholder or director entitled to the notice, and be delivered to the corporation for inclusion in the minutes or filing with the corporate records.

A shareholder's attendance at a meeting (i) waives objection to lack of notice or defective notice of the meeting, unless the shareholder at the beginning of the meeting objects to holding the meeting or transacting business at the meeting; and (ii) waives objection to consideration of a particular matter at the meeting that is not within the purpose or purposes described in the meeting notice, unless the shareholder objects to considering the matter when it is presented.

A director's attendance at or participation in a meeting waives any required notice to him of the meeting unless the director at the beginning of the meeting (or promptly upon his arrival) objects to holding the meeting or transacting business at the meeting and does not thereafter vote for or assent to action taken at the meeting.

Unless required by the Code, neither the business transacted nor the purpose of the meeting need be specified in the waiver.

6.4 Notice Following Adjournment

If notice of an adjourned meeting of the shareholders or of the directors was properly given, it shall not be necessary to give any notice of the reconvened meeting or of the business to be transacted, if the date, time and place of the reconvened meeting are announced at the meeting that was adjourned and before adjournment; provided, however, that if a new record date of shares is or must be fixed, notice of the reconvened meeting must be given to persons who are shareholders as of the new record date.

Article VII. Officers

7.01 Number

The officers of the corporation shall consist of a Board Chairman, a President, a Secretary, a Treasurer, and any other officers as may be appointed by the Board of Directors or by an other duly appointed officer pursuant to these bylaws. The Board of Directors shall from time to time create and establish the duties of the other officers. Any two or more offices may be held by the same person.

7.02 Chairman of Board

The Chairman of the Board of Directors shall preside at all meetings of the Board of Directors and shall have authority to execute bonds, mortgages, and other contracts requiring a seal, under the seal of the corporation; to endorse, when sold, assigned, transferred, or otherwise disposed of by the corporation, all certificates or shares of stock, bonds, or other securities issued by other corporations, associations, trusts, whether public or private, or by any government agency thereof, and owned or held by the corporation, and to make, execute, and deliver all instruments or assignments of transfer of any such stocks, bonds, or other securities. The Chairman of the Board may, with the approval of the Board of Directors, or shall, at the direction of the Board of Directors, delegate any or all of such duties to the President.

7.03 President

The President shall be the Chief Executive Officer of the corporation and shall have general supervision of the business of the corporation. The President shall see that all orders and resolutions of the Board of Directors are carried into effect. The President shall perform such other duties as may from time to time be delegated by the Board of Directors. In the absence of the Chairman of the Board, the President shall have authority to do any and all things delegated to the Chairman of the Board of Directors.

7.04 Vice President

7.05 Secretary

The Secretary shall be responsible for preparing minutes of the acts and proceedings of all meetings of the shareholders, the Board of Directors, and any Committees thereof. The Secretary shall have authority to give all notices required by the Code or these bylaws. The Secretary shall be responsible for the custody of the corporate books, records, contracts, and other documents. The Secretary may affix the corporate seal to any lawfully executed documents and shall sign any instruments as may require his or her signature. The Secretary shall authenticate records of the corporation. The Secretary shall perform whatever additional duties and have whatever additional powers the Board of Directors may from time to time assign. In the absence or disability of the Secretary or at the direction of the President, any assistant secretary may perform the duties and exercise the powers of the Secretary.

7.06 Treasurer

The Treasurer shall be responsible for the custody of all funds and securities belonging to the corporation and for the receipt, deposit, or disbursement of funds and securities under the direction of the Board of Directors. The Treasurer shall cause to be maintained full and true accounts of all receipts and disbursements and shall make reports of the same to the Board of Directors and the President upon request. The Treasurer shall perform all duties as may be assigned to him from time to time by the Board of Directors.

7.07 Appointment, Term, and Removal

All officers shall be appointed by the Board of Directors or by a duly appointed officer pursuant to these bylaws and shall serve at the pleasure of the Board of Directors or the appointing officers, as the case may be. All officers, however appointed, may be removed with or without cause by the Board of Directors, and any officer appointed by another officer may also be removed by the appointing officer with or without cause.

7.08 Compensation

The compensation of all officers of the corporation appointed by the Board of Directors shall be fixed by the Board of Directors.

7.09 Bonds

The Board of Directors may, by resolution, require any or all of the officers, agents, or employees of the corporation to give bonds to the corporation, with sufficient surety or sureties, conditioned on the faithful performance of the duties of their respective offices or positions, and to comply with any other conditions as from time to time may be required by the Board of Directors.

Article VIII. Indemnification

8.01 Basic Indemnification Arrangement

Except as provided in these bylaws, the corporation shall indemnify an individual who is a party to a proceeding because he or she is or was a director or officer against liability incurred in the proceeding if:

(i) Such Director or Officer conducted himself in good faith and reasonably believed:

(a) In the case of conduct in his or her official capacity, that such conduct was in the best interests of the corporation;

(b) In all other cases, that such conduct was at least not opposed to the best interests of the corporation; and

(c) In the case of any criminal proceeding, that the individual had no reasonable cause to believe such conduct was unlawful, or

(ii) Such Director's or Officer's conduct with respect to an employee benefit plan, which is the subject of the proceeding, was for a purpose he believed in good faith to be in the interests of the participants in and beneficiaries of the plan.

The termination of a proceeding by judgment, order, settlement, or conviction, or upon a plea of nolo contendere or its equivalent is not, of itself, determinative that the director or officer did not meet the requisite standard of conduct described in this bylaw.

The corporation may not indemnify a director or officer under this Article:

(i) In connection with a proceeding by or in the right of the corporation, except for reasonable expenses incurred in connection with the proceeding if it is determined that the director or officer has met the requisite standard of conduct under this bylaw; or

(ii) In connection with any proceeding with respect to conduct for which he or she was adjudged liable on the basis that personal benefit was improperly received by him or her, whether or not involving action in his or her official capacity.

8.02 Advances for Expenses

The corporation may, before final disposition of a proceeding, advance funds to pay for or reimburse the reasonable expenses, including counsel fees, incurred by a director or officer who is a party to a proceeding because he or she is a director or officer if he or she delivers to the corporation:

(i) A written affirmation of his or her good faith belief that he or she has met the requisite standard of conduct described in the Basic Indemnification Arrangement bylaw or that the proceeding involves conduct for which such person's liability has been eliminated under the corporation's articles of incorporation; and

(ii) His or her written undertaking to repay any funds advanced if it is ultimately determined that the director or officer is not entitled to indemnification under this Article or the Code. This undertaking to repay must be an unlimited general obligation of the director or officer but need not be secured and may be accepted without reference to the financial ability of the director or officer to make repayment.

Authorizations for expense advancements shall be made:

(i) By the board of directors:

(a) by a majority vote of a quorum consisting of disinterested directors, or

(b) if such a quorum is not obtainable (or is obtainable and a majority vote of a quorum of disinterested directors so directs), by independent legal counsel in a written opinion; or

(ii) By a majority vote of the shareholders; however, shares owned or voted under the control of a director or officer who at the time does not qualify as a disinterested director or disinterested officer with respect to the proceeding may not be voted on the authorization.

8.03 Court-Ordered Indemnification and Advances for Expenses

A director or officer who is a party to a proceeding because he or she is a director or officer may apply for indemnification or advance for expenses to the court conducting the proceeding or to another court of competent jurisdiction. Pursuant to the Code, after receipt of an application and after giving any notice it considers necessary, the court shall:

(i) Order indemnification or advance for expenses if it determines that the director or officer is entitled to indemnification; or

(ii) Order indemnification or advance for expenses if it determines, in view of all the relevant circumstances, that it is fair and reasonable to indemnify the director or officer, or to advance expenses to the director or officer, even if the director or officer has not met the relevant standard of conduct, failed to comply with the requirements for advance of expenses, or was adjudged liable on the basis that personal benefit was improperly received by him or her, whether or not involving action in his or her official capacity. However, if the director or officer was adjudged so liable, the indemnification shall be limited to reasonable expenses incurred in connection with the proceeding.

If the court determines that the director or officer is entitled to indemnification or advance for expenses, it may also order the corporation to pay the director's or officer's reasonable expenses to obtain court-ordered indemnification or advance for expenses.

8.04 Determination and Authorization of Indemnification

The corporation acknowledges that indemnification of a director or officer according to these bylaws has been pre-authorized by the corporation as permitted by the Code. Nevertheless, the corporation shall not indemnify a director or officer under these bylaws unless a determination has been made for the specific proceeding that indemnification of the director or officer is permissible in the circumstances because he or she has met the relevant standard of conduct set forth in the Basic Indemnification Arrangement. However, regardless of the result or absence of any such determination, the corporation shall indemnify a director or officer who was wholly successful, on the merits or otherwise, in the defense of any proceeding to which he or she was a party because he or she was a director or officer of the corporation against reasonable expenses incurred by the director or officer in connection with the proceeding.

The determination of indemnification shall be made:

(i) by the board of directors:

  (a) by a majority vote of a quorum consisting of disinterested directors; or

  (b) if such a quorum is not obtainable or is obtainable and a majority vote of a quorum of disinterested directors so directs, by independent legal counsel in a written opinion; or

(ii) by a majority vote of the shareholders, but shares owned by or voted under the control of a director or officer who at the time does not qualify as a disinterested director or disinterested officer may not be voted on the determination.

As acknowledged above, the corporation has pre-authorized the indemnification of directors and officers hereunder, subject to a determination for a specific proceeding that the director or officer met the relevant standard of conduct under the Basic Indemnification Arrangement. Consequently, no further decision need or shall be made on a case-by-case basis as to the authorization of the corporation's indemnification of directors or officers hereunder. Nevertheless, evaluation as to reasonableness of expenses of a director or officer for a specific proceeding shall be made in the same manner as the determination that indemnification is permissible, except that if there are fewer than two disinterested directors or if the determination is made by special legal counsel, evaluation as to reasonableness of expenses shall be made by the Board of Directors, the members of which may or may not be disinterested.

8.05 Indemnification of Employees and Agents

The corporation may indemnify and advance expenses under these bylaws to an employee or agent of the corporation who is not a director or officer to the extent, consistent with public policy, that such indemnification and advances may be provided to a director or officer.

8.06 Shareholder Approved Indemnification

If authorized by the articles of incorporation, the bylaws, or by a contract or resolution

approved or ratified by the shareholders of the corporation by a majority of the votes entitled to be cast, the corporation may indemnify or obligate itself to indemnify a director or officer made a party to a proceeding, including a proceeding brought by or in the right of the corporation, without regard to the limitations in other sections of these bylaws, but shares owned or voted under the control of a director or officer who at the time of such authorization does not qualify as a disinterested director or disinterested officer with respect to any existing or threatened proceeding that would be covered by the authorization may not be voted on the authorization.

Nevertheless, the corporation shall not indemnify a director or officer under this bylaw for any liability incurred in a proceeding in which the director or officer is adjudged liable to the corporation or is subjected to injunctive relief in favor of the corporation:

(i) for any appropriation, in violation of his or her duties, of any business opportunity of the corporation,

(ii) for acts or omissions which involve intentional misconduct or a knowing violation of law,

(iii) for assenting to an unlawful distribution as defined in the Code, or

(iv) for any transaction from which he or she received an improper personal benefit.

Where approved or authorized according to this bylaw, the corporation may advance or reimburse expenses incurred in advance of final disposition of the proceeding only if

(i) The director or officer furnishes the corporation a written affirmation of his or her good faith belief that his or her conduct does not constitute behavior of the kind described in this bylaw which would prevent indemnification; and

(ii) The director or officer furnishes the corporation a written undertaking, executed personally or on his or her behalf, to repay any advances if it is ultimately determined that he or she is not entitled to indemnification under this bylaw.

8.07 Insurance

The corporation may purchase and maintain insurance on behalf of an individual

(i) who is a director, officer, employee, or agent of the corporation, or

(ii) who, while a director, officer, employee, or agent of the corporation, serves at the corporation's request as a director, officer, partner, trustee, employee or agent of another domestic or foreign corporation, partnership, joint venture, trust, employee benefit plan, or other entity

against liability asserted against or incurred by him or her in that capacity or arising from his or her status as a director, officer, employee, or agent, whether or not the corporation would have power to indemnify or advance expenses to him or her against the same liability under these bylaws or the Code.

8.09 Witness Fees

Nothing in these bylaws shall limit the corporation's power to pay or reimburse expenses incurred by a director or officer in connection with his or her appearance as a witness in a proceeding at a time when he or she is not a party.

8.10 Report to Shareholders

To the extent and in the manner required by the Code from time to time, if the corporation indemnifies or advances expenses to a director or officer in connection with a proceeding by or in the right of the corporation, the corporation shall report the indemnification or advance to the shareholders.

8.11 Effect of Amendments

No amendment, modification, or rescission of these bylaws, or any provision of the bylaws, the effect of which would diminish the rights to indemnification or advancement of expenses as set forth herein shall be effective as to any person with respect to any action taken or omitted by such person prior to such amendment, modification or rescission.

Article IX. Stock Certificates

9.01 Authorization and Issuance

In accordance with the Code, the Board of Directors may authorize shares of any class or series provided for in the corporation's Articles of Incorporation to be issued for any consideration valid under the provisions of the Code. To the extent provided in the Articles of Incorporation, the Board of Directors shall determine the preferences, limitations, and relative rights of the shares.

9.02 Form

The interest of each shareholder in the corporation shall be evidenced by a certificate or certificates representing shares of the corporation which shall be in such form as the Board of Directors from time to time may adopt. Share certificates shall be numbered consecutively, shall be in registered form, shall indicate the date of issuance, the name of the corporation, that it is organized under the laws of the state of incorporation, the name of the shareholder, the number and class of shares, and the designation of the series, if any, represented by the certificate. Each certificate shall be signed by any one of the President, a Vice President, the Secretary, or the Treasurer. The corporate seal need not be affixed.

9.03 Registered Shareholders

Prior to due presentation for transfer of registration of its shares, the corporation may treat the registered owner of the shares as the person exclusively entitled to vote the shares, to receive any share dividend or distribution with respect to the shares, and for all other purposes. The corporation shall not be bound to recognize any equitable or other claim to or interest in the shares on the part of any other person, whether or not it shall have express or other notice thereof, except as otherwise provided by law.

9.04 Transfer of Shares

Transfers of shares shall be made upon the transfer books of the corporation, kept at the principle office of the corporation (or at the office of the transfer agent designated to transfer the shares, if any) only upon direction of the person named in the certificate, or by his or her attorney lawfully constituted in writing. Before a new certificate is issued, the old certificate shall be surrendered for cancellation or, in the case of a certificate alleged to have been lost, stolen, or destroyed, the requirements of the bylaw governing lost, stolen, or destroyed certificates shall have been met.

9.05 Record Date

demand a special meeting, to vote, or to take any other action, the Board of Directors may fix a future date as the record date, which date shall be not more than seventy (70) days prior to the date on which the particular action requiring a determination of shareholders is to be taken. A determination of shareholders entitled to notice of or to vote at a shareholders' meeting is effective for any adjournment of the meeting unless the Board of Directors fixes a new record date, which it must do if the meeting is adjourned to a date more than 120 days after the date fixed for the original meeting. If no record date is fixed by the Board of Directors, the record date shall be determined in accordance with the provisions of the Code.

For the purpose of determining shareholders entitled to a distribution (other than one involving a purchase, redemption, or other reacquisition of the corporation's shares) or a share dividend, the Board of Directors may fix a date as the record date, if no record date is fixed by the Board of Directors, the record date shall be determined in accordance with the provisions of the Code.

9.06 Lost, Stolen, or Destroyed Certificates

Any person claiming a share certificate to be lost, stolen, or destroyed shall make an affidavit or affirmation of the fact in the manner required by the Board of Directors and, if the Board of Directors requires, shall give the corporation a bond of indemnity in form and amount, and with one or more sureties satisfactory to the Board of Directors, as the Board of Directors may require, whereupon an appropriate new certificate may be issued in lieu of the one alleged to have been lost, stolen or destroyed.

Article X. Miscellaneous

10.01 Fiscal Year

The fiscal year of the corporation shall be a twelve-month period, beginning January 1 and ending on December 31 each year, unless the Board of Directors, by resolution, fixes the fiscal year as an other time period.

10.02 Corporate Seal

If the Board of Directors determines that there should be a corporate seal for the corporation, it shall be in the form as the Board of Directors may from time to time determine.

10.03 Corporate Records

The Board of Directors shall have the power to determine which accounts, books, and records of the corporation shall be opened to the inspection of the shareholders, except those as may by law specifically be made open to inspection. The Board of Directors shall have the power to fix reasonable rules and regulations not in conflict with the applicable law for the inspection of accounts, books, and records which by law or by determination of the Board of Directors shall be open to inspection.

10.04 Annual Financial Statements

In accordance with the Code, the corporation shall prepare and provide to the shareholders such financial statements as may be required by the Code.

10.05 Amendments

The Board of Directors shall have the power to alter, amend, or repeal these bylaws or adopt new bylaws, but any bylaws adopted by the Board of Directors may be altered, amended, or repealed, and new bylaws adopted, by the shareholders. The shareholders may prescribe, by expressing in the action they take in adopting or amending any bylaw or bylaws, that the bylaw or bylaws so adopted or amended shall not be altered, amended or repealed by the Board of Directors.

10.06 Conflict with Articles of Incorporation or Law; Severability

In the event that any provision of these bylaws conflicts with any provision of the Articles of Incorporation, the Articles of Incorporation shall govern. In the event that any of the provisions of these bylaws (including any provision within a single section, subsection, division or sentence) is held by a court of competent jurisdiction to be invalid, void, or otherwise unenforceable, the remaining provisions of the bylaws shall remain enforceable to the fullest extent permitted by law.

By-Laws

The board of directors is authorized to make, amend or repeal the by-laws of the corporation in whole or in part, except with respect to any provision thereof which by law, by these articles of organization, or by the by-laws requires action by the stockholders.

Place of Meetings of the Stockholders

Meetings of the stockholders may be held anywhere in the United States.

Partnership

The corporation may be a partner in any business enterprise which the corporation would have power to conduct by itself.

Indemnification of Directors, Officers and Others

The corporation shall indemnify each person who is or was a director, officer, employee or other agent of the corporation, and each person who is or was serving at the request of the corporation as a director, trustee, officer, employee or other agent of another organization in which it directly or indirectly owns shares or of which it is directly or indirectly a creditor, against all liabilities, costs and expenses, including but not limited to amounts paid in satisfaction of judgments, in settlement or as fines and penalties, and counsel fees and disbursements, reasonably incurred by him in connection with the defense or disposition of or otherwise in connection with or resulting from any action, suit or other proceeding, whether civil, criminal, administrative or investigative, before any court or administrative or legislative or investigative body, in which he may be or may have been involved as a party or otherwise or with which he may be or may have been threatened, while in office or thereafter, by reason of his being or having been such a director, officer, employee, agent or trustee, or by reason of any action taken or not taken in any such capacity, except with respect to any matter as to which he shall have been finally adjudicated by a count of competent jurisdiction not to have acted in good faith in the reasonable belief that his action was in the best interests of the corporation. Expenses, including but not limited to counsel fees and disbursements, so incurred by any such person in defending any such action, suit or proceeding may be paid from time to time by the corporation in advance of the final disposition of such action, suit or proceeding upon receipt of an undertaking by or on behalf of the person indemnified to repay the amounts so paid if it shall ultimately be determined that indemnification of such expenses is not authorized hereunder.

CONTINUATION SHEET 6B
to the Articles of Organization of
Renaissance Recovery, Inc.

As to any matter disposed of by settlement by any such person, pursuant to a consent decree or otherwise, no such indemnification either for the amount of such settlement or for any other expenses shall be provided unless such settlement shall be approved as in the best interests of the corporation, after notice that it involves such indemnification, (a) by a vote of a majority of the disinterested directors then in office (even though the disinterested directors be less than a quorum), or (b) by any disinterested person or persons to whom the question may be referred by vote of a majority of such disinterested directors, or (c) by vote of the holders of a majority of the outstanding stock at the time entitled to vote for directors, voting as a single class, exclusive of any stock owned by any interested persons, or (d) by any disinterested person or persons to whom the question may be referred by vote of the holders of a majority of such stock. No such approval shall prevent the recovery from any such officer, directors, employee, agent or trustee of any amounts paid to him or on his behalf as indemnification in accordance with the preceding sentence if such person is subsequently adjudicated by a court of competent jurisdiction not to have acted in good faith in the reasonable belief that his action was in the best interests of the corporation.

The right of indemnification hereby provided shall not be exclusive of or affect any other rights to which any director, officer, employee, agent, or trustee may be entitled or which may lawfully be granted to him. As used herein, the terms “director”, “officer”, “employee”, “agent” and “trustee” include their respective executors, administrators and other legal representatives, and “interested” person is one against whom the action, suit or other proceeding in question or another action, suit or other proceeding on the same or similar grounds is then or had been pending or threatened, and a “disinterested” person is a person against whom no such action, suit or other proceeding is then or had been pending or threatened.

CONTINUATION SHEET 6C
to the Articles of Organization of
Renaissance Recovery, Inc.

By action of the board of directors, notwithstanding any interest of the directors in such action, the corporation may purchase and maintain insurance, in such amounts as the board of directors may from time to time deem appropriate, on behalf of any person who is or was a director, officer, employee or other agent of the corporation, or is or was serving at the request of the corporation as a director, trustee, officer, employee or other agent of another organization in which it directly or indirectly owns shares or of which it is directly or indirectly a creditor, against any liability incurred by him in any such capacity, or arising out of his status as such, whether or not the corporation would have the power to indemnify him against such liability.

Intercompany Transactions

No contract or transaction between the corporation and one or more of its directors or officers, or between the corporation and any other organization of which one or more of its directors or officers are directors, trustees or officers, or in which any of them has any financial or other interest, shall be void or voidable, or in any way affected, solely for this reason, or solely because the director or officer is present at or participates in the meeting of the board of directors or committee thereof which authorizes, approves or ratifies the contract or transaction, or solely because his or their votes are counted for such purposes, if:

a) The material facts as to his relationship or interest and as to the contract or transaction are disclosed or are known to the board of directors or the committee which authorized, approves or ratifies the contract or transaction, and the board of committee in good faith authorizes, approves or ratifies the contract or transaction by the affirmative vote of a majority of the disinterested directors, even though the disinterested directors be less than a quorum; or

b) The material facts as to his relationship or interest and as to the contract or transaction are disclosed or are known to the stockholders entitled to vote thereon, and the contract or transaction is specifically authorized, approved or ratified in good faith by vote of the stockholders; or

c) The contract or transaction is fair as to the corporation as of the time it is authorized, approved or ratified by the board of directors, a committee thereof, or the stockholders.

Common or interested directors may be counted in determining the presence of a quorum at a meeting of the board of directors or of a committee thereof which authorizes, approves or ratifies the contract or transaction. No director or officer of the corporation shall be liable or accountable to the corporation or to any of its stockholders or creditors or to any other person, either for any loss to the corporation or to any other person or for any gains or profits realized by such director or officer, clauses (a), (b) or (c) above are applicable.

Limitations on Director Liability

No director of the corporation shall be liable to the corporation or its stockholders for monetary damages for breach of fiduciary duty as a director, except for liability (i) for any breach of the director's duty of loyalty to the corporation or its stockholders, (ii) for acts or omissions not in good faith or which involve intentional misconduct or a knowing violation of law, or (iii) for any transaction in which the director derived an improper personal benefit. No amendment to or repeal of any provision of this paragraph, directly or by adoption of an inconsistent provision of these Articles of Organization, shall apply to or have any effect on any liability or alleged liability of any director of the corporation for or with respect to any acts or omissions of such director occurring prior to such amendment or repeal.

Exhibit 3.86

AMENDED AND RESTATED BY-LAWS

OF

RENAISSANCE RECOVERY, INC.

(as of November 30, 2011)

ARTICLE I

Stockholders

Section 1. Annual Meeting. The annual meeting of the stockholders shall be held within six months of the end of the corporation's fiscal year as fixed by the board of directors for the purpose of electing directors and for such other purposes as may be determined as hereinafter provided. The hour and place of such meeting and the purposes for which such meeting is to be held in addition to that specified above shall be determined in each year by the board of directors or, in the absence of action by the board, by the president. If no annual meeting has been held in the period fixed above, a special meeting may be held in lieu thereof with all the force and effect of an annual meeting.

Section 2. Special Meetings. Special meetings of the stockholders may be called at any time by the president or by the board of directors and shall be called by the clerk, or in case of the death, absence, incapacity or refusal of the clerk, by any other officer, upon written application of one or more stockholders who hold at least one-tenth part in interest of the capital stock entitled to vote thereat. Such application shall specify the purposes for which the meeting is to be called and may designate the date, hour and place of such meeting, provided, however, that no such application shall designate a date not a full business day or an hour not within normal business hours as the date or hour of such meeting without the approval of the president or the board of directors.

Section 3. Place of Meetings. Meetings of the stockholders may be held anywhere within, but not without, the United States.

Section 4. Notice. Except as hereinafter provided, a written or printed notice of every meeting of stockholders stating the place, date, hour and purposes thereof shall be given by the clerk or an assistant clerk (or by any other officer in the case of an annual meeting or by the person or persons calling the meeting in the case of a special meeting) at least ten (10) days before the meeting to each stockholder entitled to vote thereat and to each stockholder who, by law, by the articles of organization or by these by-laws, is entitled to such notice, by leaving such notice with him or at his residence or usual place of business or by mailing it, postage prepaid, addressed to him at his address as it appears upon the records of the corporation. No notice of the place, date, hour or purposes of any annual or special meeting of stockholders need be given to a stockholder if a written waiver of such notice, executed before or after the meeting by such stockholder or his attorney thereunto authorized, is filed with the records of the meeting.

Section 5. Action at a Meeting. Except as otherwise provided in the articles of organization, the presence of a quorum shall be separately determined with respect to each matter to be acted on at any meeting of stockholders, and shall consist of the holders of shares having the right to cast a majority of the votes which may be cast with respect to such matter. Though less than a quorum be present, any meeting may without further notice be adjourned to a subsequent date or until a quorum be had, and at any such adjourned meeting any business may be transacted which might have been transacted at the original meeting.

When a quorum is present at any meeting, the affirmative vote of a majority of the shares of stock present or represented and voting shall be necessary and sufficient to the determination of any questions brought before the meeting, unless a larger vote is required by law, by the articles of organization or by these by-laws, provided, however, that any election by stockholders shall be determined by a plurality of the votes cast by the stockholders entitled to vote in such election.

Except as otherwise provided by law or by the articles or organization or by these by-laws, each holder of record of shares of stock entitled to vote on any matter shall have one vote for each such share held of record by him and a proportionate vote for any fractional shares so held by him. Stockholders may vote either in person or by proxy. No proxy dated more than six months before the meeting named therein shall be valid and no proxy shall be valid after the final adjournment of such meeting. A proxy with respect to stock held in the name of two or more persons shall be valid if executed by anyone of them unless at or prior to the exercise of the proxy the corporation receives a specific written notice to the contrary from anyone of them. A proxy purporting to be executed by or on behalf of a stockholder shall be deemed valid unless challenged at or prior to its exercise and the burden of proving its invalidity shall rest on the challenger.

Any election by stockholders and the determination of any other questions to come before a meeting of the stockholders shall be by ballot if so requested by any stockholder entitled to vote thereon but need not be otherwise.

Section 6. Stockholder Proposals. Written notification of any stockholder proposal to be acted upon at an annual meeting of stockholders of the corporation must be provided to the corporation at least 120 calendar days in advance of the date of the corporation’s proxy statement released to stockholders in connection with the previous year’s annual meeting of stockholders. Written notification of any stockholder proposal to be acted upon at any meeting of the stockholders of the corporation other than an annual meeting must be provided to the corporation at least 180 calendar days before the meeting at which such proposal is to be acted upon.

Section 7. Action by Written Consent. Any action required to be taken at any annual or special meeting of stockholders of the corporation, or any action which may be taken at any annual or special meeting of such stockholders, may be taken without a meeting, without prior notice and without a vote, if a consent or consents in writing, setting forth the action so taken and bearing the dates of signature of the stockholders who signed the consent or consents, shall be signed by the holders of outstanding stock having not less than the minimum number of votes that would be necessary to authorize or take such action at a meeting at which all shares entitled to vote thereon were present and voted and shall be delivered to the corporation by delivery to the corporation's principal place of business, or an officer or agent of the corporation having custody of the book or books in which proceedings of meetings of the stockholders are recorded.

ARTICLE II

Directors

Section 1. Number and Election. Except as otherwise provided by law or by the articles of organization, the number of directors for the ensuing year shall be determined by the board of directors. The number of directors so determined shall be elected at the annual meeting of the stockholders by such stockholders as have the right to vote thereon. The stockholders may, at any special meeting held for the purpose, increase or decrease the number of directors as thus determined and elect new directors to complete the number so determined or remove directors to reduce the number of directors to the number so determined. Except as otherwise provided by law or by the articles of organization, the board of directors may, by vote of a majority of the directors then in office, increase the number of directors determined by the stockholders and elect new directors to complete the number so determined. No director need be a stockholder.

Section 2. Term. Except as otherwise provided by law, by the articles of organization or by these by-laws, the directors shall hold office until the next annual meeting of stockholders and until their successors are chosen and qualified.

Section 3. Resignations. Any director may resign by delivering his written resignation to the corporation at its principal office or to the president or clerk or if there be one, to the secretary. Such resignation shall become effective at the time or upon the happening of the condition, if any, specified therein or, if no such time or condition is specified, upon its receipt.

Section 4. Removal. At any meeting of the stockholders called: for the purpose any director may be removed from office with or without cause by the vote of a majority of the class of shares issued, outstanding and entitled to vote in the election of said director. At any meeting of the board of directors any director may be removed from office for cause by vote of a majority of the directors then in office. A director may be removed for cause only after a reasonable notice and opportunity to be heard before the body proposing to remove him.

Section 5. Vacancies. Vacancies in the board of directors may be filled by vote of a majority of the remaining directors elected by that class of stockholders which elected the director whose office has been vacated or, if not yet so filled, by majority vote of the class of stockholders which elected the director whose office has been vacated.

Section 6. Regular Meetings. Regular meetings of the board of directors may be held at such times and places within or without the Commonwealth of Massachusetts as the board of directors may fix from time to time and, when so fixed, no notice thereof need be given. The first meeting of the board of directors following the annual meeting of the stockholders shall be held without notice immediately after and at the same place as the annual meeting of the stockholders or the special meeting held in lieu thereof. If in any year a meeting of the board of directors is not held at such time and place, any elections to be held or business to be transacted at such meeting may be held or transacted at any later meeting of the board of directors with the same force and effect as if held or transacted at such meeting.

Section 7. Special Meetings. Special meetings of the board of directors may be called at any time by the president or secretary (or, if there be no secretary, the clerk) or by any director. Such special meetings may be held anywhere within or without the Commonwealth of Massachusetts. A written, printed or telegraphic notice stating the place, date and hour (but not necessarily the purposes) of the meeting shall be given by the secretary or an assistant secretary (or, if there be no secretary or assistant secretary, the clerk or an assistant clerk) or by the officer or director calling the meeting at least forty-eight (48) hours before such meeting to each director by leaving such notice with him or at his residence or usual place of business or by mailing it, postage prepaid, or sending it by prepaid telegram, addressed to him at his last known address. No notice of the place, date or hour of any meeting of the board of directors need be given to any director if a written waiver of such notice, executed by him before or after the meeting, is filed with the records of the meeting, or to any director who attends the meeting without protesting prior thereto or at its commencement the lack of notice to him.

Section 8. Action at a Meeting. At any meeting of the board of directors, a majority of the directors then in office shall constitute a quorum. Though less than a quorum be present, any meeting may without further notice be adjourned to a subsequent date or until a quorum be had. When a quorum is present at any meeting a majority of the directors present may take any action on behalf of the board except to the extent that a larger number is required by law, by the articles or organization or by these by-laws.

Section 9. Action Without a Meeting. Any action required or permitted to be taken at any meeting of the directors may be taken without a meeting if all the directors consent to the action in writing and the written consents are filed with the records of the meetings of the directors. Such consents shall be treated for all purposes as a vote at a meeting.

Section 10. Powers. The board of directors shall have and may exercise all the powers of the corporation, except such as by law, by the articles of organization or by these by-laws are conferred upon or reserved to the stockholders. In the event of any vacancy in the board of directors, the remaining directors then in office, except as otherwise provided by law, shall have and may exercise all of the powers of the board of directors until the vacancy is filled.

Section 11. Committees. The board of directors may elect from the board an executive committee or one or more other committees and may delegate to any such committee or committees any or all of the powers of the board except those which by law, by the articles of organization or by these by-laws may not be so delegated. Such committees shall serve at the pleasure of the board of directors. Except as the board of directors may otherwise determine, each such committee may make rules for the conduct of its business, but, unless otherwise determined by the board or in such rules, its business shall be conducted as nearly as may be as is provided in these by-laws for the conduct of the business of the board of directors.

Section 12. Meeting by Telecommunications. Members of the board of directors or any committee elected thereby may participate in a meeting of such board of committee by means of a conference telephone or similar communications equipment by means of which all persons participating in a meeting can hear each other at the same time and participation by such means shall constitute presence in person at the meeting.

ARTICLE III

Officers

Section 1. Enumeration. The officers of the corporation shall consist of a president, a treasurer and a clerk and such other officers, including without limitation a chairman of the board of directors, a secretary and one or more vice presidents, assistant treasurers, assistant clerks and assistant secretaries, as the board of directors may from time to time determine.

Section 2. Qualifications. No officer need be a stockholder or a director. The same person may hold at the same time one or more offices unless otherwise provided by law. The clerk shall be a resident of Massachusetts unless the corporation shall have a resident agent. Any officer may be required by the board of directors to give a bond for the faithful performance of his duties in such form and with such sureties as the board may determine.

Section 3. Elections. The president, treasurer and clerk shall be elected annually by the board of directors at its first meeting following the annual meeting of the stockholders. All other officers shall be chosen or appointed by the board of directors.

Section 4. Term. Except as otherwise provided by law, by the articles of organization or by these by-laws, the president, treasurer and clerk shall hold office until the first meeting of the board of directors following the next annual meeting of the stockholders and until their respective successors are chosen and qualified. All other officers shall hold office until the first meeting of the board of directors following the next annual meeting of the stockholders, unless a shorter time is specified in the vote choosing or appointing such officer or officers.

Section 5. Resignations. Any officer may resign by delivering his written resignation to the corporation at its principal office or to the president or clerk, or, if there be one, to the secretary. Such resignation shall be effective at the time or upon the happening of the condition, if any, specified therein or, if no such time or condition is specified, upon its receipt.

Section 6. Removal. Any officer may be removed from office with or without cause by vote of a majority of the directors then in office. An officer may be removed for cause only after a reasonable notice and opportunity to be heard before the board of directors.

Section 7. Vacancies. Vacancies in any office may be filled by the board of directors.

Section 8. Certain Duties and Powers. The officers designated below, subject at all times to these by-laws and to the direction and control of the board of directors, shall have and may exercise the respective duties and powers set forth below:

The Chairman of the Board of Directors. The chairman of the board of directors, if there be one, shall, when present, preside at all meetings of the board of directors.

The President. The president shall be the chief executive officer of the corporation and shall have general operating charge of its business. Unless otherwise prescribed by the board of directors, he shall, when present, preside at all meetings of the stockholders, and, if a director, at all meetings of the board of directors unless there be a chairman of the board of directors who is present at the meeting.

The Treasurer. The treasurer shall be the chief financial officer of the corporation and shall cause to be kept accurate books of account.

The Clerk. The clerk shall keep a record of all proceedings of the stockholders and, if there be no secretary, shall also keep a record of all proceedings of the board of directors. In the absence of the clerk from any meeting of the stockholders or, if there be no secretary, from any meeting of the board of directors, an assistant clerk, if there be one, otherwise a clerk pro tempore designated by the person presiding at the meeting, shall perform the duties of the clerk at such meeting.

The Secretary. The secretary, if there be one, shall keep a record of all proceedings of the board of directors. In the absence of the secretary, if there be one, from any meeting of the board of directors, an assistant secretary, if there be one, otherwise a secretary pro tempore designated by the person presiding at the meeting, shall perform the duties of the secretary at such meeting.

Section 9. Other Duties and Powers. Each officer, subject at all times to these by-laws and to the direction and control of the board of directors, shall have and may exercise, in addition to the duties and powers specifically set forth in these by-laws, such duties and powers as are prescribed by law, such duties and powers as are commonly incident to his office and such duties and powers as the board of directors may from time to time prescribe.

ARTICLE IV

Capital Stock

Section 1. Amount and Issuance. The total number of shares and the par value, if any, of each class of stock which the corporation is authorized to issue shall be stated in the articles of organization. The directors may at any time issue all or from time to time any part of the unissued capital stock of the corporation from time to time authorized under the articles of organization, and may determine, subject to any requirements of law, the consideration for which stock is to be issued and the manner of allocating such consideration between capital and surplus.

Section 2. Certificates. Each stockholder shall be entitled to a certificate or certificates stating the number and the class and the designation of the series, if any, of the shares held by him, and otherwise in form approved by the board of directors. Such certificate or certificates shall be signed by the president or a vice president and by the treasurer or an assistant treasurer. Such signatures may be facsimiles if the certificate is signed by a transfer agent, or by a registrar, other than a director, officer or employee of the corporation. In case any officer who has signed or whose facsimile signature has been placed on such certificate shall have ceased to be such officer before such certificate is issued, it may be issued by the corporation with the same effect as if he were such officer at the time of its issue.

Every certificate issued for shares of stock at a time when such shares are subject to any restriction on transfer pursuant to the articles of organization, these by-laws or any agreement to which the corporation is a party shall have the restriction noted conspicuously on the certificate and shall also set forth on the face or back of the certificate either (i) the full text of the restriction or (ii) a statement of the existence of such restriction and a statement that the corporation will furnish a copy thereof to the holder of such certificate upon written request and without charge.

Every certificate issued for shares of stock at a time when the corporation is authorized to issue more than one class or series of stock shall set forth on the face or back of the certificate either (i) the full text of the preferences, voting powers, qualifications and special and relative rights of the shares of each class and series, if any, authorized to be issued, as set forth in the articles of organization or (ii) a statement of the existence of such preferences, powers, qualifications and rights and a statement that the corporation will furnish a copy thereof to the holder of such certificate upon written request and without charge.

Section 3. Transfers. The board of directors may make such rules and regulations not inconsistent with the law, with the articles of organization or with these by-laws as it deems expedient relative to the issue, transfer and registration of stock certificates. The board of directors may appoint a transfer agent and a registrar of transfers or either and require all stock certificates to bear their signatures. Except as otherwise provided by law, by the articles of organization or by these by-laws, the corporation shall be entitled to treat the record holder of any shares of stock as shown on the books of the corporation as the holder of such shares for all purposes, including the right to receive notice of and to vote at any meeting of stockholders and the right to receive any dividend or other distribution in respect of such shares.

Section 4. Record Date. The board of directors may fix in advance a time, which shall be not more than sixty (60) days before the date of any meeting of stockholders or the date for the payment of any dividend or the making of any distribution to stockholders or the last day on which the consent or dissent of stockholders may be effectively expressed for any purpose, as the record date for determining the stockholders having the right to notice of and to vote at such meeting and any adjournment thereof or the right to receive such dividend or distribution or the right to give such consent or dissent, and in such case only stockholders of record on such record date shall have such right, notwithstanding any transfer of stock on the books of the corporation after the record date.

Section 5. Lost Certificates. The board of directors may, except as otherwise provided by law, determine the conditions upon which a new certificate of stock may be issued in place of any certificate alleged to have been lost, mutilated or destroyed.

ARTICLE V

Miscellaneous provisions

Section 1. Fiscal Year. The fiscal year of the corporation shall begin on the first day of January in each year and end on the last day of December next following.

Section 2. Corporate Seal. The seal of the corporation shall be in such form as shall be determined from time to time by the board of directors.

Section 3. Corporation Records. The original, or attested copies, of the articles of organization, by-laws and records of all meetings of the incorporators and stockholders, and the stock and transfer records, which shall contain the names of all stockholders and the record address and the amount of stock held by each, shall be kept in the Commonwealth of Massachusetts at the principal office of the corporation in said Commonwealth or at an office of the transfer agent or of its clerk or of its resident agent, if any. Said copies and records need not all be kept in the same office. They shall be available at all reasonable times to inspection by any stockholder for any proper purpose but not if the purpose for which such inspection is sought is to secure a list of stockholders or other information for the purpose of selling said list or information or copies thereof or of using the same for a purpose other than the interest of the applicant, as a stockholder, relative to the affairs of the corporation.

Section 4. Voting of Securities. Except as the board of directors may otherwise prescribe, the president or the treasurer shall have full power and authority in the name and on behalf of the corporation, subject to the instructions of the board of directors, to waive notice of, to attend, act and vote at, and to appoint any person or persons to act as proxy or attorney in fact for this corporation (with or without power of substitution) at any meeting of stockholders or shareholders of any other corporation or organization, the securities of which may be held by this corporation.

ARTICLE VI

Amendments

These by-laws may be amended or repealed at any annual or special meeting of the stockholders by the affirmative vote of a majority of the shares of capital stock then issued, outstanding and entitled to vote provided notice of the proposed amendment or repeal is given in the notice of the meeting. No change in the date fixed in these by-laws for the annual meeting of the stockholders shall be made within sixty (60) days before such date, and notice of any change in such date shall be given to all stockholders at least twenty (20) days before the new date fixed for such meeting.

If authorized by the articles of incorporation, these by-laws may also be amended or repealed in whole or in part, or new by-laws made, by the board of directors except with respect to any provision hereof which by-law, the articles of organization or these by-laws requires action by the stockholders. Not later than the time of giving notice of the meeting of stockholders next following the making, amendment or repeal by the directors of any by-laws, notice thereof stating the substance of such change shall be given to all stockholders entitled to vote on amending the by-laws. Any by-law to be made, amended or repealed by the directors may be amended or repealed by the stockholders.

RESOLUTE ACQUISITION CORPORATION

ARTICLE ONE
Name, Duration, and Character of Business

The name of the corporation is Resolute Acquisition Corporation (hereinafter referred to as the "Corporation"). The duration of the Corporation shall be perpetual. The purpose for which the Corporation is organized is to provide behavioral healthcare and educational services and to transact any and all lawful business for which corporations may be incorporated under the laws of the State of Indiana, as may be amended from time to time.

ARTICLE TWO
Authorized Shares

The Corporation shall have authority to be exercised by the Board of Directors to issue not more than five hundred thousand (500,000) shares of capital stock, with no par value, all of which shall be designated "Common Stock." The Common Stock shall have unlimited voting rights and shall be entitled to receive the net assets of the Corporation upon dissolution.

ARTICLE THREE
Registered Office and Agent

The registered office of the Corporation, at the time of this filing, is located at 36 South Pennsylvania Street, Indianapolis, Indiana 46204. The registered agent of the Corporation at its registered office, at the time of this filing, is CT Corporation System.

ARTICLE FOUR

The name and address of the incorporator is as follows: John Little, 1705 Capital of Texas Highway South, Fifth Floor, Austin, Texas 78746.

ARTICLE FIVE
Principal Office

The mailing address of the principal office of the Corporation, at the time of this filing, is 320 North Tibbs Avenue, Indianapolis, Indiana 46222.

ARTICLE SIX
Limitation of Liability

6.1 Limitation of Liability. No person shall be liable to the Corporation for any loss or damage suffered by the Corporation because of any action taken or not taken by such person in his or her capacity as a member of the Board of Directors of the Corporation in good faith and in reliance upon (1) financial statements of the Corporation represented to such person to be correct by the chief executive officer or the chief financial officer of the Corporation, (2) financial statements of the Corporation certified by independent public accountants or independent certified public accountants fairly to present the financial condition of the Corporation in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles, (3) opinions of legal counsel to the Corporation, or (4) opinions of any engineers, appraisers or other experts whose professions give authority to the opinions so expressed by them. This section shall not be construed to subject any such person to liability to the Corporation for loss or damage suffered by the Corporation because of any other action taken or not taken by such person for which such person would not otherwise be liable to the Corporation under applicable common and statutory law.

6.2 Future Modification. Any repeal or modification of the provisions of this Article by the shareholders of the Corporation shall be prospective only, and shall not adversely affect any limitation on the liability of a director of the Corporation with respect to any act or omission prior to the effective date of such repeal or modification.

ARTICLE SEVEN
Indemnification

7.1 Definitions. Terms defined in Chapter 37 of the Indiana Business Corporation Law (Ind. Code §§ 23-1-37-1, et seq.) which arc used in this Article 7 shall have the same definitions for purposes of this Article 7 as they have in such chapter of the Indiana Business Corporation Law.

7.2 Indemnification of Directors and Officers. The Corporation shall indemnity any person made or threatened to he made a party to any action, suit, or proceeding, whether civil or criminal, administrative or investigative, and whether formal or informal, by reason of the fact that he or she, his or her testator, or his or her intestate is or was a director or officer of the Corporation or of any corporation, limited liability company, partnership, joint venture, trust, employee benefit plan or other enterprise, whether or not for profit, which he or she served as such at the request of the Corporation (any such person made or threatened to be made such a party is hereinafter termed a "Qualifying Person"), against liability and the reasonable expenses, including attorneys' fees, actually incurred by him or her in connection with such action, suit, or proceeding, or in connection with any appeal therein, if: (i) his or her conduct was in good faith: (ii) he or she reasonably believed (a) in the case of conduct in his or her official capacity with the Corporation, that his or her conduct was in the Corporation's best interests, and (b) in all other cases, that his or her conduct was at least not opposed to the Corporation's best interests: and (iii) in the case of any criminal proceeding, he or she (a) had reasonable cause to believe his or her conduct was lawful, or (b) had no reasonable cause to believe his or her conduct was unlawful.

The Corporation shall pay for or reimburse the reasonable expenses incurred by a Qualifying Person in advance of final disposition of any such action, suit, or proceeding if the following occur: (i) the Qualifying Person furnishes to the Corporation a written affirmation of his or her good faith belief that he or she has met the standard of conduct necessary for indemnification described in this Section 7.2 (the "Standard"); (ii) he or she furnishes the Corporation a written undertaking executed by him or her to repay any such advance if it is ultimately determined that he or she did not meet the Standard; and (iii) a determination is made that the facts then known to those making the determination would not preclude indemnification under this Section 7.2.

7.3 Other Employees or Agents of the Corporation. The Corporation may, in the discretion of the Board of Directors, fully or partially provide the same rights of indemnification and reimbursement as hereinabove provided for directors and officers of the Corporation to other individuals who are or were employees or agents of the Corporation or who are or were serving at the request of the Corporation as employees or agents of another corporation, limited liability company, partnership, joint venture, trust, employee benefit plan or other entity whether or not for profit.

7.4 Non-Exclusive Provision. The indemnification authorized under this Article 7 is in addition to all rights to indemnification granted by Chapter 37 of the Indiana Business Corporation Law (Ind. Code §§ 23-1-37-1, et seq.) and in no way limits the indemnification provisions of such Chapter.

ARTICLE EIGHT
Constituency Considerations

In discharging the duties of their respective positions and in determining what is believed to be in the best interests of the Corporation, the Board of Directors, committees of the Board of Directors, and individual directors, in addition to considering the effects of any action on the Corporation or its shareholders, may consider the interests of the employees, customers, suppliers, and creditors of the Corporation and its subsidiaries, the communities in which offices or other establishments of the Corporation and its subsidiaries are located, and all other factors such directors consider pertinent; provided, however, that this Article shall be deemed solely to grant discretionary authority to the directors and shall not be deemed to provide to any constituency any right to be considered.

ARTICLE NINE
Board of Directors

The Board of Directors, at the time of this filing, consists of one member whose name and address is as follows: Kevin P. Shechan, 1705 Capital of Texas Highway South, Fifth Floor. Austin, Texas 78746, who shall serve until a successor is duly elected and qualified.

ARTICLE TEN
Shareholder Action

Meetings of the shareholders of the Corporation shall be held at such place within or without the State of Indiana, as may be specified in the respective notices of such meeting. Any action which may be taken at a meeting of the shareholders may be taken without a meeting if, prior to such action, a consent in writing setting forth the action so taken shall be signed by all of the shareholders entitled to vote with respect to the subject matter thereof, in accordance with Indiana Code § 23-1-29-4, as amended, and such written consent is filed with the minutes of the proceedings of the shareholders.

RESOLUTE ACQUISITION CORPORATION

BYLAWS

Adopted as of March 31, 2003

Corporate Bylaws

Article I. Definitions

1.01 Code

The Code means the applicable titles, parts, chapters, sections, and other divisions of the Indiana Business Corporation Law, Indiana Code § 23-1-17-1 et seq., governing the formation and operation of corporations in the State of Indiana.

1.02 Record Date

Record Date means the date established under the Code on which the Corporation determines the identity of its shareholders and their shareholdings. Such determination shall be made as of the close of business on the Record Date unless another time for doing so is specified when the Record Date is fixed.

1.03 Voting Group

Voting Group means all shares of one or more classes or series that under the articles of incorporation or the Code are entitled to vote and be counted together collectively on a matter at a meeting of the shareholders. All shares entitled by the articles of incorporation or the Code to vote generally on the matter are for that purpose a single Voting Group.

1.04 Corporation

Corporation means Resolute Acquisition Corporation, and includes any domestic or foreign predecessor entity of the Corporation in a merger or other transaction in which the predecessor’s existence ceased upon consummation of the transaction.

Article II. Offices and Agents

2.01 Registered Office and Agent

The Corporation shall maintain a registered office and have a registered agent, whose business office address is identical to that of the registered office, in the State of Indiana and in each state in which the Corporation is qualified to do business.

2.02 Other Offices

In addition to its registered office, the Corporation may have offices at any other place or places, within or without the State of Indiana, as the Board of Directors may from time to time select or as the business of the Corporation may require or make desirable.

Article III. Meetings of the Shareholders

3.01 Annual Meetings

An annual meeting of the shareholders shall be held for the election of directors at such date, time, and place, either within or without the State of Indiana, as may be designated by resolution of the Board of Directors from time to time. Such resolution shall designate the date, time, and place of the meeting. Any other proper business may be transacted at the annual meeting. If an annual meeting is not held as provided in this Section 3.01, any business, including the election of directors, that might properly have been acted upon at that meeting may be acted upon at a special meeting in lieu of the annual meeting held pursuant to these bylaws or held pursuant to a court order.

3.02 Special Meetings

Special meetings of the shareholders may be called for any purpose or purposes at any time by the Board of Directors, or by the President of the Corporation, or by a Committee of the Board of Directors that has been duly designated and authorized by resolution of the Board of Directors to call such meetings. In addition, the Board of Directors shall call such a meeting upon the written request of shareholders holding at least twenty percent (20%) of all the votes entitled to be cast on the issue or issues proposed to be considered at the requested special meeting.

3.03 Quorum

With respect to shares entitled to vote as a separate Voting Group on a matter at a meeting of shareholders, the presence, in person or by proxy, of a majority of the votes entitled to be cast on the matter by the Voting Group shall constitute a quorum of that Voting Group for action on that matter unless the articles of incorporation or the Code provide otherwise. Once a share is represented for any purpose at a meeting, other than solely to object to holding the meeting or to transacting business at the meeting, it is deemed present for quorum purposes for the remainder of the meeting and for any adjournment of the meeting unless a new Record Date is or must be set for the adjourned meeting pursuant to Section 1.02, governing the fixing of the Record Date with regard to shareholder action.

3.04 Adjournment and Reconvention

Whether or not a quorum is present to organize a meeting, any meeting of shareholders may be adjourned by the holders of a majority of the voting shares represented at the meeting to reconvene at a specific time and place, but no later than 120 days after the date fixed for the original meeting unless the requirements of the Code concerning the selection of a new Record Date have been met. At any reconvened meeting within that time period, any business may be transacted that could have been transacted at the meeting that was adjourned.

3.05 Presiding Officer

The President shall serve as the Presiding Officer of every meeting of shareholders unless another person is elected by the shareholders to serve as Presiding Officer at the meeting. The Presiding Officer shall appoint any persons he deems required to assist with the meeting.

3.06 Vote Required for Action

If a quorum exists, action on a matter (other than the election of directors) by a voting group is approved if the votes cast within the voting group favoring the action exceed the votes cast opposing the action, unless the articles of incorporation, provisions of these bylaws validly adopted by the shareholders, or the Code requires a greater number of affirmative votes. If the articles of incorporation or the Code provide for voting by two or more Voting Groups on a matter, action on that matter is taken only when voted upon by each of those Voting Groups counted separately. Action may be taken by one Voting Group on a matter even though no action is taken by another Voting Group entitled to vote on the matter. With regard to the election of directors, unless otherwise provided in the articles of incorporation, if a quorum exists, action on the election of directors is taken by a plurality of the votes cast by the shares entitled to vote in the election.

3.07 Shares Held by Another Corporation

Shares standing in the name of another corporation, domestic or foreign, may be voted by such officer, agent, or proxy as the bylaws of such other corporation may prescribe, or, in the absence of such a provision, as the board of directors of such other corporation may determine.

3.08 Method of Voting Shares

Unless the articles of incorporation or the Code provide otherwise, each outstanding share having voting rights shall be entitled to one vote on each matter submitted to a vote at a meeting of the shareholders. Voting on all matters shall be by voice vote or by show of hands unless any qualified voter, prior to the voting on any matter, demands vote by ballot, in which case each ballot shall state the name of the shareholder voting and the number of shares voted by him, and if the ballot be cast by proxy, it shall also state the name of the proxy.

3.09 Proxies

A shareholder entitled to vote on a matter may vote in person or by proxy pursuant to an appointment of proxy executed in writing by the shareholder or by his duly authorized attorney-in-fact. An appointment of proxy shall be valid for only one meeting to be specified therein, and any adjournments of such meeting, but shall not be valid for more than eleven months unless expressly provided therein. Appointments of proxy shall be dated and filed with the records of the meeting to which they relate. If the validity of any appointment of proxy is questioned, it must be submitted to the secretary of the meeting of shareholders for examination or to a proxy officer or committee appointed by the meeting's presiding officer. The secretary of the meeting or, if appointed, the proxy officer or committee, shall determine the validity or invalidity of any appointment of proxy submitted for examination. Reference in the minutes of the meeting by the secretary or, if appointed, the proxy officer or committee, as to the regularity of an appointment of proxy shall be received as prima facie evidence of the facts stated for the purpose of establishing the presence of a quorum at the meeting and for all other purposes.

3.10 Action Without a Meeting

Any action required or permitted to be taken at a meeting of the shareholders, may be taken without a meeting if the action is taken by all shareholders entitled to vote on the action. The action without a meeting must be evidenced by one or more written consents describing the action taken, signed by all the shareholders entitled to take action without a meeting, and delivered to the Corporation for inclusion in the minutes or filing with the records of the Corporation. The Corporation shall give written notice of actions so taken.

3.11 Notice

Unless waived as contemplated in these bylaws, a notice of each meeting of shareholders, stating the date, time, and place of the meeting shall be given not less than ten (10) days nor more than sixty (60) days before the date thereof, to each shareholder entitled to vote at that meeting. In the case of an annual meeting, the notice need not state the purpose or purposes of the meeting unless the articles of incorporation or the Code require otherwise. In the case of a special meeting, including a special meeting in lieu of an annual meeting, the notice of meeting shall state the purpose or purposes for which the meeting is called.

Article IV. Board of Directors

4.01 Powers

All corporate powers, which are lawful and do not violate any legal agreement among shareholders and which are not prohibited by the articles of incorporation or these bylaws, shall be exercised by or under the authority of, and the business and affairs of the Corporation shall be managed under, the direction of the Board of Directors. The Board of Directors may, by resolution, vote any shares of stock owned by the Corporation. Also, the Board of Directors from time to time in its discretion may authorize or declare distributions or share dividends in accordance with the Code.

4.02 Number

The number and composition of the Corporation's Board of Directors shall initially be that which is specified in the articles of incorporation. If the articles of incorporation do not specify the number and composition of the Board of Directors, then the Board of Directors shall consist of one member, the President of the Corporation. Thereafter, the number and composition of the Board of Directors may be changed from time to time by an action of the shareholders.

4.03 Election

Except as provided for in Section 4.06, addressing vacancies in the Board of Directors, the directors shall be elected by a vote of the shareholders at each annual meeting of shareholders or special meeting in lieu of the annual meeting.

4.04 Term of Office

Except in the case of death, written resignation, retirement, disqualification, or removal, each director shall serve until the next succeeding annual meeting or special meeting in lieu of an annual meeting and thereafter until his successor is elected and qualifies or until the number of directors is decreased.

4.05 Removal

One or more directors may be removed from office with or without cause by the shareholders by a majority of the votes entitled to be cast. If the director was elected by a Voting Group, only the shareholders of that Voting Group may participate in the vote to remove him. Removal action may be taken at any meeting of shareholders with respect to which the notice stated that the purpose, or one of the purposes, of the meeting is removal of the director, and a removed director's successor may be elected at the same meeting.

4.06 Vacancies

A vacancy occurring in the Board of Directors, other than by reason of an increase in the number of directors, shall be filled for the unexpired term by the first to take action of (a) the shareholders or (b) the Board of Directors, and if the directors remaining in office constitute fewer than a quorum of the Board of Directors, they may fill the vacancy by the affirmative vote of a majority of all the directors remaining in office. If the vacant office was held by a director elected by a Voting Group, only the holders of shares of that Voting Group or the remaining directors elected by that Voting Group are entitled to vote to fill the vacancy. A vacancy occurring in the Board of Directors by reason of an increase in the number of directors shall be filled in like manner as any other vacancy, but, if filled by action of the Board of Directors, shall only be for a term of office continuing until the next election of directors by the shareholders and until the election and qualification of a successor.

4.07 Committees

The Board of Directors, by resolution, may designate from among its members an executive committee and one or more other committees, each consisting of one or more directors all of whom serve at the pleasure of the Board of Directors. Except as limited by the Code, each committee shall have the authority set forth in the resolution establishing the committee. The provisions of these bylaws as to the Board of Directors and its deliberations shall be applicable to any committee of the Board of Directors. All decisions and actions of any committee created by these bylaws or resulting from the authority granted by these bylaws, shall be subject to the discretionary review and approval of the Board of Directors.

4.08 Compensation

Unless the articles of incorporation provide otherwise, the Board of Directors may determine from time to time the compensation, if any, directors may receive for their services as directors. A director may also serve the Corporation in a capacity other than that of director and receive compensation, as determined by the Board of Directors, for services rendered in such other capacity.

Article V. Meetings of the Board of Directors

5.01 Regular Meetings

Regular meetings of the Board of Directors shall be held immediately after the annual meeting of shareholders or a special meeting in lieu of the annual meeting. In addition, the Board of Directors may schedule other meetings to occur at regular intervals throughout the year.

5.02 Special Meetings

Special meetings of the Board of Directors may be called by or at the request of the President of the Corporation, by the sole director of the Board of Directors or, if the Board consists of more than one director, by any two directors in office at that time.

5.03 Quorums

Unless a greater number is required by the articles of incorporation, these bylaws, or the Code, a quorum of the Board of Directors consists of a majority of the total number of directors.

5.04 Adjournments

Whether or not a quorum is present to organize a meeting, any meeting of directors (including an adjourned meeting) may be adjourned by a majority of the directors present to reconvene at a specific time and place. At any reconvened meeting, any business may be transacted that could have been transacted at the meeting that was adjourned. It shall not be necessary to give any notice of the reconvened meeting or of the business to be transacted, if the date, time and place of the reconvened meeting are announced at the meeting that was adjourned.

5.05 Action Without a Meeting

Unless the Code, the articles of incorporation, or these bylaws provide otherwise, any action required or permitted to be taken at any meeting of the Board of Directors, or any action that may be taken at a meeting of an authorized committee of the Board of Directors, may be taken without a meeting if the action is taken by all the members of the Board of Directors (or of the committee, as the case may be). The action must be evidenced by one or more written consents describing the action taken, signed by each director (or each director serving on the committee, as the case may be), and delivered to the Corporation for inclusion in the minutes or filing with the records of the Corporation.

5.06 Meetings by Telephone

Any or all directors may participate in a meeting of the Board of Directors, and members of an authorized committee of the Board of Directors may participate in a meeting of the committee (as the case may be), through the use of any means of communication by which all directors participating may simultaneously hear each other during the meeting.

5.07 Place of Meetings

Directors may hold their meetings at any place within or without the State of Indiana, as the Board of Directors may from time to time establish for regular meetings or as set forth in the notice of special meetings or, in the event of a meeting held pursuant to waiver of notice, as set forth in the waiver.

5.08 Notice of Meetings

No notice shall be required for any regularly scheduled meeting of the directors. Unless waived as contemplated in these bylaws, each director shall be given at least five day's notice of each special meeting stating the date, time, and place of the meeting. It is not required that the purpose of a directors' meeting be stated in any notice of such a meeting, whether the meeting is a regular or a special meeting.

5.09 Vote Required for Action

If a quorum is present when a vote is taken, the affirmative vote of a majority of directors present is the act of the Board of Directors unless the Code, the articles of incorporation, or these bylaws require the vote of a greater number of directors.

A director who is present at a meeting of the Board of Directors, or an authorized committee of the Board of Directors, when corporate action is taken is deemed to have assented to the action taken unless:

(i) he objects at the beginning of the meeting (or promptly upon his arrival) to holding the meeting or to transacting business at the meeting,

(ii) his dissent or abstention from the action taken is entered in the minutes of the meeting, or

(iii) he delivers written notice of his dissent or abstention to the presiding officer of the meeting before its adjournment or to the Corporation immediately after adjournment of the meeting.

The right of dissent or abstention is not available to a director who votes in favor of the action taken.

Article VI. Shareholder and Director Notices

6.1 Delivery of Notice

Whenever these bylaws require notice to be given to any shareholder or director, the notice shall be given in accordance with this Section 6.1. Notice under these bylaws shall be in writing unless oral notice is reasonable under the circumstances. Any notice to directors may be written or oral. Notice may be communicated in person, by telephone, telegraph, teletype, other form of wire or wireless communication, or by mail or private carrier. If these forms of personal notice are impracticable, notice may be communicated by a newspaper of general circulation in the area where published, or by radio, television, or other form of public broadcast communication. Written notice to the shareholders, if in a comprehensible form, is effective when mailed, if mailed with first-class postage prepaid and correctly addressed to the shareholder's address shown in the Corporation's current record of shareholders.

6.2 When Effective

Except as otherwise provided in this Section 6.2, written notice, if in a comprehensible form, is effective at the earliest of the following:

(i) when received or when delivered, properly addressed, to the addressee's last known principal place of business or residence;

(ii) five days after deposit in the mail, as evidenced by the postmark, if mailed with first-class postage prepaid and correctly addressed, or

(iii) on the date shown on the return receipt, if sent by registered or certified mail, return receipt requested, and the receipt is signed by or on behalf of the addressee.

Oral notice is effective when communicated if communicated in a comprehensible manner.

In calculating time periods for notice, when a period of time measured in days, weeks, months, years, or other measurement of time is prescribed for the exercise of any privilege or the discharge of any duty, the first day shall not be counted but the last day shall be counted.

6.3 Waiver

A shareholder or director may waive any notice before or after the date and time stated in the notice. Except as provided in this Section 6.3, the waiver must be in writing, be signed by the shareholder or director entitled to the notice, and be delivered to the Corporation for inclusion in the minutes or filing with the records of the Corporation.

A shareholder's attendance at a meeting (i) waives objection to lack of notice or defective notice of the meeting, unless the shareholder at the beginning of the meeting objects to holding the meeting or transacting business at the meeting; and (ii) waives objection to consideration of a particular matter at the meeting that is not within the purpose or purposes described in the meeting notice, unless the shareholder objects to considering the matter when it is presented.

A director's attendance at or participation in a meeting waives any required notice to him of the meeting unless the director at the beginning of the meeting (or promptly upon his arrival) objects to holding the meeting or transacting business at the meeting and does not thereafter vote for or assent to action taken at the meeting.

Unless required by the Code, neither the business transacted nor the purpose of the meeting need be specified in the waiver.

6.4 Notice Following Adjournment

If notice of an adjourned meeting of the shareholders or of the directors was properly given, it shall not be necessary to give any notice of the reconvened meeting or of the business to be transacted, if the date, time and place of the reconvened meeting are announced at the meeting that was adjourned and before adjournment; provided, however, that if a new record date of shares is or must be fixed, notice of the reconvened meeting must be given to persons who are shareholders as of the new record date.

Article VII. Officers

7.01 Number

The officers of the Corporation shall consist of a Board Chairman, a President, a Secretary, a Treasurer, and any other officers as may be appointed by the Board of Directors or by another duly appointed officer pursuant to these bylaws. The Board of Directors shall from time to time create and establish the duties of the other officers. Any two or more offices may be held by the same person.

7.02 Board Chairman

The Board Chairman shall preside at all meetings of the Board of Directors and shall have authority to execute bonds, mortgages, and other contracts requiring a seal, under the seal of the Corporation; to endorse, when sold, assigned, transferred, or otherwise disposed of by the Corporation, all certificates or shares of stock, bonds, or other securities issued by other corporations, associations, trusts, whether public or private, or by any government agency thereof, and owned or held by the Corporation, and to make, execute, and deliver all instruments or assignments of transfer of any such stocks, bonds, or other securities. The Board Chairman may, with the approval of the Board of Directors, or shall, at the direction of the Board of Directors, delegate any or all of such duties to the President.

7.03 President

The President shall be the Chief Executive Officer of the Corporation and shall have general supervision of the business of the Corporation. The President shall see that all orders and resolutions of the Board of Directors are carried into effect. The President shall perform such other duties as may from time to time be delegated by the Board of Directors. In the absence of the Board Chairman, the President shall have authority to do any and all things delegated to the Board Chairman.

7.04 Vice President

In the absence or disability of the President, or at the direction of the President, the Vice President, if any, shall perform the duties and exercise the powers of the President. If the Corporation has more than one Vice President, the one designated by the Board of Directors shall act in lieu of the President. Vice Presidents shall perform whatever duties and have whatever powers the Board of Directors may from time to time assign.

7.05 Secretary

The Secretary shall be responsible for preparing minutes of the acts and proceedings of all meetings of the shareholders, the Board of Directors, and any Committees thereof. The Secretary shall have authority to give all notices required by the Code or these bylaws. The Secretary shall be responsible for the custody of the corporate books, records, contracts, and other documents. The Secretary may affix the corporate seal to any lawfully executed documents and shall sign any instruments as may require his or her signature. The Secretary shall authenticate records of the Corporation. The Secretary shall perform whatever additional duties and have whatever additional powers the Board of Directors may from time to time assign. In the absence or disability of the Secretary or at the direction of the President, any assistant secretary may perform the duties and exercise the powers of the Secretary.

7.06 Treasurer

The Treasurer shall be responsible for the custody of all funds and securities belonging to the Corporation and for the receipt, deposit, or disbursement of funds and securities under the direction of the Board of Directors. The Treasurer shall cause to be maintained full and true accounts of all receipts and disbursements and shall make reports of the same to the Board of Directors and the President upon request. The Treasurer shall perform all duties as may be assigned to him from time to time by the Board of Directors.

7.07 Appointment, Term, and Removal

All officers shall be appointed by the Board of Directors or by a duly appointed officer pursuant to these bylaws and shall serve at the pleasure of the Board of Directors or the appointing officers, as the case may be. All officers, however appointed, may be removed with or without cause by the Board of Directors, and any officer appointed by another officer may also be removed by the appointing officer with or without cause.

7.08 Compensation

The compensation of all officers of the Corporation appointed by the Board of Directors shall be fixed by the Board of Directors.

7.09 Bonds

The Board of Directors may, by resolution, require any or all of the officers, agents, or employees of the Corporation to give bonds to the Corporation, with sufficient surety or sureties, conditioned on the faithful performance of the duties of their respective offices or positions, and to comply with any other conditions as from time to time may be required by the Board of Directors.

Article VIII. Indemnification

8.01 Definitions

Terms defined in Chapter 37 of the Indiana Business Corporation Law (Ind. Code §§ 23-1-37-1, et seq.) which are used in this Article 8 shall have the same definitions for purposes of this Article 8 as they have in such chapter of the Indiana Business Corporation Law.

8.02 Indemnification of Directors and Officers

The Corporation shall indemnify any person made or threatened to be made a party to any action, suit, or proceeding, whether civil or criminal, administrative or investigative, and whether formal or informal, by reason of the fact that he or she, his or her testator, or his or her intestate is or was a director or officer of the Corporation or of any corporation, limited liability company, partnership, joint venture, trust, employee benefit plan or other enterprise, whether or not for profit, which he or she served as such at the request of the Corporation (any such person made or threatened to be made such a party is hereinafter termed a “Qualifying Person”), against liability and the reasonable expenses, including attorneys’ fees, actually incurred by him or her in connection with such action, suit, or proceeding, or in connection with any appeal therein, if: (i) his or her conduct was in good faith; (ii) he or she reasonably believed (a) in the case of conduct in his or her official capacity with the Corporation, that his or her conduct was in the Corporation’s best interests, and (b) in all other cases, that his or her conduct was at least not opposed to the Corporation’s best interests; and (iii) in the case of any criminal proceeding, he or she (a) had reasonable cause to believe his or her conduct was lawful, or (b) had no reasonable cause to believe his or her conduct was unlawful.

The Corporation shall pay for or reimburse the reasonable expenses incurred by a Qualifying Person in advance of final disposition of any such action, suit, or proceeding if the following occur: (i) the Qualifying Person furnishes to the Corporation a written affirmation of his or her good faith belief that he or she has met the standard of conduct necessary for indemnification described in this Section 8.02 (the “Standard”); (ii) he or she furnishes the Corporation a written undertaking executed by him or her to repay any such advance if it is ultimately determined that he or she did not meet the Standard; and (iii) a determination is made that the facts then known to those making the determination would not preclude indemnification under this Section 8.02.

8.03 Other Employees or Agents of the Corporation

The Corporation may, in the discretion of the Board of Directors, fully or partially provide the same rights of indemnification and reimbursement as hereinabove provided for directors and officers of the Corporation to other individuals who are or were employees or agents of the Corporation or who are or were serving at the request of the Corporation as employees or agents of another corporation, limited liability company, partnership, joint venture, trust, employee benefit plan or other entity whether or not for profit.

8.04 Non-Exclusive Provision

The indemnification authorized under this Article VIII is in addition to all rights to indemnification granted by Chapter 37 of the Indiana Business Corporation Law (Ind. Code §§ 23-1-37-1, et seq.) and in no way limits the indemnification provisions of such Chapter.

8.05 Insurance

The Corporation may purchase and maintain insurance on behalf of an individual

(i) who is a director, officer, employee, or agent of the Corporation, or

(ii) who, while a director, officer, employee, or agent of the Corporation, serves at the Corporation's request as a director, officer, partner, trustee, employee or agent of another domestic or foreign corporation, partnership, joint venture, trust, employee benefit plan, or other entity

against liability asserted against or incurred by him or her in that capacity or arising from his or her status as a director, officer, employee, or agent, whether or not the Corporation would have power to indemnify or advance expenses to him or her against the same liability under these bylaws or the Code.

8.06 Witness Fees

Nothing in these bylaws shall limit the Corporation's power to pay or reimburse expenses incurred by a director or officer in connection with his or her appearance as a witness in a proceeding at a time when he or she is not a party.

8.07 Report to Shareholders

To the extent and in the manner required by the Code from time to time, if the Corporation indemnifies or advances expenses to a director or officer in connection with a proceeding by or in the right of the Corporation, the Corporation shall report the indemnification or advance to the shareholders.

8.08 Effect of Amendments

No amendment, modification, or rescission of these bylaws, or any provision of the bylaws, the effect of which would diminish the rights to indemnification or advancement of expenses as set forth herein shall be effective as to any person with respect to any action taken or omitted by such person prior to such amendment, modification or rescission.

Article IX. Stock Certificates

9.01 Authorization and Issuance

In accordance with the Code, the Board of Directors may authorize shares of any class or series provided for in the Corporation's Articles of Incorporation to be issued for any consideration valid under the provisions of the Code. To the extent provided in the Articles of Incorporation, the Board of Directors shall determine the preferences, limitations, and relative rights of the shares.

9.02 Form

The interest of each shareholder in the Corporation shall be evidenced by a certificate or certificates representing shares of the Corporation which shall be in such form as the Board of Directors from time to time may adopt. Share certificates shall be numbered consecutively, shall be in registered form, shall indicate the date of issuance, the name of the Corporation, that it is organized under the laws of the State of Indiana, the name of the shareholder, the number and class of shares, and the designation of the series, if any, represented by the certificate. Each certificate shall be signed by any one of the President, a Vice President, the Secretary, or the Treasurer. The corporate seal need not be affixed.

9.03 Registered Shareholders

Prior to due presentation for transfer of registration of its shares, the Corporation may treat the registered owner of the shares as the person exclusively entitled to vote the shares, to receive any share dividend or distribution with respect to the shares, and for all other purposes. The Corporation shall not be bound to recognize any equitable or other claim to or interest in the shares on the part of any other person, whether or not it shall have express or other notice thereof, except as otherwise provided by law.

9.04 Transfer of Shares

Transfers of shares shall be made upon the transfer books of the Corporation, kept at the principle office of the Corporation (or at the office of the transfer agent designated to transfer the shares, if any) only upon direction of the person named in the certificate, or by his or her attorney lawfully constituted in writing. Before a new certificate is issued, the old certificate shall be surrendered for cancellation or, in the case of a certificate alleged to have been lost, stolen, or destroyed, the requirements of the bylaw governing lost, stolen, or destroyed certificates shall have been met.

9.05 Record Date

For the purpose of determining shareholders entitled to notice of a shareholders' meeting, to demand a special meeting, to vote, or to take any other action, the Board of Directors may fix a future date as the Record Date, which date shall be not more than seventy (70) days prior to the date on which the particular action requiring a determination of shareholders is to be taken. A determination of shareholders entitled to notice of or to vote at a shareholders' meeting is effective for any adjournment of the meeting unless the Board of Directors fixes a new Record Date, which it must do if the meeting is adjourned to a date more than 120 days after the date fixed for the original meeting. If no Record Date is fixed by the Board of Directors, the Record Date shall be determined in accordance with the provisions of the Code.

For the purpose of determining shareholders entitled to a distribution (other than one involving a purchase, redemption, or other reacquisition of the Corporation's shares) or a share dividend, the Board of Directors may fix a date as the Record Date. If no Record Date is fixed by the Board of Directors, the Record Date shall be determined in accordance with the provisions of the Code.

9.06 Lost, Stolen, or Destroyed Certificates

Any person claiming a share certificate to be lost, stolen, or destroyed shall make an affidavit or affirmation of the fact in the manner required by the Board of Directors and, if the Board of Directors requires, shall give the Corporation a bond of indemnity in form and amount, and with one or more sureties satisfactory to the Board of Directors, as the Board of Directors may require, whereupon an appropriate new certificate may be issued in lieu of the one alleged to have been lost, stolen or destroyed.

Article X. Miscellaneous

10.01 Fiscal Year

The fiscal year of the Corporation shall be a twelve-month period, beginning January 1 and ending on December 31 each year, unless the Board of Directors, by resolution, fixes the fiscal year as another time period.

10.02 Corporate Seal

If the Board of Directors determines that there should be a corporate seal for the Corporation, it shall be in the form as the Board of Directors may from time to time determine.

10.03 Corporate Records

The Board of Directors shall have the power to determine which accounts, books, and records of the Corporation shall be opened to the inspection of the shareholders, except those as may by law specifically be made open to inspection. The Board of Directors shall have the power to fix reasonable rules and regulations not in conflict with the applicable law for the inspection of accounts, books, and records which by law or by determination of the Board of Directors shall be open to inspection.

10.04 Annual Financial Statements

In accordance with the Code, the Corporation shall prepare and provide to the shareholders such financial statements as may be required by the Code.

10.05 Contracts

The Board of Directors may authorize any officer or agent to enter into any contract or execute and deliver any instrument in the name of and on behalf of the Corporation and such authority may be general or confined to a specific instance; and unless so authorized by the Board of Directors, no officer, agent or employee shall have any power or authority to bind the Corporation by any contract or engagement or to pledge its credit or render it liable pecuniarily for any purposes or to any amount. However, all contracts and agreements into which the Corporation enters in the ordinary course of business operations may be executed by any officer of the Corporation or by any other employee of the Corporation designated by the President to execute such contracts and agreements. Notwithstanding any other provision of these bylaws, however, the President is hereby given authority to execute all written documents or instruments on behalf of the Corporation.

10.06 Checks and Other Instruments

All checks, drafts, notes, bonds, bills of exchange, and orders for the payment of money shall, unless otherwise directed by the Board of Directors or required by law, be signed by either the President or the Secretary. The Board of Directors may, however, designate one or more officers or employees of the Corporation, other than those named above, who may, in the name of the Corporation, execute drafts, checks, and orders for the payment of money in its behalf.

10.07 Amendments

The Board of Directors shall have the power to alter, amend, or repeal these bylaws or adopt new bylaws, but any bylaws adopted by the Board of Directors may be altered, amended, or repealed, and new bylaws adopted, by the shareholders. The shareholders may prescribe, by expressing in the action they take in adopting or amending any bylaw or bylaws, that the bylaw or bylaws so adopted or amended shall not be altered, amended or repealed by the Board of Directors.

10.08 Conflict with Articles of Incorporation or Law; Severability

In the event that any provision of these bylaws conflicts with any provision of the articles of incorporation, the articles of incorporation shall govern. In the event that any of the provisions of these bylaws (including any provision within a single section, subsection, division or sentence) is held by a court of competent jurisdiction to be invalid, void, or otherwise unenforceable, the remaining provisions of the bylaws shall remain enforceable to the fullest extent permitted by law.

Indemnification

Section 7.1. Definitions. Terms defined in Chapter 37 of the Indiana Business Corporation Law (Ind. Code §§ 23-1-37-1, et seq.) which are used in this Article 7 as they have in such Chapter of the Indiana Business Corporation Law.

Section 7.2. Indemnification of Directors and Officers. The Corporation shall indemnify any person made or threatened to be made a party to any action, suit, or proceeding, whether civil or criminal, administrative or investigative, and whether formal or informal, by reason of the fact that he or she, his or her testator, or his or her intestate is or was a director or officer of the Corporation or of any corporation, limited liability company, partnership, joint venture, trust, employee benefit plan or other enterprise, whether or not for profit, which he or she served as such at the request of the Corporation (any such person made or threatened to be made such a party is hereinafter termed a "Qualifying Person"), against liability and the reasonable expenses, including attorneys' fees, actually incurred by him or her in connection with such action, suit, or proceeding, or in connection with any appeal therein, if: (i) his or her conduct was in good faith; (ii) he or she reasonably believed (a) in the case of conduct in his or her official capacity with the Corporation, that his or her conduct was in the Corporation's best interests, and (b) in all other cases, that his or her conduct was at least not opposed to the Corporation's best interests; and (iii) in the case of any criminal proceeding, he or she (a) had reasonable cause to believe his or her conduct was lawful, or (b) had no reasonable cause to believe his or her conduct was unlawful.

Section 7.3. Other Employees Or Agents of the Corporation. The Corporation may, in the discretion of the Board of Directors, fully or partially provide the same rights of indemnification and reimbursement as hereinabove provided for directors and officers of the Corporation to other individuals who are or were employees or agents of the Corporation or who are or were serving at the request of the Corporation as employees or agents of another corporation, limited liability company, partnership, joint venture, trust, employee benefit plan or other entity whether or not for profit.

Section 7.4. Non-Exclusive Provision. The indemnification authorized under this Article 7 is in addition to all rights to indemnification granted by Chapter 37 of the Indiana Business Corporation Law (Ind. Code. §§ 23-1-37-1, et seq.) and in no way limits the indemnification provisions of such Chapter.

Section 7.5. Insurance. The Corporation may purchase and maintain insurance on behalf of an individual

(a) who is a director, officer, employee, or agent of the Corporation, or

(b) who, while a director, officer, employee, or agent of the Corporation, serves at the Corporation's request as a director, officer, partner, trustee, employee or agent of another domestic or foreign corporation, partnership, joint venture, trust, employee benefit plan, or other entity

against liability asserted against or incurred by him or her in that capacity or arising from his or her status as a director, officer, employee, or agent, whether or not the Corporation would have power to indemnify or advance expenses to him or her against the same liability under these Articles or the Code.

Section 7.6. Witness Fees. Nothing in these Articles shall limit the Corporation's power to pay or reimburse expenses incurred by a director or officer in connection with his or her appearance as a witness in a proceeding at a time when he or she is not a party.

Section 7.7. Report to Shareholders. To the extent and in the manner required by the Code from time to time, if the Corporation indemnifies or advances expenses to a director or officer in connection with a proceeding by or in the right of the Corporation, the Corporation shall report the indemnification or advance to the shareholders.

Section 7.8. Effect of Amendments. No amendment, modification, or rescission of these Articles, or any provision of the Articles, the effect of which would diminish the rights to indemnification or advancement of expenses as set forth herein shall be effective as to any person with respect to any action taken or omitted by such person prior to such amendment, modification or rescission.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the undersigned incorporator designated in Article 5 executes these Articles of Incorporation and hereby verifies subject to penalties of perjury that the facts contained herein are true.

Dated this 11th day of July, 2007.

OF

RESOURCE COMMUNITY BASED SERVICES, INC.

ARTICLE I

Records Pertaining to Share Ownership

Section 1.1. Recognition of Shareholders. Resource Community Based Services, Inc. (the "Corporation") is entitled to recognize a person registered on its books as the owner of shares of the Corporation as having the exclusive right to receive dividends and to vote those shares, notwithstanding any other person's equitable or other claim to, or interest in, those shares.

Section 1.2. Transfer of Shares. Shares are transferable only on the books of the Corporation, subject to any transfer restrictions imposed by the Articles of Incorporation, these Bylaws, or an agreement among shareholders and the Corporation. Shares may be so transferred upon presentation of the certificate representing the shares, endorsed by the appropriate person or persons, and accompanied by (a) reasonable assurance that those endorsements are genuine and effective, and (b) a request to register the transfer. Transfers of shares are otherwise subject to the provisions of the Indiana Business Corporation Law (the "Act") and Article 8.1 of the Indiana Uniform Commercial Code.

Section 1.3. Certificates. Each shareholder is entitled to a certificate signed (manually or in facsimile) by at least two officers of the Corporation, setting forth (a) the name of the Corporation and that it was organized under Indiana law, (b) the name of the person to whom issued, and (c) the number of shares represented. The Board of Directors shall prescribe the form of the certificate.

Section 1.4. Lost or Destroyed Certificates. A new certificate may be issued to replace a lost or destroyed certificate. Unless waived by the Board of Directors, the shareholder in whose name the certificate was issued shall make an affidavit or affirmation of the fact that his certificate is lost or destroyed, shall advertise the loss or destruction in such manner as the Board of Directors may require, and shall give the Corporation a bond of indemnity in the amount and form which the Board of Directors may prescribe.

ARTICLE II

Meetings of the Shareholders

Section 2.1. Annual Meetings. Annual meetings of the shareholders shall be held on the 2nd Friday in May of each year, or on such other date as may be designated by the Board of Directors.

Section 2.2. Special Meetings. Special meetings of the shareholders may be called from time to time by the Board of Directors. Special meetings of the shareholders shall be called upon delivery to the Secretary of the Corporation of one or more written demands for a special meeting of the shareholders describing the purposes of that meeting and signed and dated by the holders of at least twenty-five percent (25%) of all the votes entitled to be cast on any issue proposed to be considered at that meeting.

Section 2.3. Notice of Meetings. The Corporation shall deliver or mail written notice stating the date, time, and place of any shareholders' meeting and, in the case of a special shareholders' meeting or when otherwise required by law, a description of the purposes for which the meeting is called, to each shareholder of record entitled to vote at the meeting, at such address as appears in the records of the Corporation and at least ten (10), but no more than sixty (60), days before the date of the meeting. A shareholders' meeting shall be held at such place, either in or out of the State of Indiana, as may be specified by the Board of Directors in the respective notice for such meeting.

Section 2.4. Waiver of Notice. A shareholder may waive notice of any meeting, before or after the date and time of the meeting as stated in the notice, by delivering a signed waiver to the Corporation for inclusion in the minutes. A shareholder's attendance at any meeting, in person or by proxy (a) waives objection to lack of notice or defective notice of the meeting, unless the shareholder at the beginning of the meeting objects to holding the meeting or transacting business at the meeting, and (b) waives objection to consideration of a particular matter at the meeting that is not within the purposes described in the meeting notice, unless the shareholder objects to considering the matter when it is presented.

Section 2.5. Record Date. The Board of Directors may fix a record date, which may be a future date, for the purpose of determining the shareholders entitled to notice of a shareholders' meeting, to demand a special meeting, to vote, or to take any other action. A record date may not exceed seventy (70) days before the meeting or action requiring a determination of shareholders. If the Board of Directors does not fix a record date, the record date shall be the 10th day prior to the date of the meeting or other action.

Section 2.6. Voting by Proxy. A shareholder may appoint a proxy to vote or otherwise act for the shareholder pursuant to a written appointment form executed by the shareholder or the shareholder's duly authorized attorney-in-fact. An appointment of a proxy is effective when received by the Secretary or other officer or agent of the Corporation authorized to tabulate votes. The general proxy of a fiduciary is given the same effect as the general proxy of any other shareholder. A proxy appointment is valid for eleven (11) months unless otherwise expressly stated in the appointment form.

Section 2.7. Voting Lists. After a record date for a shareholders' meeting has been fixed, the Secretary shall prepare an alphabetical list of all shareholders entitled to notice of the meeting showing the address and number of shares held by each shareholder. The list shall be kept on file at the principal office of the Corporation or at a place identified in the meeting notice in the city where the meeting will be held. The list shall be available for inspection and copying by any shareholder entitled to vote at the meeting, or by the shareholder's agent or attorney authorized in writing, at any time during regular business hours, beginning five (5) business days before the date of the meeting through the meeting. The list shall also be made available to any shareholder, or to the shareholder's agent or attorney authorized in writing, at the meeting and any adjournment thereof. Failure to prepare or make available a voting list with respect to any shareholders' meeting shall not affect the validity of any action taken at such meeting.

Section 2.8. Quorum; Approval. At any meeting of shareholders, a majority of the votes entitled to be cast on a matter at the meeting constitutes a quorum. If a quorum is present when a vote is taken, action on a matter is approved if the action receives the affirmative vote of a majority of the votes entitled to be cast on the action, unless a greater number is required by law, the Articles of Incorporation, or these Bylaws.

Section 2.9. Action by Consent. Any action required or permitted to be taken at a shareholders' meeting may be taken without a meeting if the action is taken by all the shareholders entitled to vote on the action. The action must be evidenced by one or more written consents describing the action taken, signed by all shareholders entitled to vote on the action, and delivered to the Corporation for inclusion in the minutes. If not otherwise determined pursuant to Section 2.5, the record date for determining shareholders entitled to take action without a meeting is the date the first shareholder signs the consent to such action.

Section 2.10. Presence. Any or all shareholders may participate in any annual or special shareholders' meeting by, or through the use of, any means of communication by which all shareholders participating may simultaneously hear each other during the meeting. A shareholder so participating is deemed to be present in person at the meeting.

Section 2.11. Place of Meetings. Meetings of the shareholders of the Corporation shall be held at such place, either in or out of the State of Indiana, as may be specified by the Board of Directors.

ARTICLE III

Board of Directors

Section 3.1. Powers and Duties. All corporate powers are exercised by or under the authority of, and the business and affairs of the Corporation are managed under the direction of, the Board of Directors, unless otherwise provided in the Articles of Incorporation.

Section 3.2. Number and Terms of Office; Qualifications. The Corporation shall have one (1) director. Directors are elected at each annual shareholders' meeting and serve for a term expiring at the following annual shareholders' meeting. A director who has been removed pursuant to Section 3.3 ceases to serve immediately upon removal; otherwise, a director whose term has expired continues to serve until a successor is elected and qualifies or until there is a decrease in the number of directors. A person need not be a shareholder or an Indiana resident to qualify to be a director.

Section 3.3. Removal. Unless the Articles of Incorporation state otherwise, any director may be removed with or without cause either by action of the directors, or by action of the shareholders taken at a meeting that was called for the purpose of removing the director and the notice of which states that one of the purposes of the meeting is removal of the director.

Section 3.4. Vacancies. If a vacancy occurs on the Board of Directors, including a vacancy resulting from an increase in the number of directors, the Board of Directors may fill the vacancy. If the directors remaining in office constitute fewer than a quorum of the Board, the directors remaining in office may fill the vacancy by the affirmative vote of a majority of those directors. Any director elected to fill a vacancy holds office until the next annual meeting of the shareholders and until a successor is elected and qualifies.

Section 3.5. Annual Meetings. Unless otherwise agreed by the Board of Directors, the annual meeting of the Board of Directors shall be held immediately following the annual meeting of the shareholders, at the place where the meeting of shareholders was held, for the purpose of electing officers and considering any other business which may be brought before the meeting. Notice is not necessary for any annual meeting.

Section 3.6. Regular and Special Meetings. Regular meetings of the Board of Directors may be held pursuant to a resolution of the Board of Directors establishing a method for determining the date, time, and place of those meetings. Notice is not necessary for any regular meeting. Special meetings of the Board of Directors may be held upon the call of the President or of any director and upon forty-eight (48) hours' written or oral notice specifying the date, time, and place of the meeting. Notice of a special meeting may be waived in writing before or after the time of the meeting. The waiver must be signed by the director entitled to the notice and filed with the minutes of the meeting. Attendance at or participation in a meeting waives any required notice of the meeting, unless at the beginning of the meeting (or promptly upon the director's arrival) the director objects to holding the meeting or transacting business at the meeting and does not thereafter vote for or assent to action taken at the meeting.

Section 3.7. Quorum. A quorum for the transaction of business at any meeting of the Board of Directors consists of a majority of the number of directors specified in Section 3.2. If a quorum is present when a vote is taken, action on a matter is approved if the action receives the affirmative vote of a majority of the directors present.

Section 3.8. Action by Consent. Any action required or permitted to be taken at any meeting of the Board of Directors may be taken without a meeting if the action is taken by all directors then in office. The action must be evidenced by one or more written consents describing the action taken, signed by each director, and included in the minutes. Action of the Board of Directors taken by consent is effective when the last director signs the consent, unless the consent specifies a prior or subsequent effective date.

Section 3.9. Committees. The Board of Directors may create one or more committees and appoint members of the Board of Directors to serve on them. Each committee may have one or more members, who serve at the pleasure of the Board of Directors. The creation of a committee and appointment of members to it must be approved by the greater of (i) a majority of all the directors in office when the action is taken, or (ii) the number of directors required under Section 3.7 to take action. All rules applicable to action by the Board of Directors apply to committees and their members. The Board of Directors may specify the authority that a committee may exercise; however, a committee may not (a) authorize distributions, except a committee may authorize or approve a reacquisition of shares if done according to a formula or method prescribed by the Board of Directors, (b) approve or propose to shareholders action that must be approved by shareholders, (c) fill vacancies on the Board of Directors or on any of its committees, (d) amend the Articles of Incorporation, (e) adopt, amend, or repeal these Bylaws, (f) approve a plan of merger not requiring shareholder approval, or (g) authorize or approve the issuance or sale or a contract for the sale of shares, or determine the designation and relative rights, preferences, and limitations of a class or series of shares, except the Board of Directors may authorize a committee to so act within limits prescribed by the Board of Directors.

Section 3.10. Presence. The Board of Directors may permit any or all directors to participate in any annual, regular, or special meeting by any means of communication by which all directors participating may simultaneously hear each other during the meeting. A director so participating is deemed to be present in person at the meeting.

Section 3.11. Compensation. Each director shall receive such compensation for service as a director as may be fixed by the Board of Directors.

ARTICLE IV

Officers

Section 4.1. Officers. The Corporation shall have a President, a Secretary, a Treasurer, and such assistant officers as the Board of Directors or the President designates. The same individual may simultaneously hold more than one office.

Section 4.2. Terms of Office. Officers are elected at each annual meeting of the Board of Directors and serve for a term expiring at the following annual meeting of the Board of Directors. An officer who has been removed pursuant to Section 4 ceases to serve as an officer immediately upon removal; otherwise, an officer whose term has expired continues to serve until a successor is elected and qualifies.

Section 4.3. Vacancies. If a vacancy occurs among the officers, the Board of Directors may fill the vacancy. Any officer elected to fill a vacancy holds office until the next annual meeting of the Board of Directors and until a successor is elected and qualifies.

Section 4.4. Removal. Any officer may be removed by the Board of Directors at any time with or without cause.

Section 4.5. Compensation. Each officer shall receive such compensation for service in office as may be fixed by the Board of Directors.

Section 4.6. President. The President is responsible for managing and supervising the affairs and personnel of the Corporation, subject to the general control of the Board of Directors. The President presides at all meetings of shareholders and directors. The President, or proxies appointed by the President, may vote shares of other corporations owned by the Corporation. The President has authority to execute powers of attorney appointing other corporations, partnerships, or individuals as the agents of the Corporation, subject to law, the Articles of Incorporation, and these Bylaws. The President has such other powers and duties as the Board of Directors may from time to time prescribe.

Section 4.7. Secretary. The Secretary is responsible for (a) attending all meetings of the shareholders and the Board of Directors, (b) preparing true and complete minutes of the proceedings of all meetings of the shareholders, the Board of Directors, and all committees of the Board of Directors, (c) maintaining and safeguarding the books (except books of account) and records of the Corporation, and (d) authenticating the records of the Corporation. If required, the Secretary attests the execution of deeds, leases, agreements, powers of attorney, certificates representing shares of the Corporation, and other official documents by the Corporation. The Secretary serves all notices of the Corporation required by law, the Board of Directors, or these Bylaws. The Secretary has such other duties as the Board of Directors may from time to time prescribe.

Section 4.8. Treasurer. The Treasurer is responsible for (a) keeping correct and complete books of account which show accurately at all times the financial condition of the Corporation, (b) safeguarding all funds, notes, securities, and other valuables which may from time to time come into the possession of the Corporation, and (c) depositing all funds of the Corporation with such depositories as the Board of Directors shall designate. The Treasurer shall furnish at meetings of the Board of Directors, or when otherwise requested, a statement of the financial condition of the Corporation. The Treasurer has such other duties as the Board of Directors may from time to time prescribe.

Section 4.9. Assistant Officers. The Board of Directors or the President may from time to time designate and elect assistant officers who shall have such powers and duties as the officers whom they are elected to assist specify and delegate to them, and such other powers and duties as the Board of Directors or the President may from time to time prescribe. An Assistant Secretary may, during the absence or disability of the Secretary, discharge all responsibilities imposed upon the Secretary of the Corporation, including, without limitation, attest the execution of all documents by the Corporation.

ARTICLE V

Indemnification

Section 5.1. Definitions. Terms defined in chapter 37 of the Indiana Business Corporation Law (Ind. Code §§ 23-1-37-1, et seq.) which are used in this Article V as they have in such Chapter of the Indiana Business Corporation Law.

Section 5.2. Indemnification of Directors and Officers. The Corporation shall indemnify any person made or threatened to be made a party to any action, suit, or proceeding, whether civil or criminal, administrative or investigative, and whether formal or informal, by reason of the fact that he or she, his or her testator, or his or her intestate is or was a director or officer of the Corporation or of any corporation, limited liability company, partnership, joint venture, trust, employee benefit plan or other enterprise, whether or not for profit, which he or she served as such at the request of the Corporation (any such person made or threatened to be made such a party is hereinafter termed a “Qualifying Person”), against liability and the reasonable expenses, including attorneys’ fees, actually incurred by him or her in connection with such action, suit, or proceeding, or in connection with any appeal therein, if: (i) his or her conduct was in good faith; (ii) he or she reasonably believed (a) in the case of conduct in his or her official capacity with the Corporation, that his or her conduct was in the Corporation's best interests, and (b) in all other cases, that his or her conduct was at least not opposed to the Corporation's best interests; and (iii) in the case of any criminal proceeding, he or she (a) had reasonable cause to believe his or her conduct was lawful, or (b) had no reasonable cause to believe his or her conduct was unlawful.

Section 5.3. Other Employees Or Agents of the Corporation. The Corporation may, in the discretion of the Board of Directors, fully or partially provide the same rights of indemnification and reimbursement as hereinabove provided for directors and officers of the Corporation to other individuals who are or were employees or agents of the Corporation or who are or were serving at the request of the Corporation as employees or agents of another corporation, limited liability company, partnership, joint venture, trust, employee benefit plan or other entity whether or not for profit.

Section 5.4. Non-Exclusive Provision. The indemnification authorized under this Article V is in addition to all rights to indemnification granted by Chapter 37 of the Indiana Business Corporation Law (Ind. Code. §§ 23-1-37-1, et seq.) and in no way limits the indemnification provisions of such Chapter.

Section 5.5. Insurance. The Corporation may purchase and maintain insurance on behalf of an individual:

(a) who is a director, officer, employee, or agent of the Corporation, or

(b) who, while a director, officer, employee, or agent of the Corporation, serves at the Corporation's request as a director, officer, partner, trustee, employee or agent of another domestic or foreign corporation, partnership, joint venture, trust, employee benefit plan, or other entity

against liability asserted against or incurred by him or her in that capacity or arising from his or her status as a director, officer, employee, or agent, whether or not the Corporation would have power to indemnify or advance expenses to him or her against the same liability under these Bylaws or the Code.

Section 5.6. Witness Fees. Nothing in these Bylaws shall limit the Corporation's power to pay or reimburse expenses incurred by a director or officer in connection with his or her appearance as a witness in a proceeding at a time when he or she is not a party.

Section 5.7. Report to Shareholders. To the extent and in the manner required by the Code from time to time, if the Corporation indemnifies or advances expenses to a director or officer in connection with a proceeding by or in the right of the Corporation, the Corporation shall report the indemnification or advance to the shareholders.

Section 5.8. Effect of Amendments. No amendment, modification, or rescission of these Bylaws, or any provision of the Bylaws, the effect of which would diminish the rights to indemnification or advancement of expenses as set forth herein shall be effective as to any person with respect to any action taken or omitted by such person prior to such amendment, modification or rescission.

ARTICLE VI

Miscellaneous

Section 6.1. Records. The Corporation shall keep as permanent records minutes of all meetings of the shareholders, the Board of Directors, and all committees of the Board of Directors, and a record of all actions taken without a meeting by the shareholders, the Board of Directors, and all committees of the Board of Directors. The Corporation or its agent shall maintain a record of the shareholders in a form that permits preparation of a list of the names and addresses of all shareholders, in alphabetical order showing the number of shares held by each. The Corporation shall maintain its records in written form or in a form capable of conversion into written form within a reasonable time. The Corporation shall keep a copy of the following records: (a) the Articles of Incorporation then currently in effect, including all amendments, (b) the Bylaws then currently in effect, including all amendments, (c) all resolutions adopted by the Board of Directors, (d) minutes of all shareholders' meetings, and records of all actions taken by shareholders without a meeting, for the past three (3) years, (e) all written communications to shareholders generally during the past three (3) years, including annual financial statements furnished upon request of the shareholders, (f) a list of the names and business addresses of the current directors and officers, and (g) the most recent annual report filed with the Indiana Secretary of State.

Section 6.2. Execution of Contracts and Other Documents. Unless otherwise authorized or directed by the Board of Directors, all written contracts and other documents entered into by the Corporation shall be executed on behalf of the Corporation by the Secretary or President.

Section 6.3. Accounting Year. The accounting year of the Corporation begins on January lst of each year and ends on the December 31st immediately following.

Section 6.4. Corporate Seal. The Corporation has no seal.

ARTICLE VII

Amendment

These Bylaws may be amended or repealed only by the Board of Directors. The affirmative vote of a majority of all the directors is necessary to amend or repeal these Bylaws.

OF
RTC RESOURCE ACQUISITION CORPORATION

ARTICLE ONE
Name, Duration, and Character of Business

The name of the corporation is RTC Resource Acquisition Corporation (hereinafter referred to as the "Corporation"). The duration of the Corporation shall be perpetual. The purpose for which the Corporation is organized is to provide behavioral healthcare and educational services and to transact any and all lawful business for which corporations may be incorporated under the laws of the State of Indiana, as may be amended from time to time.

ARTICLE TWO
Authorized Shares

The Corporation shall have authority to be exercised by the Board of Directors to issue not more than five hundred thousand (500,000) shares of capital stock, with no par value, all of which shall be designated "Common Stock." The Common Stock shall have unlimited voting rights and shall be entitled to receive the net assets of the Corporation upon dissolution.

ARTICLE THREE
Registered Office and Agent

The registered office of the Corporation, at the time of this filing, is located at 36 South Pennsylvania Street, Indianapolis, Indiana 46204. The registered agent of the Corporation at its registered office, at the time of this filing, is CT Corporation System.

ARTICLE FOUR
Incorporator

The name and address of the incorporator is as follows: John Little, 1705 Capital of Texas Highway South, Fifth Floor, Austin, Texas 78746.

ARTICLE FIVE
Principal Office

The mailing address of the principal office of the Corporation, at the time of this filing, is 1404 South State Avenue, Indianapolis, Indiana 46203.

ARTICLE SIX
Limitation of Liability

6.1 Limitation of Liability. No person shall be liable to the Corporation for any loss or damage suffered by the Corporation because of any action taken or not taken by such person in his or her capacity as a member of the Board of Directors of the Corporation in good faith and in reliance upon (1) financial statements of the Corporation represented to such person to be correct by the chief executive officer or the chief financial officer of the Corporation, (2) financial statements of the Corporation certified by independent public accountants or independent certified public accountants fairly to present the financial condition of the Corporation in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles, (3) opinions of legal counsel to the Corporation, or (4) opinions of any engineers, appraisers or other experts whose professions give authority to the opinions so expressed by them. This section shall not be construed to subject any such person to liability to the Corporation for loss or damage suffered by the Corporation because of any other action taken or not taken by such person for which such person would not otherwise be liable to the Corporation under applicable common and statutory law.

6.2 Future Modification. Any repeal or modification of the provisions of this Article by the shareholders of the Corporation shall be prospective only, and shall not adversely affect any limitation on the liability of a director of the Corporation with respect to any act or omission prior to the effective date of such repeal or modification.

ARTICLE SEVEN
Indemnification

7.1 Definitions. Terms defined in Chapter 37 of the Indiana Business Corporation Law (Ind. Code §§ 23-1-37-1, et seq.) which are used in this Article 7 shall have the same definitions for purposes of this Article 7 as they have in such chapter of the Indiana Business Corporation Law.

7.2 Indemnification of Directors and Officers. The Corporation shall indemnify any person made or threatened to be made a party to any action, suit, or proceeding, whether civil or criminal, administrative or investigative, and whether formal or informal, by reason of the fact that he or she, his or her testator, or his or her intestate is or was a director or officer of the Corporation or of any corporation, limited liability company, partnership, joint venture, trust, employee benefit plan or other enterprise, whether or not for profit, which he or she served as such at the request of the Corporation (any such person made or threatened to be made such a party is hereinafter termed a "Qualifying Person"), against liability and the reasonable expenses, including attorneys' fees, actually incurred by him or her in connection with such action, suit, or proceeding, or in connection with any appeal therein, if: (i) his or her conduct was in good faith; (ii) he or she reasonably believed (a) in the case of conduct in his or her official capacity with the Corporation, that his or her conduct was in the Corporation's best interests, and (b) in all other cases, that his or her conduct was at least not opposed to the Corporation's best interests; and (iii) in the case of any criminal proceeding, he or she (a) had reasonable cause to believe his or her conduct was lawful, or (b) had no reasonable cause to believe his or her conduct was unlawful.

The Corporation shall pay for or reimburse the reasonable expenses incurred by a Qualifying Person in advance of final disposition of any such action, suit, or proceeding if the following occur: (i) the Qualifying Person furnishes to the Corporation a written affirmation of his or her good faith belief that he or she has met the standard of conduct necessary for indemnification described in this Section 7.2 (the "Standard"); (ii) he or she furnishes the Corporation a written undertaking executed by him or her to repay any such advance if it is ultimately determined that he or she did not meet the Standard; and (iii) a determination is made that the facts then known to those making the determination would not preclude indemnification under this Section 7.2.

7.3 Other Employees or Agents of the Corporation. The Corporation may, in the discretion of the Board of Directors, fully or partially provide the same rights of indemnification and reimbursement as hereinabove provided for directors and officers of the Corporation to other individuals who are or were employees or agents of the Corporation or who are or were serving at the request of the Corporation as employees or agents of another corporation, limited liability company, partnership, joint venture, trust, employee benefit plan or other entity whether or not for profit.

7.4 Non-Exclusive Provision. The indemnification authorized under this Article 7 is in addition to all rights to indemnification granted by Chapter 37 of the Indiana Business Corporation Law (Ind. Code §§ 23-1-37-1, et seq.) and in no way limits the indemnification provisions of such Chapter.

ARTICLE EIGHT
Constituency Considerations

In discharging the duties of their respective positions and in determining what is believed to be in the best interests of the Corporation, the Board of Directors, committees of the Board of Directors, and individual directors, in addition to considering the effects of any action on the Corporation or its shareholders, may consider the interests of the employees, customers.

suppliers, and creditors of the Corporation and its subsidiaries, the communities in which offices or other establishments of the Corporation and its subsidiaries are located, and all other factors such directors consider pertinent; provided, however, that this Article shall be deemed solely to grant discretionary authority to the directors and shall not be deemed to provide to any constituency any right to be considered.

ARTICLE NINE
Board of Directors

The Board of Directors, at the lime of this filing, consists of one member whose name and address is as follows: Kevin P. Sheehan, 1705 Capital of Texas Highway South, Fifth Floor, Austin, Texas 78746, who shall serve until a successor is duly elected and qualified.

ARTICLE TEN
Shareholder Action

Meetings of the shareholders of the Corporation shall be held at such place within or without the State of Indiana, as may be specified in the respective notices of such meeting. Any action which may be taken at a meeting of the shareholders may be taken without a meeting if, prior to such action, a consent in writing setting forth the action so taken shall be signed by all of the shareholders entitled to vote with respect to the subject matter thereof, in accordance with Indiana Code § 23-1-29-4, as amended, and such written consent is filed with the minutes of the proceedings of the shareholders.

The Indiana Secretary of State filing office certifies that this copy is on file in this office.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the undersigned, being the incorporator of the Corporation executes these Articles of Incorporation and verifies, subject to penalties for perjury, that the statements contained herein are true, this 13th day of February, 2003.

RTC RESOURCE ACQUISITION CORPORATION

BYLAWS

Adopted as of March 31, 2003

Corporate Bylaws

Article I. Definitions

1.01 Code

The Code means the applicable titles, parts, chapters, sections, and other divisions of the Indiana Business Corporation Law, Indiana Code § 23-1-17-1 et seq., governing the formation and operation of corporations in the State of Indiana.

1.02 Record Date

Record Date means the date established under the Code on which the Corporation determines the identity of its shareholders and their shareholdings. Such determination shall be made as of the close of business on the Record Date unless another time for doing so is specified when the Record Date is fixed.

1.03 Voting Group

Voting Group means all shares of one or more classes or series that under the articles of incorporation or the Code are entitled to vote and be counted together collectively on a matter at a meeting of the shareholders. All shares entitled by the articles of incorporation or the Code to vote generally on the matter are for that purpose a single Voting Group.

1.04 Corporation

Corporation means RTC Resource Acquisition Corporation, and includes any domestic or foreign predecessor entity of the Corporation in a merger or other transaction in which the predecessor's existence ceased upon consummation of the transaction.

Article II. Offices and Agents

2.01 Registered Office and Agent

The Corporation shall maintain a registered office and have a registered agent, whose business office address is identical to that of the registered office, in the State of Indiana and in each state in which the Corporation is qualified to do business.

2.02 Other Offices

In addition to its registered office, the Corporation may have offices at any other place or places, within or without the State of Indiana, as the Board of Directors may from time to time select or as the business of the Corporation may require or make desirable.

Article III. Meetings of the Shareholders

3.01 Annual Meetings

An annual meeting of the shareholders shall be held for the election of directors at such date, time, and place, either within or without the State of Indiana, as may be designated by resolution of the Board of Directors from time to time. Such resolution shall designate the date, time, and place of the meeting. Any other proper business may be transacted at the annual meeting. If an annual meeting is not held as provided in this Section 3.01, any business, including the election of directors, that might properly have been acted upon at that meeting may be acted upon at a special meeting in lieu of the annual meeting held pursuant to these bylaws or held pursuant to a court order.

3.02 Special Meetings

Special meetings of the shareholders may be called for any purpose or purposes at any time by the Board of Directors, or by the President of the Corporation, or by a Committee of the Board of Directors that has been duly designated and authorized by resolution of the Board of Directors to call such meetings. In addition, the Board of Directors shall call such a meeting upon the written request of shareholders holding at least twenty percent (20%) of all the votes entitled to be cast on the issue or issues proposed to be considered at the requested special meeting.

3.03 Quorum

With respect to shares entitled to vote as a separate Voting Group on a matter at a meeting of shareholders, the presence, in person or by proxy, of a majority of the votes entitled to be cast on the matter by the Voting Group shall constitute a quorum of that Voting Group for action on that matter unless the articles of incorporation or the Code provide otherwise. Once a share is represented for any purpose at a meeting, other than solely to object to holding the meeting or to transacting business at the meeting, it is deemed present for quorum purposes for the remainder of the meeting and for any adjournment of the meeting unless a new Record Date is or must be set for the adjourned meeting pursuant to Section 1.02, governing the fixing of the Record Date with regard to shareholder action.

3.04 Adjournment and Reconvention

Whether or not a quorum is present to organize a meeting, any meeting of shareholders may be adjourned by the holders of a majority of the voting shares represented at the meeting to reconvene at a specific time and place, but no later than 120 days after the date fixed for the original meeting unless the requirements of the Code concerning the selection of a new Record Date have been met. At any reconvened meeting within that time period, any business may be transacted that could have been transacted at the meeting that was adjourned.

3.05 Presiding Officer

The President shall serve as the Presiding Officer of every meeting of shareholders unless another person is elected by the shareholders to serve as Presiding Officer at the meeting. The Presiding Officer shall appoint any persons he deems required to assist with the meeting.

3.06 Vote Required for Action

If a quorum exists, action on a matter (other than the election of directors) by a voting group is approved if the votes cast within the voting group favoring the action exceed the votes cast opposing the action, unless the articles of incorporation, provisions of these bylaws validly adopted by the shareholders, or the Code requires a greater number of affirmative votes. If the articles of incorporation or the Code provide for voting by two or more Voting Groups on a matter, action on that matter is taken only when voted upon by each of those Voting Groups counted separately. Action may be taken by one Voting Group on a matter even though no action is taken by another Voting Group entitled to vote on the matter. With regard to the election of directors, unless otherwise provided in the articles of incorporation, if a quorum exists, action on the election of directors is taken by a plurality of the votes cast by the shares entitled to vote in the election.

3.07 Shares Held by Another Corporation

Shares standing in the name of another corporation, domestic or foreign, may be voted by such officer, agent, or proxy as the bylaws of such other corporation may prescribe, or, in the absence of such a provision, as the board of directors of such other corporation may determine.

3.08 Method of Voting Shares

Unless the articles of incorporation or the Code provide otherwise, each outstanding share having voting rights shall be entitled to one vote on each matter submitted to a vote at a meeting of the shareholders. Voting on all matters shall be by voice vote or by show of hands unless any qualified voter, prior to the voting on any matter, demands vote by ballot, in which case each ballot shall state the name of the shareholder voting and the number of shares voted by him, and if the ballot be cast by proxy, it shall also state the name of the proxy.

3.09 Proxies

A shareholder entitled to vote on a matter may vote in person or by proxy pursuant to an appointment of proxy executed in writing by the shareholder or by his duly authorized attorney-in-fact. An appointment of proxy shall be valid for only one meeting to be specified therein, and any adjournments of such meeting, but shall not be valid for more than eleven months unless expressly provided therein. Appointments of proxy shall be dated and filed with the records of the meeting to which they relate. If the validity of any appointment of proxy is questioned, it must be submitted to the secretary of the meeting of shareholders for examination or to a proxy officer or committee appointed by the meeting's presiding officer. The secretary of the meeting or, if appointed, the proxy officer or committee, shall determine the validity or invalidity of any appointment of proxy submitted for examination. Reference in the minutes of the meeting by the secretary or, if appointed, the proxy officer or committee, as to the regularity of an appointment of proxy shall be received as prima facie evidence of the facts stated for the purpose of establishing the presence of a quorum at the meeting and for all other purposes.

3.10 Action Without a Meeting

Any action required or permitted to be taken at a meeting of the shareholders, may be taken without a meeting if the action is taken by all shareholders entitled to vote on the action. The action without a meeting must be evidenced by one or more written consents describing the action taken, signed by all the shareholders entitled to take action without a meeting, and delivered to the Corporation for inclusion in the minutes or filing with the records of the Corporation. The Corporation shall give written notice of actions so taken.

3.11 Notice

Unless waived as contemplated in these bylaws, a notice of each meeting of shareholders, stating the date, time, and place of the meeting shall be given not less than ten (10) days nor more than sixty (60) days before the date thereof, to each shareholder entitled to vote at that meeting. In the case of an annual meeting, the notice need not state the purpose or purposes of the meeting unless the articles of incorporation or the Code require otherwise. In the case of a special meeting, including a special meeting in lieu of an annual meeting, the notice of meeting shall state the purpose or purposes for which the meeting is called.

Article IV. Board of Directors

4.01 Powers

All corporate powers, which are lawful and do not violate any legal agreement among shareholders and which are not prohibited by the articles of incorporation or these bylaws, shall be exercised by or under the authority of, and the business and affairs of the Corporation shall be managed under, the direction of the Board of Directors. The Board of Directors may, by resolution, vote any shares of stock owned by the Corporation. Also, the Board of Directors from time to time in its discretion may authorize or declare distributions or share dividends in accordance with the Code.

4.02 Number

The number and composition of the Corporation's Board of Directors shall initially be that which is specified in the articles of incorporation. If the articles of incorporation do not specify the number and composition of the Board of Directors, then the Board of Directors shall consist of one member, the President of the Corporation. Thereafter, the number and composition of the Board of Directors may be changed from time to time by an action of the shareholders.

4.03 Election

Except as provided for in Section 4.06, addressing vacancies in the Board of Directors, the directors shall be elected by a vote of the shareholders at each annual meeting of shareholders or special meeting in lieu of the annual meeting.

4.04 Term of Office

Except in the case of death, written resignation, retirement, disqualification, or removal, each director shall serve until the next succeeding annual meeting or special meeting in lieu of an annual meeting and thereafter until his successor is elected and qualifies or until the number of directors is decreased.

4.05 Removal

One or more directors may be removed from office with or without cause by the shareholders by a majority of the votes entitled to be cast. If the director was elected by a Voting Group, only the shareholders of that Voting Group may participate in the vote to remove him. Removal action may be taken at any meeting of shareholders with respect to which the notice stated that the purpose, or one of the purposes, of the meeting is removal of the director, and a removed director's successor may be elected at the same meeting.

4.06 Vacancies

A vacancy occurring in the Board of Directors, other than by reason of an increase in the number of directors, shall be filled for the unexpired term by the first to take action of (a) the shareholders or (b) the Board of Directors, and if the directors remaining in office constitute fewer than a quorum of the Board of Directors, they may fill the vacancy by the affirmative vote of a majority of all the directors remaining in office. If the vacant office was held by a director elected by a Voting Group, only the holders of shares of that Voting Group or the remaining directors elected by that Voting Group are entitled to vote to fill the vacancy. A vacancy occurring in the Board of Directors by reason of an increase in the number of directors shall be filled in like manner as any other vacancy, but, if filled by action of the Board of Directors, shall only be for a term of office continuing until the next election of directors by the shareholders and until the election and qualification of a successor.

4.07 Committees

The Board of Directors, by resolution, may designate from among its members an executive committee and one or more other committees, each consisting of one or more directors all of whom serve at the pleasure of the Board of Directors. Except as limited by the Code, each committee shall have the authority set forth in the resolution establishing the committee. The provisions of these bylaws as to the Board of Directors and its deliberations shall be applicable to any committee of the Board of Directors. All decisions and actions of any committee created by these bylaws or resulting from the authority granted by these bylaws, shall be subject to the discretionary review and approval of the Board of Directors.

4.08 Compensation

Unless the articles of incorporation provide otherwise, the Board of Directors may determine from time to time the compensation, if any, directors may receive for their services as directors. A director may also serve the Corporation in a capacity other than that of director and receive compensation, as determined by the Board of Directors, for services rendered in such other capacity.

Article V. Meetings of the Board of Directors

5.01 Regular Meetings

Regular meetings of the Board of Directors shall be held immediately after the annual meeting of shareholders or a special meeting in lieu of the annual meeting. In addition, the Board of Directors may schedule other meetings to occur at regular intervals throughout the year.

5.02 Special Meetings

Special meetings of the Board of Directors may be called by or at the request of the President of the Corporation, by the sole director of the Board of Directors or, if the Board consists of more than one director, by any two directors in office at that time.

5.03 Quorums

Unless a greater number is required by the articles of incorporation, these bylaws, or the Code, a quorum of the Board of Directors consists of a majority of the total number of directors.

5.04 Adjournments

Whether or not a quorum is present to organize a meeting, any meeting of directors (including an adjourned meeting) may be adjourned by a majority of the directors present to reconvene at a specific time and place. At any reconvened meeting, any business may be transacted that could have been transacted at the meeting that was adjourned. It shall not be necessary to give any notice of the reconvened meeting or of the business to be transacted, if the date, time and place of the reconvened meeting are announced at the meeting that was adjourned.

5.05 Action Without a Meeting

Unless the Code, the articles of incorporation, or these bylaws provide otherwise, any action required or permitted to be taken at any meeting of the Board of Directors, or any action that may be taken at a meeting of an authorized committee of the Board of Directors, may be taken without a meeting if the action is taken by all the members of the Board of Directors (or of the committee, as the case may be). The action must be evidenced by one or more written consents describing the action taken, signed by each director (or each director serving on the committee, as the case may be), and delivered to the Corporation for inclusion in the minutes or filing with the records of the Corporation.

5.06 Meetings by Telephone

Any or all directors may participate in a meeting of the Board of Directors, and members of an authorized committee of the Board of Directors may participate in a meeting of the committee (as the case may be), through the use of any means of communication by which all directors participating may simultaneously hear each other during the meeting.

5.07 Place of Meetings

Directors may hold their meetings at any place within or without the State of Indiana, as the Board of Directors may from time to time establish for regular meetings or as set forth in the notice of special meetings or, in the event of a meeting held pursuant to waiver of notice, as set forth in the waiver.

5.08 Notice of Meetings

No notice shall be required for any regularly scheduled meeting of the directors. Unless waived as contemplated in these bylaws, each director shall be given at least five day's notice of each special meeting stating the date, time, and place of the meeting. It is not required that the purpose of a directors' meeting be stated in any notice of such a meeting, whether the meeting is a regular or a special meeting.

5.09 Vote Required for Action

If a quorum is present when a vote is taken, the affirmative vote of a majority of directors present is the act of the Board of Directors unless the Code, the articles of incorporation, or these bylaws require the vote of a greater number of directors.

A director who is present at a meeting of the Board of Directors, or an authorized committee of the Board of Directors, when corporate action is taken is deemed to have assented to the action taken unless:

(i) he objects at the beginning of the meeting (or promptly upon his arrival) to holding the meeting or to transacting business at the meeting,

(ii) his dissent or abstention from the action taken is entered in the minutes of the meeting, or

(iii) he delivers written notice of his dissent or abstention to the presiding officer of the meeting before its adjournment or to the Corporation immediately after adjournment of the meeting.

The right of dissent or abstention is not available to a director who votes in favor of the action taken.

Article VI. Shareholder and Director Notices

6.1 Delivery of Notice

Whenever these bylaws require notice to be given to any shareholder or director, the notice shall be given in accordance with this Section 6.1. Notice under these bylaws shall be in writing unless oral notice is reasonable under the circumstances. Any notice to directors may be written or oral. Notice may be communicated in person, by telephone, telegraph, teletype, other form of wire or wireless communication, or by mail or private carrier. If these forms of personal notice are impracticable, notice may be communicated by a newspaper of general circulation in the area where published, or by radio, television, or other form of public broadcast communication. Written notice to the shareholders, if in a comprehensible form, is effective when mailed, if mailed with first-class postage prepaid and correctly addressed to the shareholder's address shown in the Corporation's current record of shareholders.

6.2 When Effective

Except as otherwise provided in this Section 6.2, written notice, if in a comprehensible form, is effective at the earliest of the following:

(i) when received or when delivered, properly addressed, to the addressee's last known principal place of business or residence;

(ii) five days after deposit in the mail, as evidenced by the postmark, if mailed with first-class postage prepaid and correctly addressed, or

(iii) on the date shown on the return receipt, if sent by registered or certified mail, return receipt requested, and the receipt is signed by or on behalf of the addressee.

Oral notice is effective when communicated if communicated in a comprehensible manner.

In calculating time periods for notice, when a period of time measured in days, weeks, months, years, or other measurement of time is prescribed for the exercise of any privilege or the discharge of any duty, the first day shall not be counted but the last day shall be counted.

6.3 Waiver

A shareholder or director may waive any notice before or after the date and time stated in the notice. Except as provided in this Section 6.3, the waiver must be in writing, be signed by the shareholder or director entitled to the notice, and be delivered to the Corporation for inclusion in the minutes or filing with the records of the Corporation.

A shareholder's attendance at a meeting (i) waives objection to lack of notice or defective notice of the meeting, unless the shareholder at the beginning of the meeting objects to holding the meeting or transacting business at the meeting; and (ii) waives objection to consideration of a particular matter at the meeting that is not within the purpose or purposes described in the meeting notice, unless the shareholder objects to considering the matter when it is presented.

A director's attendance at or participation in a meeting waives any required notice to him of the meeting unless the director at the beginning of the meeting (or promptly upon his arrival) objects to holding the meeting or transacting business at the meeting and does not thereafter vote for or assent to action taken at the meeting.

Unless required by the Code, neither the business transacted nor the purpose of the meeting need be specified in the waiver.

6.4 Notice Following Adjournment

If notice of an adjourned meeting of the shareholders or of the directors was properly given, it shall not be necessary to give any notice of the reconvened meeting or of the business to be transacted, if the date, time and place of the reconvened meeting are announced at the meeting that was adjourned and before adjournment; provided, however, that if a new record date of shares is or must be fixed, notice of the reconvened meeting must be given to persons who are shareholders as of the new record date.

Article VII. Officers

7.01 Number

The officers of the Corporation shall consist of a Board Chairman, a President, a Secretary, a Treasurer, and any other officers as may be appointed by the Board of Directors or by another duly appointed officer pursuant to these bylaws. The Board of Directors shall from time to time create and establish the duties of the other officers. Any two or more offices may be held by the same person.

7.02 Board Chairman

The Board Chairman shall preside at all meetings of the Board of Directors and shall have authority to execute bonds, mortgages, and other contracts requiring a seal, under the seal of the Corporation; to endorse, when sold, assigned, transferred, or otherwise disposed of by the Corporation, all certificates or shares of stock, bonds, or other securities issued by other corporations, associations, trusts, whether public or private, or by any government agency thereof, and owned or held by the Corporation, and to make, execute, and deliver all instruments or assignments of transfer of any such stocks, bonds, or other securities. The Board Chairman may, with the approval of the Board of Directors, or shall, at the direction of the Board of Directors, delegate any or all of such duties to the President.

7.03 President

The President shall be the Chief Executive Officer of the Corporation and shall have general supervision of the business of the Corporation. The President shall see that all orders and resolutions of the Board of Directors are carried into effect. The President shall perform such other duties as may from time to time be delegated by the Board of Directors. In the absence of the Board Chairman, the President shall have authority to do any and all things delegated to the Board Chairman.

7.04 Vice President

In the absence or disability of the President, or at the direction of the President, the Vice President, if any, shall perform the duties and exercise the powers of the President. If the Corporation has more than one Vice President, the one designated by the Board of Directors shall act in lieu of the President. Vice Presidents shall perform whatever duties and have whatever powers the Board of Directors may from time to time assign.

7.05 Secretary

The Secretary shall be responsible for preparing minutes of the acts and proceedings of all meetings of the shareholders, the Board of Directors, and any Committees thereof. The Secretary shall have authority to give all notices required by the Code or these bylaws. The Secretary shall be responsible for the custody of the corporate books, records, contracts, and other documents. The Secretary may affix the corporate seal to any lawfully executed documents and shall sign any instruments as may require his or her signature. The Secretary shall authenticate records of the Corporation. The Secretary shall perform whatever additional duties and have whatever additional powers the Board of Directors may from time to time assign. In the absence or disability of the Secretary or at the direction of the President, any assistant secretary may perform the duties and exercise the powers of the Secretary.

7.06 Treasurer

The Treasurer shall be responsible for the custody of all funds and securities belonging to the Corporation and for the receipt, deposit, or disbursement of funds and securities under the direction of the Board of Directors. The Treasurer shall cause to be maintained full and true accounts of all receipts and disbursements and shall make reports of the same to the Board of Directors and the President upon request. The Treasurer shall perform all duties as may be assigned to him from time to time by the Board of Directors.

7.07 Appointment, Term, and Removal

All officers shall be appointed by the Board of Directors or by a duly appointed officer pursuant to these bylaws and shall serve at the pleasure of the Board of Directors or the appointing officers, as the case may be. All officers, however appointed, may be removed with or without cause by the Board of Directors, and any officer appointed by another officer may also be removed by the appointing officer with or without cause.

7.08 Compensation

The compensation of all officers of the Corporation appointed by the Board of Directors shall be fixed by the Board of Directors.

7.09 Bonds

The Board of Directors may, by resolution, require any or all of the officers, agents, or employees of the Corporation to give bonds to the Corporation, with sufficient surety or sureties, conditioned on the faithful performance of the duties of their respective offices or positions, and to comply with any other conditions as from time to time may be required by the Board of Directors.

Article VIII. Indemnification

8.01 Definitions

Terms defined in Chapter 37 of the Indiana Business Corporation Law (Ind. Code §§ 23-1-37-1, et seq.) which are used in this Article 8 shall have the same definitions for purposes of this Article 8 as they have in such chapter of the Indiana Business Corporation Law.

8.02 Indemnification of Directors and Officers

The Corporation shall indemnify any person made or threatened to be made a party to any action, suit, or proceeding, whether civil or criminal, administrative or investigative, and whether formal or informal, by reason of the fact that he or she, his or her testator, or his or her intestate is or was a director or officer of the Corporation or of any corporation, limited liability company, partnership, joint venture, trust, employee benefit plan or other enterprise, whether or not for profit, which he or she served as such at the request of the Corporation (any such person made or threatened to be made such a party is hereinafter termed a “Qualifying Person”), against liability and the reasonable expenses, including attorneys’ fees, actually incurred by him or her in connection with such action, suit, or proceeding, or in connection with any appeal therein, if: (i) his or her conduct was in good faith; (ii) he or she reasonably believed (a) in the case of conduct in his or her official capacity with the Corporation, that his or her conduct was in the Corporation’s best interests, and (b) in all other cases, that his or her conduct was at least not opposed to the Corporation’s best interests; and (iii) in the case of any criminal proceeding, he or she (a) had reasonable cause to believe his or her conduct was lawful, or (b) had no reasonable cause to believe his or her conduct was unlawful.

The Corporation shall pay for or reimburse the reasonable expenses incurred by a Qualifying Person in advance of final disposition of any such action, suit, or proceeding if the following occur: (i) the Qualifying Person furnishes to the Corporation a written affirmation of his or her good faith belief that he or she has met the standard of conduct necessary for indemnification described in this Section 8.02 (the “Standard”); (ii) he or she furnishes the Corporation a written undertaking executed by him or her to repay any such advance if it is ultimately determined that he or she did not meet the Standard; and (iii) a determination is made that the facts then known to those making the determination would not preclude indemnification under this Section 8.02.

8.03 Other Employees or Agents of the Corporation

The Corporation may, in the discretion of the Board of Directors, fully or partially provide the same rights of indemnification and reimbursement as hereinabove provided for directors and officers of the Corporation to other individuals who are or were employees or agents of the Corporation or who are or were serving at the request of the Corporation as employees or agents of another corporation, limited liability company, partnership, joint venture, trust, employee benefit plan or other entity whether or not for profit.

8.04 Non-Exclusive Provision

The indemnification authorized under this Article VIII is in addition to all rights to indemnification granted by Chapter 37 of the Indiana Business Corporation Law (Ind. Code §§ 23-1-37-1, et seq.) and in no way limits the indemnification provisions of such Chapter.

8.05 insurance

The Corporation may purchase and maintain insurance on behalf of an individual

(i) who is a director, officer, employee, or agent of the Corporation, or

(ii) who, while a director, officer, employee, or agent of the Corporation, serves at the Corporation's request as a director, officer, partner, trustee, employee or agent of another domestic or foreign corporation, partnership, joint venture, trust, employee benefit plan, or other entity

against liability asserted against or incurred by him or her in that capacity or arising from his or her status as a director, officer, employee, or agent, whether or not the Corporation would have power to indemnify or advance expenses to him or her against the same liability under these bylaws or the Code.

8.06 Witness Fees

Nothing in these bylaws shall limit the Corporation's power to pay or reimburse expenses incurred by a director or officer in connection with his or her appearance as a witness in a proceeding at a time when he or she is not a party.

8.07 Report to Shareholders

To the extent and in the manner required by the Code from time to time, if the Corporation indemnifies or advances expenses to a director or officer in connection with a proceeding by or in the right of the Corporation, the Corporation shall report the indemnification or advance to the shareholders.

8.08 Effect of Amendments

No amendment, modification, or rescission of these bylaws, or any provision of the bylaws, the effect of which would diminish the rights to indemnification or advancement of expenses as set forth herein shall be effective as to any person with respect to any action taken or omitted by such person prior to such amendment, modification or rescission.

Article IX. Stock Certificates

9.01 Authorization and Issuance

In accordance with the Code, the Board of Directors may authorize shares of any class or series provided for in the Corporation's Articles of Incorporation to be issued for any consideration valid under the provisions of the Code. To the extent provided in the Articles of Incorporation, the Board of Directors shall determine the preferences, limitations, and relative rights of the shares.

9.02 Form

The interest of each shareholder in the Corporation shall be evidenced by a certificate or certificates representing shares of the Corporation which shall be in such form as the Board of Directors from time to time may adopt. Share certificates shall be numbered consecutively, shall be in registered form, shall indicate the date of issuance, the name of the Corporation, that it is organized under the laws of the State of Indiana, the name of the shareholder, the number and class of shares, and the designation of the series, if any, represented by the certificate. Each certificate shall be signed by any one of the President, a Vice President, the Secretary, or the Treasurer. The corporate seal need not be affixed.

9.03 Registered Shareholders

Prior to due presentation for transfer of registration of its shares, the Corporation may treat the registered owner of the shares as the person exclusively entitled to vote the shares, to receive any share dividend or distribution with respect to the shares, and for all other purposes. The Corporation shall not be bound to recognize any equitable or other claim to or interest in the shares on the part of any other person, whether or not it shall have express or other notice thereof, except as otherwise provided by law.

9.04 Transfer of Shares

Transfers of shares shall be made upon the transfer books of the Corporation, kept at the principle office of the Corporation (or at the office of the transfer agent designated to transfer the shares, if any) only upon direction of the person named in the certificate, or by his or her attorney lawfully constituted in writing. Before a new certificate is issued, the old certificate shall be surrendered for cancellation or, in the case of a certificate alleged to have been lost, stolen, or destroyed, the requirements of the bylaw governing lost, stolen, or destroyed certificates shall have been met.

9.05 Record Date

For the purpose of determining shareholders entitled to notice of a shareholders' meeting, to demand a special meeting, to vote, or to take any other action, the Board of Directors may fix a future date as the Record Date, which date shall be not more than seventy (70) days prior to the date on which the particular action requiring a determination of shareholders is to be taken. A determination of shareholders entitled to notice of or to vote at a shareholders' meeting is effective for any adjournment of the meeting unless the Board of Directors fixes a new Record Date, which it must do if the meeting is adjourned to a date more than 120 days after the date fixed for the original meeting. If no Record Date is fixed by the Board of Directors, the Record Date shall be determined in accordance with the provisions of the Code.

For the purpose of determining shareholders entitled to a distribution (other than one involving a purchase, redemption, or other reacquisition of the Corporation's shares) or a share dividend, the Board of Directors may fix a date as the Record Date. If no Record Date is fixed by the Board of Directors, the Record Date shall be determined in accordance with the provisions of the Code.

9.06 Lost, Stolen, or Destroyed Certificates

Any person claiming a share certificate to be lost, stolen, or destroyed shall make an affidavit or affirmation of the fact in the manner required by the Board of Directors and, if the Board of Directors requires, shall give the Corporation a bond of indemnity in form and amount, and with one or more sureties satisfactory to the Board of Directors, as the Board of Directors may require, whereupon an appropriate new certificate may be issued in lieu of the one alleged to have been lost, stolen or destroyed.

Article X. Miscellaneous

10.01 Fiscal Year

The fiscal year of the Corporation shall be a twelve-month period, beginning January 1 and ending on December 31 each year, unless the Board of Directors, by resolution, fixes the fiscal year as another time period.

10.02 Corporate Seal

If the Board of Directors determines that there should be a corporate seal for the Corporation, it shall be in the form as the Board of Directors may from time to time determine.

10.03 Corporate Records

The Board of Directors shall have the power to determine which accounts, books, and records of the Corporation shall be opened to the inspection of the shareholders, except those as may by law specifically be made open to inspection. The Board of Directors shall have the power to fix reasonable rules and regulations not in conflict with the applicable law for the inspection of accounts, books, and records which by law or by determination of the Board of Directors shall be open to inspection.

10.04 Annual Financial Statements

In accordance with the Code, the Corporation shall prepare and provide to the shareholders such financial statements as may be required by the Code.

10.05 Contracts

The Board of Directors may authorize any officer or agent to enter into any contract or execute and deliver any instrument in the name of and on behalf of the Corporation and such authority may be general or confined to a specific instance; and unless so authorized by the Board of Directors, no officer, agent or employee shall have any power or authority to bind the Corporation by any contract or engagement or to pledge its credit or render it liable pecuniarily for any purposes or to any amount. However, all contracts and agreements into which the Corporation enters in the ordinary course of business operations may be executed by any officer of the Corporation or by any other employee of the Corporation designated by the President to execute such contracts and agreements. Notwithstanding any other provision of these bylaws, however, the President is hereby given authority to execute all written documents or instruments on behalf of the Corporation.

10.06 Checks and Other Instruments

All checks, drafts, notes, bonds, bills of exchange, and orders for the payment of money shall, unless otherwise directed by the Board of Directors or required by law, be signed by either the President or the Secretary. The Board of Directors may, however, designate one or more officers or employees of the Corporation, other than those named above, who may, in the name of the Corporation, execute drafts, checks, and orders for the payment of money in its behalf.

10.07 Amendments

The Board of Directors shall have the power to alter, amend, or repeal these bylaws or adopt new bylaws, but any bylaws adopted by the Board of Directors may be altered, amended, or repealed, and new bylaws adopted, by the shareholders. The shareholders may prescribe, by expressing in the action they take in adopting or amending any bylaw or bylaws, that the bylaw or bylaws so adopted or amended shall not be altered, amended or repealed by the Board of Directors.

10.08 Conflict with Articles of Incorporation or Law; Severability

In the event that any provision of these bylaws conflicts with any provision of the articles of incorporation, the articles of incorporation shall govern. In the event that any of the provisions of these bylaws (including any provision within a single section, subsection, division or sentence) is held by a court of competent jurisdiction to be invalid, void, or otherwise unenforceable, the remaining provisions of the bylaws shall remain enforceable to the fullest extent permitted by law.

AMENDED AND RESTATED BY-LAWS

OF

SEVEN HILLS HOSPITAL, INC.

(as of November 30, 2011)

ARTICLE I

Stockholders

Section 1. Annual Meeting. The annual meeting of the stockholders shall be held within six months of the end of the corporation's fiscal year as fixed by the board of directors for the purpose of electing directors and for such other purposes as may be determined as hereinafter provided. The hour and place of such meeting and the purposes for which such meeting is to be held in addition to that specified above shall be determined in each year by the board of directors or, in the absence of action by the board, by the president. If no annual meeting has been held in the period fixed above, a special meeting may be held in lieu thereof with all the force and effect of an annual meeting.

Section 2. Special Meetings. Special meetings of the stockholders may be called at any time by the president or by the board of directors and shall be called by the clerk, or in case of the death, absence, incapacity or refusal of the clerk, by any other officer, upon written application of one or more stockholders who hold at least one-tenth part in interest of the capital stock entitled to vote thereat. Such application shall specify the purposes for which the meeting is to be called and may designate the date, hour and place of such meeting, provided, however, that no such application shall designate a date not a full business day or an hour not within normal business hours as the date or hour of such meeting without the approval of the president or the board of directors.

Section 3. Place of Meetings. Meetings of the stockholders may be held anywhere within, but not without, the United States.

Section 4. Notice. Except as hereinafter provided, a written or printed notice of every meeting of stockholders stating the place, date, hour and purposes thereof shall be given by the clerk or an assistant clerk (or by any other officer in the case of an annual meeting or by the person or persons calling the meeting in the case of a special meeting) at least ten (10) days before the meeting to each stockholder entitled to vote thereat and to each stockholder who, by law, by the articles of organization or by these by-laws, is entitled to such notice, by leaving such notice with him or at his residence or usual place of business or by mailing it, postage prepaid, addressed to him at his address as it appears upon the records of the corporation. No notice of the place, date, hour or purposes of any annual or special meeting of stockholders need be given to a stockholder if a written waiver of such notice, executed before or after the meeting by such stockholder or his attorney thereunto authorized, is filed with the records of the meeting.

Section 5. Action at a Meeting. Except as otherwise provided in the articles of organization, the presence of a quorum shall be separately determined with respect to each matter to be acted on at any meeting of stockholders, and shall consist of the holders of shares having the right to cast a majority of the votes which may be cast with respect to such matter. Though less than a quorum be present, any meeting may without further notice be adjourned to a subsequent date or until a quorum be had, and at any such adjourned meeting any business may be transacted which might have been transacted at the original meeting.

When a quorum is present at any meeting, the affirmative vote of a majority of the shares of stock present or represented and voting shall be necessary and sufficient to the determination of any questions brought before the meeting, unless a larger vote is required by law, by the articles of organization or by these by-laws, provided, however, that any election by stockholders shall be determined by a plurality of the votes cast by the stockholders entitled to vote in such election.

Except as otherwise provided by law or by the articles or organization or by these by-laws, each holder of record of shares of stock entitled to vote on any matter shall have one vote for each such share held of record by him and a proportionate vote for any fractional shares so held by him. Stockholders may vote either in person or by proxy. No proxy dated more than six months before the meeting named therein shall be valid and no proxy shall be valid after the final adjournment of such meeting. A proxy with respect to stock held in the name of two or more persons shall be valid if executed by anyone of them unless at or prior to the exercise of the proxy the corporation receives a specific written notice to the contrary from anyone of them. A proxy purporting to be executed by or on behalf of a stockholder shall be deemed valid unless challenged at or prior to its exercise and the burden of proving its invalidity shall rest on the challenger.

Any election by stockholders and the determination of any other questions to come before a meeting of the stockholders shall be by ballot if so requested by any stockholder entitled to vote thereon but need not be otherwise.

Section 6. Stockholder Proposals. Written notification of any stockholder proposal to be acted upon at an annual meeting of stockholders of the corporation must be provided to the corporation at least 120 calendar days in advance of the date of the corporation’s proxy statement released to stockholders in connection with the previous year’s annual meeting of stockholders. Written notification of any stockholder proposal to be acted upon at any meeting of the stockholders of the corporation other than an annual meeting must be provided to the corporation at least 180 calendar days before the meeting at which such proposal is to be acted upon.

Section 7. Action by Written Consent. Any action required to be taken at any annual or special meeting of stockholders of the corporation, or any action which may be taken at any annual or special meeting of such stockholders, may be taken without a meeting, without prior notice and without a vote, if a consent or consents in writing, setting forth the action so taken and bearing the dates of signature of the stockholders who signed the consent or consents, shall be signed by the holders of outstanding stock having not less than the minimum number of votes that would be necessary to authorize or take such action at a meeting at which all shares entitled to vote thereon were present and voted and shall be delivered to the corporation by delivery to the corporation's principal place of business, or an officer or agent of the corporation having custody of the book or books in which proceedings of meetings of the stockholders are recorded.

ARTICLE II

Directors

Section 1. Number and Election. Except as otherwise provided by law or by the articles of organization, the number of directors for the ensuing year shall be determined by the board of directors. The number of directors so determined shall be elected at the annual meeting of the stockholders by such stockholders as have the right to vote thereon. The stockholders may, at any special meeting held for the purpose, increase or decrease the number of directors as thus determined and elect new directors to complete the number so determined or remove directors to reduce the number of directors to the number so determined. Except as otherwise provided by law or by the articles of organization, the board of directors may, by vote of a majority of the directors then in office, increase the number of directors determined by the stockholders and elect new directors to complete the number so determined. No director need be a stockholder.

Section 2. Term. Except as otherwise provided by law, by the articles of organization or by these by-laws, the directors shall hold office until the next annual meeting of stockholders and until their successors are chosen and qualified.

Section 3. Resignations. Any director may resign by delivering his written resignation to the corporation at its principal office or to the president or clerk or if there be one, to the secretary. Such resignation shall become effective at the time or upon the happening of the condition, if any, specified therein or, if no such time or condition is specified, upon its receipt.

Section 4. Removal. At any meeting of the stockholders called: for the purpose any director may be removed from office with or without cause by the vote of a majority of the class of shares issued, outstanding and entitled to vote in the election of said director. At any meeting of the board of directors any director may be removed from office for cause by vote of a majority of the directors then in office. A director may be removed for cause only after a reasonable notice and opportunity to be heard before the body proposing to remove him.

Section 5. Vacancies. Vacancies in the board of directors may be filled by vote of a majority of the remaining directors elected by that class of stockholders which elected the director whose office has been vacated or, if not yet so filled, by majority vote of the class of stockholders which elected the director whose office has been vacated.

Section 6. Regular Meetings. Regular meetings of the board of directors may be held at such times and places within or without the State of Delaware as the board of directors may fix from time to time and, when so fixed, no notice thereof need be given. The first meeting of the board of directors following the annual meeting of the stockholders shall be held without notice immediately after and at the same place as the annual meeting of the stockholders or the special meeting held in lieu thereof. If in any year a meeting of the board of directors is not held at such time and place, any elections to be held or business to be transacted at such meeting may be held or transacted at any later meeting of the board of directors with the same force and effect as if held or transacted at such meeting.

Section 7. Special Meetings. Special meetings of the board of directors may be called at any time by the president or secretary (or, if there be no secretary, the clerk) or by any director. Such special meetings may be held anywhere within or without the State of Delaware. A written, printed or telegraphic notice stating the place, date and hour (but not necessarily the purposes) of the meeting shall be given by the secretary or an assistant secretary (or, if there be no secretary or assistant secretary, the clerk or an assistant clerk) or by the officer or director calling the meeting at least forty-eight (48) hours before such meeting to each director by leaving such notice with him or at his residence or usual place of business or by mailing it, postage prepaid, or sending it by prepaid telegram, addressed to him at his last known address. No notice of the place, date or hour of any meeting of the board of directors need be given to any director if a written waiver of such notice, executed by him before or after the meeting, is filed with the records of the meeting, or to any director who attends the meeting without protesting prior thereto or at its commencement the lack of notice to him.

Section 8. Action at a Meeting. At any meeting of the board of directors, a majority of the directors then in office shall constitute a quorum. Though less than a quorum be present, any meeting may without further notice be adjourned to a subsequent date or until a quorum be had. When a quorum is present at any meeting a majority of the directors present may take any action on behalf of the board except to the extent that a larger number is required by law, by the articles or organization or by these by-laws.

Section 9. Action Without a Meeting. Any action required or permitted to be taken at any meeting of the directors may be taken without a meeting if all the directors consent to the action in writing and the written consents are filed with the records of the meetings of the directors. Such consents shall be treated for all purposes as a vote at a meeting.

Section 10. Powers. The board of directors shall have and may exercise all the powers of the corporation, except such as by law, by the articles of organization or by these by-laws are conferred upon or reserved to the stockholders. In the event of any vacancy in the board of directors, the remaining directors then in office, except as otherwise provided by law, shall have and may exercise all of the powers of the board of directors until the vacancy is filled.

Section 11. Committees. The board of directors may elect from the board an executive committee or one or more other committees and may delegate to any such committee or committees any or all of the powers of the board except those which by law, by the articles of organization or by these by-laws may not be so delegated. Such committees shall serve at the pleasure of the board of directors. Except as the board of directors may otherwise determine, each such committee may make rules for the conduct of its business, but, unless otherwise determined by the board or in such rules, its business shall be conducted as nearly as may be as is provided in these by-laws for the conduct of the business of the board of directors.

Section 12. Meeting by Telecommunications. Members of the board of directors or any committee elected thereby may participate in a meeting of such board of committee by means of a conference telephone or similar communications equipment by means of which all persons participating in a meeting can hear each other at the same time and participation by such means shall constitute presence in person at the meeting.

ARTICLE III

Officers

Section 1. Enumeration. The officers of the corporation shall consist of a president, a treasurer and a clerk and such other officers, including without limitation a chairman of the board of directors, a secretary and one or more vice presidents, assistant treasurers, assistant clerks and assistant secretaries, as the board of directors may from time to time determine.

Section 2. Qualifications. No officer need be a stockholder or a director. The same person may hold at the same time one or more offices unless otherwise provided by law. The clerk shall be a resident of Delaware unless the corporation shall have a resident agent. Any officer may be required by the board of directors to give a bond for the faithful performance of his duties in such form and with such sureties as the board may determine.

Section 3. Elections. The president, treasurer and clerk shall be elected annually by the board of directors at its first meeting following the annual meeting of the stockholders. All other officers shall be chosen or appointed by the board of directors.

Section 4. Term. Except as otherwise provided by law, by the articles of organization or by these by-laws, the president, treasurer and clerk shall hold office until the first meeting of the board of directors following the next annual meeting of the stockholders and until their respective successors are chosen and qualified. All other officers shall hold office until the first meeting of the board of directors following the next annual meeting of the stockholders, unless a shorter time is specified in the vote choosing or appointing such officer or officers.

Section 5. Resignations. Any officer may resign by delivering his written resignation to the corporation at its principal office or to the president or clerk, or, if there be one, to the secretary. Such resignation shall be effective at the time or upon the happening of the condition, if any, specified therein or, if no such time or condition is specified, upon its receipt.

Section 6. Removal. Any officer may be removed from office with or without cause by vote of a majority of the directors then in office. An officer may be removed for cause only after a reasonable notice and opportunity to be heard before the board of directors.

Section 7. Vacancies. Vacancies in any office may be filled by the board of directors.

Section 8. Certain Duties and Powers. The officers designated below, subject at all times to these by-laws and to the direction and control of the board of directors, shall have and may exercise the respective duties and powers set forth below:

The Chairman of the Board of Directors. The chairman of the board of directors, if there be one, shall, when present, preside at all meetings of the board of directors.

The President. The president shall be the chief executive officer of the corporation and shall have general operating charge of its business. Unless otherwise prescribed by the board of directors, he shall, when present, preside at all meetings of the stockholders, and, if a director, at all meetings of the board of directors unless there be a chairman of the board of directors who is present at the meeting.

The Treasurer. The treasurer shall be the chief financial officer of the corporation and shall cause to be kept accurate books of account.

The Clerk. The clerk shall keep a record of all proceedings of the stockholders and, if there be no secretary, shall also keep a record of all proceedings of the board of directors. In the absence of the clerk from any meeting of the stockholders or, if there be no secretary, from any meeting of the board of directors, an assistant clerk, if there be one, otherwise a clerk pro tempore designated by the person presiding at the meeting, shall perform the duties of the clerk at such meeting.

The Secretary. The secretary, if there be one, shall keep a record of all proceedings of the board of directors. In the absence of the secretary, if there be one, from any meeting of the board of directors, an assistant secretary, if there be one, otherwise a secretary pro tempore designated by the person presiding at the meeting, shall perform the duties of the secretary at such meeting.

Section 9. Other Duties and Powers. Each officer, subject at all times to these by-laws and to the direction and control of the board of directors, shall have and may exercise, in addition to the duties and powers specifically set forth in these by-laws, such duties and powers as are prescribed by law, such duties and powers as are commonly incident to his office and such duties and powers as the board of directors may from time to time prescribe.

ARTICLE IV

Capital Stock

Section 1. Amount and Issuance. The total number of shares and the par value, if any, of each class of stock which the corporation is authorized to issue shall be stated in the articles of organization. The directors may at any time issue all or from time to time any part of the unissued capital stock of the corporation from time to time authorized under the articles of organization, and may determine, subject to any requirements of law, the consideration for which stock is to be issued and the manner of allocating such consideration between capital and surplus.

Section 2. Certificates. Each stockholder shall be entitled to a certificate or certificates stating the number and the class and the designation of the series, if any, of the shares held by him, and otherwise in form approved by the board of directors. Such certificate or certificates shall be signed by the president or a vice president and by the treasurer or an assistant treasurer. Such signatures may be facsimiles if the certificate is signed by a transfer agent, or by a registrar, other than a director, officer or employee of the corporation. In case any officer who has signed or whose facsimile signature has been placed on such certificate shall have ceased to be such officer before such certificate is issued, it may be issued by the corporation with the same effect as if he were such officer at the time of its issue.

Every certificate issued for shares of stock at a time when such shares are subject to any restriction on transfer pursuant to the articles of organization, these by-laws or any agreement to which the corporation is a party shall have the restriction noted conspicuously on the certificate and shall also set forth on the face or back of the certificate either (i) the full text of the restriction or (ii) a statement of the existence of such restriction and a statement that the corporation will furnish a copy thereof to the holder of such certificate upon written request and without charge.

Every certificate issued for shares of stock at a time when the corporation is authorized to issue more than one class or series of stock shall set forth on the face or back of the certificate either (i) the full text of the preferences, voting powers, qualifications and special and relative rights of the shares of each class and series, if any, authorized to be issued, as set forth in the articles of organization or (ii) a statement of the existence of such preferences, powers, qualifications and rights and a statement that the corporation will furnish a copy thereof to the holder of such certificate upon written request and without charge.

Section 3. Transfers. The board of directors may make such rules and regulations not inconsistent with the law, with the articles of organization or with these by-laws as it deems expedient relative to the issue, transfer and registration of stock certificates. The board of directors may appoint a transfer agent and a registrar of transfers or either and require all stock certificates to bear their signatures. Except as otherwise provided by law, by the articles of organization or by these by-laws, the corporation shall be entitled to treat the record holder of any shares of stock as shown on the books of the corporation as the holder of such shares for all purposes, including the right to receive notice of and to vote at any meeting of stockholders and the right to receive any dividend or other distribution in respect of such shares.

Section 4. Record Date. The board of directors may fix in advance a time, which shall be not more than sixty (60) days before the date of any meeting of stockholders or the date for the payment of any dividend or the making of any distribution to stockholders or the last day on which the consent or dissent of stockholders may be effectively expressed for any purpose, as the record date for determining the stockholders having the right to notice of and to vote at such meeting and any adjournment thereof or the right to receive such dividend or distribution or the right to give such consent or dissent, and in such case only stockholders of record on such record date shall have such right, notwithstanding any transfer of stock on the books of the corporation after the record date.

Section 5. Lost Certificates. The board of directors may, except as otherwise provided by law, determine the conditions upon which a new certificate of stock may be issued in place of any certificate alleged to have been lost, mutilated or destroyed.

ARTICLE V

Miscellaneous provisions

Section 1. Fiscal Year. The fiscal year of the corporation shall begin on the first day of January in each year and end on the last day of December next following.

Section 2. Corporate Seal. The seal of the corporation shall be in such form as shall be determined from time to time by the board of directors.

Section 3. Corporation Records. The original, or attested copies, of the articles of organization, by-laws and records of all meetings of the incorporators and stockholders, and the stock and transfer records, which shall contain the names of all stockholders and the record address and the amount of stock held by each, shall be kept in the State of Delaware at the principal office of the corporation in said State or at an office of the transfer agent or of its clerk or of its resident agent, if any. Said copies and records need not all be kept in the same office. They shall be available at all reasonable times to inspection by any stockholder for any proper purpose but not if the purpose for which such inspection is sought is to secure a list of stockholders or other information for the purpose of selling said list or information or copies thereof or of using the same for a purpose other than the interest of the applicant, as a stockholder, relative to the affairs of the corporation.

Section 4. Voting of Securities. Except as the board of directors may otherwise prescribe, the president or the treasurer shall have full power and authority in the name and on behalf of the corporation, subject to the instructions of the board of directors, to waive notice of, to attend, act and vote at, and to appoint any person or persons to act as proxy or attorney in fact for this corporation (with or without power of substitution) at any meeting of stockholders or shareholders of any other corporation or organization, the securities of which may be held by this corporation.

ARTICLE VI

Amendments

These by-laws may be amended or repealed at any annual or special meeting of the stockholders by the affirmative vote of a majority of the shares of capital stock then issued, outstanding and entitled to vote provided notice of the proposed amendment or repeal is given in the notice of the meeting. No change in the date fixed in these by-laws for the annual meeting of the stockholders shall be made within sixty (60) days before such date, and notice of any change in such date shall be given to all stockholders at least twenty (20) days before the new date fixed for such meeting.

If authorized by the articles of incorporation, these by-laws may also be amended or repealed in whole or in part, or new by-laws made, by the board of directors except with respect to any provision hereof which by-law, the articles of organization or these by-laws requires action by the stockholders. Not later than the time of giving notice of the meeting of stockholders next following the making, amendment or repeal by the directors of any by-laws, notice thereof stating the substance of such change shall be given to all stockholders entitled to vote on amending the by-laws. Any by-law to be made, amended or repealed by the directors may be amended or repealed by the stockholders.

Such determination shall be made as of the close of business on the record date unless another time for doing so is specified when the record date is fixed.

1.03 Voting Group

Voting Group means all shares of one or more classes or series that under the articles of incorporation or the Code are entitled to vote and be counted together collectively on a matter at a meeting of the shareholders. All shares entitled by the articles of incorporation or the Code to vote generally on the matter are for that purpose a single voting group.

1.04 Corporation

Corporation includes any domestic or foreign predecessor entity of the corporation in a merger or other transaction in which the predecessor's existence ceased upon consummation of the transaction.

1.05 Director or Officer

Director or Officer means an individual who is or was (i) a member of the Board of Directors, (ii) an individual elected or appointed by the Board of Directors to serve as an officer, or (iii) a member of any duly constituted Committee of the Board of Directors. "Director" or "officer" includes, unless the context otherwise requires, the estate or personal representative of a director or officer.

1.06 Disinterested Director or Officer

"Disinterested Director" or "Disinterested Officer" means a director or officer who, with respect to a determination of the authorization or non-authorization of an expense advancement or of indemnification, is neither:

(i) the individual whose indemnification or expense advancement is the subject of the decision being made; nor

(ii) An individual having a familial, financial, professional, or employment relationship with the person whose indemnification or advance for expenses is the subject of the decision being made with respect to the proceeding, which relationship would, in the circumstances, reasonably be expected to exert an influence on the director's or officer's judgment when voting on the decision being made.

1.07 Liability

Liability means the obligation to pay a judgment, settlement, penalty, fine (including an excise tax assessed with respect to an employee benefit plan), or reasonable expenses incurred with respect to a proceeding.

1.08 Official Capacity

When used with respect to a director, Official Capacity means the office of director in the corporation. When used with respect to an officer, Official Capacity means the office in the corporation held by the officer. Official capacity does not include service for any other domestic or foreign corporation or any partnership, joint venture, trust, employee benefit plan, or other entity.

1.09 Party

Party includes an individual who was, is, or is threatened to be made a named defendant or respondent in a proceeding.

1.10 Proceeding

Proceeding means any threatened, pending, or completed action, suit, or proceeding, whether civil, criminal, administrative, arbitrative, or investigative and whether formal or informal.

Article II. Offices and Agents

2.01 Registered Office and Agent

The corporation shall maintain a registered office and have a registered agent, whose business office address is identical to that of the registered office, in its state of incorporation and in each state in which the corporation is qualified to do business.

2.02 Other Offices

In addition to its registered office, the corporation may have offices at any other place or places, within or without the state of incorporation, as the Board of Directors may from time to time select or as the business of the corporation may require or make desirable.

Article III. Meetings of the Shareholders

3.01 Annual Meetings

An annual meeting of the shareholders shall be held for the election of directors at such date, time, and place, either within or without the state of incorporation, as may be designated by resolution of the Board of Directors from time to time. Such resolution shall designate the date, time, and place of the meeting. Any other proper business may be transacted at the annual meeting. If an annual meeting is not held as provided in this bylaw, any business, including the election of directors, that might properly have been acted upon at that meeting may be acted upon at a special meeting in lieu of the annual meeting held pursuant to these bylaws or held pursuant to a court order.

3.02 Special Meetings

Special meetings of the shareholders may be called for any purpose or purposes at any time by the Board of Directors, or by the President of the corporation, or by a Committee of the Board of Directors that has been duly designated and authorized by resolution of the Board of Directors to call such meetings. In addition, the Board of Directors shall call such a meeting upon the written request of shareholders holding at least twenty percent (20%) of all the votes entitled to be cast on the issue or issues proposed to be considered at the requested special meeting.

3.03 Quorum

With respect to shares entitled to vote as a separate voting group on a matter at a meeting of shareholders, the presence, in person or by proxy, of a majority of the votes entitled to be cast on the matter by the voting group shall constitute a quorum of that voting group for action on that matter unless the articles of incorporation or the Code provide otherwise. Once a share is represented for any purpose at a meeting, other than solely to object to holding the meeting or to transacting business at the meeting, it is deemed present for quorum purposes for the remainder of the meeting and for any adjournment of the meeting unless a new record date is or must be set for the adjourned meeting pursuant to the bylaw governing the fixing of the record date with regard to shareholder action.

3.04 Adjournment and Reconvention

Whether or not a quorum is present to organize a meeting, any meeting of shareholders may be adjourned by the holders of a majority of the voting shares represented at the meeting to reconvene at a specific time and place, but no later than 120 days after the date fixed for the original meeting unless the requirements of the Code concerning the selection of a new record date have been met. At any reconvened meeting within that time period, any business may be transacted that could have been transacted at the meeting that was adjourned.

3.05 Presiding Officer

The Chief Executive Officer shall serve as the Presiding Officer of every meeting of shareholders unless another person is elected by the shareholders to serve as Presiding Officer at the meeting. The Presiding Officer shall appoint any persons he deems required to assist with the meeting.

3.06 Vote Required for Action

If a quorum exists, action on a matter (other than the election of directors) by a voting group is approved if the votes cast within the voting group favoring the action exceed the votes cast opposing the action, unless the articles of incorporation, provisions of these bylaws validly adopted by the shareholders, or the Code requires a greater number of affirmative votes. If the articles of incorporation or the Code provide for voting by two or more voting groups on a matter, action on that matter is taken only when voted upon by each of those voting groups counted separately. Action may be taken by one voting group on a matter even though no action is taken by another voting group entitled to vote on the matter. With regard to the election of directors, unless otherwise provided in the articles of incorporation, if a quorum exists, action on the election of directors is taken by a plurality of the votes cast by the shares entitled to vote in the election.

3.07 Shares Held by Another Corporation

Shares standing in the name of another corporation, domestic or foreign, may be voted by such officer, agent, or proxy as the by-laws of such other corporation may prescribe, or, in the absence of such a provision, as the board of directors of such other corporation may determine.

3.08 Method of Voting Shares

Unless the articles of incorporation or the Code provide otherwise, each outstanding share having voting rights shall be entitled to one vote on each matter submitted to a vote at a meeting of the shareholders. Voting on all matters shall be by voice vote or by show of hands unless any qualified voter, prior to the voting on any matter, demands vote by ballot, in which case each ballot shall state the name of the shareholder voting and the number of shares voted by him, and if the ballot be cast by proxy, it shall also state the name of the proxy.

3.09 Proxies

A shareholder entitled to vote on a matter may vote in person or by proxy pursuant to an appointment of proxy executed in writing by the shareholder or by his attorney-in-fact. An appointment of proxy shall be valid for only one meeting to be specified therein, and any adjournments of such meeting, but shall not be valid for more than eleven months unless expressly provided therein. Appointments of proxy shall be dated and filed with the records of the meeting to which they relate. If the validity of any appointment of proxy is questioned, it must be submitted to the secretary of the meeting of shareholders for examination or to a proxy officer or committee appointed by the meeting's presiding officer. The secretary of the meeting or, if appointed, the proxy officer or committee, shall determine the validity or invalidity of any appointment of proxy submitted for examination. Reference in the minutes of the meeting by the secretary or, if appointed, the proxy officer or committee, as to the regularity of an appointment of proxy shall be received as prima facie evidence of the facts stated for the purpose of establishing the presence of a quorum at the meeting and for all other purposes.

3.10 Action Without a Meeting

Any action required or permitted to be taken at a meeting of the shareholders, may be taken without a meeting if the action is taken by all shareholders entitled to vote on the action. Or, if allowed by the articles of incorporation, such action may be taken without a meeting by persons who would be entitled to vote shares having voting power to cast not less than the minimum number (or numbers, in the case of voting by groups) of votes that would be necessary to authorize or take the action at a meeting at which all shareholders entitled to vote were present and voted. The action without a meeting must be evidenced by one or more written consents describing the action taken, signed by shareholders entitled to take action without a meeting, and delivered to the corporation for inclusion in the minutes or filing with the corporate records. The corporation shall give written notice of actions so taken.

3.11 Notice

Unless waived as contemplated in these bylaws, a notice of each meeting of shareholders, stating the date, time, and place of the meeting shall be given not less than ten (10) days nor more than sixty (60) days before the date thereof, to each shareholder entitled to vote at that meeting. In the case of an annual meeting, the notice need not state the purpose or purposes of the meeting unless the articles of incorporation or the Code requires otherwise. In the case of a special meeting, including a special meeting in lieu of an annual meeting, the notice of meeting shall state the purpose or purposes for which the meeting is called.

Article IV. Board of Directors

4.01 Powers

All corporate powers, which are lawful and do not violate any legal agreement among shareholders and which are not prohibited by the articles of incorporation or these bylaws, shall be exercised by or under the authority of, and the business and affairs of the corporation shall be managed under, the direction of the Board of Directors. The Board of Directors may, by resolution, vote any shares of stock owned by the corporation. Also, the Board of Directors from time to time in its discretion may authorize or declare distributions or share dividends in accordance with the Code.

4.02 Number

The number and composition of the corporation's Board of Directors shall initially be that which is specified in the articles of incorporation. If the articles of incorporation do not specify the number and composition of the Board of Directors, then the Board of Director's shall consist of one member, the

Chief Executive Officer of the corporation. Thereafter, the number and composition of the Board of Directors may be changed from time to time by an action of the shareholders.

4.03 Election

Except as provided for in the bylaw addressing vacancies in the Board of Directors, the Directors shall be elected by a vote of the shareholders at each annual meeting of shareholders or special meeting in lieu of the annual meeting.

4.04 Term of Office

Except in the case of death, written resignation, retirement, disqualification, or removal, each director shall serve until the next succeeding annual meeting or special meeting in lieu of an annual meeting and thereafter until his successor is elected and qualifies or until the number of directors is decreased.

4.05 Removal

One or more directors may be removed from office with or without cause by the shareholders by a majority of the votes entitled to be cast. If the director was elected by a voting group, only the shareholders of that voting group may participate in the vote to remove him. Removal action may be taken at any meeting of shareholders with respect to which the notice stated that the purpose, or one of the purposes, of the meeting is removal of the director, and a removed director's successor may be elected at the same meeting.

4.06 Vacancies

A vacancy occurring in the Board of Directors, other than by reason of an increase in the number of directors, shall be filled for the unexpired term by the first to take action of (a) the shareholders or (b) the Board of Directors, and if the directors remaining in office constitute fewer than a quorum of the Board of Directors, they may fill the vacancy by the affirmative vote of a majority of all the directors remaining in office. If the vacant office was held by a director elected by a voting group, only the holders of shares of that voting group or the remaining directors elected by that voting group are entitled to vote to fill the vacancy. A vacancy occurring in the Board of Directors by reason of an increase in the number of directors shall be filled in like manner as any other vacancy, but, if filled by action of the Board of Directors, shall only be for a term of office continuing until the next election of directors by the shareholders and until the election and qualification of a successor.

4.07 Committees

The Board of Directors, by resolution, may designate from among its members an executive committee and one or more other committees, each consisting of one or more directors all of whom serve at the pleasure of the Board of Directors. Except as limited by the Code, each committee shall have the authority set forth in the resolution establishing the committee. The provisions of these bylaws as to the Board of Directors and its deliberations shall be applicable to any committee of the Board of Directors. All decisions and actions of any committee created by these bylaws or resulting from the authority granted by these bylaws, shall be subject to the discretionary review and approval of the Board of Directors.

4.08 Compensation

Unless the articles of incorporation provide otherwise, the Board of Directors may determine from time to time the compensation, if any, directors may receive for their services as directors. A director may also serve the corporation in a capacity other than that of director and receive compensation, as determined by the Board of Directors, for services rendered in such other capacity.

Article V. Meetings of the Board of Directors

5.01 Regular Meetings

Regular meetings of the Board of Directors shall be held immediately after the annual meeting of shareholders or a special meeting in lieu of the annual meeting. In addition, the Board of Directors may schedule other meetings to occur at regular intervals throughout the year.

5.02 Special Meetings

Special meetings of the Board of Directors may be called by or at the request of the Chief Executive Officer of the corporation, by the sole director of the board or, if the board consists of more than one director, by any two directors in office at that time.

5.03 Quorums

Unless a greater number is required by the articles of incorporation, these bylaws, or the Code, a quorum of the Board of Directors consists of a majority of the total number of directors.

5.04 Adjournments

Whether or not a quorum is present to organize a meeting, any meeting of directors (including an adjourned meeting) may be adjourned by a majority of the directors present to reconvene at a specific time and place. At any reconvened meeting, any business may be transacted that could have been transacted at the meeting that was adjourned. It shall not be necessary to give any notice of the reconvened meeting or of the business to be transacted, if the date, time and place of the reconvened meeting are announced at the meeting that was adjourned.

5.05 Action Without a Meeting

Unless the Code, the articles of incorporation, or these bylaws provide otherwise, any action required or permitted to be taken at any meeting of the Board of Directors, or any action that may be taken at a meeting of an authorized committee of the Board of Directors, may be taken without a meeting if the action is taken by all the members of the Board of Directors (or of the committee, as the case may be). The action must be evidenced by one or more written consents describing the action taken, signed by each director (or each director serving on the committee, as the case may be), and delivered to the corporation for inclusion in the minutes or filing with the corporate records.

5.06 Meetings by Telephone

Any or all directors may participate in a meeting of the Board of Directors, and members of an authorized committee of the Board of Directors may participate in a meeting of the committee (as the case may be), through the use of any means of communication by which all directors participating may simultaneously hear each other during the meeting.

5.07 Place of Meetings

Directors may hold their meetings at any place within or without the state of incorporation, as the Board of Directors may from time to time establish for regular meetings or as set forth in the notice of special meetings or, in the event of a meeting held pursuant to waiver of notice, as set forth in the

waiver.

5.08 Notice of Meetings

No notice shall be required for any regularly scheduled meeting of the directors. Unless waived as contemplated in these bylaws, each director shall be given at least five day's notice of each special meeting stating the date, time, and place of the meeting. It is not required that the purpose of a Directors' meeting be stated in any notice of such a meeting, whether the meeting is a regular or a special meeting.

5.09 Vote Required for Action

If a quorum is present when a vote is taken, the affirmative vote of a majority of directors present is the act of the Board of Directors unless the Code, the articles of incorporation, or these bylaws require the vote of a greater number of directors.

A director who is present at a meeting of the Board of Directors, or an authorized committee of the Board of Directors, when corporate action is taken is deemed to have assented to the action taken unless:

(i) he objects at the beginning of the meeting (or promptly upon his arrival) to holding the meeting or to transacting business at the meeting,

(ii) his dissent or abstention from the action taken is entered in the minutes of the meeting, or

(iii) he delivers written notice of his dissent or abstention to the presiding officer of the meeting before its adjournment or to the corporation immediately after adjournment of the meeting.

The right of dissent or abstention is not available to a director who votes in favor of the action taken.

Article VI. Shareholder and Director Notices

6.1 Delivery of Notice

Whenever these bylaws require notice to be given to any shareholder or director, the notice shall be given in accordance with this bylaw. Notice under these bylaws shall be in writing unless oral notice is reasonable under the circumstances. Any notice to directors may be written or oral. Notice may be communicated in person, by telephone, telegraph, teletype, other form of wire or wireless communication, or by mail or private carrier. If these forms of personal notice are impracticable, notice may be communicated by a newspaper of general circulation in the area where published, or by radio, television, or other form of public broadcast communication. Written notice to the shareholders, if in a comprehensible form, is effective when mailed, if mailed with first-class postage prepaid and correctly addressed to the shareholder's address shown in the corporation's current record of shareholders.

6.2 When Effective

Except as otherwise provided in this bylaw, written notice, if in a comprehensible form, is effective at the earliest of the following:

(i) when received or when delivered, properly addressed, to the addressee's last known

principal place of business or residence;

(ii) five days after deposit in the mail, as evidenced by the postmark, if mailed with first-class postage prepaid and correctly addressed, or

(iii) on the date shown on the return receipt, if sent by registered or certified mail, return receipt requested, and the receipt is signed by or on behalf of the addressee.

Oral notice is effective when communicated if communicated in a comprehensible manner.

In calculating time periods for notice, when a period of time measured in days, weeks, months, years, or other measurement of time is prescribed for the exercise of any privilege or the discharge of any duty, the first day shall not be counted but the last day shall be counted.

6.3 Waiver

A shareholder or director may waive any notice before or after the date and time stated in the notice. Except as provided in this bylaw, the waiver must be in writing, be signed by the shareholder or director entitled to the notice, and be delivered to the corporation for inclusion in the minutes or filing with the corporate records.

A shareholder's attendance at a meeting (i) waives objection to lack of notice or defective notice of the meeting, unless the shareholder at the beginning of the meeting objects to holding the meeting or transacting business at the meeting; and (ii) waives objection to consideration of a particular matter at the meeting that is not within the purpose or purposes described in the meeting notice, unless the shareholder objects to considering the matter when it is presented.

A director's attendance at or participation in a meeting waives any required notice to him of the meeting unless the director at the beginning of the meeting (or promptly upon his arrival) objects to holding the meeting or transacting business at the meeting and does not thereafter vote for or assent to action taken at the meeting.

Unless required by the Code, neither the business transacted nor the purpose of the meeting need be specified in the waiver.

6.4 Notice Following Adjournment

If notice of an adjourned meeting of the shareholders or of the directors was properly given, it shall not be necessary to give any notice of the reconvened meeting or of the business to be transacted, if the date, time and place of the reconvened meeting are announced at the meeting that was adjourned and before adjournment; provided, however, that if a new record date of shares is or must be fixed, notice of the reconvened meeting must be given to persons who are shareholders as of the new record date.

Article VII. Officers

7.01 Number

The officers of the corporation shall consist of a Board Chairman, a President, a Secretary, a Treasurer, and any other officers as may be appointed by the Board of Directors or by an other duly appointed officer pursuant to these bylaws. The Board of Directors shall from time to time create and establish the duties of the other officers. Any two or more offices may be held by the same person.

7.02 Chairman of Board

The Chairman of the Board of Directors shall preside at all meetings of the Board of Directors and shall have authority to execute bonds, mortgages, and other contracts requiring a seal, under the seal of the corporation; to endorse, when sold, assigned, transferred, or otherwise disposed of by the corporation, all certificates or shares of stock, bonds, or other securities issued by other corporations, associations, trusts, whether public or private, or by any government agency thereof, and owned or held by the corporation, and to make, execute, and deliver all instruments or assignments of transfer of any such stocks, bonds, or other securities. The Chairman of the Board may, with the approval of the Board of Directors, or shall, at the direction of the Board of Directors, delegate any or all of such duties to the President.

7.03 President

The President shall be the Chief Executive Officer of the corporation and shall have general supervision of the business of the corporation. The President shall see that all orders and resolutions of the Board of Directors are carried into effect. The President shall perform such other duties as may from time to time be delegated by the Board of Directors. In the absence of the Chairman of the Board, the President shall have authority to do any and all things delegated to the Chairman of the Board of Directors.

7.04 Vice President

In the absence or disability of the President, or at the direction of the President, the Vice President, if any, shall perform the duties and exercise the powers of the President. If the corporation has more than one Vice President, the one designated by the Board of Directors shall act in lieu of the President. Vice Presidents shall perform whatever duties and have whatever powers the Board of Directors may from time to time assign.

7.05 Secretary

The Secretary shall be responsible for preparing minutes of the acts and proceedings of all meetings of the shareholders, the Board of Directors, and any Committees thereof. The Secretary shall have authority to give all notices required by the Code or these bylaws. The Secretary shall be responsible for the custody of the corporate books, records, contracts, and other documents. The Secretary may affix the corporate seal to any lawfully executed documents and shall sign any instruments as may require his or her signature. The Secretary shall authenticate records of the corporation. The Secretary shall perform whatever additional duties and have whatever additional powers the Board of Directors may from time to time assign. In the absence or disability of the Secretary or at the direction of the President, any assistant secretary may perform the duties and exercise the powers of the Secretary.

7.06 Treasurer

The Treasurer shall be responsible for the custody of all funds and securities belonging to the corporation and for the receipt, deposit, or disbursement of funds and securities under the direction of the Board of Directors. The Treasurer shall cause to be maintained full and true accounts of all receipts and disbursements and shall make reports of the same to the Board of Directors and the President upon request. The Treasurer shall perform all duties as may be assigned to him from time to time by the Board of Directors.

7.07 Appointment, Term, and Removal

All officers shall be appointed by the Board of Directors or by a duly appointed officer pursuant to these bylaws and shall serve at the pleasure of the Board of Directors or the appointing officers, as the case may be. All officers, however appointed, may be removed with or without cause by the Board of Directors, and any officer appointed by another officer may also be removed by the appointing officer with or without cause.

7.08 Compensation

The compensation of all officers of the corporation appointed by the Board of Directors shall be fixed by the Board of Directors.

7.09 Bonds

The Board of Directors may, by resolution, require any or all of the officers, agents, or employees of the corporation to give bonds to the corporation, with sufficient surety or sureties, conditioned on the faithful performance of the duties of their respective offices or positions, and to comply with any other conditions as from time to time may be required by the Board of Directors.

Article VIII. Indemnification

8.01 Basic Indemnification Arrangement

Except as provided in these bylaws, the corporation shall indemnify an individual who is a party to a proceeding because he or she is or was a director or officer against liability incurred in the proceeding if:

(i) Such Director or Officer conducted himself in good faith and reasonably believed:

(a) In the case of conduct in his or her official capacity, that such conduct was in the best interests of the corporation;

(b) In all other cases, that such conduct was at least not opposed to the best interests of the corporation; and

(c) In the case of any criminal proceeding, that the individual had no reasonable cause to believe such conduct was unlawful, or

(ii) Such Director's or Officer's conduct with respect to an employee benefit plan, which is the subject of the proceeding, was for a purpose he believed in good faith to be in the interests of the participants in and beneficiaries of the plan.

The termination of a proceeding by judgment, order, settlement, or conviction, or upon a plea of nolo contendere or its equivalent is not, of itself, determinative that the director or officer did not meet the requisite standard of conduct described in this bylaw.

The corporation may not indemnify a director or officer under this Article:

(i) In connection with a proceeding by or in the right of the corporation, except for reasonable expenses incurred in connection with the proceeding if it is determined that the director or officer has met the requisite standard of conduct under this bylaw; or

(ii) In connection with any proceeding with respect to conduct for which he or she was adjudged liable on the basis that personal benefit was improperly received by him or her, whether or not involving action in his or her official capacity.

8.02 Advances for Expenses

The corporation may, before final disposition of a proceeding, advance funds to pay for or reimburse the reasonable expenses, including counsel fees, incurred by a director or officer who is a party to a proceeding because he or she is a director or officer if he or she delivers to the corporation:

(i) A written affirmation of his or her good faith belief that he or she has met the requisite standard of conduct described in the Basic Indemnification Arrangement bylaw or that the proceeding involves conduct for which such person's liability has been eliminated under the corporation's articles of incorporation; and

(ii) His or her written undertaking to repay any funds advanced if it is ultimately determined that the director or officer is not entitled to indemnification under this Article or the Code. This undertaking to repay must be an unlimited general obligation of the director or officer but need not be secured and may be accepted without reference to the financial ability of the director or officer to make repayment.

Authorizations for expense advancements shall be made:

(i) By the board of directors:

(a) by a majority vote of a quorum consisting of disinterested directors, or

(b) if such a quorum is not obtainable (or is obtainable and a majority vote of a quorum of disinterested directors so directs), by independent legal counsel in a written opinion; or

(ii) By a majority vote of the shareholders; however, shares owned or voted under the control of a director or officer who at the time does not qualify as a disinterested director or disinterested officer with respect to the proceeding may not be voted on the authorization.

8.03 Court-Ordered Indemnification and Advances for Expenses

A director or officer who is a party to a proceeding because he or she is a director or officer may apply for indemnification or advance for expenses to the court conducting the proceeding or to another court of competent jurisdiction. Pursuant to the Code, after receipt of an application and after giving any notice it considers necessary, the court shall:

(i) Order indemnification or advance for expenses if it determines that the director or officer is entitled to indemnification; or

(ii) Order indemnification or advance for expenses if it determines, in view of all the relevant circumstances, that it is fair and reasonable to indemnify the director or officer, or to advance expenses to the director or officer, even if the director or officer has not met the relevant standard of conduct, failed to comply with the requirements for advance of expenses, or was adjudged liable on the basis that personal benefit was improperly received by him or her, whether or not involving action in his or her official capacity. However, if the director or officer was adjudged so liable, the indemnification shall be limited to reasonable expenses incurred in connection with the proceeding.

If the court determines that the director or officer is entitled to indemnification or advance for expenses, it may also order the corporation to pay the director's or officer's reasonable expenses to obtain court-ordered indemnification or advance for expenses.

8.04 Determination and Authorization of Indemnification

The corporation acknowledges that indemnification of a director or officer according to these bylaws has been pre-authorized by the corporation as permitted by the Code. Nevertheless, the corporation shall not indemnify a director or officer under these bylaws unless a determination has been made for the specific proceeding that indemnification of the director or officer is permissible in the circumstances because he or she has met the relevant standard of conduct set forth in the Basic Indemnification Arrangement. However, regardless of the result or absence of any such determination, the corporation shall indemnify a director or officer who was wholly successful, on the merits or otherwise, in the defense of any proceeding to which he or she was a party because he or she was a director or officer of the corporation against reasonable expenses incurred by the director or officer in connection with the proceeding.

The determination of indemnification shall be made:

(i) by the board of directors:

  (a) by a majority vote of a quorum consisting of disinterested directors; or

  (b) if such a quorum is not obtainable or is obtainable and a majority vote of a quorum of disinterested directors so directs, by independent legal counsel in a written opinion; or

(ii) by a majority vote of the shareholders, but shares owned by or voted under the control of a director or officer who at the time does not qualify as a disinterested director or disinterested officer may not be voted on the determination.

As acknowledged above, the corporation has pre-authorized the indemnification of directors and officers hereunder, subject to a determination for a specific proceeding that the director or officer met the relevant standard of conduct under the Basic Indemnification Arrangement. Consequently, no further decision need or shall be made on a case-by-case basis as to the authorization of the corporation's indemnification of directors or officers hereunder. Nevertheless, evaluation as to reasonableness of expenses of a director or officer for a specific proceeding shall be made in the same manner as the determination that indemnification is permissible, except that if there are fewer than two disinterested directors or if the determination is made by special legal counsel, evaluation as to reasonableness of expenses shall be made by the Board of Directors, the members of which may or may not be disinterested.

8.05 Indemnification of Employees and Agents

The corporation may indemnify and advance expenses under these bylaws to an employee or agent of the corporation who is not a director or officer to the extent, consistent with public policy, that such indemnification and advances may be provided to a director or officer.

8.06 Shareholder Approved Indemnification

If authorized by the articles of incorporation, the bylaws, or by a contract or resolution

approved or ratified by the shareholders of the corporation by a majority of the votes entitled to be cast, the corporation may indemnify or obligate itself to indemnify a director or officer made a party to a proceeding, including a proceeding brought by or in the right of the corporation, without regard to the limitations in other sections of these bylaws, but shares owned or voted under the control of a director or officer who at the time of such authorization does not qualify as a disinterested director or disinterested officer with respect to any existing or threatened proceeding that would be covered by the authorization may not be voted on the authorization.

Nevertheless, the corporation shall not indemnify a director or officer under this bylaw for any liability incurred in a proceeding in which the director or officer is adjudged liable to the corporation or is subjected to injunctive relief in favor of the corporation:

(i) for any appropriation, in violation of his or her duties, of any business opportunity of the corporation,

(ii) for acts or omissions which involve intentional misconduct or a knowing violation of law,

(iii) for assenting to an unlawful distribution as defined in the Code, or

(iv) for any transaction from which he or she received an improper personal benefit.

Where approved or authorized according to this bylaw, the corporation may advance or reimburse expenses incurred in advance of final disposition of the proceeding only if

(i) The director or officer furnishes the corporation a written affirmation of his or her good faith belief that his or her conduct does not constitute behavior of the kind described in this bylaw which would prevent indemnification; and

(ii) The director or officer furnishes the corporation a written undertaking, executed personally or on his or her behalf, to repay any advances if it is ultimately determined that he or she is not entitled to indemnification under this bylaw.

8.07 Insurance

The corporation may purchase and maintain insurance on behalf of an individual

(i) who is a director, officer, employee, or agent of the corporation, or

(ii) who, while a director, officer, employee, or agent of the corporation, serves at the corporation's request as a director, officer, partner, trustee, employee or agent of another domestic or foreign corporation, partnership, joint venture, trust, employee benefit plan, or other entity

against liability asserted against or incurred by him or her in that capacity or arising from his or her status as a director, officer, employee, or agent, whether or not the corporation would have power to indemnify or advance expenses to him or her against the same liability under these bylaws or the Code.

8.09 Witness Fees

Nothing in these bylaws shall limit the corporation's power to pay or reimburse expenses incurred by a director or officer in connection with his or her appearance as a witness in a proceeding at a time when he or she is not a party.

8.10 Report to Shareholders

To the extent and in the manner required by the Code from time to time, if the corporation indemnifies or advances expenses to a director or officer in connection with a proceeding by or in the right of the corporation, the corporation shall report the indemnification or advance to the shareholders.

8.11 Effect of Amendments

No amendment, modification, or rescission of these bylaws, or any provision of the bylaws, the effect of which would diminish the rights to indemnification or advancement of expenses as set forth herein shall be effective as to any person with respect to any action taken or omitted by such person prior to such amendment, modification or rescission.

Article IX. Stock Certificates

9.01 Authorization and Issuance

In accordance with the Code, the Board of Directors may authorize shares of any class or series provided for in the corporation's Articles of Incorporation to be issued for any consideration valid under the provisions of the Code. To the extent provided in the Articles of Incorporation, the Board of Directors shall determine the preferences, limitations, and relative rights of the shares.

9.02 Form

The interest of each shareholder in the corporation shall be evidenced by a certificate or certificates representing shares of the corporation which shall be in such form as the Board of Directors from time to time may adopt. Share certificates shall be numbered consecutively, shall be in registered form, shall indicate the date of issuance, the name of the corporation, that it is organized under the laws of the state of incorporation, the name of the shareholder, the number and class of shares, and the designation of the series, if any, represented by the certificate. Each certificate shall be signed by any one of the President, a Vice President, the Secretary, or the Treasurer. The corporate seal need not be affixed.

9.03 Registered Shareholders

Prior to due presentation for transfer of registration of its shares, the corporation may treat the registered owner of the shares as the person exclusively entitled to vote the shares, to receive any share dividend or distribution with respect to the shares, and for all other purposes. The corporation shall not be bound to recognize any equitable or other claim to or interest in the shares on the part of any other person, whether or not it shall have express or other notice thereof, except as otherwise provided by law.

9.04 Transfer of Shares

Transfers of shares shall be made upon the transfer books of the corporation, kept at the principle office of the corporation (or at the office of the transfer agent designated to transfer the shares, if any) only upon direction of the person named in the certificate, or by his or her attorney lawfully constituted in writing. Before a new certificate is issued, the old certificate shall be surrendered for cancellation or, in the case of a certificate alleged to have been lost, stolen, or destroyed, the requirements of the bylaw governing lost, stolen, or destroyed certificates shall have been met.

9.05 Record Date

demand a special meeting, to vote, or to take any other action, the Board of Directors may fix a future date as the record date, which date shall be not more than seventy (70) days prior to the date on which the particular action requiring a determination of shareholders is to be taken. A determination of shareholders entitled to notice of or to vote at a shareholders' meeting is effective for any adjournment of the meeting unless the Board of Directors fixes a new record date, which it must do if the meeting is adjourned to a date more than 120 days after the date fixed for the original meeting. If no record date is fixed by the Board of Directors, the record date shall be determined in accordance with the provisions of the Code.

For the purpose of determining shareholders entitled to a distribution (other than one involving a purchase, redemption, or other reacquisition of the corporation's shares) or a share dividend, the Board of Directors may fix a date as the record date, if no record date is fixed by the Board of Directors, the record date shall be determined in accordance with the provisions of the Code.

9.06 Lost, Stolen, or Destroyed Certificates

Any person claiming a share certificate to be lost, stolen, or destroyed shall make an affidavit or affirmation of the fact in the manner required by the Board of Directors and, if the Board of Directors requires, shall give the corporation a bond of indemnity in form and amount, and with one or more sureties satisfactory to the Board of Directors, as the Board of Directors may require, whereupon an appropriate new certificate may be issued in lieu of the one alleged to have been lost, stolen or destroyed.

Article X. Miscellaneous

10.01 Fiscal Year

The fiscal year of the corporation shall be a twelve-month period, beginning January 1 and ending on December 31 each year, unless the Board of Directors, by resolution, fixes the fiscal year as an other time period.

10.02 Corporate Seal

If the Board of Directors determines that there should be a corporate seal for the corporation, it shall be in the form as the Board of Directors may from time to time determine.

10.03 Corporate Records

The Board of Directors shall have the power to determine which accounts, books, and records of the corporation shall be opened to the inspection of the shareholders, except those as may by law specifically be made open to inspection. The Board of Directors shall have the power to fix reasonable rules and regulations not in conflict with the applicable law for the inspection of accounts, books, and records which by law or by determination of the Board of Directors shall be open to inspection.

10.04 Annual Financial Statements

In accordance with the Code, the corporation shall prepare and provide to the shareholders such financial statements as may be required by the Code.

10.05 Amendments

The Board of Directors shall have the power to alter, amend, or repeal these bylaws or adopt new bylaws, but any bylaws adopted by the Board of Directors may be altered, amended, or repealed, and new bylaws adopted, by the shareholders. The shareholders may prescribe, by expressing in the action they take in adopting or amending any bylaw or bylaws, that the bylaw or bylaws so adopted or amended shall not be altered, amended or repealed by the Board of Directors.

10.06 Conflict with Articles of Incorporation or Law; Severability

In the event that any provision of these bylaws conflicts with any provision of the Articles of Incorporation, the Articles of Incorporation shall govern. In the event that any of the provisions of these bylaws (including any provision within a single section, subsection, division or sentence) is held by a court of competent jurisdiction to be invalid, void, or otherwise unenforceable, the remaining provisions of the bylaws shall remain enforceable to the fullest extent permitted by law.

AMENDED AND RESTATED BYLAWS

Adopted as of January 22, 2001

Corporate Bylaws

Article I. Definitions

1.01 Code

The Code means the applicable titles, parts, chapters, sections, and other divisions of the state of incorporation's statutory scheme governing the formation and operation of corporations.

1.02 Record Date

Record Date means the date established under the Code on which the corporation determines the identity of its shareholders and their shareholdings. Such determination shall be made as of the close of business on the record date unless another time for doing so is specified when the record date is fixed.

1.03 Voting Group

Voting Group means all shares of one or more classes or series that under the articles of incorporation or the Code are entitled to vote and be counted together collectively on a matter at a meeting of the shareholders. All shares entitled by the articles of incorporation or the Code to vote generally on the matter are for that purpose a single voting group.

1.04 Corporation

Corporation includes any domestic or foreign predecessor entity of the corporation in a merger or other transaction in which the predecessor's existence ceased upon consummation of the transaction.

1.05 Director or Officer

Director or Officer means an individual who is or was (i) a member of the Board of Directors, (ii) an individual elected or appointed by the Board of Directors to serve as an officer, or (iii) a member of any duly constituted Committee of the Board of Directors. "Director" or "officer" includes, unless the context otherwise requires, the estate or personal representative of a director or officer.

1.06 Disinterested Director or Officer

"Disinterested Director" or "Disinterested Officer" means a director or officer who, with respect to a determination of the authorization or non-authorization of an expense advancement or of indemnification, is neither:

(i) the individual whose indemnification or expense advancement is the subject of the decision being made; nor

(ii) An individual having a familial, financial, professional, or employment relationship with the person whose indemnification or advance for expenses is the subject of the decision being made with respect to the proceeding, which relationship would, in the circumstances, reasonably be expected to exert an influence on the director's or officer's judgment when voting on the decision being made.

1.07 Liability

Liability means the obligation to pay a judgment, settlement, penalty, fine (including an excise tax assessed with respect to an employee benefit plan), or reasonable expenses incurred with respect to a proceeding.

1.08 Official Capacity

When used with respect to a director, Official Capacity means the office of director in the corporation. When used with respect to an officer, Official Capacity means the office in the corporation held by the officer. Official capacity does not include service for any other domestic or foreign corporation or any partnership, joint venture, trust, employee benefit plan, or other entity.

1.09 Party

Party includes an individual who was, is, or is threatened to be made a named defendant or respondent in a proceeding.

1.10 Proceeding

Proceeding means any threatened, pending, or completed action, suit, or proceeding, whether civil, criminal, administrative, arbitrative, or investigative and whether formal or informal.

Article II. Offices and Agents

2.01 Registered Office and Agent

The corporation shall maintain a registered office and have a registered agent, whose business office address is identical to that of the registered office, in its state of incorporation and in each state in which the corporation is qualified to do business.

2.02 Other Offices

In addition to its registered office, the corporation may have offices at any other place or places, within or without the state of incorporation, as the Board of Directors may from time to time select or as the business of the corporation may require or make desirable.

Article III. Meetings of the Shareholders

3.01 Annual Meetings

An annual meeting of the shareholders shall be held for the election of directors at such date, time, and place, either within or without the state of incorporation, as may be designated by resolution of the Board of Directors from time to time. Such resolution shall designate the date, time, and place of the meeting. Any other proper business may be transacted at the annual meeting. If an annual meeting is not held as provided in this bylaw, any business, including the election of directors, that might properly have been acted upon at that meeting may be acted upon at a special meeting in lieu of the annual meeting held pursuant to these bylaws or held pursuant to a court order.

3.02 Special Meetings

Special meetings of the shareholders may be called for any purpose or purposes at any time by the Board of Directors, or by the President of the corporation, or by a Committee of the Board of Directors that has been duly designated and authorized by resolution of the Board of Directors to call such meetings. In addition, the Board of Directors shall call such a meeting upon the written request of shareholders holding at least twenty percent (20%) of all the votes entitled to be cast on the issue or issues proposed to be considered at the requested special meeting.

3.03 Quorum

With respect to shares entitled to vote as a separate voting group on a matter at a meeting of shareholders, the presence, in person or by proxy, of a majority of the votes entitled to be cast on the matter by the voting group shall constitute a quorum of that voting group for action on that matter unless the articles of incorporation or the Code provide otherwise. Once a share is represented for any purpose at a meeting, other than solely to object to holding the meeting or to transacting business at the meeting, it is deemed present for quorum purposes for the remainder of the meeting and for any adjournment of the meeting unless a new record date is or must be set for the adjourned meeting pursuant to the bylaw governing the fixing of the record date with regard to shareholder action.

3.04 Adjournment and Reconvention

Whether or not a quorum is present to organize a meeting, any meeting of shareholders may be adjourned by the holders of a majority of the voting shares represented at the meeting to reconvene at a specific time and place, but no later than 120 days after the date fixed for the original meeting unless the requirements of the Code concerning the selection of a new record date have been met. At any reconvened meeting within that time period, any business may be transacted that could have been transacted at the meeting that was adjourned.

3.05 Presiding Officer

The Chief Executive Officer shall serve as the Presiding Officer of every meeting of shareholders unless another person is elected by the shareholders to serve as Presiding Officer at the meeting. The Presiding Officer shall appoint any persons he deems required to assist with the meeting.

3.06 Vote Required for Action

If a quorum exists, action on a matter (other than the election of directors) by a voting group is approved if the votes cast within the voting group favoring the action exceed the votes cast opposing the action, unless the articles of incorporation, provisions of these bylaws validly adopted by the shareholders, or the Code requires a greater number of affirmative votes. If the articles of incorporation or the Code provide for voting by two or more voting groups on a matter, action on that matter is taken only when voted upon by each of those voting groups counted separately. Action may be taken by one voting group on a matter even though no action is taken by another voting group entitled to vote on the matter. With regard to the election of directors, unless otherwise provided in the articles of incorporation, if a quorum exists, action on the election of directors is taken by a plurality of the votes cast by the shares entitled to vote in the election.

3.07 Shares Held by Another Corporation

Shares standing in the name of another corporation, domestic or foreign, may be voted by such officer, agent, or proxy as the by-laws of such other corporation may prescribe, or, in the absence of such a provision, as the board of directors of such other corporation may determine.

3.08 Method of Voting Shares

Unless the articles of incorporation or the Code provide otherwise, each outstanding share having voting rights shall be entitled to one vote on each matter submitted to a vote at a meeting of the shareholders. Voting on all matters shall be by voice vote or by show of hands unless any qualified voter, prior to the voting on any matter, demands vote by ballot, in which case each ballot shall state the name of the shareholder voting and the number of shares voted by him, and if the ballot be cast by proxy, it shall also state the name of the proxy.

3.09 Proxies

A shareholder entitled to vote on a matter may vote in person or by proxy pursuant to an appointment of proxy executed in writing by the shareholder or by his attorney-in-fact. An appointment of proxy shall be valid for only one meeting to be specified therein, and any adjournments of such meeting, but shall not be valid for more than eleven months unless expressly provided therein. Appointments of proxy shall be dated and filed with the records of the meeting to which they relate. If the validity of any appointment of proxy is questioned, it must be submitted to the secretary of the meeting of shareholders for examination or to a proxy officer or committee appointed by the meeting's presiding officer. The secretary of the meeting or, if appointed, the proxy officer or committee, shall determine the validity or invalidity of any appointment of proxy submitted for examination. Reference in the minutes of the meeting by the secretary or, if appointed, the proxy officer or committee, as to the regularity of an appointment of proxy shall be received as prima facie evidence of the facts stated for the purpose of establishing the presence of a quorum at the meeting and for all other purposes.

3.10 Action Without a Meeting

Any action required or permitted to be taken at a meeting of the shareholders, may be taken without a meeting if the action is taken by all shareholders entitled to vote on the action. Or, if allowed by the articles of incorporation, such action may be taken without a meeting by persons who would be entitled to vote shares having voting power to cast not less than the minimum number (or numbers, in the case of voting by groups) of votes that would be necessary to authorize or take the action at a meeting at which all shareholders entitled to vote were present and voted. The action without a meeting must be evidenced by one or more written consents describing the action taken, signed by shareholders entitled to take action without a meeting, and delivered to the corporation for inclusion in the minutes or filing with the corporate records. The corporation shall give written notice of actions so taken.

3.11 Notice

Unless waived as contemplated in these bylaws, a notice of each meeting of shareholders, stating the date, time, and place of the meeting shall be given not less than ten (10) days nor more than sixty (60) days before the date thereof, to each shareholder entitled to vote at that meeting. In the case of an annual meeting, the notice need not state the purpose or purposes of the meeting unless the articles of incorporation or the Code requires otherwise. In the case of a special meeting, including a special meeting in lieu of an annual meeting, the notice of meeting shall state the purpose or purposes for which the meeting is called.

Article IV. Board of Directors

4.01 Powers

All corporate powers, which are lawful and do not violate any legal agreement among shareholders and which are not prohibited by the articles of incorporation or these bylaws, shall be exercised by or under the authority of, and the business and affairs of the corporation shall be managed under, the direction of the Board of Directors. The Board of Directors may, by resolution, vote any shares of stock owned by the corporation. Also, the Board of Directors from time to time in its discretion may authorize or declare distributions or share dividends in accordance with the Code.

4.02 Number

The number and composition of the corporation's Board of Directors shall initially be that which is specified in the articles of incorporation. If the articles of incorporation do not specify the number and composition of the Board of Directors, then the Board of Director's shall consist of one member, the

Chief Executive Officer of the corporation. Thereafter, the number and composition of the Board of Directors may be changed from time to time by an action of the shareholders.

4.03 Election

Except as provided for in the bylaw addressing vacancies in the Board of Directors, the Directors shall be elected by a vote of the shareholders at each annual meeting of shareholders or special meeting in lieu of the annual meeting.

4.04 Term of Office

Except in the case of death, written resignation, retirement, disqualification, or removal, each director shall serve until the next succeeding annual meeting or special meeting in lieu of an annual meeting and thereafter until his successor is elected and qualifies or until the number of directors is decreased.

4.05 Removal

One or more directors may be removed from office with or without cause by the shareholders by a majority of the votes entitled to be cast. If the director was elected by a voting group, only the shareholders of that voting group may participate in the vote to remove him. Removal action may be taken at any meeting of shareholders with respect to which the notice stated that the purpose, or one of the purposes, of the meeting is removal of the director, and a removed director's successor may be elected at the same meeting.

4.06 Vacancies

A vacancy occurring in the Board of Directors, other than by reason of an increase in the number of directors, shall be filled for the unexpired term by the first to take action of (a) the shareholders or (b) the Board of Directors, and if the directors remaining in office constitute fewer than a quorum of the Board of Directors, they may fill the vacancy by the affirmative vote of a majority of all the directors remaining in office. If the vacant office was held by a director elected by a voting group, only the holders of shares of that voting group or the remaining directors elected by that voting group are entitled to vote to fill the vacancy. A vacancy occurring in the Board of Directors by reason of an increase in the number of directors shall be filled in like manner as any other vacancy, but, if filled by action of the Board of Directors, shall only be for a term of office continuing until the next election of directors by the shareholders and until the election and qualification of a successor.

4.07 Committees

The Board of Directors, by resolution, may designate from among its members an executive committee and one or more other committees, each consisting of one or more directors all of whom serve at the pleasure of the Board of Directors. Except as limited by the Code, each committee shall have the authority set forth in the resolution establishing the committee. The provisions of these bylaws as to the Board of Directors and its deliberations shall be applicable to any committee of the Board of Directors. All decisions and actions of any committee created by these bylaws or resulting from the authority granted by these bylaws, shall be subject to the discretionary review and approval of the Board of Directors.

4.08 Compensation

Unless the articles of incorporation provide otherwise, the Board of Directors may determine from time to time the compensation, if any, directors may receive for their services as directors. A director may also serve the corporation in a capacity other than that of director and receive compensation, as determined by the Board of Directors, for services rendered in such other capacity.

Article V. Meetings of the Board of Directors

5.01 Regular Meetings

Regular meetings of the Board of Directors shall be held immediately after the annual meeting of shareholders or a special meeting in lieu of the annual meeting. In addition, the Board of Directors may schedule other meetings to occur at regular intervals throughout the year.

5.02 Special Meetings

Special meetings of the Board of Directors may be called by or at the request of the Chief Executive Officer of the corporation, by the sole director of the board or, if the board consists of more than one director, by any two directors in office at that time.

5.03 Quorums

Unless a greater number is required by the articles of incorporation, these bylaws, or the Code, a quorum of the Board of Directors consists of a majority of the total number of directors.

5.04 Adjournments

Whether or not a quorum is present to organize a meeting, any meeting of directors (including an adjourned meeting) may be adjourned by a majority of the directors present to reconvene at a specific time and place. At any reconvened meeting, any business may be transacted that could have been transacted at the meeting that was adjourned. It shall not be necessary to give any notice of the reconvened meeting or of the business to be transacted, if the date, time and place of the reconvened meeting are announced at the meeting that was adjourned.

5.05 Action Without a Meeting

Unless the Code, the articles of incorporation, or these bylaws provide otherwise, any action required or permitted to be taken at any meeting of the Board of Directors, or any action that may be taken at a meeting of an authorized committee of the Board of Directors, may be taken without a meeting if the action is taken by all the members of the Board of Directors (or of the committee, as the case may be). The action must be evidenced by one or more written consents describing the action taken, signed by each director (or each director serving on the committee, as the case may be), and delivered to the corporation for inclusion in the minutes or filing with the corporate records.

5.06 Meetings by Telephone

Any or all directors may participate in a meeting of the Board of Directors, and members of an authorized committee of the Board of Directors may participate in a meeting of the committee {as the case may be), through the use of any means of communication by which all directors participating may simultaneously hear each other during the meeting.

5.07 Place of Meetings

Directors may hold their meetings at any place within or without the state of incorporation, as the Board of Directors may from time to time establish for regular meetings or as set forth in the notice of special meetings or, in the event of a meeting held pursuant to waiver of notice, as set forth in the waiver.

5.08 Notice of Meetings

No notice shall be required for any regularly scheduled meeting of the directors. Unless waived as contemplated in these bylaws, each director shall be given at least five day's notice of each special meeting stating the date, time, and place of the meeting. It is not required that the purpose of a Directors' meeting be stated in any notice of such a meeting, whether the meeting is a regular or a special meeting.

5.09 Vote Required for Action

If a quorum is present when a vote is taken, the affirmative vote of a majority of directors present is the act of the Board of Directors unless the Code, the articles of incorporation, or these bylaws require the vote of a greater number of directors.

A director who is present at a meeting of the Board of Directors, or an authorized committee of the Board of Directors, when corporate action is taken is deemed to have assented to the action taken unless:

(i) he objects at the beginning of the meeting (or promptly upon his arrival) to holding the meeting or to transacting business at the meeting,

(ii) his dissent or abstention from the action taken is entered in the minutes of the meeting, or

(iii) he delivers written notice of his dissent or abstention to the presiding officer of the meeting before its adjournment or to the corporation immediately after adjournment of the meeting.

The right of dissent or abstention is not available to a director who votes in favor of the action taken.

Article VI. Shareholder and Director Notices

6.1 Delivery of Notice

Whenever these bylaws require notice to be given to any shareholder or director, the notice shall be given in accordance with this bylaw. Notice under these bylaws shall be in writing unless oral notice is reasonable under the circumstances. Any notice to directors may be written or oral. Notice may be communicated in person, by telephone, telegraph, teletype, other form of wire or wireless communication, or by mail or private carrier. If these forms of personal notice are impracticable, notice may be communicated by a newspaper of general circulation in the area where published, or by radio, television, or other form of public broadcast communication. Written notice to the shareholders, if in a comprehensible form, is effective when mailed, if mailed with first-class postage prepaid and correctly addressed to the shareholder's address shown in the corporation's current record of shareholders.

6.2 When Effective

Except as otherwise provided in this bylaw, written notice, if in a comprehensible form, is effective at the earliest of the following:

(i) when received or when delivered, properly addressed, to the addressee's last known

principal place of business or residence;

(ii) five days after deposit in the mail, as evidenced by the postmark, if mailed with first-class postage prepaid and correctly addressed, or

(iii) on the date shown on the return receipt, if sent by registered or certified mail, return receipt requested, and the receipt is signed by or on behalf of the addressee.

Oral notice is effective when communicated if communicated in a comprehensible manner.

In calculating time periods for notice, when a period of time measured in days, weeks, months, years, or other measurement of time is prescribed for the exercise of any privilege or the discharge of any duty, the first day shall not be counted but the last day shall be counted.

6.3 Waiver

A shareholder or director may waive any notice before or after the date and time stated in the notice. Except as provided in this bylaw, the waiver must be in writing, be signed by the shareholder or director entitled to the notice, and be delivered to the corporation for inclusion in the minutes or filing with the corporate records.

A shareholder's attendance at a meeting (i) waives objection to lack of notice or defective notice of the meeting, unless the shareholder at the beginning of the meeting objects to holding the meeting or transacting business at the meeting; and (ii) waives objection to consideration of a particular matter at the meeting that is not within the purpose or purposes described in the meeting notice, unless the shareholder objects to considering the matter when it is presented.

A director's attendance at or participation in a meeting waives any required notice to him of the meeting unless the director at the beginning of the meeting (or promptly upon his arrival) objects to holding the meeting or transacting business at the meeting and does not thereafter vote for or assent to action taken at the meeting.

Unless required by the Code, neither the business transacted nor the purpose of the meeting need be specified in the waiver.

6.4 Notice Following Adjournment

If notice of an adjourned meeting of the shareholders or of the directors was properly given, it shall not be necessary to give any notice of the reconvened meeting or of the business to be transacted, if the date, time and place of the reconvened meeting are announced at the meeting that was adjourned and before adjournment; provided, however, that if a new record date of shares is or must be fixed, notice of the reconvened meeting must be given to persons who are shareholders as of the new record date.

Article VII. Officers

7.01 Number

The officers of the corporation shall consist of a Board Chairman, a President, a Secretary, a Treasurer, and any other officers as may be appointed by the Board of Directors or by an other duly appointed officer pursuant to these bylaws. The Board of Directors shall from time to time create and establish the duties of the other officers. Any two or more offices may be held by the same person.

7.02 Chairman of Board

The Chairman of the Board of Directors shall preside at all meetings of the Board of Directors and shall have authority to execute bonds, mortgages, and other contracts requiring a seal, under the seal of the corporation; to endorse, when sold, assigned, transferred, or otherwise disposed of by the corporation, all certificates or shares of stock, bonds, or other securities issued by other corporations, associations, trusts, whether public or private, or by any government agency thereof, and owned or held by the corporation, and to make, execute, and deliver all instruments or assignments of transfer of any such stocks, bonds, or other securities. The Chairman of the Board may, with the approval of the Board of Directors, or shall, at the direction of the Board of Directors, delegate any or all of such duties to the President.

7.03 President

The President shall be the Chief Executive Officer of the corporation and shall have general supervision of the business of the corporation. The President shall see that all orders and resolutions of the Board of Directors are carried into effect. The President shall perform such other duties as may from time to time be delegated by the Board of Directors. In the absence of the Chairman of the Board, the President shall have authority to do any and all things delegated to the Chairman of the Board of Directors.

7.04 Vice President

In the absence or disability of the President, or at the direction of the President, the Vice President, if any, shall perform the duties and exercise the powers of the President. If the corporation has more than one Vice President, the one designated by the Board of Directors shall act in lieu of the President. Vice Presidents shall perform whatever duties and have whatever powers the Board of Directors may from time to time assign.

7.05 Secretary

The Secretary shall be responsible for preparing minutes of the acts and proceedings of all meetings of the shareholders, the Board of Directors, and any Committees thereof. The Secretary shall have authority to give all notices required by the Code or these bylaws. The Secretary shall be responsible for the custody of the corporate books, records, contracts, and other documents. The Secretary may affix the corporate seal to any lawfully executed documents and shall sign any instruments as may require his or her signature. The Secretary shall authenticate records of the corporation. The Secretary shall perform whatever additional duties and have whatever additional powers the Board of Directors may from time to time assign. In the absence or disability of the Secretary or at the direction of the President, any assistant secretary may perform the duties and exercise the powers of the Secretary.

7.06 Treasurer

The Treasurer shall be responsible for the custody of all funds and securities belonging to the corporation and for the receipt, deposit, or disbursement of funds and securities under the direction of the Board of Directors. The Treasurer shall cause to be maintained full and true accounts of all receipts and disbursements and shall make reports of the same to the Board of Directors and the President upon request. The Treasurer shall perform all duties as may be assigned to him from time to time by the Board of Directors.

7.07 Appointment, Term, and Removal

All officers shall be appointed by the Board of Directors or by a duly appointed officer pursuant to these bylaws and shall serve at the pleasure of the Board of Directors or the appointing officers, as the case may be. All officers, however appointed, may be removed with or without cause by the Board of Directors, and any officer appointed by another officer may also be removed by the appointing officer with or without cause.

7.08 Compensation

The compensation of ail officers of the corporation appointed by the Board of Directors shall be fixed by the Board of Directors.

7.09 Bonds

The Board of Directors may, by resolution, require any or all of the officers, agents, or employees of the corporation to give bonds to the corporation, with sufficient surety or sureties, conditioned on the faithful performance of the duties of their respective offices or positions, and to comply with any other conditions as from time to time may be required by the Board of Directors.

Article VIII. Indemnification

8.01 Basic Indemnification Arrangement

Except as provided in these bylaws, the corporation shall indemnify an individual who is a party to a proceeding because he or she is or was a director or officer against liability incurred in the proceeding if:

(i) Such Director or Officer conducted himself in good faith and reasonably believed:

(a) In the case of conduct in his or her official capacity, that such conduct was in the best interests of the corporation;

(b) In all other cases, that such conduct was at least not opposed to the best interests of the corporation; and

(c) In the case of any criminal proceeding, that the individual had no reasonable cause to believe such conduct was unlawful, or

(ii) Such Director's or Officer's conduct with respect to an employee benefit plan, which is the subject of the proceeding, was for a purpose he believed in good faith to be in the interests of the participants in and beneficiaries of the plan.

The termination of a proceeding by judgment, order, settlement, or conviction, or upon a plea of nolo contendere or its equivalent is not, of itself, determinative that the director or officer did not meet the requisite standard of conduct described in this bylaw.

The corporation may not indemnify a director or officer under this Article:

(i) In connection with a proceeding by or in the right of the corporation, except for reasonable expenses incurred in connection with the proceeding if it is determined that the director or officer has met the requisite standard of conduct under this bylaw; or

(ii) In connection with any proceeding with respect to conduct for which he or she was adjudged liable on the basis that personal benefit was improperly received by him or her, whether or not involving action in his or her official capacity.

8.02 Advances for Expenses

The corporation may, before final disposition of a proceeding, advance funds to pay for or reimburse the reasonable expenses, including counsel fees, incurred by a director or officer who is a party to a proceeding because he or she is a director or officer if he or she delivers to the corporation:

(i) A written affirmation of his or her good faith belief that he or she has met the requisite standard of conduct described in the Basic Indemnification Arrangement bylaw or that the proceeding involves conduct for which such person's liability has been eliminated under the corporation's articles of incorporation; and

(ii) His or her written undertaking to repay any funds advanced if it is ultimately determined that the director or officer is not entitled to indemnification under this Article or the Code. This undertaking to repay must be an unlimited general obligation of the director or officer but need not be secured and may be accepted without reference to the financial ability of the director or officer to make repayment.

Authorizations for expense advancements shall be made:

(i) By the board of directors:

(a) by a majority vote of a quorum consisting of disinterested directors, or

(b) if such a quorum is not obtainable (or is obtainable and a majority vote of a quorum of disinterested directors so directs), by independent legal counsel in a written opinion; or

(ii) By a majority vote of the shareholders; however, shares owned or voted under the control of a director or officer who at the time does not qualify as a disinterested director or disinterested officer with respect to the proceeding may not be voted on the authorization.

8.03 Court-Ordered Indemnification and Advances for Expenses

A director or officer who is a party to a proceeding because he or she is a director or officer may apply for indemnification or advance for expenses to the court conducting the proceeding or to another court of competent jurisdiction. Pursuant to the Code, after receipt of an application and after giving any notice it considers necessary, the court shall:

(i) Order indemnification or advance for expenses if it determines that the director or officer is entitled to indemnification; or

(ii) Order indemnification or advance for expenses if it determines, in view of all the relevant circumstances, that it is fair and reasonable to indemnify the director or officer, or to advance expenses to the director or officer, even if the director or officer has not met the relevant standard of conduct, failed to comply with the requirements for advance of expenses, or was adjudged liable on the basis that personal benefit was improperly received by him or her, whether or not involving action in his or her official capacity. However, if the director or officer was adjudged so liable, the indemnification shall be limited to reasonable expenses incurred in connection with the proceeding.

If the court determines that the director or officer is entitled to indemnification or advance for expenses, it may also order the corporation to pay the director's or officer's reasonable expenses to obtain court-ordered indemnification or advance for expenses.

8.04 Determination and Authorization of Indemnification

The corporation acknowledges that indemnification of a director or officer according to these bylaws has been pre-authorized by the corporation as permitted by the Code. Nevertheless, the corporation shall not indemnify a director or officer under these bylaws unless a determination has been made for the specific proceeding that indemnification of the director or officer is permissible in the circumstances because he or she has met the relevant standard of conduct set forth in the Basic Indemnification Arrangement. However, regardless of the result or absence of any such determination, the corporation shall indemnify a director or officer who was wholly successful, on the merits or otherwise, in the defense of any proceeding to which he or she was a party because he or she was a director or officer of the corporation against reasonable expenses incurred by the director or officer in connection with the proceeding.

The determination of indemnification shall be made:

(i) by the board of directors:

  (a) by a majority vote of a quorum consisting of disinterested directors; or

  (b) if such a quorum is not obtainable or is obtainable and a majority vote of a quorum of disinterested directors so directs, by independent legal counsel in a written opinion; or

(ii) by a majority vote of the shareholders, but shares owned by or voted under the control of a director or officer who at the time does not qualify as a disinterested director or disinterested officer may not be voted on the determination.

As acknowledged above, the corporation has pre-authorized the indemnification of directors and officers hereunder, subject to a determination for a specific proceeding that the director or officer met the relevant standard of conduct under the Basic Indemnification Arrangement. Consequently, no further decision need or shall be made on a case-by-case basis as to the authorization of the corporation's indemnification of directors or officers hereunder. Nevertheless, evaluation as to reasonableness of expenses of a director or officer for a specific proceeding shall be made in the same manner as the determination that indemnification is permissible, except that if there are fewer than two disinterested directors or if the determination is made by special legal counsel, evaluation as to reasonableness of expenses shall be made by the Board of Directors, the members of which may or may not be disinterested.

8.05 indemnification of Employees and Agents

The corporation may indemnify and advance expenses under these bylaws to an employee or agent of the corporation who is not a director or officer to the extent, consistent with public policy, that such indemnification and advances may be provided to a director or officer.

8.06 Shareholder Approved Indemnification

If authorized by the articles of incorporation, the bylaws, or by a contract or resolution

approved or ratified by the shareholders of the corporation by a majority of the votes entitled to be cast, the corporation may indemnify or obligate itself to indemnify a director or officer made a party to a proceeding, including a proceeding brought by or in the right of the corporation, without regard to the limitations in other sections of these bylaws, but shares owned or voted under the control of a director or officer who at the time of such authorization does not qualify as a disinterested director or disinterested officer with respect to any existing or threatened proceeding that would be covered by the authorization may not be voted on the authorization.

Nevertheless, the corporation shall not indemnify a director or officer under this bylaw for any liability incurred in a proceeding in which the director or officer is adjudged liable to the corporation or is subjected to injunctive relief in favor of the corporation:

(i) for any appropriation, in violation of his or her duties, of any business opportunity of the corporation,

(ii) for acts or omissions which involve intentional misconduct or a knowing violation of law,

(iii) for assenting to an unlawful distribution as defined in the Code, or

(iv) for any transaction from which he or she received an improper personal benefit.

Where approved or authorized according to this bylaw, the corporation may advance or reimburse expenses incurred in advance of final disposition of the proceeding only if

(i) The director or officer furnishes the corporation a written affirmation of his or her good faith belief that his or her conduct does not constitute behavior of the kind described in this bylaw which would prevent indemnification; and

(ii) The director or officer furnishes the corporation a written undertaking, executed personally or on his or her behalf, to repay any advances if it is ultimately determined that he or she is not entitled to indemnification under this bylaw.

8.07 Insurance

The corporation may purchase and maintain insurance on behalf of an individual

(i) who is a director, officer, employee, or agent of the corporation, or

(ii) who, while a director, officer, employee, or agent of the corporation, serves at the corporation's request as a director, officer, partner, trustee, employee or agent of another domestic or foreign corporation, partnership, joint venture, trust, employee benefit plan, or other entity

against liability asserted against or incurred by him or her in that capacity or arising from his or her status as a director, officer, employee, or agent, whether or not the corporation would have power to indemnify or advance expenses to him or her against the same liability under these bylaws or the Code.

8.09 Witness Fees

Nothing in these bylaws shall limit the corporation's power to pay or reimburse expenses incurred by a director or officer in connection with his or her appearance as a witness in a proceeding at a time when he or she is not a party.

8.10 Report to Shareholders

To the extent and in the manner required by the Code from time to time, if the corporation indemnifies or advances expenses to a director or officer in connection with a proceeding by or in the right of the corporation, the corporation shall report the indemnification or advance to the shareholders.

8.11 Effect of Amendments

No amendment, modification, or rescission of these bylaws, or any provision of the bylaws, the effect of which would diminish the rights to indemnification or advancement of expenses as set forth herein shall be effective as to any person with respect to any action taken or omitted by such person prior to such amendment, modification or rescission.

Article IX. Stock Certificates

9.01 Authorization and Issuance

In accordance with the Code, the Board of Directors may authorize shares of any class or series provided for in the corporation's Articles of Incorporation to be issued for any consideration valid under the provisions of the Code. To the extent provided in the Articles of Incorporation, the Board of Directors shall determine the preferences, limitations, and relative rights of the shares.

9.02 Form

The interest of each shareholder in the corporation shall be evidenced by a certificate or certificates representing shares of the corporation which shall be in such form as the Board of Directors from time to time may adopt. Share certificates shall be numbered consecutively, shall be in registered form, shall indicate the date of issuance, the name of the corporation, that it is organized under the laws of the state of incorporation, the name of the shareholder, the number and class of shares, and the designation of the series, if any, represented by the certificate. Each certificate shall be signed by any one of the President, a Vice President, the Secretary, or the Treasurer. The corporate seal need not be affixed.

9.03 Registered Shareholders

Prior to due presentation for transfer of registration of its shares, the corporation may treat the registered owner of the shares as the person exclusively entitled to vote the shares, to receive any share dividend or distribution with respect to the shares, and for all other purposes. The corporation shall not be bound to recognize any equitable or other claim to or interest in the shares on the part of any other person, whether or not it shall have express or other notice thereof, except as otherwise provided by law.

9.04 Transfer of Shares

Transfers of shares shall be made upon the transfer books of the corporation, kept at the principle office of the corporation (or at the office of the transfer agent designated to transfer the shares, if any) only upon direction of the person named in the certificate, or by his or her attorney lawfully constituted in writing. Before a new certificate is issued, the old certificate shall be surrendered for cancellation or, in the case of a certificate alleged to have been lost, stolen, or destroyed, the requirements of the bylaw governing lost, stolen, or destroyed certificates shall have been met.

9.05 Record Date

demand a special meeting, to vote, or to take any other action, the Board of Directors may fix a future date as the record date, which date shall be not more than seventy (70) days prior to the date on which the particular action requiring a determination of shareholders is to be taken. A determination of shareholders entitled to notice of or to vote at a shareholders' meeting is effective for any adjournment of the meeting unless the Board of Directors fixes a new record date, which it must do if the meeting is adjourned to a date more than 120 days after the date fixed for the original meeting. If no record date is fixed by the Board of Directors, the record date shall be determined in accordance with the provisions of the Code.

For the purpose of determining shareholders entitled to a distribution (other than one involving a purchase, redemption, or other reacquisition of the corporation's shares) or a share dividend, the Board of Directors may fix a date as the record date, if no record date is fixed by the Board of Directors, the record date shall be determined in accordance with the provisions of the Code.

9.06 Lost, Stolen, or Destroyed Certificates

Any person claiming a share certificate to be lost, stolen, or destroyed shall make an affidavit or affirmation of the fact in the manner required by the Board of Directors and, if the Board of Directors requires, shall give the corporation a bond of indemnity in form and amount, and with one or more sureties satisfactory to the Board of Directors, as the Board of Directors may require, whereupon an appropriate new certificate may be issued in lieu of the one alleged to have been lost, stolen or destroyed.

Article X. Miscellaneous

10.01 Fiscal Year

The fiscal year of the corporation shall be a twelve-month period, beginning January 1 and ending on December 31 each year, unless the Board of Directors, by resolution, fixes the fiscal year as an other time period.

10.02 Corporate Seal

If the Board of Directors determines that there should be a corporate seal for the corporation, it shall be in the form as the Board of Directors may from time to time determine.

10.03 Corporate Records

The Board of Directors shall have the power to determine which accounts, books, and records of the corporation shall be opened to the inspection of the shareholders, except those as may by law specifically be made open to inspection. The Board of Directors shall have the power to fix reasonable rules and regulations not in conflict with the applicable law for the inspection of accounts, books, and records which by law or by determination of the Board of Directors shall be open to inspection.

10.04 Annual Financial Statements

In accordance with the Code, the corporation shall prepare and provide to the shareholders such financial statements as may be required by the Code.

10.05 Amendments

The Board of Directors shall have the power to alter, amend, or repeal these bylaws or adopt new bylaws, but any bylaws adopted by the Board of Directors may be altered, amended, or repealed, and new bylaws adopted, by the shareholders. The shareholders may prescribe, by expressing in the action they take in adopting or amending any bylaw or bylaws, that the bylaw or bylaws so adopted or amended shall not be altered, amended or repealed by the Board of Directors,

10.06 Conflict with Articles of Incorporation or Law; Severability

In the event that any provision of these bylaws conflicts with any provision of the Articles of Incorporation, the Articles of Incorporation shall govern. In the event that any of the provisions of these bylaws (including any provision within a single section, subsection, division or sentence) is held by a court of competent jurisdiction to be invalid, void, or otherwise unenforceable, the remaining provisions of the bylaws shall remain enforceable to the fullest extent permitted by law.

ARTICLES OF INCORPORATION
OF
SUCCESS ACQUISITION CORPORATION

ARTICLE ONE
Name, Duration, and Character of Business

The name of the corporation is Success Acquisition Corporation (hereinafter referred to as the "Corporation"). The duration of the Corporation shall be perpetual. The purpose for which the Corporation is organized is to provide behavioral healthcare and educational services and to transact any and all lawful business for which corporations may be incorporated under the laws of the State of Indiana, as may be amended from time to time.

ARTICLE TWO
Authorized Shares

The Corporation shall have authority to be exercised by the Board of Directors to issue not more than five hundred thousand (500,000) shares of capital stock, with no par value, all of which shall be designated "Common Stock." The Common Stock shall have unlimited voting rights and shall be entitled to receive the net assets of the Corporation upon dissolution.

ARTICLE THREE
Registered Office and Agent

The registered office of the Corporation, at the time of this filing, is located at 36 South Pennsylvania Street, Indianapolis, Indiana 46204. The registered agent of the Corporation at its registered office, at the time of this filing, is CT Corporation System.

ARTICLE FOUR
Incorporator

The name and address of the incorporator is as follows: John Little, 1705 Capital of Texas Highway South, Fifth Floor, Austin, Texas 78746.

ARTICLE FIVE
Principal Office

The mailing address of the principal office of the Corporation, at the time of this filing, is 3455 West Vermont, Indianapolis, Indiana 46222.

ARTICLE SIX
Limitation of Liability

6.1 Limitation of Liability. No person shall be liable to the Corporation for any loss or damage suffered by the Corporation because of any action taken or not taken by such person in his or her capacity as a member of the Board of Directors of the Corporation in good faith and in reliance upon (1) financial statements of the Corporation represented to such person to be correct by the chief executive officer or the chief financial officer of the Corporation, (2) financial statements of the Corporation certified by independent public accountants or independent certified public accountants fairly to present the financial condition of the Corporation in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles, (3) opinions of legal counsel to the Corporation, or (4) opinions of any engineers, appraisers or other experts whose professions give authority to the opinions so expressed by them. This section shall not be construed to subject any such person to liability to the Corporation for loss or damage suffered by the Corporation because of any other action taken or not taken by such person for which such person would not otherwise be liable to the Corporation under applicable common and statutory law.

6.2 Future Modification. Any repeal or modification of the provisions of this Article by the shareholders of the Corporation shall be prospective only, and shall not adversely affect any limitation on the liability of a director of the Corporation with respect to any act or omission prior to the effective date of such repeal or modification.

ARTICLE SEVEN
Indemnification

7.1 Definitions. Terms defined in Chapter 37 of the Indiana Business Corporation Law (Ind. Code §§ 23-1-37-1, et seq.) which are used in this Article 7 shall have the same definitions for purposes of this Article 7 as they have in such chapter of the Indiana Business Corporation Law.

7.2 Indemnification of Directors and Officers. The Corporation shall indemnify any person made or threatened to be made a party to any action, suit, or proceeding, whether civil or criminal, administrative or investigative, and whether formal or informal, by reason of the fact that he or she, his or her testator, or his or her intestate is or was a director or officer of the Corporation or of any corporation, limited liability company, partnership, joint venture, trust, employee benefit plan or other enterprise, whether or not for profit, which he or she served as such at the request of the Corporation (any such person made or threatened to be made such a party is hereinafter termed a "Qualifying Person"), against liability and the reasonable expenses, including attorneys' fees, actually incurred by him or her in connection with such action, suit, or proceeding, or in connection with any appeal therein, if: (i) his or her conduct was in good faith; (ii) he or she reasonably believed (a) in the case of conduct in his or her official capacity with the Corporation, that his or her conduct was in the Corporation's best interests, and (b) in all other cases, that his or her conduct was at least not opposed to the Corporation's best interests; and (iii) in the case of any criminal proceeding, he or she (a) had reasonable cause to believe his or her conduct was lawful, or (b) had no reasonable cause to believe his or her conduct was unlawful.

The Corporation shall pay for or reimburse the reasonable expenses incurred by a Qualifying Person in advance of final disposition of any such action, suit, or proceeding if the following occur: (i) the Qualifying Person furnishes to the Corporation a written affirmation of his or her good faith belief that he or she has met the standard of conduct necessary for indemnification described in this Section 7.2 (the "Standard"); (ii) he or she furnishes the Corporation a written undertaking executed by him or her to repay any such advance if it is ultimately determined that he or she did not meet the Standard; and (iii) a determination is made that the facts then known to those making the determination would not preclude indemnification under this Section 7.2.

7.3 Other Employees or Agents of the Corporation. The Corporation may, in the discretion of the Board of Directors, fully or partially provide the same rights of indemnification and reimbursement as hereinabove provided for directors and officers of the Corporation to other individuals who are or were employees or agents of the Corporation or who are or were serving at the request of the Corporation as employees or agents of another corporation, limited liability company, partnership, joint venture, trust, employee benefit plan or other entity whether or not for profit.

7.4 Non-Exclusive Provision. The indemnification authorized under this Article 7 is in addition to all rights to indemnification granted by Chapter 37 of the Indiana Business Corporation Law (Ind. Code §§ 23-1-37-1, et seq.) and in no way limits the indemnification provisions of such Chapter.

ARTICLE EIGHT
Constituency Considerations

In discharging the duties of their respective positions and in determining what is believed to be in the best interests of the Corporation, the Board of Directors, committees of the Board of Directors, and individual directors, in addition to considering the effects of any action on the Corporation or its shareholders, may consider the interests of the employees, customers, suppliers, and creditors of the Corporation and its subsidiaries, the communities in which offices or other establishments of the Corporation and its subsidiaries are located, and all other factors such directors consider pertinent; provided, however, that this Article shall be deemed solely to grant discretionary authority to the directors and shall not be deemed to provide to any constituency any right to be considered.

ARTICLE NINE
Board of Directors

The Board of Directors, at the time of this filing, consists of one member whose name and address is as follows: Kevin P. Sheehan, 1705 Capital of Texas Highway South, Fifth Floor, Austin, Texas 78746, who shall serve until a successor is duly elected and qualified.

ARTICLE TEN
Shareholder Action

Meetings of the shareholders of the Corporation shall be held at such place within or without the State of Indiana, as may be specified in the respective notices of such meeting. Any action which may be taken at a meeting of the shareholders may be taken without a meeting if, prior to such action, a consent in writing setting forth the action so taken shall be signed by all of the shareholders entitled to vote with respect to the subject matter thereof, in accordance with Indiana Code § 23-1-29-4, as amended, and such written consent is filed with the minutes of the proceedings of the shareholders.

The Indiana Secretary of State filing office certifies that this copy is on file in this office.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the undersigned, being the incorporator of the Corporation executes these Articles of Incorporation and verifies, subject to penalties for perjury, that the statements contained herein are true, this 13th day of February, 2003.

Article I. Definitions

1.01 Code

The Code means the applicable titles, parts, chapters, sections, and other divisions of the Indiana Business Corporation Law, Indiana Code § 23-1-17-1 et seq., governing the formation and operation of corporations in the State of Indiana.

1.02 Record Date

Record Date means the date established under the Code on which the Corporation determines the identity of its shareholders and their shareholdings. Such determination shall be made as of the close of business on the Record Date unless another time for doing so is specified when the Record Date is fixed.

1.03 Voting Group

Voting Group means all shares of one or more classes or series that under the articles of incorporation or the Code are entitled to vote and be counted together collectively on a matter at a meeting of the shareholders. All shares entitled by the articles of incorporation or the Code to vote generally on the matter are for that purpose a single Voting Group.

1.04 Corporation

Corporation means Success Acquisition Corporation, and includes any domestic or foreign predecessor entity of the Corporation in a merger or other transaction in which the predecessor's existence ceased upon consummation of the transaction.

Article II. Offices and Agents

2.01 Registered Office and Agent

The Corporation shall maintain a registered office and have a registered agent, whose business office address is identical to that of the registered office, in the State of Indiana and in each state in which the Corporation is qualified to do business.

2.02 Other Offices

In addition to its registered office, the Corporation may have offices at any other place or places, within or without the State of Indiana, as the Board of Directors may from time to time select or as the business of the Corporation may require or make desirable.

Article III. Meetings of the Shareholders

3.01 Annual Meetings

An annual meeting of the shareholders shall be held for the election of directors at such date, time, and place, either within or without the State of Indiana, as may be designated by resolution of the Board of Directors from time to time. Such resolution shall designate the date, time, and place of the meeting. Any other proper business may be transacted at the annual meeting. If an annual meeting is not held as provided in this Section 3.01, any business, including the election of directors, that might properly have been acted upon at that meeting may be acted upon at a special meeting in lieu of the annual meeting held pursuant to these bylaws or held pursuant to a court order.

3.02 Special Meetings

Special meetings of the shareholders may be called for any purpose or purposes at any time by the Board of Directors, or by the President of the Corporation, or by a Committee of the Board of Directors that has been duly designated and authorized by resolution of the Board of Directors to call such meetings. In addition, the Board of Directors shall call such a meeting upon the written request of shareholders holding at least twenty percent (20%) of all the votes entitled to be cast on the issue or issues proposed to be considered at the requested special meeting.

3.03 Quorum

With respect to shares entitled to vote as a separate Voting Group on a matter at a meeting of shareholders, the presence, in person or by proxy, of a majority of the votes entitled to be cast on the matter by the Voting Group shall constitute a quorum of that Voting Group for action on that matter unless the articles of incorporation or the Code provide otherwise. Once a share is represented for any purpose at a meeting, other than solely to object to holding the meeting or to transacting business at the meeting, it is deemed present for quorum purposes for the remainder of the meeting and for any adjournment of the meeting unless a new Record Date is or must be set for the adjourned meeting pursuant to Section 1.02, governing the fixing of the Record Date with regard to shareholder action.

3.04 Adjournment and Reconvention

Whether or not a quorum is present to organize a meeting, any meeting of shareholders may be adjourned by the holders of a majority of the voting shares represented at the meeting to reconvene at a specific time and place, but no later than 120 days after the date fixed for the original meeting unless the requirements of the Code concerning the selection of a new Record Date have been met. At any reconvened meeting within that time period, any business may be transacted that could have been transacted at the meeting that was adjourned.

3.05 Presiding Officer

The President shall serve as the Presiding Officer of every meeting of shareholders unless another person is elected by the shareholders to serve as Presiding Officer at the meeting. The Presiding Officer shall appoint any persons he deems required to assist with the meeting.

3.06 Vote Required for Action

If a quorum exists, action on a matter (other than the election of directors) by a voting group is approved if the votes cast within the voting group favoring the action exceed the votes cast opposing the action, unless the articles of incorporation, provisions of these bylaws validly adopted by the shareholders, or the Code requires a greater number of affirmative votes. If the articles of incorporation or the Code provide for voting by two or more Voting Groups on a matter, action on that matter is taken only when voted upon by each of those Voting Groups counted separately. Action may be taken by one Voting Group on a matter even though no action is taken by another Voting Group entitled to vote on the matter. With regard to the election of directors, unless otherwise provided in the articles of incorporation, if a quorum exists, action on the election of directors is taken by a plurality of the votes cast by the shares entitled to vote in the election.

3.07 Shares Held by Another Corporation

Shares standing in the name of another corporation, domestic or foreign, may be voted by such officer, agent, or proxy as the bylaws of such other corporation may prescribe, or, in the absence of such a provision, as the board of directors of such other corporation may determine.

3.08 Method of Voting Shares

Unless the articles of incorporation or the Code provide otherwise, each outstanding share having voting rights shall be entitled to one vote on each matter submitted to a vote at a meeting of the shareholders. Voting on all matters shall be by voice vote or by show of hands unless any qualified voter, prior to the voting on any matter, demands vote by ballot, in which case each ballot shall state the name of the shareholder voting and the number of shares voted by him, and if the ballot be cast by proxy, it shall also state the name of the proxy.

3.09 Proxies

A shareholder entitled to vote on a matter may vote in person or by proxy pursuant to an appointment of proxy executed in writing by the shareholder or by his duly authorized attorney-in-fact. An appointment of proxy shall be valid for only one meeting to be specified therein, and any adjournments of such meeting, but shall not be valid for more than eleven months unless expressly provided therein. Appointments of proxy shall be dated and filed with the records of the meeting to which they relate. If the validity of any appointment of proxy is questioned, it must be submitted to the secretary of the meeting of shareholders for examination or to a proxy officer or committee appointed by the meeting's presiding officer. The secretary of the meeting or, if appointed, the proxy officer or committee, shall determine the validity or invalidity of any appointment of proxy submitted for examination. Reference in the minutes of the meeting by the secretary or, if appointed, the proxy officer or committee, as to the regularity of an appointment of proxy shall be received as prima facie evidence of the facts stated for the purpose of establishing the presence of a quorum at the meeting and for all other purposes.

3.10 Action Without a Meeting

Any action required or permitted to be taken at a meeting of the shareholders, may be taken without a meeting if the action is taken by all shareholders entitled to vote on the action. The action without a meeting must be evidenced by one or more written consents describing the action taken, signed by all the shareholders entitled to take action without a meeting, and delivered to the Corporation for inclusion in the minutes or filing with the records of the Corporation. The Corporation shall give written notice of actions so taken.

3.11 Notice

Unless waived as contemplated in these bylaws, a notice of each meeting of shareholders, stating the date, time, and place of the meeting shall be given not less than ten (10) days nor more than sixty (60) days before the date thereof, to each shareholder entitled to vote at that meeting. In the case of an annual meeting, the notice need not state the purpose or purposes of the meeting unless the articles of incorporation or the Code require otherwise. In the case of a special meeting, including a special meeting in lieu of an annual meeting, the notice of meeting shall state the purpose or purposes for which the meeting is called.

Article IV, Board of Directors

4.01 Powers

All corporate powers, which are lawful and do not violate any legal agreement among shareholders and which are not prohibited by the articles of incorporation or these bylaws, shall be exercised by or under the authority of, and the business and affairs of the Corporation shall be managed under, the direction of the Board of Directors. The Board of Directors may, by resolution, vote any shares of stock owned by the Corporation. Also, the Board of Directors from time to time in its discretion may authorize or declare distributions or share dividends in accordance with the Code.

4.02 Number

The number and composition of the Corporation's Board of Directors shall initially be that which is specified in the articles of incorporation. If the articles of incorporation do not specify the number and composition of the Board of Directors, then the Board of Directors shall consist of one member, the President of the Corporation. Thereafter, the number and composition of the Board of Directors may be changed from time to time by an action of the shareholders.

4.03 Election

Except as provided for in Section 4.06, addressing vacancies in the Board of Directors, the directors shall be elected by a vote of the shareholders at each annual meeting of shareholders or special meeting in lieu of the annual meeting.

4.04 Term of Office

Except in the case of death, written resignation, retirement, disqualification, or removal, each director shall serve until the next succeeding annual meeting or special meeting in lieu of an annual meeting and thereafter until his successor is elected and qualifies or until the number of directors is decreased.

4.05 Removal

One or more directors may be removed from office with or without cause by the shareholders by a majority of the votes entitled to be cast. If the director was elected by a Voting Group, only the shareholders of that Voting Group may participate in the vote to remove him. Removal action may be taken at any meeting of shareholders with respect to which the notice stated that the purpose, or one of the purposes, of the meeting is removal of the director, and a removed director's successor may be elected at the same meeting.

4.06 Vacancies

A vacancy occurring in the Board of Directors, other than by reason of an increase in the number of directors, shall be filled for the unexpired term by the first to take action of (a) the shareholders or (b) the Board of Directors, and if the directors remaining in office constitute fewer than a quorum of the Board of Directors, they may fill the vacancy by the affirmative vote of a majority of all the directors remaining in office. If the vacant office was held by a director elected by a Voting Group, only the holders of shares of that Voting Group or the remaining directors elected by that Voting Group are entitled to vote to fill the vacancy. A vacancy occurring in the Board of Directors by reason of an increase in the number of directors shall be filled in like manner as any other vacancy, but, if filled by action of the Board of Directors, shall only be for a term of office continuing until the next election of directors by the shareholders and until the election and qualification of a successor.

4.07 Committees

The Board of Directors, by resolution, may designate from among its members an executive committee and one or more other committees, each consisting of one or more directors all of whom serve at the pleasure of the Board of Directors. Except as limited by the Code, each committee shall have the authority set forth in the resolution establishing the committee. The provisions of these bylaws as to the Board of Directors and its deliberations shall be applicable to any committee of the Board of Directors. All decisions and actions of any committee created by these bylaws or resulting from the authority granted by these bylaws, shall be subject to the discretionary review and approval of the Board of Directors.

4.08 Compensation

Unless the articles of incorporation provide otherwise, the Board of Directors may determine from time to time the compensation, if any, directors may receive for their services as directors. A director may also serve the Corporation in a capacity other than that of director and receive compensation, as determined by the Board of Directors, for services rendered in such other capacity.

Article V. Meetings of the Board of Directors

5.01 Regular Meetings

Regular meetings of the Board of Directors shall be held immediately after the annual meeting of shareholders or a special meeting in lieu of the annual meeting. In addition, the Board of Directors may schedule other meetings to occur at regular intervals throughout the year.

5.02 Special Meetings

Special meetings of the Board of Directors may be called by or at the request of the President of the Corporation, by the sole director of the Board of Directors or, if the Board consists of more than one director, by any two directors in office at that time.

5.03 Quorums

Unless a greater number is required by the articles of incorporation, these bylaws, or the Code, a quorum of the Board of Directors consists of a majority of the total number of directors.

5.04 Adjournments

Whether or not a quorum is present to organize a meeting, any meeting of directors (including an adjourned meeting) may be adjourned by a majority of the directors present to reconvene at a specific time and place. At any reconvened meeting, any business may be transacted that could have been transacted at the meeting that was adjourned. It shall not be necessary to give any notice of the reconvened meeting or of the business to be transacted, if the date, time and place of the reconvened meeting are announced at the meeting that was adjourned.

5.05 Action Without a Meeting

Unless the Code, the articles of incorporation, or these bylaws provide otherwise, any action required or permitted to be taken at any meeting of the Board of Directors, or any action that may be taken at a meeting of an authorized committee of the Board of Directors, may be taken without a meeting if the action is taken by all the members of the Board of Directors (or of the committee, as the case may be). The action must be evidenced by one or more written consents describing the action taken, signed by each director (or each director serving on the committee, as the case may be), and delivered to the Corporation for inclusion in the minutes or filing with the records of the Corporation.

5.06 Meetings by Telephone

Any or all directors may participate in a meeting of the Board of Directors, and members of an authorized committee of the Board of Directors may participate in a meeting of the committee (as the case may be), through the use of any means of communication by which all directors participating may simultaneously hear each other during the meeting.

5.07 Place of Meetings

Directors may hold their meetings at any place within or without the State of Indiana, as the Board of Directors may from time to time establish for regular meetings or as set forth in the notice of special meetings or, in the event of a meeting held pursuant to waiver of notice, as set forth in the waiver.

5.08 Notice of Meetings

No notice shall be required for any regularly scheduled meeting of the directors. Unless waived as contemplated in these bylaws, each director shall be given at least five day's notice of each special meeting stating the date, time, and place of the meeting. It is not required that the purpose of a directors' meeting be stated in any notice of such a meeting, whether the meeting is a regular or a special meeting.

5.09 Vote Required for Action

If a quorum is present when a vote is taken, the affirmative vote of a majority of directors present is the act of the Board of Directors unless the Code, the articles of incorporation, or these bylaws require the vote of a greater number of directors.

A director who is present at a meeting of the Board of Directors, or an authorized committee of the Board of Directors, when corporate action is taken is deemed to have assented to the action taken unless:

(i) he objects at the beginning of the meeting (or promptly upon his arrival) to holding the meeting or to transacting business at the meeting,

(ii) his dissent or abstention from the action taken is entered in the minutes of the meeting, or

(iii) he delivers written notice of his dissent or abstention to the presiding officer of the meeting before its adjournment or to the Corporation immediately after adjournment of the meeting.

The right of dissent or abstention is not available to a director who votes in favor of the action taken.

Article VI. Shareholder and Director Notices

6.1 Delivery of Notice

Whenever these bylaws require notice to be given to any shareholder or director, the notice shall be given in accordance with this Section 6.1. Notice under these bylaws shall be in writing unless oral notice is reasonable under the circumstances. Any notice to directors may be written or oral. Notice may be communicated in person, by telephone, telegraph, teletype, other form of wire or wireless communication, or by mail or private carrier. If these forms of personal notice are impracticable, notice may be communicated by a newspaper of general circulation in the area where published, or by radio, television, or other form of public broadcast communication. Written notice to the shareholders, if in a comprehensible form, is effective when mailed, if mailed with first-class postage prepaid and correctly addressed to the shareholder's address shown in the Corporation's current record of shareholders.

6.2 When Effective

Except as otherwise provided in this Section 6.2, written notice, if in a comprehensible form, is effective at the earliest of the following:

(i) when received or when delivered, properly addressed, to the addressee's last known principal place of business or residence;

(ii) five days after deposit in the mail, as evidenced by the postmark, if mailed with first-class postage prepaid and correctly addressed, or

(iii) on the date shown on the return receipt, if sent by registered or certified mail, return receipt requested, and the receipt is signed by or on behalf of the addressee.

Oral notice is effective when communicated if communicated in a comprehensible manner.

In calculating time periods for notice, when a period of time measured in days, weeks, months, years, or other measurement of time is prescribed for the exercise of any privilege or the discharge of any duty, the first day shall not be counted but the last day shall be counted.

6.3 Waiver

A shareholder or director may waive any notice before or after the date and time stated in the notice. Except as provided in this Section 6.3, the waiver must be in writing, be signed by the shareholder or director entitled to the notice, and be delivered to the Corporation for inclusion in the minutes or filing with the records of the Corporation.

A shareholder's attendance at a meeting (i) waives objection to lack of notice or defective notice of the meeting, unless the shareholder at the beginning of the meeting objects to holding the meeting or transacting business at the meeting; and (ii) waives objection to consideration of a particular matter at the meeting that is not within the purpose or purposes described in the meeting notice, unless the shareholder objects to considering the matter when it is presented.

A director's attendance at or participation in a meeting waives any required notice to him of the meeting unless the director at the beginning of the meeting (or promptly upon his arrival) objects to holding the meeting or transacting business at the meeting and does not thereafter vote for or assent to action taken at the meeting.

Unless required by the Code, neither the business transacted nor the purpose of the meeting need be specified in the waiver.

6.4 Notice Following Adjournment

If notice of an adjourned meeting of the shareholders or of the directors was properly given, it shall not be necessary to give any notice of the reconvened meeting or of the business to be transacted, if the date, time and place of the reconvened meeting are announced at the meeting that was adjourned and before adjournment; provided, however, that if a new record date of shares is or must be fixed, notice of the reconvened meeting must be given to persons who are shareholders as of the new record date.

Article VII. Officers

7.01 Number

The officers of the Corporation shall consist of a Board Chairman, a President, a Secretary, a Treasurer, and any other officers as may be appointed by the Board of Directors or by another duly appointed officer pursuant to these bylaws. The Board of Directors shall from time to time create and establish the duties of the other officers. Any two or more offices may be held by the same person.

7.02 Board Chairman

The Board Chairman shall preside at all meetings of the Board of Directors and shall have authority to execute bonds, mortgages, and other contracts requiring a seal, under the seal of the Corporation; to endorse, when sold, assigned, transferred, or otherwise disposed of by the Corporation, all certificates or shares of stock, bonds, or other securities issued by other corporations, associations, trusts, whether public or private, or by any government agency thereof, and owned or held by the Corporation, and to make, execute, and deliver all instruments or assignments of transfer of any such stocks, bonds, or other securities. The Board Chairman may, with the approval of the Board of Directors, or shall, at the direction of the Board of Directors, delegate any or all of such duties to the President.

7.03 President

The President shall be the Chief Executive Officer of the Corporation and shall have general supervision of the business of the Corporation. The President shall see that all orders and resolutions of the Board of Directors are carried into effect. The President shall perform such other duties as may from time to time be delegated by the Board of Directors. In the absence of the Board Chairman, the President shall have authority to do any and all things delegated to the Board Chairman.

7.04 Vice President

In the absence or disability of the President, or at the direction of the President, the Vice President, if any, shall perform the duties and exercise the powers of the President. If the Corporation has more than one Vice President, the one designated by the Board of Directors shall act in lieu of the President. Vice Presidents shall perform whatever duties and have whatever powers the Board of Directors may from time to time assign.

7.05 Secretary

The Secretary shall be responsible for preparing minutes of the acts and proceedings of all meetings of the shareholders, the Board of Directors, and any Committees thereof. The Secretary shall have authority to give all notices required by the Code or these bylaws. The Secretary shall be responsible for the custody of the corporate books, records, contracts, and other documents. The Secretary may affix the corporate seal to any lawfully executed documents and shall sign any instruments as may require his or her signature. The Secretary shall authenticate records of the Corporation. The Secretary shall perform whatever additional duties and have whatever additional powers the Board of Directors may from time to time assign. In the absence or disability of the Secretary or at the direction of the President, any assistant secretary may perform the duties and exercise the powers of the Secretary.

7.06 Treasurer

The Treasurer shall be responsible for the custody of all funds and securities belonging to the Corporation and for the receipt, deposit, or disbursement of funds and securities under the direction of the Board of Directors. The Treasurer shall cause to be maintained full and true accounts of all receipts and disbursements and shall make reports of the same to the Board of Directors and the President upon request. The Treasurer shall perform all duties as may be assigned to him from time to time by the Board of Directors.

7.07 Appointment, Term, and Removal

All officers shall be appointed by the Board of Directors or by a duly appointed officer pursuant to these bylaws and shall serve at the pleasure of the Board of Directors or the appointing officers, as the case may be. All officers, however appointed, may be removed with or without cause by the Board of Directors, and any officer appointed by another officer may also be removed by the appointing officer with or without cause.

7.08 Compensation

The compensation of all officers of the Corporation appointed by the Board of Directors shall be fixed by the Board of Directors.

7.09 Bonds

The Board of Directors may, by resolution, require any or all of the officers, agents, or employees of the Corporation to give bonds to the Corporation, with sufficient surety or sureties, conditioned on the faithful performance of the duties of their respective offices or positions, and to comply with any other conditions as from time to time may be required by the Board of Directors.

Article VIII. Indemnification

8.01 Definitions

Terms defined in Chapter 37 of the Indiana Business Corporation Law (Ind. Code §§ 23-1-37-1, et seq.) which are used in this Article 8 shall have the same definitions for purposes of this Article 8 as they have in such chapter of the Indiana Business Corporation Law.

8.02 Indemnification of Directors and Officers

The Corporation shall indemnify any person made or threatened to be made a party to any action, suit, or proceeding, whether civil or criminal, administrative or investigative, and whether formal or informal, by reason of the fact that he or she, his or her testator, or his or her intestate is or was a director or officer of the Corporation or of any corporation, limited liability company, partnership, joint venture, trust, employee benefit plan or other enterprise, whether or not for profit, which he or she served as such at the request of the Corporation (any such person made or threatened to be made such a party is hereinafter termed a “Qualifying Person”), against liability and the reasonable expenses, including attorneys’ fees, actually incurred by him or her in connection with such action, suit, or proceeding, or in connection with any appeal therein, if: (i) his or her conduct was in good faith; (ii) he or she reasonably believed (a) in the case of conduct in his or her official capacity with the Corporation, that his or her conduct was in the Corporation’s best interests, and (b) in all other cases, that his or her conduct was at least not opposed to the Corporation’s best interests; and (iii) in the case of any criminal proceeding, he or she (a) had reasonable cause to believe his or her conduct was lawful, or (b) had no reasonable cause to believe his or her conduct was unlawful.

The Corporation shall pay for or reimburse the reasonable expenses incurred by a Qualifying Person in advance of final disposition of any such action, suit, or proceeding if the following occur: (i) the Qualifying Person furnishes to the Corporation a written affirmation of his or her good faith belief that he or she has met the standard of conduct necessary for indemnification described in this Section 8.02 (the “Standard”); (ii) he or she furnishes the Corporation a written undertaking executed by him or her to repay any such advance if it is ultimately determined that he or she did not meet the Standard; and (iii) a determination is made that the facts then known to those making the determination would not preclude indemnification under this Section 8.02.

8.03 Other Employees or Agents of the Corporation

The Corporation may, in the discretion of the Board of Directors, fully or partially provide the same rights of indemnification and reimbursement as hereinabove provided for directors and officers of the Corporation to other individuals who are or were employees or agents of the Corporation or who are or were serving at the request of the Corporation as employees or agents of another corporation, limited liability company, partnership, joint venture, trust, employee benefit plan or other entity whether or not for profit.

8.04 Non-Exclusive Provision

The indemnification authorized under this Article VIII is in addition to all rights to indemnification granted by Chapter 37 of the Indiana Business Corporation Law (Ind. Code §§ 23-1-37-1, et seq.) and in no way limits the indemnification provisions of such Chapter.

8.05 Insurance

The Corporation may purchase and maintain insurance on behalf of an individual

(i) who is a director, officer, employee, or agent of the Corporation, or

(ii) who, while a director, officer, employee, or agent of the Corporation, serves at the Corporation's request as a director, officer, partner, trustee, employee or agent of another domestic or foreign corporation, partnership, joint venture, trust, employee benefit plan, or other entity

against liability asserted against or incurred by him or her in that capacity or arising from his or her status as a director, officer, employee, or agent, whether or not the Corporation would have power to indemnify or advance expenses to him or her against the same liability under these bylaws or the Code.

8.06 Witness Fees

Nothing in these bylaws shall limit the Corporation's power to pay or reimburse expenses incurred by a director or officer in connection with his or her appearance as a witness in a proceeding at a time when he or she is not a party.

8.07 Report to Shareholders

To the extent and in the manner required by the Code from time to time, if the Corporation indemnifies or advances expenses to a director or officer in connection with a proceeding by or in the right of the Corporation, the Corporation shall report the indemnification or advance to the shareholders.

8.08 Effect of Amendments

No amendment, modification, or rescission of these bylaws, or any provision of the bylaws, the effect of which would diminish the rights to indemnification or advancement of expenses as set forth herein shall be effective as to any person with respect to any action taken or omitted by such person prior to such amendment, modification or rescission.

Article IX. Stock Certificates

9.01 Authorization and Issuance

In accordance with the Code, the Board of Directors may authorize shares of any class or series provided for in the Corporation's Articles of Incorporation to be issued for any consideration valid under the provisions of the Code. To the extent provided in the Articles of Incorporation, the Board of Directors shall determine the preferences, limitations, and relative rights of the shares.

9.02 Form

The interest of each shareholder in the Corporation shall be evidenced by a certificate or certificates representing shares of the Corporation which shall be in such form as the Board of Directors from time to time may adopt. Share certificates shall be numbered consecutively, shall be in registered form, shall indicate the date of issuance, the name of the Corporation, that it is organized under the laws of the State of Indiana, the name of the shareholder, the number and class of shares, and the designation of the series, if any, represented by the certificate. Each certificate shall be signed by any one of the President, a Vice President, the Secretary, or the Treasurer. The corporate seal need not be affixed.

9.03 Registered Shareholders

Prior to due presentation for transfer of registration of its shares, the Corporation may treat the registered owner of the shares as the person exclusively entitled to vote the shares, to receive any share dividend or distribution with respect to the shares, and for all other purposes. The Corporation shall not be bound to recognize any equitable or other claim to or interest in the shares on the part of any other person, whether or not it shall have express or other notice thereof, except as otherwise provided by law.

9.04 Transfer of Shares

Transfers of shares shall be made upon the transfer books of the Corporation, kept at the principle office of the Corporation (or at the office of the transfer agent designated to transfer the shares, if any) only upon direction of the person named in the certificate, or by his or her attorney lawfully constituted in writing. Before a new certificate is issued, the old certificate shall be surrendered for cancellation or, in the case of a certificate alleged to have been lost, stolen, or destroyed, the requirements of the bylaw governing lost, stolen, or destroyed certificates shall have been met.

9.05 Record Date

For the purpose of determining shareholders entitled to notice of a shareholders' meeting, to demand a special meeting, to vote, or to take any other action, the Board of Directors may fix a future date as the Record Date, which date shall be not more than seventy (70) days prior to the date on which the particular action requiring a determination of shareholders is to be taken. A determination of shareholders entitled to notice of or to vote at a shareholders' meeting is effective for any adjournment of the meeting unless the Board of Directors fixes a new Record Date, which it must do if the meeting is adjourned to a date more than 120 days after the date fixed for the original meeting. If no Record Date is fixed by the Board of Directors, the Record Date shall be determined in accordance with the provisions of the Code.

For the purpose of determining shareholders entitled to a distribution (other than one involving a purchase, redemption, or other reacquisition of the Corporation's shares) or a share dividend, the Board of Directors may fix a date as the Record Date. If no Record Date is fixed by the Board of Directors, the Record Date shall be determined in accordance with the provisions of the Code.

9.06 Lost, Stolen, or Destroyed Certificates

Any person claiming a share certificate to be lost, stolen, or destroyed shall make an affidavit or affirmation of the fact in the manner required by the Board of Directors and, if the Board of Directors requires, shall give the Corporation a bond of indemnity in form and amount, and with one or more sureties satisfactory to the Board of Directors, as the Board of Directors may require, whereupon an appropriate new certificate may be issued in lieu of the one alleged to have been lost, stolen or destroyed.

Article X. Miscellaneous

10.01 Fiscal Year

The fiscal year of the Corporation shall be a twelve-month period, beginning January 1 and ending on December 31 each year, unless the Board of Directors, by resolution, fixes the fiscal year as another time period.

10.02 Corporate Seal

If the Board of Directors determines that there should be a corporate seal for the Corporation, it shall be in the form as the Board of Directors may from time to time determine.

10.03 Corporate Records

The Board of Directors shall have the power to determine which accounts, books, and records of the Corporation shall be opened to the inspection of the shareholders, except those as may by law specifically be made open to inspection. The Board of Directors shall have the power to fix reasonable rules and regulations not in conflict with the applicable law for the inspection of accounts, books, and records which by law or by determination of the Board of Directors shall be open to inspection.

10.04 Annual Financial Statements

In accordance with the Code, the Corporation shall prepare and provide to the shareholders such financial statements as may be required by the Code.

10.05 Contracts

The Board of Directors may authorize any officer or agent to enter into any contract or execute and deliver any instrument in the name of and on behalf of the Corporation and such authority may be general or confined to a specific instance; and unless so authorized by the Board of Directors, no officer, agent or employee shall have any power or authority to bind the Corporation by any contract or engagement or to pledge its credit or render it liable pecuniarily for any purposes or to any amount. However, all contracts and agreements into which the Corporation enters in the ordinary course of business operations may be executed by any officer of the Corporation or by any other employee of the Corporation designated by the President to execute such contracts and agreements. Notwithstanding any other provision of these bylaws, however, the President is hereby given authority to execute all written documents or instruments on behalf of the Corporation.

10.06 Checks and Other Instruments

All checks, drafts, notes, bonds, bills of exchange, and orders for the payment of money shall, unless otherwise directed by the Board of Directors or required by law, be signed by either the President or the Secretary. The Board of Directors may, however, designate one or more officers or employees of the Corporation, other than those named above, who may, in the name of the Corporation, execute drafts, checks, and orders for the payment of money in its behalf.

10.07 Amendments

The Board of Directors shall have the power to alter, amend, or repeal these bylaws or adopt new bylaws, but any bylaws adopted by the Board of Directors may be altered, amended, or repealed, and new bylaws adopted, by the shareholders. The shareholders may prescribe, by expressing in the action they take in adopting or amending any bylaw or bylaws, that the bylaw or bylaws so adopted or amended shall not be altered, amended or repealed by the Board of Directors.

10.08 Conflict with Articles of Incorporation or Law; Severability

In the event that any provision of these bylaws conflicts with any provision of the articles of incorporation, the articles of incorporation shall govern. In the event that any of the provisions of these bylaws (including any provision within a single section, subsection, division or sentence) is held by a court of competent jurisdiction to be invalid, void, or otherwise unenforceable, the remaining provisions of the bylaws shall remain enforceable to the fullest extent permitted by law.

OPERATING AGREEMENT

SUNCOAST BEHAVIORAL, LLC

This Operating Agreement (the "Agreement") of Suncoast Behavioral, LLC, a Delaware limited liability company (the "Company"), is entered into by and between Acadia Healthcare Company, Inc., a Delaware corporation (the "Member") and the persons admitted to the Company as members who shall be identified on Schedule A, as amended from time to time, effective as of May 30, 2011.

WHEREAS, the Member desires to form the Company as a limited liability company in accordance with the Delaware Limited Liability Company Act (as amended, the "Act");

NOW, THEREFORE, in consideration of the mutual covenants and promises contained herein and for other good and valuable consideration, the receipt and adequacy of which are hereby acknowledged, the parties hereto agree as follows:

Section 1. Organization. Effective May 17, 2011, the Company was formed as a Delaware limited liability company by the filing of a certificate of formation in the office of the Secretary of State of Delaware (the "Certificate").

Section 2. Registered Office; Registered Agent. The registered office of the Company in the State of Delaware will be the initial registered office designated in the Certificate or such other office (which need not be a place of business of the Company) as the Member may designate from time to time in the manner provided by law. The registered agent of the Company in the State of Delaware will be the initial registered agent designated in the Certificate, or such other person as the Member may designate from time to time in the manner provided by law. The principal office of the Company will be at such location as the Member may designate from time to time, which need not be in the State of Delaware.

Section 3. Powers. The Company will have all powers permitted to be exercised by a limited liability company organized in the State of Delaware.

Section 4. Term. The Company commenced on the date the Certificate was filed with the Secretary of State of Delaware, and will continue in existence until terminated pursuant to this Agreement.

Section 5. Fiscal Year. The fiscal year of the Company for financial statement and federal income tax purposes will end on December 31 unless otherwise determined by the Member.

Section 6. Member. The Member owns 100% of the limited liability company interests in the Company.

Section 7. Address. The address of the Member is set forth below:

830 Crescent Centre Drive, Suite 610
Franklin, TN 37067

Section 8. New Members. No person may be admitted as a member of the Company without the approval of the Member.

Section 9. Liability to Third Parties. The Member will not have any personal liability for any obligations or liabilities of the Company, whether such liabilities arise in contract, tort or otherwise.

Section 10. Capital Contributions. On or before the date hereof, the Member has made a capital contribution in cash to the Company in the amount of $100.00. The Member will not be required to make any additional capital contributions to the Company except as may otherwise be agreed to by the Member.

Section 11. Participation in Profits and Losses. All profits and losses of the Company will be allocated to the Member.

Section 12. Distributions. Distributions will be made by the Company to the Member at such times as may be determined by the Member.

Section 13. Management. The power and authority to manage, direct and control the Company will be vested solely in the Member.

Section 14. Officers. The Member may, from time to time, designate one or more individuals to be officers of the Company, with such titles as the Member may assign to such individuals. The initial officers of the Company will be a President, a Secretary and two Vice Presidents as more specifically provided below. Officers so designated will have such authority and perform such duties as the Member may from time to time delegate to them. Any number of officer positions may be held by the same individual. Any officer may resign as such at any time by providing written notice to the Company. Any officer may be removed as such, either with or without cause, by the Member, in its sole discretion. Any vacancy occurring in any officer position of the Company may be filled by the Member. The officers of the Company, if and when designated by the Member, will have the authority, acting individually, to bind the Company.

Section 15. President. The President will, subject to the control of the Member, have general supervision, direction and control of the business and affairs of the Company. Subject to the control of the Member, the President will have the general powers and duties of management usually vested in the office of president and chief executive officer of corporations, and will have such other powers and duties as may be prescribed by the Member.

Section 16. Secretary. The Secretary will, subject to the control of the Member, prepare and keep the minutes of the proceedings of the Company in books provided for that purpose, see that all notices are duly given in accordance with the provisions of the Act, be custodian of the Company records, and will have the general powers and duties usually vested in the office of secretary of corporations, and will have such other powers and duties as may be prescribed by the Member.

Section 17. Vice Presidents. The Vice Presidents will, subject to the control of the Member, perform such duties as may be assigned to them by the President and will have the general powers and duties usually vested in the office of vice president of corporations, and will have such other powers and duties as may be prescribed by the Member. In the case of the death, disability or absence of the President, a Vice President shall perform and be vested with all the duties and powers of the President until the Member appoints a new President.

Section 18. Indemnification. The Company shall indemnify any individual who is or was a party or is or was threatened to be made a party to any action, suit, or proceeding, whether civil, criminal, administrative or investigative, by reason of the fact that he is or was an officer of the Company against expenses (including reasonable attorneys' fees and expenses), judgments, fines and amounts paid in settlement actually and reasonably incurred by such individual in connection with such action, suit or proceeding, to the extent permitted by applicable law. The right to indemnification conferred in this Section 18 includes the right of such individual to be paid by the Company the expenses incurred in defending any such action in advance of its final disposition (an "Advancement of Expenses"); provided, however, that the Company will only make an Advancement of Expenses upon delivery to the Company of an undertaking, by or on behalf of such Indemnitee, to repay all amounts so advanced if it is ultimately determined that such Indemnitee is not entitled to be indemnified under this Section 18 or otherwise.

Section 19. Dissolution. The Company will dissolve and its affairs will be wound up as may be determined by the Member, or upon the earlier occurrence of any other event causing dissolution of the Company under the Act. In such event, the Member will proceed diligently to wind up the affairs of the Company and make final distributions, and will cause the existence of the Company to be terminated.

Section 20. Amendment or Modification. This Agreement may be amended or modified from time to time only by a written instrument that is executed by the Member.

Section 21. Binding Effect. This Agreement will be binding on and inure to the benefit of the Member and its successors and assigns.

Section 22. Governing Law. This Agreement is governed by and will be construed in accordance with the law of the State of Delaware without regard to the conflicts of law principles thereof.

IN WITNESS THEREOF, the parties hereto have executed this Agreement effective as of the date set forth above.

OF

WELLPLACE, INC.

(as of November 30, 2011)

ARTICLE I

Stockholders

Section 1. Annual Meeting. The annual meeting of the stockholders shall be held within six months of the end of the corporation's fiscal year as fixed by the board of directors for the purpose of electing directors and for such other purposes as may be determined as hereinafter provided. The hour and place of such meeting and the purposes for which such meeting is to be held in addition to that specified above shall be determined in each year by the board of directors or, in the absence of action by the board, by the president. If no annual meeting has been held in the period fixed above, a special meeting may be held in lieu thereof with all the force and effect of an annual meeting.

Section 2. Special Meetings. Special meetings of the stockholders may be called at any time by the president or by the board of directors and shall be called by the clerk, or in case of the death, absence, incapacity or refusal of the clerk, by any other officer, upon written application of one or more stockholders who hold at least one-tenth part in interest of the capital stock entitled to vote thereat. Such application shall specify the purposes for which the meeting is to be called and may designate the date, hour and place of such meeting, provided, however, that no such application shall designate a date not a full business day or an hour not within normal business hours as the date or hour of such meeting without the approval of the president or the board of directors.

Section 3. Place of Meetings. Meetings of the stockholders may be held anywhere within, but not without, the United States.

Section 4. Notice. Except as hereinafter provided, a written or printed notice of every meeting of stockholders stating the place, date, hour and purposes thereof shall be given by the clerk or an assistant clerk (or by any other officer in the case of an annual meeting or by the person or persons calling the meeting in the case of a special meeting) at least ten (10) days before the meeting to each stockholder entitled to vote thereat and to each stockholder who, by law, by the articles of organization or by these by-laws, is entitled to such notice, by leaving such notice with him or at his residence or usual place of business or by mailing it, postage prepaid, addressed to him at his address as it appears upon the records of the corporation. No notice of the place, date, hour or purposes of any annual or special meeting of stockholders need be given to a stockholder if a written waiver of such notice, executed before or after the meeting by such stockholder or his attorney thereunto authorized, is filed with the records of the meeting.

Section 5. Action at a Meeting. Except as otherwise provided in the articles of organization, the presence of a quorum shall be separately determined with respect to each matter to be acted on at any meeting of stockholders, and shall consist of the holders of shares having the right to cast a majority of the votes which may be cast with respect to such matter. Though less than a quorum be present, any meeting may without further notice be adjourned to a subsequent date or until a quorum be had, and at any such adjourned meeting any business may be transacted which might have been transacted at the original meeting.

When a quorum is present at any meeting, the affirmative vote of a majority of the shares of stock present or represented and voting shall be necessary and sufficient to the determination of any questions brought before the meeting, unless a larger vote is required by law, by the articles of organization or by these by-laws, provided, however, that any election by stockholders shall be determined by a plurality of the votes cast by the stockholders entitled to vote in such election.

Except as otherwise provided by law or by the articles or organization or by these by-laws, each holder of record of shares of stock entitled to vote on any matter shall have one vote for each such share held of record by him and a proportionate vote for any fractional shares so held by him. Stockholders may vote either in person or by proxy. No proxy dated more than six months before the meeting named therein shall be valid and no proxy shall be valid after the final adjournment of such meeting. A proxy with respect to stock held in the name of two or more persons shall be valid if executed by anyone of them unless at or prior to the exercise of the proxy the corporation receives a specific written notice to the contrary from anyone of them. A proxy purporting to be executed by or on behalf of a stockholder shall be deemed valid unless challenged at or prior to its exercise and the burden of proving its invalidity shall rest on the challenger.

Any election by stockholders and the determination of any other questions to come before a meeting of the stockholders shall be by ballot if so requested by any stockholder entitled to vote thereon but need not be otherwise.

Section 6. Stockholder Proposals. Written notification of any stockholder proposal to be acted upon at an annual meeting of stockholders of the corporation must be provided to the corporation at least 120 calendar days in advance of the date of the corporation’s proxy statement released to stockholders in connection with the previous year’s annual meeting of stockholders. Written notification of any stockholder proposal to be acted upon at any meeting of the stockholders of the corporation other than an annual meeting must be provided to the corporation at least 180 calendar days before the meeting at which such proposal is to be acted upon.

Section 7. Action by Written Consent. Any action required to be taken at any annual or special meeting of stockholders of the corporation, or any action which may be taken at any annual or special meeting of such stockholders, may be taken without a meeting, without prior notice and without a vote, if a consent or consents in writing, setting forth the action so taken and bearing the dates of signature of the stockholders who signed the consent or consents, shall be signed by the holders of outstanding stock having not less than the minimum number of votes that would be necessary to authorize or take such action at a meeting at which all shares entitled to vote thereon were present and voted and shall be delivered to the corporation by delivery to the corporation's principal place of business, or an officer or agent of the corporation having custody of the book or books in which proceedings of meetings of the stockholders are recorded.

ARTICLE II

Directors

Section 1. Number and Election. Except as otherwise provided by law or by the articles of organization, the number of directors for the ensuing year shall be determined by the board of directors. The number of directors so determined shall be elected at the annual meeting of the stockholders by such stockholders as have the right to vote thereon. The stockholders may, at any special meeting held for the purpose, increase or decrease the number of directors as thus determined and elect new directors to complete the number so determined or remove directors to reduce the number of directors to the number so determined. Except as otherwise provided by law or by the articles of organization, the board of directors may, by vote of a majority of the directors then in office, increase the number of directors determined by the stockholders and elect new directors to complete the number so determined. No director need be a stockholder.

Section 2. Term. Except as otherwise provided by law, by the articles of organization or by these by-laws, the directors shall hold office until the next annual meeting of stockholders and until their successors are chosen and qualified.

Section 3. Resignations. Any director may resign by delivering his written resignation to the corporation at its principal office or to the president or clerk or if there be one, to the secretary. Such resignation shall become effective at the time or upon the happening of the condition, if any, specified therein or, if no such time or condition is specified, upon its receipt.

Section 4. Removal. At any meeting of the stockholders called: for the purpose any director may be removed from office with or without cause by the vote of a majority of the class of shares issued, outstanding and entitled to vote in the election of said director. At any meeting of the board of directors any director may be removed from office for cause by vote of a majority of the directors then in office. A director may be removed for cause only after a reasonable notice and opportunity to be heard before the body proposing to remove him.

Section 5. Vacancies. Vacancies in the board of directors may be filled by vote of a majority of the remaining directors elected by that class of stockholders which elected the director whose office has been vacated or, if not yet so filled, by majority vote of the class of stockholders which elected the director whose office has been vacated.

Section 6. Regular Meetings. Regular meetings of the board of directors may be held at such times and places within or without the Commonwealth of Massachusetts as the board of directors may fix from time to time and, when so fixed, no notice thereof need be given. The first meeting of the board of directors following the annual meeting of the stockholders shall be held without notice immediately after and at the same place as the annual meeting of the stockholders or the special meeting held in lieu thereof. If in any year a meeting of the board of directors is not held at such time and place, any elections to be held or business to be transacted at such meeting may be held or transacted at any later meeting of the board of directors with the same force and effect as if held or transacted at such meeting.

Section 7. Special Meetings. Special meetings of the board of directors may be called at any time by the president or secretary (or, if there be no secretary, the clerk) or by any director. Such special meetings may be held anywhere within or without the Commonwealth of Massachusetts. A written, printed or telegraphic notice stating the place, date and hour (but not necessarily the purposes) of the meeting shall be given by the secretary or an assistant secretary (or, if there be no secretary or assistant secretary, the clerk or an assistant clerk) or by the officer or director calling the meeting at least forty-eight (48) hours before such meeting to each director by leaving such notice with him or at his residence or usual place of business or by mailing it, postage prepaid, or sending it by prepaid telegram, addressed to him at his last known address. No notice of the place, date or hour of any meeting of the board of directors need be given to any director if a written waiver of such notice, executed by him before or after the meeting, is filed with the records of the meeting, or to any director who attends the meeting without protesting prior thereto or at its commencement the lack of notice to him.

Section 8. Action at a Meeting. At any meeting of the board of directors, a majority of the directors then in office shall constitute a quorum. Though less than a quorum be present, any meeting may without further notice be adjourned to a subsequent date or until a quorum be had. When a quorum is present at any meeting a majority of the directors present may take any action on behalf of the board except to the extent that a larger number is required by law, by the articles or organization or by these by-laws.

Section 9. Action Without a Meeting. Any action required or permitted to be taken at any meeting of the directors may be taken without a meeting if all the directors consent to the action in writing and the written consents are filed with the records of the meetings of the directors. Such consents shall be treated for all purposes as a vote at a meeting.

Section 10. Powers. The board of directors shall have and may exercise all the powers of the corporation, except such as by law, by the articles of organization or by these by-laws are conferred upon or reserved to the stockholders. In the event of any vacancy in the board of directors, the remaining directors then in office, except as otherwise provided by law, shall have and may exercise all of the powers of the board of directors until the vacancy is filled.

Section 11. Committees. The board of directors may elect from the board an executive committee or one or more other committees and may delegate to any such committee or committees any or all of the powers of the board except those which by law, by the articles of organization or by these by-laws may not be so delegated. Such committees shall serve at the pleasure of the board of directors. Except as the board of directors may otherwise determine, each such committee may make rules for the conduct of its business, but, unless otherwise determined by the board or in such rules, its business shall be conducted as nearly as may be as is provided in these by-laws for the conduct of the business of the board of directors.

Section 12. Meeting by Telecommunications. Members of the board of directors or any committee elected thereby may participate in a meeting of such board of committee by means of a conference telephone or similar communications equipment by means of which all persons participating in a meeting can hear each other at the same time and participation by such means shall constitute presence in person at the meeting.

ARTICLE III

Officers

Section 1. Enumeration. The officers of the corporation shall consist of a president, a treasurer and a clerk and such other officers, including without limitation a chairman of the board of directors, a secretary and one or more vice presidents, assistant treasurers, assistant clerks and assistant secretaries, as the board of directors may from time to time determine.

Section 2. Qualifications. No officer need be a stockholder or a director. The same person may hold at the same time one or more offices unless otherwise provided by law. The clerk shall be a resident of Massachusetts unless the corporation shall have a resident agent. Any officer may be required by the board of directors to give a bond for the faithful performance of his duties in such form and with such sureties as the board may determine.

Section 3. Elections. The president, treasurer and clerk shall be elected annually by the board of directors at its first meeting following the annual meeting of the stockholders. All other officers shall be chosen or appointed by the board of directors.

Section 4. Term. Except as otherwise provided by law, by the articles of organization or by these by-laws, the president, treasurer and clerk shall hold office until the first meeting of the board of directors following the next annual meeting of the stockholders and until their respective successors are chosen and qualified. All other officers shall hold office until the first meeting of the board of directors following the next annual meeting of the stockholders, unless a shorter time is specified in the vote choosing or appointing such officer or officers.

Section 5. Resignations. Any officer may resign by delivering his written resignation to the corporation at its principal office or to the president or clerk, or, if there be one, to the secretary. Such resignation shall be effective at the time or upon the happening of the condition, if any, specified therein or, if no such time or condition is specified, upon its receipt.

Section 6. Removal. Any officer may be removed from office with or without cause by vote of a majority of the directors then in office. An officer may be removed for cause only after a reasonable notice and opportunity to be heard before the board of directors.

Section 7. Vacancies. Vacancies in any office may be filled by the board of directors.

Section 8. Certain Duties and Powers. The officers designated below, subject at all times to these by-laws and to the direction and control of the board of directors, shall have and may exercise the respective duties and powers set forth below:

The Chairman of the Board of Directors. The chairman of the board of directors, if there be one, shall, when present, preside at all meetings of the board of directors.

The President. The president shall be the chief executive officer of the corporation and shall have general operating charge of its business. Unless otherwise prescribed by the board of directors, he shall, when present, preside at all meetings of the stockholders, and, if a director, at all meetings of the board of directors unless there be a chairman of the board of directors who is present at the meeting.

The Treasurer. The treasurer shall be the chief financial officer of the corporation and shall cause to be kept accurate books of account.

The Clerk. The clerk shall keep a record of all proceedings of the stockholders and, if there be no secretary, shall also keep a record of all proceedings of the board of directors. In the absence of the clerk from any meeting of the stockholders or, if there be no secretary, from any meeting of the board of directors, an assistant clerk, if there be one, otherwise a clerk pro tempore designated by the person presiding at the meeting, shall perform the duties of the clerk at such meeting.

The Secretary. The secretary, if there be one, shall keep a record of all proceedings of the board of directors. In the absence of the secretary, if there be one, from any meeting of the board of directors, an assistant secretary, if there be one, otherwise a secretary pro tempore designated by the person presiding at the meeting, shall perform the duties of the secretary at such meeting.

Section 9. Other Duties and Powers. Each officer, subject at all times to these by-laws and to the direction and control of the board of directors, shall have and may exercise, in addition to the duties and powers specifically set forth in these by-laws, such duties and powers as are prescribed by law, such duties and powers as are commonly incident to his office and such duties and powers as the board of directors may from time to time prescribe.

ARTICLE IV

Capital Stock

Section 1. Amount and Issuance. The total number of shares and the par value, if any, of each class of stock which the corporation is authorized to issue shall be stated in the articles of organization. The directors may at any time issue all or from time to time any part of the unissued capital stock of the corporation from time to time authorized under the articles of organization, and may determine, subject to any requirements of law, the consideration for which stock is to be issued and the manner of allocating such consideration between capital and surplus.

Section 2. Certificates. Each stockholder shall be entitled to a certificate or certificates stating the number and the class and the designation of the series, if any, of the shares held by him, and otherwise in form approved by the board of directors. Such certificate or certificates shall be signed by the president or a vice president and by the treasurer or an assistant treasurer. Such signatures may be facsimiles if the certificate is signed by a transfer agent, or by a registrar, other than a director, officer or employee of the corporation. In case any officer who has signed or whose facsimile signature has been placed on such certificate shall have ceased to be such officer before such certificate is issued, it may be issued by the corporation with the same effect as if he were such officer at the time of its issue.

Every certificate issued for shares of stock at a time when such shares are subject to any restriction on transfer pursuant to the articles of organization, these by-laws or any agreement to which the corporation is a party shall have the restriction noted conspicuously on the certificate and shall also set forth on the face or back of the certificate either (i) the full text of the restriction or (ii) a statement of the existence of such restriction and a statement that the corporation will furnish a copy thereof to the holder of such certificate upon written request and without charge.

Every certificate issued for shares of stock at a time when the corporation is authorized to issue more than one class or series of stock shall set forth on the face or back of the certificate either (i) the full text of the preferences, voting powers, qualifications and special and relative rights of the shares of each class and series, if any, authorized to be issued, as set forth in the articles of organization or (ii) a statement of the existence of such preferences, powers, qualifications and rights and a statement that the corporation will furnish a copy thereof to the holder of such certificate upon written request and without charge.

Section 3. Transfers. The board of directors may make such rules and regulations not inconsistent with the law, with the articles of organization or with these by-laws as it deems expedient relative to the issue, transfer and registration of stock certificates. The board of directors may appoint a transfer agent and a registrar of transfers or either and require all stock certificates to bear their signatures. Except as otherwise provided by law, by the articles of organization or by these by-laws, the corporation shall be entitled to treat the record holder of any shares of stock as shown on the books of the corporation as the holder of such shares for all purposes, including the right to receive notice of and to vote at any meeting of stockholders and the right to receive any dividend or other distribution in respect of such shares.

Section 4. Record Date. The board of directors may fix in advance a time, which shall be not more than sixty (60) days before the date of any meeting of stockholders or the date for the payment of any dividend or the making of any distribution to stockholders or the last day on which the consent or dissent of stockholders may be effectively expressed for any purpose, as the record date for determining the stockholders having the right to notice of and to vote at such meeting and any adjournment thereof or the right to receive such dividend or distribution or the right to give such consent or dissent, and in such case only stockholders of record on such record date shall have such right, notwithstanding any transfer of stock on the books of the corporation after the record date.

Section 5. Lost Certificates. The board of directors may, except as otherwise provided by law, determine the conditions upon which a new certificate of stock may be issued in place of any certificate alleged to have been lost, mutilated or destroyed.

ARTICLE V

Miscellaneous provisions

Section 1. Fiscal Year. The fiscal year of the corporation shall begin on the first day of January in each year and end on the last day of December next following.

Section 2. Corporate Seal. The seal of the corporation shall be in such form as shall be determined from time to time by the board of directors.

Section 3. Corporation Records. The original, or attested copies, of the articles of organization, by-laws and records of all meetings of the incorporators and stockholders, and the stock and transfer records, which shall contain the names of all stockholders and the record address and the amount of stock held by each, shall be kept in the Commonwealth of Massachusetts at the principal office of the corporation in said Commonwealth or at an office of the transfer agent or of its clerk or of its resident agent, if any. Said copies and records need not all be kept in the same office. They shall be available at all reasonable times to inspection by any stockholder for any proper purpose but not if the purpose for which such inspection is sought is to secure a list of stockholders or other information for the purpose of selling said list or information or copies thereof or of using the same for a purpose other than the interest of the applicant, as a stockholder, relative to the affairs of the corporation.

Section 4. Voting of Securities. Except as the board of directors may otherwise prescribe, the president or the treasurer shall have full power and authority in the name and on behalf of the corporation, subject to the instructions of the board of directors, to waive notice of, to attend, act and vote at, and to appoint any person or persons to act as proxy or attorney in fact for this corporation (with or without power of substitution) at any meeting of stockholders or shareholders of any other corporation or organization, the securities of which may be held by this corporation.

ARTICLE VI

Amendments

These by-laws may be amended or repealed at any annual or special meeting of the stockholders by the affirmative vote of a majority of the shares of capital stock then issued, outstanding and entitled to vote provided notice of the proposed amendment or repeal is given in the notice of the meeting. No change in the date fixed in these by-laws for the annual meeting of the stockholders shall be made within sixty (60) days before such date, and notice of any change in such date shall be given to all stockholders at least twenty (20) days before the new date fixed for such meeting.

If authorized by the articles of incorporation, these by-laws may also be amended or repealed in whole or in part, or new by-laws made, by the board of directors except with respect to any provision hereof which by-law, the articles of organization or these by-laws requires action by the stockholders. Not later than the time of giving notice of the meeting of stockholders next following the making, amendment or repeal by the directors of any by-laws, notice thereof stating the substance of such change shall be given to all stockholders entitled to vote on amending the by-laws. Any by-law to be made, amended or repealed by the directors may be amended or repealed by the stockholders.

AMENDED AND RESTATED BYLAWS

Adopted as of January 22, 2001

Corporate Bylaws

Article I. Definitions

1.01 Code

The Code means the applicable titles, parts, chapters, sections, and other divisions of the state of incorporation's statutory scheme governing the formation and operation of corporations.

1.02 Record Date

Record Date means the date established under the Code on which the corporation determines the identity of its shareholders and their shareholdings. Such determination shall be made as of the close of business on the record date unless another time for doing so is specified when the record date is fixed.

1.03 Voting Group

Voting Group means all shares of one or more classes or series that under the articles of incorporation or the Code are entitled to vote and be counted together collectively on a matter at a meeting of the shareholders. All shares entitled by the articles of incorporation or the Code to vote generally on the matter are for that purpose a single voting group.

1.04 Corporation

Corporation includes any domestic or foreign predecessor entity of the corporation in a merger or other transaction in which the predecessor's existence ceased upon consummation of the transaction.

1.05 Director or Officer

Director or Officer means an individual who is or was (i) a member of the Board of Directors, (ii) an individual elected or appointed by the Board of Directors to serve as an officer, or (iii) a member of any duly constituted Committee of the Board of Directors. "Director" or "officer" includes, unless the context otherwise requires, the estate or personal representative of a director or officer.

1.06 Disinterested Director or Officer

"Disinterested Director" or "Disinterested Officer" means a director or officer who, with respect to a determination of the authorization or non-authorization of an expense advancement or of indemnification, is neither:

(i) the individual whose indemnification or expense advancement is the subject of the decision being made; nor

(ii) An individual having a familial, financial, professional, or employment relationship with the person whose indemnification or advance for expenses is the subject of the decision being made with respect to the proceeding, which relationship would, in the circumstances, reasonably be expected to exert an influence on the director's or officer's judgment when voting on the decision being made.

1.07 Liability

Liability means the obligation to pay a judgment, settlement, penalty, fine (including an excise tax assessed with respect to an employee benefit plan), or reasonable expenses incurred with respect to a proceeding.

1.08 Official Capacity

When used with respect to a director, Official Capacity means the office of director in the corporation. When used with respect to an officer, Official Capacity means the office in the corporation held by the officer. Official capacity does not include service for any other domestic or foreign corporation or any partnership, joint venture, trust, employee benefit plan, or other entity.

1.09 Party

Party includes an individual who was, is, or is threatened to be made a named defendant or respondent in a proceeding.

1.10 Proceeding

Proceeding means any threatened, pending, or completed action, suit, or proceeding, whether civil, criminal, administrative, arbitrative, or investigative and whether formal or informal.

Article II. Offices and Agents

2.01 Registered Office and Agent

The corporation shall maintain a registered office and have a registered agent, whose business office address is identical to that of the registered office, in its state of incorporation and in each state in which the corporation is qualified to do business.

2.02 Other Offices

In addition to its registered office, the corporation may have offices at any other place or places, within or without the state of incorporation, as the Board of Directors may from time to time select or as the business of the corporation may require or make desirable.

Article III. Meetings of the Shareholders

3.01 Annual Meetings

An annual meeting of the shareholders shall be held for the election of directors at such date, time, and place, either within or without the state of incorporation, as may be designated by resolution of the Board of Directors from time to time. Such resolution shall designate the date, time, and place of the meeting. Any other proper business may be transacted at the annual meeting. If an annual meeting is not held as provided in this bylaw, any business, including the election of directors, that might properly have been acted upon at that meeting may be acted upon at a special meeting in lieu of the annual meeting held pursuant to these bylaws or held pursuant to a court order.

3.02 Special Meetings

Special meetings of the shareholders may be called for any purpose or purposes at any time by the Board of Directors, or by the President of the corporation, or by a Committee of the Board of Directors that has been duly designated and authorized by resolution of the Board of Directors to call such meetings. In addition, the Board of Directors shall call such a meeting upon the written request of shareholders holding at least twenty percent (20%) of all the votes entitled to be cast on the issue or issues proposed to be considered at the requested special meeting.

3.03 Quorum

With respect to shares entitled to vote as a separate voting group on a matter at a meeting of shareholders, the presence, in person or by proxy, of a majority of the votes entitled to be cast on the matter by the voting group shall constitute a quorum of that voting group for action on that matter unless the articles of incorporation or the Code provide otherwise. Once a share is represented for any purpose at a meeting, other than solely to object to holding the meeting or to transacting business at the meeting, it is deemed present for quorum purposes for the remainder of the meeting and for any adjournment of the meeting unless a new record date is or must be set for the adjourned meeting pursuant to the bylaw governing the fixing of the record date with regard to shareholder action.

3.04 Adjournment and Reconvention

Whether or not a quorum is present to organize a meeting, any meeting of shareholders may be adjourned by the holders of a majority of the voting shares represented at the meeting to reconvene at a specific time and place, but no later than 120 days after the date fixed for the original meeting unless the requirements of the Code concerning the selection of a new record date have been met. At any reconvened meeting within that time period, any business may be transacted that could have been transacted at the meeting that was adjourned.

3.05 Presiding Officer

The Chief Executive Officer shall serve as the Presiding Officer of every meeting of shareholders unless another person is elected by the shareholders to serve as Presiding Officer at the meeting. The Presiding Officer shall appoint any persons he deems required to assist with the meeting.

3.06 Vote Required for Action

If a quorum exists, action on a matter (other than the election of directors) by a voting group is approved if the votes cast within the voting group favoring the action exceed the votes cast opposing the action, unless the articles of incorporation, provisions of these bylaws validly adopted by the shareholders, or the Code requires a greater number of affirmative votes. If the articles of incorporation or the Code provide for voting by two or more voting groups on a matter, action on that matter is taken only when voted upon by each of those voting groups counted separately. Action may be taken by one voting group on a matter even though no action is taken by another voting group entitled to vote on the matter. With regard to the election of directors, unless otherwise provided in the articles of incorporation, if a quorum exists, action on the election of directors is taken by a plurality of the votes cast by the shares entitled to vote in the election.

3.07 Shares Held by Another Corporation

Shares standing in the name of another corporation, domestic or foreign, may be voted by such officer, agent, or proxy as the by-laws of such other corporation may prescribe, or, in the absence of such a provision, as the board of directors of such other corporation may determine.

3.08 Method of Voting Shares

Unless the articles of incorporation or the Code provide otherwise, each outstanding share having voting rights shall be entitled to one vote on each matter submitted to a vote at a meeting of the shareholders. Voting on all matters shall be by voice vote or by show of hands unless any qualified voter, prior to the voting on any matter, demands vote by ballot, in which case each ballot shall state the name of the shareholder voting and the number of shares voted by him, and if the ballot be cast by proxy, it shall also state the name of the proxy.

3.09 Proxies

A shareholder entitled to vote on a matter may vote in person or by proxy pursuant to an appointment of proxy executed in writing by the shareholder or by his attorney-in-fact. An appointment of proxy shall be valid for only one meeting to be specified therein, and any adjournments of such meeting, but shall not be valid for more than eleven months unless expressly provided therein. Appointments of proxy shall be dated and filed with the records of the meeting to which they relate. If the validity of any appointment of proxy is questioned, it must be submitted to the secretary of the meeting of shareholders for examination or to a proxy officer or committee appointed by the meeting's presiding officer. The secretary of the meeting or, if appointed, the proxy officer or committee, shall determine the validity or invalidity of any appointment of proxy submitted for examination. Reference in the minutes of the meeting by the secretary or, if appointed, the proxy officer or committee, as to the regularity of an appointment of proxy shall be received as prima facie evidence of the facts stated for the purpose of establishing the presence of a quorum at the meeting and for all other purposes.

3.10 Action Without a Meeting

Any action required or permitted to be taken at a meeting of the shareholders, may be taken without a meeting if the action is taken by all shareholders entitled to vote on the action. Or, if allowed by the articles of incorporation, such action may be taken without a meeting by persons who would be entitled to vote shares having voting power to cast not less than the minimum number (or numbers, in the case of voting by groups) of votes that would be necessary to authorize or take the action at a meeting at which all shareholders entitled to vote were present and voted. The action without a meeting must be evidenced by one or more written consents describing the action taken, signed by shareholders entitled to take action without a meeting, and delivered to the corporation for inclusion in the minutes or filing with the corporate records. The corporation shall give written notice of actions so taken.

3.11 Notice

Unless waived as contemplated in these bylaws, a notice of each meeting of shareholders, stating the date, time, and place of the meeting shall be given not less than ten (10) days nor more than sixty (60) days before the date thereof, to each shareholder entitled to vote at that meeting. In the case of an annual meeting, the notice need not state the purpose or purposes of the meeting unless the articles of incorporation or the Code requires otherwise. In the case of a special meeting, including a special meeting in lieu of an annual meeting, the notice of meeting shall state the purpose or purposes for which the meeting is called.

Article IV. Board of Directors

4.01 Powers

All corporate powers, which are lawful and do not violate any legal agreement among shareholders and which are not prohibited by the articles of incorporation or these bylaws, shall be exercised by or under the authority of, and the business and affairs of the corporation shall be managed under, the direction of the Board of Directors. The Board of Directors may, by resolution, vote any shares of stock owned by the corporation. Also, the Board of Directors from time to time in its discretion may authorize or declare distributions or share dividends in accordance with the Code.

4.02 Number

The number and composition of the corporation's Board of Directors shall initially be that which is specified in the articles of incorporation. If the articles of incorporation do not specify the number and composition of the Board of Directors, then the Board of Director's shall consist of one member, the

Chief Executive Officer of the corporation. Thereafter, the number and composition of the Board of Directors may be changed from time to time by an action of the shareholders.

4.03 Election

Except as provided for in the bylaw addressing vacancies in the Board of Directors, the Directors shall be elected by a vote of the shareholders at each annual meeting of shareholders or special meeting in lieu of the annual meeting.

4.04 Term of Office

Except in the case of death, written resignation, retirement, disqualification, or removal, each director shall serve until the next succeeding annual meeting or special meeting in lieu of an annual meeting and thereafter until his successor is elected and qualifies or until the number of directors is decreased.

4.05 Removal

One or more directors may be removed from office with or without cause by the shareholders by a majority of the votes entitled to be cast. If the director was elected by a voting group, only the shareholders of that voting group may participate in the vote to remove him. Removal action may be taken at any meeting of shareholders with respect to which the notice stated that the purpose, or one of the purposes, of the meeting is removal of the director, and a removed director's successor may be elected at the same meeting.

4.06 Vacancies

A vacancy occurring in the Board of Directors, other than by reason of an increase in the number of directors, shall be filled for the unexpired term by the first to take action of (a) the shareholders or (b) the Board of Directors, and if the directors remaining in office constitute fewer than a quorum of the Board of Directors, they may fill the vacancy by the affirmative vote of a majority of all the directors remaining in office. If the vacant office was held by a director elected by a voting group, only the holders of shares of that voting group or the remaining directors elected by that voting group are entitled to vote to fill the vacancy. A vacancy occurring in the Board of Directors by reason of an increase in the number of directors shall be filled in like manner as any other vacancy, but, if filled by action of the Board of Directors, shall only be for a term of office continuing until the next election of directors by the shareholders and until the election and qualification of a successor.

4.07 Committees

The Board of Directors, by resolution, may designate from among its members an executive committee and one or more other committees, each consisting of one or more directors all of whom serve at the pleasure of the Board of Directors. Except as limited by the Code, each committee shall have the authority set forth in the resolution establishing the committee. The provisions of these bylaws as to the Board of Directors and its deliberations shall be applicable to any committee of the Board of Directors. All decisions and actions of any committee created by these bylaws or resulting from the authority granted by these bylaws, shall be subject to the discretionary review and approval of the Board of Directors.

4.08 Compensation

Unless the articles of incorporation provide otherwise, the Board of Directors may determine from time to time the compensation, if any, directors may receive for their services as directors. A director may also serve the corporation in a capacity other than that of director and receive compensation, as determined by the Board of Directors, for services rendered in such other capacity.

Article V. Meetings of the Board of Directors

5.01 Regular Meetings

Regular meetings of the Board of Directors shall be held immediately after the annual meeting of shareholders or a special meeting in lieu of the annual meeting. In addition, the Board of Directors may schedule other meetings to occur at regular intervals throughout the year.

5.02 Special Meetings

Special meetings of the Board of Directors may be called by or at the request of the Chief Executive Officer of the corporation, by the sole director of the board or, if the board consists of more than one director, by any two directors in office at that time.

5.03 Quorums

Unless a greater number is required by the articles of incorporation, these bylaws, or the Code, a quorum of the Board of Directors consists of a majority of the total number of directors.

5.04 Adjournments

Whether or not a quorum is present to organize a meeting, any meeting of directors (including an adjourned meeting) may be adjourned by a majority of the directors present to reconvene at a specific time and place. At any reconvened meeting, any business may be transacted that could have been transacted at the meeting that was adjourned. It shall not be necessary to give any notice of the reconvened meeting or of the business to be transacted, if the date, time and place of the reconvened meeting are announced at the meeting that was adjourned.

5.05 Action Without a Meeting

Unless the Code, the articles of incorporation, or these bylaws provide otherwise, any action required or permitted to be taken at any meeting of the Board of Directors, or any action that may be taken at a meeting of an authorized committee of the Board of Directors, may be taken without a meeting if the action is taken by all the members of the Board of Directors (or of the committee, as the case may be). The action must be evidenced by one or more written consents describing the action taken, signed by each director (or each director serving on the committee, as the case may be), and delivered to the corporation for inclusion in the minutes or filing with the corporate records.

5.06 Meetings by Telephone

Any or all directors may participate in a meeting of the Board of Directors, and members of an authorized committee of the Board of Directors may participate in a meeting of the committee (as the case may be), through the use of any means of communication by which all directors participating may simultaneously hear each other during the meeting.

5.07 Place of Meetings

Directors may hold their meetings at any place within or without the state of incorporation, as the Board of Directors may from time to time establish for regular meetings or as set forth in the notice of special meetings or, in the event of a meeting held pursuant to waiver of notice, as set forth in the

waiver.

5.08 Notice of Meetings

No notice shall be required for any regularly scheduled meeting of the directors. Unless waived as contemplated in these bylaws, each director shall be given at least five day's notice of each special meeting stating the date, time, and place of the meeting. It is not required that the purpose of a Directors' meeting be stated in any notice of such a meeting, whether the meeting is a regular or a special meeting.

5.09 Vote Required for Action

If a quorum is present when a vote is taken, the affirmative vote of a majority of directors present is the act of the Board of Directors unless the Code, the articles of incorporation, or these bylaws require the vote of a greater number of directors.

A director who is present at a meeting of the Board of Directors, or an authorized committee of the Board of Directors, when corporate action is taken is deemed to have assented to the action taken unless:

(i) he objects at the beginning of the meeting (or promptly upon his arrival) to holding the meeting or to transacting business at the meeting,

(ii) his dissent or abstention from the action taken is entered in the minutes of the meeting, or

(iii) he delivers written notice of his dissent or abstention to the presiding officer of the meeting before its adjournment or to the corporation immediately after adjournment of the meeting.

The right of dissent or abstention is not available to a director who votes in favor of the action taken.

Article VI. Shareholder and Director Notices

6.1 Delivery of Notice

Whenever these bylaws require notice to be given to any shareholder or director, the notice shall be given in accordance with this bylaw. Notice under these bylaws shall be in writing unless oral notice is reasonable under the circumstances. Any notice to directors may be written or oral. Notice may be communicated in person, by telephone, telegraph, teletype, other form of wire or wireless communication, or by mail or private carrier. If these forms of personal notice are impracticable, notice may be communicated by a newspaper of general circulation in the area where published, or by radio, television, or other form of public broadcast communication. Written notice to the shareholders, if in a comprehensible form, is effective when mailed, if mailed with first-class postage prepaid and correctly addressed to the shareholder's address shown in the corporation's current record of shareholders.

6.2 When Effective

Except as otherwise provided in this bylaw, written notice, if in a comprehensible form, is effective at the earliest of the following:

(i) when received or when delivered, properly addressed, to the addressee's last known

principal place of business or residence;

(ii) five days after deposit in the mail, as evidenced by the postmark, if mailed with first-class postage prepaid and correctly addressed, or

(iii) on the date shown on the return receipt, if sent by registered or certified mail, return receipt requested, and the receipt is signed by or on behalf of the addressee.

Oral notice is effective when communicated if communicated in a comprehensible manner.

In calculating time periods for notice, when a period of time measured in days, weeks, months, years, or other measurement of time is prescribed for the exercise of any privilege or the discharge of any duty, the first day shall not be counted but the last day shall be counted.

6.3 Waiver

A shareholder or director may waive any notice before or after the date and time stated in the notice. Except as provided in this bylaw, the waiver must be in writing, be signed by the shareholder or director entitled to the notice, and be delivered to the corporation for inclusion in the minutes or filing with the corporate records.

A shareholder's attendance at a meeting (i) waives objection to lack of notice or defective notice of the meeting, unless the shareholder at the beginning of the meeting objects to holding the meeting or transacting business at the meeting; and (ii) waives objection to consideration of a particular matter at the meeting that is not within the purpose or purposes described in the meeting notice, unless the shareholder objects to considering the matter when it is presented.

A director's attendance at or participation in a meeting waives any required notice to him of the meeting unless the director at the beginning of the meeting (or promptly upon his arrival) objects to holding the meeting or transacting business at the meeting and does not thereafter vote for or assent to action taken at the meeting.

Unless required by the Code, neither the business transacted nor the purpose of the meeting need be specified in the waiver.

6.4 Notice Following Adjournment

If notice of an adjourned meeting of the shareholders or of the directors was properly given, it shall not be necessary to give any notice of the reconvened meeting or of the business to be transacted, if the date, time and place of the reconvened meeting are announced at the meeting that was adjourned and before adjournment; provided, however, that if a new record date of shares is or must be fixed, notice of the reconvened meeting must be given to persons who are shareholders as of the new record date.

Article VII. Officers

7.01 Number

The officers of the corporation shall consist of a Board Chairman, a President, a Secretary, a Treasurer, and any other officers as may be appointed by the Board of Directors or by an other duly appointed officer pursuant to these bylaws. The Board of Directors shall from time to time create and establish the duties of the other officers. Any two or more offices may be held by the same person.

7.02 Chairman of Board

The Chairman of the Board of Directors shall preside at all meetings of the Board of Directors and shall have authority to execute bonds, mortgages, and other contracts requiring a seal, under the seal of the corporation; to endorse, when sold, assigned, transferred, or otherwise disposed of by the corporation, all certificates or shares of stock, bonds, or other securities issued by other corporations, associations, trusts, whether public or private, or by any government agency thereof, and owned or held by the corporation, and to make, execute, and deliver all instruments or assignments of transfer of any such stocks, bonds, or other securities. The Chairman of the Board may, with the approval of the Board of Directors, or shall, at the direction of the Board of Directors, delegate any or all of such duties to the President.

7.03 President

The President shall be the Chief Executive Officer of the corporation and shall have general supervision of the business of the corporation. The President shall see that all orders and resolutions of the Board of Directors are carried into effect. The President shall perform such other duties as may from time to time be delegated by the Board of Directors. In the absence of the Chairman of the Board, the President shall have authority to do any and all things delegated to the Chairman of the Board of Directors.

7.04 Vice President

In the absence or disability of the President, or at the direction of the President, the Vice President, if any, shall perform the duties and exercise the powers of the President. If the corporation has more than one Vice President, the one designated by the Board of Directors shall act in lieu of the President. Vice Presidents shall perform whatever duties and have whatever powers the Board of Directors may from time to time assign.

7.05 Secretary

The Secretary shall be responsible for preparing minutes of the acts and proceedings of all meetings of the shareholders, the Board of Directors, and any Committees thereof. The Secretary shall have authority to give all notices required by the Code or these bylaws. The Secretary shall be responsible for the custody of the corporate books, records, contracts, and other documents. The Secretary may affix the corporate seal to any lawfully executed documents and shall sign any instruments as may require his or her signature. The Secretary shall authenticate records of the corporation. The Secretary shall perform whatever additional duties and have whatever additional powers the Board of Directors may from time to time assign. In the absence or disability of the Secretary or at the direction of the President, any assistant secretary may perform the duties and exercise the powers of the Secretary.

7.06 Treasurer

The Treasurer shall be responsible for the custody of all funds and securities belonging to the corporation and for the receipt, deposit, or disbursement of funds and securities under the direction of the Board of Directors. The Treasurer shall cause to be maintained full and true accounts of all receipts and disbursements and shall make reports of the same to the Board of Directors and the President upon request. The Treasurer shall perform all duties as may be assigned to him from time to time by the Board of Directors.

7.07 Appointment, Term, and Removal

All officers shall be appointed by the Board of Directors or by a duly appointed officer pursuant to these bylaws and shall serve at the pleasure of the Board of Directors or the appointing officers, as the case may be. All officers, however appointed, may be removed with or without cause by the Board of Directors, and any officer appointed by another officer may also be removed by the appointing officer with or without cause.

7.08 Compensation

The compensation of all officers of the corporation appointed by the Board of Directors shall be fixed by the Board of Directors.

7.09 Bonds

The Board of Directors may, by resolution, require any or all of the officers, agents, or employees of the corporation to give bonds to the corporation, with sufficient surety or sureties, conditioned on the faithful performance of the duties of their respective offices or positions, and to comply with any other conditions as from time to time may be required by the Board of Directors.

Article VIII. Indemnification

8.01 Basic Indemnification Arrangement

Except as provided in these bylaws, the corporation shall indemnify an individual who is a party to a proceeding because he or she is or was a director or officer against liability incurred in the proceeding if:

(i) Such Director or Officer conducted himself in good faith and reasonably believed:

(a) In the case of conduct in his or her official capacity, that such conduct was in the best interests of the corporation;

(b) In all other cases, that such conduct was at least not opposed to the best interests of the corporation; and

(c) In the case of any criminal proceeding, that the individual had no reasonable cause to believe such conduct was unlawful, or

(ii) Such Director's or Officer's conduct with respect to an employee benefit plan, which is the subject of the proceeding, was for a purpose he believed in good faith to be in the interests of the participants in and beneficiaries of the plan.

The termination of a proceeding by judgment, order, settlement, or conviction, or upon a plea of nolo contendere or its equivalent is not, of itself, determinative that the director or officer did not meet the requisite standard of conduct described in this bylaw.

The corporation may not indemnify a director or officer under this Article:

(i) In connection with a proceeding by or in the right of the corporation, except for reasonable expenses incurred in connection with the proceeding if it is determined that the director or officer has met the requisite standard of conduct under this bylaw; or

(ii) In connection with any proceeding with respect to conduct for which he or she was adjudged liable on the basis that personal benefit was improperly received by him or her, whether or not involving action in his or her official capacity.

8.02 Advances for Expenses

The corporation may, before final disposition of a proceeding, advance funds to pay for or reimburse the reasonable expenses, including counsel fees, incurred by a director or officer who is a party to a proceeding because he or she is a director or officer if he or she delivers to the corporation:

(i) A written affirmation of his or her good faith belief that he or she has met the requisite standard of conduct described in the Basic Indemnification Arrangement bylaw or that the proceeding involves conduct for which such person's liability has been eliminated under the corporation's articles of incorporation; and

(ii) His or her written undertaking to repay any funds advanced if it is ultimately determined that the director or officer is not entitled to indemnification under this Article or the Code. This undertaking to repay must be an unlimited general obligation of the director or officer but need not be secured and may be accepted without reference to the financial ability of the director or officer to make repayment.

Authorizations for expense advancements shall be made:

(i) By the board of directors:

(a) by a majority vote of a quorum consisting of disinterested directors, or

(b) if such a quorum is not obtainable (or is obtainable and a majority vote of a quorum of disinterested directors so directs), by independent legal counsel in a written opinion; or

(ii) By a majority vote of the shareholders; however, shares owned or voted under the control of a director or officer who at the time does not qualify as a disinterested director or disinterested officer with respect to the proceeding may not be voted on the authorization.

8.03 Court-Ordered Indemnification and Advances for Expenses

A director or officer who is a party to a proceeding because he or she is a director or officer may apply for indemnification or advance for expenses to the court conducting the proceeding or to another court of competent jurisdiction. Pursuant to the Code, after receipt of an application and after giving any notice it considers necessary, the court shall:

(i) Order indemnification or advance for expenses if it determines that the director or officer is entitled to indemnification; or

(ii) Order indemnification or advance for expenses if it determines, in view of all the relevant circumstances, that it is fair and reasonable to indemnify the director or officer, or to advance expenses to the director or officer, even if the director or officer has not met the relevant standard of conduct, failed to comply with the requirements for advance of expenses, or was adjudged liable on the basis that personal benefit was improperly received by him or her, whether or not involving action in his or her official capacity. However, if the director or officer was adjudged so liable, the indemnification shall be limited to reasonable expenses incurred in connection with the proceeding.

If the court determines that the director or officer is entitled to indemnification or advance for expenses, it may also order the corporation to pay the director's or officer's reasonable expenses to obtain court-ordered indemnification or advance for expenses.

8.04 Determination and Authorization of Indemnification

The corporation acknowledges that indemnification of a director or officer according to these bylaws has been pre-authorized by the corporation as permitted by the Code. Nevertheless, the corporation shall not indemnify a director or officer under these bylaws unless a determination has been made for the specific proceeding that indemnification of the director or officer is permissible in the circumstances because he or she has met the relevant standard of conduct set forth in the Basic Indemnification Arrangement. However, regardless of the result or absence of any such determination, the corporation shall indemnify a director or officer who was wholly successful, on the merits or otherwise, in the defense of any proceeding to which he or she was a party because he or she was a director or officer of the corporation against reasonable expenses incurred by the director or officer in connection with the proceeding.

The determination of indemnification shall be made:

(i) by the board of directors:

  (a) by a majority vote of a quorum consisting of disinterested directors; or

  (b) if such a quorum is not obtainable or is obtainable and a majority vote of a quorum of disinterested directors so directs, by independent legal counsel in a written opinion; or

(ii) by a majority vote of the shareholders, but shares owned by or voted under the control of a director or officer who at the time does not qualify as a disinterested director or disinterested officer may not be voted on the determination.

As acknowledged above, the corporation has pre-authorized the indemnification of directors and officers hereunder, subject to a determination for a specific proceeding that the director or officer met the relevant standard of conduct under the Basic Indemnification Arrangement. Consequently, no further decision need or shall be made on a case-by-case basis as to the authorization of the corporation's indemnification of directors or officers hereunder. Nevertheless, evaluation as to reasonableness of expenses of a director or officer for a specific proceeding shall be made in the same manner as the determination that indemnification is permissible, except that if there are fewer than two disinterested directors or if the determination is made by special legal counsel, evaluation as to reasonableness of expenses shall be made by the Board of Directors, the members of which may or may not be disinterested.

8.05 Indemnification of Employees and Agents

The corporation may indemnify and advance expenses under these bylaws to an employee or agent of the corporation who is not a director or officer to the extent, consistent with public policy, that such indemnification and advances may be provided to a director or officer.

8.06 Shareholder Approved Indemnification

If authorized by the articles of incorporation, the bylaws, or by a contract or resolution

approved or ratified by the shareholders of the corporation by a majority of the votes entitled to be cast, the corporation may indemnify or obligate itself to indemnify a director or officer made a party to a proceeding, including a proceeding brought by or in the right of the corporation, without regard to the limitations in other sections of these bylaws, but shares owned or voted under the control of a director or officer who at the time of such authorization does not qualify as a disinterested director or disinterested officer with respect to any existing or threatened proceeding that would be covered by the authorization may not be voted on the authorization.

Nevertheless, the corporation shall not indemnify a director or officer under this bylaw for any liability incurred in a proceeding in which the director or officer is adjudged liable to the corporation or is subjected to injunctive relief in favor of the corporation:

(i) for any appropriation, in violation of his or her duties, of any business opportunity of the corporation,

(ii) for acts or omissions which involve intentional misconduct or a knowing violation of law,

(iii) for assenting to an unlawful distribution as defined in the Code, or

(iv) for any transaction from which he or she received an improper personal benefit.

Where approved or authorized according to this bylaw, the corporation may advance or reimburse expenses incurred in advance of final disposition of the proceeding only if

(i) The director or officer furnishes the corporation a written affirmation of his or her good faith belief that his or her conduct does not constitute behavior of the kind described in this bylaw which would prevent indemnification; and

(ii) The director or officer furnishes the corporation a written undertaking, executed personally or on his or her behalf, to repay any advances if it is ultimately determined that he or she is not entitled to indemnification under this bylaw.

8.07 Insurance

The corporation may purchase and maintain insurance on behalf of an individual

(i) who is a director, officer, employee, or agent of the corporation, or

(ii) who, while a director, officer, employee, or agent of the corporation, serves at the corporation's request as a director, officer, partner, trustee, employee or agent of another domestic or foreign corporation, partnership, joint venture, trust, employee benefit plan, or other entity

against liability asserted against or incurred by him or her in that capacity or arising from his or her status as a director, officer, employee, or agent, whether or not the corporation would have power to indemnify or advance expenses to him or her against the same liability under these bylaws or the Code.

8.09 Witness Fees

Nothing in these bylaws shall limit the corporation's power to pay or reimburse expenses incurred by a director or officer in connection with his or her appearance as a witness in a proceeding at a time when he or she is not a party.

8.10 Report to Shareholders

To the extent and in the manner required by the Code from time to time, if the corporation indemnifies or advances expenses to a director or officer in connection with a proceeding by or in the right of the corporation, the corporation shall report the indemnification or advance to the shareholders.

8.11 Effect of Amendments

No amendment, modification, or rescission of these bylaws, or any provision of the bylaws, the effect of which would diminish the rights to indemnification or advancement of expenses as set forth herein shall be effective as to any person with respect to any action taken or omitted by such person prior to such amendment, modification or rescission.

Article IX. Stock Certificates

9.01 Authorization and Issuance

In accordance with the Code, the Board of Directors may authorize shares of any class or series provided for in the corporation's Articles of Incorporation to be issued for any consideration valid under the provisions of the Code. To the extent provided in the Articles of Incorporation, the Board of Directors shall determine the preferences, limitations, and relative rights of the shares.

9.02 Form

The interest of each shareholder in the corporation shall be evidenced by a certificate or certificates representing shares of the corporation which shall be in such form as the Board of Directors from time to time may adopt. Share certificates shall be numbered consecutively, shall be in registered form, shall indicate the date of issuance, the name of the corporation, that it is organized under the laws of the state of incorporation, the name of the shareholder, the number and class of shares, and the designation of the series, if any, represented by the certificate. Each certificate shall be signed by any one of the President, a Vice President, the Secretary, or the Treasurer. The corporate seal need not be affixed.

9.03 Registered Shareholders

Prior to due presentation for transfer of registration of its shares, the corporation may treat the registered owner of the shares as the person exclusively entitled to vote the shares, to receive any share dividend or distribution with respect to the shares, and for all other purposes. The corporation shall not be bound to recognize any equitable or other claim to or interest in the shares on the part of any other person, whether or not it shall have express or other notice thereof, except as otherwise provided by law.

9.04 Transfer of Shares

Transfers of shares shall be made upon the transfer books of the corporation, kept at the principle office of the corporation (or at the office of the transfer agent designated to transfer the shares, if any) only upon direction of the person named in the certificate, or by his or her attorney lawfully constituted in writing. Before a new certificate is issued, the old certificate shall be surrendered for cancellation or, in the case of a certificate alleged to have been lost, stolen, or destroyed, the requirements of the bylaw governing lost, stolen, or destroyed certificates shall have been met.

9.05 Record Date

demand a special meeting, to vote, or to take any other action, the Board of Directors may fix a future date as the record date, which date shall be not more than seventy (70) days prior to the date on which the particular action requiring a determination of shareholders is to be taken. A determination of shareholders entitled to notice of or to vote at a shareholders' meeting is effective for any adjournment of the meeting unless the Board of Directors fixes a new record date, which it must do if the meeting is adjourned to a date more than 120 days after the date fixed for the original meeting. If no record date is fixed by the Board of Directors, the record date shall be determined in accordance with the provisions of the Code.

For the purpose of determining shareholders entitled to a distribution (other than one involving a purchase, redemption, or other reacquisition of the corporation's shares) or a share dividend, the Board of Directors may fix a date as the record date, if no record date is fixed by the Board of Directors, the record date shall be determined in accordance with the provisions of the Code.

9.06 Lost, Stolen, or Destroyed Certificates

Any person claiming a share certificate to be lost, stolen, or destroyed shall make an affidavit or affirmation of the fact in the manner required by the Board of Directors and, if the Board of Directors requires, shall give the corporation a bond of indemnity in form and amount, and with one or more sureties satisfactory to the Board of Directors, as the Board of Directors may require, whereupon an appropriate new certificate may be issued in lieu of the one alleged to have been lost, stolen or destroyed.

Article X. Miscellaneous

10.01 Fiscal Year

The fiscal year of the corporation shall be a twelve-month period, beginning January 1 and ending on December 31 each year, unless the Board of Directors, by resolution, fixes the fiscal year as an other time period.

10.02 Corporate Seal

If the Board of Directors determines that there should be a corporate seal for the corporation, it shall be in the form as the Board of Directors may from time to time determine.

10.03 Corporate Records

The Board of Directors shall have the power to determine which accounts, books, and records of the corporation shall be opened to the inspection of the shareholders, except those as may by law specifically be made open to inspection. The Board of Directors shall have the power to fix reasonable rules and regulations not in conflict with the applicable law for the inspection of accounts, books, and records which by law or by determination of the Board of Directors shall be open to inspection.

10.04 Annual Financial Statements

In accordance with the Code, the corporation shall prepare and provide to the shareholders such financial statements as may be required by the Code.

10.05 Amendments

The Board of Directors shall have the power to alter, amend, or repeal these bylaws or adopt new bylaws, but any bylaws adopted by the Board of Directors may be altered, amended, or repealed, and new bylaws adopted, by the shareholders. The shareholders may prescribe, by expressing in the action they take in adopting or amending any bylaw or bylaws, that the bylaw or bylaws so adopted or amended shall not be altered, amended or repealed by the Board of Directors.

10.06 Conflict with Articles of Incorporation or Law; Severability

In the event that any provision of these bylaws conflicts with any provision of the Articles of Incorporation, the Articles of Incorporation shall govern. In the event that any of the provisions of these bylaws (including any provision within a single section, subsection, division or sentence) is held by a court of competent jurisdiction to be invalid, void, or otherwise unenforceable, the remaining provisions of the bylaws shall remain enforceable to the fullest extent permitted by law.

Atlanta, Georgia 30309-3424

ARTICLE FIVE

Principal Office

The mailing address of the initial principal office of the corporation is Twelve Piedmont Center, Suite 210, Atlanta, Georgia 30305.

ARTICLE SIX

Limitation of Director Liability

6.1 A director of the corporation shall not be liable to the corporation or its shareholders for monetary damages for any action taken, or any failure to take any action, as a director, except liability (i) for any appropriation, in violation of his duties, of any business opportunity of the corporation, (ii) for acts or omissions which involve intentional misconduct or a knowing violation of law, (iii) of the types set forth in Section 14-2-832 of the Georgia Business Corporation Code, or (iv) for any transaction from which the director received an improper personal benefit.

6.2 Any repeal or modification of the provisions of this Article by the shareholders of the corporation shall be prospective only, and shall not adversely affect any limitation on the liability of a director of the corporation with respect to any act or omission occurring prior to the effective date of such repeal or modification.

6.3 If the Georgia Business Corporation Code is hereafter amended to authorize the further elimination or limitation of the liability of directors, then the liability of a director of the corporation, in addition to the limitation on liability provided herein, shall be limited to the fullest extent permitted by the Georgia Business Corporation Code, as so amended.

6.4 In the event that any of the provisions of this Article (including any provision within a single sentence) is held by a court of competent jurisdiction to be invalid, void or otherwise unenforceable, the remaining provisions are severable and shall remain enforceable to the fullest extent permitted by law.

ARTICLE SEVEN

Constituency Considerations

In discharging the duties of their respective positions and in determining what is believed to be in the best interests of the corporation, the Board of Directors, committees of the Board of Directors, and individual directors, in addition to considering the effects of any action on the corporation or its shareholders, may consider the interests of the employees, customers, suppliers, and creditors of the corporation and its subsidiaries, the communities in which offices or other establishments of the corporation and its subsidiaries are located, and all other factors such directors consider pertinent; provided, however, that this article shall be deemed solely to grant discretionary authority to the directors and shall not be deemed to provide to any constituency any right to be considered.

ARTICLE EIGHT

Shareholder Action by Less Than Unanimous Written Consent

Any action that is required or permitted to be taken at a meeting of the shareholders may be taken without a meeting if the action is taken by persons who would be entitled to vote at a meeting shares having voting power to cast not less than the minimum number (or numbers, in the case of voting by groups) of votes that would be necessary to authorize or take such action at a meeting at which all shareholders entitled to vote were present and voted. The action must be evidenced by one or more written consents describing the action taken, signed by shareholders entitled to take action without a meeting and delivered to the corporation for inclusion in the minutes or filing with the corporate records.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the undersigned executes these Articles of Incorporation this 10th day of January, 1996.

YFCS MANAGEMENT, INC.

AMENDED AND RESTATED BYLAWS

Adopted as of January 22, 2001

Corporate Bylaws

Article I. Definitions

1.01 Code

The Code means the applicable titles, parts, chapters, sections, and other divisions of the state of incorporation's statutory scheme governing the formation and operation of corporations.

1.02 Record Date

Record Date means the date established under the Code on which the corporation determines the identity of its shareholders and their shareholdings. Such determination shall be made as of the close of business on the record date unless another time for doing so is specified when the record date is fixed.

1.03 Voting Group

Voting Group means all shares of one or more classes or series that under the articles of incorporation or the Code are entitled to vote and be counted together collectively on a matter at a meeting of the shareholders. All shares entitled by the articles of incorporation or the Code to vote generally on the matter are for that purpose a single voting group.

1.04 Corporation

Corporation includes any domestic or foreign predecessor entity of the corporation in a merger or other transaction in which the predecessor's existence ceased upon consummation of the transaction.

1.05 Director or Officer

Director or Officer means an individual who is or was (i) a member of the Board of Directors, (ii) an individual elected or appointed by the Board of Directors to serve as an officer, or (iii) a member of any duly constituted Committee of the Board of Directors. "Director" or "officer" includes, unless the context otherwise requires, the estate or personal representative of a director or officer.

1.06 Disinterested Director or Officer

"Disinterested Director" or "Disinterested Officer" means a director or officer who, with respect to a determination of the authorization or non-authorization of an expense advancement or of indemnification, is neither:

(i) the individual whose indemnification or expense advancement is the subject of the decision being made; nor

(ii) An individual having a familial, financial, professional, or employment relationship with the person whose indemnification or advance for expenses is the subject of the decision being made with respect to the proceeding, which relationship would, in the circumstances, reasonably be expected to exert an influence on the director's or officer's judgment when voting on the decision being made.

1.07 Liability

Liability means the obligation to pay a judgment, settlement, penalty, fine (including an excise tax assessed with respect to an employee benefit plan), or reasonable expenses incurred with respect to a proceeding.

1.08 Official Capacity

When used with respect to a director, Official Capacity means the office of director in the corporation. When used with respect to an officer, Official Capacity means the office in the corporation held by the officer. Official capacity does not include service for any other domestic or foreign corporation or any partnership, joint venture, trust, employee benefit plan, or other entity.

1.09 Party

Party includes an individual who was, is, or is threatened to be made a named defendant or respondent in a proceeding.

1.10 Proceeding

Proceeding means any threatened, pending, or completed action, suit, or proceeding, whether civil, criminal, administrative, arbitrative, or investigative and whether formal or informal.

Article II. Offices and Agents

2.01 Registered Office and Agent

The corporation shall maintain a registered office and have a registered agent, whose business office address is identical to that of the registered office, in its state of incorporation and in each state in which the corporation is qualified to do business.

2.02 Other Offices

In addition to its registered office, the corporation may have offices at any other place or places, within or without the state of incorporation, as the Board of Directors may from time to time select or as the business of the corporation may require or make desirable.

Article III. Meetings of the Shareholders

3.01 Annual Meetings

An annual meeting of the shareholders shall be held for the election of directors at such date, time, and place, either within or without the state of incorporation, as may be designated by resolution of the Board of Directors from time to time. Such resolution shall designate the date, time, and place of the meeting. Any other proper business may be transacted at the annual meeting. If an annual meeting is not held as provided in this bylaw, any business, including the election of directors, that might properly have been acted upon at that meeting may be acted upon at a special meeting in lieu of the annual meeting held pursuant to these bylaws or held pursuant to a court order.

3.02 Special Meetings

Special meetings of the shareholders may be called for any purpose or purposes at any time by the Board of Directors, or by the President of the corporation, or by a Committee of the Board of Directors that has been duly designated and authorized by resolution of the Board of Directors to call such meetings. In addition, the Board of Directors shall call such a meeting upon the written request of shareholders holding at least twenty percent (20%) of all the votes entitled to be cast on the issue or issues proposed to be considered at the requested special meeting.

3.03 Quorum

With respect to shares entitled to vote as a separate voting group on a matter at a meeting of shareholders, the presence, in person or by proxy, of a majority of the votes entitled to be cast on the matter by the voting group shall constitute a quorum of that voting group for action on that matter unless the articles of incorporation or the Code provide otherwise. Once a share is represented for any purpose at a meeting, other than solely to object to holding the meeting or to transacting business at the meeting, it is deemed present for quorum purposes for the remainder of the meeting and for any adjournment of the meeting unless a new record date is or must be set for the adjourned meeting pursuant to the bylaw governing the fixing of the record date with regard to shareholder action.

3.04 Adjournment and Reconvention

Whether or not a quorum is present to organize a meeting, any meeting of shareholders may be adjourned by the holders of a majority of the voting shares represented at the meeting to reconvene at a specific time and place, but no later than 120 days after the date fixed for the original meeting unless the requirements of the Code concerning the selection of a new record date have been met. At any reconvened meeting within that time period, any business may be transacted that could have been transacted at the meeting that was adjourned.

3.05 Presiding Officer

The Chief Executive Officer shall serve as the Presiding Officer of every meeting of shareholders unless another person is elected by the shareholders to serve as Presiding Officer at the meeting. The Presiding Officer shall appoint any persons he deems required to assist with the meeting.

3.06 Vote Required for Action

If a quorum exists, action on a matter (other than the election of directors) by a voting group is approved if the votes cast within the voting group favoring the action exceed the votes cast opposing the action, unless the articles of incorporation, provisions of these bylaws validly adopted by the shareholders, or the Code requires a greater number of affirmative votes. If the articles of incorporation or the Code provide for voting by two or more voting groups on a matter, action on that matter is taken only when voted upon by each of those voting groups counted separately. Action may be taken by one voting group on a matter even though no action is taken by another voting group entitled to vote on the matter. With regard to the election of directors, unless otherwise provided in the articles of incorporation, if a quorum exists, action on the election of directors is taken by a plurality of the votes cast by the shares entitled to vote in the election.

3.07 Shares Held by Another Corporation

Shares standing in the name of another corporation, domestic or foreign, may be voted by such officer, agent, or proxy as the by-laws of such other corporation may prescribe, or, in the absence of such a provision, as the board of directors of such other corporation may determine.

3.08 Method of Voting Shares

Unless the articles of incorporation or the Code provide otherwise, each outstanding share having voting rights shall be entitled to one vote on each matter submitted to a vote at a meeting of the shareholders. Voting on all matters shall be by voice vote or by show of hands unless any qualified voter, prior to the voting on any matter, demands vote by ballot, in which case each ballot shall state the name of the shareholder voting and the number of shares voted by him, and if the ballot be cast by proxy, it shall also state the name of the proxy.

3.09 Proxies

A shareholder entitled to vote on a matter may vote in person or by proxy pursuant to an appointment of proxy executed in writing by the shareholder or by his attorney-in-fact. An appointment of proxy shall be valid for only one meeting to be specified therein, and any adjournments of such meeting, but shall not be valid for more than eleven months unless expressly provided therein. Appointments of proxy shall be dated and filed with the records of the meeting to which they relate. If the validity of any appointment of proxy is questioned, it must be submitted to the secretary of the meeting of shareholders for examination or to a proxy officer or committee appointed by the meeting's presiding officer. The secretary of the meeting or, if appointed, the proxy officer or committee, shall determine the validity or invalidity of any appointment of proxy submitted for examination. Reference in the minutes of the meeting by the secretary or, if appointed, the proxy officer or committee, as to the regularity of an appointment of proxy shall be received as prima facie evidence of the facts stated for the purpose of establishing the presence of a quorum at the meeting and for all other purposes.

3.10 Action Without a Meeting

Any action required or permitted to be taken at a meeting of the shareholders, may be taken without a meeting if the action is taken by all shareholders entitled to vote on the action. Or, if allowed by the articles of incorporation, such action may be taken without a meeting by persons who would be entitled to vote shares having voting power to cast not less than the minimum number (or numbers, in the case of voting by groups) of votes that would be necessary to authorize or take the action at a meeting at which all shareholders entitled to vote were present and voted. The action without a meeting must be evidenced by one or more written consents describing the action taken, signed by shareholders entitled to take action without a meeting, and delivered to the corporation for inclusion in the minutes or filing with the corporate records. The corporation shall give written notice of actions so taken.

3.11 Notice

Unless waived as contemplated in these bylaws, a notice of each meeting of shareholders, stating the date, time, and place of the meeting shall be given not less than ten (10) days nor more than sixty (60) days before the date thereof, to each shareholder entitled to vote at that meeting. In the case of an annual meeting, the notice need not state the purpose or purposes of the meeting unless the articles of incorporation or the Code requires otherwise. In the case of a special meeting, including a special meeting in lieu of an annual meeting, the notice of meeting shall state the purpose or purposes for which the meeting is called.

Article IV. Board of Directors

4.01 Powers

All corporate powers, which are lawful and do not violate any legal agreement among shareholders and which are not prohibited by the articles of incorporation or these bylaws, shall be exercised by or under the authority of, and the business and affairs of the corporation shall be managed under, the direction of the Board of Directors. The Board of Directors may, by resolution, vote any shares of stock owned by the corporation. Also, the Board of Directors from time to time in its discretion may authorize or declare distributions or share dividends in accordance with the Code.

4.02 Number

The number and composition of the corporation's Board of Directors shall initially be that which is specified in the articles of incorporation. If the articles of incorporation do not specify the number and composition of the Board of Directors, then the Board of Directors shall consist of one member, the

Chief Executive Officer of the corporation. Thereafter, the number and composition of the Board of Directors may be changed from time to time by an action of the shareholders.

4.03 Election

Except as provided for in the bylaw addressing vacancies in the Board of Directors, the Directors shall be elected by a vote of the shareholders at each annual meeting of shareholders or special meeting in lieu of the annual meeting.

4.04 Term of Office

Except in the case of death, written resignation, retirement, disqualification, or removal, each director shall serve until the next succeeding annual meeting or special meeting in lieu of an annual meeting and thereafter until his successor is elected and qualifies or until the number of directors is decreased.

4.05 Removal

One or more directors may be removed from office with or without cause by the shareholders by a majority of the votes entitled to be cast. If the director was elected by a voting group, only the shareholders of that voting group may participate in the vote to remove him. Removal action may be taken at any meeting of shareholders with respect to which the notice stated that the purpose, or one of the purposes, of the meeting is removal of the director, and a removed director's successor may be elected at the same meeting.

4.06 Vacancies

A vacancy occurring in the Board of Directors, other than by reason of an increase in the number of directors, shall be filled for the unexpired term by the first to take action of (a) the shareholders or (b) the Board of Directors, and if the directors remaining in office constitute fewer than a quorum of the Board of Directors, they may fill the vacancy by the affirmative vote of a majority of all the directors remaining in office. If the vacant office was held by a director elected by a voting group, only the holders of shares of that voting group or the remaining directors elected by that voting group are entitled to vote to fill the vacancy. A vacancy occurring in the Board of Directors by reason of an increase in the number of directors shall be filled in like manner as any other vacancy, but, if filled by action of the Board of Directors, shall only be for a term of office continuing until the next election of directors by the shareholders and until the election and qualification of a successor.

4.07 Committees

The Board of Directors, by resolution, may designate from among its members an executive committee and one or more other committees, each consisting of one or more directors all of whom serve at the pleasure of the Board of Directors. Except as limited by the Code, each committee shall have the authority set forth in the resolution establishing the committee. The provisions of these bylaws as to the Board of Directors and its deliberations shall be applicable to any committee of the Board of Directors. All decisions and actions of any committee created by these bylaws or resulting from the authority granted by these bylaws, shall be subject to the discretionary review and approval of the Board of Directors.

4.08 Compensation

Unless the articles of incorporation provide otherwise, the Board of Directors may determine from time to time the compensation, if any, directors may receive for their services as directors. A director may also serve the corporation in a capacity other than that of director and receive compensation, as determined by the Board of Directors, for services rendered in such other capacity.

Article V. Meetings of the Board of Directors

5.01 Regular Meetings

Regular meetings of the Board of Directors shall be held immediately after the annual meeting of shareholders or a special meeting in lieu of the annual meeting. In addition, the Board of Directors may schedule other meetings to occur at regular intervals throughout the year.

5.02 Special Meetings

Special meetings of the Board of Directors may be called by or at the request of the Chief Executive Officer of the corporation, by the sole director of the board or, if the board consists of more than one director, by any two directors in office at that time.

5.03 Quorums

Unless a greater number is required by the articles of incorporation, these bylaws, or the Code, a quorum of the Board of Directors consists of a majority of the total number of directors.

5.04 Adjournments

Whether or not a quorum is present to organize a meeting, any meeting of directors (including an adjourned meeting) may be adjourned by a majority of the directors present to reconvene at a specific time and place. At any reconvened meeting, any business may be transacted that could have been transacted at the meeting that was adjourned. It shall not be necessary to give any notice of the reconvened meeting or of the business to be transacted, if the date, time and place of the reconvened meeting are announced at the meeting that was adjourned.

5.05 Action Without a Meeting

Unless the Code, the articles of incorporation, or these bylaws provide otherwise, any action required or permitted to be taken at any meeting of the Board of Directors, or any action that may be taken at a meeting of an authorized committee of the Board of Directors, may be taken without a meeting if the action is taken by all the members of the Board of Directors (or of the committee, as the case may be). The action must be evidenced by one or more written consents describing the action taken, signed by each director (or each director serving on the committee, as the case may be), and delivered to the corporation for inclusion in the minutes or filing with the corporate records.

5.06 Meetings by Telephone

Any or all directors may participate in a meeting of the Board of Directors, and members of an authorized committee of the Board of Directors may participate in a meeting of the committee (as the case may be), through the use of any means of communication by which all directors participating may simultaneously hear each other during the meeting.

5.07 Place of Meetings

Directors may hold their meetings at any place within or without the state of incorporation, as the Board of Directors may from time to time establish for regular meetings or as set forth in the notice of special meetings or, in the event of a meeting held pursuant to waiver of notice, as set forth in the

waiver.

5.08 Notice of Meetings

No notice shall be required for any regularly scheduled meeting of the directors. Unless waived as contemplated in these bylaws, each director shall be given at least five day's notice of each special meeting stating the date, time, and place of the meeting. It is not required that the purpose of a Directors' meeting be stated in any notice of such a meeting, whether the meeting is a regular or a special meeting.

5.09 Vote Required for Action

If a quorum is present when a vote is taken, the affirmative vote of a majority of directors present is the act of the Board of Directors unless the Code, the articles of incorporation, or these bylaws require the vote of a greater number of directors.

A director who is present at a meeting of the Board of Directors, or an authorized committee of the Board of Directors, when corporate action is taken is deemed to have assented to the action taken unless:

(i) he objects at the beginning of the meeting (or promptly upon his arrival) to holding the meeting or to transacting business at the meeting,

(ii) his dissent or abstention from the action taken is entered in the minutes of the meeting, or

(iii) he delivers written notice of his dissent or abstention to the presiding officer of the meeting before its adjournment or to the corporation immediately after adjournment of the meeting.

The right of dissent or abstention is not available to a director who votes in favor of the action taken.

Article VI. Shareholder and Director Notices

6.1 Delivery of Notice

Whenever these bylaws require notice to be given to any shareholder or director, the notice shall be given in accordance with this bylaw. Notice under these bylaws shall be in writing unless oral notice is reasonable under the circumstances. Any notice to directors may be written or oral. Notice may be communicated in person, by telephone, telegraph, teletype, other form of wire or wireless communication, or by mail or private carrier. If these forms of personal notice are impracticable, notice may be communicated by a newspaper of general circulation in the area where published, or by radio, television, or other form of public broadcast communication. Written notice to the shareholders, if in a comprehensible form, is effective when mailed, if mailed with first-class postage prepaid and correctly addressed to the shareholder's address shown in the corporation's current record of shareholders.

6.2 When Effective

Except as otherwise provided in this bylaw, written notice, if in a comprehensible form, is effective at the earliest of the following:

(i) when received or when delivered, properly addressed, to the addressee's last known

principal place of business or residence;

(ii) five days after deposit in the mail, as evidenced by the postmark, if mailed with first-class postage prepaid and correctly addressed, or

(iii) on the date shown on the return receipt, if sent by registered or certified mail, return receipt requested, and the receipt is signed by or on behalf of the addressee.

Oral notice is effective when communicated if communicated in a comprehensible manner.

In calculating time periods for notice, when a period of time measured in days, weeks, months, years, or other measurement of time is prescribed for the exercise of any privilege or the discharge of any duty, the first day shall not be counted but the last day shall be counted.

6.3 Waiver

A shareholder or director may waive any notice before or after the date and time stated in the notice. Except as provided in this bylaw, the waiver must be in writing, be signed by the shareholder or director entitled to the notice, and be delivered to the corporation for inclusion in the minutes or filing with the corporate records.

A shareholder's attendance at a meeting (i) waives objection to lack of notice or defective notice of the meeting, unless the shareholder at the beginning of the meeting objects to holding the meeting or transacting business at the meeting; and (ii) waives objection to consideration of a particular matter at the meeting that is not within the purpose or purposes described in the meeting notice, unless the shareholder objects to considering the matter when it is presented.

A director's attendance at or participation in a meeting waives any required notice to him of the meeting unless the director at the beginning of the meeting (or promptly upon his arrival) objects to holding the meeting or transacting business at the meeting and does not thereafter vote for or assent to action taken at the meeting.

Unless required by the Code, neither the business transacted nor the purpose of the meeting need be specified in the waiver.

6.4 Notice Following Adjournment

If notice of an adjourned meeting of the shareholders or of the directors was properly given, it shall not be necessary to give any notice of the reconvened meeting or of the business to be transacted, if the date, time and place of the reconvened meeting are announced at the meeting that was adjourned and before adjournment; provided, however, that if a new record date of shares is or must be fixed, notice of the reconvened meeting must be given to persons who are shareholders as of the new record date.

Article VII. Officers

7.01 Number

The officers of the corporation shall consist of a Board Chairman, a President, a Secretary, a Treasurer, and any other officers as may be appointed by the Board of Directors or by an other duly appointed officer pursuant to these bylaws. The Board of Directors shall from time to time create and establish the duties of the other officers. Any two or more offices may be held by the same person.

7.02 Chairman of Board

The Chairman of the Board of Directors shall preside at all meetings of the Board of Directors and shall have authority to execute bonds, mortgages, and other contracts requiring a seal, under the seal of the corporation; to endorse, when sold, assigned, transferred, or otherwise disposed of by the corporation, all certificates or shares of stock, bonds, or other securities issued by other corporations, associations, trusts, whether public or private, or by any government agency thereof, and owned or held by the corporation, and to make, execute, and deliver all instruments or assignments of transfer of any such stocks, bonds, or other securities. The Chairman of the Board may, with the approval of the Board of Directors, or shall, at the direction of the Board of Directors, delegate any or all of such duties to the President.

7.03 President

The President shall be the Chief Executive Officer of the corporation and shall have general supervision of the business of the corporation. The President shall see that all orders and resolutions of the Board of Directors are carried into effect. The President shall perform such other duties as may from time to time be delegated by the Board of Directors. In the absence of the Chairman of the Board, the President shall have authority to do any and all things delegated to the Chairman of the Board of Directors.

7.04 Vice President

In the absence or disability of the President, or at the direction of the President, the Vice President, if any, shall perform the duties and exercise the powers of the President. If the corporation has more than one Vice President, the one designated by the Board of Directors shall act in lieu of the President. Vice Presidents shall perform whatever duties and have whatever powers the Board of Directors may from time to time assign.

7.05 Secretary

The Secretary shall be responsible for preparing minutes of the acts and proceedings of all meetings of the shareholders, the Board of Directors, and any Committees thereof. The Secretary shall have authority to give all notices required by the Code or these bylaws. The Secretary shall be responsible for the custody of the corporate books, records, contracts, and other documents. The Secretary may affix the corporate seal to any lawfully executed documents and shall sign any instruments as may require his or her signature. The Secretary shall authenticate records of the corporation. The Secretary shall perform whatever additional duties and have whatever additional powers the Board of Directors may from time to time assign. In the absence or disability of the Secretary or at the direction of the President, any assistant secretary may perform the duties and exercise the powers of the Secretary.

7.06 Treasurer

The Treasurer shall be responsible for the custody of all funds and securities belonging to the corporation and for the receipt, deposit, or disbursement of funds and securities under the direction of the Board of Directors. The Treasurer shall cause to be maintained full and true accounts of all receipts and disbursements and shall make reports of the same to the Board of Directors and the President upon request. The Treasurer shall perform all duties as may be assigned to him from time to time by the Board of Directors.

7.07 Appointment, Term, and Removal

All officers shall be appointed by the Board of Directors or by a duly appointed officer pursuant to these bylaws and shall serve at the pleasure of the Board of Directors or the appointing officers, as the case may be. All officers, however appointed, may be removed with or without cause by the Board of Directors, and any officer appointed by another officer may also be removed by the appointing officer with or without cause.

7.08 Compensation

The compensation of all officers of the corporation appointed by the Board of Directors shall be fixed by the Board of Directors.

7.09 Bonds

The Board of Directors may, by resolution, require any or all of the officers, agents, or employees of the corporation to give bonds to the corporation, with sufficient surety or sureties, conditioned on the faithful performance of the duties of their respective offices or positions, and to comply with any other conditions as from time to time may be required by the Board of Directors.

Article VIII. Indemnification

8.01 Basic Indemnification Arrangement

Except as provided in these bylaws, the corporation shall indemnify an individual who is a party to a proceeding because he or she is or was a director or officer against liability incurred in the proceeding if:

(i) Such Director or Officer conducted himself in good faith and reasonably believed:

  (a) In the case of conduct in his or her official capacity, that such conduct was in the best interests of the corporation;

  (b) In all other cases, that such conduct was at least not opposed to the best interests of the corporation; and

  (c) In the case of any criminal proceeding, that the individual had no reasonable cause to believe such conduct was unlawful, or

(ii) Such Director's or Officer's conduct with respect to an employee benefit plan, which is the subject of the proceeding, was for a purpose he believed in good faith to be in the interests of the participants in and beneficiaries of the plan.

The termination of a proceeding by judgment, order, settlement, or conviction, or upon a plea of nolo contendere or its equivalent is not, of itself, determinative that the director or officer did not meet the requisite standard of conduct described in this bylaw.

The corporation may not indemnify a director or officer under this Article:

(i) In connection with a proceeding by or in the right of the corporation, except for reasonable expenses incurred in connection with the proceeding if it is determined that the director or officer has met the requisite standard of conduct under this bylaw; or

(ii) In connection with any proceeding with respect to conduct for which he or she was adjudged liable on the basis that personal benefit was improperly received by him or her, whether or not involving action in his or her official capacity.

8.02 Advances for Expenses

The corporation may, before final disposition of a proceeding, advance funds to pay for or reimburse the reasonable expenses, including counsel fees, incurred by a director or officer who is a party to a proceeding because he or she is a director or officer if he or she delivers to the corporation:

(i) A written affirmation of his or her good faith belief that he or she has met the requisite standard of conduct described in the Basic Indemnification Arrangement bylaw or that the proceeding involves conduct for which such person's liability has been eliminated under the corporation's articles of incorporation; and

(ii) His or her written undertaking to repay any funds advanced if it is ultimately determined that the director or officer is not entitled to indemnification under this Article or the Code. This undertaking to repay must be an unlimited general obligation of the director or officer but need not be secured and may be accepted without reference to the financial ability of the director or officer to make repayment.

Authorizations for expense advancements shall be made:

(i) By the board of directors:

(a) by a majority vote of a quorum consisting of disinterested directors, or

(b) if such a quorum is not obtainable (or is obtainable and a majority vote of a quorum of disinterested directors so directs), by independent legal counsel in a written opinion; or

(ii) By a majority vote of the shareholders; however, shares owned or voted under the control of a director or officer who at the time does not qualify as a disinterested director or disinterested officer with respect to the proceeding may not be voted on the authorization.

8.03 Court-Ordered Indemnification and Advances for Expenses

A director or officer who is a party to a proceeding because he or she is a director or officer may apply for indemnification or advance for expenses to the court conducting the proceeding or to another court of competent jurisdiction. Pursuant to the Code, after receipt of an application and after giving any notice it considers necessary, the court shall:

(i) Order indemnification or advance for expenses if it determines that the director or officer is entitled to indemnification; or

(ii) Order indemnification or advance for expenses if it determines, in view of all the relevant circumstances, that it is fair and reasonable to indemnify the director or officer, or to advance expenses to the director or officer, even if the director or officer has not met the relevant standard of conduct, failed to comply with the requirements for advance of expenses, or was adjudged liable on the basis that personal benefit was improperly received by him or her, whether or not involving action in his or her official capacity. However, if the director or officer was adjudged so liable, the indemnification shall be limited to reasonable expenses incurred in connection with the proceeding.

If the court determines that the director or officer is entitled to indemnification or advance for expenses, it may also order the corporation to pay the director's or officer's reasonable expenses to obtain court-ordered indemnification or advance for expenses.

8.04 Determination and Authorization of Indemnification

The corporation acknowledges that indemnification of a director or officer according to these bylaws has been pre-authorized by the corporation as permitted by the Code. Nevertheless, the corporation shall not indemnify a director or officer under these bylaws unless a determination has been made for the specific proceeding that indemnification of the director or officer is permissible in the circumstances because he or she has met the relevant standard of conduct set forth in the Basic Indemnification Arrangement. However, regardless of the result or absence of any such determination, the corporation shall indemnify a director or officer who was wholly successful, on the merits or otherwise, in the defense of any proceeding to which he or she was a party because he or she was a director or officer of the corporation against reasonable expenses incurred by the director or officer in connection with the proceeding.

The determination of indemnification shall be made:

(i) by the board of directors:

  (a) by a majority vote of a quorum consisting of disinterested directors; or

  (b) if such a quorum is not obtainable or is obtainable and a majority vote of a quorum of disinterested directors so directs, by independent legal counsel in a written opinion; or

(ii) by a majority vote of the shareholders, but shares owned by or voted under the control of a director or officer who at the time does not qualify as a disinterested director or disinterested officer may not be voted on the determination.

As acknowledged above, the corporation has pre-authorized the indemnification of directors and officers hereunder, subject to a determination for a specific proceeding that the director or officer met the relevant standard of conduct under the Basic Indemnification Arrangement. Consequently, no further decision need or shall be made on a case-by-case basis as to the authorization of the corporation's indemnification of directors or officers hereunder. Nevertheless, evaluation as to reasonableness of expenses of a director or officer for a specific proceeding shall be made in the same manner as the determination that indemnification is permissible, except that if there are fewer than two disinterested directors or if the determination is made by special legal counsel, evaluation as to reasonableness of expenses shall be made by the Board of Directors, the members of which may or may not be disinterested.

8.05 Indemnification of Employees and Agents

The corporation may indemnify and advance expenses under these bylaws to an employee or agent of the corporation who is not a director or officer to the extent, consistent with public policy, that such indemnification and advances may be provided to a director or officer.

8.06 Shareholder Approved Indemnification

If authorized by the articles of incorporation, the bylaws, or by a a contract or resolution

approved or ratified by the shareholders of the corporation by a majority of the votes entitled to be cast, the corporation may indemnify or obligate itself to indemnify a director or officer made a party to a proceeding, including a proceeding brought by or in the right of the corporation, without regard to the limitations in other sections of these bylaws, but shares owned or voted under the control of a director or officer who at the time of such authorization does not qualify as a disinterested director or disinterested officer with respect to any existing or threatened proceeding that would be covered by the authorization may not be voted on the authorization.

Nevertheless, the corporation shall not indemnify a director or officer under this bylaw for any liability incurred in a proceeding in which the director or officer is adjudged liable to the corporation or is subjected to injunctive relief in favor of the corporation:

(i) for any appropriation, in violation of his or her duties, of any business opportunity of the corporation,

(ii) for acts or omissions which involve intentional misconduct or a knowing violation of law,

(iii) for assenting to an unlawful distribution as defined in the Code, or

(iv) for any transaction from which he or she received an improper personal benefit.

Where approved or authorized according to this bylaw, the corporation may advance or reimburse expenses incurred in advance of final disposition of the proceeding only if

(i) The director or officer furnishes the corporation a written affirmation of his or her good faith belief that his or her conduct does not constitute behavior of the kind described in this bylaw which would prevent indemnification; and

(ii) The director or officer furnishes the corporation a written undertaking, executed personally or on his or her behalf, to repay any advances if it is ultimately determined that he or she is not entitled to indemnification under this bylaw.

8.07 Insurance

The corporation may purchase and maintain insurance on behalf of an individual

(i) who is a director, officer, employee, or agent of the corporation, or

(ii) who, while a director, officer, employee, or agent of the corporation, serves at the corporation's request as a director, officer, partner, trustee, employee or agent of another domestic or foreign corporation, partnership, joint venture, trust, employee benefit plan, or other entity

against liability asserted against or incurred by him or her in that capacity or arising from his or her status as a director, officer, employee, or agent, whether or not the corporation would have power to indemnify or advance expenses to him or her against the same liability under these bylaws or the Code.

8.09 Witness Fees

Nothing in these bylaws shall limit the corporation's power to pay or reimburse expenses incurred by a director or officer in connection with his or her appearance as a witness in a proceeding at a time when he or she is not a party.

8.10 Report to Shareholders

To the extent and in the manner required by the Code from time to time, if the corporation indemnifies or advances expenses to a director or officer in connection with a proceeding by or in the right of the corporation, the corporation shall report the indemnification or advance to the shareholders.

8.11 Effect of Amendments

No amendment, modification, or rescission of these bylaws, or any provision of the bylaws, the effect of which would diminish the rights to indemnification or advancement of expenses as set forth herein shall be effective as to any person with respect to any action taken or omitted by such person prior to such amendment, modification or rescission.

Article IX. Stock Certificates

9.01 Authorization and Issuance

In accordance with the Code, the Board of Directors may authorize shares of any class or series provided for in the corporation's Articles of Incorporation to be issued for any consideration valid under the provisions of the Code. To the extent provided in the Articles of Incorporation, the Board of Directors shall determine the preferences, limitations, and relative rights of the shares.

9.02 Form

The interest of each shareholder in the corporation shall be evidenced by a certificate or certificates representing shares of the corporation which shall be in such form as the Board of Directors from time to time may adopt. Share certificates shall be numbered consecutively, shall be in registered form, shall indicate the date of issuance, the name of the corporation, that it is organized under the laws of the state of incorporation, the name of the shareholder, the number and class of shares, and the designation of the series, if any, represented by the certificate. Each certificate shall be signed by any one of the President, a Vice President, the Secretary, or the Treasurer. The corporate seal need not be affixed.

9.03 Registered Shareholders

Prior to due presentation for transfer of registration of its shares, the corporation may treat the registered owner of the shares as the person exclusively entitled to vote the shares, to receive any share dividend or distribution with respect to the shares, and for all other purposes. The corporation shall not be bound to recognize any equitable or other claim to or interest in the shares on the part of any other person, whether or not it shall have express or other notice thereof, except as otherwise provided by law.

9.04 Transfer of Shares

Transfers of shares shall be made upon the transfer books of the corporation, kept at the principle office of the corporation (or at the office of the transfer agent designated to transfer the shares, if any) only upon direction of the person named in the certificate, or by his or her attorney lawfully constituted in writing. Before a new certificate is issued, the old certificate shall be surrendered for cancellation or, in the case of a certificate alleged to have been lost, stolen, or destroyed, the requirements of the bylaw governing lost, stolen, or destroyed certificates shall have been met.

9.05 Record Date

demand a special meeting, to vote, or to take any other action, the Board of Directors may fix a future date as the record date, which date shall be not more than seventy (70) days prior to the date on which the particular action requiring a determination of shareholders is to be taken. A determination of shareholders entitled to notice of or to vote at a shareholders' meeting is effective for any adjournment of the meeting unless the Board of Directors fixes a new record date, which it must do if the meeting is adjourned to a date more than 120 days after the date fixed for the original meeting. If no record date is fixed by the Board of Directors, the record date shall be determined in accordance with the provisions of the Code.

For the purpose of determining shareholders entitled to a distribution (other than one involving a purchase, redemption, or other reacquisition of the corporation's shares) or a share dividend, the Board of Directors may fix a date as the record date, if no record date is fixed by the Board of Directors, the record date shall be determined in accordance with the provisions of the Code.

9.06 Lost, Stolen, or Destroyed Certificates

Any person claiming a share certificate to be lost, stolen, or destroyed shall make an affidavit or affirmation of the fact in the manner required by the Board of Directors and, if the Board of Directors requires, shall give the corporation a bond of indemnity in form and amount, and with one or more sureties satisfactory to the Board of Directors, as the Board of Directors may require, whereupon an appropriate new certificate may be issued in lieu of the one alleged to have been lost, stolen or destroyed.

Article X. Miscellaneous

10.01 Fiscal Year

The fiscal year of the corporation shall be a twelve-month period, beginning January 1 and ending on December 31 each year, unless the Board of Directors, by resolution, fixes the fiscal year as an other time period.

10.02 Corporate Seal

If the Board of Directors determines that there should be a corporate seal for the corporation, it shall be in the form as the Board of Directors may from time to time determine.

10.03 Corporate Records

The Board of Directors shall have the power to determine which accounts, books, and records of the corporation shall be opened to the inspection of the shareholders, except those as may by law specifically be made open to inspection. The Board of Directors shall have the power to fix reasonable rules and regulations not in conflict with the applicable law for the inspection of accounts, books, and records which by law or by determination of the Board of Directors shall be open to inspection.

10.04 Annual Financial Statements

In accordance with the Code, the corporation shall prepare and provide to the shareholders such financial statements as may be required by the Code.

10.05 Amendments

The Board of Directors shall have the power to alter, amend, or repeal these bylaws or adopt new bylaws, but any bylaws adopted by the Board of Directors may be altered, amended, or repealed, and new bylaws adopted, by the shareholders. The shareholders may prescribe, by expressing in the action they take in adopting or amending any bylaw or bylaws, that the bylaw or bylaws so adopted or amended shall not be altered, amended or repealed by the Board of Directors.

10.06 Conflict with Articles of Incorporation or Law; Severability

In the event that any provision of these bylaws conflicts with any provision of the Articles of Incorporation, the Articles of Incorporation shall govern. In the event that any of the provisions of these bylaws (including any provision within a single section, subsection, division or sentence) is held by a court of competent jurisdiction to be invalid, void, or otherwise unenforceable, the remaining provisions of the bylaws shall remain enforceable to the fullest extent permitted by law.

Exhibit 3.110

YOUTH AND FAMILY CENTERED SERVICES OF FLORIDA, INC.

AMENDED AND RESTATED BYLAWS

Adopted as of January 22, 2001

Corporate Bylaws

Article I. Definitions

1.01 Code

The Code means the applicable titles, parts, chapters, sections, and other divisions of the state of incorporation's statutory scheme governing the formation and operation of corporations.

1.02 Record Date

Record Date means the date established under the Code on which the corporation determines the identity of its shareholders and their shareholdings. Such determination shall be made as of the close of business on the record date unless another time for doing so is specified when the record date is fixed.

1.03 Voting Group

Voting Group means all shares of one or more classes or series that under the articles of incorporation or the Code are entitled to vote and be counted together collectively on a matter at a meeting of the shareholders. All shares entitled by the articles of incorporation or the Code to vote generally on the matter are for that purpose a single voting group.

1.04 Corporation

Corporation includes any domestic or foreign predecessor entity of the corporation in a merger or other transaction in which the predecessor's existence ceased upon consummation of the transaction.

1.05 Director or Officer

Director or Officer means an individual who is or was (i) a member of the Board of Directors, (ii) an individual elected or appointed by the Board of Directors to serve as an officer, or (iii) a member of any duly constituted Committee of the Board of Directors. "Director" or "officer" includes, unless the context otherwise requires, the estate or personal representative of a director or officer.

1.06 Disinterested Director or Officer

"Disinterested Director" or "Disinterested Officer" means a director or officer who, with respect to a determination of the authorization or non-authorization of an expense advancement or of indemnification, is neither:

(i) the individual whose indemnification or expense advancement is the subject of the decision being made; nor

(ii) An individual having a familial, financial, professional, or employment relationship with the person whose indemnification or advance for expenses is the subject of the decision being made with respect to the proceeding, which relationship would, in the circumstances, reasonably be expected to exert an influence on the director's or officer's judgment when voting on the decision being made.

1.07 Liability

Liability means the obligation to pay a judgment, settlement, penalty, fine (including an excise tax assessed with respect to an employee benefit plan), or reasonable expenses incurred with respect to a proceeding.

1.08 Official Capacity

When used with respect to a director, Official Capacity means the office of director in the corporation. When used with respect to an officer, Official Capacity means the office in the corporation held by the officer. Official capacity does not include service for any other domestic or foreign corporation or any partnership, joint venture, trust, employee benefit plan, or other entity.

1.09 Party

Party includes an individual who was, is, or is threatened to be made a named defendant or respondent in a proceeding.

1.10 Proceeding

Proceeding means any threatened, pending, or completed action, suit, or proceeding, whether civil, criminal, administrative, arbitrative, or investigative and whether formal or informal.

Article II. Offices and Agents

2.01 Registered Office and Agent

The corporation shall maintain a registered office and have a registered agent, whose business office address is identical to that of the registered office, in its state of incorporation and in each state in which the corporation is qualified to do business.

2.02 Other Offices

In addition to its registered office, the corporation may have offices at any other place or places, within or without the state of incorporation, as the Board of Directors may from time to time select or as the business of the corporation may require or make desirable.

Article III. Meetings of the Shareholders

3.01 Annual Meetings

An annual meeting of the shareholders shall be held for the election of directors at such date, time, and place, either within or without the state of incorporation, as may be designated by resolution of the Board of Directors from time to time. Such resolution shall designate the date, time, and place of the meeting. Any other proper business may be transacted at the annual meeting. If an annual meeting is not held as provided in this bylaw, any business, including the election of directors, that might properly have been acted upon at that meeting may be acted upon at a special meeting in lieu of the annual meeting held pursuant to these bylaws or held pursuant to a court order.

3.02 Special Meetings

Special meetings of the shareholders may be called for any purpose or purposes at any time by the Board of Directors, or by the President of the corporation, or by a Committee of the Board of Directors that has been duly designated and authorized by resolution of the Board of Directors to call such meetings. In addition, the Board of Directors shall call such a meeting upon the written request of shareholders holding at least twenty percent (20%) of all the votes entitled to be cast on the issue or issues proposed to be considered at the requested special meeting.

3.03 Quorum

With respect to shares entitled to vote as a separate voting group on a matter at a meeting of shareholders, the presence, in person or by proxy, of a majority of the votes entitled to be cast on the matter by the voting group shall constitute a quorum of that voting group for action on that matter unless the articles of incorporation or the Code provide otherwise. Once a share is represented for any purpose at a meeting, other than solely to object to holding the meeting or to transacting business at the meeting, it is deemed present for quorum purposes for the remainder of the meeting and for any adjournment of the meeting unless a new record date is or must be set for the adjourned meeting pursuant to the bylaw governing the fixing of the record date with regard to shareholder action.

3.04 Adjournment and Reconvention

Whether or not a quorum is present to organize a meeting, any meeting of shareholders may be adjourned by the holders of a majority of the voting shares represented at the meeting to reconvene at a specific time and place, but no later than 120 days after the date fixed for the original meeting unless the requirements of the Code concerning the selection of a new record date have been met. At any reconvened meeting within that time period, any business may be transacted that could have been transacted at the meeting that was adjourned.

3.05 Presiding Officer

The Chief Executive Officer shall serve as the Presiding Officer of every meeting of shareholders unless another person is elected by the shareholders to serve as Presiding Officer at the meeting. The Presiding Officer shall appoint any persons he deems required to assist with the meeting.

3.06 Vote Required for Action

If a quorum exists, action on a matter (other than the election of directors) by a voting group is approved if the votes cast within the voting group favoring the action exceed the votes cast opposing the action, unless the articles of incorporation, provisions of these bylaws validly adopted by the shareholders, or the Code requires a greater number of affirmative votes. If the articles of incorporation or the Code provide for voting by two or more voting groups on a matter, action on that matter is taken only when voted upon by each of those voting groups counted separately. Action may be taken by one voting group on a matter even though no action is taken by another voting group entitled to vote on the matter. With regard to the election of directors, unless otherwise provided in the articles of incorporation, if a quorum exists, action on the election of directors is taken by a plurality of the votes cast by the shares entitled to vote in the election.

3.07 Shares Held by Another Corporation

Shares standing in the name of another corporation, domestic or foreign, may be voted by such officer, agent, or proxy as the by-laws of such other corporation may prescribe, or, in the absence of such a provision, as the board of directors of such other corporation may determine.

3.08 Method of Voting Shares

Unless the articles of incorporation or the Code provide otherwise, each outstanding share having voting rights shall be entitled to one vote on each matter submitted to a vote at a meeting of the shareholders. Voting on all matters shall be by voice vote or by show of hands unless any qualified voter, prior to the voting on any matter, demands vote by ballot, in which case each ballot shall state the name of the shareholder voting and the number of shares voted by him, and if the ballot be cast by proxy, it shall also state the name of the proxy.

3.09 Proxies

A shareholder entitled to vote on a matter may vote in person or by proxy pursuant to an appointment of proxy executed in writing by the shareholder or by his attorney-in-fact. An appointment of proxy shall be valid for only one meeting to be specified therein, and any adjournments of such meeting, but shall not be valid for more than eleven months unless expressly provided therein. Appointments of proxy shall be dated and filed with the records of the meeting to which they relate. If the validity of any appointment of proxy is questioned, it must be submitted to the secretary of the meeting of shareholders for examination or to a proxy officer or committee appointed by the meeting's presiding officer. The secretary of the meeting or, if appointed, the proxy officer or committee, shall determine the validity or invalidity of any appointment of proxy submitted for examination. Reference in the minutes of the meeting by the secretary or, if appointed, the proxy officer or committee, as to the regularity of an appointment of proxy shall be received as prima facie evidence of the facts stated for the purpose of establishing the presence of a quorum at the meeting and for all other purposes.

3.10 Action Without a Meeting

Any action required or permitted to be taken at a meeting of the shareholders, may be taken without a meeting if the action is taken by all shareholders entitled to vote on the action. Or, if allowed by the articles of incorporation, such action may be taken without a meeting by persons who would be entitled to vote shares having voting power to cast not less than the minimum number (or numbers, in the case of voting by groups) of votes that would be necessary to authorize or take the action at a meeting at which all shareholders entitled to vote were present and voted. The action without a meeting must be evidenced by one or more written consents describing the action taken, signed by shareholders entitled to take action without a meeting, and delivered to the corporation for inclusion in the minutes or filing with the corporate records. The corporation shall give written notice of actions so taken.

3.11 Notice

Unless waived as contemplated in these bylaws, a notice of each meeting of shareholders, stating the date, time, and place of the meeting shall be given not less than ten (10) days nor more than sixty (60) days before the date thereof, to each shareholder entitled to vote at that meeting. In the case of an annual meeting, the notice need not state the purpose or purposes of the meeting unless the articles of incorporation or the Code requires otherwise. In the case of a special meeting, including a special meeting in lieu of an annual meeting, the notice of meeting shall state the purpose or purposes for which the meeting is called.

Article IV. Board of Directors

4.01 Powers

All corporate powers, which are lawful and do not violate any legal agreement among shareholders and which are not prohibited by the articles of incorporation or these bylaws, shall be exercised by or under the authority of, and the business and affairs of the corporation shall be managed under, the direction of the Board of Directors. The Board of Directors may, by resolution, vote any shares of stock owned by the corporation. Also, the Board of Directors from time to time in its discretion may authorize or declare distributions or share dividends in accordance with the Code.

4.02 Number

The number and composition of the corporation's Board of Directors shall initially be that which is specified in the articles of incorporation. If the articles of incorporation do not specify the number and composition of the Board of Directors, then the Board of Director's shall consist of one member, the

Chief Executive Officer of the corporation. Thereafter, the number and composition of the Board of Directors may be changed from time to time by an action of the shareholders.

4.03 Election

Except as provided for in the bylaw addressing vacancies in the Board of Directors, the Directors shall be elected by a vote of the shareholders at each annual meeting of shareholders or special meeting in lieu of the annual meeting.

4.04 Term of Office

Except in the case of death, written resignation, retirement, disqualification, or removal, each director shall serve until the next succeeding annual meeting or special meeting in lieu of an annual meeting and thereafter until his successor is elected and qualifies or until the number of directors is decreased.

4.05 Removal

One or more directors may be removed from office with or without cause by the shareholders by a majority of the votes entitled to be cast. If the director was elected by a voting group, only the shareholders of that voting group may participate in the vote to remove him. Removal action may be taken at any meeting of shareholders with respect to which the notice stated that the purpose, or one of the purposes, of the meeting is removal of the director, and a removed director's successor may be elected at the same meeting.

4.06 Vacancies

A vacancy occurring in the Board of Directors, other than by reason of an increase in the number of directors, shall be filled for the unexpired term by the first to take action of (a) the shareholders or (b) the Board of Directors, and if the directors remaining in office constitute fewer than a quorum of the Board of Directors, they may fill the vacancy by the affirmative vote of a majority of all the directors remaining in office. If the vacant office was held by a director elected by a voting group, only the holders of shares of that voting group or the remaining directors elected by that voting group are entitled to vote to fill the vacancy. A vacancy occurring in the Board of Directors by reason of an increase in the number of directors shall be filled in like manner as any other vacancy, but, if filled by action of the Board of Directors, shall only be for a term of office continuing until the next election of directors by the shareholders and until the election and qualification of a successor.

4.07 Committees

The Board of Directors, by resolution, may designate from among its members an executive committee and one or more other committees, each consisting of one or more directors all of whom serve at the pleasure of the Board of Directors. Except as limited by the Code, each committee shall have the authority set forth in the resolution establishing the committee. The provisions of these bylaws as to the Board of Directors and its deliberations shall be applicable to any committee of the Board of Directors. All decisions and actions of any committee created by these bylaws or resulting from the authority granted by these bylaws, shall be subject to the discretionary review and approval of the Board of Directors.

4.08 Compensation

Unless the articles of incorporation provide otherwise, the Board of Directors may determine from time to time the compensation, if any, directors may receive for their services as directors. A director may also serve the corporation in a capacity other than that of director and receive compensation, as determined by the Board of Directors, for services rendered in such other capacity.

Article V. Meetings of the Board of Directors

5.01 Regular Meetings

Regular meetings of the Board of Directors shall be held immediately after the annual meeting of shareholders or a special meeting in lieu of the annual meeting. In addition, the Board of Directors may schedule other meetings to occur at regular intervals throughout the year.

5.02 Special Meetings

Special meetings of the Board of Directors may be called by or at the request of the Chief Executive Officer of the corporation, by the sole director of the board or, if the board consists of more than one director, by any two directors in office at that time.

5.03 Quorums

Unless a greater number is required by the articles of incorporation, these bylaws, or the Code, a quorum of the Board of Directors consists of a majority of the total number of directors.

5.04 Adjournments

Whether or not a quorum is present to organize a meeting, any meeting of directors (including an adjourned meeting) may be adjourned by a majority of the directors present to reconvene at a specific time and place. At any reconvened meeting, any business may be transacted that could have been transacted at the meeting that was adjourned. It shall not be necessary to give any notice of the reconvened meeting or of the business to be transacted, if the date, time and place of the reconvened meeting are announced at the meeting that was adjourned.

5.05 Action Without a Meeting

Unless the Code, the articles of incorporation, or these bylaws provide otherwise, any action required or permitted to be taken at any meeting of the Board of Directors, or any action that may be taken at a meeting of an authorized committee of the Board of Directors, may be taken without a meeting if the action is taken by all the members of the Board of Directors (or of the committee, as the case may be). The action must be evidenced by one or more written consents describing the action taken, signed by each director (or each director serving on the committee, as the case may be), and delivered to the corporation for inclusion in the minutes or filing with the corporate records.

5.06 Meetings by Telephone

Any or all directors may participate in a meeting of the Board of Directors, and members of an authorized committee of the Board of Directors may participate in a meeting of the committee (as the case may be), through the use of any means of communication by which all directors participating may simultaneously hear each other during the meeting.

5.07 Place of Meetings

Directors may hold their meetings at any place within or without the state of incorporation, as the Board of Directors may from time to time establish for regular meetings or as set forth in the notice of special meetings or, in the event of a meeting held pursuant to waiver of notice, as set forth in the

waiver.

5.08 Notice of Meetings

No notice shall be required for any regularly scheduled meeting of the directors. Unless waived as contemplated in these bylaws, each director shall be given at least five day's notice of each special meeting stating the date, time, and place of the meeting. It is not required that the purpose of a Directors' meeting be stated in any notice of such a meeting, whether the meeting is a regular or a special meeting.

5.09 Vote Required for Action

If a quorum is present when a vote is taken, the affirmative vote of a majority of directors present is the act of the Board of Directors unless the Code, the articles of incorporation, or these bylaws require the vote of a greater number of directors.

A director who is present at a meeting of the Board of Directors, or an authorized committee of the Board of Directors, when corporate action is taken is deemed to have assented to the action taken unless:

(i) he objects at the beginning of the meeting (or promptly upon his arrival) to holding the meeting or to transacting business at the meeting,

(ii) his dissent or abstention from the action taken is entered in the minutes of the meeting, or

(iii) he delivers written notice of his dissent or abstention to the presiding officer of the meeting before its adjournment or to the corporation immediately after adjournment of the meeting.

The right of dissent or abstention is not available to a director who votes in favor of the action taken.

Article VI. Shareholder and Director Notices

6.1 Delivery of Notice

Whenever these bylaws require notice to be given to any shareholder or director, the notice shall be given in accordance with this bylaw. Notice under these bylaws shall be in writing unless oral notice is reasonable under the circumstances. Any notice to directors may be written or oral. Notice may be communicated in person, by telephone, telegraph, teletype, other form of wire or wireless communication, or by mail or private carrier. If these forms of personal notice are impracticable, notice may be communicated by a newspaper of general circulation in the area where published, or by radio, television, or other form of public broadcast communication. Written notice to the shareholders, if in a comprehensible form, is effective when mailed, if mailed with first-class postage prepaid and correctly addressed to the shareholder's address shown in the corporation's current record of shareholders.

6.2 When Effective

Except as otherwise provided in this bylaw, written notice, if in a comprehensible form, is effective at the earliest of the following:

(i) when received or when delivered, properly addressed, to the addressee's last known

principal place of business or residence;

(ii) five days after deposit in the mail, as evidenced by the postmark, if mailed with first-class postage prepaid and correctly addressed, or

(iii) on the date shown on the return receipt, if sent by registered or certified mail, return receipt requested, and the receipt is signed by or on behalf of the addressee.

Oral notice is effective when communicated if communicated in a comprehensible manner.

In calculating time periods for notice, when a period of time measured in days, weeks, months, years, or other measurement of time is prescribed for the exercise of any privilege or the discharge of any duty, the first day shall not be counted but the last day shall be counted.

6.3 Waiver

A shareholder or director may waive any notice before or after the date and time stated in the notice. Except as provided in this bylaw, the waiver must be in writing, be signed by the shareholder or director entitled to the notice, and be delivered to the corporation for inclusion in the minutes or filing with the corporate records.

A shareholder's attendance at a meeting (i) waives objection to lack of notice or defective notice of the meeting, unless the shareholder at the beginning of the meeting objects to holding the meeting or transacting business at the meeting; and (ii) waives objection to consideration of a particular matter at the meeting that is not within the purpose or purposes described in the meeting notice, unless the shareholder objects to considering the matter when it is presented.

A director's attendance at or participation in a meeting waives any required notice to him of the meeting unless the director at the beginning of the meeting (or promptly upon his arrival) objects to holding the meeting or transacting business at the meeting and does not thereafter vote for or assent to action taken at the meeting.

Unless required by the Code, neither the business transacted nor the purpose of the meeting need be specified in the waiver.

6.4 Notice Following Adjournment

If notice of an adjourned meeting of the shareholders or of the directors was properly given, it shall not be necessary to give any notice of the reconvened meeting or of the business to be transacted, if the date, time and place of the reconvened meeting are announced at the meeting that was adjourned and before adjournment; provided, however, that if a new record date of shares is or must be fixed, notice of the reconvened meeting must be given to persons who are shareholders as of the new record date.

Article VII. Officers

7.01 Number

The officers of the corporation shall consist of a Board Chairman, a President, a Secretary, a Treasurer, and any other officers as may be appointed by the Board of Directors or by an other duly appointed officer pursuant to these bylaws. The Board of Directors shall from time to time create and establish the duties of the other officers. Any two or more offices may be held by the same person.

7.02 Chairman of Board

The Chairman of the Board of Directors shall preside at all meetings of the Board of Directors and shall have authority to execute bonds, mortgages, and other contracts requiring a seal, under the seal of the corporation; to endorse, when sold, assigned, transferred, or otherwise disposed of by the corporation, all certificates or shares of stock, bonds, or other securities issued by other corporations, associations, trusts, whether public or private, or by any government agency thereof, and owned or held by the corporation, and to make, execute, and deliver all instruments or assignments of transfer of any such stocks, bonds, or other securities. The Chairman of the Board may, with the approval of the Board of Directors, or shall, at the direction of the Board of Directors, delegate any or all of such duties to the President.

7.03 President

The President shall be the Chief Executive Officer of the corporation and shall have general supervision of the business of the corporation. The President shall see that all orders and resolutions of the Board of Directors are carried into effect. The President shall perform such other duties as may from time to time be delegated by the Board of Directors. In the absence of the Chairman of the Board, the President shall have authority to do any and all things delegated to the Chairman of the Board of Directors.

7.04 Vice President

In the absence or disability of the President, or at the direction of the President, the Vice President, if any, shall perform the duties and exercise the powers of the President. If the corporation has more than one Vice President, the one designated by the Board of Directors shall act in lieu of the President. Vice Presidents shall perform whatever duties and have whatever powers the Board of Directors may from time to time assign.

7.05 Secretary

The Secretary shall be responsible for preparing minutes of the acts and proceedings of all meetings of the shareholders, the Board of Directors, and any Committees thereof. The Secretary shall have authority to give all notices required by the Code or these bylaws. The Secretary shall be responsible for the custody of the corporate books, records, contracts, and other documents. The Secretary may affix the corporate seal to any lawfully executed documents and shall sign any instruments as may require his or her signature. The Secretary shall authenticate records of the corporation. The Secretary shall perform whatever additional duties and have whatever additional powers the Board of Directors may from time to time assign. In the absence or disability of the Secretary or at the direction of the President, any assistant secretary may perform the duties and exercise the powers of the Secretary.

7.06 Treasurer

The Treasurer shall be responsible for the custody of all funds and securities belonging to the corporation and for the receipt, deposit, or disbursement of funds and securities under the direction of the Board of Directors. The Treasurer shall cause to be maintained full and true accounts of all receipts and disbursements and shall make reports of the same to the Board of Directors and the President upon request. The Treasurer shall perform all duties as may be assigned to him from time to time by the Board of Directors.

7.07 Appointment, Term, and Removal

All officers shall be appointed by the Board of Directors or by a duly appointed officer pursuant to these bylaws and shall serve at the pleasure of the Board of Directors or the appointing officers, as the case may be. All officers, however appointed, may be removed with or without cause by the Board of Directors, and any officer appointed by another officer may also be removed by the appointing officer with or without cause.

7.08 Compensation

The compensation of all officers of the corporation appointed by the Board of Directors shall be fixed by the Board of Directors.

7.09 Bonds

The Board of Directors may, by resolution, require any or all of the officers, agents, or employees of the corporation to give bonds to the corporation, with sufficient surety or sureties, conditioned on the faithful performance of the duties of their respective offices or positions, and to comply with any other conditions as from time to time may be required by the Board of Directors.

Article VIII. Indemnification

8.01 Basic Indemnification Arrangement

Except as provided in these bylaws, the corporation shall indemnify an individual who is a party to a proceeding because he or she is or was a director or officer against liability incurred in the proceeding if:

(i) Such Director or Officer conducted himself in good faith and reasonably believed:

(a) In the case of conduct in his or her official capacity, that such conduct was in the best interests of the corporation;

(b) In all other cases, that such conduct was at least not opposed to the best interests of the corporation; and

(c) In the case of any criminal proceeding, that the individual had no reasonable cause to believe such conduct was unlawful, or

(ii) Such Director's or Officer's conduct with respect to an employee benefit plan, which is the subject of the proceeding, was for a purpose he believed in good faith to be in the interests of the participants in and beneficiaries of the plan.

The termination of a proceeding by judgment, order, settlement, or conviction, or upon a plea of nolo contendere or its equivalent is not, of itself, determinative that the director or officer did not meet the requisite standard of conduct described in this bylaw.

The corporation may not indemnify a director or officer under this Article:

(i) In connection with a proceeding by or in the right of the corporation, except for reasonable expenses incurred in connection with the proceeding if it is determined that the director or officer has met the requisite standard of conduct under this bylaw; or

(ii) In connection with any proceeding with respect to conduct for which he or she was adjudged liable on the basis that personal benefit was improperly received by him or her, whether or not involving action in his or her official capacity.

8.02 Advances for Expenses

The corporation may, before final disposition of a proceeding, advance funds to pay for or reimburse the reasonable expenses, including counsel fees, incurred by a director or officer who is a party to a proceeding because he or she is a director or officer if he or she delivers to the corporation:

(i) A written affirmation of his or her good faith belief that he or she has met the requisite standard of conduct described in the Basic Indemnification Arrangement bylaw or that the proceeding involves conduct for which such person's liability has been eliminated under the corporation's articles of incorporation; and

(ii) His or her written undertaking to repay any funds advanced if it is ultimately determined that the director or officer is not entitled to indemnification under this Article or the Code. This undertaking to repay must be an unlimited general obligation of the director or officer but need not be secured and may be accepted without reference to the financial ability of the director or officer to make repayment.

Authorizations for expense advancements shall be made:

(i) By the board of directors:

(a) by a majority vote of a quorum consisting of disinterested directors, or

(b) if such a quorum is not obtainable (or is obtainable and a majority vote of a quorum of disinterested directors so directs), by independent legal counsel in a written opinion; or

(ii) By a majority vote of the shareholders; however, shares owned or voted under the control of a director or officer who at the time does not qualify as a disinterested director or disinterested officer with respect to the proceeding may not be voted on the authorization.

8.03 Court-Ordered Indemnification and Advances for Expenses

A director or officer who is a party to a proceeding because he or she is a director or officer may apply for indemnification or advance for expenses to the court conducting the proceeding or to another court of competent jurisdiction. Pursuant to the Code, after receipt of an application and after giving any notice it considers necessary, the court shall:

(i) Order indemnification or advance for expenses if it determines that the director or officer is entitled to indemnification; or

(ii) Order indemnification or advance for expenses if it determines, in view of all the relevant circumstances, that it is fair and reasonable to indemnify the director or officer, or to advance expenses to the director or officer, even if the director or officer has not met the relevant standard of conduct, failed to comply with the requirements for advance of expenses, or was adjudged liable on the basis that personal benefit was improperly received by him or her, whether or not involving action in his or her official capacity. However, if the director or officer was adjudged so liable, the indemnification shall be limited to reasonable expenses incurred in connection with the proceeding.

If the court determines that the director or officer is entitled to indemnification or advance for expenses, it may also order the corporation to pay the director's or officer's reasonable expenses to obtain court-ordered indemnification or advance for expenses.

8.04 Determination and Authorization of Indemnification

The corporation acknowledges that indemnification of a director or officer according to these bylaws has been pre-authorized by the corporation as permitted by the Code. Nevertheless, the corporation shall not indemnify a director or officer under these bylaws unless a determination has been made for the specific proceeding that indemnification of the director or officer is permissible in the circumstances because he or she has met the relevant standard of conduct set forth in the Basic Indemnification Arrangement. However, regardless of the result or absence of any such determination, the corporation shall indemnify a director or officer who was wholly successful, on the merits or otherwise, in the defense of any proceeding to which he or she was a party because he or she was a director or officer of the corporation against reasonable expenses incurred by the director or officer in connection with the proceeding.

The determination of indemnification shall be made:

(i) by the board of directors:

  (a) by a majority vote of a quorum consisting of disinterested directors; or

  (b) if such a quorum is not obtainable or is obtainable and a majority vote of a quorum of disinterested directors so directs, by independent legal counsel in a written opinion; or

(ii) by a majority vote of the shareholders, but shares owned by or voted under the control of a director or officer who at the time does not qualify as a disinterested director or disinterested officer may not be voted on the determination.

As acknowledged above, the corporation has pre-authorized the indemnification of directors and officers hereunder, subject to a determination for a specific proceeding that the director or officer met the relevant standard of conduct under the Basic Indemnification Arrangement. Consequently, no further decision need or shall be made on a case-by-case basis as to the authorization of the corporation's indemnification of directors or officers hereunder. Nevertheless, evaluation as to reasonableness of expenses of a director or officer for a specific proceeding shall be made in the same manner as the determination that indemnification is permissible, except that if there are fewer than two disinterested directors or if the determination is made by special legal counsel, evaluation as to reasonableness of expenses shall be made by the Board of Directors, the members of which may or may not be disinterested.

8.05 Indemnification of Employees and Agents

The corporation may indemnify and advance expenses under these bylaws to an employee or agent of the corporation who is not a director or officer to the extent, consistent with public policy, that such indemnification and advances may be provided to a director or officer.

8.06 Shareholder Approved Indemnification

If authorized by the articles of incorporation, the bylaws, or by a contract or resolution

approved or ratified by the shareholders of the corporation by a majority of the votes entitled to be cast, the corporation may indemnify or obligate itself to indemnify a director or officer made a party to a proceeding, including a proceeding brought by or in the right of the corporation, without regard to the limitations in other sections of these bylaws, but shares owned or voted under the control of a director or officer who at the time of such authorization does not qualify as a disinterested director or disinterested officer with respect to any existing or threatened proceeding that would be covered by the authorization may not be voted on the authorization.

Nevertheless, the corporation shall not indemnify a director or officer under this bylaw for any liability incurred in a proceeding in which the director or officer is adjudged liable to the corporation or is subjected to injunctive relief in favor of the corporation:

(i) for any appropriation, in violation of his or her duties, of any business opportunity of the corporation,

(ii) for acts or omissions which involve intentional misconduct or a knowing violation of law,

(iii) for assenting to an unlawful distribution as defined in the Code, or

(iv) for any transaction from which he or she received an improper personal benefit.

Where approved or authorized according to this bylaw, the corporation may advance or reimburse expenses incurred in advance of final disposition of the proceeding only if

(i) The director or officer furnishes the corporation a written affirmation of his or her good faith belief that his or her conduct does not constitute behavior of the kind described in this bylaw which would prevent indemnification; and

(ii) The director or officer furnishes the corporation a written undertaking, executed personally or on his or her behalf, to repay any advances if it is ultimately determined that he or she is not entitled to indemnification under this bylaw.

8.07 Insurance

The corporation may purchase and maintain insurance on behalf of an individual

(i) who is a director, officer, employee, or agent of the corporation, or

(ii) who, while a director, officer, employee, or agent of the corporation, serves at the corporation's request as a director, officer, partner, trustee, employee or agent of another domestic or foreign corporation, partnership, joint venture, trust, employee benefit plan, or other entity

against liability asserted against or incurred by him or her in that capacity or arising from his or her status as a director, officer, employee, or agent, whether or not the corporation would have power to indemnify or advance expenses to him or her against the same liability under these bylaws or the Code.

8.09 Witness Fees

Nothing in these bylaws shall limit the corporation's power to pay or reimburse expenses incurred by a director or officer in connection with his or her appearance as a witness in a proceeding at a time when he or she is not a party.

8.10 Report to Shareholders

To the extent and in the manner required by the Code from time to time, if the corporation indemnifies or advances expenses to a director or officer in connection with a proceeding by or in the right of the corporation, the corporation shall report the indemnification or advance to the shareholders.

8.11 Effect of Amendments

No amendment, modification, or rescission of these bylaws, or any provision of the bylaws, the effect of which would diminish the rights to indemnification or advancement of expenses as set forth herein shall be effective as to any person with respect to any action taken or omitted by such person prior to such amendment, modification or rescission.

Article IX. Stock Certificates

9.01 Authorization and Issuance

In accordance with the Code, the Board of Directors may authorize shares of any class or series provided for in the corporation's Articles of Incorporation to be issued for any consideration valid under the provisions of the Code. To the extent provided in the Articles of Incorporation, the Board of Directors shall determine the preferences, limitations, and relative rights of the shares.

9.02 Form

The interest of each shareholder in the corporation shall be evidenced by a certificate or certificates representing shares of the corporation which shall be in such form as the Board of Directors from time to time may adopt. Share certificates shall be numbered consecutively, shall be in registered form, shall indicate the date of issuance, the name of the corporation, that it is organized under the laws of the state of incorporation, the name of the shareholder, the number and class of shares, and the designation of the series, if any, represented by the certificate. Each certificate shall be signed by any one of the President, a Vice President, the Secretary, or the Treasurer. The corporate seal need not be affixed.

9.03 Registered Shareholders

Prior to due presentation for transfer of registration of its shares, the corporation may treat the registered owner of the shares as the person exclusively entitled to vote the shares, to receive any share dividend or distribution with respect to the shares, and for all other purposes. The corporation shall not be bound to recognize any equitable or other claim to or interest in the shares on the part of any other person, whether or not it shall have express or other notice thereof, except as otherwise provided by law.

9.04 Transfer of Shares

Transfers of shares shall be made upon the transfer books of the corporation, kept at the principle office of the corporation (or at the office of the transfer agent designated to transfer the shares, if any) only upon direction of the person named in the certificate, or by his or her attorney lawfully constituted in writing. Before a new certificate is issued, the old certificate shall be surrendered for cancellation or, in the case of a certificate alleged to have been lost, stolen, or destroyed, the requirements of the bylaw governing lost, stolen, or destroyed certificates shall have been met.

9.05 Record Date

demand a special meeting, to vote, or to take any other action, the Board of Directors may fix a future date as the record date, which date shall be not more than seventy (70) days prior to the date on which the particular action requiring a determination of shareholders is to be taken. A determination of shareholders entitled to notice of or to vote at a shareholders' meeting is effective for any adjournment of the meeting unless the Board of Directors fixes a new record date, which it must do if the meeting is adjourned to a date more than 120 days after the date fixed for the original meeting. If no record date is fixed by the Board of Directors, the record date shall be determined in accordance with the provisions of the Code.

For the purpose of determining shareholders entitled to a distribution (other than one involving a purchase, redemption, or other reacquisition of the corporation's shares) or a share dividend, the Board of Directors may fix a date as the record date, if no record date is fixed by the Board of Directors, the record date shall be determined in accordance with the provisions of the Code.

9.06 Lost, Stolen, or Destroyed Certificates

Any person claiming a share certificate to be lost, stolen, or destroyed shall make an affidavit or affirmation of the fact in the manner required by the Board of Directors and, if the Board of Directors requires, shall give the corporation a bond of indemnity in form and amount, and with one or more sureties satisfactory to the Board of Directors, as the Board of Directors may require, whereupon an appropriate new certificate may be issued in lieu of the one alleged to have been lost, stolen or destroyed.

Article X. Miscellaneous

10.01 Fiscal Year

The fiscal year of the corporation shall be a twelve-month period, beginning January 1 and ending on December 31 each year, unless the Board of Directors, by resolution, fixes the fiscal year as an other time period.

10.02 Corporate Seal

If the Board of Directors determines that there should be a corporate seal for the corporation, it shall be in the form as the Board of Directors may from time to time determine.

10.03 Corporate Records

The Board of Directors shall have the power to determine which accounts, books, and records of the corporation shall be opened to the inspection of the shareholders, except those as may by law specifically be made open to inspection. The Board of Directors shall have the power to fix reasonable rules and regulations not in conflict with the applicable law for the inspection of accounts, books, and records which by law or by determination of the Board of Directors shall be open to inspection.

10.04 Annual Financial Statements

In accordance with the Code, the corporation shall prepare and provide to the shareholders such financial statements as may be required by the Code.

10.05 Amendments

The Board of Directors shall have the power to alter, amend, or repeal these bylaws or adopt new bylaws, but any bylaws adopted by the Board of Directors may be altered, amended, or repealed, and new bylaws adopted, by the shareholders. The shareholders may prescribe, by expressing in the action they take in adopting or amending any bylaw or bylaws, that the bylaw or bylaws so adopted or amended shall not be altered, amended or repealed by the Board of Directors.

10.06 Conflict with Articles of Incorporation or Law; Severability

In the event that any provision of these bylaws conflicts with any provision of the Articles of Incorporation, the Articles of Incorporation shall govern. In the event that any of the provisions of these bylaws (including any provision within a single section, subsection, division or sentence) is held by a court of competent jurisdiction to be invalid, void, or otherwise unenforceable, the remaining provisions of the bylaws shall remain enforceable to the fullest extent permitted by law.

YOUTH AND FAMILY CENTERED SERVICES OF NEW MEXICO, INC.

AMENDED AND RESTATED BYLAWS

Adopted as of January 22, 2001

Corporate Bylaws

Article I. Definitions

1.01 Code

The Code means the applicable titles, parts, chapters, sections, and other divisions of the state of incorporation's statutory scheme governing the formation and operation of corporations.

1.02 Record Date

Record Date means the date established under the Code on which the corporation determines the identity of its shareholders and their shareholdings. Such determination shall be made as of the close of business on the record date unless another time for doing so is specified when the record date is fixed.

1.03 Voting Group

Voting Group means all shares of one or more classes or series that under the articles of incorporation or the Code are entitled to vote and be counted together collectively on a matter at a meeting of the shareholders. All shares entitled by the articles of incorporation or the Code to vote generally on the matter are for that purpose a single voting group.

1.04 Corporation

Corporation includes any domestic or foreign predecessor entity of the corporation in a merger or other transaction in which the predecessor's existence ceased upon consummation of the transaction.

1.05 Director or Officer

Director or Officer means an individual who is or was (i) a member of the Board of Directors, (ii) an individual elected or appointed by the Board of Directors to serve as an officer, or (iii) a member of any duly constituted Committee of the Board of Directors. "Director" or "officer" includes, unless the context otherwise requires, the estate or personal representative of a director or officer.

1.06 Disinterested Director or Officer

"Disinterested Director" or "Disinterested Officer" means a director or officer who, with respect to a determination of the authorization or non-authorization of an expense advancement or of indemnification, is neither:

(i) the individual whose indemnification or expense advancement is the subject of the decision being made; nor

(ii) An individual having a familial, financial, professional, or employment relationship with the person whose indemnification or advance for expenses is the subject of the decision being made with respect to the proceeding, which relationship would, in the circumstances, reasonably be expected to exert an influence on the director's or officer's judgment when voting on the decision being made.

1.07 Liability

Liability means the obligation to pay a judgment, settlement, penalty, fine (including an excise tax assessed with respect to an employee benefit plan), or reasonable expenses incurred with respect to a proceeding.

1.08 Official Capacity

When used with respect to a director, Official Capacity means the office of director in the corporation. When used with respect to an officer, Official Capacity means the office in the corporation held by the officer. Official capacity does not include service for any other domestic or foreign corporation or any partnership, joint venture, trust, employee benefit plan, or other entity.

1.09 Party

Party includes an individual who was, is, or is threatened to be made a named defendant or respondent in a proceeding.

1.10 Proceeding

Proceeding means any threatened, pending, or completed action, suit, or proceeding, whether civil, criminal, administrative, arbitrative, or investigative and whether formal or informal.

Article II. Offices and Agents

2.01 Registered Office and Agent

The corporation shall maintain a registered office and have a registered agent, whose business office address is identical to that of the registered office, in its state of incorporation and in each state in which the corporation is qualified to do business.

2.02 Other Offices

In addition to its registered office, the corporation may have offices at any other place or places, within or without the state of incorporation, as the Board of Directors may from time to time select or as the business of the corporation may require or make desirable.

Article Ill. Meetings of the Shareholders

3.01 Annual Meetings

An annual meeting of the shareholders shall be held for the election of directors at such date, time, and place, either within or without the state of incorporation, as may be designated by resolution of the Board of Directors from time to time. Such resolution shall designate the date, time, and place of the meeting. Any other proper business may be transacted at the annual meeting. If an annual meeting is not held as provided in this bylaw, any business, including the election of directors, that might properly have been acted upon at that meeting may be acted upon at a special meeting in lieu of the annual meeting held pursuant to these bylaws or held pursuant to a court order.

3.02 Special Meetings

Special meetings of the shareholders may be called for any purpose or purposes at any time by the Board of Directors, or by the President of the corporation, or by a Committee of the Board of Directors that has been duly designated and authorized by resolution of the Board of Directors to call such meetings. In addition, the Board of Directors shall call such a meeting upon the written request of shareholders holding at least twenty percent (20%) of all the votes entitled to be cast on the issue or issues proposed to be considered at the requested special meeting.

3.03 Quorum

With respect to shares entitled to vote as a separate voting group on a matter at a meeting of shareholders, the presence, in person or by proxy, of a majority of the votes entitled to be cast on the matter by the voting group shall constitute a quorum of that voting group for action on that matter unless the articles of incorporation or the Code provide otherwise. Once a share is represented for any purpose at a meeting, other than solely to object to holding the meeting or to transacting business at the meeting, it is deemed present for quorum purposes for the remainder of the meeting and for any adjournment of the meeting unless a new record date is or must be set for the adjourned meeting pursuant to the bylaw governing the fixing of the record date with regard to shareholder action.

3.04 Adjournment and Reconvention

Whether or not a quorum is present to organize a meeting, any meeting of shareholders may be adjourned by the holders of a majority of the voting shares represented at the meeting to reconvene at a specific time and place, but no later than 120 days after the date fixed for the original meeting unless the requirements of the Code concerning the selection of a new record date have been met. At any reconvened meeting within that time period, any business may be transacted that could have been transacted at the meeting that was adjourned.

3.05 Presiding Officer

The Chief Executive Officer shall serve as the Presiding Officer of every meeting of shareholders unless another person is elected by the shareholders to serve as Presiding Officer at the meeting. The Presiding Officer shall appoint any persons he deems required to assist with the meeting.

3.06 Vote Required for Action

If a quorum exists, action on a matter (other than the election of directors) by a voting group is approved if the votes cast within the voting group favoring the action exceed the votes cast opposing the action, unless the articles of incorporation, provisions of these bylaws validly adopted by the shareholders, or the Code requires a greater number of affirmative votes. If the articles of incorporation or the Code provide for voting by two or more voting groups on a matter, action on that matter is taken only when voted upon by each of those voting groups counted separately. Action may be taken by one voting group on a matter even though no action is taken by another voting group entitled to vote on the matter. With regard to the election of directors, unless otherwise provided in the articles of incorporation, if a quorum exists, action on the election of directors is taken by a plurality of the votes cast by the shares entitled to vote in the election.

3.07 Shares Held by Another Corporation

Shares standing in the name of another corporation, domestic or foreign, may be voted by such officer, agent, or proxy as the by-laws of such other corporation may prescribe, or, in the absence of such a provision, as the board of directors of such other corporation may determine.

3.08 Method of Voting Shares

Unless the articles of incorporation or the Code provide otherwise, each outstanding share having voting rights shall be entitled to one vote on each matter submitted to a vote at a meeting of the shareholders. Voting on all matters shall be by voice vote or by show of hands unless any qualified voter, prior to the voting on any matter, demands vote by ballot, in which case each ballot shall state the name of the shareholder voting and the number of shares voted by him, and if the ballot be cast by proxy, it shall also state the name of the proxy.

3.09 Proxies

A shareholder entitled to vote on a matter may vote in person or by proxy pursuant to an appointment of proxy executed in writing by the shareholder or by his attorney-in-fact. An appointment of proxy shall be valid for only one meeting to be specified therein, and any adjournments of such meeting, but shall not be valid for more than eleven months unless expressly provided therein. Appointments of proxy shall be dated and filed with the records of the meeting to which they relate. If the validity of any appointment of proxy is questioned, it must be submitted to the secretary of the meeting of shareholders for examination or to a proxy officer or committee appointed by the meeting's presiding officer. The secretary of the meeting or, if appointed, the proxy officer or committee, shall determine the validity or invalidity of any appointment of proxy submitted for examination. Reference in the minutes of the meeting by the secretary or, if appointed, the proxy officer or committee, as to the regularity of an appointment of proxy shall be received as prima facie evidence of the facts stated for the purpose of establishing the presence of a quorum at the meeting and for all other purposes.

3.10 Action Without a Meeting

Any action required or permitted to be taken at a meeting of the shareholders, may be taken without a meeting if the action is taken by all shareholders entitled to vote on the action. Or, if allowed by the articles of incorporation, such action may be taken without a meeting by persons who would be entitled to vote shares having voting power to cast not less than the minimum number (or numbers, in the case of voting by groups) of votes that would be necessary to authorize or take the action at a meeting at which all shareholders entitled to vote were present and voted. The action without a meeting must be evidenced by one or more written consents describing the action taken, signed by shareholders entitled to take action without a meeting, and delivered to the corporation for inclusion in the minutes or filing with the corporate records. The corporation shall give written notice of actions so taken.

3.11 Notice

Unless waived as contemplated in these bylaws, a notice of each meeting of shareholders, stating the date, time, and place of the meeting shall be given not less than ten (10) days nor more than sixty (60) days before the date thereof, to each shareholder entitled to vote at that meeting. In the case of an annual meeting, the notice need not state the purpose or purposes of the meeting unless the articles of incorporation or the Code requires otherwise. In the case of a special meeting, including a special meeting in lieu of an annual meeting, the notice of meeting shall state the purpose or purposes for which the meeting is called.

Article IV. Board of Directors

4.01 Powers

All corporate powers, which are lawful and do not violate any legal agreement among shareholders and which are not prohibited by the articles of incorporation or these bylaws, shall be exercised by or under the authority of, and the business and affairs of the corporation shall be managed under, the direction of the Board of Directors. The Board of Directors may, by resolution, vote any shares of stock owned by the corporation. Also, the Board of Directors from time to time in its discretion may authorize or declare distributions or share dividends in accordance with the Code.

4.02 Number

The number and composition of the corporation's Board of Directors shall initially be that which is specified in the articles of incorporation. If the articles of incorporation do not specify the number and composition of the Board of Directors, then the Board of Director's shall consist of one member, the

Chief Executive Officer of the corporation. Thereafter, the number and composition of the Board of Directors may be changed from time to time by an action of the shareholders.

4.03 Election

Except as provided for in the bylaw addressing vacancies in the Board of Directors, the Directors shall be elected by a vote of the shareholders at each annual meeting of shareholders or special meeting in lieu of the annual meeting.

4.04 Term of Office

Except in the case of death, written resignation, retirement, disqualification, or removal, each director shall serve until the next succeeding annual meeting or special meeting in lieu of an annual meeting and thereafter until his successor is elected and qualifies or until the number of directors is decreased.

4.05 Removal

One or more directors may be removed from office with or without cause by the shareholders by a majority of the votes entitled to be cast. If the director was elected by a voting group, only the shareholders of that voting group may participate in the vote to remove him. Removal action may be taken at any meeting of shareholders with respect to which the notice stated that the purpose, or one of the purposes, of the meeting is removal of the director, and a removed director's successor may be elected at the same meeting.

4.06 Vacancies

A vacancy occurring in the Board of Directors, other than by reason of an increase in the number of directors, shall be filled for the unexpired term by the first to take action of (a) the shareholders or (b) the Board of Directors, and if the directors remaining in office constitute fewer than a quorum of the Board of Directors, they may fill the vacancy by the affirmative vote of a majority of all the directors remaining in office. If the vacant office was held by a director elected by a voting group, only the holders of shares of that voting group or the remaining directors elected by that voting group are entitled to vote to fill the vacancy. A vacancy occurring in the Board of Directors by reason of an increase in the number of directors shall be filled in like manner as any other vacancy, but, if filled by action of the Board of Directors, shall only be for a term of office continuing until the next election of directors by the shareholders and until the election and qualification of a successor.

4.07 Committees

The Board of Directors, by resolution, may designate from among its members an executive committee and one or more other committees, each consisting of one or more directors all of whom serve at the pleasure of the Board of Directors. Except as limited by the Code, each committee shall have the authority set forth in the resolution establishing the committee. The provisions of these bylaws as to the Board of Directors and its deliberations shall be applicable to any committee of the Board of Directors. All decisions and actions of any committee created by these bylaws or resulting from the authority granted by these bylaws, shall be subject to the discretionary review and approval of the Board of Directors.

4.08 Compensation

Unless the articles of incorporation provide otherwise, the Board of Directors may determine from time to time the compensation, if any, directors may receive for their services as directors. A director may also serve the corporation in a capacity other than that of director and receive compensation, as determined by the Board of Directors, for services rendered in such other capacity.

Article V. Meetings of the Board of Directors

5.01 Regular Meetings

Regular meetings of the Board of Directors shall be held immediately after the annual meeting of shareholders or a special meeting in lieu of the annual meeting. In addition, the Board of Directors may schedule other meetings to occur at regular intervals throughout the year.

5.02 Special Meetings

Special meetings of the Board of Directors may be called by or at the request of the Chief Executive Officer of the corporation, by the sole director of the board or, if the board consists of more than one director, by any two directors in office at that time.

5.03 Quorums

Unless a greater number is required by the articles of incorporation, these bylaws, or the Code, a quorum of the Board of Directors consists of a majority of the total number of directors.

5.04 Adjournments

Whether or not a quorum is present to organize a meeting, any meeting of directors (including an adjourned meeting) may be adjourned by a majority of the directors present to reconvene at a specific time and place. At any reconvened meeting, any business may be transacted that could have been transacted at the meeting that was adjourned. It shall not be necessary to give any notice of the reconvened meeting or of the business to be transacted, if the date, time and place of the reconvened meeting are announced at the meeting that was adjourned.

5.05 Action Without a Meeting

Unless the Code, the articles of incorporation, or these bylaws provide otherwise, any action required or permitted to be taken at any meeting of the Board of Directors, or any action that may be taken at a meeting of an authorized committee of the Board of Directors, may be taken without a meeting if the action is taken by all the members of the Board of Directors (or of the committee, as the case may be). The action must be evidenced by one or more written consents describing the action taken, signed by each director (or each director serving on the committee, as the case may be), and delivered to the corporation for inclusion in the minutes or filing with the corporate records.

5.06 Meetings by Telephone

Any or all directors may participate in a meeting of the Board of Directors, and members of an authorized committee of the Board of Directors may participate in a meeting of the committee (as the case may be), through the use of any means of communication by which all directors participating may simultaneously hear each other during the meeting.

5.07 Place of Meetings

Directors may hold their meetings at any place within or without the state of incorporation, as the Board of Directors may from time to time establish for regular meetings or as set forth in the notice of special meetings or, in the event of a meeting held pursuant to waiver of notice, as set forth in the

waiver.

5.08 Notice of Meetings

No notice shall be required for any regularly scheduled meeting of the directors. Unless waived as contemplated in these bylaws, each director shall be given at least five day's notice of each special meeting stating the date, time, and place of the meeting. It is not required that the purpose of a Directors' meeting be stated in any notice of such a meeting, whether the meeting is a regular or a special meeting.

5.09 Vote Required for Action

If a quorum is present when a vote is taken, the affirmative vote of a majority of directors present is the act of the Board of Directors unless the Code, the articles of incorporation, or these bylaws require the vote of a greater number of directors.

A director who is present at a meeting of the Board of Directors, or an authorized committee of the Board of Directors, when corporate action is taken is deemed to have assented to the action taken unless:

(i) he objects at the beginning of the meeting (or promptly upon his arrival) to holding the meeting or to transacting business at the meeting,

(ii) his dissent or abstention from the action taken is entered in the minutes of the meeting, or

(iii) he delivers written notice of his dissent or abstention to the presiding officer of the meeting before its adjournment or to the corporation immediately after adjournment of the meeting.

The right of dissent or abstention is not available to a director who votes in favor of the action taken.

Article VI. Shareholder and Director Notices

6.1 Delivery of Notice

Whenever these bylaws require notice to be given to any shareholder or director, the notice shall be given in accordance with this bylaw. Notice under these bylaws shall be in writing unless oral notice is reasonable under the circumstances. Any notice to directors may be written or oral. Notice may be communicated in person, by telephone, telegraph, teletype, other form of wire or wireless communication, or by mail or private carrier. If these forms of personal notice are impracticable, notice may be communicated by a newspaper of general circulation in the area where published, or by radio, television, or other form of public broadcast communication. Written notice to the shareholders, if in a comprehensible form, is effective when mailed, if mailed with first-class postage prepaid and correctly addressed to the shareholder's address shown in the corporation's current record of shareholders.

6.2 When Effective

Except as otherwise provided in this bylaw, written notice, if in a comprehensible form, is effective at the earliest of the following:

(i) when received or when delivered, properly addressed, to the addressee's last known

principal place of business or residence;

(ii) five days after deposit in the mail, as evidenced by the postmark, if mailed with first-class postage prepaid and correctly addressed, or

(iii) on the date shown on the return receipt, if sent by registered or certified mail, return receipt requested, and the receipt is signed by or on behalf of the addressee.

Oral notice is effective when communicated if communicated in a comprehensible manner.

In calculating time periods for notice, when a period of time measured in days, weeks, months, years, or other measurement of time is prescribed for the exercise of any privilege or the discharge of any duty, the first day shall not be counted but the last day shall be counted.

6.3 Waiver

A shareholder or director may waive any notice before or after the date and time stated in the notice. Except as provided in this bylaw, the waiver must be in writing, be signed by the shareholder or director entitled to the notice, and be delivered to the corporation for inclusion in the minutes or filing with the corporate records.

A shareholder's attendance at a meeting (i) waives objection to lack of notice or defective notice of the meeting, unless the shareholder at the beginning of the meeting objects to holding the meeting or transacting business at the meeting; and (ii) waives objection to consideration of a particular matter at the meeting that is not within the purpose or purposes described in the meeting notice, unless the shareholder objects to considering the matter when it is presented.

A director's attendance at or participation in a meeting waives any required notice to him of the meeting unless the director at the beginning of the meeting (or promptly upon his arrival) objects to holding the meeting or transacting business at the meeting and does not thereafter vote for or assent to action taken at the meeting.

Unless required by the Code, neither the business transacted nor the purpose of the meeting need be specified in the waiver.

6.4 Notice Following Adjournment

If notice of an adjourned meeting of the shareholders or of the directors was properly given, it shall not be necessary to give any notice of the reconvened meeting or of the business to be transacted, if the date, time and place of the reconvened meeting are announced at the meeting that was adjourned and before adjournment; provided, however, that if a new record date of shares is or must be fixed, notice of the reconvened meeting must be given to persons who are shareholders as of the new record date.

Article VII. Officers

7.01 Number

The officers of the corporation shall consist of a Board Chairman, a President, a Secretary, a Treasurer, and any other officers as may be appointed by the Board of Directors or by an other duly appointed officer pursuant to these bylaws. The Board of Directors shall from time to time create and establish the duties of the other officers. Any two or more offices may be held by the same person.

7.02 Chairman of Board

The Chairman of the Board of Directors shall preside at all meetings of the Board of Directors and shall have authority to execute bonds, mortgages, and other contracts requiring a seal, under the seal of the corporation; to endorse, when sold, assigned, transferred, or otherwise disposed of by the corporation, all certificates or shares of stock, bonds, or other securities issued by other corporations, associations, trusts, whether public or private, or by any government agency thereof, and owned or held by the corporation, and to make, execute, and deliver all instruments or assignments of transfer of any such stocks, bonds, or other securities. The Chairman of the Board may, with the approval of the Board of Directors, or shall, at the direction of the Board of Directors, delegate any or all of such duties to the President.

7.03 President

The President shall be the Chief Executive Officer of the corporation and shall have general supervision of the business of the corporation. The President shall see that all orders and resolutions of the Board of Directors are carried into effect. The President shall perform such other duties as may from time to time be delegated by the Board of Directors. In the absence of the Chairman of the Board, the President shall have authority to do any and all things delegated to the Chairman of the Board of Directors.

7.04 Vice President

In the absence or disability of the President, or at the direction of the President, the Vice President, if any, shall perform the duties and exercise the powers of the President. If the corporation has more than one Vice President, the one designated by the Board of Directors shall act in lieu of the President. Vice Presidents shall perform whatever duties and have whatever powers the Board of Directors may from time to time assign.

7.05 Secretary

The Secretary shall be responsible for preparing minutes of the acts and proceedings of all meetings of the shareholders, the Board of Directors, and any Committees thereof. The Secretary shall have authority to give all notices required by the Code or these bylaws. The Secretary shall be responsible for the custody of the corporate books, records, contracts, and other documents. The Secretary may affix the corporate seal to any lawfully executed documents and shall sign any instruments as may require his or her signature. The Secretary shall authenticate records of the corporation. The Secretary shall perform whatever additional duties and have whatever additional powers the Board of Directors may from time to time assign. In the absence or disability of the Secretary or at the direction of the President, any assistant secretary may perform the duties and exercise the powers of the Secretary.

7.06 Treasurer

The Treasurer shall be responsible for the custody of all funds and securities belonging to the corporation and for the receipt, deposit, or disbursement of funds and securities under the direction of the Board of Directors. The Treasurer shall cause to be maintained full and true accounts of all receipts and disbursements and shall make reports of the same to the Board of Directors and the President upon request. The Treasurer shall perform all duties as may be assigned to him from time to time by the Board of Directors.

7.07 Appointment, Term, and Removal

All officers shall be appointed by the Board of Directors or by a duly appointed officer pursuant to these bylaws and shall serve at the pleasure of the Board of Directors or the appointing officers, as the case may be. All officers, however appointed, may be removed with or without cause by the Board of Directors, and any officer appointed by another officer may also be removed by the appointing officer with or without cause.

7.08 Compensation

The compensation of all officers of the corporation appointed by the Board of Directors shall be fixed by the Board of Directors.

7.09 Bonds

The Board of Directors may, by resolution, require any or all of the officers, agents, or employees of the corporation to give bonds to the corporation, with sufficient surety or sureties, conditioned on the faithful performance of the duties of their respective offices or positions, and to comply with any other conditions as from time to time may be required by the Board of Directors.

Article VIII. lndemnification

8.01 Basic lndemnification Arrangement

Except as provided in these bylaws, the corporation shall indemnify an individual who is a party to a proceeding because he or she is or was a director or officer against liability incurred in the proceeding if:

(i) Such Director or Officer conducted himself in good faith and reasonably believed:

(a) In the case of conduct in his or her official capacity, that such conduct was in the best interests of the corporation;

(b) In all other cases, that such conduct was at least not opposed to the best interests of the corporation; and

(c) In the case of any criminal proceeding, that the individual had no reasonable cause to believe such conduct was unlawful, or

(ii) Such Director's or Officer's conduct with respect to an employee benefit plan, which is the subject of the proceeding, was for a purpose he believed in good faith to be in the interests of the participants in and beneficiaries of the plan.

The termination of a proceeding by judgment, order, settlement, or conviction, or upon a plea of nolo contendere or its equivalent is not, of itself, determinative that the director or officer did not meet the requisite standard of conduct described in this bylaw.

The corporation may not indemnify a director or officer under this Article:

(i) In connection with a proceeding by or in the right of the corporation, except for reasonable expenses incurred in connection with the proceeding if it is determined that the director or officer has met the requisite standard of conduct under this bylaw; or

(ii) In connection with any proceeding with respect to conduct for which he or she was adjudged liable on the basis that personal benefit was improperly received by him or her, whether or not involving action in his or her official capacity.

8.02 Advances for Expenses

The corporation may, before final disposition of a proceeding, advance funds to pay for or reimburse the reasonable expenses, including counsel fees, incurred by a director or officer who is a party to a proceeding because he or she is a director or officer if he or she delivers to the corporation:

(i) A written affirmation of his or her good faith belief that he or she has met the requisite standard of conduct described in the Basic lndemnification Arrangement bylaw or that the proceeding involves conduct for which such person's liability has been eliminated under the corporation's articles of incorporation; and

(ii) His or her written undertaking to repay any funds advanced if it is ultimately determined that the director or officer is not entitled to indemnification under this Article or the Code. This undertaking to repay must be an unlimited general obligation of the director or officer but need not be secured and may be accepted without reference to the financial ability of the director or officer to make repayment.

Authorizations for expense advancements shall be made:

(i) By the board of directors:

(a) by a majority vote of a quorum consisting of disinterested directors, or

(b) if such a quorum is not obtainable (or is obtainable and a majority vote of a quorum of disinterested directors so directs), by independent legal counsel in a written opinion; or

(ii) By a majority vote of the shareholders; however, shares owned or voted under the control of a director or officer who at the time does not qualify as a disinterested director or disinterested officer with respect to the proceeding may not be voted on the authorization.

8.03 Court-Ordered lndemnification and Advances for Expenses

A director or officer who is a party to a proceeding because he or she is a director or officer may apply for indemnification or advance for expenses to the court conducting the proceeding or to another court of competent jurisdiction. Pursuant to the Code, after receipt of an application and after giving any notice it considers necessary, the court shall:

(i) Order indemnification or advance for expenses if it determines that the director or officer is entitled to indemnification; or

(ii) Order indemnification or advance for expenses if it determines, in view of all the relevant circumstances, that it is fair and reasonable to indemnify the director or officer, or to advance expenses to the director or officer, even if the director or officer has not met the relevant standard of conduct, failed to comply with the requirements for advance of expenses, or was adjudged liable on the basis that personal benefit was improperly received by him or her, whether or not involving action in his or her official capacity. However, if the director or officer was adjudged so liable, the indemnification shall be limited to reasonable expenses incurred in connection with the proceeding.

If the court determines that the director or officer is entitled to indemnification or advance for expenses, it may also order the corporation to pay the director's or officer's reasonable expenses to obtain court-ordered indemnification or advance for expenses.

8.04 Determination and Authorization of lndemnification

The corporation acknowledges that indemnification of a director or officer according to these bylaws has been pre-authorized by the corporation as permitted by the Code. Nevertheless, the corporation shall not indemnify a director or officer under these bylaws unless a determination has been made for the specific proceeding that indemnification of the director or officer is permissible in the circumstances because he or she has met the relevant standard of conduct set forth in the Basic lndemnification Arrangement. However, regardless of the result or absence of any such determination, the corporation shall indemnify a director or officer who was wholly successful, on the merits or otherwise, in the defense of any proceeding to which he or she was a party because he or she was a director or officer of the corporation against reasonable expenses incurred by the director or officer in connection with the proceeding.

The determination of indemnification shall be made:

(i) by the board of directors:

(a) by a majority vote of a quorum consisting of disinterested directors; or

(b) if such a quorum is not obtainable or is obtainable and a majority vote of a quorum of disinterested directors so directs, by independent legal counsel in a written opinion; or

(ii) by a majority vote of the shareholders, but shares owned by or voted under the control of a director or officer who at the time does not qualify as a disinterested director or disinterested officer may not be voted on the determination.

As acknowledged above, the corporation has pre-authorized the indemnification of directors and officers hereunder, subject to a determination for a specific proceeding that the director or officer met the relevant standard of conduct under the Basic lndemnification Arrangement. Consequently, no further decision need or shall be made on a case-by-case basis as to the authorization of the corporation's indemnification of directors or officers hereunder. Nevertheless, evaluation as to reasonableness of expenses of a director or officer for a specific proceeding shall be made in the same manner as the determination that indemnification is permissible, except that if there are fewer than two disinterested directors or if the determination is made by special legal counsel, evaluation as to reasonableness of expenses shall be made by the Board of Directors, the members of which may or may not be disinterested.

8.05 lndemnification of Employees and Agents

The corporation may indemnify and advance expenses under these bylaws to an employee or agent of the corporation who is not a director or officer to the extent, consistent with public policy, that such indemnification and advances may be provided to a director or officer.

8.06 Shareholder Approved lndemnification

If authorized by the articles of incorporation, the bylaws, or by a contract or resolution

approved or ratified by the shareholders of the corporation by a majority of the votes entitled to be cast, the corporation may indemnify or obligate itself to indemnify a director or officer made a party to a proceeding, including a proceeding brought by or in the right of the corporation, without regard to the limitations in other sections of these bylaws, but shares owned or voted under the control of a director or officer who at the time of such authorization does not qualify as a disinterested director or disinterested officer with respect to any existing or threatened proceeding that would be covered by the authorization may not be voted on the authorization.

Nevertheless, the corporation shall not indemnify a director or officer under this bylaw for any liability incurred in a proceeding in which the director or officer is adjudged liable to the corporation or is subjected to injunctive relief in favor of the corporation:

(i) for any appropriation, in violation of his or her duties, of any business opportunity of the corporation,

(ii) for acts or omissions which involve intentional misconduct or a knowing violation of law,

(iii) for assenting to an unlawful distribution as defined in the Code, or

(iv) for any transaction from which he or she received an improper personal benefit.

Where approved or authorized according to this bylaw, the corporation may advance or reimburse expenses incurred in advance of final disposition of the proceeding only if

(i) The director or officer furnishes the corporation a written affirmation of his or her good faith belief that his or her conduct does not constitute behavior of the kind described in this bylaw which would prevent indemnification; and

(ii) The director or officer furnishes the corporation a written undertaking, executed personally or on his or her behalf, to repay any advances if it is ultimately determined that he or she is not entitled to indemnification under this bylaw.

8.07 Insurance

The corporation may purchase and maintain insurance on behalf of an individual

(i) who is a director, officer, employee, or agent of the corporation, or

(ii) who, while a director, officer, employee, or agent of the corporation, serves at the corporation's request as a director, officer, partner, trustee, employee or agent of another domestic or foreign corporation, partnership, joint venture, trust, employee benefit plan, or other entity

against liability asserted against or incurred by him or her in that capacity or arising from his or her status as a director, officer, employee, or agent, whether or not the corporation would have power to indemnify or advance expenses to him or her against the same liability under these bylaws or the Code.

8.09 Witness Fees

Nothing in these bylaws shall limit the corporation's power to pay or reimburse expenses incurred by a director or officer in connection with his or her appearance as a witness in a proceeding at a time when he or she is not a party.

8.10 Report to Shareholders

To the extent and in the manner required by the Code from time to time, if the corporation indemnifies or advances expenses to a director or officer in connection with a proceeding by or in the right of the corporation, the corporation shall report the indemnification or advance to the shareholders.

8.11 Effect of Amendments

No amendment, modification, or rescission of these bylaws, or any provision of the bylaws, the effect of which would diminish the rights to indemnification or advancement of expenses as set forth herein shall be effective as to any person with respect to any action taken or omitted by such person prior to such amendment, modification or rescission.

Article IX. Stock Certificates

9.01 Authorization and Issuance

In accordance with the Code, the Board of Directors may authorize shares of any class or series provided for in the corporation's Articles of Incorporation to be issued for any consideration valid under the provisions of the Code. To the extent provided in the Articles of Incorporation, the Board of Directors shall determine the preferences, limitations, and relative rights of the shares.

9.02 Form

The interest of each shareholder in the corporation shall be evidenced by a certificate or certificates representing shares of the corporation which shall be in such form as the Board of Directors from time to time may adopt. Share certificates shall be numbered consecutively, shall be in registered form, shall indicate the date of issuance, the name of the corporation, that it is organized under the laws of the state of incorporation, the name of the shareholder, the number and class of shares, and the designation of the series, if any, represented by the certificate. Each certificate shall be signed by any one of the President, a Vice President, the Secretary, or the Treasurer. The corporate seal need not be affixed.

9.03 Registered Shareholders

Prior to due presentation for transfer of registration of its shares, the corporation may treat the registered owner of the shares as the person exclusively entitled to vote the shares, to receive any share dividend or distribution with respect to the shares, and for all other purposes. The corporation shall not be bound to recognize any equitable or other claim to or interest in the shares on the part of any other person, whether or not it shall have express or other notice thereof, except as otherwise provided by law.

9.04 Transfer of Shares

Transfers of shares shall be made upon the transfer books of the corporation, kept at the principle office of the corporation (or at the office of the transfer agent designated to transfer the shares, if any) only upon direction of the person named in the certificate, or by his or her attorney lawfully constituted in writing. Before a new certificate is issued, the old certificate shall be surrendered for cancellation or, in the case of a certificate alleged to have been lost, stolen, or destroyed, the requirements of the bylaw governing lost, stolen, or destroyed certificates shall have been met.

9.05 Record Date

demand a special meeting, to vote, or to take any other action, the Board of Directors may fix a future date as the record date, which date shall be not more than seventy (70) days prior to the date on which the particular action requiring a determination of shareholders is to be taken. A determination of shareholders entitled to notice of or to vote at a shareholders' meeting is effective for any adjournment of the meeting unless the Board of Directors fixes a new record date, which it must do if the meeting is adjourned to a date more than 120 days after the date fixed for the original meeting. If no record date is fixed by the Board of Directors, the record date shall be determined in accordance with the provisions of the Code.

For the purpose of determining shareholders entitled to a distribution (other than one involving a purchase, redemption, or other reacquisition of the corporation's shares) or a share dividend, the Board of Directors may fix a date as the record date. if no record date is fixed by the Board of Directors, the record date shall be determined in accordance with the provisions of the Code.

9.06 Lost, Stolen, or Destroyed Certificates

Any person claiming a share certificate to be lost, stolen, or destroyed shall make an affidavit or affirmation of the fact in the manner required by the Board of Directors and, if the Board of Directors requires, shall give the corporation a bond of indemnity in form and amount, and with one or more sureties satisfactory to the Board of Directors, as the Board of Directors may require, whereupon an appropriate new certificate may be issued in lieu of the one alleged to have been lost, stolen or destroyed.

Article X. Miscellaneous

10.01 Fiscal Year

The fiscal year of the corporation shall be a twelve-month period, beginning January 1 and ending on December 31 each year, unless the Board of Directors, by resolution, fixes the fiscal year as an other time period.

10.02 Corporate Seal

If the Board of Directors determines that there should be a corporate seal for the corporation, it shall be in the form as the Board of Directors may from time to time determine.

10.03 Corporate Records

The Board of Directors shall have the power to determine which accounts, books, and records of the corporation shall be opened to the inspection of the shareholders, except those as may by law specifically be made open to inspection. The Board of Directors shall have the power to fix reasonable rules and regulations not in conflict with the applicable law for the inspection of accounts, books, and records which by law or by determination of the Board of Directors shall be open to inspection.

10.04 Annual Financial Statements

In accordance with the Code, the corporation shall prepare and provide to the shareholders such financial statements as may be required by the Code.

10.05 Amendments

The Board of Directors shall have the power to alter, amend, or repeal these bylaws or adopt new bylaws, but any bylaws adopted by the Board of Directors may be altered, amended, or repealed, and new bylaws adopted, by the shareholders. The shareholders may prescribe, by expressing in the action they take in adopting or amending any bylaw or bylaws, that the bylaw or bylaws so adopted or amended shall not be altered, amended or repealed by the Board of Directors.

10.06 Conflict with Articles of Incorporation or Law; Severability

In the event that any provision of these bylaws conflicts with any provision of the Articles of Incorporation, the Articles of Incorporation shall govern. In the event that any of the provisions of these bylaws (including any provision within a single section, subsection, division or sentence) is held by a court of competent jurisdiction to be invalid, void, or otherwise unenforceable, the remaining provisions of the bylaws shall remain enforceable to the fullest extent permitted by law.

EXHIBIT A

AMENDED AND RESTATED ARTICLES OF INCORPORATION

TA MERGER CORP.

ARTICLE I

The name of the Corporation is TA Merger Corp.

ARTICLE II

The address of the Corporation's registered office in the State of Georgia is c/o CT Corporation System, 1201 Peachtree Street, NE, Atlanta, Georgia 30361. The name of its registered agent at such address is C T Corporation System. The name of the Corporation's incorporator is William E. Walt. The address of the incorporator is c/o Goodwin Procter LLP, Exchange Place, 53 State Street, Boston, Massachusetts 02109.

ARTICLE III

The purpose of the Corporation is to engage in any lawful act or activity for which corporations may be organized under the Georgia Business Corporation Code.

ARTICLE IV

The total number of shares of capital stock that the Corporation shall have authority to issue is 3 75,000,000 of which (i) 270,000,000 shares shall be a class of preferred stock, par value $.0001 per share (the "Preferred Stock"), and (ii) 105,000,000 shares shall be a class of common stock, par value $.0001 per share (the "Common Stock").

The voting powers, designations, preferences and relative, participating, optional or other special rights, and the qualifications, limitations or restrictions of each class of capital stock of the Corporation, shall be as provided in this Article IV.

A. SERIES A CONVERTIBLE PREFERRED STOCK

1. Designation. A total of 90,000,000 shares of the Corporation's Preferred Stock shall be designated as a series known as Series A Convertible Preferred Stock (the "Series A Preferred Stock").

2. Voting. Each outstanding share of Series A Preferred Stock shall be entitled to a number of votes equal to the number of shares of Common Stock which a holder of a share of Series A Preferred Stock would receive if such holder were to convert such share into shares of Series B Preferred Stock (as hereafter defined) pursuant to Section A.6 hereof, and then immediately convert such share(s) of Series B Preferred Stock into Common Stock pursuant to Section B.6 hereof, in each case as of the record date for the vote or written consent of shareholders, as applicable. Each holder of outstanding shares of Series A Preferred Stock shall be entitled to notice of any shareholders meeting in accordance with the by-laws of the Corporation and shall vote with holders of the Common Stock and Series B Preferred Stock, voting together as single class, upon all matters submitted to a vote of shareholders, except those matters required to be submitted to a class or series vote pursuant to the terms hereof (including Section A. 8) or by law.

3. Dividends. The holders of shares of Series A Preferred Stock shall be entitled to receive, when, as and if declared by the Board of Directors out of funds legally available therefor, cumulative dividends at the per share rate of 2.5% of the Series A Original Issue Price (as defined below) per annum (as adjusted for subsequent stock dividends, stock splits, combinations, recapitalizations or the like with respect to such share) from the date of original issuance of such share (the "Closing Date"), which dividends shall accrue daily in arrears and be compounded quarterly, whether or not such dividends are declared by the Board of Directors or paid. Such dividends shall be paid upon liquidation or redemption of the Series A Preferred Stock as set forth in Sections A.4 and A.5 below, or if the Series A Preferred Stock is converted pursuant to Section A.6 below, upon liquidation or redemption of the Redeemable Preferred Stock as set forth in C.4 and C.5 below. After the foregoing dividends on the Series A Preferred Stock are paid, then the Corporation may (when, as and if declared by the Board of Directors) declare and distribute dividends among the holders of Series A Preferred Stock, Series B Preferred Stock and the holders of Common Stock pro rata based on the number of shares of Common Stock held by each, determined on an as-if-converted basis (assuming conversion of all outstanding shares of Series A Preferred Stock and, immediately thereafter, conversion of all outstanding shares of Series B Preferred Stock, in each case, pursuant to the terms of this Article IV) as of the record date with respect to the declaration of such dividends. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the Board of Directors shall not declare, and the dividends shall not be paid unless and until (i) the obligations of the Corporation under that certain Second Amended and Restated Credit Agreement dated as of May 28, 2004, as such agreement may be amended, restated, refinanced, replaced or otherwise modified as provided for in and limited by the Debt Subordination Agreement (as defined below), by and among the Corporation, General Electric Capital Corporation, as a lender and in its capacity as agent for the lenders ("GE Capital"), and the other parties signatory thereto (the "Senior Debt") have been paid in full, including any permitted refinancings thereof as provided for in and limited by the Debt Subordination Agreement, and (ii) the obligations of the Corporation under that certain Note Purchase Agreement dated as of May 28, 2004, as such agreement may be amended, restated, refinanced, replaced or otherwise modified as provided for in and limited by the Debt Subordination Agreement, by and among the Corporation, TA Subordinated Debt Fund, L.P., TA Investors II, L.P. and CGW Southeast Partners III, L.P. (the "Subordinated Debt") have been paid in full, including any permitted refinancings thereof as provided for in and limited by the Debt Subordination Agreement; unless such dividends and payments are otherwise permitted under the terms of that certain Subordination Agreement dated May 28, 2004 by and among the Corporation, GE Capital and the holders of Series A Preferred Stock signatories thereto (as such agreement may be amended, restated, refinanced, replaced or otherwise modified as provided for in and limited by the Debt Subordination Agreement, the "Equity Subordination Agreement"). For purposes hereof, the term "Debt Subordination Agreement" means that certain Subordination Agreement dated May 28, 2004 by and among the Corporation, the Corporation's subsidiaries signatories thereto, GE Capital, TA Subordinated Debt Fund, L.P., TA Investors II, L.P. and CGW Southeast Partners HI, L.P. (as such agreement may be amended, restated, refinanced, replaced or otherwise modified in accordance with its terms).

4. Liquidation; Merger, etc.

(a) Series A Liquidation Preference. Upon any liquidation, dissolution or winding up of the Corporation and its subsidiaries, whether voluntary or involuntary (a "Liquidation Event"), each holder of outstanding shares of Series A Preferred Stock shall be entitled to be paid in cash, before any amount is paid or distributed to the holders of the Common Stock or any other capital stock ranking on liquidation junior to the Series A Preferred Stock (the Common Stock and such other capital stock being referred to collectively as "Junior Stock"), an amount per share of Series A Preferred Stock equal to (A) $1.00 (the "Series A Original Issue Price") (such amount to be adjusted appropriately for stock splits, stock dividends, recapitalizations and the like) plus (B) any accrued or declared but unpaid dividends on such shares of Series A Preferred Stock (the Series A Original Issue Price plus such accrued or declared dividends are referred to herein as the "Series A Preference Amount"). If the amounts available for distribution by the Corporation to holders of Series A Preferred Stock upon a Liquidation Event are not sufficient to pay the aggregate Series A Preference Amount due to such holders, such holders shall share ratably in any distribution in connection with such Liquidation Event in proportion to the full respective preferential amounts to which they are entitled. The Series A Preferred Stock, Series B Preferred Stock and Redeemable Preferred Stock (as hereafter defined) shall be pari passu (based on liquidation preferences) with respect to any Liquidation Event (or deemed Liquidation Event).

Notwithstanding the preceding paragraph, if upon such Liquidation Event the holders of outstanding shares of Series A Preferred Stock would receive more than the aggregate amount to be received under the preceding paragraph above in the event that immediately prior to the Liquidation Event all of their shares of Series A Preferred Stock were converted into shares of Series B Preferred Stock and Redeemable Preferred Stock pursuant to the provisions of Section A.6(a) hereof, and immediately thereafter all such shares of Series B Preferred Stock were converted into Common Stock pursuant to the provisions of Section B.6(a) hereof, and such shares of Common Stock and Series A Redeemable Preferred Stock received liquidating distributions from the Corporation, then in connection with such Liquidation Event each holder of outstanding shares of Series A Preferred Stock in connection with such Liquidation Event shall be entitled to be paid in cash, in lieu of the payments described in the preceding paragraph, an amount per share of Series A Preferred Stock equal to (i) such amount as would have been payable in respect of each share of Redeemable Preferred Stock (including any fractions thereof) issuable upon conversion of such share of Series A Preferred Stock had such share of Series A Preferred Stock been converted to Redeemable Preferred Stock immediately prior to such Liquidation Event pursuant to the provisions of Section A.6(a) hereof, plus

(ii) such amount as would have been payable in respect of each share of Common Stock issuable upon conversion of the Series B Preferred Stock issuable upon conversion of the Series A Preferred Stock had such share of Series A Preferred Stock and share(s) of Series B Preferred Stock been converted, sequentially, into Common Stock immediately prior to such Liquidation Event pursuant to the provisions of Sections A.6(a) and B.6(a) hereof, as applicable.

The provisions of this Section A.4 shall not in any way limit the right of the holders of Series A Preferred Stock to elect to convert their shares of Series A Preferred Stock into shares of Series B Preferred Stock and Redeemable Preferred Stock pursuant to Section A.6 prior to or in connection with any Liquidation Event.

(b) Remaining Assets. After the payment of all preferential amounts required to be paid to the holders of the Series A Preferred Stock and any other class or series of stock of the Corporation ranking on liquidation on a parity with the Series A Preferred Stock, the remaining assets and funds of the Corporation available for distribution to its shareholders shall be distributed among the holders of shares of Junior Stock then outstanding.

5. Redemption.

(a) Extraordinary Transactions. Upon the election of the holder(s) of not less than 66 2/3% of the voting power of the outstanding shares of Series A Preferred Stock (a "Series A Two Thirds Interest") to have the Series A Preferred Stock redeemed in connection with an Extraordinary Transaction (as defined below) or otherwise to participate in connection with an Extraordinary Transaction, then, as a part of and as a condition to the effectiveness of such Extraordinary Transaction, unless a particular holder of Series A Preferred Stock elects to convert its shares of Series A Preferred Stock into Series B Preferred Stock and Redeemable Preferred Stock in accordance with the voluntary conversion provisions of Section A.6 prior to the effective date of such Extraordinary Transaction, the Corporation shall either (1) if redemption is elected, on the effective date of such Extraordinary Transaction, redeem all (but not less than all) of the then outstanding shares of Series A Preferred Stock for an amount equal to the aggregate Series A Preference Amount, such amount to be payable in cash (subject to the provisions of the immediately following paragraph) or, at the election of such holder or holders, in the same form of consideration as is paid to the holders of Common Stock in such Extraordinary Transaction (valued pursuant to Section A.5(b)), and no payment shall be made to the holders of the Common Stock or any other junior Stock unless such amount is paid in full or (2) if such holder or holders elect to participate in such Extraordinary Transaction (such as a merger) on terms acceptable to them, take such actions as shall be sufficient to facilitate such participation by all (but not less than all) of the then outstanding shares of Series A Preferred Stock (including in the case of a merger executing a merger agreement with an exchange ratio reflecting the provisions hereof) on terms giving effect to such holders' right to receive the aggregate Series A Preference Amount as a preferential amount, in which event such amount shall be paid in cash or, at the election of such Two-Thirds Interest, in the same form of consideration as is paid to the holders of Common Stock in such Extraordinary Transaction, on a pari passu basis with all other classes of capital stock of the Corporation ranking on a parity with the Series A Preferred Stock which are participating in such Extraordinary Transaction, based on the respective preferential amounts to which each such class is entitled, but in preference to and before any amount is paid or otherwise distributed to the holders of the Common Stock or any other Junior Stock, in which event such preferential amount shall be deemed to have been distributed to the holders of the Series A Preferred Stock as if in a Liquidation Event.

Notwithstanding the foregoing, if, upon any Extraordinary Transaction in which the holder or holders of not less than a Series A Two Thirds Interest elect to be redeemed or to participate, the holders of the outstanding shares of Series A Preferred Stock would receive more than the aggregate Series A Preference Amount in the event that immediately prior to such Extraordinary Transaction all of their shares of Series A Preferred Stock were converted into shares of Series B Preferred Stock and Redeemable Preferred Stock pursuant to the provisions of Section A.6(a) hereof, and immediately thereafter all such shares of Series B Preferred Stock were converted into Common Stock pursuant to the provisions of Section B.6(a) hereof, and such shares of Common Stock and Series A Redeemable Preferred Stock were purchased and otherwise participated in such Extraordinary Transaction, then in connection with such Extraordinary Transaction each holder of outstanding shares of Series A Preferred Stock shall receive from the Corporation or the relevant purchaser, as applicable, upon the election of the holder or holders of not less than a Series A Two Thirds Interest of the outstanding shares of Series A Preferred Stock to redeem or otherwise participate in such Extraordinary Transaction, an amount equal to the per share Redeemable Preference Amount under Section C.4 plus any dividends pursuant to Section A.3 or A.5(g) which are accumulated or declared but unpaid and any interest due under Section A.5(f) in respect of such share as of the date of such Extraordinary Transaction before any amount is paid or distributed to the holders of Common Stock or of any other stock ranking with regard to dividend rights, rights upon a Liquidation Event or an Extraordinary Transaction, or redemption rights junior to the Series A Preferred Stock, payable in cash, and thereafter (1) shall share with the holders of the Common Stock and any other stock ranking with regard to dividend rights, rights upon a Liquidation Event or an Extraordinary Transaction, or redemption rights junior to the Series A Preferred Stock in the proceeds of such Extraordinary Transaction or (2) if such holder or holders so elect, shall receive an amount equal to the amount per share that would be paid if the shares of Common Stock receivable upon conversion of the Series A Preferred Stock into Series B Preferred Stock and the conversion of such Series B Preferred Stock immediately thereafter were being acquired in the Extraordinary Transaction at the same price per share as is paid for Common Stock, which excess amount shall be paid in the same form of consideration as is paid to holders of Common Stock, as if each share of Series A Preferred Stock had been converted into the number of shares of Redeemable Preferred Stock and Common Stock issuable upon the conversion of such share of Series A Preferred Stock into shares of Series B Preferred Stock in accordance with Section A.6 hereof and immediately thereafter all such shares of Series B Preferred Stock were converted into Common Stock pursuant to the provisions of Section B.6(a) immediately prior to such Extraordinary Transaction.

The Corporation shall not participate in any Extraordinary Transaction or make or agree to have made any payments to the holders of shares of Common Stock or any other stock ranking junior to the Series A Preferred Stock or any other class or series of capital stock of the Corporation ranking in an Extraordinary Transaction on a parity with the Series A Preferred Stock unless the holders of Series A Preferred shall have received the full preferential amount to which they are entitled hereunder in an Extraordinary Transaction.

The foregoing election shall be made by such holders giving the Corporation and each other holder of Series A Preferred Stock not less than five (5) days' prior written notice, which notice shall set forth the date for such redemption or participation in an Extraordinary Transaction, as applicable. The provisions of this Section A.5 shall not in any way limit the right of the holders of Series A Preferred Stock to elect to convert their shares into shares of Series B Preferred Stock and Redeemable Preferred Stock pursuant to Section A.6 prior to or in connection with any Extraordinary Transaction.

Notwithstanding the foregoing, the Series A Preferred Stock may not be redeemed or otherwise participate in connection with an Extraordinary Transaction, unless and until the Senior Debt and the Subordinated Debt have been paid in full, including any permitted refinancings thereof as provided for in and limited by the terms of the Debt Subordination Agreement.

For purposes of this Certificate, each transaction described in the following clauses (A) through (E) constitutes an "Extraordinary Transaction": (A) a merger or consolidation of the Corporation with or into another corporation (with respect to which less than a majority of the outstanding voting power of the surviving or consolidated corporation immediately following such event is held by persons or entities who were shareholders of the Corporation immediately prior to such event); (B) the sale, license or transfer of all or substantially all of the properties and assets of the Corporation or its subsidiaries; (C) any acquisition by any person (or group of affiliated or associated persons) of beneficial ownership of a majority of the equity of the Corporation or any material subsidiary (whether or not newly-issued shares) in a single transaction or a series of related transactions; (D) the redemption or repurchase of shares representing a majority of the voting power of the outstanding shares of capital stock of the Corporation; or (E) any other change of control of 50% or more of the outstanding voting power of the Corporation.

(b) Valuation of Distribution Securities. Any securities or other consideration to be delivered to the holders of the Series A Preferred Stock if so elected in connection with a redemption or upon any Extraordinary Transaction in accordance with the terms hereof shall be valued as follows:

(i) If traded on a nationally recognized securities exchange or inter-dealer quotation system, the value shall be deemed to be the average of the closing prices of the securities on such exchange or system over the 30-day period ending three (3) business days prior to the closing;

(ii) If traded over-the-counter, the value shall be deemed to be the average of the closing bid prices over the 30-day period ending three (3) business days prior to the closing; and

(iii) If there is no active public market, the value shall be the fair market value thereof, as mutually determined by the Corporation and the holders of not less than a Series A Two Thirds Interest, provided that if the Corporation and the holders of a Series A Two Thirds Interest are unable to reach agreement, then by independent appraisal by a mutually agreed to investment banker, the fees of which shall be paid by the Corporation.

(c) Notice by Corporation. Not less than fifteen (15) days prior to the occurrence of any Extraordinary Transaction, the Corporation shall furnish each holder of Series A Preferred Stock notice in accordance with Section A.9 hereof, together with a certificate prepared by the chief financial officer of the Corporation describing in detail all material terms of such Extraordinary Transaction, including without limitation the consideration to be delivered in connection with such Extraordinary Transaction, the valuation of the Corporation at the time of such Extraordinary Transaction and the identities of the parties to the Extraordinary Transaction.

(d) Redemption Price and Date. Upon the election of the holders of not less than a Series A Two Thirds Interest to cause the Corporation to redeem the Series A Preferred Stock or otherwise to participate in an Extraordinary Transaction pursuant to Section A.5(a), all holders of Series A Preferred Stock shall be deemed to have elected to cause the Series A Preferred Stock to be so redeemed or to so participate. The date upon which a redemption or participation in a transaction shall actually occur in accordance with Section A.5(a) shall be referred to as a "Series A Redemption Date." The redemption price for each share of Series A Preferred Stock redeemed or acquired pursuant to this Section A.5 shall be the per share Series A Preference Amount or such greater per share amount as may be payable pursuant to the second paragraph to Section A.5(a), if applicable (in either case, the "Series A Redemption Price"); provided, however, that if at the Series A Redemption Date shares of Series A Preferred Stock are unable to be redeemed (as contemplated by Section A.5(e)), then holders of Series A Preferred Stock shall also be entitled to interest and dividends pursuant to Sections A.5(f) and (h). The aggregate Series A Redemption Price shall be payable in immediately available funds by certified check or wire transfer to the respective holders of the Series A Preferred Stock on the Series A Redemption Date (subject to Section A.5(e)) except to the extent contemplated by Section A.5(a). Upon any redemption or purchase of the Series A Preferred Stock as provided herein, holders of fractional shares shall receive proportionate amounts in respect thereof. Until the aggregate Series A Redemption Price has been paid for all shares of Series A Preferred Stock being redeemed or purchased: (A) no dividend whatsoever shall be paid or declared, and no distribution shall be made, on any capital stock of the Corporation; and (B) except as permitted by Section A.8(a), no shares of capital stock of the Corporation (other than the Series A Preferred Stock in accordance with this Section A.5 and Series B Preferred Stock in accordance with Section B.5) shall be purchased, redeemed or acquired by the Corporation and no monies shall be paid into or set aside or made available for a sinking fund for the purchase, redemption or acquisition thereof.

(e) Insufficient Funds. If the funds of the Corporation legally available to redeem shares of Series A Preferred Stock on the Series A Redemption Date are insufficient to redeem the total number of such shares required to be redeemed on such date, the Corporation shall (i) take any action necessary or appropriate, to the extent reasonably within its control and permissible under applicable law, to remove promptly any impediments to its ability to redeem the total number of shares of Series A Preferred Stock required to be so redeemed and (ii) in any event, use any funds legally available to redeem the maximum possible number of such shares from the holders of such shares to be redeemed in proportion to the respective number of such shares that otherwise would have been redeemed if all such shares had been redeemed in full. At any time thereafter when additional funds of the Corporation are legally available to redeem such shares of Series A Preferred Stock, the Corporation shall immediately use such funds to redeem the balance of the shares that the Corporation becomes obligated to redeem on the Series A Redemption Date (but that it has not yet redeemed) at the Series A Redemption Price.

(f) Interest. If any shares of Series A Preferred Stock are not redeemed on the Series A Redemption Date for any reason, all such unredeemed shares shall remain outstanding and entitled to all the rights and preferences provided herein, and the Corporation shall pay interest on the Series A Redemption Price and any dividend accruing after the Series A Redemption applicable to such unredeemed shares at an aggregate per annum rate equal to ten percent (10%), with such interest to accrue daily in arrears and to be compounded quarterly; provided that in no event shall such interest exceed the maximum permitted rate of interest under applicable law, provided that the Corporation shall make all filings necessary to raise such rate to the maximum permitted rate of interest under applicable law (the “Maximum Permitted Rate”). In the event that fulfillment of any provision hereof results in such rate of interest being in excess of the Maximum Permitted Rate, the amount of interest required to be paid hereunder shall automatically be reduced to eliminate such excess; provided, that any subsequent increase in the Maximum Permitted Rate shall be retroactively effective to the applicable Series A Redemption Date to the extent permitted by law.

(g) Dividend After Redemption Date. In the event that shares of Series A Preferred Stock required to be redeemed are not redeemed and continue to be outstanding, such shares shall continue to be entitled to dividends thereon as provided in Section A.3 until the date on which the Corporation actually redeems such shares.

(h) Surrender of Certificates. Each holder of shares of Series A Preferred Stock to be redeemed shall surrender the certificate or certificates representing such shares to the Corporation, duly assigned or endorsed for transfer to the Corporation (or accompanied by duly executed stock powers relating thereto), or, in the event the certificate or certificates are lost, stolen or missing, shall deliver an affidavit of loss, at the principal executive office of the Corporation or such other place as the Corporation may from time to time designate by notice to the holders of Series A Preferred Stock, and each surrendered certificate shall be canceled and retired and the Corporation shall thereafter make payment of the applicable Series A Redemption Price in immediately available funds by certified check or wire transfer; provided that if the Corporation has insufficient funds legally available to redeem all shares of Series A Preferred Stock required to be redeemed, each such holder shall, in addition to receiving the payment of the portion of the aggregate Series A Redemption Price that the Corporation is not legally prohibited from paying to such holder by certified check or wire transfer, receive a new stock certificate for those shares of Series A Preferred Stock not so redeemed.

6. Conversion. The holders of Series A Preferred Stock shall have the following conversion rights:

(a) Voluntary Conversion. Upon the written election of a Series A Two Thirds Interest and without payment of any additional consideration, all (but not less than all) the outstanding shares of Series A Preferred Stock shall be converted into (i) such number of fully paid and nonassessable shares of Series B Preferred Stock as is determined by dividing (A) the Series A Original Issue Price for each such share by (B) the Series A Conversion Price at the time in effect for such Series A Preferred Stock (the "Series A Conversion Rate"), and (ii) one fully paid and nonassessable share of Redeemable Preferred Stock for each such share of Series A Preferred Stock (the "Redeemable Conversion Rate"). Upon such election, all holders of the Series A Preferred Stock shall be deemed to have elected to voluntarily convert all outstanding shares of Series A Preferred Stock into shares of Series B Preferred Stock and Redeemable Preferred Stock pursuant to this Section A.6(a) and such election shall bind all holders of Series A Preferred Stock. The initial "Series A Conversion Price" per share for shares of Series A Preferred Stock shall be the Series A Original Issue Price, subject to adjustment as set forth in Section A.7. Such conversion may occur at any time after the date of issuance of such shares of Series A Preferred Stock.

(b) Automatic Conversion. Each share of Series A Preferred Stock shall automatically be converted, without the payment of any additional consideration, into fully paid and nonassessable shares of Series B Preferred Stock (at the Series A Conversion Rate) and Redeemable Preferred Stock (at the Redeemable Conversion Rate) as of, and in all cases subject to, the closing of the Corporation's first underwritten public offering pursuant to an effective registration statement under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended (the "Securities Act"), provided that (i) such registration statement covers the offer and sale of Common Stock of which the aggregate gross proceeds attributable to sales for the account of the Corporation exceed $40,000,000, at a price per share equal to at least $2.50 (appropriately adjusted for any stock split, combination, reorganization, recapitalization, stock dividend, or similar event), (ii) such Common Stock is listed for trading on either the New York Stock Exchange or the NASDAQ National Market, and (iii) either (A) all shares of Redeemable Preferred Stock that are outstanding or issuable upon the automatic conversion of shares of Series A Preferred Stock pursuant to this Section A.6(b) are redeemed for cash immediately upon and as of the closing of such offering or (B) contemporaneously with such offering cash in an amount sufficient to redeem all shares of Redeemable Preferred Stock that are outstanding or issuable upon the automatic conversion of shares of Series A Preferred Stock pursuant to this Section A.6(b) is segregated and irrevocably held by the Corporation for payment to holders of Redeemable Preferred Stock (a "QPO"). If a closing of a QPO occurs, all outstanding shares of Series A Preferred Stock shall be deemed to have been converted into shares of Series B Preferred Stock and Redeemable Preferred Stock immediately prior to such closing.

(c) Procedure for Conversion.

(i) Voluntary Conversion. Upon election to convert pursuant to Section A.6(a), the relevant holder or holders of Series A Preferred Stock shall surrender the certificate or certificates representing the Series A Preferred Stock being converted to the Corporation, duly assigned or endorsed for transfer to the Corporation (or accompanied by duly executed stock powers relating thereto) or if lost shall deliver an affidavit of loss to the Corporation, at its principal executive office or such other place as the Corporation may from time to time designate by notice to the holders of the Series A Preferred Stock. Upon surrender of such certificate(s) or delivery of an affidavit of loss, the Corporation shall issue and send by hand delivery, by courier or by first class mail (postage prepaid) to the holder thereof or to such holder's designee, at the address designated by such holder, certificates for the number of shares of Series B Preferred Stock and Redeemable Preferred Stock to which such holder shall be entitled upon conversion. The issuance of certificates for Series B Preferred Stock and Redeemable Preferred Stock upon conversion of Series A Preferred Stock shall be deemed effective as of 9:00 a.m. EST on the earlier of the date of written notice delivered pursuant to Section A.6(a) or the date of surrender of such Series A Preferred Stock certificates or delivery of such affidavit of loss and shall be made without charge to the holders of such shares for any issuance tax in respect thereof or other costs incurred by the Corporation in connection with such conversion and the related issuance of such stock.

(ii) Automatic Conversion. As of the closing of a QPO (the "Automatic Conversion Date"), all outstanding shares of Series A Preferred Stock shall be converted into shares of Series B Preferred Stock and Redeemable Preferred Stock without any further action by the holders of such shares and whether or not the certificates representing such shares of Series A Preferred Stock are surrendered to the Corporation. On the Automatic Conversion Date, all rights with respect to the Series A Preferred Stock so converted shall terminate, except any of the rights of the holders thereof upon surrender of their certificate or certificates therefor or delivery of an affidavit of loss thereof to receive certificates for the number of shares of Series B Preferred Stock and Redeemable Preferred Stock into which such shares of Series A Preferred Stock have been converted. If so required by the Corporation, certificates surrendered for conversion shall be endorsed or accompanied by a written instrument or instruments of transfer, in form satisfactory to the Corporation, duly executed by the registered holder or by an attorney-in-fact duly authorized in writing. Upon surrender of such certificates or affidavit of loss, the Corporation shall issue and deliver to such holder, promptly (and in any event in such time as is sufficient to enable such holder to participate in such QPO) at such office and in its name as shown on such surrendered certificate or certificates, a certificate or certificates for the number of shares of Series B Preferred Stock and Redeemable Preferred Stock into which the shares of the Series A Preferred Stock surrendered are convertible on the Automatic Conversion Date.

(d) Reservation of Stock Issuable Upon Conversion. The Corporation shall at all times reserve and keep available out of its authorized but unissued shares of Series B Preferred Stock and Redeemable Preferred Stock, solely for the purpose of effecting the conversion of the shares of Series A Preferred Stock, such number of its shares of Series B Preferred Stock and Redeemable Preferred Stock as shall from time to time be sufficient to effect the conversion of all outstanding shares of Series A Preferred Stock. If at any time the number of authorized but unissued shares of Series B Preferred Stock or Redeemable Preferred Stock is not sufficient to effect the conversion of all outstanding shares of Series A Preferred Stock, the Corporation shall take such corporate action as may be necessary to increase the number of its authorized but unissued shares of Series B Preferred Stock or Redeemable Preferred Stock, as the case may be, to such number of shares as are sufficient for such purpose, and to reserve the appropriate number of shares of Series B Preferred Stock or Redeemable Preferred Stock, as the case may be, for issuance upon such conversion.

(e) No Closing of Transfer Books. The Corporation shall not close its books against the transfer of shares of Series A Preferred Stock in any manner that would interfere with the timely conversion of any shares of Series A Preferred Stock.

7. Adjustments.

(a) Adjustments to the Series A Conversion Price. Except as provided in Section A.7(b) and except in the case of an event described in Section A. 7(c), if and whenever after the date these Amended and Restated Articles of Incorporation are first filed with the Secretary of State of Georgia (the "Filing Date") the Corporation issues or sells, or is, in accordance with this Section A.7(a), deemed to have issued or sold, any shares of Common Stock for a consideration per share less than the Series A Conversion Price in effect immediately prior to such issuance or sale, then, upon such issuance or sale (or deemed issuance or sale), the Series A Conversion Price shall be reduced to the price determined by dividing (x) the sum of (A) the Common Stock Deemed Outstanding (as defined below) immediately prior to such issuance or sale (or deemed issuance or sale) multiplied by the Series A Conversion Price then in effect and (B) the consideration, if any, received by the Corporation upon such issuance or sale (or deemed issuance or sale) by (y) the Common Stock Deemed Outstanding immediately after such issuance or sale (or deemed issuance or sale).

For purposes of this Section A.7(a), the following shall also be applicable:

(i) Issuance of Rights or Options. If the Corporation, at any time after the Filing Date, in any manner grants (whether directly or by assumption in a merger or otherwise) any warrants or other rights to subscribe for or to purchase, or any options for the purchase of, Common Stock or any stock or security convertible into or exchangeable for Common Stock (such warrants, rights or options being called "Options" and such convertible or exchangeable stock or securities being called "Convertible Securities"), in each case for consideration per share (determined as provided in this paragraph and in Section A.7(a)(vi)) less than the Series A Conversion Price then in effect, whether or not such Options or the right to convert or exchange any such Convertible Securities are immediately exercisable, then the total maximum number of shares of Common Stock issuable upon the exercise of such Options, or upon conversion or exchange of the total maximum amount of such Convertible Securities issuable upon exercise of such Options, shall be deemed to have been issued as of the date of granting of such Options, at a price per share equal to the amount determined by dividing (A) the total amount, if any, received or receivable by the Corporation as consideration for the granting of such Options, plus the minimum aggregate amount of additional consideration payable to the Corporation upon the exercise of all such Options, plus, in the case of such Options which relate to Convertible Securities, the minimum aggregate amount of additional consideration, if any, payable upon the issuance or sale of such Convertible Securities and upon the conversion or exchange thereof, by (B) the total maximum number of shares of Common Stock deemed to have been so issued. Except as otherwise provided in Section A.7(a)(iii), no adjustment of the Series A Conversion Price shall be made upon the actual issuance of such Common Stock or of such Convertible Securities upon exercise of such Options or upon the actual issuance of such Common Stock upon conversion or exchange of such Convertible Securities.

(ii) Issuance of Convertible Securities. If the Corporation, at any time after the Filing Date, in any manner issues or sells any Convertible Securities for consideration per share (determined as provided in this paragraph and in Section A.7(a)(vi)) less than the Series A Conversion Price then in effect, whether or not the rights to exchange or convert any such Convertible Securities are immediately exercisable, then the total maximum number of shares of Common Stock issuable upon conversion or exchange of all such Convertible Securities shall be deemed to have been issued as of the date of the issuance or sale of such Convertible Securities, at a price per share equal to the amount determined by dividing (A) the total amount, if any, received or receivable by the Corporation as consideration for the issuance or sale of such Convertible Securities, plus the minimum aggregate amount of additional consideration, if any, payable to the Corporation upon the conversion or exchange thereof, by (B) the total maximum number of shares of Common Stock deemed to have been so issued; provided, that (1) except as otherwise provided in Section A.7(a)(iii), no adjustment of the Series A Conversion Price shall be made upon the actual issuance of such Common Stock upon conversion or exchange of such Convertible Securities and (2) if any such issuance or sale of such Convertible Securities is made upon exercise of any Options to purchase any such Convertible Securities, no further adjustment of the Series A Conversion Price shall be made by reason of such issuance or sale.

(iii) Change in Option Price or Conversion Rate: Termination of Options or Convertible Securities. If a change occurs in (A) the maximum number of shares of Common Stock issuable in connection with any Option referred to in Section A.7(a)(i) or any Convertible Securities referred to in Section A.7(a)(i) or (ii), (B) the purchase price provided for in any Option referred to in Section A.7(a)(i), (C) the additional consideration, if any, payable upon the conversion or exchange of any Convertible Securities referred to in Section A.7(a)(i) or (ii) or (D) the rate at which Convertible Securities referred to in Section A.7(a)(i) or (ii) are convertible into or exchangeable for Common Stock (in each case, other than in connection with an event described in Section A.7(b)), then the Series A Conversion Price in effect at the time of such event shall be adjusted to the Series A Conversion Price that would have been in effect at such time had such Options or Convertible Securities that remain outstanding provided for such changed maximum number of shares, purchase price, additional consideration or conversion rate, as the case may be, at the time initially granted, issued or sold, but only if as a result of such adjustment the Series A Conversion Price then in effect is thereby reduced. Upon the termination of any such Option or any such right to convert or exchange such Convertible Securities, the Series A Conversion Price then in effect hereunder shall be increased to the Series A Conversion Price that would have been in effect at the time of such termination had such Option or Convertible Securities, to the extent outstanding immediately prior to such termination (i.e., to the extent that fewer than the number of shares of Common Stock deemed to have been issued in connection with such Option or Convertible Securities were actually issued), never been issued or been issued at such higher price, as the case may be.

(iv) Stock Dividends. If the Corporation declares a dividend or makes any other distribution upon any stock of the Corporation payable in Common Stock, Options or Convertible Securities, any Common Stock, Options or Convertible Securities, as the ease may be, issuable in payment of such dividend or distribution shall be deemed to have been issued or sold without consideration, and the Series A Conversion Price shall be adjusted pursuant to this Section A.7(a); provided, that no adjustment shall be made to the Series A Conversion Price as a result of such dividend or distribution if the holders of the shares of Series A Preferred Stock are entitled to, and do, receive such dividend or distribution in accordance with Section A.3; and, provided, further, that if any adjustment is made to the Series A Conversion Price as a result of the declaration of a dividend and such dividend is not effected, the Series A Conversion Price shall be appropriately readjusted.

(v) Other Dividends and Distributions. If the Corporation at any time or from time to time after the Filing Date makes or issues, or fixes a record date for the determination of holders of Common Stock entitled to receive, a dividend or other distribution payable in securities or other property of the Corporation other than shares of Common Stock, then and in each such event provision shall be made so that the holders of the outstanding shares of Series A Preferred Stock shall receive upon conversion of the Series B Preferred Stock received upon the conversion of such Series A Preferred Stock, in addition to the number of shares of Common Stock receivable upon conversion of such Series B Preferred Stock, the amount of such other securities of the Corporation or the value of such other property that they would have received had the Series A Preferred Stock been converted into Series B Preferred Stock and Redeemable Preferred Stock and immediately thereafter converted such Series B Preferred Stock into Common Stock on the date of such event and had such holders thereafter, during the period from the date of such event to and including the conversion date, retained such securities or other property receivable by them during such period giving application to all adjustments called for during such period under Section A.7 with respect to the rights of the holders of the outstanding shares of Series A Preferred Stock; provided that no such adjustment shall be made if the holders of Series A Preferred Stock simultaneously receive a dividend or other distribution of such securities or other property in an amount equal to the amount of such securities or other property as they would have received if all outstanding shares of Series A Preferred Stock had been converted into Series B Preferred Stock and Redeemable Preferred Stock and immediately thereafter such Series B Preferred Stock was converted into Common Stock on the date of such event.

(vi) Consideration for Stock. In case any shares of Common Stock arc issued or sold, or deemed issued or sold, for cash, the consideration received therefor shall be deemed to be the amount received or to be received by the Corporation therefor (determined with respect to deemed issuances and sales in connection with Options and Convertible Securities in accordance with clause (A) of Section A.7(a)(i) or Section A.7(a)(ii), as appropriate) determined in the manner set forth below in this Section A.7(a)(vi). In case any shares of Common Stock are issued or sold, or deemed issued or sold, for a consideration other than cash, the amount of the consideration other than cash received by the Corporation shall be deemed to be the fair value of such consideration received or to be received by the Corporation (determined with respect to deemed issuances and sales in connection with Options and Convertible Securities in accordance with clause (A) of Section A.7(a)(i) or Section A.7(a)(ii), as appropriate) as determined in good faith by the Board of Directors of the Corporation and a Series A Two Thirds Interest. If any Options are issued in connection with the issuance and sale of other securities of the Corporation, together comprising one integral transaction in which no specific consideration is allocated to such Options by the parties thereto, such Options shall be deemed to have been issued for such consideration as determined in good faith by the Board of Directors of the Corporation and a Series A Two Thirds Interest provided that if the Corporation and the holders of a Series A Two Thirds Interest are unable to reach agreement as to the value of such consideration, then the value thereof shall be determined by an independent appraisal by a mutually agreed to investment banker, the fees of which shall be paid by the Corporation.

(vii) Record Date. If the Corporation takes a record of the holders of its Common Stock for the purpose of entitling them (A) to receive a dividend or other distribution payable in Common Stock, Options or Convertible Securities or (B) to subscribe for or purchase Common Stock, Options or Convertible Securities, then such record date shall be deemed to be the date of the issuance or sale of the shares of Common Stock deemed to have been issued or sold upon the declaration of such dividend or the making of such other distribution or the date of the granting of such right of subscription or purchase, as the case may be.

(viii) Treasury Shares. The number of shares of Common Stock outstanding at any given time shall not include shares owned or held by or for the account of the Corporation; provided, that the disposition of any such shares shall be considered an issuance or sale of Common Stock for the purpose of this Section A.7.

(ix) Other Issuances or Sales: Indeterminable Amounts. In calculating any adjustment to the Series A Conversion Price pursuant to this Section A.7(a): (A) any shares of Common Stock, Options or Convertible Securities issued or sold (or deemed issued or sold pursuant to Section A.7(a)(i) or Section A.7(a)(ii) above)

after the Filing Date and prior to the effective date of such adjustment, the issuance or sale (or deemed issuance or sale) of which did not result in any adjustment to the Series A Conversion Price under this Section A.7(a), shall be deemed to have been issued or sold as part of the issuance or sale (or deemed issuance or sale) giving rise to such adjustment for the same consideration per share as the Corporation received in the issuance or sale (or deemed issuance or sale) giving rise to such adjustment, and (B) any Options or Convertible Securities that provide, as of the effective date of such adjustment, for the issuance upon exercise or conversion thereof of an indeterminable number of shares of Common Stock shall (together with the shares of Common Stock issuable upon exercise or conversion thereof) be disregarded for purposes of the calculation and what shares are deemed to be outstanding; provided, that at such time as a number of shares of Common Stock issuable upon exercise or conversion of such Options or Convertible Securities becomes determinable, then the Series A Conversion Price shall be adjusted as provided in Section A.7(a)(iii) above.

(x) Common Stock Deemed Outstanding. For purposes of this Section A.7, the term "Common Stock Deemed Outstanding" shall mean, at any time, the sum of (A) the number of shares of Common Stock outstanding immediately prior to the Filing Date (including for this purpose all shares of Common Stock issuable upon exercise or conversion of any Options or Convertible Securities outstanding immediately prior to the Filing Date), plus (B) the number of shares of Common Stock issued or sold (or deemed issued or sold) after the Filing Date, the issuance or sale of which resulted in an adjustment to the Series A Conversion Price pursuant to Section A.7(a), plus (C) the number of shares of Common Stock deemed issued or sold pursuant to Section A.7(a)(ix)(A) above; provided, that Common Stock Deemed Outstanding shall not include the Series A Preferred Stock, the Series B Preferred Stock, any shares of Common Stock issuable upon conversion of the Series B Preferred Stock, or any shares of Common Stock issuable upon the conversion of Series A Preferred Stock into Series B Preferred Stock and Redeemable Preferred Stock and the conversion of such Series B Preferred Stock immediately thereafter.

(b) Certain Issues of Common Stock Excepted. Anything herein to the contrary notwithstanding, the Corporation shall not be required to make any adjustment of the Series A Conversion Price in the case of the issuance from and after the Filing Date of (i) shares of Series B Preferred Stock and Redeemable Preferred Stock upon conversion of shares of Series A Preferred Stock; (ii) shares of Common Stock upon conversion of shares of Series B Preferred Stock; (iii) shares of Common Stock upon exercise of the warrants held by TA Subordinated Debt Fund, LP., TA Investors II, L.P. and CGW Southeast Partners III, L.P. or their successors and assigns; (iv) shares of Series A Preferred Stock upon the exercise of options to purchase Series A Preferred Stock held by certain management of the Corporation as of the date hereof and (v) shares of Common Stock or options therefor to directors, officers, employees or consultants of the Corporation in connection with their service as directors of the Corporation, their employment by the Corporation or their retention as consultants by the Corporation, in each case authorized by the Board of Directors and issued pursuant to the Corporation's 2004 Stock Option and Grant Plan ("Excluded Shares").

(c) Subdivision or Combination of Common Stock. If the Corporation shall at any time after the Closing Date subdivide its outstanding shares of Common Stock into a greater number of shares (by any stock split, stock dividend or otherwise), then the Series A Conversion Price in effect immediately prior to such subdivision shall be proportionately reduced, and, conversely, if the Corporation shall at any time after the Closing Date combine its outstanding shares of Common Stock into a smaller number of shares (by any reverse stock split or otherwise), then the Series A Conversion Price in effect immediately prior to such combination shall be proportionately increased.

(d) Reorganization or Reclassification. If any capital reorganization or reclassification of the capital stock of the Corporation shall be effected in such a way that holders of Series B Preferred Stock or Redeemable Preferred Stock shall be entitled to receive stock, securities or assets with respect to or in exchange for such shares of stock, then, as a condition of such reorganization or reclassification, lawful and adequate provisions shall be made whereby each holder of a share or shares of Series A Preferred Stock shall thereupon have the right to receive, upon the basis and upon the terms and conditions specified herein and in lieu of the shares of Series B Preferred Stock or Redeemable Preferred Stock immediately theretofore receivable upon the conversion of such shares of Series A Preferred Stock, such shares of stock, securities or assets as may be issued or payable with respect to or in exchange for a number of outstanding shares of such Series B Preferred Stock or Redeemable Preferred Stock, as applicable, equal to the number of shares of such Series B Preferred Stock or Redeemable Preferred Stock immediately theretofore receivable upon such conversions had such reorganization or reclassification not taken place, and in any such case appropriate provisions shall be made with respect to the rights and interests of such holder to the end that the provisions hereof (including, without limitation, provisions for adjustments of the Series A Conversion Price and Redeemable Conversion Rate (as defined herein)) shall thereafter be applicable, as nearly as may be, in relation to any shares of stock, securities or assets thereafter deliverable upon the exercise of such conversion rights.

(e) Adjustment for Merger or Reorganization, etc. Unless the holders of Series A Preferred Stock elect redemption in connection with an Extraordinary Transaction pursuant to Section A.5 hereof (in which case Section A.5 shall apply), (A) upon any Extraordinary Transaction each share of Series A Preferred Stock shall thereafter be convertible (or shall be converted into a security that shall be convertible) into Redeemable Preferred Stock and the kind and amount of shares of stock or other securities or property to which a holder of the number of shares of Series B Preferred Stock of the Corporation deliverable upon conversion of such Series A Preferred Stock would have been entitled upon such Extraordinary Transaction; and, in such case, appropriate adjustment (as determined in good faith by the Board of Directors) shall be made in the application of the provisions in Section A.7 set forth with respect to the rights and interests thereafter of the holders of the Series A Preferred Stock, to the end that the provisions set forth in Section A.7 (including provisions with respect to changes in and other adjustments of the Series A Conversion Price) shall thereafter be applicable, as nearly as possible, in relation to any shares of stock or other property thereafter deliverable upon the conversion of the Series A Preferred Stock and (B) all holders of Series A Preferred Stock shall be deemed to have elected to so participate in such Extraordinary Transaction as provided in this Section A.7(e) and such election shall bind all holders of the Series A Preferred Stock. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained herein, the holders of shares of Series A Preferred Stock shall have the right to elect by vote of a Series A Two Thirds Interest to give effect to the conversion and other rights contained in Section A.6 (or the rights contained in Section A.4, if applicable) instead of giving effect to the provisions contained in this Section A. 7(e) with respect to the shares of Series A Preferred Stock owned by them.

8. Covenants. The Corporation shall not, and shall not permit any affiliate or subsidiary of the Corporation (each, a "Subsidiary") to (in any case, by merger, consolidation, operation of law or otherwise), without first having provided written notice of such proposed action to each holder of outstanding shares of Series A Preferred Stock and having obtained the affirmative vote or written consent of the holders of a Series A Two Thirds Interest:

(a) declare or pay any dividends other than dividends on the Series A Preferred Stock as provided in Section A.3 or the Redeemable Preferred Stock as provided in Section C.3 or make any distributions of cash, property or securities of the Corporation or any Subsidiary in respect of its capital stock, or apply any of its assets to the redemption, retirement, purchase or other acquisition of its capital stock, directly or indirectly, through subsidiaries or otherwise, except for (i) the redemption of Series A Preferred Stock pursuant to and as provided in these Amended and Restated Articles of Incorporation, (ii) the repurchase of Excluded Shares described in Section A.7(b)(ii) above, (iii) the repurchase of shares under that certain Shareholders Agreement, dated as of May 28, 2004, among the Corporation and the shareholders of the Corporation or (iv) dividends or distributions payable solely in shares of Common Stock;

(b) reclassify any capital stock in a manner that alters the designations, preferences, powers and/or the relative, participating, optional or other special rights, or the restrictions provided for the benefit of, the Series A Preferred Stock;

(c) authorize or issue, or obligate itself to issue, any convertible debt or other debt with any equity participation, any securities convertible into or exercisable or exchangeable for any equity securities, or any other equity security, in any case ranking senior to or on parity with the Series A Preferred Stock as to liquidation, sale or merger preferences, redemption, or dividend rights, or with any class or special voting rights, or permit any Subsidiary of the Corporation to issue any capital stock, or securities convertible into or exercisable or exchangeable for capital stock or other securities of such Subsidiary, to any person or entity other than the Corporation;

(d) amend, alter or repeal (whether by merger, consolidation, operation of law, or otherwise) any provision of, or add any provision to, these Amended and Restated Articles of Incorporation (including, without limitation, increasing the total number of shares of Preferred Stock that the Corporation shall have the authority to issue), the bylaws of the Corporation as in effect on the Closing Date or the governing documents of any Subsidiary;

(e) effect any Liquidation Event or Extraordinary Transaction or any other event that would constitute a Liquidation Event or Extraordinary Transaction of any Subsidiary if the references to "Corporation" in such definitions were instead references to "Subsidiary";

(f) effect the sale, transfer or license of any assets of the Corporation or any Subsidiary to any person or entity other than the Corporation or a wholly-owned Subsidiary of the Corporation, other than in the ordinary course of business;

(g) incur any indebtedness in excess of $175,000,000;

(h) take any other action not described in Section A.8(a)-(g) if such action could adversely alter or change the preferences, rights, privileges or powers of, or the restrictions provided for the benefit of, the Series A Preferred Stock; or

(i) enter into any agreement to do any of the foregoing that is not expressly made conditional on obtaining the affirmative vote or written consent of a Series A Two Thirds Interest.

Further, the Corporation shall not, by amendment of these Amended and Restated Articles of Incorporation (by way of merger, operation of law, or otherwise) or through any Liquidation Event or other reorganization, transfer of assets, consolidation, merger, dissolution, issuance or sale of securities, agreement or any other voluntary action, avoid or seek to avoid the observance or performance of any of the terms to be observed or performed hereunder by the Corporation and shall at all times in good faith assist in the carrying out of all the provisions of this Article IV and in the taking of all such action as may be necessary or appropriate in order to protect the rights of the holders of the Series A Preferred Stock or Redeemable Preferred Stock against impairment. Any successor to the Corporation shall agree in writing, as a condition to such succession, to carry out and observe the obligations of the Corporation hereunder with respect to the Series A Preferred Stock and Redeemable Preferred Stock.

9. Notices.

(a) Liquidation Events, Extraordinary Transactions, Etc. In the event (i) the Corporation establishes a record date to determine the holders of any class of securities who are entitled to receive any dividend or other distribution or who are entitled to vote at a meeting (or by written consent) in connection with any of the transactions identified in clause (ii) hereof, or (ii) any Liquidation Event, Extraordinary Transaction, QPO or any other public offering of the Corporation's securities becomes reasonably likely to occur, the Corporation shall mail or cause to be mailed by first class mail (postage prepaid) to each holder of Series A Preferred Stock at least thirty (30) days prior to such record date specified therein or the expected effective date of any such transaction, whichever is earlier, a notice specifying (A) the date of such record date for the purpose of such dividend or distribution or meeting or consent and a description of such dividend or distribution or the action to be taken at such meeting or by such consent, (B) the date on which any such Liquidation Event, Extraordinary Transaction, QPO or other public offering is expected to become effective, and (C) the date on which the books of the Corporation shall close or a record shall be taken with respect to any such event. Such notice shall be accompanied by a certificate prepared by the chief financial officer of the Corporation describing in detail (1) the facts of such transaction, (2) the amount(s) per share of Series A Preferred Stock, Series B Preferred Stock, Redeemable Preferred Stock or Common Stock each holder of Series A Preferred Stock would receive under all possible elections, options etc. available to holders of Series A Preferred Stock pursuant to the applicable provisions of these Amended and Restated Articles of Incorporation, and (3) the facts upon which such amounts were determined.

(b) Adjustments: Calculations. Upon the occurrence of each adjustment or readjustment of the Series A Conversion Price pursuant to Section A.7, the Corporation at its expense shall promptly compute such adjustment or readjustment in accordance with the terms hereof and prepare and furnish to each holder of Series A Preferred Stock a certificate setting forth in detail (i) such adjustment or readjustment, (ii) the Series A Conversion Price before and after such adjustment or readjustment, and (iii) the number of shares of Series B Preferred Stock and Redeemable Preferred Stock and the amount, if any, of other property which at the time would be received upon the conversion of such holder's shares of Series A Preferred Stock. All such calculations shall be made to the nearest cent or to the nearest one hundredth (1/100) of a share as the case may be.

(c) Waiver of Notice. The holder or holders of a Series A Two Thirds Interest may, at any time upon written notice to the Corporation, waive any notice or certificate delivery provisions specified herein for the benefit of such holders, and any such waiver shall be binding upon all holders of such securities.

10. No Reissuance of Series A Preferred Stock. No share or shares of Series A Preferred Stock acquired by the Corporation by reason of redemption, purchase, conversion or otherwise shall be reissued, and all such shares shall be canceled, retired and eliminated from the shares that the Corporation is authorized to issue.

11. Contractual Rights of Holders. The various provisions set forth herein for the benefit of the holders of the Series A Preferred Stock shall be deemed contract rights enforceable by them, including, without limitation, one or more actions for specific performance.

B. SERIES B CONVERTIBLE PREFERRED STOCK

1. Designation. A total of 90,000,000 shares of the Corporation's Preferred Stock shall be designated as a series known as Series B Convertible Preferred Stock (the "Series B Preferred Stock").

2. Voting. Each outstanding share of Series B Preferred Stock shall be entitled to a number of votes equal to the number of shares of Common Stock into which such share of Series B Preferred Stock is then convertible pursuant to Section B.6 hereof as of the record date for the vote or written consent of shareholders, as applicable. Each holder of outstanding shares of Series B Preferred Stock shall be entitled to notice of any shareholders meeting in accordance with the by-laws of the Corporation and shall vote with holders of the Common Stock and Series A Preferred Stock, voting together as single class, upon all matters submitted to a vote of shareholders, except those matters required to be submitted to a class or series vote pursuant to the terms hereof (including Section B.8) or by law.

3. Dividends. The holders of shares of Series B Preferred Stock shall be entitled to receive out of funds legally available therefor, dividends at such times and in such amounts as to be received by holders of outstanding shares of Common Stock, pro rata based on the number of shares of Common Stock held by each, determined on an as-if-converted basis (assuming full conversion of all such Series B Preferred Stock). Such dividends shall not be cumulative.

Notwithstanding the foregoing, no dividend shall be declared or paid unless and until the Senior Debt and the Subordinated Debt have been paid in full, including any permitted refinancings thereof as provided for in and limited by the Debt Subordination Agreement; unless such dividends and payments are otherwise permitted under the terms of the Equity Subordination Agreement.

4. Liquidation: Merger, etc.

(a) Series B Liquidation Preference. Upon any Liquidation Event, each holder of outstanding shares of Series B Preferred Stock shall be entitled to be paid in cash, before any amount is paid or distributed to the holders of the Common Stock or any other capital stock ranking on liquidation junior to the Series B Preferred Stock (the Common Stock and such other capital stock being referred to collectively in this Section B as "Junior Stock"), an amount per share of Series B Preferred Stock equal to (A) $0.50 (the "Series B Original Issue Price") (such amount to be adjusted appropriately for stock splits, stock dividends, recapitalizations and the like) plus (B) any accrued or declared but unpaid dividends on such shares of Series B Preferred Stock (the Series B Original Issue Price plus such accrued or declared dividends are referred to herein as the "Series B Preference Amount"). If the amounts available for distribution by the Corporation to holders of Series B Preferred Stock upon a Liquidation Event are not sufficient to pay the aggregate Series B Preference Amount due to such holders, such holders shall share ratably in any distribution in connection with such Liquidation Event in proportion to the full respective preferential amounts to which they are entitled. The Series A Preferred Stock, Series B Preferred Stock and Redeemable Preferred Stock (as hereafter defined) shall be pari passu (based on liquidation preferences) with respect to any Liquidation Event (or deemed Liquidation Event).

Notwithstanding the preceding paragraph, if upon such Liquidation Event the holders of outstanding shares of Series B Preferred Stock would receive more than the aggregate amount to be received under the preceding paragraph above in the event all of their shares of Series B Preferred Stock were converted into shares of Common Stock pursuant to the provisions of Section B.6(a) hereof immediately prior to such Liquidation Event and such shares of Common Stock received a liquidating distribution or distributions from the Corporation, then each holder of outstanding shares of Series B Preferred Stock in connection with such Liquidation Event shall be entitled to be paid in cash, in lieu of the payments described in the preceding paragraph, an amount per share of Series B Preferred Stock equal to such amount as would have been payable in respect of each share of Common Stock (including any fractions thereof) issuable upon conversion of such share of Series B Preferred Stock had such share of Series B Preferred Stock been converted to Common Stock immediately prior to such Liquidation Event pursuant to the provisions of Section B.6 hereof.

The provisions of this Section B.4 shall not in any way limit the right of the holders of Series B Preferred Stock to elect to convert their shares of Series B Preferred Stock into shares of Common Stock pursuant to Section B.6 prior to or in connection with any Liquidation Event.

(b) Remaining Assets. After the payment of all preferential amounts required to be paid to the holders of the Series B Preferred Stock and any other class or series of stock of the Corporation ranking on liquidation on a parity with the Series B Preferred Stock, the remaining assets and funds of the Corporation available for distribution to its shareholders shall be distributed among the holders of shares of Junior Stock then outstanding.

5. Redemption

(a) Extraordinary Transactions. Upon the election of the holders) of not less than 66 2/3% of the voting power of the outstanding shares of Series B Preferred Stock (a “Series B Two Thirds Interest”) to have the Series B Preferred Stock redeemed or otherwise to participate in connection with an Extraordinary Transaction, then, as a part of and as a condition to the effectiveness of such Extraordinary Transaction, unless a particular holder of Series B Preferred Stock elects to convert its shares of Series B Preferred Stock into Common Stock in accordance with the voluntary conversion provisions of Section B.6 prior to the effective date of such Extraordinary Transaction, the Corporation shall either (1) if redemption is elected, on the effective date of such Extraordinary Transaction, redeem all (but not less than all) of the then outstanding shares of Series B Preferred Stock for an amount equal to the aggregate Series B Preference Amount, such amount to be payable in cash (subject to the provisions of the immediately following paragraph) or, at the election of such holder or holders, in the same form of consideration as is paid to the holders of Common Stock in such Extraordinary Transaction (valued pursuant to Section B.5(b)), and no payment shall be made to the holders of the Common Stock or any other Junior Stock unless such amount is paid in full or (2) if such holder or holders elect to participate in such Extraordinary Transaction (such as a merger) on terms acceptable to them, take such actions as shall be sufficient to facilitate such participation by all (but not less than all) of the then outstanding shares of Series B Preferred Stock (including in the case of a merger executing a merger agreement with an exchange ratio reflecting the provisions hereof) on terms giving effect to such holders' right to receive the aggregate Series B Preference Amount as a preferential amount, in which event such amount shall be paid in cash or, at the election of such Two-Thirds Interest, in the same form of consideration as is paid to the holders of Common Stock in such Extraordinary Transaction, on a pari passu basis with all other classes of capital stock of the Corporation ranking on a parity with the Series B Preferred Stock which are participating in such Extraordinary Transaction, based on the respective preferential amounts to which each such class is entitled, but in preference to and before any amount is paid or otherwise distributed to the holders of the Common Stock or any other Junior Stock, in which event such preferential amount shall be deemed to have been distributed to the holders of the Series B Preferred Stock as if in a Liquidation Event.

Notwithstanding the foregoing, if, upon any Extraordinary Transaction in which the holder or holders of not less than a Series B Two Thirds Interest elect to be redeemed or to participate, the holders of the outstanding shares of Series B Preferred Stock would receive more than the aggregate Series B Preference Amount in the event their shares were converted into Common Stock immediately prior to such Extraordinary Transaction and all of such shares of Common Stock were purchased or otherwise participated in such Extraordinary Transaction, then each holder of Series B Preferred Stock shall receive from the Corporation or the relevant purchaser, as applicable, upon the election of the holder or holders of not less than a Series B Two Thirds Interest of the outstanding shares of Series B Preferred Stock to redeem or otherwise participate in such Extraordinary Transaction, shall (1) share with the holders of the Common Stock and any other stock ranking with regard to dividend rights, rights upon a Liquidation Event or an Extraordinary Transaction, or redemption rights junior to the Series B Preferred Stock in the proceeds of such Extraordinary Transaction or (2) if such holder or holders so elect, receive an amount equal to the amount per share that would be paid if the shares of Common Stock receivable upon conversion of the Series B Preferred Stock were being acquired in the Extraordinary Transaction at the same price per share as is paid for Common Stock, which excess amount shall be paid in the same form of consideration as is paid to holders of Common Stock, as if each share of Series B Preferred Stock had been converted into the number of shares of Common Stock issuable upon the conversion of such share of Series B Preferred Stock in accordance with Section B.6 hereof immediately prior to such Extraordinary Transaction.

The Corporation shall not participate in any Extraordinary Transaction or make or agree to have made any payments to the holders of shares of Common Stock or any other stock ranking junior to the Series B Preferred Stock or any other class or series of capital stock of the Corporation ranking in an Extraordinary Transaction on a parity with the Series B Preferred Stock unless the holders of Series B Preferred shall have received the full preferential amount to which they are entitled hereunder in an Extraordinary Transaction.

The foregoing election shall be made by such holders giving the Corporation and each other holder of Series B Preferred not less than five (5) days' prior written notice, which notice shall set forth the date for such redemption or participation in an Extraordinary Transaction, as applicable. The provisions of this Section B.5 shall not in any way limit the right of the holders of Series B Preferred Stock to elect to convert their shares into shares of Common Stock pursuant to Section B.6 prior to or in connection with any Extraordinary Transaction.

Notwithstanding the foregoing, the Series B Preferred Stock may not be redeemed or otherwise participate in connection with an Extraordinary Transaction, unless and until the Senior Debt and the Subordinated Debt have been paid in full, including any permitted refinancings thereof as provided for in and limited by the terms of the Debt Subordination Agreement.

(b) Valuation of Distribution Securities. Any securities or other consideration to be delivered to the holders of the Series B Preferred Stock if so elected in connection with a redemption or upon any Extraordinary Transaction in accordance with the terms hereof shall be valued as follows:

(i) If traded on a nationally recognized securities exchange or inter-dealer quotation system, the value shall be deemed to be the average of the closing prices of the securities on such exchange or system over the 30-day period ending three (3) business days prior to the closing;

(ii) If traded over-the-counter, the value shall be deemed to be the average of the closing bid prices over the 30-day period ending three (3) business days prior to the closing; and

(iii) If there is no active public market, the value shall be the fair market value thereof, as mutually determined by the Corporation and the holders of not less than a Series B Two Thirds Interest, provided that if the Corporation and the holders of a Series B Two Thirds Interest are unable to reach agreement, then by independent appraisal by a mutually agreed to investment banker, the fees of which shall be paid by the Corporation.

(c) Notice by Corporation. Not less than fifteen (15) days prior to the occurrence of any Extraordinary Transaction, the Corporation shall furnish each holder of Series B Preferred Stock notice in accordance with Section B.9 hereof, together with a certificate prepared by the chief financial officer of the Corporation describing in detail all material terms of such Extraordinary Transaction, including without limitation the consideration to be delivered in connection with such Extraordinary Transaction, the valuation of the Corporation at the time of such Extraordinary Transaction and the identities of the parties to the Extraordinary Transaction.

(d) Redemption Price and Date. Upon the election of the holders of not less than a Series B Two Thirds Interest to cause the Corporation to redeem the Series B Preferred Stock or otherwise to participate in an Extraordinary Transaction pursuant to Section B.5(a), all holders of Series B Preferred Stock shall be deemed to have elected to cause the Series B Preferred Stock to be so redeemed or to so participate. The date upon which a redemption or participation in a transaction shall actually occur in accordance with Section B.5(a) shall be referred to as a "Series B Redemption Date." The redemption price for each share of Series B Preferred Stock redeemed or acquired pursuant to this Section B.5 shall be the per share Series B Preference Amount or such greater per share amount as may be payable pursuant to the second paragraph to Section B.5(a), if applicable (in either case, the "Series B Redemption Price"); provided, however, that if at the Series B Redemption Date shares of Series B Preferred Stock are unable to be redeemed (as contemplated by Section B.5(e)), then holders of Series B Preferred Stock shall also be entitled to interest and dividends pursuant to Sections B.5(f) and (h). The aggregate Series B Redemption Price shall be payable in immediately available funds by certified check or wire transfer to the respective holders of the Series B Preferred Stock on the Series B Redemption Date (subject to Section B.5(e)) except to the extent contemplated by Section B.5(a). Upon any redemption or purchase of the Series B Preferred Stock as provided herein, holders of fractional shares shall receive proportionate amounts in respect thereof. Until the aggregate Series B Redemption Price has been paid for all shares of Series B Preferred Stock being redeemed or purchased: (A) no dividend whatsoever shall be paid or declared, and no distribution shall be made, on any capital stock of the Corporation; and (B) except as permitted by Section B.8(a), no shares of capital stock of the Corporation (other than the Series B Preferred Stock in accordance with this Section B.5 and Series A Preferred Stock in accordance with Section A.5) shall be purchased, redeemed or acquired by the Corporation and no monies shall be paid into or set aside or made available for a sinking fund for the purchase, redemption or acquisition thereof.

(e) Insufficient Funds. If the funds of the Corporation legally available to redeem shares of Series B Preferred Stock on the Series B Redemption Date are insufficient to redeem the total number of such shares required to be redeemed on such date, the Corporation shall (i) take any action necessary or appropriate, to the extent reasonably within its control and permissible under applicable law, to remove promptly any impediments to its ability to redeem the total number of shares of Series B Preferred Stock required to be so redeemed and (ii) in any event, use any funds legally available to redeem the maximum possible number of such shares from the holders of such shares to be redeemed in proportion to the respective number of such shares that otherwise would have been redeemed if all such shares had been redeemed in full. At any time thereafter when additional funds of the Corporation are legally available to redeem such shares of Series B Preferred Stock, the Corporation shall immediately use such funds to redeem the balance of the shares that the Corporation becomes obligated to redeem on the Series B Redemption Date (but that it has not yet redeemed) at the Series B Redemption Price.

(f) Interest. If any shares of Series B Preferred Stock are not redeemed on the Series B Redemption Date for any reason, all such unredeemed shares shall remain outstanding and entitled to all the rights and preferences provided herein, and the Corporation shall pay interest on the Series B Redemption Price and any dividend accruing after the Series B Redemption applicable to such unredeemed shares at an aggregate per annum rate equal to ten percent (10%), with such interest to accrue daily in arrears and to be compounded quarterly; provided that in no event shall such interest exceed the Maximum Permitted Rate, provided that the Corporation shall make all filings necessary to raise such rate to the Maximum Permitted Rate. In the event that fulfillment of any provision hereof results in such rate of interest being in excess of the Maximum Permitted Rate, the amount of interest required to be paid hereunder shall automatically be reduced to eliminate such excess; provided, that any subsequent increase in the Maximum Permitted Rate shall be retroactively effective to the applicable Series B Redemption Date to the extent permitted by law.

(g) Dividend After Redemption Date. In the event that shares of Series B Preferred Stock required to be redeemed are not redeemed and continue to be outstanding, such shares shall continue to be entitled to dividends thereon as provided in Section B.3 until the date on which the Corporation actually redeems such shares.

(h) Surrender of Certificates. Each holder of shares of Series B Preferred Stock to be redeemed shall surrender the certificate or certificates representing such shares to the Corporation, duly assigned or endorsed for transfer to the Corporation (or accompanied by duly executed stock powers relating thereto), or, in the event the certificate or certificates are lost, stolen or missing, shall deliver an affidavit of loss, at the principal executive office of the Corporation or such other place as the Corporation may from time to time designate by notice to the holders of Series B Preferred Stock, and each surrendered certificate shall be canceled and retired and the Corporation shall thereafter make payment of the applicable Series B Redemption Price in immediately available funds by certified check or wire transfer; provided that if the Corporation has insufficient funds legally available to redeem all shares of Series B Preferred Stock required to be redeemed, each such holder shall, in addition to receiving the payment of the portion of the aggregate Series B Redemption Price that the Corporation is not legally prohibited from paying to such holder by certified check or wire transfer, receive a new stock certificate for those shares of Series B Preferred Stock not so redeemed.

6. Conversion. The holders of Series B Preferred Stock shall have the following conversion rights:

(a) Voluntary Conversion. Upon the written election of a Series B Two Thirds Interest and without payment of any additional consideration, all (but not less than all) the outstanding shares of Series B Preferred Stock shall be converted into such number of fully paid and nonassessable shares of Common Stock as is determined by dividing (i) the Series B Original Issue Price for each such share plus any accrued or declared but unpaid dividends on each such share by (ii) the Series B Conversion Price at the time in effect for such Series B Preferred Stock (the “Series B Conversion Rate”). Upon such election, all holders of the Series B Preferred Stock shall be deemed to have elected to voluntarily convert all outstanding shares of Series B Preferred Stock into shares of Common Stock pursuant to this Section B.6(a) and such election shall bind all holders of Series B Preferred Stock. The initial “Series B Conversion Price” per share for shares of Series B Preferred Stock shall be the Series B Original Issue Price, subject to adjustment as set forth in Section B.7. Such conversion may occur at any time after the date of issuance of such shares of Series B Preferred Stock.

(b) Automatic Conversion. Each share of Series B Preferred Stock shall automatically be converted, without the payment of any additional consideration, into fully paid and nonassessable shares of Common Stock (at the Series B Conversion Rate) as of, and in all cases subject to, the closing of a QPO. If a closing of a QPO occurs, all outstanding shares of Series B Preferred Stock shall be deemed to have been converted into shares of Common Stock immediately prior to such closing.

(c) Procedure for Conversion.

(i) Voluntary Conversion. Upon election to convert pursuant to Section B.6(a), the relevant holder or holders of Series B Preferred Stock shall surrender the certificate or certificates representing the Series B Preferred Stock being converted to the Corporation, duly assigned or endorsed for transfer to the Corporation (or accompanied by duly executed stock powers relating thereto) or if lost shall deliver an affidavit of loss to the Corporation, at its principal executive office or such other place as the Corporation may from time to time designate by notice to the holders of the Series B Preferred Stock. Upon surrender of such certificate(s) or delivery of an affidavit of loss, the Corporation shall issue and send by hand delivery, by courier or by first class mail (postage prepaid) to the holder thereof or to such holder's designee, at the address designated by such holder, certificates for the number of shares of Common Stock to which such holder shall be entitled upon conversion. The issuance of certificates for Common Stock upon conversion of Series B Preferred Stock shall be deemed effective as of 9:00 a.m. EST on the earlier of the date of written notice delivered pursuant to Section B.6(a) or the date of surrender of such Series B Preferred Stock certificates or delivery of such affidavit of loss and shall be made without charge to the holders of such shares for any issuance tax in respect thereof or other costs incurred by the Corporation in connection with such conversion and the related issuance of such stock.

(ii) Automatic Conversion. As of the Automatic Conversion Date, all outstanding shares of Series B Preferred Stock shall be converted into shares of Common Stock without any further action by the holders of such shares and whether or not the certificates representing such shares of Series B Preferred Stock are surrendered to the Corporation. On the Automatic Conversion Date, all rights with respect to the Series B Preferred Stock so converted shall terminate, except any of the rights of the holders thereof upon surrender of their certificate or certificates therefor or delivery of an affidavit of loss thereof to receive certificates for the number of shares of Common Stock into which such shares of Series B Preferred Stock have been converted. If so required by the Corporation, certificates surrendered for conversion shall be endorsed or accompanied by a written instrument or instruments of transfer, in form satisfactory to the Corporation, duly executed by the registered holder or by an attorney-in-fact duly authorized in writing. Upon surrender of such certificates or affidavit of loss, the Corporation shall issue and deliver to such holder, promptly (and in any event in such time as is sufficient to enable such holder to participate in such QPO) at such office and in its name as shown on such surrendered certificate or certificates, a certificate or certificates for the number of shares of Common Stock into which the shares of the Series B Preferred Stock surrendered are convertible on the Automatic Conversion Date.

(d) Reservation of Stock Issuable Upon Conversion. The Corporation shall at all times reserve and keep available out of its authorized but unissued shares of

Common Stock, solely for the purpose of effecting the conversion of the shares of Series B Preferred Stock, such number of its shares of Common Stock as shall from time to time be sufficient to effect the conversion of all outstanding shares of Series B Preferred Stock. If at any time the number of authorized but unissued shares of Common Stock is not sufficient to effect the conversion of all outstanding shares of Series B Preferred Stock, the Corporation shall take such corporate action as may be necessary to increase the number of its authorized but unissued shares of Common Stock to such number of shares as are sufficient for such purpose, and to reserve the appropriate number of shares of Common Stock for issuance upon such conversion.

(e) No Closing of Transfer Books. The Corporation shall not close its books against the transfer of shares of Series B Preferred Stock in any manner that would interfere with the timely conversion of any shares of Series B Preferred Stock.

7. Adjustments.

(a) Adjustments to the Series B Conversion Price. Except as provided in Section B.7(b) and except in the case of an event described in Section B.7(c), if and whenever after the Filing Date the Corporation issues or sells, or is, in accordance with this Section B.7(a), deemed to have issued or sold, any shares of Common Stock for a consideration per share less than the Series B Conversion Price in effect immediately prior to such issuance or sale, then, upon such issuance or sale (or deemed issuance or sale), the Series B Conversion Price shall be reduced to the price determined by dividing (x) the sum of (A) the Common Stock Deemed Outstanding (as defined below) immediately prior to such issuance or sale (or deemed issuance or sale) multiplied by the Series B Conversion Price then in effect and (B) the consideration, if any, received by the Corporation upon such issuance or sale (or deemed issuance or sale) by (y) the Common Stock Deemed Outstanding immediately after such issuance or sale (or deemed issuance or sale).

For purposes of this Section B.7(a), the following shall also be applicable:

(i) Issuance of Rights or Options. If the Corporation, at any time after the Filing Date, in any manner grants (whether directly or by assumption in a merger or otherwise) any warrants or other rights to subscribe for or to purchase, or any Options or Convertible Securities, in each case for consideration per share (determined as provided in this paragraph and in Section B.7(a)(vi)) less than the Series B Conversion Price then in effect, whether or not such Options or the right to convert or exchange any such Convertible Securities are immediately exercisable, then the total maximum number of shares of Common Stock issuable upon the exercise of such Options, or upon conversion or exchange of the total maximum amount of such Convertible Securities issuable upon exercise of such Options, shall be deemed to have been issued as of the date of granting of such Options, at a price per share equal to the amount determined by dividing (A) the total amount, if any, received or receivable by the Corporation as consideration for the granting of such Options, plus the minimum aggregate amount of additional consideration payable to the Corporation upon the exercise of all such Options, plus, in the case of such Options which relate to Convertible Securities, the minimum aggregate amount of additional consideration, if any, payable upon the issuance or sale of such Convertible Securities and upon the conversion or exchange thereof, by (B) the total maximum number of shares of Common Stock deemed to have been so issued. Except as otherwise provided in Section B.7(a)(iii), no adjustment of the Series B Conversion Price shall be made upon the actual issuance of such Common Stock or of such Convertible Securities upon exercise of such Options or upon the actual issuance of such Common Stock upon conversion or exchange of such Convertible Securities.

(ii) Issuance of Convertible Securities. If the Corporation, at any time after the Filing Date, in any manner issues or sells any Convertible Securities for consideration per share (determined as provided in this paragraph and in Section B.7(a)(vi)) less than the Series B Conversion Price then in effect, whether or not the rights to exchange or convert any such Convertible Securities are immediately exercisable, then the total maximum number of shares of Common Stock issuable upon conversion or exchange of all such Convertible Securities shall be deemed to have been issued as of the date of the issuance or sale of such Convertible Securities, at a price per share equal to the amount determined by dividing (A) the total amount, if any, received or receivable by the Corporation as consideration for the issuance or sale of such Convertible Securities, plus the minimum aggregate amount of additional consideration, if any, payable to the Corporation upon the conversion or exchange thereof, by (B) the total maximum number of shares of Common Stock deemed to have been so issued; provided, that (1) except as otherwise provided in Section B.7(a)(iii), no adjustment of the Series B Conversion Price shall be made upon the actual issuance of such Common Stock upon conversion or exchange of such Convertible Securities and (2) if any such issuance or sale of such Convertible Securities is made upon exercise of any Options to purchase any such Convertible Securities, no further adjustment of the Series B Conversion Price shall be made by reason of such issuance or sale.

(iii) Change in Option Price or Conversion Rate: Termination of Options or Convertible Securities. If a change occurs in (A) the maximum number of shares of Common Stock issuable in connection with any Option referred to in Section B.7(a)(i) or any Convertible Securities referred to in Section B.7(a)(i) or (ii), (B) the purchase price provided for in any Option referred to in Section B.7(a)(i), (C) the additional consideration, if any, payable upon the conversion or exchange of any Convertible Securities referred to in Section B.7(a)(i) or (ii) or (D) the rate at which Convertible Securities referred to in Section B.7(a)(i) or (ii) are convertible into or exchangeable for Common Stock (in each case, other than in connection with an event described in Section B.7(b)), then the Series B Conversion Price in effect at the time of such event shall be adjusted to the Series B Conversion Price that would have been in effect at such time had such Options or Convertible Securities that remain outstanding provided for such changed maximum number of shares, purchase price, additional consideration or conversion rate, as the case may be, at the time initially granted, issued or sold, but only if as a result of such adjustment the Series B Conversion Price then in effect is thereby reduced. Upon the termination of any such Option or any such right to convert or exchange such Convertible Securities, the Series B Conversion Price then in effect hereunder shall be increased to the Series B Conversion Price that would have been in effect at the time of such termination had such Option or Convertible Securities, to the extent outstanding immediately prior to such termination (i.e., to the extent that fewer than the number of shares of Common Stock deemed to have been issued in connection with such Option or Convertible Securities were actually issued), never been issued or been issued at such higher price, as the case may be.

(iv) Stock Dividends. If the Corporation declares a dividend or makes any other distribution upon any stock of the Corporation payable in Common Stock, Options or Convertible Securities, any Common Stock, Options or Convertible Securities, as the case may be, issuable in payment of such dividend or distribution shall be deemed to have been issued or sold without consideration, and the Series B Conversion Price shall be adjusted pursuant to this Section B.7(a); provided, that no adjustment shall be made to the Series B Conversion Price as a result of such dividend or distribution if the holders of the shares of Series B Preferred Stock are entitled to, and do, receive such dividend or distribution in accordance with Section B.3; and, provided, further, that if any adjustment is made to the Series B Conversion Price as a result of the declaration of a dividend and such dividend is not effected, the Series B Conversion Price shall be appropriately readjusted.

(v) Other Dividends and Distributions. If the Corporation at any time or from time to time after the Filing Date makes or issues, or fixes a record date for the determination of holders of Common Stock entitled to receive, a dividend or other distribution payable in securities or other property of the Corporation other than shares of Common Stock, then and in each such event provision shall be made so that the holders of the outstanding shares of Series B Preferred Stock shall receive upon conversion thereof, in addition to the number of shares of Common Stock receivable thereupon, the amount of such other securities of the Corporation or the value of such other property that they would have received had the Series B Preferred Stock been converted into Common Stock on the date of such event and had such holders thereafter, during the period from the date of such event to and including the conversion date, retained such securities or other property receivable by them during such period giving application to all adjustments called for during such period under Section B.7 with respect to the rights of the holders of the outstanding shares of Series B Preferred Stock; provided that no such adjustment shall be made if the holders of Series B Preferred Stock simultaneously receive a dividend or other distribution of such securities or other property in an amount equal to the amount of such securities or other property as they would have received if all outstanding shares of Series B Preferred Stock had been converted into Common Stock on the date of such event.

(vi) Consideration for Stock. In case any shares of Common Stock are issued or sold, or deemed issued or sold, for cash, the consideration received therefor shall be deemed to be the amount received or to be received by the Corporation therefor (determined with respect to deemed issuances and sales in connection with Options and Convertible Securities in accordance with clause (A) of Section B.7(a)(i) or Section B.7(a)(ii), as appropriate) determined in the manner set forth below in this Section B.7(a)(vi). In case any shares of Common Stock are issued or sold, or deemed issued or sold, for a consideration other than cash, the amount of the consideration other than cash received by the Corporation shall be deemed to be the fair value of such consideration received or to be received by the Corporation (determined with respect to deemed issuances and sales in connection with Options and Convertible Securities in accordance with clause (A) of Section B.7(a)(i) or Section B.7(a)(ii), as appropriate) as determined in good faith by the Board of Directors of the Corporation and a Series B Two Thirds Interest. If any Options are issued in connection with the issuance and sale of other securities of the Corporation, together comprising one integral transaction in which no specific consideration is allocated to such Options by the parties thereto, such Options shall be deemed to have been issued for such consideration as determined in good faith by the Board of Directors of the Corporation and a Series B Two Thirds Interest provided that if the Corporation and the holders of a Series B Two Thirds Interest are unable to reach agreement as to the value of such consideration, then the value thereof shall be determined by an independent appraisal by a mutually agreed to investment banker, the fees of which shall be paid by the Corporation.

(vii) Record Date. If the Corporation takes a record of the holders of its Common Stock for the purpose of entitling them (A) to receive a dividend or other distribution payable in Common Stock, Options or Convertible Securities or (B) to subscribe for or purchase Common Stock, Options or Convertible Securities, then such record date shall be deemed to be the date of the issuance or sale of the shares of Common Stock deemed to have been issued or sold upon the declaration of such dividend or the making of such other distribution or the date of the granting of such right of subscription or purchase, as the case may be.

(viii) Treasury Shares. The number of shares of Common Stock outstanding at any given time shall not include shares owned or held by or for the account of the Corporation; provided, that the disposition of any such shares shall be considered an issuance or sale of Common Stock for the purpose of this Section B.7.

(ix) Other Issuances or Sales; Indeterminable Amounts. In calculating any adjustment to the Series B Conversion Price pursuant to this Section B.7(a): (A) any shares of Common Stock, Options or Convertible Securities issued or sold (or deemed issued or sold pursuant to Section B.7(a)(i) or Section B.7(a)(ii) above) after the Filing Date and prior to the effective date of such adjustment, the issuance or sale (or deemed issuance or sale) of which did not result in any adjustment to the Series B Conversion Price under this Section B.7(a), shall be deemed to have been issued or sold as part of the issuance or sale (or deemed issuance or sale) giving rise to such adjustment for the same consideration per share as the Corporation received in the issuance or sale (or deemed issuance or sale) giving rise to such adjustment, and (B) any Options or Convertible Securities that provide, as of the effective date of such adjustment, for the issuance upon exercise or conversion thereof of an indeterminable number of shares of Common Stock shall (together with the shares of Common Stock issuable upon exercise or conversion thereof) be disregarded for purposes of the calculation and what shares are deemed to be outstanding; provided, that at such time as time as a number of shares of Common Stock issuable upon exercise or conversion of such Options or Convertible Securities becomes determinable, then the Series B Conversion Price shall be adjusted as provided in Section B.7(a)(iii) above.

(x) Common Stock Deemed Outstanding. For purposes of this Section B.7, the term "Common Stock Deemed Outstanding" shall mean, at any time, the sum of (A) the number of shares of Common Stock outstanding immediately prior to the Filing Date (including for this purpose all shares of Common Stock issuable upon exercise or conversion of any Options or Convertible Securities outstanding immediately prior to the Filing Date), plus (B) the number of shares of Common Stock issued or sold (or deemed issued or sold) after the Filing Date, the issuance or sale of which resulted in an adjustment to the Series B Conversion Price pursuant to Section B.7(a), plus (C) the number of shares of Common Stock deemed issued or sold pursuant to Section B.7(a)(ix)(A) above; provided, that Common Stock Deemed Outstanding shall not include the Series A Preferred Stock, the Series B Preferred Stock, any shares of Common Stock issuable upon conversion of the Series B Preferred Stock, or any shares of Common Stock issuable upon the conversion of Series A Preferred Stock into Series B Preferred Stock and Redeemable Preferred Stock and the conversion of such Series B Preferred Stock immediately thereafter.

(b) Certain Issues of Common Stock Excepted. Anything herein to the contrary notwithstanding, the Corporation shall not be required to make any adjustment of the Series B Conversion Price in the case of the issuance from and after the Filing Date of Excluded Shares.

(c) Subdivision or Combination of Common Stock. If the Corporation shall at any time after the Closing Date subdivide its outstanding shares of Common Stock into a greater number of shares (by any stock split, stock dividend or otherwise), then the Series B Conversion Price in effect immediately prior to such subdivision shall be proportionately reduced, and, conversely, if the Corporation shall at any time after the Closing Date combine its outstanding shares of Common Stock into a smaller number of shares (by any reverse stock split or otherwise), then the Series B Conversion Price in effect immediately prior to such combination shall be proportionately increased.

(d) Reorganization or Reclassification. If any capital reorganization or reclassification of the capital stock of the Corporation shall be effected in such a way that holders of Common Stock shall be entitled to receive stock, securities or assets with respect to or in exchange for Common Stock, then, as a condition of such reorganization or reclassification, lawful and adequate provisions shall be made whereby each holder of a share or shares of Series B Preferred Stock shall thereupon have the right to receive, upon the basis and upon the terms and conditions specified herein and in lieu of the shares of Common Stock immediately theretofore receivable upon the conversion of such share or shares of Series B Preferred Stock, as the case may be, such shares of stock, securities or assets as may be issued or payable with respect to or in exchange for a number of outstanding shares of such Common Stock equal to the number of shares of such Common Stock immediately theretofore receivable upon such conversion had such reorganization or reclassification not taken place, and in any such case appropriate provisions shall be made with respect to the rights and interests of such holder to the end that the provisions hereof (including, without limitation, provisions for adjustments of the Series B Conversion Price) shall thereafter be applicable, as nearly as may be, in relation to any shares of stock, securities or assets thereafter deliverable upon the exercise of such conversion rights.

(e) Adjustment for Merger or Reorganization, etc. Unless the holders of Series B Preferred Stock elect redemption in connection with an Extraordinary Transaction pursuant to Section B.5 hereof (in which case Section B.5 shall apply), (A) upon any Extraordinary Transaction each share of Series B Preferred Stock shall thereafter be convertible (or shall be converted into a security that shall be convertible) into the kind and amount of shares of stock or other securities or property to which a holder of the number of shares of Common Stock of the Corporation deliverable upon conversion of such Series B Preferred Stock would have been entitled upon such Extraordinary Transaction; and, in such case, appropriate adjustment (as determined in good faith by the Board of Directors) shall be made in the application of the provisions in Section B.7 set forth with respect to the rights and interests thereafter of the holders of the Series B Preferred Stock, to the end that the provisions set forth in Section B.7 (including provisions with respect to changes in and other adjustments of the Series B Conversion Price) shall thereafter be applicable, as nearly as possible, in relation to any shares of stock or other property thereafter deliverable upon the conversion of the Series B Preferred Stock and (B) all holders of Series B Preferred Stock shall be deemed to have elected to so participate in such Extraordinary Transaction as provided in this Section B.7(e) and such election shall bind all holders of the Series B Preferred Stock. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained herein, the holders of shares of Series B Preferred Stock shall have the right to elect by vote of a Series B Two Thirds Interest to give effect to the conversion and other rights contained in Section B.6 (or the rights contained in Section B.4, if applicable) instead of giving effect to the provisions contained in this Section B. 7(e) with respect to the shares of Series B Preferred Stock owned by them.

8. Covenants. The Corporation shall not, and shall not permit any affiliate or Subsidiary to (in any case, by merger, consolidation, operation of law or otherwise), without first having provided written notice of such proposed action to each holder of outstanding shares of Series B Preferred Stock and having obtained the affirmative vote or written consent of the holders of a Series B Two Thirds Interest:

(a) declare or pay any dividends other than dividends on the Series B Preferred Stock as provided in Section B.3 or make any distributions of cash, property or securities of the Corporation or any Subsidiary in respect of its capital stock, or apply any of its assets to the redemption, retirement, purchase or other acquisition of its capital stock, directly or indirectly, through subsidiaries or otherwise, except for (i) the redemption of Series B Preferred Stock pursuant to and as provided in these Amended and Restated Articles of Incorporation, (ii) the repurchase of Excluded Shares described in Section B.7(b)(ii) above, (iii) the repurchase of shares under that certain Shareholders Agreement, dated as of May 28, 2004, among the Corporation and the shareholders of the Corporation or (iv) dividends or distributions payable solely in shares of Common Stock;

(b) reclassify any capital stock in a manner that alters the designations, preferences, powers and/or the relative, participating, optional or other special rights, or the restrictions provided for the benefit of, the Series B Preferred Stock;

(c) authorize or issue, or obligate itself to issue, any convertible debt or other debt with any equity participation, any securities convertible into or exercisable or exchangeable for any equity securities, or any other equity security, in any case ranking senior to or on parity with the Series B Preferred Stock as to liquidation, sale or merger preferences, redemption, or dividend rights, or with any class or special voting rights, or permit any Subsidiary of the Corporation to issue any capital stock, or securities convertible into or exercisable or exchangeable for capital stock or other securities of such Subsidiary, to any person or entity other than the Corporation;

(d) amend, alter or repeal (whether by merger, consolidation, operation of law, or otherwise) any provision of, or add any provision to, these Amended and Restated Articles of Incorporation (including, without limitation, increasing the total number of shares of Preferred Stock that the Corporation shall have the authority to issue), the bylaws of the Corporation as in effect on the Closing Date or the governing documents of any Subsidiary;

(e) effect any Liquidation Event or Extraordinary Transaction or any other event that would constitute a Liquidation Event or Extraordinary Transaction of any Subsidiary if the references to “Corporation” in such definitions were instead references to “Subsidiary”;

(f) effect the sale, transfer or license of any assets of the Corporation or any Subsidiary to any person or entity other than the Corporation or a wholly-owned Subsidiary of the Corporation, other than in the ordinary course of business;

(g) incur any indebtedness in excess of $175,000,000;

(h) take any other action not described in Section B.8(a)-(g) if such action could adversely alter or change the preferences, rights, privileges or powers of, or the restrictions provided for the benefit of, the Series B Preferred Stock; or

(i) enter into any agreement to do any of the foregoing that is not expressly made conditional on obtaining the affirmative vote or written consent of a Series B Two Thirds Interest.

Further, the Corporation shall not, by amendment of these Amended and Restated Articles of Incorporation (by way of merger, operation of law, or otherwise) or through any Liquidation Event or other reorganization, transfer of assets, consolidation, merger, dissolution, issuance or sale of securities, agreement or any other voluntary action, avoid or seek to avoid the observance or performance of any of the terms to be observed or performed hereunder by the Corporation and shall at all times in good faith assist in the carrying out of all the provisions of this Article IV and in the taking of all such action as may be necessary or appropriate in order to protect the rights of the holders of the Series B Preferred Stock against impairment. Any successor to the Corporation shall agree in writing, as a condition to such succession, to carry out and observe the obligations of the Corporation hereunder with respect to the Series B Preferred Stock.

9. Notices.

(a) Liquidation Events, Extraordinary Transactions, Etc. In the event (i) the Corporation establishes a record date to determine the holders of any class of securities who are entitled to receive any dividend or other distribution or who are entitled to vote at a meeting (or by written consent) in connection with any of the transactions identified in clause (ii) hereof, or (ii) any Liquidation Event, Extraordinary Transaction, QPO or any other public offering of the Corporation's securities becomes reasonably likely to occur, the Corporation shall mail or cause to be mailed by first class mail (postage prepaid) to each holder of Series B Preferred Stock at least thirty (30) days prior to such record date specified therein or the expected effective date of any such transaction, whichever is earlier, a notice specifying (A) the date of such record date for the purpose of such dividend or distribution or meeting or consent and a description of such dividend or distribution or the action to be taken at such meeting or by such consent, (B) the date on which any Such Liquidation Event, Extraordinary Transaction, QPO or other public offering is expected to become effective, and (C) the date on which the books of the Corporation shall close or a record shall be taken with respect to any such event. Such notice shall be accompanied by a certificate prepared by the chief financial officer of the Corporation describing in detail (1) the facts of such transaction, (2) the amount(s) per share of Series B Preferred Stock or Common Stock each holder of Series B Preferred Stock would receive under all possible elections, options etc. available to holders of Series B Preferred Stock pursuant to the applicable provisions of these Amended and Restated Articles of Incorporation, and (3) the facts upon which such amounts were determined.

(b) Adjustments; Calculations. Upon the occurrence of each adjustment or readjustment of the Series B Conversion Price pursuant to Section B.7, the Corporation at its expense shall promptly compute such adjustment or readjustment in accordance with the terms hereof and prepare and furnish to each holder of Series B Preferred Stock (or each holder of Redeemable Preferred Stock, as applicable) a certificate setting forth in detail (i) such adjustment or readjustment, (ii) the Series B Conversion Price before and after such adjustment or readjustment, and (iii) the number of shares of Common Stock and the amount, if any, of other property which at the time would be received upon the conversion of such holder's shares of Series B Preferred Stock. All such calculations shall be made to the nearest cent or to the nearest one hundredth (1/100) of a share as the case may be.

(c) Waiver of Notice. The holder or holders of a Series B Two Thirds Interest may, at any time upon written notice to the Corporation, waive any notice or certificate delivery provisions specified herein for the benefit of such holders, and any such waiver shall be binding upon all holders of such securities.

10. No Reissuance of Series B Preferred Stock. No share or shares of Series B Preferred Stock acquired by the Corporation by reason of redemption, purchase, conversion or otherwise shall be reissued, and all such shares shall be canceled, retired and eliminated from the shares that the Corporation is authorized to issue.

11. Contractual Rights of Holders. The various provisions set forth herein for the benefit of the holders of the Series B Preferred Stock shall be deemed contract rights enforceable by them, including, without limitation, one or more actions for specific performance.

C. REDEEMABLE PREFERRED STOCK

1. Designation. A total of 90,000,000 shares of the Corporation's Preferred Stock shall be designated as a series known as Redeemable Preferred Stock, par value $.0001 per share (the "Redeemable Preferred Stock").

2. Election of Directors; Voting.

(a) Election of Directors. The holders of outstanding shares of Redeemable Preferred Stock shall, voting together as a separate class, be entitled to elect one (1) Director. Such Director shall be the candidate receiving the greatest number of affirmative votes (with each holder of Redeemable Preferred Stock entitled to cast one vote for or against each candidate with respect to each share of Redeemable Preferred Stock held by such holder) of the outstanding shares of Redeemable Preferred Stock, with votes cast against such candidate and votes withheld having no legal effect. The holders of outstanding shares of Redeemable Preferred Stock shall, voting together as a separate class, be entitled to remove such Director, with or without cause. The election and removal of such Director shall be effected by the votes of a majority in interest of the outstanding shares of Redeemable Preferred Stock and shall occur (i) at the annual meeting of holders of capital stock, (ii) at any special meeting of holders of capital stock, (iii) at any special meeting of holders of Redeemable Preferred Stock, which may be called by holders of a majority of the outstanding shares of Redeemable Preferred Stock or (iv) by the written consent of holders of not less than a majority of the outstanding shares of Redeemable Preferred Stock. Upon conversion of the Series A Preferred Stock, the holder or holders of not less than a majority in voting power of the outstanding Redeemable Preferred Stock may designate one (1) of the Directors elected by the holders of the Series A Preferred Stock then serving on the Corporation's board of directors to continue in such capacity as the Director elected by the holders of the Redeemable Preferred Stock. If at any time when any share of Redeemable Preferred Stock is outstanding such Director ceases to be a Director for any reason, the vacancy shall only be filled by the vote or written consent of holders of the outstanding shares of Redeemable Preferred Stock, voting together as a separate class, in the manner and on the basis specified above or as otherwise provided by law. The holders of outstanding shares of Redeemable Preferred Stock may, in their sole discretion, determine not to elect a Director as provided herein from time to time, and during any such period the Board of Directors nonetheless shall be deemed duly constituted.

(b) No Voting Generally. Except as set forth above with respect to the election of a Director by the holders of Redeemable Preferred Stock, the holders of Redeemable Preferred Stock shall not be entitled to vote on any matters except to the extent otherwise required under the Georgia Business Corporation Code.

3. Dividends. The holders of outstanding shares of Redeemable Preferred Stock shall be entitled to receive, out of any funds legally available therefor, cumulative dividends at the per share rate of 5% of the Redeemable Preference Amount (as defined below) per annum per share of Redeemable Preferred Stock (as adjusted for subsequent stock splits, stock dividends, recapitalizations or like with respect to each share) from the date of original issuance of such share, which dividends shall accrue daily in arrears and be compounded quarterly, whether or not such dividends are declared by the Board of Directors and paid.

Notwithstanding the foregoing, no dividend shall be declared or paid unless and until the Senior Debt and the Subordinated Debt have been paid in full, including any permitted refinancings thereof as provided for in and limited by the Debt Subordination Agreement; unless such dividends and payments are otherwise permitted under the terms of the Equity Subordination Agreement.

4. Liquidation; Merger, etc.

(a) Redeemable Liquidation Preference. Upon any Liquidation Event, each holder of outstanding shares of Redeemable Preferred Stock shall be entitled to be paid in cash, before any amount shall be paid or distributed to the holders of Junior Stock, an amount per share of Redeemable Preferred Stock equal to (i) $0.50, plus (ii) any accrued but unpaid dividends on such shares of Redeemable Preferred Stock plus (iii) any accrued and unpaid dividends on shares of Series A Preferred Stock converted into such shares of Redeemable Preferred Stock that were accrued and/or declared between the effective date of these Amended and Restated Articles of Incorporation and the date of such conversion (such amount to be adjusted appropriately for stock splits, stock dividends, recapitalizations and the like) (the "Redeemable Preference Amount"). If the amounts available for distribution by the Corporation to holders of Redeemable Preferred Stock upon a Liquidation Event are not sufficient to pay the aggregate Redeemable Preference Amount due to such holders, such holders shall share ratably in any distribution in proportion to the full respective preferential amounts to which they are entitled. The Series A Preferred Stock, Series B Preferred Stock and Redeemable Preferred Stock shall be pari passu (based on liquidation preferences) with respect to any Liquidation Event (or deemed Liquidation Event).

(b) Remaining Assets. After the payment of all preferential amounts required to be paid to the holders of the Redeemable Preferred Stock and any other class or series of stock of the Corporation ranking on liquidation on a parity with the Redeemable Preferred Stock, the remaining assets and funds of the Corporation available for distribution to its shareholders shall be distributed among the holders of shares of Junior Stock then outstanding.

5. Redemption.

(a) Redemption Events.

(i) Automatic. Immediately upon and as of, and in all cases subject to, the closing of a QPO, the Corporation shall redeem all (and not less than all) of the outstanding shares of Redeemable Preferred Stock at the Redeemable Redemption Price specified in Section C.5(b).

(ii) Upon Occurrence of Extraordinary Transactions. Upon the election of the holder(s) of not less than 66 2/3% of the voting power of the outstanding shares of Redeemable Preferred Stock (a "Redeemable Two Thirds Interest") (or a Series A Two Thirds Interest of the Series A Preferred Stock, as applicable, proposing to convert in order to effect a redemption of the Redeemable Preferred Stock upon such conversion hereunder) to have the Redeemable Preferred Stock redeemed or otherwise to participate in accordance with Section A. 5(a) in connection with an Extraordinary Transaction, then, as part of and as a condition to the effectiveness of such Extraordinary Transaction, the Corporation shall, on the effective date of such Extraordinary Transaction, either (x) redeem all (and not less than all, other than pursuant to Section C.5(c) below) of the outstanding shares of Redeemable Preferred Stock for an amount equal to the Redeemable Preference Amount, such amount to be payable in cash, and no payment shall be made to the holders of the Common Stock or any stock ranking with regard to dividend rights, rights upon a Liquidation Event or an Extraordinary Transaction or redemption rights junior to the Redeemable Preferred Stock unless such amount is paid in full or (y) have such Redeemable Preferred Stock acquired in such Extraordinary Transaction on terms giving effect to the preferential amount to which the Redeemable Preferred Stock would be entitled in connection with a Liquidation Event hereunder or otherwise as agreed to by the holders of a Redeemable Two Thirds Interest. The foregoing election shall be made by such holders giving the Corporation and each other holder of Redeemable Preferred Stock (or Series A Preferred Stock, as applicable) not less than five (5) days' prior written notice, which notice shall set forth the date for such redemption.

Notwithstanding the foregoing, the Redeemable Preferred Stock may not be redeemed, automatically or at the election of a Redeemable Two Thirds Interest or otherwise participate in connection with an Extraordinary Transaction, unless and until the Senior Debt and the Subordinated Debt have been paid in full, including any permitted refinancings thereof as provided for in and limited by the Debt Subordination Agreement.

(b) Redemption Date and Price. Upon the election of the holders of not less than a Redeemable Two Thirds Interest to cause the Corporation to redeem the Redeemable Preferred Stock or otherwise to participate in an Extraordinary Transaction pursuant to Section C.5(a)(ii), all holders of Redeemable Preferred Stock shall be deemed to have elected to cause the Redeemable Preferred Stock subject to such election to be so redeemed or to so participate. Any date which a redemption or other acquisition actually occurs in accordance with Section C.5(a) shall be referred to as a "Redeemable Redemption Date." The redemption/purchase price for each share of Redeemable Preferred Stock redeemed pursuant to this Section C.5 shall be the per share Redeemable Preference Amount (the "Redeemable Redemption Price"); provided, however, that if at a Redeemable Redemption Date shares of Redeemable Preferred Stock are unable to be redeemed (as contemplated by Section C.5(c) below), then holders of Redeemable Preferred Stock shall also be entitled to interest and dividends pursuant to Sections C.5(d) and (f) below. The aggregate Redeemable Redemption Price shall be payable in cash in immediately available funds on the Redeemable Redemption Date. Until the aggregate Redeemable Redemption Price, including any interest thereon, has been paid in cash for all shares of Redeemable Preferred Stock redeemed or purchased as of the applicable Redeemable Redemption Date: (A) no dividend whatsoever shall be paid or declared, and no distribution shall be made, on any capital stock of the Corporation; and (B) except as provided in Section A.8(a), no shares of capital stock of the Corporation (other than the Redeemable Preferred Stock in accordance with this Section C.5) shall be purchased, redeemed or acquired by the Corporation and no payment shall be made or set aside or made available for a sinking fund for the purchase, redemption or acquisition thereof.

(c) Insufficient Funds. If the funds of the Corporation legally available to redeem shares of Redeemable Preferred Stock on the Redeemable Redemption Date are insufficient to redeem the total number of such shares required to be redeemed on such date, the Corporation shall (i) take any action necessary or appropriate, to the extent reasonably within its control and permissible under applicable law, to remove promptly any impediments to its ability to redeem the total number of shares of Redeemable Preferred Stock required to be so redeemed and (ii) in any event, use any funds that are legally available to redeem the maximum possible number of such shares from the holders of such shares to be redeemed in proportion to the respective number of such shares that otherwise would have been redeemed if all such shares had been redeemed in full. At any time thereafter when additional funds of the Corporation are legally available to redeem such shares of Redeemable Preferred Stock, the Corporation shall immediately use such funds to redeem the balance of the shares that the Corporation has become obligated to redeem on the Redeemable Redemption Date (but which it has not redeemed) at the Redeemable Redemption Price.

(d) Interest. If any shares of Redeemable Preferred Stock are not redeemed on the Redeemable Redemption Date for any reason, all such unredeemed shares shall remain outstanding and entitled to all the rights and preferences provided herein, and the Corporation shall pay interest on the Redeemable Liquidation Preference applicable to such unredeemed shares at an aggregate per annum rate equal to ten percent (10%), with such interest to accrue daily in arrears and to be compounded quarterly; provided, however, that in no event shall such interest exceed the Maximum Permitted Rate. In the event that fulfillment of any provision hereof results in such rate of interest being in excess of the Maximum Permitted Rate, the amount of interest required to be paid hereunder shall automatically be reduced to eliminate such excess; provided, however, that any subsequent increase in the Maximum Permitted Rate shall be retroactively effective to the applicable Redeemable Redemption Date to the extent permitted by law.

(e) Dividend After Redemption Date. In the event that shares of Redeemable Preferred Stock required to be redeemed are not redeemed and continue to be outstanding, such shares shall continue to be entitled to dividends and interest thereon as provided in Sections C.3 and C.5(d) until the date on which the Corporation actually redeems such shares.

(f) Surrender of Certificates. Each holder of shares of Redeemable Preferred Stock to be redeemed shall surrender the certificate or certificates representing such shares to the Corporation, duly assigned or endorsed for transfer (or accompanied by duly executed stock powers relating thereto), or shall deliver an affidavit of loss with respect to such certificates at the principal executive office of the Corporation or such other place as the Corporation may from time to time designate by notice to the holders of Redeemable Preferred Stock (or the holders of Series A Convertible Preferred Stock, as applicable), and each surrendered certificate shall be canceled and retired and the Corporation shall thereafter make payment of the applicable Redeemable Redemption Price by certified check or wire transfer, provided, however, that if the Corporation has insufficient funds legally available to redeem all shares of Redeemable Preferred Stock required to be redeemed, each holder shall, in addition to receiving the payment of the portion of the aggregate Redeemable Redemption Price that the Corporation is not legally prohibited from paying to such holder by certified check or wire transfer, receive a new stock certificate for those shares of Redeemable Preferred Stock not so redeemed.

6. Notice. In the event that the Corporation provides or is required to provide notice to any holder of Common Stock in accordance with the provisions of these Amended and Restated Articles of Incorporation and/or the Corporation's by-laws, the Corporation shall at the same time provide a copy of any such notice to each holder of outstanding shares of Redeemable Preferred Stock.

7. No Reissuance of Redeemable Preferred Stock. No share or shares of Redeemable Preferred Stock acquired by the Corporation by reason of redemption, purchase, conversion, exchange or otherwise shall be reissued, and all such shares shall be canceled, retired and eliminated from the shares which the Corporation is authorized to issue.

8. Covenants. So long as any shares of Redeemable Preferred Stock are outstanding the provisions of Section A.8 of this Article IV shall apply to all shares of Redeemable Preferred Stock as if such shares were shares of Series A Preferred Stock, with each share of Redeemable Preferred Stock entitled to one vote per share.

D. COMMON STOCK

1. Voting. The holder of each share of Common Stock shall be entitled to one vote for each such share as determined on the record date for the vote or consent of shareholders and, for so long as any shares of Series A Preferred Stock and Series B

Preferred Stock remain outstanding, shall vote together with the holders of the Series A Preferred Stock and Series B Preferred Stock as a single class upon any items submitted to a vote of shareholders, except as otherwise provided herein. Notwithstanding the provisions of Section 14-2-1004(a)(1) of the Georgia Business Corporation Code, as amended, the number of authorized shares of Common Stock may be increased or decreased (but not below the number of shares thereof then outstanding) by the affirmative vote of a majority of the outstanding shares of Common Stock, Series A Preferred Stock and Series B Preferred Stock voting together as a single class.

2. Dividends. Subject to the payment in full of all preferential dividends to which the holders of the Series A Preferred Stock and the Redeemable Preferred Stock are entitled hereunder, the holders of Common Stock shall be entitled to receive dividends out of funds legally available therefor at such times and in such amounts as the Board of Directors may determine in its sole discretion, with holders of Series A Preferred Stock and Series B Preferred Stock on an as-converted basis and Common Stock sharing pari passu in such dividends, as contemplated by Section A.3.

Notwithstanding the foregoing, no dividend shall be declared or paid unless and until the Senior Debt and the Subordinated Debt have been paid in full, including any permitted refinancings thereof as provided for in and limited by the Debt Subordination Agreement; unless such dividends and payments are otherwise permitted under the terms of the Equity Subordination Agreement.

3. Liquidation. Upon any Liquidation Event, after the payment or provision for payment of all debts and liabilities of the Corporation and all preferential amounts to which the holders of Series A Preferred Stock, Series B Preferred Stock and Redeemable Preferred Stock are entitled with respect to the distribution of assets in liquidation, the holders of Common Stock shall be entitled to share ratably in the remaining assets of the Corporation available for distribution, as contemplated by Section A.4, Section B.4 and Section C.4.

ARTICLE V

In furtherance of and not in limitation of powers conferred by statute, it is further provided:

1. Election of Directors need not be by written ballot unless the by-laws of the Corporation so provide.

2. The Board of Directors is expressly authorized to adopt, amend or repeal the by-laws of the Corporation to the extent specified therein.

ARTICLE VI

Meetings of shareholders may be held within or without the State of Georgia, as the by-laws may provide.

ARTICLE VII

To the extent permitted by law, the books of the Corporation may be kept outside the State of Georgia at such place or places as may be designated in the by-laws of the Corporation or from time to time by its Board of Directors.

ARTICLE VIII

A Director of the Corporation shall not be personally liable to the Corporation or its shareholders for monetary damages for any action taken, or any failure to take any action, as a director, except liability (a) for any appropriation, in violation of his or her duties, of any business opportunity of the corporation, (b) for acts or omissions which involve intentional misconduct or a knowing violation of law, (c) for the types of liability set forth under Section 14-2-832 of the Georgia Business Corporation Code, or (d) for any transaction from which the director received an improper personal benefit; provided that no such provision shall eliminate or limit the liability of a director for any act or omission occurring prior to the date when such provision becomes effective. If the Georgia Business Corporation Code is amended after the effective date of these Amended and Restated Articles of Incorporation to authorize corporate action further eliminating or limiting the personal liability of Directors, then the liability of a Director of the Corporation shall be eliminated or limited to the fullest extent permitted by the applicable laws of the State of Georgia.

Any repeal or modification of this Article VIII by the shareholders of the Corporation or by an amendment to the Georgia Business Corporation Code shall not adversely affect any right or protection existing at the time of such repeal or modification with respect to any acts or omissions occurring either before such repeal or modification of a person serving as a Director prior to or at the time of such repeal or modification.

ARTICLE IX

Except as otherwise provided herein, the Corporation reserves the right to amend, alter, change or repeal any provision contained in these Amended and Restated Articles of Incorporation, in the manner now or hereafter prescribed by statute, and all rights conferred upon shareholders herein are granted subject to this reservation.

ARTICLE X

The annual election of directors may be taken without a meeting if all the shareholders entitled to vote thereon consent thereto in writing. Except as provided above, any action required to be taken, or which may be taken, at a meeting of the shareholders may be taken without a meeting if written consent, setting forth the action taken, is signed by persons who would be entitled to vote shares having voting power to cast not less than the minimum number (or numbers, in the case of voting by groups) of votes that would be necessary to authorize or take such action at a meeting at which all shares were present and voted. No written consent shall be effective unless, within sixty (60) days of the earliest dated consent delivered pursuant to O.C.G.A. §14-2-704, written consents signed by a sufficient number of shareholders are delivered to the Corporation. Notice shall be given within ten (10) days of the taking of action without a meeting by less than unanimous written consent to those shareholders on the record date whose shares were not represented by the written consent.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the undersigned has executed these Amended and Restated Articles of Incorporation this 28th day of May, 2004.

OF
YOUTH AND FAMILY CENTERED SERVICES, INC.

ARTICLE ONE

Name

The name of the corporation is Youth and Family Centered Services, Inc.

ARTICLE TWO

Authorized Shares

The total number of shares of all classes which the Corporation has authority to issue is twenty thousand (20,000) shares of capital stock, of which ten thousand (10,000) shares shall be common stock with a par value of $.001 per share (the "Common Stock") and ten thousand (10,000) shares shall be preferred stock with a par value $.001 per share (the "Preferred Stock").

The designations and the preferences, conversion and other rights, voting powers, restrictions, limitations as to dividends, qualifications, and terms and conditions of redemption of the shares of each class of stock are as follows:

Common Stock

Subject to all of the rights of the Preferred Stock as expressly provided herein, by law or by the Board of Directors pursuant to this Article Two, the Common Stock of the Corporation shall possess all such rights and privileges as are afforded to capital stock by applicable law in the absence of any express grant of rights or privileges in the Corporation's Articles of Incorporation, including, but not limited to, the following rights and privileges:

(a) dividends may be declared and paid or set apart for payment upon the Common Stock out of any assets or funds of the Corporation legally available for the payment of dividends;

(b) the holders of Common Stock shall have the right to vote for the election of directors and on all other matters requiring stockholder action, each share being entitled to one vote; and

(c) upon the voluntary or involuntary liquidation, dissolution or winding-up of the Corporation, the net assets of the Corporation available for distribution shall be distributed pro rata to the holders of the Common Stock in accordance with their respective rights and interests.

Preferred Stock

The Preferred Stock may be issued from time to time by the Board of Directors as shares of one or more series. The description of shares of each series of Preferred Stock, including any preferences, conversion and other rights, voting powers, restrictions, limitations as to dividends, qualifications, and terms and conditions of redemption shall be as set forth in resolutions adopted by the Board of Directors, and articles of amendment shall be filed with the Georgia Secretary of State as required by law to be filed with respect to issuance of such Preferred Stock, prior to the issuance of any shares of such series.

The Board of Directors is expressly authorized, at any time, by adopting resolutions providing for the issuance of, or providing for a change in the number of, shares of any particular series of Preferred Stock and, if and to the extent from time to time required by law, by filing articles of amendment which are effective without shareholder action to increase or decrease the number of shares included in each series of Preferred Stock, but not below the number of shares then issued, and to set or change in any one or more respects the designations, preferences, conversion or other rights, voting powers, restrictions, limitations as to dividends, qualifications, or terms and conditions of redemption relating to the shares of each such series. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the Board of Directors shall not be authorized to change the right of holders of the Common Stock of the Corporation to vote one vote per share on all matters submitted for shareholder action. The authority of the Board of Directors with respect to each series of Preferred Stock shall include, but not be limited to, setting or changing the following:

(a) the annual dividend rate, if any, on shares of such series, the items of payment and the date from which dividends shall be accumulated, if dividends are to be cumulative;

(b) whether the shares of such series shall be redeemable and, if so, the redemption price and the terms and conditions of such redemption;

(c) the obligation, if any, of the Corporation to redeem shares of such series pursuant to a sinking fund;

(d) whether shares of such series shall be convertible into, or exchangeable for, shares of stock of any other class or classes and, if so, the terms and conditions of such conversion or exchange, including the price or prices or the rate or rates of conversion or exchange and the terms of adjustment, if any:

(e) whether the shares of such series shall have voting rights, in addition to the voting rights provided by law, and, if so, the extent of such voting rights;

(f) the rights of the shares of such series in the event of voluntary or involuntary liquidation, dissolution or winding-up of the Corporation; and

(g) any other relative rights, powers, preferences, qualifications, limitations or restrictions thereof relating to such series.

The shares of Preferred Stock of any one series shall be identical with each other in all respects except as to the dates from and after which dividends thereon shall cumulate, if cumulative.

The mailing address of the initial principal office of the corporation is Twelve Piedmont Center, Suite 210, Atlanta, Georgia 30305.

ARTICLE SIX

Limitation of Director Liability

6.1 A director of the corporation shall not be liable to the corporation or its shareholders for monetary damages for any action taken, or any failure to take any action, as a director, except liability (i) for any appropriation, in violation of his duties, of any business opportunity of the corporation, (ii) for acts or omissions which involve intentional misconduct or a knowing violation of law, (iii) of the types set forth in Section 14-2-832 of the Georgia Business Corporation Code, or (iv) for any transaction from which the director received an improper personal benefit.

6.2 Any repeal or modification of the provisions of this Article by the shareholders of the corporation shall be prospective only, and shall not adversely affect any limitation on the liability of a director of the corporation with respect to any act or omission occurring prior to the effective date of such repeal or modification.

6.3 If the Georgia Business Corporation Code is hereafter amended to authorize the further elimination or limitation of the liability of directors, then the liability of a director of the corporation, in addition to the limitation on liability provided herein, shall be limited to the fullest extent permitted by the Georgia Business Corporation Code, as so amended.

6.4 In the event that any of the provisions of this Article (including any provision within a single sentence) is held by a court of competent jurisdiction to be invalid, void or otherwise unenforceable, the remaining provisions are severable and shall remain enforceable to the fullest extent permitted by law.

ARTICLE SEVEN

Constituency Considerations

In discharging the duties of their respective positions and in determining what is believed to be in the best interests of the corporation, the Board of Directors, committees of the Board of Directors, and individual directors, in addition to considering the effects of any action on the corporation or its shareholders, may consider the interests of the employees, customers, suppliers, and creditors of the corporation and its subsidiaries, the communities in which offices or other establishments of the corporation and its subsidiaries are located, and all other factors such directors consider pertinent; provided, however, that this article shall be deemed solely to grant discretionary authority to the directors and shall not be deemed to provide to any constituency, any right to be considered.

ARTICLE EIGHT

Shareholder Action by Less Than Unanimous Written Consent

Any action that is required or permitted to be taken at a meeting of the shareholders may be taken without a meeting if the action is taken by persons who would be entitled to vote at a meeting shares having voting power to cast not less than the minimum number (or numbers, in the case of voting by groups) of votes that would be necessary to authorize or take such action at a meeting at which all shareholders entitled to vote were present and voted. The action must be evidenced by one or more written consents describing the action taken, signed by shareholders entitled to take action without a meeting and delivered to the corporation for inclusion in the minutes or filing with the corporate records.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the undersigned executes these Articles of Incorporation this 10th day of January, 1996.

A GEORGIA CORPORATION

ARTICLE I
OFFICES

1.1 Registered Office. The registered office of the corporation is located at 3675 Crestwood Parkway, Suite 350, Duluth, Georgia, and the registered agent in charge thereof is National Registered Agents, Inc. The corporation's board of directors (the "Board") may change the location of the registered office to any place inside the State of Georgia and may chance the registered agent to any person resident to the State of Georgia.

1.2 Principal Executive Office. The corporation's principal executive office are located at 2849 Paces Ferry Road, Suit 750 in Atlanta, Georgia. The Board may change the location of the principal executive office to any place inside or outside the State of Georgia.

1.3 Other Offices. The corporation may at any time establish branch or subordinate offices at any place or places where the corporation is qualified to do business.

ARTICLE II
SHAREHOLDER

2.1 Place of Meetings. All meetings of the shareholder, whether annual or special, will be held at the offices of the corporation or at such other place as may be fixed from time to time by the Board.

2.2 Annual Meeting. Annual shareholder meetings will be held on the date and time designated by the Board. The chairman of the Board will preside at all annual shareholder meetings.

2.3 Special Meetings. A special shareholder meeting may be called at any time by the shareholder or the Board. The persons calling the meeting will make a request in writing to the secretary, specifying a time and date for the proposed meeting and describing all purposes for which the meeting is called. The chairman of the Board will preside at all special shareholder meetings.

2.4 Notice of Meetings; Time and Content. The corporation's secretary will give notice of shareholder meetings to the shareholder not less than ten (10) days before the meeting date, (a) specifying the place, date, and hour of the meeting, (b) describing, for special meetings, all purposes for which the meeting is called, and (b) describing, for annual meetings, any matters that the shareholder or the Board intends, at the time of giving the notice, to present for action by the shareholder.

2.5 Manner of Notice. Notice of any shareholder meeting must be (a) in writing and (b) given personally to the recipient, by first-class mail (postage prepaid and return receipt requested), nationally recognized overnight private carrier (charges prepaid) or by facsimile transmission (with confirmation of delivery retained), delivered to the shareholder at the address or facsimile number appearing on the corporation's books or otherwise specified for purposes of notice. Notice will be deemed given at the time of personal delivery, deposited in the mail or with an overnight carrier or transmitted via facsimile transmission.

2.6 Adjourned Meetings; Notice. Shareholder meetings may be adjourned from time to time by the shareholder; in the absence of a quorum, no other business may be transacted, except as specifically authorized in this code of regulations. If a meeting is adjourned to another time or place, new notice is not required if the new time and place were announced at the original meeting. If a new record date is set, the secretary will deliver new notice to the shareholder and the Board in the same manner as other notices of meetings. At an adjourned meeting, the corporation may transact any business that would be proper at the original meeting.

2.7 Quorum. The presence in person of the shareholder at any shareholder meeting will constitute a quorum for the transaction of business. The shareholder may attend shareholder meetings by means of teleconference device as long as all attendees are able to hear and be heard by all other attendees at the meeting, and such attendance will be deemed to be presence in person at the meeting.

2.8 Voting. Except as otherwise provided by law, each outstanding share is entitled to one vote on each matter submitted to a vote of the shareholder. Any vote may be made by voice vote or by ballot. If a quorum is present at a shareholder meeting, the affirmative vote of a majority of the shares represented and voting, will be the act of the shareholder.

2.9 Action by Written Consent without a Meeting. Any action required or permitted to be taken at any shareholder meeting may be taken without a meeting, if a written consent to such action is signed by the shareholder and filed with the corporate records.

ARTICLE III
THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS

3.1 Powers. The business and affairs of the corporation shall be managed by or under the direction of the Board, which may exercise all such powers of the corporation and do all such acts and things as are not directed or required to be exercised or done by the shareholder by the Georgia Business Corporation Code, codified as Title XIV, Chapter 2 of the Official Code of the State of Georgia (the "GBCC"), the corporation's articles of incorporation or these bylaws.

3.2 Number and Election. The corporation will have five (5) directors, who will be elected at the annual shareholder meeting or such other time as the shareholder may determine, and each director shall hold office until his successor is elected and qualified or until his earlier resignation or removal.

3.3 Resignation; Removal; Vacancies. Any director may resign at any time by so notifying the shareholder and the corporation's secretary (if any) in writing, and such resignation shall be effective upon receipt of such notice or at such later time specified therein. Any director may be removed with or without cause by the shareholder at any time. If the office of any director or directors becomes vacant by reason of death, resignation, retirement, disqualification, removal from office, or otherwise, or a new directorship is created, the shareholder will choose a successor, who shall hold office for the unexpired term or until the next election of directors.

3.4 Compensation of Directors. Directors, as such, may receive such stated salary for their services and/or such fixed sums and expenses of attendance for attendance at each regular or special meeting of the Board as may be established by resolution of the shareholder; provided that nothing herein contained precludes any director from serving the corporation in any other capacity and receiving compensation therefor.

3.5 Board Meetings. Regular and special Board meetings may be held at any time within or outside of the State of Georgia as the Board may determine, or as may be fixed in the respective notices or waivers of notice of such meetings.

3.6 Notice of Meetings; Time and Content. The corporation's secretary will give notice of Board meetings to the directors (a) specifying the place, date, and hour of the meeting, (b) describing, for special meetings, all purposes for which the meeting is called, and (b) describing, for regular meetings, any matters that the director or officers intent, at the time of giving the notice, to present for action by the director.

3.7 Manner of Notice. Notice of any Board meeting must be (a) in writing and (b) given personally to the director, by first-class mail (postage prepaid and return receipt requested), nationally recognized overnight private carrier (charges prepaid) or by facsimile transmission (with confirmation of delivery retained), delivered to the director at the address or facsimile number appearing on the corporation's books or otherwise specified by the director for purposes of notice. Notice will be deemed given at the time of personal delivery, deposited in the mail or with an overnight carrier or transmitted via facsimile transmission.

3.8 Waiver of Notice. Notice of a Board meeting, if otherwise required, need not be given to the director if the director (a) attends the meeting without protesting the lack of notice before or at the beginning of the meeting or (b) signs a written waiver of notice or a consent to the holding of such meeting. Waivers of notice or consents need not specify the purpose of the meeting. The secretary will prepared all written waivers, consents and approvals and file all such waivers, consents and approvals with the corporate records or as part of the Board meeting minutes.

3.9 Adjourned Meetings; Notice Not Required. If a quorum is present, the directors may adjourn any Board meeting to another time and place. Notice of the time and place of resuming an adjourned meeting need not be given.

3.10 Action by Written Consent without a Meeting. Any action required or permitted to be taken at any Board meeting may be taken without a meeting, if a written consent to such action is signed by the directors and filed with the corporate records or as part of the Board meeting minutes. The secretary will file all such written consents with the corporate records or as part of the Board meeting minutes.

3.11 Quorum. The presence in person of the a majority of the total number of directors at a Board meeting will constitute a quorum for the transaction of business. Directors may attend Board meetings by means of teleconference device as long as all attendees are able to hear and be heard by all other attendees at the meeting, and such attendees will be deemed to be presence in person at the meeting. Every act done or decision made by the directors present at a meeting duly held at which a quorum is present will be deemed the act of the Board.

3.12 Other Activities. The directors will not be required to manage the corporation as their sole and exclusive function. Except as otherwise provided herein, the directors may have other business, trade, or investment interests and may engage in other activities in addition to those relating to the corporation. The corporation will not have any right, by virtue of this Agreement, to share or participate in such other investments or activities of any director or to the income or proceeds derived therefrom. The directors will not incur any liability to the corporation under these bylaws as a result of engaging in any other business or venture.

3.13 Right to Rely on the Directors. Any person or entity dealing with the corporation may rely (without duty of further inquiry) upon a certificate signed by an officer of the corporation as to:

(a) the identity of the director or the shareholder;

(b) the existence or nonexistence of any fact or facts which constitute a condition precedent to acts by the director or which are in any other manner germane to the affairs of the corporation;

(c) the Persons who are authorized to execute and deliver any instrument or document of the corporation; or

(d) any act or failure to act by the corporation or any other matter whatsoever involving the corporation or the shareholder.

ARTICLE IV
OFFICERS

4.1 Number. The Board will elect officers of the corporation, who will consist of a president/chief executive officer, any number of vice-presidents, a secretary, a treasurer, and such other officers and assistant officers as may be deemed necessary or desirable by the Board. Any number of offices may be held by the same person. In its discretion, the Board may choose not to fill any office for any period as it may deem advisable.

4.2 Election. The officers will be elected annually by the Board at the first meeting of the Board held after each annual shareholder meeting or at such other time as the shareholder may designate. Each officer will hold office until a successor is duly elected and qualified or until such officer's earlier death, resignation or removal.

4.3 Resignation; Removal; Vacancies. Any officer or agent elected by the Board may resign at any time by so notifying the Board and the shareholder in writing, and such resignation shall be effective upon receipt o such notice or at such later time specified therein. Any officer or agent elected by the Board may be removed by the Board or the shareholder whenever in their respective judgment the best interests of the corporation would be served thereby, but such removal shall be without prejudice to the contract rights, if any, of the person so removed. The election of a person as an officer shall not of itself create a right to continued employment with the corporation. If any office becomes vacant by reason of death, resignation, retirement, disqualification, removal from office, or otherwise, or a new office is created, the Board will choose a successor, who shall hold office for the unexpired term or until the next election of officers.

4.4 President and Chief Executive Officer. The president and chief executive officer shall be the chief executive officer of the corporation, with executive authority to see that all orders and resolutions of the Board are carried into effect, and, subject to the control vested in the Board by statute, the corporation's articles of incorporation or these bylaws, will administer and be responsible for the management of the business and affairs of the corporation. In the absence of the chairman of the Board, the president and chief executive officer will preside at all meetings of the shareholder and the Board. In general the president and chief executive officer will perform all duties incident to the office of the president and such other duties as from time to time may be assigned by the Board.

4.5 Vice Presidents. If one ore more vice presidents are appointed by the Board, then, in the absence or disability of the president and chief executive officer, each vice president, in the order designated (or absent designation, in the order of election) will perform the duties of the president and chief executive officer. The vice presidents will also perform such other duties as from time to time may be assigned to them by the Board or the president and chief executive officer.

4.6 Secretary. The secretary will (a) keep the minutes of the meetings of the shareholder and the Board, (b) see that all notices are duly given in accordance with the provisions of these bylaws or as required by law, (c) be custodian of the records and have charge of the stock record books of the corporation, and (e) generally perform all duties incident to the office of secretary and such other duties as are provided by these bylaws or are assigned by the Board or the president and chief executive officer.

4.7 Treasurer. The treasurer will (a) receive and be responsible for all funds of and securities owned or held by the corporation and, in connection therewith, among other things, (i) keep or cause to be kept full and accurate records and accounts for the corporation, (ii) deposit or cause to be deposited to the credit of the corporation all moneys, funds and securities so received in such bank or other depositary as the Board or an officer designated by the Board may from time to time establish, and (iii) disburse or supervise the disbursement of the funds of the corporation as may be properly authorized, (b) render to the Board at any directors meeting, or from time to time when ever the Board or the president and chief executive officer may require, financial and other appropriate reports on the condition of the corporation, and (c) generally perform all the duties incident to the office of treasurer and such other duties as are provided by these bylaws or are assigned by the Board or the president and chief executive officer.

4.8 Compensation. Officers, as such, may receive such stated salary for their services as may be established by resolution of the Board, and no officer will be prevented from receiving such salary by reason of the fact that such person is also a director of the corporation.

4.9 Delegation of Duties. In case of the absence of any officer of the corporation or for any other reason which may seem sufficient to the Board, such officer may, for the time being, delegate such officer's powers and duties, or any of them, to any other officer or director of the corporation.

ARTICLE V
OWNERSHIP AND TRANSFER OF SHARES

5.1 Share Ownership. The corporation will have one shareholder who will own all of the issued and outstanding shares of the corporation (the "shareholder").

5.2 Stock Certificates. Certificates for shares of the stock of the corporation will be respectively numbered serially for each class of stock, or series thereof, as they are issued, and shall be signed by the president and chief executive officer, or a vice president, and by the secretary or treasurer; provided that such signatures may be facsimiles on any certificate countersigned by a transfer agent other than the corporation or its employee. Each certificate shall exhibit the name of the corporation, the class (or series of any class) and number of shares represented thereby, and the name of the holder. Each certificate shall be otherwise in such form as may be prescribed by the Board.

5.3 Fixing Date for Determination of Shareholders of Record.

(a) To determine the shareholders entitled to notice of or to vote at any meeting of shareholders or any adjournment thereof, the Board may fix a record date, which record date shall not precede the date upon which the resolution fixing the record date is adopted by the Board, and which record date shall not be more than sixty nor less than ten days before the date of such meeting. If no record is fixed by the Board, the record date for determining shareholders entitled to notice of or to vote at a meeting of shareholders shall be at the close of business on the day next preceding the day on which notice is given, or, if notice is waived, at the close of business on the day next preceding the day on which the meeting is held. A determination of shareholders of record entitled to notice of or to vote at a meeting of shareholders shall apply to any adjournment of the meeting; providing, however, that the Board may fix a new record date for the adjourned meeting.

(b) To determine the shareholders entitled to consent to corporate action in writing without a meeting, the Board may fix a record date, which record date shall not precede the date upon which the resolution fixing the record date is adopted by the Board. If no record date has been fixed by the Board, the record date for determining shareholders entitled to consent to corporate action in writing without a meeting, when no prior action by the Board is required by the GBCC, shall be the first date on which a signed written consent setting forth the action taken or proposed to be taken is delivered to the corporation by delivery to its registered office in the State of Georgia, its principal place of business, or an officer or agent of the corporation having custody of the book in which proceedings of meetings by shareholders are recorded. Delivery made to a corporation's registered office shall be by hand or by certified or registered mail, return receipt requested. If no record date has been fixed by the Board and prior action by the Board is required by the GBCC, the record date for determining shareholders entitled to consent to corporate action in writing without a meeting shall be at the close of business on the day on which the Board adopts the resolution taking such prior action.

(c) To determine the shareholders entitled to receive payment of any dividend or other distribution or allotment of any rights or the shareholders entitled to exercise any rights in respect of any change, conversion or exchange of stock, or for the purpose of any other lawful action, the Board may fix a record date, which record date shall not precede the date upon which the resolution fixing the record date is adopted, and which record date shall be not more than sixty days prior to such action. If no record date is fixed, the record date for determining shareholders for any such purpose shall be at the close of business on the day on which the Board adopts the resolution relating thereto.

5.4 Lost Certificate. Any shareholder claiming that a certificate representing shares of stock has been lost, stolen or destroyed may make an affidavit or affirmation of the fact and, if the Board so requires, advertise the same in a manner designated by the Board, and give the corporation a bond of indemnity in form and with security for an amount satisfactory to the Board (or an officer or officers designated by the Board), whereupon a new certificate may be issued of the same tenor and representing the same number, class and/or series of shares as were represented by the certificate alleged to have been lost, stolen or destroyed.

ARTICLE VI
BOOKS AND RECORDS

6.1 Location. The books, accounts and records of the corporation may be kept at the corporations' principal executive officers or such place or places within or without the State of Georgia as the Board may from time to time determine.

6.2 Inspection. The books, accounts, and records of the corporation will be open to inspection by any of the corporation's directors at all times; and open to inspection by the shareholder at such times, and subject to such regulations as the Board may prescribe, except as otherwise provided by statute.

ARTICLE VII
DIVIDENDS; GENERAL CORPORATE MATTERS

7.1 Dividends. The Board, subject to any restrictions contained in the corporation's articles of incorporation and other lawful commitments of the corporation, may declare and pay dividends upon the shares of its capital stock either out of the surplus of the corporation, as defined in and computed in accordance with the GBCC, or in case there shall be no such surplus, out of the net profits of the corporation for the fiscal year in which the dividend is declared and/or the preceding fiscal year. If the capital of the corporation, computed in accordance with the GBCC, has been diminished by depreciation in the value of its property, or by losses, or otherwise, to an amount less than the aggregate amount of the capital represented by the issued and outstanding stock of all classes having a preference upon the distribution of assets, then the Board may not declare and pay out of such net profits any dividends upon any shares of any classes of its capital stock until the deficiency in the amount of capital represented by the issued and outstanding stock of all classes having a preference upon the distribution of assets shall have been repaired.

7.2 Reserves. The Board may set apart, out of any of the funds of the corporation available for dividends, a reserve or reserves for any proper purpose and may abolish any such reserve.

7.3 Authorized Signatories for Checks. All checks, drafts and other orders for payment of money, notes and other evidences of indebtedness issued in the name of or payable to the corporation may be signed or endorsed in the manner, and by the president or secretary or other persons, authorized by the director.

7.4 Executing Contracts and Instruments. Subject to the restrictions contained in these bylaws, the Board may authorize any officer of the corporation to enter into any contract or execute any instrument in the name of and on behalf of the corporation. This authority may be general or confined to one or more specific matters. No officer, agent, employee or other person purporting to act on behalf of the corporation has any power or authority to bind the corporation in any way, pledge its credit, or render it liable for any purpose in any amount, unless that person was acting with authority duly granted in accordance with this code of regulations or unless an unauthorized act is later ratified by the corporation.

ARTICLE VIII
INDEMNIFICATION

8.1 Definitions. For purposes of this Article VII:

(a) "Corporate Status" describes the status of a person who is serving or has served (i) as a Director, (ii) as an Officer, or (iii) as a director, partner, trustee, officer, employee or agent of any other corporation, partnership, joint venture, trust, employee benefit plan or other enterprise which such person is or was serving at the request of the corporation. For purposes of this Section 8.1(a), an Officer or Director who is serving or has served as a director, partner, trustee, officer, employee or agent of a Subsidiary shall be deemed to be serving at the request of the corporation. Notwithstanding the foregoing, "Corporate Status" shall not include the status of a person who is serving or has served as a director, officer, employee or agent of a constituent corporation absorbed in a merger or consolidation transaction with the corporation with respect to such person's activities prior to said transaction, unless specifically authorized by the Board or the shareholder of the corporation;

(b) "Director" means any person who serves or has served the corporation as a director on the Board;

(c) "Disinterested Director" means, with respect to each Proceeding in respect of which indemnification is sought hereunder, a Director who is not and was not a party to such Proceeding;

(d) "Expenses" means all reasonable attorneys' fees, retainers, court costs, transcript costs, fees of expert witnesses, private investigators and professional advisors (including, without limitation, accountants and investment bankers), travel expenses, duplicating costs, printing and binding costs, costs of preparation of demonstrative evidence and other courtroom presentation aids and devices, costs incurred in connection with document review, organization, imaging and computerization, telephone charges, postage, delivery service fees, and all other disbursements, costs or expenses of the type customarily incurred in connection with prosecuting, defending, preparing to prosecute or defend, investigating, being or preparing to be a witness in, settling or otherwise participating in, a Proceeding;

(e) "Non-Director Employee" means any person who serves or has served as an employee or agent of the corporation, including without limitation an Officer, but who is not or was not a Director;

(f) "Officer" means any person who serves or has served the corporation as an officer appointed by the Board;

(g) "Proceeding" means any threatened, pending or completed action, suit, arbitration, alternate dispute resolution mechanism, inquiry, investigation, administrative hearing or other proceeding, whether civil, criminal, administrative, arbitrative or investigative; and

(h) "Subsidiary" shall mean any corporation, partnership, limited liability company, joint venture, trust or other entity of which the corporation owns (either directly or through or together with another Subsidiary) (i) either a general partner, managing member or other similar interest or (ii) (A) 50% or more of the voting power of the voting capital equity interests of such corporation, partnership, limited liability company, joint venture or other entity, or (B) 50% or more of the outstanding voting capital stock or other voting equity interests of such corporation, partnership, limited liability company, joint venture or other entity.

8.2 Indemnification of Directors and Officers. Subject to Section 8.4, each Director shall be indemnified and held harmless by the corporation to the fullest extent authorized by the GBCC, as the same exists or may hereafter be amended (but, in the case of any such amendment, only to the extent that such amendment permits the corporation to provide broader indemnification rights than such law permitted the corporation to provide prior to such amendment) against all Expenses that are incurred by such Director or on such Director's behalf in connection with any Proceeding or any claim, issue or matter therein, which such Director is, or is threatened to be made, a party to or participant in by reason of such Director's Corporate Status, if such Director acted in good faith and in a manner such Director reasonably believed to be in or not opposed to the best interests of the corporation and, with respect to any criminal proceeding, had no reasonable cause to believe his or her conduct was unlawful. The rights of indemnification provided by this Section 8.2 shall continue as to a Director after he or she has ceased to be a Director and shall inure to the benefit of his or her heirs, executors, administrators and personal representatives. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the corporation shall indemnify any Director seeking indemnification in connection with a Proceeding initiated by such Director only if such Proceeding was authorized by the Board, unless such Proceeding was brought to enforce a Director's rights to indemnification or advancement of Expenses under these Bylaws in accordance with the provisions set forth herein.

8.3 Indemnification of Non-Director Employees. Subject to the operation of Section 8.4, each Non-Director Employee may, in the discretion of the Board, be indemnified by the corporation to the fullest extent authorized by the GBCC, as the same exists or may hereafter be amended, against all Expenses that are incurred by such Non-Director Employee or on such Non-Director Employee's behalf in connection with any Proceeding, or any claim, issue or matter therein, which such Non-Director Employee is, or is threatened to be made, a party to or participant in by reason of such Non-Director Employee's Corporate Status, if such Non-Director Employee acted in good faith and in a manner such Non-Director Employee reasonably believed to be in or not opposed to the best interests of the corporation and, with respect to any criminal proceeding, had no reasonable cause to believe his or her conduct was unlawful. The rights of indemnification provided by this Section 8.3 shall exist as to a Non-Director Employee after he or she has ceased to be a Non-Director Employee and shall inure to the benefit of his or her heirs, personal representatives, executors and administrators. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the corporation may indemnify any Non-Director Employee seeking indemnification in connection with a Proceeding initiated by such Non-Director Employee only if such Proceeding was authorized by the Board.

8.4 Good Faith. Unless ordered by a court, no indemnification shall be provided pursuant to this Article VIII to a Director or to a Non-Director Employee unless a determination shall have been made that such person acted in good faith and in a manner such person reasonably believed to be in or not opposed to the best interests of the corporation and, with respect to any criminal Proceeding, such person had no reasonable cause to believe his or her conduct was unlawful. Such determination shall be made by (a) a majority vote of the Disinterested Directors, even though less than a quorum of the Board, (b) a committee comprised of Disinterested Directors, such committee having been designated by a majority vote of the Disinterested Directors (even though less than a quorum), (c) if there are no such Disinterested Directors, or if a majority of Disinterested Directors so directs, by independent legal counsel in a written opinion, or (d) by the shareholder of the corporation.

8.5 Advancement of Expenses to Directors Prior to Final Disposition.

(a) The corporation shall advance all Expenses incurred by or on behalf of any Director in connection with any Proceeding in which such Director is involved by reason of such Director's Corporate Status within ten (10) days after the receipt by the corporation of a written statement from such Director reaffirming his or her good faith belief that he or she has met the relevant standard of conduct described in § 14-2-851 of the GBCC or that the proceeding involves conduct for which liability has been eliminated under a provision of the corporation's articles of incorporation and requesting such advance or advances from time to time, whether prior to or after final disposition of such Proceeding. Such statement or statements shall reasonably evidence the Expenses incurred by such Director and shall be preceded or accompanied by an undertaking by or on behalf of such Director to repay any Expenses so advanced if it shall ultimately be determined that such Director is not entitled to be indemnified against such Expenses.

(b) If a claim for advancement of Expenses hereunder by a Director is not paid in full by the corporation within ten (10) days after receipt by the corporation of documentation of Expenses and the required undertaking, then such Director may at any time thereafter bring suit against the corporation to recover the unpaid amount of the claim and if successful in whole or in part, such Director shall also be entitled to be paid the expenses of prosecuting such claim. The failure of the corporation (including the Board or any committee thereof, independent legal counsel, or the shareholder) to make a determination concerning the permissibility of such advancement of Expenses under this Article VIII shall not be a defense to the action and shall not create a presumption that such advancement is not permissible. The burden of proving that a Director is not entitled to an advancement of expenses shall be on the corporation.

(c) In any suit brought by the corporation to recover an advancement of expenses pursuant to the terms of an undertaking, the corporation shall be entitled to recover such expenses upon a final adjudication that the Director has not met any applicable standard for indemnification set forth in the GBCC.

8.6 Advancement of Expenses to Non-Director Employees Prior to Final Disposition.

(a) The corporation may, at the discretion of the Board, advance any or all Expenses incurred by or on behalf of any Non-Director Employee in connection with any Proceeding in which such is involved by reason of the Corporate Status of such Non-Director Employee upon the receipt by the corporation of a statement or statements from such Non-Director Employee requesting such advance or advances from time to time, whether prior to or after final disposition of such Proceeding. Such statement or statements shall reasonably evidence the Expenses incurred by such Non-Director Employee and shall be preceded or accompanied by an undertaking by or on behalf of such to repay any Expenses so advanced if it shall ultimately be determined that such Non-Director Employee is not entitled to be indemnified against such Expenses.

(b) In any suit brought by the corporation to recover an advancement of expenses pursuant to the terms of an undertaking, the corporation shall be entitled to recover such expenses upon a final adjudication that the Non-Director Employee has not met any applicable standard for indemnification set forth in the GBCC.

8.7 Contractual Nature of Rights.

(a) The foregoing provisions of this Article VIII shall be deemed to be a contract between the corporation and each Director entitled to the benefits hereof at any time while this Article VIII is in effect, and any repeal or modification thereof shall not affect any rights or obligations then existing with respect to any state of facts then or theretofore existing or any Proceeding theretofore or thereafter brought based in whole or in part upon any such state of facts.

(b) If a claim for indemnification hereunder by a Director is not paid in full by the corporation within sixty (60) days after receipt by the corporation of a written claim for indemnification, such Director may at any time thereafter bring suit against the corporation to recover the unpaid amount of the claim, and if successful in whole or in part, such Director shall also be entitled to be paid the expenses of prosecuting such claim. The failure of the corporation (including the Board or any committee thereof, independent legal counsel, or the shareholder) to make a determination concerning the permissibility of such indemnification under this Article VIII shall not be a defense to the action and shall not create a presumption that such indemnification is not permissible. The burden of proving that a Director is not entitled to indemnification shall be on the corporation.

(c) In any suit brought by a Director to enforce a right to indemnification hereunder, it shall be a defense that such Director has not met any applicable standard for indemnification set forth in the GBCC.

8.8 Non-Exclusivity of Rights. The rights to indemnification and advancement of Expenses set forth in this Article VIII shall not be exclusive of any other right which any Director or Non-Director Employee may have or hereafter acquire under any statute, provision of the corporation's articles of incorporation or these bylaws, agreement, vote of shareholders or Disinterested Directors or otherwise.

8.9 Insurance. The corporation may maintain insurance, at its expense, to protect itself and any Director or Non-Director Employee against any liability of any character asserted against or incurred by the corporation or any such Director or Non-Director Employee, or arising out of any such person's Corporate Status, whether or not the corporation would have the power to indemnify such person against such liability under the GBCC or the provisions of this Article VIII.

8.10 Other Indemnification. The corporation's obligation, if any, to indemnify any person under this Article VIII as a result of such person serving, at the request of the corporation, as a director, partner, trustee, officer, employee or agent of another corporation, partnership, joint venture, trust, employee benefit plan or other enterprise shall be reduced by any amount such person may collect as indemnification from such other corporation, partnership, joint venture, trust, employee benefit plan or enterprise.

ARTICLE IX
AMENDMENTS

The shareholder may adopt, amend, or repeal these bylaws, and alterations or amendments of these bylaws made by the shareholder shall not be altered or amended by the Board.

Re: Registration Statement on Form S-4

Ladies and Gentlemen:

We are issuing this opinion letter in our capacity as special legal counsel to Acadia Healthcare Company, Inc., a Delaware corporation (the "Company"), and the guarantors set forth in Schedule A hereto (the "Guarantors" and, together with the Company, the "Registrants"). This opinion letter is being delivered in connection with the proposed registration by the Company of $150,000,000 in aggregate principal amount of its 12.875% Senior Notes due 2018 (the "Exchange Notes"), pursuant to a Registration Statement on Form S-4 filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission (the "Commission") on or about December 15, 2011, under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended (the "Securities Act"). Such Registration Statement, as amended or supplemented, is hereinafter referred to as the "Registration Statement."

The obligations of the Company under the Exchange Notes will be guaranteed by the Guarantors (the "Guarantees"). The Exchange Notes and the Guarantees are to be issued in exchange for and in replacement of the Company's outstanding 12.875% Senior Notes due 2018 and related guarantees (the "Outstanding Notes"), of which we understand $150,000,000 in aggregate principal amount are outstanding on the date hereof. The Exchange Notes and the Guarantees are to be issued pursuant to an Indenture, dated as of November 1, 2011 (the "Indenture"), among the Company, the Guarantors and U.S. Bank National Association, as trustee.

In this opinion letter: (1) Acadia Abilene, LLC, Acadia Hospital of Lafayette, LLC, Acadia Hospital of Longview, LLC, Acadia Louisiana, LLC, Acadia Management Company, Inc., Acadia Merger Sub, LLC, Acadia RiverWoods, LLC, Acadia Village, LLC, Acadia-YFCS Holdings, Inc., Lakeview Behavioral Health System LLC, PHC MeadowWood, Inc., Psychiatric Resource Partners, Inc., Seven Hills Hospital, Inc. and Suncoast Behavioral, LLC are collectively referred to as the "Delaware Registrants," (ii) Ascent Acquisition Corporation, Ascent Acquisition Corporation-CYPDC, Ascent Acquisition Corporation-PSC, Child & Youth

Pediatric Day Clinics, Inc., Childrens Medical Transportation Services, LLC, Habilitation Center, Inc., Med Properties, Inc., Meducare Transport, L.L.C., Millcreek School of Arkansas, Inc., Pediatric Specialty Care, Inc. and Pediatric Specialty Care Properties, LLC are collectively referred to as the "Arkansas Registrants," (iii) Southwestern Children's Health Services, Inc. is referred to as the "Arizona Registrant," (iv) PsychSolutions Acquisition Corporation, PsychSolutions, Inc. and Youth and Family Centered Services of Florida, Inc. are collectively referred to as the "Florida Registrants," (v) Lakeland Hospital Acquisition Corporation, Millcreek Management Corporation, YFCS Holdings-Georgia, Inc., YFCS Management, Inc. and Youth and Family Centered Services, Inc. are collectively referred to as the "Georgia Registrants," (vi) Options Community Based Services, Inc., Options Treatment Center Acquisition Corporation, Resolute Acquisition Corporation, Resource Community Based Services, Inc., RTC Resource Acquisition Corporation and Success Acquisition Corporation are collectively referred to as the "Indiana Registrants," (vii) Behavioral Health Online, Inc., Detroit Behavioral Institute, Inc., North Point-Pioneer, Inc., PHC of Michigan, Inc., PHC of Nevada, Inc., PHC of Utah, Inc., PHC of Virginia, Inc., Renaissance Recovery, Inc. and Wellplace, Inc., are collectively referred to as the "Massachusetts Registrants," (viii) Millcreek Schools Inc. and Rehabilitation Centers, Inc. are collectively referred to as the "Mississippi Registrants," (ix) Kids Behavioral Health of Montana, Inc. is referred to as the "Montana Registrant," (x) Memorial Hospital Acquisition Corporation and Youth and Family Centered Services of New Mexico, Inc. are collectively referred to as the "New Mexico Registrants," (xi) Southwood Psychiatric Hospital, Inc. is referred to as the "Pennsylvania Registrant" and (xii) Rebound Behavioral Health, LLC is referred to as the "South Carolina Registrant."

In connection with issuing this opinion letter, we have examined originals, or copies certified or otherwise identified to our satisfaction, of such documents, corporate records and other instruments as we have deemed necessary for the purposes of this opinion, including (i) the articles of incorporation and certificates of formation, as applicable, and bylaws and operating agreements, as applicable, of the Registrants, (ii) resolutions of the board of directors, member or manager of the Registrants with respect to the issuance of the Exchange Notes and the Guarantees, (iii) the Indenture, (iv) the Registration Statement and (v) the Registration Rights Agreement, dated as of November 1, 2011, by and among the Company, the Guarantors and Jefferies & Company, Inc., as initial purchaser.

For purposes of this opinion, we have assumed the authenticity of all documents submitted to us as originals, the conformity to the originals of all documents submitted to us as copies and the authenticity of the originals of all documents submitted to us as copies. We have also assumed the legal capacity of all natural persons, the genuineness of the signatures of persons signing all documents in connection with which this opinion is rendered, the authority of such persons signing on behalf of the parties thereto other than the Company and the Delaware Registrants, and the due authorization, execution and delivery of all documents by the parties thereto other than the Company and the Delaware Registrants. We have not independently established or verified any facts relevant to the opinions expressed herein, but have relied upon statements and representations of officers and other representatives of the Registrants and others.

Our opinion expressed below is subject to the qualifications that we express no opinion as to the applicability of, compliance with, or effect of (i) any bankruptcy, insolvency, reorganization, fraudulent transfer, fraudulent conveyance, moratorium or other similar law affecting the enforcement of creditors' rights generally, (ii) general principles of equity (regardless of whether enforcement is considered in a proceeding in equity or at law) or (iii) other commonly recognized statutory and judicial constraints on enforceability including statutes of limitations. In addition, we do not express any opinion as to the enforceability of any rights to contribution or indemnification which may be violative of public policy underlying any law, rule or regulation (including federal or state securities laws, rules or regulations).

We have also assumed that:

(i) the Registration Statement will be effective at the time the Exchange Notes are offered as contemplated by the Registration Statement;

(ii) any applicable prospectus supplement will have been prepared and filed with the Commission describing the Exchange Notes offered thereby to the extent necessary;

(iii) the Outstanding Notes have been exchanged in the manner described in the prospectus forming a part of the Registration Statement;

(iv) the Indenture has been duly qualified under the Trust Indenture Act of 1939, as amended; and

(v) the Registrants will have obtained any legally required consents, approvals, authorizations and other orders of the Commission and any other federal regulatory agencies necessary for the Exchange Notes to be exchanged, offered and sold in the manner stated in the Registration Statement and any applicable prospectus supplement.

Based upon and subject to the qualifications, assumptions and limitations set forth herein, we are of the opinion that when the Exchange Notes have been duly executed and authenticated in accordance with the provisions of the applicable Indenture, and duly delivered to the holders thereof in exchange for the Outstanding Notes, and the Guarantees have been duly issued, the Exchange Notes will be valid and binding obligations of the Company, and the Guarantees will be valid and binding obligations of the Guarantors.

We hereby consent to the filing of this opinion with the Commission as Exhibit 5.1 to the Registration Statement. We also consent to the reference to our firm under the heading "Legal Matters" in the Registration Statement. In giving this consent, we do not thereby admit that we are in the category of persons whose consent is required under Section 7 of the Securities Act.

Our advice on every legal issue addressed in this letter is based exclusively on the internal law of the State of New York, the General Corporation Law of the State of Delaware or the Limited Liability Company Act of the State of Delaware (including the statutory provisions, all applicable provisions of the relevant state constitutions and reported judicial decisions interpreting the foregoing) and represents our opinion as to how that issue would be resolved were it to be considered by the highest court in the jurisdiction which enacted such law. The manner in which any particular issue relating to the opinions would be treated in any actual court case would depend in part on facts and circumstances particular to the case and would also depend on how the court involved chose to exercise the wide discretionary authority generally available to it. For purposes of our opinion that the Guarantees will be valid and binding obligations of the Guarantors, we have, without conducting any research or investigation with respect thereto, relied on the opinions of (i) Dover Dixon Horne PLLC, with respect to the Arkansas Registrants, (ii) Lewis and Roca LLP with respect to the Arizona Registrant and the New Mexico Registrants, (iii) Carlton Fields, P.A., with respect to the Florida Registrants, (iv) Sanders & Ranck, P.C., with respect to the Georgia Registrants, (v) Frost Brown Todd LLC, with respect to the Indiana Registrants, (vi) Goulston & Storrs — A Professional Corporation, with respect to the Massachusetts Registrants, (vii) Butler, Snow, O'Mara, Stevens & Cannada, PLLC, with respect to the Mississippi Registrants, (viii) Karell Dyre Haney PLLP, with respect to the Montana Registrant, (ix) Buchanan Ingersoll & Rooney, PC, with respect to the Pennsylvania Registrants, and (x) Nelson Mullins Riley & Scarborough, LLP, with respect to the South Carolina Registrants, that such Registrants have the requisite corporate power to perform their obligations under the Indenture and the applicable Guarantees, and that the issuance of such Guarantees have been duly authorized and that such Guarantees do not conflict with, or require consents under, the laws of the Registrants' respective states of organization. We are not qualified to practice law in the States of Arkansas, Arizona, New Mexico, Florida, Georgia, Indiana, Mississippi, Montana, Pennsylvania or South Carolina or the Commonwealth of Massachusetts and we have made no investigation of, and do not express or imply an opinion on, the laws of such state. This letter is not intended to guarantee the outcome of any legal dispute which may arise in the future. None of the opinions or other advice contained in this letter considers or covers any foreign or state securities (or "blue sky") laws or regulations.

This opinion is limited to the specific issues addressed herein, and no opinion may be inferred or implied beyond that expressly stated herein. We assume no obligation to revise or supplement this opinion after the date of the effectiveness of the Registration Statement should the present laws of the State of New York, the General Corporation Law of the State of Delaware or the Limited Liability Company Act of the State of Delaware be changed by legislative action, judicial decision or otherwise.

This opinion is furnished to you in connection with the filing of the Registration Statement, in accordance with the requirements of Item 601(b)(5) of Regulation S-K under the Securities Act.

Sincerely,

/s/ Kirkland & Ellis LLP

Re: Registration Statement on Form S-4

Ladies and Gentlemen:

We are issuing this opinion letter in our capacity as special New Mexico and Arizona counsel to Memorial Hospital Acquisition Corporation, a New Mexico corporation, Youth and Family Centered Services of New Mexico, Inc., a New Mexico corporation (collectively, the "New Mexico Guarantors") and Southwestern Children's Health Services, Inc., an Arizona corporation (the "Arizona Guarantor" which, with the New Mexico Guarantors, are referred to as the "Guarantors"), in connection with the Guarantors' proposed guarantees, along with the other guarantors under the Indenture (as defined below), of $150,000,000 in aggregate principal amount of 12.875% Senior Notes due 2018 (the "Exchange Notes") to be issued by Acadia Healthcare Company, Inc., a Delaware corporation (the "Company"), in connection with an exchange offer to be made pursuant to a Registration Statement on Form S-4 (such Registration Statement, as supplemented or amended, is hereinafter referred to as the "Registration Statement"), to be filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission (the "Commission") on or about December 15, 2011, under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended (the "Securities Act"). The obligations of the Company under the Exchange Notes will be guaranteed by the Guarantors (the "Guarantees"), along with other guarantors. The Exchange Notes and the Guarantees are to be issued pursuant to an Indenture, dated as of November 1, 2011 (the "Indenture"), among the Company, the guarantors named therein and U.S. Bank National Association, as trustee.

In connection with issuing this opinion letter, we have examined originals, or copies certified or otherwise provided to us, of (i) the articles of incorporation and bylaws of the Guarantors, (ii) resolutions of the boards of directors of the Guarantors with respect to the issuance of the Guarantees, (iii) the Indenture, (iv) the Registration Statement and (v) the Registration Rights Agreement, dated as of November 1, 2011, by and among the Company, the Guarantors, other guarantors and Jefferies & Company, Inc., as initial purchaser.

For purposes of this opinion, we have assumed the authenticity of all documents submitted to us as originals, the conformity to the originals of all documents submitted to us as copies and the authenticity of the originals of all documents submitted to us as copies. We have also assumed the legal capacity of all natural persons, the genuineness of the signatures of persons signing all documents in connection with which this opinion is rendered, the authority of such persons signing on behalf of the parties thereto other than the Guarantors and the due authorization, execution and delivery of all documents by the parties thereto other than the Guarantors. We have not independently established or verified any facts relevant to the opinions expressed herein, but have relied upon statements and representations of officers and other representatives of the Company and the Guarantors.

We have also assumed that:

(i) the Registration Statement will be effective at the time the Exchange Notes are offered as contemplated by the Registration Statement;

(ii) any applicable prospectus supplement will have been prepared and filed with the Commission describing the Exchange Notes offered thereby to the extent necessary;

(iii) the Outstanding Notes (as defined in the Registration Statement) have been exchanged in the manner described in the prospectus forming a part of the Registration Statement;

(iv) the Indenture has been duly qualified under the Trust Indenture Act of 1939, as amended; and

(v) the Company and the Guarantors will have obtained any legally required consents, approvals, authorizations and other orders of the Commission and any other federal regulatory agencies necessary for the Exchange Notes to be exchanged, offered and sold in the manner stated in the Registration Statement and any applicable prospectus supplement.

Based upon and subject to the qualifications, assumptions and limitations set forth herein, we are of the opinion that:

1. The New Mexico Guarantors and the Arizona Guarantor are corporations existing and in good standing under the laws of the States of New Mexico and Arizona, respectively.
2. The Guarantors have the corporate power and authority to enter into and perform their respective obligations under the Indenture and the Guarantees.
3. The Guarantors have duly authorized, executed and delivered the Indenture and have duly authorized the Guarantees.
4. The execution and delivery of the Indenture and the Guarantees by the Guarantors and the performance by the Guarantors of their obligations thereunder (including with respect to the Guarantees) do not and will not conflict with or constitute or result in a breach or default under (or an event which with notice or the passage of time or both would constitute a default under) or violation of any of, (i) the articles of incorporation or bylaws of the Guarantors or (ii) any statute or governmental rule or regulation of the State of New Mexico in the case of the New Mexico Guarantors or Arizona in the case of the Arizona Guarantor.

5. No consent, approval, authorization or order of any States of New Mexico or Arizona court or governmental authority of the States of New Mexico or Arizona was required in connection with the execution and delivery of the Indenture or is required for the issuance by the Guarantors of the Guarantees.

Our opinion expressed above is subject to the qualifications that we express no opinion as to the applicability of, compliance with, or effect of (i) any law except the laws of the States of New Mexico and Arizona and the New Mexico and Arizona case law decided thereunder and (ii) the "Blue Sky" laws and regulations of New Mexico and Arizona.

This opinion is limited to the specific issues addressed herein, and no opinion may be inferred or implied beyond that expressly stated herein. We assume no obligation to revise or supplement this opinion after the date of the effectiveness of the Registration Statement should the present laws of the States of New Mexico or Arizona be changed by legislative action, judicial decision or otherwise.

This opinion is furnished to you in connection with the filing of the Registration Statement, in accordance with the requirements of Item 601(b)(5)(i) of Regulation S-K promulgated under the Securities Act. Kirkland & Ellis LLP may rely upon this opinion in connection with its opinion addressed to the Company, filed as Exhibit 5.1 to the Registration Statement, to the same extent as if it were an addressee hereof.

We hereby consent to the filing of this opinion with the Commission as Exhibit 5.2 to the Registration Statement. We also consent to the reference to our firm under the heading "Legal Matters" in the Registration Statement. In giving this consent, we do not thereby admit that we are in the category of persons whose consent is required under Section 7 of the Securities Act.

Sincerely,

Re: Registration Statement on Form S-4

Ladies and Gentlemen:

We are issuing this opinion letter in our capacity as special Arkansas counsel to the Arkansas subsidiary companies of Acadia Healthcare Company, Inc., listed in Schedule I (the "Guarantors"), in connection with the Guarantors' proposed guarantee, along with the other guarantors under the Indenture (as defined below), of $150,000,000 in aggregate principal amount of 12.875% Senior Notes due 2018 (the "Exchange Notes") to be issued by Acadia Healthcare Company, Inc., a Delaware corporation (the "Company"), in connection with an exchange offer to be made pursuant to a Registration Statement on Form S-4 (such Registration Statement, as supplemented or amended, is hereinafter referred to as the "Registration Statement"), to be filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission (the "Commission") on or about December 15, 2011, under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended (the "Securities Act"). The obligations of the Company under the Exchange Notes will be guaranteed by the Guarantors (the "Guarantees"), along with other guarantors. The Exchange Notes and the Guarantees are to be issued pursuant to an Indenture, dated as of November 1, 2011 (the "Indenture"), among the Company, the guarantors named therein and U.S. Bank National Association, as trustee.

In connection with issuing this opinion letter, we have examined originals, or copies certified or otherwise identified to our satisfaction, of such documents, corporate records and other instruments as we have deemed necessary for the purposes of this opinion, including (i) the organizational documents of the Guarantors, (ii) authorizing resolutions of each of the boards of directors or members, as applicable, of the Guarantors with respect to the issuance of the Guarantees, (iii) the Indenture, (iv) the Registration Statement and (v) the Registration Rights Agreement, dated as of November 1, 2011, by and among the Company, the Guarantors, the other guarantors party thereto, and Jefferies & Company, Inc., as initial purchaser.

For purposes of this opinion, we have assumed the authenticity of all documents submitted to us as originals, the conformity to the originals of all documents submitted to us as copies and the authenticity of the originals of all documents submitted to us as copies. We have also assumed the legal capacity of all natural persons, the genuineness of the signatures of persons signing all documents in connection with which this opinion is rendered, the authority of such persons signing on behalf of the parties thereto other than the Guarantors and the due authorization, execution and delivery of all documents by the parties thereto other than the Guarantors. We have not independently established or verified any facts relevant to the opinions expressed herein, but have relied upon statements and representations of officers and other representatives of the Company and the Guarantors.

We have also assumed that:

(i) the Registration Statement will be effective at the time the Exchange Notes are offered as contemplated by the Registration Statement;

(ii) any applicable prospectus supplement will have been prepared and filed with the Commission describing the Exchange Notes offered thereby to the extent necessary;

(iii) the Outstanding Notes (as defined in the Registration Statement) have been exchanged in the manner described in the prospectus forming a part of the Registration Statement;

(iv) the Indenture has been duly qualified under the Trust Indenture Act of 1939, as amended; and

(v) the Company and the Guarantors will have obtained any legally required consents, approvals, authorizations and other orders of the Commission and any other federal regulatory agencies necessary for the Exchange Notes to be exchanged, offered and sold in the manner stated in the Registration Statement and any applicable prospectus supplement.

Based upon and subject to the qualifications, assumptions and limitations set forth herein, we are of the opinion that:

1. Each of the Guarantors is a corporation or limited liability company, as applicable, existing and in good standing under the laws of the State of Arkansas.
2. Each of the Guarantors has the corporate or limited liability power and authority, as applicable, to enter into and perform its obligations under the Indenture and its Guarantee.
3. Each of the Guarantors has duly authorized, executed and delivered the Indenture and has duly authorized its Guarantee.
4. The execution and delivery of the Indenture and the Guarantees by each of the Guarantors and the performance by each of the Guarantors of its obligations thereunder (including with respect to the Guarantees) do not and will not conflict with or constitute or result in a breach or default under (or an event which with notice or the passage of time or both would constitute a default under) or violation of any of, (i) the articles of incorporation, bylaws or other organizational documents of the Guarantor or (ii) any statute or governmental rule or regulation of the State of Arkansas.

5. No consent, approval, authorization or order of any State of Arkansas court or governmental authority of the State of Arkansas was required in connection with the execution and delivery of the Indenture or is required for the issuance by the Guarantors of the Guarantees.

Our opinion expressed above is subject to the qualifications that we express no opinion as to the applicability of, compliance with, or effect of (i) any law except the laws of the State of Arkansas and the Arkansas case law decided thereunder and (ii) the "Blue Sky" laws and regulations of Arkansas.

This opinion is limited to the specific issues addressed herein, and no opinion may be inferred or implied beyond that expressly stated herein. We assume no obligation to revise or supplement this opinion after the date of the effectiveness of the Registration Statement should the present laws of the State of Arkansas be changed by legislative action, judicial decision or otherwise.

This opinion is furnished to you in connection with the filing of the Registration Statement, in accordance with the requirements of Item 601(b)(5)(i) of Regulation S-K promulgated under the Securities Act. Kirkland & Ellis LLP may rely upon this opinion in connection with its opinion addressed to the Company, filed as Exhibit 5.1 to the Registration Statement, to the same extent as if it were an addressee hereof.

We hereby consent to the filing of this opinion with the Commission as Exhibit 5.3 to the Registration Statement. We also consent to the reference to our firm under the heading "Legal Matters" in the Registration Statement. In giving this consent, we do not thereby admit that we are in the category of persons whose consent is required under Section 7 of the Securities Act.

Sincerely,

/s/ Steve L. Riggs

Re: Registration Statement on Form S-4

Ladies and Gentlemen:

We are issuing this opinion letter in our capacity as special Florida counsel to PsychSolutions, Inc., a Florida corporation ("PsychSolutions"), PsychSolutions Acquisition Corporation, a Florida corporation ("PAC") and Youth and Family Centered Services of Florida, Inc., a Florida corporation ("Youth"; collectively, the "Guarantors"), in connection with the Guarantors' proposed guarantee, along with the other guarantors under the Indenture (as defined below), of $150,000,000 in aggregate principal amount of 12.875% Senior Notes due 2018 (the "Exchange Notes") to be issued by Acadia Healthcare Company, Inc., a Delaware corporation (the "Company"), in connection with an exchange offer to be made pursuant to a Registration Statement on Form S-4 (such Registration Statement, as supplemented or amended, is hereinafter referred to as the "Registration Statement"), to be filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission (the "Commission") on or about December 15, 2011, under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended (the "Securities Act"). The obligations of the Company under the Exchange Notes will be guaranteed by the Guarantors (the "Guarantees"), along with other guarantors. The Exchange Notes and the Guarantees are to be issued pursuant to an Indenture, dated as of November 1, 2011 (the "Indenture"), among the Company, the guarantors named therein and U.S. Bank National Association, as trustee.

In connection with issuing this opinion letter, we have examined originals, or copies certified or otherwise identified to our satisfaction, of such documents, corporate records and other instruments as we have deemed necessary for the purposes of this opinion, including:

(i) the following organizational documents of the Guarantors:

a. Articles of Incorporation of PsychSolutions, certified by the Secretary of State of the State of Florida ("Florida Secretary") on October 4, 2011;

b. Articles of Incorporation of PAC, certified by the Florida Secretary on October 4, 2011;

c. Articles of Incorporation of Youth, certified by the Florida Secretary on October 4, 2011;

d. Amended and Restated Bylaws of PsychSolutions, certified as true, correct and complete by PsychSolutions on November 1, 2011;

e. Bylaws of PAC, certified as true, correct and complete by PAC on November 1, 2011;

f. Amended and Restated Bylaws of Youth dated January 22, 2001, certified as true, correct and complete by Youth November 1, 2011; and

g. Certificates of Active Status for each of PsychSolutions, PAC and Youth, issued by the Florida Secretary on October 3, 2011;

(ii) resolutions of the board of directors of each of PsychSolutions, PAC and Youth dated October 26, 2011 with respect to the issuance of the Guarantees,

(iii) the Indenture;

(iv) the Registration Statement; and

(v) the Registration Rights Agreement, dated as of November 1, 2011, by and among the Company, the Guarantors, the other guarantors party thereto and Jefferies & Company, Inc., as initial purchaser.

For purposes of this opinion, we have assumed the authenticity of all documents submitted to us as originals, the conformity to the originals of all documents submitted to us as copies and the authenticity of the originals of all documents submitted to us as copies. We have also assumed the legal capacity of all natural persons, the genuineness of the signatures of persons signing all documents in connection with which this opinion is rendered, the authority of such persons signing on behalf of the parties thereto other than the Guarantors and the due authorization, execution and delivery of all documents by the parties thereto other than the Guarantors. We have not independently established or verified any facts relevant to the opinions expressed herein, but have relied upon statements and representations of officers and other representatives of the Company and the Guarantors.

We have also assumed that:

(i) the Registration Statement will be effective at the time the Exchange Notes are offered as contemplated by the Registration Statement;

(ii) any applicable prospectus supplement will have been prepared and filed with the Commission describing the Exchange Notes offered thereby to the extent necessary;

(iii) the Outstanding Notes (as defined in the Registration Statement) have been exchanged in the manner described in the prospectus forming a part of the Registration Statement;

(iv) the Indenture has been duly qualified under the Trust Indenture Act of 1939, as amended; and

(v) the Company and the Guarantors will have obtained any legally required consents, approvals, authorizations and other orders of the Commission and any other federal regulatory agencies necessary for the Exchange Notes to be exchanged, offered and sold in the manner stated in the Registration Statement and any applicable prospectus supplement.

Based upon and subject to the qualifications, assumptions and limitations set forth herein, we are of the opinion that:

1. Each of PsychSolutions, PAC and Youth is a corporation existing and in active status under the laws of the State of Florida.
2. Each of PsychSolutions, PAC and Youth has the corporate power and authority to enter into and perform its obligations under the Indenture and the Guarantees.
3. Each of PsychSolutions, PAC and Youth has duly authorized, executed and delivered the Indenture and has duly authorized each of the Guarantees.
4. The execution and delivery of the Indenture and the Guarantees by each of PsychSolutions, PAC and Youth and the performance by each of PsychSolutions, PAC and Youth of its obligations thereunder (including with respect to the Guarantees) do not and will not conflict with or constitute or result in a breach or default under (or an event which with notice or the passage of time or both would constitute a default under) or violation of any of, (i) the articles of incorporation, bylaws or other organizational documents of each of PsychSolutions, PAC and Youth or (ii) any statute or governmental rule or regulation of the State of Florida.
5. No consent, approval, authorization or order of any State of Florida court or governmental authority of the State of Florida was required in connection with the execution and delivery of the Indenture or is required for the issuance by each of PsychSolutions, PAC or Youth of the Guarantees.

Our opinion expressed above is subject to the qualifications that we express no opinion as to the applicability of, compliance with, or effect of (i) any law except the laws of the State of Florida and the Florida case law decided thereunder and (ii) the “Blue Sky” laws and regulations of Florida.

This opinion is limited to the specific issues addressed herein, and no opinion may be inferred or implied beyond that expressly stated herein. We assume no obligation to revise or supplement this opinion after the date of the effectiveness of the Registration Statement should the present laws of the State of Florida be changed by legislative action, judicial decision or otherwise.

This opinion is furnished to you in connection with the filing of the Registration Statement, in accordance with the requirements of Item 601(b)(5)(i) of Regulation S-K promulgated under the Securities Act. Kirkland & Ellis LLP may rely upon this opinion in connection with its opinion addressed to the Company, filed as Exhibit 5.1 to the Registration Statement, to the same extent as if it were an addressee hereof.

We hereby consent to the filing of this opinion with the Commission as Exhibit 5.4 to the Registration Statement. We also consent to the reference to our firm under the heading “Legal Matters” in the Registration Statement. In giving this consent, we do not thereby admit that we are in the category of persons whose consent is required under Section 7 of the Securities Act.

Re: Registration Statement on Form S-4

Ladies and Gentlemen:

We have acted as special Georgia counsel to Lakeland Hospital Acquisition Corporation, a Georgia corporation, Millcreek Management Corporation, a Georgia corporation, YFCS Holdings-Georgia, Inc., a Georgia corporation, YFCS Management, Inc., a Georgia corporation, and Youth and Family Centered Services, Inc., a Georgia corporation (collectively, the "Georgia Guarantors"). We are issuing this opinion letter in our capacity as special Georgia counsel to the Georgia Guarantors, in connection with the Guarantors' proposed guarantee, along with the other guarantors under the Indenture (as defined below), of $150,000,000 in aggregate principal amount of 12.875% Senior Notes due 2018 (the "Exchange Notes") to be issued by Acadia Healthcare Company, Inc., a Delaware corporation (the "Company"), in connection with an exchange offer to be made pursuant to a Registration Statement on Form S-4 (such Registration Statement, as supplemented or amended, is hereinafter referred to as the "Registration Statement"), to be filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission (the "Commission") on or about December 15, 2011, under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended (the "Securities Act"). The obligations of the Company under the Exchange Notes will be guaranteed by the Georgia Guarantors (the "Guarantees"), along with other guarantors. The Exchange Notes and the Guarantees are to be issued pursuant to an Indenture, dated as of November 1, 2011 (the "Indenture"), among the Company, the guarantors named therein and U.S. Bank National Association, as trustee.

In connection with issuing this opinion letter, we have examined originals, or copies certified or otherwise identified to our satisfaction, of such documents, corporate records and other instruments as we have deemed necessary for the purposes of this opinion, including (i) the organizational documents of the Georgia Guarantors, (ii) resolutions of the boards of directors of the Georgia Guarantors with respect to the issuance of the Guarantees, (iii) the Indenture, (iv) the Registration Statement and (v) the Registration Rights Agreement, dated as of November 1, 2011, by and among the Company, the Georgia Guarantors, the other guarantors party thereto and Jefferies & Company, Inc., as initial purchaser.

For purposes of this opinion, we have assumed the authenticity of all documents submitted to us as originals, the conformity to the originals of all documents submitted to us as copies and the authenticity of the originals of all documents submitted to us as copies. We have also assumed the legal capacity of all natural persons, the genuineness of the signatures of persons signing all documents in connection with which this opinion is rendered, the authority of such persons signing on behalf of the parties thereto other than the Georgia Guarantors and the due authorization, execution and delivery of all documents by the parties thereto other than the Georgia Guarantors. We have not independently established or verified any facts relevant to the opinions expressed herein, but have relied upon statements and representations of officers and other representatives of the Company and the Georgia Guarantors.

We have also assumed that:

(i) the Registration Statement will be effective at the time the Exchange Notes are offered as contemplated by the Registration Statement;

(ii) any applicable prospectus supplement will have been prepared and filed with the Commission describing the Exchange Notes offered thereby to the extent necessary;

(iii) the Outstanding Notes (as defined in the Registration Statement) have been exchanged in the manner described in the prospectus forming a part of the Registration Statement;

(iv) the Indenture has been duly qualified under the Trust Indenture Act of 1939, as amended; and

(v) the Company and the Georgia Guarantors will have obtained any legally required consents, approvals, authorizations and other orders of the Commission and any other federal regulatory agencies necessary for the Exchange Notes to be exchanged, offered and sold in the manner stated in the Registration Statement and any applicable prospectus supplement.

Based upon and subject to the qualifications, assumptions and limitations set forth herein, we are of the opinion that:

1. The Georgia Guarantors are corporations existing and in good standing under the laws of the State of Georgia.

2. The Georgia Guarantors have the corporate power and authority to enter into and perform their obligations under the Indenture and the Guarantees.

3. The Georgia Guarantors have duly authorized, executed and delivered the Indenture and have duly authorized the Guarantees.

4. The execution and delivery of the Indenture and the Guarantees by the Georgia Guarantors and the performance by the Georgia Guarantors of their obligations thereunder (including with respect to the Guarantees) do not and will not conflict with or constitute or result in a breach or default under (or an event which with notice or the passage of time or both would constitute a default under) or violation of any of, (i) the articles of incorporation, bylaws or other organizational documents of the Georgia Guarantors or (ii) any statute or governmental rule or regulation of the State of Georgia.

5. No consent, approval, authorization or order of any State of Georgia court or governmental authority of the State of Georgia was required in connection with the execution and delivery of the Indenture or is required for the issuance by the Georgia Guarantors of the Guarantees.

Our opinion expressed above is subject to the qualifications that we express no opinion as to the applicability of, compliance with, or effect of (i) any law except the laws of the State of Georgia and the Georgia case law decided thereunder and (ii) the “Blue Sky” laws and regulations of Georgia.

This opinion is limited to the specific issues addressed herein, and no opinion may be inferred or implied beyond that expressly stated herein. We assume no obligation to revise or supplement this opinion after the date of the effectiveness of the Registration Statement should the present laws of the State of Georgia be changed by legislative action, judicial decision or otherwise.

This opinion is furnished to you in connection with the filing of the Registration Statement, in accordance with the requirements of Item 601(b)(5)(i) of Regulation S-K promulgated under the Securities Act. Kirkland & Ellis LLP may rely upon this opinion in connection with its opinion addressed to the Company, filed as Exhibit 5.1 to the Registration Statement, to the same extent as if it were an addressee hereof.

We hereby consent to the filing of this opinion with the Commission as Exhibit 5.5 to the Registration Statement. We also consent to the reference to our firm under the heading “Legal Matters” in the Registration Statement. In giving this consent, we do not thereby admit that we are in the category of persons whose consent is required under Section 7 of the Securities Act.

We note that, to the extent that the Indenture or any other documents we reviewed in connection with this opinion requires any Georgia Guarantor to pay any other person’s attorney’s fees, such provisions may be subject to compliance with any prior notice requirements or may be subject to any dollar or other limitations on collectible attorney’s fees that may be imposed under any applicable law.

We also express no opinion herein as to the legality, validity, binding effect or enforceability of any indemnification provisions or waivers of rights to jury trial in the Indenture or any other documents to the extent that the enforcement thereof would contravene public policy.

We express no opinion with respect to any of the following (collectively, the "Excluded Laws"): (i) federal and state securities laws; (ii) Federal Reserve Board margin regulations; (iii) pension and employee benefit laws, e.g., ERISA; (iv) federal and state antitrust and unfair competition laws; (v) the Hart-Scott-Rodino Antitrust Improvements Act of 1976, as amended, and the Exon-Florio Act; (vi) the statutes, ordinances, administrative decisions and rules and regulations of counties, towns, municipalities and other political subdivisions (whether created or enabled through legislative action at the federal, state or regional level); (vii) federal and state environmental laws; (viii) federal and state land use and subdivision laws; (ix) federal and state tax laws; (x) federal and state laws relating to communications (including, without limitation, the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, and the Telecommunications Act of 1996, as amended); (xi) federal patent, copyright and trademark, state trademark and other federal and state intellectual property laws; (xii) federal and state racketeering laws, e.g., RICO; (xiii) federal and state health and safety laws, e.g., OSHA; (xiv) federal and state laws concerning aviation; (xv) federal and state laws concerning public utilities; (xvi) federal and state labor laws; (xvii) federal and state laws and policies concerning (A) national and local emergencies, (B) possible judicial deference to acts of sovereign states, and (C) criminal and civil forfeiture laws; and (xviii) other federal and state statutes of general application to the extent they provide for criminal prosecution (e.g., mail fraud and wire fraud statutes); and in the case of each of the foregoing, all rules and regulations promulgated thereunder or administrative or judicial decisions with respect thereto.

Sincerely,

/s/ Janney E. Sanders

Guaranties of Options Community Based Services, Inc., an Indiana corporation, Options Treatment Center Acquisition Corporation, an Indiana corporation, Resolute Acquisition Corporation, an Indiana corporation, Resource Community Based Services, Inc., an Indiana corporation, RTC Resource Acquisition Corporation, an Indiana corporation, and Success Acquisition Corporation, an Indiana corporation (such Indiana corporations being referred to as the "Guarantors").

Ladies and Gentlemen:

We provide this Opinion Letter to the above-referenced Guarantors at their request.

I.
BACKGROUND

We are issuing this Opinion Letter in our capacity as special Indiana counsel to the Guarantors, each an Indiana corporation, in connection with the Guarantors' proposed guarantee, along with the other guarantors under the Indenture (as defined below), of $150,000,000 in aggregate principal amount of 12.875% Senior Notes due 2018 (the "Exchange Notes") to be issued by Acadia Healthcare Company, Inc., a Delaware corporation (the "Company"), in connection with an exchange offer to be made pursuant to a Registration Statement on Form S-4 (such Registration Statement, as supplemented or amended, is hereinafter referred to as the "Registration Statement"), to be filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission (the "Commission") on or about December 15, 2011, under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended (the "Securities Act"). The obligations of the Company under the Exchange Notes will be guaranteed by the Guarantors (the "Guarantees"), along with other guarantors. The Exchange Notes and the Guarantees are to be issued pursuant to an Indenture, dated as of November 1, 2011 (the "Indenture"), among the Company, the guarantors named therein and U.S. Bank National Association, as trustee.

1.1 Documents Reviewed. In connection with issuing this Opinion Letter, we have examined originals, or copies certified or otherwise identified to our satisfaction, of such documents, corporate records and other instruments as we have deemed necessary for the purposes of this opinion, including (i) the organizational documents of the Guarantors, (ii) resolutions of the boards of directors of the Guarantors with respect to the issuance of the Guarantees, (iii) the Indenture, (iv) the Registration Statement and (v) the Registration Rights Agreement, dated as of November 1, 2011, by and among the Company, the Guarantors, the other guarantors party thereto and Jefferies & Company, Inc., as initial purchaser.

1.2 Certain Assumptions. For purposes of this Opinion Letter, we have assumed the authenticity of all documents submitted to us as originals, the conformity to the originals of all documents submitted to us as copies and the authenticity of the originals of all documents submitted to us as copies. We have also assumed the legal capacity of all natural persons, the genuineness of the signatures of persons signing all documents in connection with which this opinion is rendered, the authority of such persons signing on behalf of the parties thereto other than the Guarantors and the due authorization, execution and delivery of all documents by the parties thereto other than the Guarantors. We have not independently established or verified any facts relevant to the opinions expressed herein, but have relied upon statements and representations of officers and other representatives of the Company and the Guarantors.

1.3 Transaction Documents. The documents described in Items (a) through (c) in Annex A are referred to in this Opinion Letter as the "Transaction Documents." The documents described in Items (d) through (o) in Annex A are referred to in this opinion as the "Public Authority Documents". Except as otherwise indicated herein, capitalized terms used in this Opinion Letter are defined as set forth herein, in the Glossary attached hereto or in the Annex A attached hereto.

1.4 Opining Jurisdiction. The Law (as defined in the attached Glossary) covered by the opinions expressed in this Opinion Letter is limited to the Law of the State of Indiana (the "State"). We express no opinion concerning the Laws of any other jurisdiction or the effect thereof.

1.5 Scope of Review. In connection with the opinions hereinafter set forth, we have limited the scope of our review of the documents related to the transactions described in the Registration Statement (the "Transaction") to photocopies of the Transaction Documents, the Charter Documents and the Public Authority Documents. In addition, in connection with the opinions hereinafter set forth, we have reviewed such other documents and certificates of public officials and certificates of representatives of the Guarantors, and have given consideration to such matters of law and fact, as we have deemed appropriate, in our professional judgment, to render such opinions.

1.6 Reliance Without Investigation. We have relied, with your consent and without investigation or analysis, upon information in the Public Authority Documents. Except to the extent the information constitutes a statement, directly or in practical effect, of any legal conclusion at issue, we have relied with your consent and, without investigation or analysis, upon the information contained in representations and/or certifications made by the Guarantors in the Transaction Documents and on information provided in certificates of representatives and/or members of the Guarantors, which we reasonably believe to be an appropriate source for the information.

1.7 Additional Assumptions.

(i) the Registration Statement will be effective at the time the Exchange Notes are offered as contemplated by the Registration Statement;

(ii) any applicable prospectus supplement will have been prepared and filed with the Commission describing the Exchange Notes offered thereby to the extent necessary;

(iii) the Outstanding Notes (as defined in the Registration Statement) have been exchanged in the manner described in the prospectus forming a part of the Registration Statement;

(iv) the Indenture has been duly qualified under the Trust Indenture Act of 1939, as amended; and

(v) the Company and the Guarantors will have obtained any legally required consents, approvals, authorizations and other orders of the Commission and any other federal regulatory agencies necessary for the Exchange Notes to be exchanged, offered and sold in the manner stated in the Registration Statement and any applicable prospectus supplement.

II.
OPINIONS

Based upon and subject to the qualifications, assumptions and limitations set forth herein, we are of the opinion that:

1. The Guarantors are corporations existing and in good standing under the laws of the State of Indiana.

2. The Guarantors have the corporate power and authority to enter into and perform its obligations under the Indenture and the Guarantees.

3. The Guarantors have duly authorized, executed and delivered the Indenture and have duly authorized the Guarantees.

4. The execution and delivery of the Indenture and the Guarantees by the Guarantors and the performance by the Guarantors of their obligations thereunder (including with respect to the Guarantees) do not and will not conflict with or constitute or result in a breach or default under (or an event which with notice or the passage of time or both would constitute a default under) or violation of any of, (i) the articles of incorporation, bylaws or other organizational documents of the Guarantors or (ii) any statute or governmental rule or regulation of the State of Indiana.

5. No consent, approval, authorization or order of any State of Indiana court or governmental authority of the State of Indiana was required in connection with the execution and delivery of the Indenture or is required for the issuance by the Guarantors of the Guarantees.

III.
QUALIFICATIONS

3.1 Assumptions. In rendering the foregoing opinions, we have relied, with your consent and without investigation, upon the assumptions set forth below unless in a given case the particular assumption states, directly or in practical effect, a legal conclusion expressed in the opinion:

(a) Natural persons who are involved in behalf of the Guarantors have sufficient legal capacity to enter into and perform the Transaction or to carry out their role in it.

(b) Each party to the Transaction has satisfied those legal requirements that are applicable to it to the extent necessary to make the Transaction Documents enforceable against it.

(c) Each party to the Transaction (other than the Guarantors) has complied with all legal requirements pertaining to its status as such status relates to its rights to enforce the Transaction Documents against the Guarantors.

(d) Each document submitted to us for review is accurate and complete, each such document that is an original is authentic, each such document that is a copy conforms to an authentic original, and all signatures on each such document are genuine.

(e) The Public Authority Documents are accurate, complete, and authentic and all official public records (including their proper indexing and filing) are accurate and complete.

(f) There has not been any mutual mistake of fact or misunderstanding, fraud, duress or undue influence.

(g) The conduct of the parties to the Transaction complies with any requirement of good faith, fair dealing and good conscience.

(h) The parties to the Transaction, other than the Guarantors, have acted in good faith and without notice of any defense against the enforcement of any rights created as part of the Transaction.

(i) There are no agreements or understandings among the parties, written or oral, and there is no usage of trade or course of prior dealing among the parties that would, in either case, define, supplement or qualify the terms of the Transaction Documents.

(j) Other Agreements and Court Orders (as such terms are defined in the attached Glossary) would be enforced as written.

(k) Neither the other parties to the Transaction nor the Guarantors will in the future take any discretionary action (including a decision not to act) permitted under the Transaction Documents that would result in a violation of law or constitute a breach or default under any Other Agreement or Court Order.

(l) The Guarantors will obtain all permits and governmental approvals required in the future, and take all actions similarly required, relevant to subsequent consummation of the Transaction or performance of the Transaction Documents.

(m) All parties to the Transaction will act in accordance with, and will refrain from taking any action that is forbidden by, the terms and conditions of the Transaction Documents.

We have no Actual Knowledge that the foregoing assumptions are false. We have no Actual Knowledge of facts that, under the circumstances, would make our reliance on the foregoing assumptions unreasonable.

3.2 Exclusions. None of the foregoing opinions include any implied opinion unless such implied opinion is both (i) essential to the legal conclusion reached by the express opinions set forth above and (ii) based upon prevailing norms and expectations among experienced lawyers in the State, reasonable in the circumstances. Moreover, unless explicitly addressed in this Opinion Letter, the foregoing opinions do not address any of the following legal issues, and we specifically express no opinion with respect thereto:

(a) Federal securities laws and regulations administered by the Commission (other than the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935), state “Blue Sky” laws and regulations, and laws and regulations relating to commodity (and other) futures and indices and other similar instruments;

(b) Federal Reserve Board margin regulations;

(c) pension and employee benefit laws and regulations (e.g., ERISA);

(d) Federal and state antitrust and unfair competition laws and regulations;

(e) Federal and state laws and regulations concerning filing and notice requirements (e.g., Hart-Scott-Rodino and Exon-Florio);

(f) compliance with fiduciary duty requirements;

(g) Local Law;

(h) fraudulent transfer and fraudulent conveyance laws;

(i) Federal and state environmental laws and regulations;

(j) Federal and state land use and subdivision laws and regulations;

(k) Federal and state tax laws and regulations;

(l) Federal patent, copyright and trademark, state trademark, and other Federal and state intellectual property laws and regulations;

(m) Federal and state racketeering laws and regulations (e.g., RICO);

(n) Federal and state health and safety laws and regulations (e.g., OSHA);

(o) Federal and state health care laws;

(p) Federal and state banking laws and financial regulation (e.g. Dodd-Frank Wall Street Reform and Consumer Protection Act of 2010);

(q) Federal and state labor laws and regulations;

(r) Federal and state laws, regulations and policies concerning (A) national and local emergency, (B) possible judicial deference to acts of sovereign states, and (C) criminal and civil forfeiture laws; and

(s) other Federal and state statutes of general application to the extent they provide for criminal prosecution (e.g., mail fraud and wire fraud statutes).

3.3 Other Common Qualifications. The opinions set forth in this Opinion Letter are subject to the following qualifications: to the extent the Law of the State applies any of the following rules to one or more of the provisions of the Transaction Documents covered by any opinion set forth in this Opinion Letter, that opinion is subject to the effect of generally applicable rules of Law that:

(a) limit or affect the enforcement of provisions of a contract that purport to require waiver of the obligations of good faith, fair dealing, diligence, and reasonableness;

(b) provide that forum selection clauses in contracts are not necessarily binding on the court(s) in the forum selected;

(c) limit the availability of a remedy under certain circumstances where another remedy has been elected;

(d) limit the right of a creditor to use force or cause a breach of the peace in enforcing rights, or otherwise to exercise purported self-help remedies;

(e) relate to the sale or disposition of collateral or the requirements of a commercially reasonable sale, including, without limitation, statutory cure provisions and rights of reinstatement and limitations on deficiency judgments;

(f) limit the enforceability of provisions releasing, exculpating or exempting a party from, or requiring indemnification of a party for, liability for its own action or inaction, to the extent the action or inaction involves gross negligence, recklessness, willful misconduct or unlawful conduct;

(g) may, where less than all of a contract may be unenforceable, limit the enforceability of the balance of the contract to circumstances in which the unenforceable portion is not an essential part of the agreed exchange;

(h) govern and afford judicial discretion regarding the determination of damages and entitlement to attorneys' fees and other costs;

(i) may, in the absence of a waiver or consent, discharge a guarantor to the extent that (A) action by a creditor impairs the value of collateral securing guaranteed debt to the detriment of the guarantor, or (B) guaranteed debt is materially modified;

(j) may permit a party who has materially failed to render or offer performance required by the contract to cure that failure unless (A) permitting a cure would unreasonably hinder the aggrieved party from making substitute arrangements for performance, or (B) it was important in the circumstances to the aggrieved party that performance occur by the date stated in the contract;

(k) impose limitations on attorneys' or trustees' fees; and

3.4 State Qualification as to Certain Waivers. We further advise you that under Ind. Code §§ 34-54-3-1 through 34-54-3-3 any Document(s) that secures or includes a contract, provision, agreement or stipulation that gives an opposing party the right or the power of attorney on behalf of the Guarantors (individually or together) to (1) appear in any court and waive service of process in an action to enforce the payment of money claimed to be due on the instrument; (2) confess judgment for any portion of the indebtedness due under the instrument other than by action by the court upon a hearing after due notice; or (3) release errors and rights of appeal from a judgment rendered for the matters described above or consents to the issue of execution on the judgment or the matters described above is void. Further, under Ind. Code § 34-54-3-4, a State court will not issue an execution or other process to aid or enforce the collection of any judgment or final decree rendered in another jurisdiction, which judgment or final decree would be unenforceable by a State court applying the above cited statutes, and consequently we render no opinion as to whether any instrument which may now or hereafter be secured by the Document(s) and which includes any such provision will allow an opposing party to enforce in the State any foregoing judgment or decree rendered thereon.

3.5 Generic Qualification. The opinions set forth in this Opinion Letter are subject to the following qualification: certain remedies, waivers, and other provisions of the Transaction Documents may not be enforceable under applicable law, but such law does not render the Transaction Documents invalid as a whole or make the Transaction Documents legally inadequate.

IV.
USE OF THIS OPINION

4.1 This opinion is furnished to you in connection with the filing of the Registration Statement, in accordance with the requirements of Item 601(b)(5)(i) of Regulation S-K promulgated under the Securities Act. Kirkland & Ellis LLP may rely upon this opinion in connection with its opinion addressed to the Company, filed as Exhibit 5.1 to the Registration Statement, to the same extent as if it were an addressee hereof. We hereby consent to the filing of this opinion with the Commission as Exhibit 5.6 to the Registration Statement. We also consent to the reference to our firm under the heading "Legal Matters" in the Registration Statement. In giving this consent, we do not thereby admit that we are in the category of persons whose consent is required under Section 7 of the Securities Act. In addition, we assume no obligation to supplement this opinion if, after the date hereof, any applicable laws change or we become aware of any facts that might change the opinions set forth herein or cause such opinions to be inaccurate or incomplete. This opinion is an expression of professional judgment and is not a guarantee of a result.

Very truly yours,

Re: Registration Statement on Form S-4

Ladies and Gentlemen:

We are issuing this opinion letter in our capacity as special Massachusetts counsel to each of (i) Behavioral Health Online, Inc., a Massachusetts corporation, (ii) Detroit Behavioral Institute, Inc., a Massachusetts corporation, (iii) North Point - Pioneer, Inc., a Massachusetts corporation, (iv) PHC of Michigan, Inc., a Massachusetts corporation, (v) PHC of Nevada, Inc., a Massachusetts corporation, (vi) PHC of Utah, Inc., a Massachusetts corporation, (vii) PHC of Virginia, Inc., a Massachusetts corporation, (viii) Renaissance Recovery, Inc., a Massachusetts corporation, and (ix) Wellplace, Inc., a Massachusetts corporation (each of the foregoing entities being a "MA Guarantor" and collectively the "MA Guarantors"), in connection with each MA Guarantor's proposed guarantee, along with the other guarantors under the Indenture (as defined below), of $150,000,000 in aggregate principal amount of 12.875% Senior Notes due 2018 (the "Exchange Notes") to be issued by Acadia Healthcare Company, Inc., a Delaware corporation (the "Company"), in connection with an exchange offer to be made pursuant to a Registration Statement on Form S-4 (such Registration Statement, as supplemented or amended, is hereinafter referred to as the "Registration Statement"), to be filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission (the "Commission") on or about December 15, 2011, under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended (the "Securities Act"). The obligations of the Company under the Exchange Notes will be guaranteed by each MA Guarantor (each, a "Guarantee"), along with other guarantors. The Exchange Notes and the Guarantee of each MA Guarantor are to be issued pursuant to an Indenture, dated as of November 1, 2011 (the "Indenture"), among the Company, the guarantors named therein and U.S. Bank National Association, as trustee (the "Trustee"). Capitalized terms defined in the Indenture and not otherwise defined herein are used herein with the meanings so defined.

This opinion letter is furnished to you in connection with the filing of the Registration Statement in accordance with the requirements of Item 601(b)(5)(i) of Regulation S-K promulgated under the Securities Act. Our service as special counsel to the MA Guarantors is limited to the preparation of this opinion letter.

We have examined the Indenture and the Guarantee of each MA Guarantor (each, a "Document" and collectively, the "Documents") as furnished to us on your behalf.

Except as otherwise may be noted herein, in rendering this opinion letter we have examined and relied solely upon the following, and we have made no other inquiry, investigation or documentary review whatsoever:

(i) the Documents;

(ii) the Registration Statement;

(iii) the Registration Rights Agreement;

(iv) the Articles of Organization of each MA Guarantor, certified by the Secretary of each MA Guarantor as of December 15, 2011 (each, a "MA Guarantor's Articles of Organization");

(v) the By-Laws of each MA Guarantor, certified by the Secretary of each MA Guarantor as of December 15, 2011 (each, a "MA Guarantor's By-Laws");

(vi) the certificates of good standing and legal existence for each MA Guarantor from the Secretary of State of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, dated as of dates set forth on Exhibit A to this opinion letter;

(vii) the written consents in lieu of a special meeting of the Board of Directors of each MA Guarantor at which actions were taken with respect to the Documents, certified by the Secretary of each MA Guarantor as of December 15, 2011;

(viii) the certificate of the Secretary of each MA Guarantor, dated as of December 15, 2011, as to, among other things, the delivery of the Indenture to the Trustee and the incumbency and signature of certain officers of such MA Guarantor; and

(ix) the representations and warranties as to factual matters contained in the Documents.

In addition, we have reviewed such provisions of the laws of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, as applied by courts located in the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, as we have deemed necessary in order to express the opinions set forth below.

Based solely on the foregoing, and subject to the limitations and qualifications set forth below, we are of the opinion that:

1. Each MA Guarantor is a corporation legally existing and in corporate good standing under the laws of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts. Each MA Guarantor has the corporate power to execute and deliver, and perform its obligations under, the Documents.

2. The execution and delivery by each MA Guarantor of the Documents have been duly authorized by all necessary corporate action of such MA Guarantor, and the Indenture has been duly executed and delivered to the Trustee on behalf of such MA Guarantor.

3. The execution and delivery by each MA Guarantor of the Documents do not, and the performance by such MA Guarantor of its obligations under such Documents will not, violate such MA Guarantor's Articles of Organization or By-Laws or any provision of existing law or governmental rule or regulation of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts applicable to such MA Guarantor.

4. The execution and delivery by each MA Guarantor of the Documents, and the consummation by such MA Guarantor of the transactions contemplated thereby, do not require any consent or approval of or filing with any governmental body or regulatory authority of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, except (i) such of the foregoing as have been previously obtained or made as of the date hereof or (ii) as may be required under the securities or "Blue Sky" laws of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

The opinions and factual confirmations expressed herein are subject to the following limitations and qualifications:

A. We have assumed (i) the genuineness of all signatures, (ii) the legal capacity of all natural persons, (iii) the conformity to original documents of all documents submitted to us as electronic, certified, facsimile or photostatic copies, (iv) the authenticity, accuracy and completeness of all documents submitted to us as originals or as copies of originals, (v) that each Guarantee as executed and delivered is identical to the draft thereof reviewed by us except for the insertion of the date thereof and other conforming changes, (vi) the absence of mutual mistake or misunderstanding and of fraud, coercion, duress or other similar inequitable conduct in connection with the negotiation, execution and delivery of the Documents and the transactions contemplated thereby, (vii) the Company owns, directly or indirectly, all of the outstanding capital stock of the MA Guarantors, (viii) the Registration Statement will be effective at the time the Exchange Notes are offered as contemplated by the Registration Statement, (ix) any applicable prospectus supplement will have been prepared and filed with the Commission describing the Exchange Notes offered thereby to the extent necessary, (x) the Initial Notes have been exchanged in the manner described in the prospectus forming a part of the Registration Statement, (xi) the Indenture has been duly qualified under the Trust Indenture Act of 1939, as amended, and (xii) the Company and the MA Guarantors will have obtained any legally required consents, approvals, authorizations and other orders of the Commission and any other federal regulatory agencies necessary for the Exchange Notes to be exchanged, offered and sold in the manner stated in the Registration Statement and any applicable prospectus supplement.

B. We have assumed that (i) each party to the Documents (other than the MA Guarantors) (each, a "Non-MA Guarantor Party") (a) has all requisite power and authority and has taken all necessary corporate or other action to authorize such Non-MA Guarantor Party to execute and deliver, and perform its obligations under, such of the Documents and other related documents as may be executed in connection therewith and to which such Non-MA Guarantor Party is a party and to effect the transactions contemplated thereby and (b) has duly executed and delivered such Documents and other related documents; (ii) the Documents and other related documents constitute legal, valid and binding obligations of each party thereto enforceable against such person in accordance with their respective terms; and (iii) the consideration to be received by the Company and the MA Guarantors with respect to each Document is adequate and has been delivered to or for the benefit of the Company and the MA Guarantors on or prior to the date hereof. This opinion letter does not take account of, and we express no opinion with respect to, (x) any requirement of law that may be applicable to any person by reason of the legal or regulatory status of any Non-MA Guarantor Party or by reason of any other facts particularly pertaining to any Non-MA Guarantor Party or (y) any approval or consent required by or arising out of any contract or agreement (other than the Documents) to which any person is a party or by which any person may be bound.

C. This opinion letter is limited to the legal matters explicitly addressed herein and does not extend, by implication or otherwise, to any other matter. Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, no opinion is expressed herein with respect to, or the effect any of the following may have upon any opinion expressed in this opinion letter: (i) securities laws, including, without limitation, the anti-fraud provisions thereof, (ii) tax, labor or employment matters, including, without limitation, pension and employee benefit matters, (iii) anti-trust and unfair competition laws, (iv) banking laws, including, without limitation, Federal Reserve Board regulations, (v) consumer protection laws, (vi) the charging of compound interest, usury, so-called "loan sharking" or other similar matters, (vii) any indemnification, contribution, exculpation or release provisions contained in the Documents, (viii) noncompetition agreements, (ix) any provision of the Documents with respect to submission to jurisdiction, waiver of service of process or venue, waiver of trial by jury, waiver of immunity, subrogation rights, penalties, forfeitures or charges, confession of judgment, powers of attorney, oral agreements amending or modifying any of the Documents, prohibition of assignment, delay or omission of enforcement of rights or remedies, severability, marshaling of assets, requiring property insurance in excess of full replacement value of the relevant property or purporting to authorize any person to collect or make any claim against rents without taking actual possession of or exercising control over the relevant premises, (x) the assignability (under law or their own terms) of any contracts, agreements, leases, certificates, instruments, franchises, permits, licenses, warranties, development rights, consents, approvals or contract rights purported to be assigned to the Trustee by the terms of any of the Documents, (xi) title to property (real, personal or mixed, tangible or intangible), (xii) the validity, attachment, perfection and/or priority of any security interest, pledge or lien, (xiii) the applicability of or compliance with zoning by-laws, building codes, subdivision control laws, historic preservation laws or other land use laws (including, in each instance, any laws, rules or regulations relating to the development, construction and/or operation of real property and improvements thereto), (xiv) environmental, hazardous materials, health or safety laws, (xv) the principles of fiduciary duty (including as noted in Paragraph H below), (xvi) money-laundering and anti-terrorist laws, (xvii) other than with respect to the opinion expressed in Paragraph 3 above, any laws related to licensure and operation of healthcare facilities, such as substance abuse facilities, outpatient psychiatric facilities, psychiatric hospitals and residential treatment facilities, including so-called certificate of need and transfer of ownership laws or (xviii) the authorization of the terms, execution, delivery and performance of and/or the legality or enforceability of provisions of the Documents to the extent such authorization, legality or enforceability is predicated upon any of the foregoing.

D. We are not passing upon and do not assume any responsibility for the accuracy, sufficiency, completeness or fairness of any statements, representations, warranties, descriptions, information or financial data supplied to the Trustee in or with respect to the Documents or the transactions contemplated thereby or the fairness of such transactions themselves, and we make no representation that we have independently verified the accuracy, sufficiency, completeness or fairness of any of the foregoing.

E. With respect to references herein to "our knowledge" or words of similar import, such references mean the conscious awareness that those attorneys currently employed by Goulston & Storrs who have participated directly in the specific transactions to which this opinion letter relates have obtained from (i) their review of the certificates, documents, instruments, and corporate records referred to in the fourth introductory paragraph to this opinion letter and (ii) the representations and warranties of the MA Guarantors set forth in the Documents. With respect to the certificates, documents, instruments, and corporate records referred to in clause (i) of the preceding sentence, we express no opinion relating to matters not disclosed therein or as to which notice was filed after the dates thereof. Except as specifically noted above, we have not made any independent review or investigation of any factual matter, and no inference as to our knowledge of the existence or absence of any fact should be drawn from the fact of our representation of the MA Guarantors, including as noted in Paragraph H below.

F. The opinions expressed herein are limited to the existing laws of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts as applied by courts located in the Commonwealth of Massachusetts. We express no opinion as to choice or conflicts of laws or as to the federal laws of the United States or as to the laws of any other jurisdiction or as to statutes, administrative decisions, rules or regulations of any court, municipality, subdivision or local authority of any jurisdiction.

G. The opinion expressed in the first sentence of Paragraph 1 as to legal existence and good standing is based solely upon the certificates referred to in clause (vi) of the fourth introductory paragraph of this opinion letter and speaks as of the date of such certificates. The opinion expressed in Paragraph 3 as to no violation of existing law or governmental rule or regulation is based on those statutes, rules and regulations that, in our experience, are normally applicable and material to transactions of the type contemplated by the Documents. The opinion expressed in Paragraph 4 relates only to consents and approvals and filings that, in our experience, are normally applicable and material to transactions of the type contemplated by the Documents.

H. We call your attention to pending litigation of MAZ Partners LP v. Bruce A. Shear, et al., USDC for the District of Massachusetts 1:11-cv-11099 (the "Litigation"). The plaintiff in the Litigation has alleged, inter alia, that (i) the members of the Board of Directors of PHC, Inc., the former parent company of each of the MA Guarantors ("PHC"), breached their fiduciary duties to PHC's shareholders in connection with their approval of the merger of PHC into Acadia Merger Sub, LLC, a Delaware limited liability company wholly-owned by the Company ("Merger Sub" and such merger, the "Merger"); and (ii) the Company and Merger Sub aided and abetted the breaches by the members of the Board of Directors of PHC of their fiduciary duties in connection with their approval of the Merger. In addition to our representation of the MA Guarantors in the preparation of this opinion letter, we have informed you that this firm also represents the Company as local counsel of record in the Litigation. Notwithstanding our representation of the Company in the Litigation, (a) none of the attorneys currently employed by Goulston & Storrs who have participated directly in the specific transactions to which this opinion letter relates have made any review or investigation of any factual matter related to the Litigation, and no inference as to our knowledge of the existence or absence of any fact related to the Litigation should be drawn from the fact of Goulston & Storrs' representation of the Company in the Litigation and (b) no opinion is expressed herein with respect to the merits of the Litigation, or any of the underlying allegations, or to the effect the same may have upon any opinion expressed in this opinion letter. For purposes of the opinions expressed herein, we have assumed that the members of the Board of Directors of each MA Guarantor, in connection with the Documents and the transactions contemplated thereby, have met the applicable standard of care and otherwise fully discharged their fiduciary duties, including, without limitation, any and all fiduciary duties to such MA Guarantor and such MA Guarantor's stockholders.

All opinions expressed herein are as of the date hereof (unless otherwise stated), and we assume no obligation to update such opinions to reflect any facts or circumstances that hereafter come to our attention or any changes in the law that may hereafter occur. This opinion letter is furnished to you in connection with the filing of the Registration Statement in accordance with the requirements of Item 601(b)(5)(i) of Regulation S-K promulgated under the Securities Act. This opinion letter may be relied upon by you and Kirkland & Ellis LLP in connection with its opinion addressed to the Company, filed as Exhibit 5.1 to the Registration Statement, to the same extent as if it were an addressee hereof.

We hereby consent to the filing of this opinion with the Commission as Exhibit 5.7 to the Registration Statement. We also consent to the reference to our firm under the heading “Legal Matters” in the Registration Statement. In giving this consent, we do not thereby admit that we are in the category of persons whose consent is required under Section 7 of the Securities Act.

Very truly yours,

/s/ Goulston & Storrs

Re: Registration Statement on Form S-4

Ladies and Gentlemen:

We have acted as special Mississippi counsel for Millcreek Schools Inc., a Mississippi corporation and Rehabilitation Centers, Inc., a Mississippi corporation, (individually, a "Mississippi Guarantor" and collectively, the "Mississippi Guarantors"), in connection with the proposed guarantee from each of the Mississippi Guarantors, along with the other guarantors under the Indenture (as hereinafter defined), of $150,000,000 in aggregate principal amount of 12.875% Senior Notes due 2018 (the "Exchange Notes") to be issued by Acadia Healthcare Company, Inc., a Delaware corporation (the "Company"), in connection with an exchange offer to be made pursuant to a Registration Statement on Form S-4 (such Registration Statement, as supplemented or amended, is hereinafter referred to as the "Registration Statement"), to be filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission (the "Commission") on or about December 15, 2011, under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended (the "Securities Act"). The obligations of the Company under the Exchange Notes will be guaranteed by the each of Mississippi Guarantors (individually a "Guarantee" and collectively, the "Guarantees"), along with other guarantors. The Exchange Notes and the Guarantees are to be issued pursuant to an Indenture, dated as of November 1, 2011 (the "Indenture"), by and among the Company, the guarantors named therein including, but not limited to, the Mississippi Guarantors and U.S. Bank National Association, as trustee.

In connection with this opinion, we have reviewed executed copies of the following documents, except of the Registration Statement, of which we have reviewed an execution copy (items 1 through 3, inclusive, below are collectively referred to herein as the "Transaction Documents"):

1. The Indenture;

2. The Registration Statement;

3. The Registration Rights Agreement, dated as of November 1, 2011, by and among the Company, the guarantors named therein, including, but not limited to, the Mississippi Guarantors, and Jefferies & Company, Inc., as initial purchaser;

4. Organizational documents of the Mississippi Guarantors; and

5. Resolutions of Boards of Directors of the Mississippi Guarantors.

For purposes of this opinion, we have assumed the genuineness of all signatures, the legal capacity of natural persons, the authenticity of all documents submitted to us as originals and the conformity to the originals of all documents submitted to us as copies. We have also assumed the authority of all persons signing all documents in connection with this opinion other than the Mississippi Guarantors and the due authorization, execution and delivery of all documents by the parties thereto other than the Mississippi Guarantors. As to various facts material to the opinions set forth herein, we have relied upon statements and representations made by the officers and other representatives of the Company and the Mississippi Guarantors, which facts we have not independently verified.

The opinions set forth herein are limited to the law of the State of Mississippi (the "State") and the applicable federal law of the United States, and we express no opinion herein as to the law of any other jurisdiction.

In rendering the opinions expressed herein, we have assumed, without inquiry or investigation, that there has been no mutual mistake of fact or misunderstanding, fraud, duress, or undue influence involved with respect to any party and that each party has complied with any requirement of good faith, fair dealing and conscionability.

For purpose of this opinion, we have also assumed that:

1. The Registration Statement will be effective at the time the Exchange Notes are offered as contemplated by the Registration Statement;

2. Any applicable prospectus supplement will have been prepared and filed with the Commission describing the Exchange Notes offered thereby to the extent necessary;

3. The Initial Notes (as defined in the Indenture) have been exchanged in the manner described in the prospectus forming a part of the Registration Statement;

4. The Indenture has been duly qualified under the Trust Indenture Act of 1939, as amended; and

5. The Company and the Mississippi Guarantors will have obtained any legally required consents, approvals, authorizations and other orders of the Commission and any other federal regulatory agencies necessary for the Exchange Notes to be exchanged, offered and sold in the manner stated in the Registration Statement and any applicable prospectus supplement.

Based upon and subject to the foregoing, we are of the opinion that:

1. Each of the Mississippi Guarantors has been duly incorporated and is validly existing as a corporation in good standing under the laws of the State of Mississippi. Our opinions in this Section 1 are based solely upon our examination of a Certificate of Existence of each of the Mississippi Subsidiaries issued by the Secretary of State of Mississippi dated October 3, 2011 and are limited to the meaning ascribed to such certificates by the said Secretary of State.

2. Each of the Mississippi Guarantors has the corporate power and authority to enter into and perform its obligations under the Indenture and respective Guarantee.

3. Each Mississippi Guarantor has taken all necessary corporate action to authorize the execution of the Indenture and its respective Guarantee.

4. The execution and delivery by each of the Mississippi Guarantors of the Indenture and its respective Guarantee do not, and the performance by the Mississippi Guarantors of their obligations thereunder will not, conflict with or constitute a breach of or default under (or an event which with notice or the passage of time or both would constitute a default under) or violation of any of (i) the respective articles of incorporation or bylaws of the Mississippi Guarantors or (ii) any statute or governmental rule or regulation of the State which is binding upon a Mississippi Guarantor.

5. Under existing provisions of law, no authorization, approval, consent, order, filing or registration of or from any governmental or regulatory body in the State was required in connection with the execution and delivery of the Indenture by the Mississippi Guarantors or is required for the issuance by the Mississippi Guarantors of the Guarantees.

This opinion letter is limited to the matters expressly stated herein, and no opinion is implied or may be inferred beyond the matters expressly stated herein. In every instance in this opinion where we have relied on a document prepared, conclusion drawn, or certification made, by another person or entity, we have made no investigation of that other person or entity for purposes of corroborating the accuracy of any information or representations provided to us by that other person or entity; however, we have no knowledge of any facts which would lead us to believe such matters to untrue or inaccurate. Wherever we indicate that our opinion is to our knowledge or is based on our knowledge, our opinion is based solely on (i) the current actual knowledge of the attorneys currently with the firm who have represented the Mississippi Guarantors in connection with the Transaction Documents, and (ii) the representations and warranties of said parties contained in the Transaction Documents, which have not been independently investigated or verified by us.

This opinion letter is made as of the date hereof and we undertake no, and hereby disclaim any, obligation to advise you of any change in any matter set forth herein, including, without limitation, any changes in Mississippi law. Insofar as the opinions herein relate to any actions to be taken after the date of this letter, the opinions are limited to the facts as they exist and the date hereof.

This opinion letter is furnished to you in connection with the filing of the Registration Statement in accordance with the requirements of Item 601(b)(5)(i) of Regulation S-K promulgated under the Securities Act. Kirkland & Ellis LLP may rely upon this opinion in connection with its opinion addressed to the Company, filed as Exhibit 5.1 to the Registration Statement, to the same extent as if it were an addressee hereof.

We hereby consent to the filing of this opinion with the Commission as Exhibit 5.8 to the Registration Statement. We also consent to the reference to our firm under the heading “Legal Matters” in the Registration Statement. In giving this consent, we do not thereby admit that we are in the category of persons whose consent is required under Section 7 of the Securities Act.

Very truly yours,

Re: Registration Statement on Form S-4

Ladies and Gentlemen:

We are issuing this opinion letter in our capacity as special Montana counsel to Kids Behavioral Health of Montana, Inc., a Montana corporation (the "Guarantor"), in connection with the Guarantor's proposed guarantee, along with the other guarantors under the Indenture (as defined below), of $150,000,000 in aggregate principal amount of 12.875% Senior Notes due 2018 (the "Exchange Notes") to be issued by Acadia Healthcare Company, Inc., a Delaware corporation (the "Company"), in connection with an exchange offer to be made pursuant to a Registration Statement on Form S-4 (such Registration Statement, as supplemented or amended, is hereinafter referred to as the "Registration Statement"), to be filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission (the "Commission") on or about December 15, 2011, under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended (the "Securities Act"). The obligations of the Company under the Exchange Notes will be guaranteed by the Guarantor (the "Guarantee"), along with other guarantors. The Exchange Notes and the Guarantee are to be issued pursuant to an Indenture, dated as of November 1, 2011 (the "Indenture"), among the Company, the guarantors named therein and U.S. Bank National Association, as trustee.

In connection with issuing this opinion letter, we have examined originals, or copies certified or otherwise identified to our satisfaction, of such documents, corporate records and other instruments as we have deemed necessary for the purposes of this opinion, including:

A. A copy of Guarantor's Certificate of Formation, together with all amendments and supplements thereto, in each case certified as true and correct by the Secretary of State of the State of Montana as of October 4, 2011 (the "Certificate of Formation");

B. A copy of Guarantor's Bylaws dated February 22, 2007, certified as true and correct by Guarantor as of November 1, 2011 (together with Guarantor's Certificate of Formation, the "Charter Documents");

C. A Certificate of Existence dated as of October 3, 2011 (the "Good Standing Certificate"), issued by the Secretary of State of the State of Montana with respect to Guarantor;

D. A Certificate of Guarantor dated November 1, 2011, attaching, among other things, a copy of the resolutions duly adopted by the Board of Directors of Guarantor, authorizing Guarantor's execution and delivery of the Indenture and issuance of the Guarantee ("Resolutions");

E. Indenture;

F. Registration Statement; and

G. Registration Rights Agreement, dated as of November 1, 2011, by and among the Company, the Guarantor, the other guarantors party thereto, and Jefferies & Company, Inc., as initial purchaser.

The documents identified in E-G above, together with the Guarantee, are herein referred to as the "Transaction Documents".

In our examination of the documents referred to above and in rendering the opinions expressed below, we have assumed without investigation or verification (but with your permission):

(a) the accuracy, completeness and authenticity of all original certificates, agreements, documents, records and other materials, the conformity with originals of any copies, the genuineness of all signatures, and the legal capacity of all natural persons;

(b) that (i) each party to the Transaction Documents, if applicable, in each case other than with respect to Guarantor, has been duly organized and is validly existing under the laws of its respective jurisdiction of organization, has full power and authority to execute, deliver and perform all of its obligations under the Transaction Documents, as applicable, and has duly authorized by all requisite action, corporate, partnership or otherwise, and validly executed and delivered the Transaction Documents, as applicable, under the laws of the jurisdiction of its organization, and (ii) each of the Transaction Documents constitutes the legal, valid and binding obligation of each party thereto, enforceable against such party in accordance with its terms;

(c) in connection with the transactions contemplated by the Transaction Documents, each party thereto has complied with all aspects of all applicable laws, other than the law of the State of Montana in the case of Guarantor;

(d) the Transaction Documents executed by Guarantor have been transmitted to the appropriate recipients;

(e) each person who has taken any action relevant to any of our opinions in the capacity of director, officer, or otherwise was duly elected to that position and held that position when such action was taken;

(f) Guarantor's Charter Documents and all amendments thereto, if any, have been adopted in accordance with all applicable legal requirements;

(g) to the extent applicable to the opinions given in this letter, all factual statements, representations and warranties in the Transaction Documents are true and correct;

(h) there has not been any mutual mistake of fact or misunderstanding, fraud, duress or undue influence among the parties to the Transaction Documents;

(i) each certificate obtained from a Governmental Authority relied on by us is accurate, complete and authentic, and all relevant official public records to which each such certificate relates are accurate and complete;

(j) As to certain matters of fact, we have relied, without independent investigation and with the express permission of the addressee hereof, on the statements and representations of officers and other representatives of Guarantor;

(k) the Registration Statement will be effective at the time the Exchange Notes are offered as contemplated by the Registration Statement;

(l) any applicable prospectus supplement will have been prepared and filed with the Commission describing the Exchange Notes offered thereby to the extent necessary;

(m) the Outstanding Notes (as defined in the Registration Statement) have been exchanged in the manner described in the prospectus forming a part of the Registration Statement;

(n) the Indenture has been duly qualified under the Trust Indenture Act of 1939, as amended; and

(o) the Company and the Guarantor will have obtained any legally required consents, approvals, authorizations and other orders of the Commission and any other federal regulatory agencies necessary for the Exchange Notes to be exchanged, offered and sold in the manner stated in the Registration Statement and any applicable prospectus supplement.

Based upon and subject to the qualifications, assumptions and limitations set forth herein, we are of the opinion that:

1. The Guarantor is a corporation existing and in good standing under the laws of the State of Montana.

2. The Guarantor has the corporate power and authority to enter into and perform its obligations under the Indenture and the Guarantee.

3. The Guarantor has duly authorized, executed and delivered the Indenture and has duly authorized the Guarantee.

4. The execution and delivery of the Indenture and the Guarantee by the Guarantor and the performance by the Guarantor of its obligations thereunder (including with respect to the Guarantee) do not and will not conflict with or constitute or result in a breach or default under (or an event which with notice or the passage of time or both would constitute a default under) or violation of (i) any of the provisions of Guarantor's Charter Documents, or (ii) any statute or governmental rule or regulation of the State of Montana.

5. No consent, approval, authorization or order of any State of Montana court or governmental authority of the State of Montana was required in connection with the execution and delivery of the Indenture or is required for the issuance by the Guarantor of the Guarantee.

Our opinions expressed above are subject to the following limitations, qualifications and exclusions:

(i) Our opinions are based upon and limited to the existing laws of the State of Montana on the date of this letter, and we assume no obligation to update or supplement this opinion. We have not made a review of, and express no opinion concerning, the laws of any jurisdiction other than the State of Montana. Our opinions are limited to the specific opinions expressed above, and no opinion is to be implied or inferred beyond the matters expressly stated herein. Our opinions are not a guaranty of an outcome of any legal dispute which may arise with regard to the Transaction Documents or any other matter which is the subject of our opinions.

(ii) This letter is our opinion as to certain legal conclusions as specifically set forth herein, and is not and shall not be deemed to be a representation or opinion as to any factual matters. We express no opinion on the enforceability of any of the Transaction Documents.

(iii) In preparing this letter, we have relied without any independent verification upon the assumptions earlier stated in this letter and upon: (i) information contained in certificates obtained from governmental authorities; (ii) factual information represented in the Transaction Documents; (iii) factual information provided to us in a support certificate executed by Guarantor; and (iv) factual information we have obtained from such other sources as we have deemed reasonable. We have examined the originals or copies certified to our satisfaction, of such other company records of Guarantor as we deem necessary for or relevant to this letter, certificates of public officials and other officers of Guarantor, and we have assumed without investigation that there has been no relevant change or development between the dates as of which the information cited in the preceding sentence was given and the date of this letter and that the information upon which we have relied is accurate and does not omit disclosures necessary to prevent such information from being misleading. Our opinion in paragraph 1 is based solely upon the Good Standing Certificate.

(iv) While we have not conducted any independent investigation to determine facts upon which our opinions are based or to obtain information about which this letter advises, we confirm that we do not have any actual knowledge which has caused us to conclude that our reliance and assumptions cited in this letter are unwarranted or that any information supplied to us in connection with the preparation of this letter is wrong. The term “actual knowledge” whenever it is used in this letter with respect to our firm means current actual knowledge (and not constructive, implied, or imputed knowledge or inquiry notice) at the time this letter is delivered on the date it bears by the lawyers who have had significant involvement with the preparation of this letter.

(v) To the extent the Transaction Documents include or make reference to documents and instruments not examined by us, the opinions expressed herein are subject to the matters that would be revealed by examination of such documents and instruments.

(vi) We express no opinion as to any regulatory provisions applicable to (except as expressly stated in our opinion), or any license or permit required in connection with, the business conducted by Guarantor.

(vii) We express no opinion concerning the effect of laws and regulations relating to securities, pension and employee benefits, taxes (except as expressly stated in our opinion), and any laws or regulations not generally applicable to the opinions set forth in this letter.

This opinion is limited to the specific issues addressed herein, and no opinion may be inferred or implied beyond that expressly stated herein. We assume no obligation to revise or supplement this opinion after the date of the effectiveness of the Registration Statement should the present laws of the State of Montana be changed by legislative action, judicial decision or otherwise.

This opinion is furnished to you in connection with the filing of the Registration Statement, in accordance with the requirements of Item 601(b)(5)(i) of Regulation S-K promulgated under the Securities Act. Kirkland & Ellis LLP may rely upon this opinion in connection with its opinion addressed to the Company, filed as Exhibit 5.1 to the Registration Statement, to the same extent as if it were an addressee hereof.

We hereby consent to the filing of this opinion with the Commission as Exhibit 5.9 to the Registration Statement. We also consent to the reference to our firm under the heading “Legal Matters” in the Registration Statement. In giving this consent, we do not thereby admit that we are in the category of persons whose consent is required under Section 7 of the Securities Act.

Very truly yours,

Re: Registration Statement on Form S-4

Ladies and Gentlemen:

We have acted as special Pennsylvania counsel to Southwood Psychiatric Hospital, Inc., a Pennsylvania corporation ("Guarantor") in connection with Guarantor's proposed guarantee, along with the other guarantors under the Indenture (as defined below), of $150,000,000 in aggregate principal amount of 12.875% Senior Notes due 2018 (the "Exchange Notes") to be issued by Acadia Healthcare Company, Inc., a Delaware corporation (the "Company"), in connection with an exchange offer to be made pursuant to a Registration Statement on Form S-4 (such Registration Statement, as supplemented or amended, is hereinafter referred to as the "Registration Statement"), to be filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission (the "Commission") on or about December 15, 2011, under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended (the "Securities Act"). The obligations of the Company under the Exchange Notes will be guaranteed by the Guarantor (the "Guarantee"), along with other guarantors. The Exchange Notes and the Guarantee are to be issued pursuant to an Indenture, dated as of November 1, 2011 (the "Indenture"), among the Company, the guarantors named therein and U.S. Bank National Association, as trustee.

In the capacity described above, we have examined the original, or copies, certified or otherwise authenticated to our satisfaction, of only the following documents:

A. Copies of the Articles of Incorporation of Guarantor certified by the Secretary of State of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania on October 4, 2011 and a copy of the By-Laws of Guarantor certified by the Secretary of Guarantor as of November 1, 2011 (the "Certified Organizational Documents");

B. Good Standing Certificate dated October 4, 2011, issued by the Secretary of State of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania (the "Good Standing");

C. Resolutions of Guarantor with respect to the issuance of the Guarantee;

D. The Indenture;

E. The Registration Rights Agreement, dated of November 1, 2011, by the among the Company, the Guarantor, the other guarantors party thereto and Jefferies & Company, Inc. as initial purchaser;

F. The Registration Statement; and

G. Such other documents, matters, statutes, ordinances, published rules and regulations, published judicial and governmental decisions interpreting or applying the same, and other official interpretations as we deem applicable in connection with this opinion.

The documents listed in A through G above are referred to collectively as the "Documents."

For purposes of this opinion, we have assumed the authenticity of all documents submitted to us as originals, the conformity to the originals of all documents submitted to us as copies and the authenticity of the originals of all documents submitted to us as copies. We have also assumed the legal capacity of all natural persons, the genuineness of the signatures of persons signing all documents in connection with which this opinion is rendered, the authority of such persons signing on behalf of the parties thereto other than the Guarantor and the due authorization, execution and delivery of all documents by the parties thereto other than the Guarantor. We have not independently established or verified any facts relevant to the opinions expressed herein, but have relied upon statements and representations of officers and other representatives of the Company and the Guarantor. In providing the opinion expressed in paragraph 1 below, we have relied solely upon the Good Standing and the Certified Organizational Documents.

In reaching the opinion set forth below, we have also assumed:

A. the Registration Statement will be effective at the time the Exchange Notes are offered as contemplated by the Registration Statement;

B. any applicable prospectus supplement will have been prepared and filed with the Commission describing the Exchange Notes offered thereby to the extent necessary;

C. the Outstanding Notes (as defined in the Registration Statement) have been exchanged in the manner described in the prospectus forming a part of the Registration Statement;

D. the Indenture has been duly qualified under the Trust Indenture Act of 1939, as amended; and

E. the Company and the Guarantor will have obtained any legally required consents, approvals, authorizations and other orders of the Commission and any other federal regulatory agencies necessary for the Exchange Notes to be exchanged, offered and sold in the manner stated in the Registration Statement and any applicable prospectus supplement.

Based on the foregoing and subject to the assumptions and qualifications set forth above, it is our opinion that:

1. Guarantor is a corporation, duly constituted and validly subsisting under the laws of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

2. Guarantor has full power and authority to execute and deliver and to perform its obligations under the Indenture and the Guarantee.

3. The Guarantor has duly authorized, executed and delivered the Indenture and has duly authorized the Guarantee.

4. The execution and delivery of the Indenture and the Guarantee by Guarantor does not, and the performance by Guarantor of its obligations thereunder (including with respect to the Guarantee) will not, (i) conflict with or result in a breach or default violation of its Organizational Documents, or (ii) result in a violation of any court order or decree known to us, or any law, rule or regulation of the United States or the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

5. No consent, approval, authorization or order of any Commonwealth of Pennsylvania court or governmental authority of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania was required in connection with the execution and delivery of the Indenture or is required for the issuance by the Guarantor of the Guarantee.

In addition to the assumptions set forth above, the opinions set forth above are also subject to the following qualifications:

A. We are licensed to practice law in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and do not hold ourselves out to be experts on, or generally familiar with or qualified to express a legal opinion on, the laws of any jurisdiction other than those of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and the Federal law of the United States of America. The law covered by the opinions expressed in this letter is limited to the Federal law of the United States and the laws of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

B. We also express no opinion herein as to the following:

(i) Antitrust and unfair competition laws and regulations;

(ii) Compliance with the anti-fraud provisions or disclosure requirements of (a) any federal law or regulation or (b) the laws or regulations of any state;

(iii) The enforceability of any provisions in the Indenture or the Guarantee relating to conflicts of law or choice of law;

(iv) Securities or blue sky laws and regulations;

(v) Tax, environmental, racketeering, health and safety, and zoning land use and subdivision laws and regulations;

(vi) Local laws, ordinances and regulations.

C. This opinion is limited to the specific issues addressed herein, and no opinion may be inferred or implied beyond that expressly stated herein. This opinion is based on current law and facts and circumstances. We are not assuming an obligation to revise or supplement this opinion should applicable law or the existing facts and circumstances change after the date hereof.

This opinion is furnished to you in connection with the filing of the Registration Statement, in accordance with the requirements of Item 601(b)(5)(i) of Regulation S-K promulgated under the Securities Act. Kirkland & Ellis LLP may rely upon this opinion in connection with its opinion addressed to the Company, filed as Exhibit 5.1 to the Registration Statement, to the same extent as if it were an addressee hereof.

We hereby consent to the filing of this opinion with the Commission as Exhibit 5.10 to the Registration Statement. We also consent to the reference to our firm under the heading “Legal Matters” in the Registration Statement. In giving this consent, we do not thereby admit that we are in the category of persons whose consent is required under Section 7 of the Securities Act.

Rebound Behavioral Health, LLC
830 Crescent Centre Drive, Suite 610
Franklin, TN 37067

Ladies and Gentlemen:

We are issuing this opinion letter in our capacity as special South Carolina counsel to Rebound Behavioral Health, LLC, a South Carolina limited liability company (the "Guarantor"), in connection with the Guarantor's proposed guarantee, along with the other guarantors under the Indenture (as defined below), of $150,000,000 in aggregate principal amount of 12.875% Senior Notes due 2018 (the "Exchange Notes") to be issued by Acadia Healthcare Company, Inc., a Delaware corporation (the "Company"), in connection with an exchange offer to be made pursuant to a Registration Statement on Form S-4 (such Registration Statement, as supplemented or amended, is hereinafter referred to as the "Registration Statement"), to be filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission (the "Commission") on or about December 15, 2011, under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended (the "Securities Act"). The obligations of the Company under the Exchange Notes will be guaranteed by the Guarantor (the "Guarantee"), along with other guarantors. The Exchange Notes and the Guarantee are to be issued pursuant to an Indenture, dated as of November 1, 2011 (the "Indenture"), among the Company, the guarantors named therein and U.S. Bank National Association, as trustee.

In connection with issuing this opinion letter, we have examined originals, or copies certified or otherwise identified to our satisfaction, of such documents, corporate records and other instruments as we have deemed necessary for the purposes of this opinion, including (i) the organizational documents of the Guarantor, (ii) resolutions of the sole member of the Guarantor with respect to the issuance of the Guarantee, (iii) the Indenture, (iv) the Registration Statement, (v) the Registration Rights Agreement, dated as of November 1, 2011, by and among the Company, the Guarantor, the other guarantors party thereto and Jefferies & Company, Inc., as initial purchaser and (vi) the Certificate of Existence of the Guarantor issued by the South Carolina Secretary of State dated October 20, 2011 (the "Certificate of Existence").

As to certain matters of fact, we have relied upon statements and representations of the officers, directors, managers, members and other representatives of the Guarantor and of other public officials and agencies, which have not been independently established by us. In addition, as to certain matters of fact, we have relied upon the representations and warranties of the Guarantor in the Indenture, and various other documents and certificates, which have not been independently verified by us.

In rendering the opinions set forth herein, we have assumed, without independent verification, among other things:

(i) Each natural person executing any document will be legally competent to do so;

(ii) All signatures on any of the documents reviewed by us are genuine;

(iii) All documents submitted to us as originals are authentic, all documents submitted to us as certified or photostatic copies conform to the original document, and all public records reviewed are accurate and complete;

(iv) The documents we have reviewed fully state the agreement between the parties with respect thereto and have not been amended, modified or supplemented, and there are no other agreements, understandings or course of dealing by or between the parties that would modify, amend, supplement, terminate or rescind the agreements therein;

(v) The accuracy and completeness of all recitals, representations, warranties, schedules and exhibits contained in the documents we have reviewed;

(vi) With respect to parties other than the Guarantor, that (a) they are validly existing and in good standing under the laws of all applicable jurisdictions; and (b) the other parties are in compliance with all applicable laws, rules and regulations governing the conduct of their business with respect to this transaction;

(vii) All required conditions to issue the Exchange Notes and the Guarantee will have been met;

(viii) There is not any fraud, undue influence, duress, mutual mistake of fact, illegal or criminal activity in connection with the execution and delivery of the Indenture and the Guarantee by any of the parties thereto or in connection with the exchange offer contemplated thereby; and

(ix) With respect to the opinion expressed in paragraph 1, we have relied solely on the Certificate of Existence and have assumed that since the date of the issuance of the Certificate of Existence, the Secretary of State has not administratively dissolved the Guarantor.

We have also assumed that:

(i) the Registration Statement will be effective at the time the Exchange Notes are offered as contemplated by the Registration Statement;

(ii) any applicable prospectus supplement will have been prepared and filed with the Commission describing the Exchange Notes offered thereby to the extent necessary;

(iii) the Outstanding Notes as defined in the Registration Statement will have been exchanged in the manner described in the prospectus forming a part of the Registration Statement;

(iv) the Indenture has been duly qualified under the Trust Indenture Act of 1939, as amended; and

(v) the Company and the Guarantor will have obtained any legally required consents, approvals, authorizations and other orders of the Commission and any other federal regulatory agencies as well as state securities regulators necessary for the Exchange Notes to be exchanged, offered and sold in the manner stated in the Registration Statement and any applicable prospectus supplement.

The opinions set forth herein are limited to matters governed by the laws of the State of South Carolina (sometimes referred to herein as the "State"), and no opinion is expressed herein as to the laws of any other jurisdiction. The opinions set forth herein assume that the laws of the State would govern, notwithstanding any choice of law provision to the contrary, but no opinions are given regarding or with respect to any choice of law provision.

Based on and subject to the foregoing and such other qualifications, exceptions, limitations and assumptions set forth herein, it is our opinion that:

1. Based on the Certificate of Existence, the Guarantor is validly existing as a limited liability company under the laws of the State of South Carolina.

2. The Guarantor has the limited liability company power to execute and deliver the Indenture and the Guarantee and to consummate the transactions contemplated thereby.

3. The execution, delivery and performance of the Indenture and the Guarantee by the Guarantor and the consummation by the Guarantor of the transactions contemplated thereby have been duly authorized by the Guarantor.

4. The execution and delivery of the Indenture and the Guarantee by the Guarantor and consummation of the transactions contemplated thereby by the Guarantor will not (a) violate the Guarantor's organizational documents; or (b) violate any statute or governmental rule or regulation of the State.

6. No consents or approvals of, and no filings with, any governmental authority of the State are necessary for the execution and delivery of the Indenture or the Guarantee by the Guarantor and the consummation of the transactions contemplated thereby by the Guarantor other than as may be required under applicable securities laws for which we express no opinion.

The foregoing opinions are further limited by the following assumptions, limitations and qualifications:

1. We express no opinion as to any tax, insolvency, consumer, privacy, labor and employment, pension and employee benefit, anti-terrorism, criminal, anti-trust, anti-tying, unfair trade practices and competition, intellectual property, letter of credit, securities or "blue sky" laws, rules or regulations of any jurisdiction or laws, rules or regulations governing or relating to health care. We express no opinion as to compliance by any parties to the transaction with respect to any fiduciary duty or any regulatory requirements applicable to the subject transactions because of the nature of their business.

2. Our advice on every legal issue addressed in this letter is based exclusively on the internal law of the State of South Carolina and represents our opinion as to how that issue would be resolved were it to be considered by the highest court in the jurisdiction which enacted such law. The manner in which any particular issue relating to the opinions would be treated in any actual court case would depend in part on facts and circumstances particular to the case and would also depend on how the court involved chose to exercise the wide discretionary authority generally available to it. None of the opinions or other advice contained in this letter considers or covers any foreign, federal or state securities (or "blue sky") laws or regulations.

3. We express no opinion regarding title to, the location of, or the perfection or priority of any security interest or lien in, on or against any property (whether real or personal, tangible or intangible).

This opinion is limited to the specific issues addressed herein, and no opinion may be inferred or implied beyond that expressly stated herein. The legal opinions expressed herein are an expression of professional judgment and not a guaranty of any result.

This opinion is given as of the date hereof based upon existing facts and law and is subject to changes therein. We are under no obligation, and do not undertake any obligation to update or revise the opinions set forth herein for any reason including, without limitation, facts or laws subsequently becoming known to us which cause such opinions to be inaccurate or incomplete.

This opinion is furnished to you in connection with the filing of the Registration Statement, in accordance with the requirements of Item 601(b)(5)(i) of Regulation S-K promulgated under the Securities Act. Kirkland & Ellis LLP may rely upon this opinion in connection with its opinion addressed to the Company, filed as Exhibit 5.1 to the Registration Statement, to the same extent as if it were an addressee hereof.

We hereby consent to the filing of this opinion with the Commission as Exhibit 5.11 to the Registration Statement. We also consent to the reference to our firm under the heading “Legal Matters” in the Registration Statement. In giving this consent, we do not thereby admit that we are in the category of persons whose consent is required under Section 7 of the Securities Act.

Exhibit 10.4

THIRD AMENDMENT

THIS THIRD AMENDMENT (this "Amendment") dated as of December 15, 2011 to the Credit Agreement referenced below is by and among Acadia Healthcare Company, Inc. (f/k/a Acadia Healthcare Company, LLC), a Delaware corporation (the "Borrower"), the Guarantors identified on the signature pages hereto, the Lenders identified on the signature pages hereto and Bank of America, N.A., in its capacity as Administrative Agent (in such capacity, the "Administrative Agent").

W I T N E S S E T H

WHEREAS, revolving credit and term loan facilities have been extended to the Borrower pursuant to the Credit Agreement (as amended, modified, supplemented, increased and extended from time to time, the "Credit Agreement") dated as of April 1, 2011 among the Borrower, the Guarantors identified therein, the Lenders identified therein and the Administrative Agent;

WHEREAS, the Borrower has requested certain modifications to the Credit Agreement; and

WHEREAS, the Required Lenders and the Required Revolving Lenders have agreed to the requested modifications to the Credit Agreement on the terms and conditions set forth herein.

NOW, THEREFORE, IN CONSIDERATION of the premises and other good and valuable consideration, the receipt and sufficiency of which are hereby acknowledged, the parties hereto agree as follows:

1. Defined Terms. Capitalized terms used herein but not otherwise defined herein shall have the meanings provided to such terms in the Credit Agreement.

2. Amendments. The Credit Agreement is amended as follows:

2.1 Clause (d) of the definition of "Excluded Equity Issuance" in Section 1.01 is amended to read as follows:

(d) the Net Cash Proceeds of which are used by the Borrower to prepay the Senior Unsecured Indebtedness to the extent such prepayment is permitted under Section 8.17(b);

2.2 Immediately upon the occurrence of the Specified Equity Issuance (and only if the Specified Equity Issuance occurs), clause (h) of the definition of "Permitted Acquisition" in Section 1.01 is amended to read as follows:

(h) the aggregate amount of Indebtedness incurred to finance all such Acquisitions and Indebtedness assumed in all such Acquisitions occurring during any fiscal year shall not exceed $25 million; provided that if at least 80% of the aggregate cash and non-cash consideration for any such Acquisition is financed with an Excluded Equity Issuance then any Indebtedness incurred or assumed in such Acquisition shall not be included in any calculation of this clause (h) (including any calculation of this clause (h) made in connection with subsequent Acquisitions).

2.3 Clause (c) of the definition of "Senior Unsecured Indebtedness Standard Terms" in Section 1.01 is amended to read as follows:

(a) at any time (i) no single Affiliate of the Borrower shall hold more than 5% of such Indebtedness and (ii) all Affiliates of the Borrower shall not hold in the aggregate more than 15% of such Indebtedness.

2.4 The definition of "Specified Equity Issuance" is added to Section 1.01 to read as follows:

"Specified Equity Issuance" means the Equity Issuance described in the Registration Statement on Form S-1 filed by the Borrower with the SEC on November 23, 2011, as may be amended, with respect to the public offering of 8.33 million common shares of the Borrower (which amount does not include the underwriters' over-allotment option to purchase up to an additional 1.25 million common shares from the Borrower); provided that the Borrower receives Net Cash Proceeds of at least $59.3 million from such Equity Issuance (it being understood that if the Borrower receives Net Cash Proceeds of less than $59.3 million from such Equity Issuance then such Equity Issuance shall not be deemed the Specified Equity Issuance).

2.5 Section 8.08(a) is amended to renumber clause (vi) as clause (vii) and to insert a new clause (vi) to read as follows:

, (vi) the issuance of Equity Interests to any Affiliate or to any former, current or future director, manager, officer, employee or consultant (or any Affiliates of any of the foregoing) of the Borrower or any of its Subsidiaries,

2.6 Immediately upon the occurrence of the Specified Equity Issuance (and only if the Specified Equity Issuance occurs), the table in Section 8.11(a) is amended to read as follows:

Fiscal Quarter Ending	Maximum Consolidated Leverage Ratio
June 30, 2011	4.25:1.0
September 30, 2011	6.25:1.0
December 31, 2011	6.00:1.0
March 31, 2012	5.75:1.0
June 30, 2012	5.75:1.0
September 30, 2012	5.75:1.0
December 31, 2012	5.25:1.0
March 31, 2013	5.25:1.0
June 30, 2013	5.25:1.0
September 30, 2013	5.25:1.0
December 31, 2013	4.75:1.0
March 31, 2014	4.75:1.0
June 30, 2014	4.75:1.0
September 30, 2014	4.75:1.0
December 31, 2014 and each fiscal quarter ending thereafter	4.00:1.0

2.7 Section 8.17(b) is amended to read as follows:

(b) Make (or give any notice with respect thereto) any voluntary or optional payment or prepayment or redemption or acquisition for value of (including without limitation, by way of depositing money or securities with the trustee with respect thereto before due for the purpose of paying when due), refund, refinance or exchange of any Senior Unsecured Indebtedness or Deficiency Note, other than (i) the payment, prepayment, redemption, refund, refinance or exchange of Bridge Senior Unsecured Indebtedness with (A) the Net Cash Proceeds of any concurrent issuance of Bridge Senior Unsecured Indebtedness or Permanent Senior Unsecured Indebtedness, (B) the Net Cash Proceeds of any concurrent Equity Issuance or (C) the proceeds of any Disposition or Recovery Event to the extent such proceeds are not required to prepay the Loans and/or Cash Collateralize the L/C Obligations pursuant to Section 2.05(b)(ii) or (ii) the purchase, payment, prepayment or redemption of Permanent Senior Unsecured Indebtedness with up to $59.3 Million of the Net Cash Proceeds of the Specified Equity Issuance (plus an amount equal to accrued but unpaid interest on the Permanent Senior Unsecured Indebtedness) so long as such Net Cash Proceeds are used to make such purchase, payment, prepayment or redemption within 120 days of the receipt of such Net Cash Proceeds by the Borrower or any Subsidiary.

3. Conditions Precedent. This Amendment shall become effective on the date on which each of the following conditions is satisfied:

(a) Amendment. Receipt by the Administrative Agent of counterparts of this Amendment executed by the Borrower, the Guarantors, the Required Lenders and the Required Revolving Lenders.

(b) Payment of Fees. The Borrower shall have paid to the Administrative Agent, for the account of each Lender that approves this Amendment, an amendment fee equal to 0.05% on the amount of the Revolving Commitment of such Lender plus the outstanding principal amount of the Term Loan held by such Lender.

(c) Payment of Expenses. The Borrower shall have paid all other accrued reasonable and documented out-of-pocket expenses of the Lead Arranger and the Administrative Agent in connection with this Amendment, in each case to the extent required by Section 11.04 of the Credit Agreement.

4. Amendment is a "Loan Document". This Amendment is a Loan Document and all references to a "Loan Document" in the Credit Agreement and the other Loan Documents (including, without limitation, all such references in the representations and warranties in the Credit Agreement and the other Loan Documents) shall be deemed to include this Amendment.

5. Reaffirmation of Obligations. Each Loan Party (a) acknowledges and consents to all of the terms and conditions of this Amendment, (b) affirms all of its obligations under the Loan Documents and (c) agrees that this Amendment does not operate to reduce or discharge such Loan Party's obligations under the Loan Documents.

6. Reaffirmation of Security Interests. Each Loan Party (a) affirms that each of the Liens granted in or pursuant to the Loan Documents are valid and subsisting and (b) agrees that this Amendment does not in any manner impair or otherwise adversely effect any of the Liens granted in or pursuant to the Loan Documents.

7. No Other Changes. Except as modified hereby, all of the terms and provisions of the Loan Documents shall remain in full force and effect.

8. Counterparts; Delivery. This Amendment may be executed in counterparts (and by different parties hereto in different counterparts), each of which shall constitute an original, but all of which when taken together shall constitute a single contract. Delivery of an executed counterpart of this Amendment by facsimile or other electronic imaging means shall be effective as an original.

9. Governing Law. This Amendment shall be deemed to be a contract made under, and for all purposes shall be construed in accordance with, the laws of the State of New York.

Delivery of this Letter of Transmittal to an address other than as set forth above or transmission of this Letter of Transmittal via a facsimile transmission to a number other than as set forth above will not constitute a valid delivery.

The undersigned acknowledges receipt of the prospectus, dated , 2011 (the "Prospectus"), of Acadia Healthcare Company, Inc. (the "Issuer"), and this Letter of Transmittal (the "Letter of Transmittal"), which together describe the Issuer's offer (the "Exchange Offer") to exchange up to $150,000,000 aggregate principal amount of 12.875% Senior Notes due 2018 (together with the guarantees thereof, the "Exchange Notes"), which have been registered under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended (the "Securities Act"), of the Issuer, for a like aggregate principal amount of outstanding 12.875% Senior Notes due 2018 (together with the guarantees thereof, the "Outstanding Notes"), of the Issuer.

The terms of the Exchange Notes and the Outstanding Notes are identical in all respects, except that, because the offer of the Exchange Notes will have been registered under the Securities Act, the Exchange Notes will not be subject to transfer restrictions, registration rights or the related provisions for increased interest if the Issuer defaults under the Registration Rights Agreement.

Capitalized terms used but not defined herein shall have the same meaning given them in the Prospectus.

Your bank or broker can assist you in completing this form. The instructions included with this Letter of Transmittal must be followed. Questions and requests for assistance with respect to tender procedures or for additional copies of the Prospectus and this Letter of Transmittal may be directed to the Exchange Agent.

The undersigned has checked the appropriate boxes below and signed this Letter of Transmittal to indicate the action the undersigned desires to take with respect to the Exchange Offer.

Please read the entire Letter of Transmittal and the Prospectus carefully before checking any box below.

List below the Outstanding Notes to which this Letter of Transmittal relates. If the space provided below is inadequate, the certificate numbers and aggregate principal amounts should be listed on a separate signed schedule affixed hereto.

PLEASE READ THE ACCOMPANYING INSTRUCTIONS CAREFULLY

Ladies and Gentlemen:

Upon the terms and subject to the conditions of the Exchange Offer, the undersigned hereby tenders to Acadia Healthcare Company, Inc. (the "Issuer") the principal amount of the Outstanding Notes indicated above. Subject to, and effective upon, the acceptance for exchange of all or any portion of the Outstanding Notes tendered herewith in accordance with the terms and conditions of the Exchange Offer (including, if the Exchange Offer is extended or amended, the terms and conditions of any such extension or amendment), the undersigned hereby exchanges, assigns and transfers to, or upon the order of, the Issuer all right, title and interest in and to such Outstanding Notes as are being tendered herewith. The undersigned hereby irrevocably constitutes and appoints the Exchange Agent as its true and lawful agent and attorney-in-fact (with full knowledge that the Exchange Agent also acts as an agent of the Issuer) of the undersigned, with full power of substitution, to cause the Outstanding Notes to be assigned, transferred and exchanged.

The undersigned represents and warrants that it has full power and authority to tender, exchange, assign and transfer the Outstanding Notes and to acquire Exchange Notes issuable upon the exchange of such tendered Outstanding Notes, and that, when the same are accepted for exchange, the Issuer will acquire good and unencumbered title to the tendered Outstanding Notes, free and clear of all liens, restrictions, charges and encumbrances and not subject to any adverse claim. The undersigned also warrants that it will, upon request, execute and deliver any additional documents deemed by the Exchange Agent or the Issuer to be necessary or desirable to complete the exchange, assignment and transfer of the tendered Outstanding Notes or transfer ownership of such Outstanding Notes on the account books maintained by the book-entry transfer facility. The undersigned further agrees that acceptance of any and all validly tendered Outstanding Notes by the Issuer and the issuance of Exchange Notes in exchange therefor shall constitute performance in full by the Issuer of its obligations under the Registration Rights Agreement, dated as of November 1, 2011, among the Issuer, the guarantors party thereto and Jefferies & Company, Inc. as initial purchaser (the "Registration Rights Agreement"), and that the Issuer shall have no further obligations or liabilities thereunder. The undersigned will comply with its obligations under the Registration Rights Agreement.

The Exchange Offer is subject to certain conditions as set forth in the Prospectus under the caption "Exchange Offer—Conditions to the Exchange Offer." As a result of these conditions (which may be waived, in whole or in part, by the Issuer), as more particularly set forth in the Prospectus, the Issuer may not be required to exchange any of the Outstanding Notes tendered hereby and, in such event, the Outstanding Notes not exchanged will be returned to the undersigned at the address shown above, promptly following the expiration or termination of the Exchange Offer. In addition, the Issuer may amend the Exchange Offer at any time prior to the Expiration Date if any of the conditions set forth under "Exchange Offer—Conditions to the Exchange Offer" occur.

Tenders of Outstanding Notes pursuant to any one of the procedures described in the Prospectus and in the instructions attached hereto will, upon the Issuer's acceptance for exchange of such tendered Outstanding Notes, constitute a binding agreement between the undersigned and the Issuer upon the terms and subject to the conditions of the Exchange Offer. Under circumstances set forth in the Prospectus, the Issuer may not be required to accept for exchange any of the Outstanding Notes.

By tendering Outstanding Notes and executing this Letter of Transmittal, the undersigned represents that (1) the Exchange Notes acquired pursuant to the Exchange Offer are being acquired in the ordinary course of business of the undersigned, (2) the undersigned is not engaging in and does not intend to engage in a distribution of such Exchange Notes within the meaning of the federal securities laws, (3) the undersigned does not have an arrangement or understanding with any person to participate in the distribution of such Exchange Notes, (4) the undersigned is not an "affiliate" of the Issuer within the meaning of Rule 405 under the Securities Act and (5) the undersigned is not acting on behalf of any person who could not truthfully make the foregoing representations.

If the undersigned is a broker-dealer that will receive Exchange Notes for its own account in exchange for Outstanding Notes that were acquired as a result of market-making activities or other trading activities, it acknowledges that it will deliver a Prospectus meeting the requirements of the Securities Act in connection with any resale of such Exchange Notes. By acknowledging that it will deliver and by delivering a Prospectus meeting the requirements of the Securities Act in connection with any resale of such Exchange Notes, the undersigned is not deemed to admit that it is an "underwriter" within the meaning of the Securities Act.

Any holder of Outstanding Notes using the Exchange Offer to participate in a distribution of the Exchange Notes (i) cannot rely on the position of the staff of the Securities and Exchange Commission enunciated in its interpretive letter with respect to Exxon Capital Holdings Corporation (available May 13, 1988) or similar interpretive letters and (ii) must comply with the registration and Prospectus delivery requirements of the Securities Act in connection with a secondary resale transaction.

All authority herein conferred or agreed to be conferred shall survive the death or incapacity of the undersigned and every obligation of the undersigned hereunder shall be binding upon the heirs, personal representatives, successors and assigns of the undersigned. Tendered Outstanding Notes may be withdrawn at any time prior to the Expiration Date in accordance with the terms of this Letter of Transmittal. Except as stated in the Prospectus, this tender is irrevocable.

Certificates for all Exchange Notes delivered in exchange for tendered Outstanding Notes and any Outstanding Notes delivered herewith but not exchanged, and registered in the name of the undersigned, shall be delivered to the undersigned at the address shown below the signature of the undersigned unless otherwise instructed under "Special Issuance Instructions" or "Special Delivery Instructions" on pages 6 and 7 below, respectively.

The undersigned, by completing the box entitled "Description of Outstanding Notes" above and signing this letter, will be deemed to have tendered the Outstanding Notes as set forth in such box.

PLEASE SIGN HERE

(To Be Completed By All Tendering Holders of Outstanding Notes Regardless of Whether Outstanding Notes
Are Being Physically Delivered Herewith, unless an Agent's Message
Is Delivered in Connection with a Book-Entry Transfer of Such Outstanding Notes)

This Letter of Transmittal must be signed by the registered holder(s) of Outstanding Notes exactly as their name(s) appear(s) on certificate(s) for Outstanding Notes or on a security position listing, or by person(s) authorized to become registered holder(s) by endorsements and documents transmitted with this Letter of Transmittal. If the signature is by a trustee, executor, administrator, guardian, attorney-in-fact, officer or other person acting in a fiduciary or representative capacity, such person must set forth his or her full title below under "Capacity" and submit evidence satisfactory to the Exchange Agent of such person's authority to so act. See Instruction 5 below.

If the signature appearing below is not of the registered holder(s) of the Outstanding Notes, then the registered holder(s) must sign a valid power of attorney.

INSTRUCTIONS TO LETTER OF TRANSMITTAL Forming Part of the Terms and Conditions of the Exchange Offer

1. Delivery of this Letter of Transmittal and Outstanding Notes. This Letter of Transmittal is to be completed by holders of Outstanding Notes if certificates representing such Outstanding Notes are to be forwarded herewith, or, unless an agent's message is utilized, if delivery of such certificates is to be made by book-entry transfer to the account maintained by DTC, pursuant to the procedures set forth in the Prospectus under "Exchange Offer—Procedures for Tendering Outstanding Notes." To tender in the Exchange Offer, a holder must complete, sign and date this Letter of Transmittal, or a facsimile thereof, have the signatures thereon guaranteed if required by these Instructions or transmit an agent's message in connection with a book-entry transfer, and, unless transmitting an agent's message in connection with a book-entry transfer, mail or otherwise deliver this Letter of Transmittal or the facsimile, together with the Outstanding Notes and any other required documents, to the Exchange Agent prior to the Expiration Date. To be tendered effectively, the Outstanding Notes, this Letter of Transmittal or an agent's message and other required documents must be completed and received by the Exchange Agent at its address prior to the Expiration Date. Delivery of the Outstanding Notes may be made by book-entry transfer in accordance with the procedures described in the Prospectus under "Exchange Offer—Procedures for Tendering Outstanding Notes." Confirmation of the book-entry transfer must be received by the Exchange Agent prior to the Expiration Date.

The method of delivery of this Letter of Transmittal, the Outstanding Notes and all other required documents to the Exchange Agent is at the election and sole risk of the holder. Instead of delivery by mail, holders should use an overnight or hand delivery service. In all cases, holders should allow for sufficient time to ensure delivery to the Exchange Agent prior to the Expiration Date. Holders may request their broker, dealer, commercial bank, trust company or nominee to effect these transactions for them. Holders should not send any Outstanding Note, Letter of Transmittal or other required document to the Issuer.

2. Guarantee of Signatures. Signatures on this Letter of Transmittal or a notice of withdrawal must be guaranteed by a member firm of a registered national securities exchange or of the National Association of Securities Dealers, Inc., a commercial bank or trust company having an office or correspondent in the United States or by an "eligible guarantor institution" within the meaning of Rule 17Ad-15 promulgated under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended (banks; brokers and dealers; credit unions; national securities exchanges; registered securities associations; learning agencies; and savings associations) unless the Outstanding Notes tendered hereby are tendered (1) by a registered holder of Outstanding Notes (or by a participant in DTC whose name appears on a security position listing as the owner of such Outstanding Notes) who has not completed any of the boxes entitled "Special Issuance Instructions" or "Special Delivery Instructions," on this Letter of Transmittal, or (2) for the account of an "eligible guarantor institution." If the Outstanding Notes are registered in the name of a person other than the person who signed this Letter of Transmittal or if Outstanding Notes not tendered are to be returned to, or are to be issued to the order of, a person other than the registered holder or if Outstanding Notes not tendered are to be sent to someone other than the registered holder, then the signature on this Letter of Transmittal accompanying the tendered Outstanding Notes must be guaranteed as described above. Beneficial owners whose Outstanding Notes are registered in the name of a broker, dealer, commercial bank, trust company or other nominee must contact such broker, dealer, commercial bank, trust company or other nominee if they desire to tender Outstanding Notes. See "Exchange Offer—Procedures for Tendering Outstanding Notes" in the Prospectus.

3. Withdrawal of Tenders. Except as otherwise provided in the Prospectus, tenders of Outstanding Notes may be withdrawn at any time prior to the Expiration Date. For a withdrawal of tendered Outstanding Notes to be effective, either a written or facsimile transmission notice of withdrawal must be received by the Exchange Agent prior to the Expiration Date at its address set forth on the cover of this Letter of Transmittal or you must comply with the appropriate withdrawal procedures of DTC's Automated Tender Offer Program. Any notice of withdrawal must (1) specify the name of the person having deposited the Outstanding Notes to be withdrawn,

(2) identify the Outstanding Notes to be withdrawn, including the certificate number(s) and principal amount of the Outstanding Notes, or, in the case of Outstanding Notes transferred by book-entry transfer, the name and number of the account at DTC to be credited, (3) be signed by the holder in the same manner as the original signature on the letter of transmittal by which the Outstanding Notes were tendered, including any required signature guarantees, or be accompanied by documents of transfer sufficient to have the trustee with respect to the Outstanding Notes register the transfer of the Outstanding Notes into the name of the person withdrawing the tender, and (4) specify the name in which any Outstanding Notes are to be registered, if different from that of the person depositing the Outstanding Notes to be withdrawn. If the Outstanding Notes to be withdrawn have been delivered or otherwise identified to the Exchange Agent, a signed notice of withdrawal is effective immediately upon written or facsimile notice of such withdrawal even if physical release is not yet effected.

Any permitted withdrawal of Outstanding Notes may not be rescinded. Any Outstanding Notes properly withdrawn will thereafter be deemed not validly tendered for purposes of the Exchange Offer. However, properly withdrawn Outstanding Notes may be retendered by following one of the procedures described in the Prospectus under the caption "Exchange Offer—Procedures for Tendering Outstanding Notes" at any time prior to the Expiration Date.

4. Partial Tenders. Tenders of Outstanding Notes pursuant to the Exchange Offer will be accepted only in principal amounts of at least $2,000 and in integral multiples of $1,000 in excess thereof. If less than the entire principal amount of any Outstanding Notes evidenced by a submitted certificate is tendered, the tendering holder must fill in the principal amount tendered in the last column of the box entitled "Description of Outstanding Notes" herein. The entire principal amount represented by the certificates for all Outstanding Notes delivered to the Exchange Agent will be deemed to have been tendered unless otherwise indicated. If the entire principal amount of all Outstanding Notes held by the holder is not tendered, certificates for the principal amount of Outstanding Notes not tendered and Exchange Notes issued in exchange for any Outstanding Notes tendered and accepted will be sent (or, if tendered by book-entry transfer, returned by credit to the account at DTC designated herein) to the holder unless otherwise provided in the appropriate box on this Letter of Transmittal (see Instruction 6), promptly after the Expiration Date. Any untendered portion of an Outstanding Note must be in a principal amount of $2,000 or in integral multiples of $1,000 in excess thereof.

5. Signature on this Letter of Transmittal; Bond Powers and Endorsements; Guarantee of Signatures. If this Letter of Transmittal is signed by the registered holder(s) of the Outstanding Notes tendered hereby, the signature must correspond with the name(s) as written on the face of certificates without alteration, enlargement or change whatsoever. If this Letter of Transmittal is signed by a participant in DTC whose name is shown on the security position listing as the owner of the Outstanding Notes tendered hereby, the signature must correspond with the name shown on such security position listing the owner of the Outstanding Notes.

If any of the Outstanding Notes tendered hereby are owned of record by two or more joint owners, all such owners must sign this Letter of Transmittal. If any tendered Outstanding Notes are registered in different names on several certificates, it will be necessary to complete, sign and submit as many copies of this Letter of Transmittal and any necessary accompanying documents as there are different names in which certificates are held.

If this Letter of Transmittal is signed by the holder, and the certificates for any principal amount of Outstanding Notes not tendered are to be issued (or if any principal amount of Outstanding Notes that is not tendered is to be reissued or returned) to or, if tendered by book-entry transfer, credited to the account of DTC of the registered holder, and Exchange Notes exchanged for Outstanding Notes in connection with the Exchange Offer are to be issued to the order of the registered holder, then the registered holder need not endorse any certificates for tendered Outstanding Notes nor provide a separate bond power. In any other case (including if this Letter of Transmittal is not signed by the registered holder), the registered holder must either properly endorse the certificates for Outstanding Notes tendered or transmit a separate properly completed bond power with this Letter of Transmittal (in either case, executed exactly as the name(s) of the registered holder(s) appear(s) on such Outstanding Notes, and, with respect to a participant in DTC whose name appears on a security position listing as the owner of Outstanding Notes, exactly as the name(s) of the participant(s) appear(s) on such security position listing), with the signature on the endorsement or bond power guaranteed by a signature guarantor or an eligible guarantor institution, unless such certificates or bond powers are executed by an eligible guarantor institution. See Instruction 2.

Endorsements on certificates for Outstanding Notes and signatures on bond powers provided in accordance with this Instruction 5 by registered holders not executing this Letter of Transmittal must be guaranteed by an eligible institution. See Instruction 2.

If this Letter of Transmittal or any certificates representing Outstanding Notes or bond powers are signed by trustees, executors, administrators, guardians, attorneys-in-fact, officers of corporations or others acting in a fiduciary or representative capacity, such persons should so indicate when signing, and proper evidence satisfactory to the Exchange Agent of their authority so to act must be submitted with this Letter of Transmittal.

6. Special Issuance and Special Delivery Instructions. Tendering holders should indicate in the applicable box or boxes the name and address to which Outstanding Notes for principal amounts not tendered or Exchange Notes exchanged for Outstanding Notes in connection with the Exchange Offer are to be issued or sent, if different from the name and address of the holder signing this Letter of Transmittal. In the case of issuance in a different name, the taxpayer-identification number of the person named must also be indicated. If no instructions are given, Outstanding Notes not tendered will be returned to the registered holder of the Outstanding Notes tendered. For holders of Outstanding Notes tendered by book-entry transfer, Outstanding Notes not tendered will be returned by crediting the account at DTC designated above.

7. Taxpayer Identification Number and IRS Form W-9. Each tendering holder is required to provide the Exchange Agent with its correct taxpayer identification number ("TIN"), which, in the case of a holder who is an individual, is his or her social security number. If the Exchange Agent is not provided with the correct TIN, the holder may be subject to backup withholding and a $50 penalty imposed by the Internal Revenue Service.

To prevent backup withholding, each holder tendering Outstanding Notes must provide such holder's correct TIN by completing the IRS Form W-9, certifying that such holder is a U.S. person (as defined in the instructions to the IRS Form W-9 which were previously provided to your bank or broker and which are also available at www.irs.gov), that the TIN provided is correct, and that such holder is not subject to backup withholding. Holders that are not U.S. persons for U.S. federal income tax purposes must complete and submit an IRS Form W-8BEN or other applicable IRS Form W-8, signed under penalties of perjury, attesting to the holder's foreign status and, if applicable, qualification for exemption from U.S. withholding, to avoid backup withholding. Such forms may be obtained at the IRS website at www.irs.gov. A copy of the IRS Form W-9 and the related instructions may also be obtained from your bank or broker. If you provide an incorrect TIN, you may be subject to penalties imposed by the IRS.

Backup withholding is not an additional tax, but rather is credited against the holder's U.S. federal income tax liability. Holders are advised to consult their tax advisors to ensure compliance with the procedural requirements to reduce or avoid withholding or, if applicable, to file a claim for a refund of withheld amounts in excess of the holder's U.S. federal income tax liability.

8. Mutilated, Lost, Stolen or Destroyed Outstanding Notes. Any holder whose Outstanding Notes have been mutilated, lost, stolen or destroyed should contact the Exchange Agent at the address indicated above for further instructions. This Letter of Transmittal cannot be processed until the procedures for replacing mutilated, lost, stolen or destroyed certificates have been completed.

9. Irregularities. All questions as to the validity, form, eligibility, time of receipt, acceptance and withdrawal of any tenders of Outstanding Notes pursuant to the procedures described in the Prospectus and the form and validity of all documents will be determined by the Issuer, in its sole discretion, which determination shall be final and binding on all parties. The Issuer reserves the absolute right, in its sole discretion, to reject any or all tenders of any Outstanding Notes determined by it not to be in proper form or the acceptance of which may, in the opinion of the Issuer's counsel, be unlawful. The Issuer also reserves the absolute right, in its sole discretion, to waive or amend any of the conditions of the Exchange Offer or to waive any defect or irregularity in the tender of any particular Outstanding Notes, provided however that, to the extent such waiver includes any condition to tender, the Issuer will waive such condition as to all tendering holders. The Issuer's interpretations of the terms and conditions of the Exchange Offer (including, without limitation, the instructions in this Letter of Transmittal) shall be final and binding. No alternative, conditional or contingent tenders will be accepted. Unless waived, any irregularities in connection with tenders must be cured within such time as the Issuer shall determine and in any case, before the Expiration Date. None of the Issuer, the Exchange Agent or any other person will be under any duty to give notification of any defects or irregularities in such tenders or will incur any liability to holders for failure to give such notification. Tenders of such Outstanding Notes shall not be deemed to have been made until such irregularities have been cured or waived. Any Outstanding Notes received by the Exchange Agent that are not properly tendered and as to which the irregularities have not been cured or waived will be returned by the Exchange Agent to the tendering holders, unless such holders have otherwise provided herein, promptly following the Expiration Date.

10. Requests for Assistance or Additional Copies. Questions relating to the procedure for tendering, as well as requests for assistance or additional copies of the Prospectus and this Letter of Transmittal, may be directed to the Exchange Agent at the address and telephone number set forth above. Holders may also contact their broker, dealer, commercial bank, trust company or other nominee for assistance concerning the Exchange Offer.

IMPORTANT: This Letter of Transmittal or a facsimile thereof (together with certificates for Outstanding Notes and all other required documents) must be received by the Exchange Agent prior to 5:00 p.m., New York City time, on the Expiration Date.

The undersigned acknowledge(s) receipt of your letter and the enclosed materials referred to therein relating to the Exchange Offer of the Issuer. Capitalized terms used but not defined herein have the meanings ascribed to them in the Prospectus.

This will instruct you to tender the principal amount of Outstanding Notes indicated below held by you for the account or benefit of the undersigned, pursuant to the terms of and conditions set forth in the Prospectus and the Letter of Transmittal.

The aggregate face amount of the Outstanding Notes held by you for the account of the undersigned is (fill in amount):

$ of the Outstanding Notes.

With respect to the Exchange Offer, the undersigned hereby instructs you (check appropriate box):

☐ To TENDER the following Outstanding Notes held by you for the account of the undersigned (insert principal amount of Outstanding Notes to be tendered, if any):

$ of the Outstanding Notes.

☐ NOT to TENDER any Outstanding Notes held by you for the account of the undersigned.

If the undersigned instructs you to tender the Outstanding Notes held by you for the account of the undersigned, it is understood that you are authorized (a) to make, on behalf of the undersigned (and the undersigned, by its signature below, hereby makes to you), the representations and warranties contained in the Letter of Transmittal that are to be made with respect to the undersigned as a beneficial owner of the Outstanding Notes, including but not limited to the following representations: (i) the undersigned is acquiring the Exchange Notes in the ordinary course of business of the undersigned; (ii) the undersigned is not engaging in and does not intend to engage in a distribution of such Exchange Notes within the meaning of the federal securities laws; (iii) the undersigned has no arrangement or understanding with any person to participate in the distribution of such Exchange Notes; (iv) the undersigned is not an “affiliate,” as defined in Rule 405 under the Securities Act, of the Issuer; and (v) the undersigned is not acting on behalf of any persons who could not truthfully make the foregoing representations; (b) to agree, on behalf of the undersigned, as set forth in the Letter of Transmittal and this instruction letter; and (c) to take such other action as necessary under the Prospectus or the Letter of Transmittal to effect the valid tender of Outstanding Notes.

The purchaser status of the undersigned is (check the box that applies):

☐ A “Qualified Institutional Buyer” (as defined in Rule 144A under the Securities Act);

☐ A non “U.S. person” (as defined in Regulation S under the Securities Act) that purchased the Outstanding Notes outside the United States in accordance with Rule 904 under the Securities Act.

☐ An institutional “accredited investor” within the meaning of Rule 501 under the Securities Act that acquired the Outstanding Notes for investment purposes and not with a view to, or for offer or sale in connection with, any distribution in violation of the Securities Act
